RE: Implementation of federal Nonadmitted and Reinsurance Reform Act in [State]

The purpose of this bulletin is to outline nationwide regulatory changes that will affect the placement of nonadmitted insurance in [State]. The Nonadmitted and Reinsurance Reform Act of 2010 (“NRRA”), 15 U.S.C. § 8201 et seq., provides that only an insured’s “Home State” may require the payment of premium tax for nonadmitted insurance. Moreover, the NRRA subjects the placement of nonadmitted insurance solely to the statutory and regulatory requirements of the insured’s Home State, and provides that only the insured’s Home State may require a surplus lines broker to be licensed to sell, solicit or negotiate nonadmitted insurance with respect to such insured. 15 U.S.C. § 8202(a), (b). “Nonadmitted insurance,” as defined in 15 U.S.C. § 8206(9), applies only to property and casualty insurance (excluding workers’ compensation).

The NRRA becomes effective on July 21, 2011. For nonadmitted insurance business placed on or after July 21, 2011, the following information is provided for the benefit of insurers, brokers, [insureds and stamping offices]:

What is the scope of the NRRA?

The NRRA states that “the placement of nonadmitted insurance is subject to the statutory and regulatory requirements solely of the insured’s home state” and that the NRRA “may not be construed to preempt any State law, rule, or regulation that restricts the placement of workers’ compensation insurance or excess insurance for self-funded workers’ compensation plans with a nonadmitted insurer.” 15 U.S.C. § 8202. The NRRA does not expand the scope of the kinds of insurance that an insurer may write in the nonadmitted insurance market and each state continues to determine which kinds of insurance an insurer may write in that state. Although the NRRA preempts certain state laws with respect to nonadmitted insurance, it does not have any impact on insurance offered by insurers licensed or authorized in this state.

What is the insured’s Home State for purposes of a particular placement?

[State] is the insured’s Home State if the insured maintains its principal place of business here or, in the case of an individual, the individual’s principal residence is here. If [State] is considered the insured’s Home State, only [State’s] requirements regarding the placement of such business will apply. If 100% of the insured risk is located outside of [State], then the insured’s Home State is the state to which the greatest percentage of the insured’s taxable premium for that insurance contract is allocated.

[If the state wishes to provide additional guidance on the interpretation of “principal residence” or “principal place of business,” the state may consider inserting definitions of these terms consistent with the Nonadmitted Insurance Multi-State Agreement.]

If more than one insured from an affiliate group are named insureds on a single nonadmitted insurance placement, [State] will be considered the Home State for that placement if [State] is the Home State of the member of the affiliated group that has the largest percentage of premium attributed to it under such insurance contract.

How will these rules be applied?

New and renewal policies with an effective date prior to July 21, 2011 will be subject to the laws and regulations of [State] and other jurisdictions, as applicable, as of the policy effective date. The laws and regulations of [State] and other jurisdictions, as applicable, as of the effective date of such a policy will also apply to any modification to that policy during the policy period, such as all endorsements (including risk- and premium-bearing endorsements), installment payments and premium audits. New and renewal policies with an effective date on or after July 21, 2011, and any modifications thereto, will be subject only to the laws and regulations of [State] if [State] is the Home State of the insured.

What are the requirements for premium tax allocation and payment in this [State]?

As of July 21, 2011, the NRRRA permits only the insured’s Home State to require the payment of premium tax for nonadmitted insurance. Until July 21, 2011, the laws and regulations of [State] and other jurisdictions, as applicable, will continue to apply to premium tax due on multi-state placements.

It is the intent of the Department to issue additional bulletins if and when [State] begins participating in a tax sharing arrangement. Until additional bulletins are issued, the [State] tax rate should be applied to new and renewal policies with an effective date on or after July 21, 2011, when [State] is the insured’s Home State. [Note: If the state intends to apply an alternate formula for computing the premium tax on multistate policies for which it is the Home State, that information should be inserted here.]

What are the license requirements for brokers?

Only the insured’s Home State may require a surplus lines broker to be licensed to sell, solicit or negotiate nonadmitted insurance with respect to a particular placement. If [State] is the insured’s Home State, the surplus lines broker must be licensed in [State]. The NRRRA provides that [State] may not collect licensing fees for surplus lines brokers as of July 21, 2012, unless [State] participates in the NAIC’s national insurance producer database or any other equivalent uniform national database. 15 U.S.C. § 8203. [State] participates in the National Insurance Producer Registry (NIPR), which provides such a database. [Note: If the state does not participate in NIPR, the state should describe its broker licensing requirements.]

When are the requirements for a diligent search and when is a diligent search not required?

[Insert general diligent search requirements for state].

On or after July 21, 2011, a surplus lines broker seeking to procure or place nonadmitted insurance on behalf of an “exempt commercial purchaser” is not required to perform a diligent search if: 1) the broker has disclosed to the exempt commercial purchaser that insurance may or may not be available from the admitted market that may provide greater protection with more regulatory oversight; and 2) the exempt commercial purchaser has subsequently requested in writing for the broker to procure or place such insurance from a nonadmitted insurer. “Exempt commercial purchaser” is defined in [insert State statute consistent with NRRRA definition].

What are the eligibility requirements for nonadmitted insurers?

The NRRA restricts the eligibility requirements a state may impose on nonadmitted insurers. See 15 U.S.C. § 8204. For nonadmitted insurers domiciled in a U.S. jurisdiction, a broker is permitted to place nonadmitted insurance with such insurers provided they are authorized to write such business in their state of domicile and maintain minimum capital and surplus of $15 million [or the minimum capital and surplus amount required in State, whichever is greater]. [Note: If the state maintains a list of eligible insurers, the state may indicate where such information is available and/or how an insurer can be added to such a list.]

For nonadmitted insurers domiciled outside the U.S., a broker may place business with such insurers provided the insurer is listed on the Quarterly Listing of Alien Insurers maintained by the International Insurers Department of the NAIC.
