ANNUAL STATEMENT INSTRUCTIONS – LIFE/FRATERNAL

GENERAL

The annual statement is to be completed in accordance with the Annual Statement Instructions and Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual except to the extent that state law, rules or regulations are in conflict with these publications. In cases of conflict, the life, accident and health annual statement will be filed pursuant to such state’s filing requirements. The domiciliary state’s insurance regulatory authority shall maintain full discretion in determining which NAIC annual statement blank must be filed. The annual statement blank filed with the domiciliary state shall be the blank submitted to, and maintained by, the NAIC, and barring conflict as described above, should be filed with all jurisdictions in which the reporting entity is licensed.

1. Health Statement Test:

If a reporting entity is licensed as a life and health insurer and completes the life, accident and health annual statement for the reporting year, the reporting entity must complete the Health Statement Test. However, a reporting entity that is required to also file the Separate Accounts Statement is not subject to the results of the Health Statement Test, and should continue to complete the life, accident and health/fraternal blank.

The Health Statement Test is designed to determine whether a reporting entity reports predominantly health lines of business. Health lines include hospital or medical policies or certificates, comprehensive major medical expense insurance and managed care contracts and exclude other health coverage such as credit insurance, disability income coverage, automobile medical coverage, workers’ compensation, accidental death and dismemberment policies and long-term care policies.

Passing the Test:

A reporting entity is deemed to have passed the Health Statement Test if:

The values for the premium and reserve ratios in the Health Statement Test equal or exceed 95% for both the reporting and prior year.

If a reporting entity is a) licensed as a life and health insurer; b) completes the Life, Accident and Health annual statement for the reporting year; and c) passes the Health Statement Test (as described above), the reporting entity must complete the health statement beginning with the first quarter’s statement for the second year following the reporting year in which the reporting entity passes the Health Statement Test and must also file the corresponding risk-based capital report and the life supplements for that year-end. For example, if the reporting entity reports premium and reserve ratios of 95% or greater in 20X1 and again reports premium and reserve ratios of 95% or greater in 20X2, the reporting entity is deemed to have passed the Health Statement Test as of 20X2. Therefore, the reporting entity would begin completing the health statement in the first quarter of 20X4.

	20X1	20X2	20X3	20X4
Premium Ratio	95% or greater	95% or greater	Work with domestic regulator to move effective Quarter 1 20X4	Move to Orange Blank Quarter 1
Reserve Ratio	95% or greater	95% or greater

As noted above, the domiciliary state regulator maintains full discretion in determining which annual statement blank must be filed and when the reporting entity is to move.

Variations from following these instructions:

If a reporting entity’s domestic regulator requires the reporting entity to complete an annual statement form and risk-based capital report that differs from these instructions, the domestic regulator shall notify the reporting entity in writing by June 1 of the year following the reporting year in which a Health Statement Test is submitted.

PART 2 – LIFE ACCIDENT HEALTH COMPANIES/FRATERNAL BENEFIT SOCIETIES INTERROGATORIES

Life and Accident Health Companies/Fraternal Benefit Societies:

Detail Eliminated To Conserve Space

2. This General Interrogatory is designed to determine whether a reporting entity reports predominantly health lines of business. Health lines include hospital or medical policies or certificates, comprehensive major medical expense insurance and managed care contracts and exclude other health coverage such as credit insurance, disability income coverage, automobile medical coverage, workers compensation, accidental death and dismemberment policies and long-term care policies.

All reporting entities should file the test; however, a reporting entity that is required to also file the Separate Accounts Statement is not subject to the results of the Health Statement Test, and should continue to complete the life, accident and health/fraternal blank.

Premium and reserve information is obtained from the annual statement sources referenced on the form ~~or from the related risk-based capital report for the corresponding premium descriptions~~ relating to the current and prior reporting periods. The premium and reserve ratios are calculated on the net basis reporting.

ANNUAL STATEMENT INSTRUCTIONS – HEALTH

GENERAL

The annual statement is to be completed in accordance with the Annual Statement Instructions and Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual except to the extent that state law, rules or regulations are in conflict with these publications. In cases of conflict, the health annual statement will be filed pursuant to such state's filing requirements. The domiciliary state's insurance regulatory authority shall maintain full discretion in determining which NAIC annual statement blank must be filed. The annual statement blank filed with the domiciliary state shall be the blank submitted to, and maintained by, the NAIC, and barring conflict as described above, should be filed with all jurisdictions in which the reporting entity is licensed.

1. Health Statement Test:

If a reporting entity completes the health annual statement for the reporting year, the reporting entity must complete the Health Statement Test.

The Health Statement Test is designed to determine whether a reporting entity reports predominantly health lines of business. Health lines include hospital or medical policies or certificates, comprehensive major medical expense insurance and managed care contracts and exclude other health coverage such as credit insurance, disability income coverage, automobile medical coverage, workers' compensation, accidental death and dismemberment policies and long-term care policies.

Passing the Test:

A reporting entity is deemed to have passed the Health Statement Test if the values for the premium and reserve ratios in the Health Statement Test equal or exceed 95% for both the reporting and prior year and will continue to report on the Health Statement

Failing the Test:

If a reporting entity, licensed as a life, accident and health or property and casualty insurer in its domiciliary state, is required to file the health annual statement for the reporting year and does not pass the Health Statement Test in the reporting year, it will revert to the annual statement form and risk-based capital report associated with the type of license held in its domestic state in the first quarter of the second year following the reporting year. For example, if the reporting entity reports a premium or reserve ratio below 95% in 20X1, the reporting entity is deemed to have not passed the Health Statement Test. Therefore, the reporting entity would revert to the annual statement form and risk-based capital report associated with the type of license held in its domestic state in the first quarter of 20X3. However, if the reporting entity reports premium and reserve ratios of 95% or greater in 20X2, it should work with its domiciliary regulator to determine the appropriate blank to file on to avoid movement back and forth between blanks. (As noted above, the domiciliary state regulator maintains full discretion in determining which annual statement blank must be filed and when the reporting entity is to move.)

If a reporting entity, licensed as a health insurer in its domiciliary state, is required to file the health annual statement for the reporting year and does not pass the Health Statement Test in the reporting year, it should continue to file the health annual statement.

ANNUAL STATEMENT INSTRUCTIONS – PROPERTY & CASUALTY

GENERAL

The annual statement is to be completed in accordance with the Annual Statement Instructions and Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual except to the extent that state law, rules or regulations are in conflict with these publications. In cases of conflict, the property and casualty annual statement will be filed pursuant to such state’s filing requirements. The domiciliary state’s insurance regulatory authority shall maintain full discretion in determining which NAIC annual statement blank must be filed. The annual statement blank filed with the domiciliary state shall be the blank submitted to, and maintained by, the NAIC, and barring conflict as described above, should be filed with all jurisdictions in which the reporting entity is licensed.

1. Health Statement Test:

If a reporting entity is licensed as a property and casualty insurer and completes the property and casualty annual statement for the reporting year, the reporting entity must complete the Health Statement Test. However, a reporting entity that is required to also file the Protected Cell Statement is not subject to the results of the Health Statement Test and should continue to complete the property blank.

The Health Statement Test is designed to determine whether a reporting entity reports predominantly health lines of business. Health lines include hospital or medical policies or certificates, comprehensive major medical expense insurance and managed care contracts and exclude other health coverage such as credit insurance, disability income coverage, automobile medical coverage, workers’ compensation, accidental death and dismemberment policies and long-term care policies.

As noted above, the domiciliary state regulator maintains full discretion in determining which annual statement blank must be filed and when the reporting entity is to move.

If a reporting entity’s domestic regulator requires the reporting entity to complete an annual statement form and risk-based capital report that differs from these instructions, the domestic regulator shall notify the reporting entity in writing by June 1 of the year following the reporting year in which a Health Statement Test is submitted.
