NAIC COMMISSIONERS MEET WITH CIRC
CIRC Hosts International Insurance Forum in Beijing

From May 23-27, NAIC President Diane Koken (PA), Superintendent Al Iuppa (ME), Commissioner Walter Bell (AL), Commissioner Julie Bowler (MA) and NAIC staff met with representatives of the Chinese Insurance Regulatory Commission (CIRC) in Beijing, China. Wu Dingfu, Chairman of CIRC, kicked off the full-day program entitled, “China Insurance Forum - Building Up Modern Insurance Supervision System.” Chairman Wu’s presentation emphasized the importance of corporate governance and said CIRC is encouraging its domestic companies to take on foreign strategic partners to improve operating standards and corporate governance. The Chairman mentioned CIRC’s emphasis on four types of insurance: agriculture, private pensions, health and liability. Despite great improvements in China’s regulation of insurance, Chairman Wu noted the need for improvements necessary to adequately protect China’s citizens.

President Koken’s presentation at the China International Insurance Forum focused on the U.S. state-based system of regulation and highlighted the NAIC’s transparent processes for developing rules and interacting with policyholders and insurance market participants. She also noted the active participation of US insurance regulators in the international regulatory community and the rapidly expanding opportunities for cooperation among insurance regulators around the world.

Other speakers included experts from the insurance industry and international organizations whose main message was to promote an insurance regulatory regime that is in line with international best practices. In addition, the insurance experts suggested reforms that would promote growth of the local insurance industry in an increasingly global competitive environment. The full-day conference was planned to coincide with the IAIS Committee Meetings that also took place in Beijing.

In addition to participating in the Chinese Insurance Regulatory Forum, Chairman Wu Dingfu invited the NAIC to its new office building for a formal meeting. President Koken and Superintendent Iuppa expressed their appreciation for their invitation to China and their continued interest in developing the NAIC’s working relationship with CIRC.

Overall, the NAIC delegation encouraged good solvency monitoring, information disclosure, and efficient supervision of the market conduct of insurers. Chairman Wu noted that CIRC is placing great emphasis on strengthening supervision of insurer conduct. One of the ways CIRC and the NAIC will work to strengthen its relationship is to continue the China-Intern Pilot Program started in 2004. CIRC officials and the NAIC staff agreed to develop another intern program in the Fall 2005, and all concurred that it was extremely useful both in assisting the CIRC and the CIRC staff professionals and in providing the NAIC a valuable start-up experience in managing such internships.

International Activities in China

The Beijing Insurance Forum (BIF) of the American Chamber of Commerce held a meeting in Beijing. President Koken, Commissioner Bowler, and Commissioner Bell attended the breakfast meeting organized by Forum Chair Don Forest (Citigroup/Travelers). Mr. Forest led the discussion which focused on ways to enhance the transparency of China’s insurance industry. Representatives from industry included, Marty Carus and Kevin Mulvey, AIG and Brad Smith, ACLI, as well as other observers. Industry raised concerns about CIRC’s resistance to opening its markets on the life insurance side. BIF hopes to arrange a conference with CIRC this upcoming Fall on asset management as part of industry’s on-going dialogue with the Chinese regulators.

After the Beijing Insurance Forum, Commissioners and staff participated in a panel discussion at Renmin University for the opening of their Corporate Governance Center, which is sponsored by Citigroup/Travelers. Guests included CIRC officials, representatives of other financial services regulatory bodies in China, and faculty from Peking and Tsinghua Universities. President Koken’s speech highlighted the importance of corporate governance principles in an increasingly more globalized world and Commissioner Bell talked about small face policies due to the enormous market in China.

At the end of the week, Commissioner Bell participated in a seminar sponsored by the Insurance Accounting and Systems Association (IASA) at Tsinghua University. He gave a presentation on the NAIC’s regulatory framework and its international activities. Other participants in the program included members of the IAIS, Makoto Okubo and Arup Chatterjee.

International Trade Update

WTO/GATS: The next World Trade Organization (WTO) meetings on services will take place in Geneva from June 20-July 1, 2005. WTO members provided revised (improved) market access offers by the May 2005 deadline set by Ministers. Services is part of a package of issues being discussed as part of the Doha round of negotiations of the General Agreement on Trade in Services (GATS); countries are looking towards the end of 2006 as possible date to conclude the package.

Bi-Lateral and Multi-Lateral Free Trade Agreement (FTA) Negotiations:
Andean FTA: The FTA includes Colombia, Peru, and Ecuador. Some services-related meetings took place the week of June 6. However, there is no date set for conclusion of the FTA.
Oman FTA: The services part of the negotiations has been completed in substance, although work continues on other various chapters of the FTA. However, there is no date set for conclusion of the FTA.

United Arab Emirates (UAE) FTA: Progress is somewhat slow, and no date has been set for conclusion of the FTA. The US is working to determine a date (possibly end of June/early July) for the next discussions with UAE.

Thailand FTA: The next round is scheduled for the week of July 11, 2005, in Montana. However, there is no date is set for conclusion of FTA.

NAFTA UPDATE:
The TriNational Insurance Working Group (TIWG) convened in Mexico City on April 11, 2005. The group met 1) to continue discussions with regulators and industry representatives toward resolving on-going issues; 2) to remove insurance-related impediments to increased trade between the three countries; 3) to report on the status of responsibilities assumed in Canada; and 4) to ensure an orderly transition of leadership and introduce new initiatives. The meeting also provided José Montemayor, outgoing Chair, an opportunity to thank the various participants for their commitment to progress on the many issues dealt with during his six year term of services as Commissioner of Texas.

The TIWG was welcomed by José Antonio González, General Director of Insurance and Securities, Ministry of Finance, México; Manuel Aguilera, President of the Insurance and Surety National Commission, México; and Enrique Olmedo, of Mexico’s insurance industry association - Asociación Mexicana de Instituciones de Seguros (AMIS). Commissioner Montemayor took the opportunity to introduce California Insurance Commissioner John Garamendi, and New Mexico Insurance Superintendent Eric Serna as the new Co-Chairs of the NAIC NAFTA Working Group. Also in attendance were numerous distinguished officials from other agencies from Mexico and Canada, and a diverse group of industry representatives.

“Security and Prosperity Partnership” - Commissioner Montemayor announced the U.S. Administration’s launch of the “Security Prosperity Partnership (SPP) of North America” (formerly the North American Initiative) as an effort to reinvigorate the NAFTA in conjunction with the tenth anniversary of its enactment. In addition to the security component, the SPP promotes regulatory cooperation to generate growth and competition in the financial services sector; and specific insurance initiatives are included. A Financial Services Working Group will be established and a work plan developed by June 23, 2005. Negotiating the insurance terms on behalf of the United States are U.S. Treasury and the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR), with assistance from Gloria Leal of the Texas Department of Insurance.

timeframe established by the European Parliament and the Council of Ministers when the new measures are adopted.

Mr. Van Hulle spoke specifically about a proposed directive on reinsurance [subsequently adopted by Parliament on June 7] and the Solvency II project. The reinsurance directive is Europe’s effort to bring the regulation of reinsurance into line with the Single Market initiatives, and essentially subjects reinsurers to the same regulatory requirements as those applicable to primary insurers. The directive is required to be transposed into national law in two years, with an additional transition year for jurisdictions to adapt to the new rules. The Solvency II project is an effort by the EU to heighten the level of solvency oversight of insurers, and is expected to incorporate elements of risk-based analysis.

NAIC President Koken addresses EU Conference
NAIC President and Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner Diane Koken participated in a conference in New York in April sponsored by the Delegation of the European Union to the United States. Commissioner Koken addressed challenges faced by US insurance regulators and those faced by insurance regulators around the world. Highlighting the importance to both sides of the NAIC-EU Regulatory Dialogue, Commissioner Koken remarked on the growing significance of international cooperation among regulators. By working together, regulators everywhere will enhance their abilities to properly oversee the globalized insurance market, while allowing open and competitive markets to flourish. She was joined on the panel by Henrik Bjerre-Nielsen, the Danish insurance supervisor also serving as chair of CEIOPS, and Peter Levene of Lloyd’s.

During the conference, Commissioner Koken was joined by Superintendents Howard Mills (NY) and Alessandro Iuppa (ME) and staff for an informal meeting with new Commissioner McCreevy and Director General Schaub of the EU’s DG for Internal Market and Services. The meeting provided an opportunity for US insurance regulators and the EU to share views on future consultation between the US and EU on insurance matters, including through the Regulatory Dialogue. The next Regulatory Dialogue with NAIC, EU Commission, and CEIOPS representatives is tentatively scheduled to take place in Vienna after the IAIS Annual Conference in October.

NAIC Regulatory Cooperation Activities

SABIT Delegation Visits DC, MD, VA and NAIC (DC)
Regulators from Eurasia Seek Guidance and Training in U.S.

As part of the Department of Commerce’s International Trade Administration, the Special American Business Internship Training (SABIT) program builds partnerships and provides technical assistance by training Eurasian business leaders in U.S. business practices. These training programs directly support Eurasian economic and civil society development by encouraging market-based reforms, while generating valuable export and investment opportunities for U.S. industry. The SABIT Insurance for Central Asia Program is designed to train 18 mid- to senior-level executives from the insurance industry of five Central Asian Republics (Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan). These delegates, screened and selected by the U.S. Department of Commerce, represent the senior managers and directors of insurance companies and regulatory agencies in Central Asia. Insurance in Central Asia is a growing market segment that stands to benefit greatly from technical assistance training.

Commissioner Larry Mirel (DC) invited the SABIT Delegation for a full-day program at the DC Department of Insurance Regulatory Commission to discuss U.S. based regulation, consumer protection, fraud and regulatory cooperation. While in D.C., the Central Asia program listened to George Brady, Senior International Policy and Legislative Analyst who gave the SABIT Delegation an overview presentation of the NAIC and highlighted its work in the international community.

© 2005 National Association of Insurance Commissioners
The delegation also traveled to the Departments of Insurance in Virginia and Maryland to gain a broader view of the state-based system of regulation. This was a unique opportunity for U.S. regulators to provide insight and training, while developing relationships with potential partners from Central Asia. By hosting the SABIT group, the state insurance department staff built contacts with leading decision-makers in the insurance industry in Central Asia. As part of their trip to Washington, DC, the delegation also met with industry officials as well. The program helped to introduce participants to the structure and regulation of the U.S. insurance market, and expose them to the latest technologies and management tools utilized by American insurance companies and regulatory agencies. The visit from the SABIT delegation is part of the NAIC’s overall regulatory cooperation efforts.

OECD Insurance Committee Meeting, June 29-July 1, 2005

At the end of this month, NAIC President and Pennsylvania Commissioner Diane Koken, NAIC President-Elect and Maine Insurance Superintendent Al Iuppa, and Executive Vice President Cathy Weatherford, will attend the OECD Insurance Committee Meeting in Paris. Part of the meeting will focus on recent corporate governance issues and challenges involving money laundering in the insurance sector as well as related brokerage and intermediary issues. The NAIC Delegation will also share their views on recent US developments related to the Spitzer investigations and their consequences to the insurance and intermediary market and providers. In this regard, the regulators will comment on regulatory reforms at the state and federal levels.
