be verified objectively. If a range is estimated for either the amount or timing of possible cash flows, the likelihood of possible outcomes shall be considered in determining the best estimate of future cash flows.

C. "Fully funded" means that, with respect to any exposure attributed to a protected cell, the fair value of the protected cell assets, on the date on which the insurance securitization is effected, equals or exceeds the maximum possible exposure attributable to the protected cell with respect to such exposures.

D. "General account" means the assets and liabilities of a protected cell company other than protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities.

E. "Indemnity trigger" means a transaction term by which relief of the issuer's obligation to repay investors is triggered by its incurring a specified level of losses under its insurance or reinsurance contracts.

F. "Non-indemnity trigger" means a transaction term by which relief of the issuer's obligation to repay investors is triggered solely by some event or condition other than the individual protected cell company incurring a specified level of losses under its insurance or reinsurance contracts.

G. "Protected cell" means an identified pool of assets and liabilities of a protected cell company segregated and insulated by means of this Act from the remainder of the protected cell company's assets and liabilities.

Drafting Note: This term is meant to reference identification of statutorily segregated assets and liabilities through the accounting function. By attributing certain assets and liabilities to a protected cell on the protected cell company's books and records, and otherwise complying with the provisions of this Act, the protected cell company will receive statutory insulation of those assets and liabilities from the protected cell company's other assets and liabilities not identified in the accounting records as attributable to the protected cell.

H. "Protected cell account" means a specifically identified bank or custodial account established by a protected cell company for the purpose of segregating the protected cell assets of one protected cell from the protected cell assets of other protected cells and from the assets of the protected cell company's general account.

Drafting Note: This term is meant to reference a custodial account established to hold and invest protected cell assets, such that protected cell assets are also distinct and identifiable from the assets of the general account.

I. "Protected cell assets" means all assets, contract rights and general intangibles, identified with and attributable to a specific protected cell of a protected cell company.

J. "Protected cell company" means a domestic insurer that has one or more protected cells.

K. "Protected cell company insurance securitization" means the issuance of debt instruments, the proceeds from which support the exposures attributed to the protected cell, by a protected cell company where repayment of principal or interest, or both, to investors pursuant to the transaction terms is contingent upon the occurrence or nonoccurrence of an event with respect to which the protected cell company is exposed to loss under insurance or reinsurance contracts it has issued.

L. "Protected cell liabilities" means all liabilities and other obligations identified with and attributable to a specific protected cell of a protected cell company.

Section 4. Establishment of Protected Cells

A. A protected cell company may establish one or more protected cells with the prior written approval of the commissioner of a plan of operation or amendments thereto submitted by the protected cell company with respect to each protected cell in connection with an insurance securitization. Upon the written approval of the commissioner of the plan of operation, which shall include, but not be limited to, the specific business objectives and investment guidelines of the protected cell, the protected cell company may, in accordance with the approved plan of operation, attribute to the protected cell insurance obligations with respect to its insurance business and obligations relating to the insurance securitization and assets to fund the obligations. A protected cell shall have its own distinct name or designation, which shall include the words "protected cell." The protected cell company shall transfer all assets attributable to a protected cell to one or more separately established and identified protected cell accounts bearing the name or designation of that protected cell. Protected cell assets shall be held in the protected cell accounts for the purpose of satisfying the obligations of that protected cell.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

B. All attributions of assets and liabilities between a protected cell and the general account shall be in accordance with the plan of operation approved by the commissioner. No other attribution of assets or liabilities may be made by a protected cell company between the protected cell company's general account and its protected cells. Any attribution of assets and liabilities between the general account and a protected cell, or from investors in the form of principal on a debt instrument issued by a protected cell company in connection with a protected cell company securitization shall be in cash or in readily marketable securities with established market values.

C. The creation of a protected cell does not create, in respect of that protected cell, a legal person separate from the protected cell company. Amounts attributed to a protected cell under this Act, including assets transferred to a protected cell account, are owned by the protected cell company and the protected cell company may not be, nor hold itself out to be, a trustee with respect to those protected cell assets of that protected cell account. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the protected cell company may allow for a security interest to attach to protected cell assets or a protected cell account when in favor of a creditor of the protected cell and otherwise allowed under applicable law.

D. This Act shall not be construed to prohibit the protected cell company from contracting with or arranging for an investment advisor, commodity trading advisor, or other third party to manage the protected cell assets of a protected cell, provided that all remuneration, expenses and other compensation of the third party advisor or manager are payable from the protected cell assets of that protected cell and not from the protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell company's general account.

E. (1) A protected cell company shall establish administrative and accounting procedures necessary to properly identify the one or more protected cells of the protected cell company and the protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to the protected cells. It shall be the duty of the directors of a protected cell company to:

(a) Keep protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities separate and separately identifiable from the assets and liabilities of the protected cell company's general account and;

(b) Keep protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to one protected cell separate and separately identifiable from protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to other protected cells.

(2) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if this section is violated, the remedy of tracing shall be applicable to protected cell assets when commingled with protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell company's general account. The remedy of tracing shall not be construed as an exclusive remedy.

F. The protected cell company shall, when establishing a protected cell, attribute to the protected cell assets with a value at least equal to the reserves and other insurance liabilities attributed to that protected cell.

Section 5. Use and Operation of Protected Cells

A. The protected cell assets of a protected cell may not be charged with liabilities arising out of any other business the protected cell company may conduct. All contracts or other documentation reflecting protected cell liabilities shall clearly indicate that only the protected cell assets are available for the satisfaction of those protected cell liabilities.

B. The income, gains and losses, realized or unrealized, from protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities shall be credited to or charged against the protected cell without regard to other income, gains or losses of the protected cell company, including income, gains or losses of other protected cells. Amounts attributed to any protected cell and accumulations on the attributed amounts may be invested and reinvested without regard to any requirements or limitations of Section [insert reference applicable sections of the insurance code imposing limitations on insurance company investments] and the investments in a protected cell or cells shall not be taken into account in applying the investment limitations otherwise applicable to the investments of the protected cell company.

C. Assets attributed to a protected cell shall be valued at their fair value on the date of valuation.

D. A protected cell company shall, in respect of any of its protected cells, engage in fully funded indemnity triggered insurance securitization to support in full the protected cell exposures attributable to that protected cell. A protected cell company insurance securitization that is non-indemnity triggered shall qualify as an insurance securitization under the terms of this Act only after the commissioner, in accordance with the authority granted under Section 9 of this Act, adopts regulations addressing the methods of funding of the portion of the risk that is not indemnity based, accounting, disclosure, risk based capital treatment, and assessing risks associated with such securitizations. A protected cell company insurance securitization that is not fully funded, whether indemnity triggered or non-indemnity triggered, is prohibited. Protected cell assets may be used to pay interest or other consideration on any outstanding debt or other obligation attributable to that protected cell, and nothing in this subsection shall be construed or interpreted to prevent a protected cell company from entering into a swap agreement or other transaction for the account of the protected cell that has the effect of guaranteeing interest or other consideration.

E. In all protected cell company insurance securitizations, the contracts or other documentation effecting the transaction shall contain provisions identifying the protected cell to which the transaction will be attributed. In addition, the contracts or other documentation shall clearly disclose that the assets of that protected cell, and only those assets, are available to pay the obligations of that protected cell. Notwithstanding the foregoing, and subject to the provisions of this Act and any other applicable law or regulation, the failure to include such language in the contracts or other documentation shall not be used as the sole basis by creditors, reinsurers or other claimants to circumvent the provisions of this Act.

F. A protected cell company shall only be authorized to attribute to a protected cell account the insurance obligations relating to the protected cell company's general account. Under no circumstances shall a protected cell be authorized to issue insurance or reinsurance contracts directly to policyholders or reinsureds or have any obligation to the policyholders or reinsureds of the protected cell company's general account.

G. At the cessation of business of a protected cell in accordance with the plan approved by the commissioner, the protected cell company shall voluntarily close out the protected cell account.

Section 6. Reach of Creditors and Other Claimants

A. (1) Protected cell assets shall only be available to the creditors of the protected cell company that are creditors in respect to that protected cell and shall thereby be entitled, in conformity with the provisions of this Act, to have recourse to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell, and shall be absolutely protected from the creditors of the protected cell company that are not creditors in respect of that protected cell and who, accordingly, shall not be entitled to have recourse to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell. Creditors with respect to a protected cell shall not be entitled to have recourse against the protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell company's general account.

(2) Protected cell assets shall only be available to creditors of a protected cell company after all protected cell liabilities have been extinguished or otherwise provided for in accordance with the plan of operation relating to that protected cell.

B. When an obligation of a protected cell company to a person arises from a transaction, or is otherwise imposed, in respect of a protected cell:

(1) That obligation of the protected cell company shall extend only to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell, and the person shall, with respect to that obligation, be entitled to have recourse only to the protected cell assets attributable to that protected cell; and

(2) That obligation of the protected cell company shall not extend to the protected cell assets of any other protected cell or the assets of the protected cell company's general account, and that person shall not, with respect to that obligation, be entitled to have recourse to the protected cell assets of any other protected cell or the assets of the protected cell company's general account.

C. When an obligation of a protected cell company relates solely to the general account, the obligation of the protected cell company shall extend only to, and that creditor shall, with respect to that obligation, be entitled to have recourse only to, the assets of the protected cell company's general account.

D. The activities, assets, and obligations relating to a protected cell are not subject to the provisions of Section [insert applicable sections of the insurance code addressing life and health and property and casualty guaranty or insolvency funds], and neither a protected cell nor a protected cell company shall be assessed by or otherwise be required to contribute to any guaranty fund or guaranty association in this state with respect to the activities, assets, or obligations of a protected cell. Nothing in this subsection shall affect the activities or obligations of an insurer's general account.

E. In no event shall the establishment of one or more protected cells alone constitute or be deemed to be a fraudulent conveyance, an intent by the protected cell company to defraud creditors, or the carrying out of business by the protected cell company for any other fraudulent purpose.

Section 7. Conservation, Rehabilitation or Liquidation of Protected Cell Companies

A. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in the insurance code of this state, the regulations promulgated under the insurance code of this state, or any other applicable law or regulation, upon any order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation of a protected cell company, the receiver shall be bound to deal with the protected cell company's assets and liabilities, including protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities, in accordance with the requirements set forth in this Act.

B. With respect to amounts recoverable under a protected cell company insurance securitization, the amount recoverable by the receiver shall not be reduced or diminished as a result of the entry of an order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation with respect to the protected cell company notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in the contracts or other documentation governing the protected cell company insurance securitization.

Drafting note: A number of states require a liquidator to cancel policies within a pre-specified time period in the event of a liquidation. While reviewing the Plan of Operation, commissioners should consider the termination provisions, if any, of the securitization instruments in the event of the cancellation of all of the insurance policies underlying the securitization in order to assess whether any portion of the risk premium relating to those underlying policies should equitably be returned to the estate of the general account.

Section 8. No Transaction of an Insurance Business

A protected cell company insurance securitization shall not be deemed to be an insurance or reinsurance contract. An investor in a protected cell company insurance securitization shall not, by sole means of this investment, be deemed to be transacting an insurance business in this state. The underwriters or selling agents (and their partners, directors, officers, members, managers, employees, agents, representatives and advisors) involved in a protected cell company insurance securitization shall not be deemed to be conducting an insurance or reinsurance agency, brokerage, intermediary, advisory or consulting business by virtue of their activities in connection therewith.

Section 9. Authority to Adopt Regulations

The commissioner may promulgate regulations necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Act.

Section 10. Effective Date

This Act shall become effective on [insert date].

PROTECTED CELL COMPANY MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

PROTECTED CELL COMPANY MODEL ACT

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

MODEL ACT ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS

Table of Contents

Section 1. Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to authorize domestic insurance companies to utilize modern systems for holding and transferring securities without physical delivery of securities certificates, subject to appropriate regulations of the commissioner.

Section 2. Definitions

As used in this act, the term

A. "Clearing corporation" means a corporation as defined in [Section 8-102(a)(5) of the Uniform Commercial Code], except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of any foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, clearing corporation may include a corporation which is organized or existing under the laws of any foreign country and is legally qualified under such laws to effect transactions in securities by computerized book-entry. Clearing corporation also includes "Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System" and "Treasury Direct" book-entry securities systems established pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 3100 et seq., 12 U.S.C. pt. 391 and 5 U.S.C. pt. 301.

B. "Custodian" means a national bank, state bank, trust company or broker/dealer which participates in a clearing corporation.

C. "Securities" means instruments as defined in [Section 8-102(a)(15) of the Uniform Commercial Code].

Section 3. Use of Book-Entry Systems

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a domestic insurance company may deposit or arrange for the deposit of securities held in or purchased for its general account and its separate accounts in a clearing corporation. When securities are deposited with a clearing corporation, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer may be merged and held in bulk in the name of the nominee of such clearing corporation with any other securities deposited with such clearing corporation by any person, regardless of the ownership of such securities, and certificates representing securities of small denominations may be merged into one or more certificates of larger denominations. The records of any custodian through which an insurance company holds securities in a clearing corporation shall at all times show that such securities are held for such insurance company and for which accounts thereof. Ownership of, and other interests in, such securities may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of such clearing corporation without physical delivery of certificates representing such securities.

B. The Commissioner of Insurance is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations governing the deposit by insurance companies of securities with clearing corporations, including establishing standards for national banks, state banks, trust companies and brokers/dealers to qualify as custodians for insurance company securities.

Section 4. Deposit of Securities by Domestic Insurance Companies

Section _____ is amended by adding thereto a new paragraph as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the securities qualified for deposit under this section may be deposited with a clearing corporation. Securities deposited with a clearing corporation and used to meet the deposit requirements set forth in this section shall be under the control of the Commissioner and shall not be withdrawn by the insurance company without the approval of the Commissioner. Any insurance company holding securities in such manner shall provide to the Commissioner evidence issued by its custodian through which such insurance company has deposited such securities in a clearing corporation, in order to establish that the securities are actually recorded in an account in the name of the custodian and that the records of the custodian reflect that such securities are held subject to the order of the Commissioner.

Drafting Note: Certain terms used in Section 4 are defined in Section 2 of this model Act.

Section 5. Deposit of Securities by Foreign Insurance Companies

Section _____ is amended by adding thereto a new paragraph as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, securities eligible for deposit under the insurance law of this state relating to deposit of securities by an insurance company as a condition of commencing or continuing to do an insurance business in this state may be deposited with a clearing corporation. Securities deposited with a clearing corporation and used to meet the deposit requirements under the insurance laws of this state shall be under the control of the Commissioner and shall not be withdrawn by the insurance company without the approval of the Commissioner. Any insurance company holding such securities in such manner shall provide to the Commissioner evidence issued by its custodian in order to establish that the securities are actually recorded in an account in the name of the custodian and evidence that the records of the custodian reflect that such securities are held subject to the order of the Commissioner.

Drafting Note: Certain terms used in Section 5 are defined in Section 2 of this Model Act.

Section 6. Effective Date

This Act shall become effective on [insert date].

MODEL ACT ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2008

MODEL ACT ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS (#295)

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS (#298)

1. Project Description

The FHLB Custodial Subgroup of the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force was created at the 2007 Summer National Meeting of the NAIC. This Subgroup was created to work on a charge given to the Task Force by the Financial Condition (E) Committee. The Subgroup was to consider the Federal Home Loan Banks' (FHLBanks) request to be included in the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations and provide a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee. This charge was prompted by a comment letter received from the FHLBanks dated February 16, 2007.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting the Regulation

The project to review the FHLBanks request was given to the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force and assigned to the FHLB Custodial Subgroup. The following states participated in the subgroup:

Kansas, Chair	Alabama
New York	Tennessee

3. Charge Authorizing the Project

The Financial Condition (E) Committee approved the following charge for the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force through an e-mail vote completed on April 30, 2007:

The Examination Oversight (E) Task Force shall consider the FHLB request to be included in the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations and provide its recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

4. General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

To begin reviewing the FHLBanks' request, the Subgroup had some questions about the FHLBanks' process to handle custodial assets and how that process is reviewed by its federal regulator. Initial questions were communicated to the FHLBanks in a memo dated July 26, 2007. The FHLBanks responded to the questions through their memo dated August 28, 2007. A conference call between the Subgroup and members of the FHLBanks was held September 5, 2007 to discuss the issues in greater detail. Finally, additional information was requested by the Subgroup through a memo dated September 24, 2007, and another response was received from the FHLB on November 30, 2007.

Through investigating answers to questions relating to the controls and regulation of custodial services offered by the FHLBanks, the Subgroup was able to reach a conclusion that the FHLBanks should be permitted to function as authorized custodians as outlined in the Model Act and Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations. After concluding that the FHLBanks should be allowed to function as authorized custodians, the Subgroup turned its attention to proposing revisions to the Model Act on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#295) and the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#298). Both of these models included language describing authorized custodians that would exclude the FHLBanks. However, based on a review of the NAIC's Model Law Development Framework, it was determined that changes to these models would not meet the criteria included in the framework. As such, the Subgroup determined that revisions should be made to the models and offered as guidelines to the states.

The Subgroup held a conference call on February 21, 2008, and conducted business via e-mail on March 7, 2008 to complete its work in proposing guideline revisions to the models. The guideline revisions were referred to the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force at its March 31, 2008, meeting. The Examination Oversight (E) Task Force exposed the proposed guideline revisions for a 45-day comment period during which no comments were received. On June 1, 2008, the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force adopted the proposed guideline changes to Model #295 and #298.

5. Discussion of Key Issues

The FHLB Custodial Subgroup conducted an in-depth review of the capital requirements, regulatory oversight and custodial controls and standards in place at the FHLBanks to reach a determination that the FHLBanks should be allowed to operate as authorized custodians of insurance company securities. As such, guideline revisions have been proposed to the Model Act on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#295) and the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#298) to allow the FHLBanks to meet the definition of an authorized custodian.

6. Any Other Important Information

June 1, 2008	The Examination Oversight (E) Task Force adopts the proposed revisions as guideline changes to Model #295 and #298.
June 2, 2008	The Financial Condition (E) Committee adopts the proposed revisions as guideline changes to Model #295 and #298.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2004

MODEL ACT ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OFCLEARING CORPORATIONS (#295)

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS (#298)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

The Model Act to Permit the Use of Clearing Corporations and the Federal Book Entry System by Insurance Companies (the Model Act) and the Model Regulation on the Use of Clearing Corporations and Federal Book Entry by Insurance Companies (the Model Regulation) have been revised to permit the use of broker/dealers as custodian for insurance company assets. The titles of the Model Act and Model Regulation have also been revised to more clearly identify the items discussed in the models. The revised titles are the Model Act on the Use of Custodial Agreements and Clearing Corporations and the Model Regulation on the Use of Custodial Agreements and Clearing Corporations.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Custodial Assets Working Group of the Financial Condition (E) Committee originally developed and adopted this revision. The working group includes: New York (Chair), Arkansas, Iowa, Oregon, and Texas.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The 2004 charge of the working group is, "The Custodial Assets Working group will revise the appropriate model laws, acts and handbook guidance to allow broker/dealers that meet certain standards to be authorized NAIC custodians for insurance company investments."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

The drafting process was open as the Custodial Assets Working Group solicited comments from all interested parties, including interested regulators and industry representatives. At the 2003 Fall National Meeting, the Financial Condition (E) Committee voted to allow broker/dealers to act as custodians for insurance company assets. At that time, the Committee instructed the Custodial Assets Working Group to develop revisions to the applicable models. The revisions to the Model Act and Model Regulation were first discussed during an open conference call of the working group on November 19, 2003. At that time, the working group voted to expose the proposed revisions for comment. The revisions to the Model Act and Model Regulation were adopted during an open conference call of the working group on February 26, 2004.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

The working group received comment letters from interested parties on whether broker dealers should be allowed to act as custodians for insurance companies. Comments were discussed in open forum at the Fall 2002, Winter 2002, and Spring 2003 National Meetings. The revisions to the models were exposed for a public comment for a sixty-day period. The working group discussed comments received in an open forum.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response)

One significant issue was discussed by the working group and interested parties. One of the comment letters received discussed concern that the proposed revisions did not require broker/dealers to provide insurance coverage in excess of that provided by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). After some discussion, the working group voted to require that broker/dealers acting as custodians for insurance company assets hold insurance coverage in excess to that provided by SIPC in an amount equal to or greater than the largest, single insurance company customer deposit.

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard)

On January 1, 2003, the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee exposed for a two-year period the Model Act and Model Regulation as possible accreditation standards. If the revisions to the Model Act and Model Regulation are adopted by the NAIC membership, the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee will review the revised Model Act and Model Regulation for further consideration. In addition, the working group will send a referral to the Financial Examiners Handbook Technical Group to consider applicable revisions to the NAIC Financial Condition Examiners Handbook.

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS

Table of Contents

Section 1. Definitions

When used in this regulation, the term

A. "Agent" means a national bank, state bank, trust company or broker/dealer that maintains an account in its name in a clearing corporation or that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and through which a custodian participates in a clearing corporation, including the Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System (TRADES) or Treasury Direct systems, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, "agent" may include a corporation that is organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country and that is legally qualified under those laws to accept custody of securities.

B. "Clearing corporation" means a corporation as defined in [Section 8-102(a)(5) of the Uniform Commercial Code] that is organized for the purpose of effecting transactions in securities by computerized book-entry, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, "clearing corporation" may include a corporation that is organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country and which is legally qualified under those laws to effect transactions in securities by computerized book-entry. Clearing corporation also includes "Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System" and "Treasury Direct" book-entry securities systems established pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 3100 et seq., 12 U.S.C. pt. 391 and 5 U.S.C. pt. 301.

C. "Custodian" means:

(1) A national bank, state bank or trust company that shall at all times during which it acts as a custodian pursuant to this regulation be no less than adequately capitalized as determined by the standards adopted by United States banking regulators and that is regulated by either state banking laws or is a member of the Federal Reserve System and that is legally qualified to accept custody of securities in accordance with the standards set forth below, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country, or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, "custodian" may include a bank or trust company incorporated or organized under the laws of a country other than the United States that is regulated as such by that country's government or an agency thereof that shall at all times during which it acts as a custodian pursuant to this regulation be no less than adequately capitalized as determined by the standards adopted by international banking authorities and that is legally qualified to accept custody of securities; or

(2) A broker/dealer that shall be registered with and subject to jurisdiction of the Securities and Exchange Commission, maintains membership in the Securities Investor Protection Corporation, and has a tangible net worth equal to or greater than two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000).

D. "Custodied securities" means securities held by the custodian or its agent or in a clearing corporation, including the Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Equity Securities System (TRADES) or Treasury Direct systems.

E. "Tangible net worth" means shareholders equity, less intangible assets, as reported in the broker/dealer's most recent Annual or Transition Report pursuant to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (S.E.C. Form 10-K) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

F. "Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System" ("TRADES") and "Treasury Direct" mean the book entry securities systems established pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 3100 et seq., 12 U.S.C. pt. 391 and 5 U.S.C. pt. 301. The operation of TRADES and Treasury Direct are subject to 31 C.F.R. pt. 357 et seq

G. "Security" has the same meaning as that defined in [Section 8-102(a)(15) of the Uniform Commercial Code].

H. "Securities' certificate" has the same meaning as that defined in [Section 8-102(a)(16) of the Uniform Commercial Code].

Section 2. Custody Agreement; Requirements

A. An insurance company may, by written agreement with a custodian, provide for the custody of its securities with that custodian. The securities that are the subject of the agreement may be held by the custodian or its agent or in a clearing corporation.

B. The agreement shall be in writing and shall be authorized by a resolution of the board of directors of the insurance company or of an authorized committee of the board. The terms of the agreement shall comply with the following:

(1) Securities' certificates held by the custodian shall be held separate from the securities' certificates of the custodian and of all of its other customers.

(2) Securities held indirectly by the custodian and securities in a clearing corporation shall be separately identified on the custodian's official records as being owned by the insurance company. The records shall identify which securities are held by the custodian or by its agent and which securities are in a clearing corporation. If the securities are in a clearing corporation, the records shall also identify where the securities are and if in a clearing corporation, the name of the clearing corporation and if through an agent, the name of the agent.

(3) All custodied securities that are registered shall be registered in the name of the company or in the name of a nominee of the company or in the name of the custodian or its nominee or, if in a clearing corporation, in the name of the clearing corporation or its nominee.

(4) Custodied securities shall be held subject to the instructions of the insurance company and shall be withdrawable upon the demand of the insurance company, except that custodied securities used to meet the deposit requirements set forth in Section [section of the state statute requiring deposit of securities as a condition of doing business] of this Insurance Law shall, to the extent required by that section, be under the control of the [appropriate insurance regulatory authority] and shall not be withdrawn by the insurance company without the approval of the [appropriate insurance regulatory authority].

(5) The custodian shall be required to send or cause to be sent to the insurance company a confirmation of all transfers of custodied securities to or from the account of the insurance company. In addition, the custodian shall be required to furnish no less than monthly the insurance company with reports of holdings of custodied securities at times and containing information reasonably requested by the insurance company. The custodian's trust committee's annual reports of its review of the insurer's trust accounts shall also be provided to the insurer. Reports and verifications may be transmitted in electronic or paper form.

Drafting Note: The annual reports referred to in this subsection may be referred to also as single audits, directors' examinations, internal reports or audits or other similar terms. This is intended to refer to an audit of an insurer's assets only and not to the custodian's assets. (The drafters suggest that a reference to 12 C.F.R. 9.8 and 12 C.F.R. 9.9 may be useful here also; however, such a reference is not intended to limit the scope of this subsection to reports required only by the Comptroller of the Currency.)

(6) During the course of the custodian's regular business hours, an officer or employee of the insurance company, an independent accountant selected by the insurance company and a representative of an appropriate regulatory body shall be entitled to examine, on the premises of the custodian, the custodian's records relating to custodied securities, but only upon furnishing the custodian with written instructions to that effect from an appropriate officer of the insurance company.

(7) The custodian and its agents shall be required to send to the insurance company:

(a) All reports which they receive from a clearing corporation on their respective systems of internal accounting control, and

(b) Reports prepared by outside auditors on the custodians or its agent's internal accounting control of custodied securities that the insurance company may reasonably request.

(8) The custodian shall maintain records sufficient to determine and verify information relating to custodied securities that may be reported in the insurance company's annual statement and supporting schedules and information required in an audit of the financial statements of the insurance company.

(10) A national bank, state bank or trust company shall secure and maintain insurance protection in an adequate amount covering the bank's or trust company's duties and activities as custodian for the insurer's assets, and shall state in the custody agreement that protection is in compliance with the requirements of the custodian's banking regulator. A broker/dealer shall secure and maintain insurance protection for each insurance company's custodied securities in excess of that provided by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation in an amount equal to or greater than the market value of each respective insurance company's custodied securities. The commissioner may determine whether the type of insurance is appropriate and the amount of coverage is adequate.

Drafting Note: The following subsections provide alternate standards of custodial liability. The standard in the first alternative is equivalent to that of a bailee for hire under New York law. The second alternative is more strict.

(11) The custodian shall be obligated to indemnify the insurance company for any loss of custodied securities, except that the custodian shall not be so obligated to the extent that the loss was caused by other than the negligence or dishonesty of the custodian.

(12) The custodian shall be obligated to indemnify the insurance company for any loss of custodied securities occasioned by the negligence or dishonesty of the custodian's officers or employees, or burglary, robbery, holdup, theft or mysterious disappearance, including loss by damage or destruction.]

(13) In the event that there is a loss of custodied securities for which the custodian shall be obligated to indemnify the insurance company as provided in Paragraph (11) above, the custodian shall promptly replace the securities or the value thereof and the value of any loss of rights or privileges resulting from the loss of securities.

(14) The agreement may provide that the custodian will not be liable for a failure to take an action required under the agreement in the event and to the extent that the taking of the action is prevented or delayed by war (whether declared or not and including existing wars), revolution, insurrection, riot, civil commotion, act of God, accident, fire, explosion, stoppage of labor, strikes or other differences with employees, laws, regulations, orders or other acts of any governmental authority, or any other cause whatever beyond its reasonable control.

(15) In the event that the custodian gains entry in a clearing corporation through an agent, there shall be an agreement between the custodian and the agent under which the agent shall be subject to the same liability for loss of custodied securities as the custodian. However, if the agent shall be subject to regulation under the laws of a jurisdiction that is different from the jurisdiction the laws of which regulate the custodian, the Commissioner of Insurance of the state of domicile of the insurance company may accept a standard of liability applicable to the agent that is different from the standard of liability applicable to the custodian.

(16) The custodian shall provide written notification to the insurer's domiciliary commissioner if the custodial agreement with the insurer has been terminated or if 100% of the account assets in any one custody account have been withdrawn. This notification shall be remitted to the insurance commissioner within three (3) business days of the receipt by the custodian of the insurer's written notice of termination or within three (3) business days of the withdrawal of 100% of the account assets.

Section 3. Deposit with Affiliates; Requirements

A. Nothing in this regulation shall prevent an insurance company from depositing securities with another insurance company with which the depositing insurance company is affiliated, provided that the securities are deposited pursuant to a written agreement authorized by the board of directors of the depositing insurance company or an authorized committee thereof and that the receiving insurance company is organized under the laws of one of the states of the United States of America or of the District of Columbia. If the respective states of domicile of the depositing and receiving insurance companies are not the same, the depositing insurance company shall have given notice of the deposit to the insurance commissioner in the state of its domicile and the insurance commissioner shall not have objected to it within thirty (30) days of the receipt of the notice.

B. The terms of the agreement shall comply with the following:

(1) The insurance company receiving the deposit shall maintain records adequate to identify and verify the securities belonging to the depositing insurance company.

(2) The receiving insurance company shall allow representatives of an appropriate regulatory body to examine records relating to securities held subject to the agreement.

(3) The depositing insurance company may authorize the receiving insurance company:

(a) To hold the securities of the depositing insurance company in bulk, in certificates issued in the name of the receiving insurance company or its nominee, and to commingle them with securities owned by other affiliates of the receiving insurance company, and

(b) To provide for the securities to be held by a custodian, including the custodian of securities of the receiving insurance company or in a clearing corporation.

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS

The NAIC amended this model during the 2008 Fall National Meeting. These amendments were adopted as guidelines under the NAIC's model laws process. The 2008 3rd Quarter Guideline Amendments are highlighted in grey.

Table of Contents

Section 1. Definitions

When used in this regulation, the term

A. "Agent" means a national bank, state bank, trust company or broker/dealer that maintains an account in its name in a clearing corporation or that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and through which a custodian participates in a clearing corporation, including the Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System (TRADES) or Treasury Direct systems, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, "agent" may include a corporation that is organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country and that is legally qualified under those laws to accept custody of securities.

B. "Clearing corporation" means a corporation as defined in [Section 8-102(a)(5) of the Uniform Commercial Code] that is organized for the purpose of effecting transactions in securities by computerized book-entry, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, "clearing corporation" may include a corporation that is organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country and which is legally qualified under those laws to effect transactions in securities by computerized book-entry. Clearing corporation also includes "Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System" and "Treasury Direct" book-entry securities systems established pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 3100 et seq., 12 U.S.C. pt. 391 and 5 U.S.C. pt. 301.

C. "Custodian" means:

(1) A national bank, state bank, federal home loan bank or trust company that shall at all times during which it acts as a custodian pursuant to this regulation be no less than adequately capitalized as determined by the standards adopted by the regulator charged with establishing standards for, and assessing, the institution's solvency and that is regulated by either federal or state banking laws or the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, as amended, or is a member of the Federal Reserve System and that is legally qualified to accept custody of securities in accordance with the standards set forth below, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of a foreign country, or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business therein, "custodian" may include a bank or trust company incorporated or organized under the laws of a country other than the United States that is regulated as such by that country's government or an agency thereof that shall at all times during which it acts as a custodian pursuant to this regulation be no less than adequately capitalized as determined by the standards adopted by international banking authorities and that is legally qualified to accept custody of securities; or

(2) A broker/dealer that shall be registered with and subject to jurisdiction of the Securities and Exchange Commission, maintains membership in the Securities Investor Protection Corporation, and has a tangible net worth equal to or greater than two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000).

D. "Custodied securities" means securities held by the custodian or its agent or in a clearing corporation, including the Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Equity Securities System (TRADES) or Treasury Direct systems.

E. "Tangible net worth" means shareholders equity, less intangible assets, as reported in the broker/dealer's most recent Annual or Transition Report pursuant to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (S.E.C. Form 10-K) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

F. "Treasury/Reserve Automated Debt Entry Securities System" ("TRADES") and "Treasury Direct" mean the book entry securities systems established pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 3100 et seq., 12 U.S.C. pt. 391 and 5 U.S.C. pt. 301. The operation of TRADES and Treasury Direct are subject to 31 C.F.R. pt. 357 et seq

G. "Security" has the same meaning as that defined in [Section 8-102(a)(15) of the Uniform Commercial Code].

H. "Securities' certificate" has the same meaning as that defined in [Section 8-102(a)(16) of the Uniform Commercial Code].

Section 2. Custody Agreement; Requirements

A. An insurance company may, by written agreement with a custodian, provide for the custody of its securities with that custodian. The securities that are the subject of the agreement may be held by the custodian or its agent or in a clearing corporation.

B. The agreement shall be in writing and shall be authorized by a resolution of the board of directors of the insurance company or of an authorized committee of the board. The terms of the agreement shall comply with the following:

(1) Securities' certificates held by the custodian shall be held separate from the securities' certificates of the custodian and of all of its other customers.

(2) Securities held indirectly by the custodian and securities in a clearing corporation shall be separately identified on the custodian's official records as being owned by the insurance company. The records shall identify which securities are held by the custodian or by its agent and which securities are in a clearing corporation. If the securities are in a clearing corporation, the records shall also identify where the securities are and if in a clearing corporation, the name of the clearing corporation and if through an agent, the name of the agent.

(3) All custodied securities that are registered shall be registered in the name of the company or in the name of a nominee of the company or in the name of the custodian or its nominee or, if in a clearing corporation, in the name of the clearing corporation or its nominee.

(4) Custodied securities shall be held subject to the instructions of the insurance company and shall be withdrawable upon the demand of the insurance company, except that custodied securities used to meet the deposit requirements set forth in Section [section of the state statute requiring deposit of securities as a condition of doing business] of this Insurance Law shall, to the extent required by that section, be under the control of the [appropriate insurance regulatory authority] and shall not be withdrawn by the insurance company without the approval of the [appropriate insurance regulatory authority].

(5) The custodian shall be required to send or cause to be sent to the insurance company a confirmation of all transfers of custodied securities to or from the account of the insurance company. In addition, the custodian shall be required to furnish no less than monthly the insurance company with reports of holdings of custodied securities at times and containing information reasonably requested by the insurance company. The custodian's trust committee's annual reports of its review of the insurer's trust accounts shall also be provided to the insurer. Reports and verifications may be transmitted in electronic or paper form.

Drafting Note: The annual reports referred to in this subsection may be referred to also as single audits, directors' examinations, internal reports or audits or other similar terms. This is intended to refer to an audit of an insurer's assets only and not to the custodian's assets. (The drafters suggest that a reference to 12 C.F.R. 9.8 and 12 C.F.R. 9.9 may be useful here also; however, such a reference is not intended to limit the scope of this subsection to reports required only by the Comptroller of the Currency.)

(6) During the course of the custodian's regular business hours, an officer or employee of the insurance company, an independent accountant selected by the insurance company and a representative of an appropriate regulatory body shall be entitled to examine, on the premises of the custodian, the custodian's records relating to custodied securities, but only upon furnishing the custodian with written instructions to that effect from an appropriate officer of the insurance company.

(7) The custodian and its agents shall be required to send to the insurance company:

(a) All reports which they receive from a clearing corporation on their respective systems of internal accounting control, and

(b) Reports prepared by outside auditors on the custodians or its agent's internal accounting control of custodied securities that the insurance company may reasonably request.

(8) The custodian shall maintain records sufficient to determine and verify information relating to custodied securities that may be reported in the insurance company's annual statement and supporting schedules and information required in an audit of the financial statements of the insurance company.

(9) The custodian shall provide, upon written request from an appropriate officer of the insurance company, the appropriate affidavits, substantially in the form attached to this regulation, with respect to custodied securities.

(10) A national bank, state bank, federal home loan bank or trust company shall secure and maintain insurance protection in an adequate amount covering the bank's or trust company's duties and activities as custodian for the insurer's assets, and shall state in the custody agreement that protection is in compliance with the requirements of the custodian's banking regulator. A broker/dealer shall secure and maintain insurance protection for each insurance company's custodied securities in excess of that provided by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation in an amount equal to or greater than the market value of each respective insurance company's custodied securities. The commissioner may determine whether the type of insurance is appropriate and the amount of coverage is adequate.

Drafting Note: The following subsections provide alternate standards of custodial liability. The standard in the first alternative is equivalent to that of a bailee for hire under New York law. The second alternative is more strict.

(11) The custodian shall be obligated to indemnify the insurance company for any loss of custodied securities, except that the custodian shall not be so obligated to the extent that the loss was caused by other than the negligence or dishonesty of the custodian.

(12) The custodian shall be obligated to indemnify the insurance company for any loss of custodied securities occasioned by the negligence or dishonesty of the custodian's officers or employees, or burglary, robbery, holdup, theft or mysterious disappearance, including loss by damage or destruction.]

(13) In the event that there is a loss of custodied securities for which the custodian shall be obligated to indemnify the insurance company as provided in Paragraph (11) above, the custodian shall promptly replace the securities or the value thereof and the value of any loss of rights or privileges resulting from the loss of securities.

(14) The agreement may provide that the custodian will not be liable for a failure to take an action required under the agreement in the event and to the extent that the taking of the action is prevented or delayed by war (whether declared or not and including existing wars), revolution, insurrection, riot, civil commotion, act of God, accident, fire, explosion, stoppage of labor, strikes or other differences with employees, laws, regulations, orders or other acts of any governmental authority, or any other cause whatever beyond its reasonable control.

(15) In the event that the custodian gains entry in a clearing corporation through an agent, there shall be an agreement between the custodian and the agent under which the agent shall be subject to the same liability for loss of custodied securities as the custodian. However, if the agent shall be subject to regulation under the laws of a jurisdiction that is different from the jurisdiction the laws of which regulate the custodian, the Commissioner of Insurance of the state of domicile of the insurance company may accept a standard of liability applicable to the agent that is different from the standard of liability applicable to the custodian.

(16) The custodian shall provide written notification to the insurer's domiciliary commissioner if the custodial agreement with the insurer has been terminated or if 100% of the account assets in any one custody account have been withdrawn. This notification shall be remitted to the insurance commissioner within three (3) business days of the receipt by the custodian of the insurer's written notice of termination or within three (3) business days of the withdrawal of 100% of the account assets.

Section 3. Deposit with Affiliates; Requirements

A. Nothing in this regulation shall prevent an insurance company from depositing securities with another insurance company with which the depositing insurance company is affiliated, provided that the securities are deposited pursuant to a written agreement authorized by the board of directors of the depositing insurance company or an authorized committee thereof and that the receiving insurance company is organized under the laws of one of the states of the United States of America or of the District of Columbia. If the respective states of domicile of the depositing and receiving insurance companies are not the same, the depositing insurance company shall have given notice of the deposit to the insurance commissioner in the state of its domicile and the insurance commissioner shall not have objected to it within thirty (30) days of the receipt of the notice.

B. The terms of the agreement shall comply with the following:

(1) The insurance company receiving the deposit shall maintain records adequate to identify and verify the securities belonging to the depositing insurance company.

(2) The receiving insurance company shall allow representatives of an appropriate regulatory body to examine records relating to securities held subject to the agreement.

(3) The depositing insurance company may authorize the receiving insurance company:

(a) To hold the securities of the depositing insurance company in bulk, in certificates issued in the name of the receiving insurance company or its nominee, and to commingle them with securities owned by other affiliates of the receiving insurance company, and

(b) To provide for the securities to be held by a custodian, including the custodian of securities of the receiving insurance company or in a clearing corporation.

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2008

MODEL ACT ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS (#295)

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS (#298)

1. Project Description

The FHLB Custodial Subgroup of the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force was created at the 2007 Summer National Meeting of the NAIC. This Subgroup was created to work on a charge given to the Task Force by the Financial Condition (E) Committee. The Subgroup was to consider the Federal Home Loan Banks' (FHLBanks) request to be included in the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations and provide a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee. This charge was prompted by a comment letter received from the FHLBanks dated February 16, 2007.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting the Regulation

The project to review the FHLBanks request was given to the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force and assigned to the FHLB Custodial Subgroup. The following states participated in the subgroup:

Kansas, Chair	Alabama
New York	Tennessee

3. Charge Authorizing the Project

The Financial Condition (E) Committee approved the following charge for the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force through an e-mail vote completed on April 30, 2007:

The Examination Oversight (E) Task Force shall consider the FHLB request to be included in the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations and provide its recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

4. General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

To begin reviewing the FHLBanks' request, the Subgroup had some questions about the FHLBanks' process to handle custodial assets and how that process is reviewed by its federal regulator. Initial questions were communicated to the FHLBanks in a memo dated July 26, 2007. The FHLBanks responded to the questions through their memo dated August 28, 2007. A conference call between the Subgroup and members of the FHLBanks was held September 5, 2007 to discuss the issues in greater detail. Finally, additional information was requested by the Subgroup through a memo dated September 24, 2007, and another response was received from the FHLB on November 30, 2007.

Through investigating answers to questions relating to the controls and regulation of custodial services offered by the FHLBanks, the Subgroup was able to reach a conclusion that the FHLBanks should be permitted to function as authorized custodians as outlined in the Model Act and Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations. After concluding that the FHLBanks should be allowed to function as authorized custodians, the Subgroup turned its attention to proposing revisions to the Model Act on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#295) and the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#298). Both of these models included language describing authorized custodians that would exclude the FHLBanks. However, based on a review of the NAIC's Model Law Development Framework, it was determined that changes to these models would not meet the criteria included in the framework. As such, the Subgroup determined that revisions should be made to the models and offered as guidelines to the states.

The Subgroup held a conference call on February 21, 2008, and conducted business via e-mail on March 7, 2008 to complete its work in proposing guideline revisions to the models. The guideline revisions were referred to the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force at its March 31, 2008, meeting. The Examination Oversight (E) Task Force exposed the proposed guideline revisions for a 45-day comment period during which no comments were received. On June 1, 2008, the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force adopted the proposed guideline changes to Model #295 and #298.

5. Discussion of Key Issues

The FHLB Custodial Subgroup conducted an in-depth review of the capital requirements, regulatory oversight and custodial controls and standards in place at the FHLBanks to reach a determination that the FHLBanks should be allowed to operate as authorized custodians of insurance company securities. As such, guideline revisions have been proposed to the Model Act on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#295) and the Model Regulation on Custodial Agreements and the Use of Clearing Corporations (#298) to allow the FHLBanks to meet the definition of an authorized custodian.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2004

MODEL ACT ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OFCLEARING CORPORATIONS (#295)

MODEL REGULATION ON CUSTODIAL AGREEMENTS AND THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS (#298)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

The Model Act to Permit the Use of Clearing Corporations and the Federal Book Entry System by Insurance Companies (the Model Act) and the Model Regulation on the Use of Clearing Corporations and Federal Book Entry by Insurance Companies (the Model Regulation) have been revised to permit the use of broker/dealers as custodian for insurance company assets. The titles of the Model Act and Model Regulation have also been revised to more clearly identify the items discussed in the models. The revised titles are the Model Act on the Use of Custodial Agreements and Clearing Corporations and the Model Regulation on the Use of Custodial Agreements and Clearing Corporations.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Custodial Assets Working Group of the Financial Condition (E) Committee originally developed and adopted this revision. The working group includes: New York (Chair), Arkansas, Iowa, Oregon, and Texas.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The 2004 charge of the working group is, "The Custodial Assets Working group will revise the appropriate model laws, acts and handbook guidance to allow broker/dealers that meet certain standards to be authorized NAIC custodians for insurance company investments."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

The drafting process was open as the Custodial Assets Working Group solicited comments from all interested parties, including interested regulators and industry representatives. At the 2003 Fall National Meeting, the Financial Condition (E) Committee voted to allow broker/dealers to act as custodians for insurance company assets. At that time, the Committee instructed the Custodial Assets Working Group to develop revisions to the applicable models. The revisions to the Model Act and Model Regulation were first discussed during an open conference call of the working group on November 19, 2003. At that time, the working group voted to expose the proposed revisions for comment. The revisions to the Model Act and Model Regulation were adopted during an open conference call of the working group on February 26, 2004.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

The working group received comment letters from interested parties on whether broker dealers should be allowed to act as custodians for insurance companies. Comments were discussed in open forum at the Fall 2002, Winter 2002, and Spring 2003 National Meetings. The revisions to the models were exposed for a public comment for a sixty-day period. The working group discussed comments received in an open forum.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response)

One significant issue was discussed by the working group and interested parties. One of the comment letters received discussed concern that the proposed revisions did not require broker/dealers to provide insurance coverage in excess of that provided by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). After some discussion, the working group voted to require that broker/dealers acting as custodians for insurance company assets hold insurance coverage in excess to that provided by SIPC in an amount equal to or greater than the largest, single insurance company customer deposit.

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard)

On January 1, 2003, the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee exposed for a two-year period the Model Act and Model Regulation as possible accreditation standards. If the revisions to the Model Act and Model Regulation are adopted by the NAIC membership, the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee will review the revised Model Act and Model Regulation for further consideration. In addition, the working group will send a referral to the Financial Examiners Handbook Technical Group to consider applicable revisions to the NAIC Financial Condition Examiners Handbook.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2001

MODEL REGULATION ON THE USE OF CLEARING CORPORATIONS AND FEDERAL RESERVE BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM BY INSURANCE COMPANIES (#298)

1. Project Description

The Financial Examiners Handbook Technical Group was charged with modifying the Model Regulation on the Use of Clearing Corporations and Federal Reserve Book-Entry System by Insurance Companies (Model Law) to require a notice of termination by the custodian to the insurance department in the event an insurer withdraws a significant percentage of the assets in custody.

2. Group Responsible for the Report

The project was assigned to the Financial Examiners Handbook Technical Group. The members of the technical group at that time were: Ramon Calderon (CA), Chair; Thomas Burke (NH); John Coleman (DC); Karen Mitchell (NJ); David Delbiondo (PA); Leman McLean (MN); James Gorman (CT); Neeraj Gupta (OR); Bill Hosea (TN); Dave Krumm (NE); Peter Medley (WI); Darryl Reese (DE); William Rossback (OH); Danny Saenz (TX); Lester Schott (MD); Ken Skiera (IL); and Robert Stanfield (NC).

3. Charge Authorizing the Project

In 1999, the Ad Hoc Task Force on Solvency and Anti-Fraud (Task Force) was established to gather input on possible improvements to regulatory programs and practices as a result of the alleged fraud scheme involving Martin Frankel and a number of insurance companies. The final report of the Task Force outlined various initiatives to strengthen current financial solvency tools. From this report the Task Force requested that the Model Regulation on the Use of Clearing Corporations and Federal Reserve Book-Entry System by Insurance Companies be reviewed. The Task Force referred this charge to the Financial Condition (E) Committee as a level-one recommendation in June 2000. The Financial Condition (E) Committee then referred this charge to the Financial Examiners Handbook Technical Group for completion.

4. General Description of the Drafting Process and Discussion of Key Issues

A draft of revisions to the Model Law was prepared on December 5, 2000, by NAIC Staff. The technical group exposed those amendments for comments from interested parties for a period of sixty days after the NAIC 2000 Winter National Meeting. The technical group reviewed the interested party comments and adopted additional amendments during a closed conference call on March 21, 2001. These amendments were then exposed for comments from interested parties for an additional forty-five days. The Model Law amendments were adopted on June 11, 2001, during the NAIC Summer National Meeting. Additional insignificant amendments were made at this time, but further exposure was not deemed necessary. The adopted amendments require written notification to the insurer's domiciliary commissioner if the custodial agreement with the insurer has been terminated or if 100% of the account assets in any one custody account have been withdrawn. The notification is required to be remitted within three business days of the receipt by the custodian of the insurer's written notice of termination or within three business days of the withdrawal of 100% of the account assets.

The Model Law was presented and adopted by the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force at the NAIC 2001 Summer National Meeting.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Purpose and Scope

A. The purpose of this Act is to:

(1) Provide the Insurance Commissioner a summary of an insurer or insurance group's corporate governance structure, policies and practices to permit the Commissioner to gain and maintain an understanding of the insurer's corporate governance framework.

(2) Outline the requirements for completing a corporate governance annual disclosure with the Insurance Commissioner.

(3) Provide for the confidential treatment of the corporate governance annual disclosure and related information that will contain confidential and sensitive information related to an insurer or insurance group's internal operations and proprietary and trade secret information which, if made public, could potentially cause the insurer or insurance group competitive harm or disadvantage.

B. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prescribe or impose corporate governance standards and internal procedures beyond that which is required under applicable state corporate law. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this act shall be construed to limit the Commissioner's authority, or the rights or obligations of third parties, under [INSERT EXAMINATION CITATION]

C. The requirements of this Act shall apply to all insurers domiciled in this state.

Drafting Note: The requirements of this Act are intended to apply to all commercial risk bearing entities subject to oversight by state insurance departments. Therefore, modifications may be necessary to ensure that all entities intended to be subject to the Act, but not meeting the state's legal definition of "insurer," are appropriately referenced.

Section 2. Definitions

A. "Commissioner." The Insurance Commissioner of the State.

B. "Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure (CGAD)." A Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure shall mean a confidential report filed by the insurer or insurance group made in accordance with the requirements of this Act.

C. "Insurance group." For the purpose of this Act, the term "insurance group" shall mean those insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system as defined in [insert state law equivalent to the model Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act.]

D. "Insurer." The term "insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in Section [insert applicable section] of this Chapter, except that it shall not include agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

E. "ORSA Summary Report." The term "ORSA Summary Report" shall mean the report filed in accordance with [insert applicable statutory reference to the Risk Management and Own Risk and Solvency Assessment Model Act.]

Section 3. Disclosure Requirement

A. An insurer, or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, shall, no later than June 1 of each calendar year, submit to the Commissioner a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure (CGAD) that contains the information described in Section 5B below. Notwithstanding any request from the Commissioner made pursuant to Subsection C, if the insurer is a member of an insurance group, the insurer shall submit the report required by this Section to the Commissioner of the lead state for the insurance group, in accordance with the laws of the lead state, as determined by the procedures outlined in the most recent Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the NAIC.

B. The CGAD must include a signature of the insurer or insurance group's chief executive officer or corporate secretary attesting to the best of that individual's belief and knowledge that the insurer has implemented the corporate governance practices and that a copy of the disclosure has been provided to the insurer's board of directors or the appropriate committee thereof.

C. An insurer not required to submit a CGAD under this section shall do so upon the Commissioner's request.

D. For purposes of completing the CGAD, the insurer or insurance group may provide information regarding corporate governance at the ultimate controlling parent level, an intermediate holding company level and/or the individual legal entity level, depending upon how the insurer or insurance group has structured its system of corporate governance. The insurer or insurance group is encouraged to make the CGAD disclosures at the level at which the insurer's or insurance group's risk appetite is determined, or at which the earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer are overseen collectively and at which the supervision of those factors are coordinated and exercised, or the level at which legal liability for failure of general corporate governance duties would be placed. If the insurer or insurance group determines the level of reporting based on these criteria, it shall indicate which of the three criteria was used to determine the level of reporting and explain any subsequent changes in level of reporting.

E. The review of the CGAD and any additional requests for information shall be made through the lead state as determined by the procedures within the most recent Financial Analysis Handbook referenced in Paragraph A of this section.

F. Insurers providing information substantially similar to the information required by this Act in other documents provided to the Commissioner, including proxy statements filed in conjunction with Form B requirements, or other state or federal filings provided to this Department shall not be required to duplicate that information in the CGAD, but shall only be required to cross reference the document in which the information is included.

Section 4. Rules and Regulations

The Commissioner may, upon notice and opportunity for all interested persons to be heard, issue such rules, regulations and orders as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Section 5. Contents of Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure

A. The insurer or insurance group shall have discretion over the responses to the CGAD inquiries, provided the CGAD shall contain the material information necessary to permit the Commissioner to gain an understanding of the insurer's or group's corporate governance structure, policies, and practices. The Commissioner may request additional information that he or she deems material and necessary to provide the Commissioner with a clear understanding of the corporate governance policies, the reporting or information system or controls implementing those policies.

B. Notwithstanding Subsection A of this section, the CGAD shall be prepared consistent with the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Regulation [INSERT CITATION]. Documentation and supporting information shall be maintained and made available upon examination or upon request of the Commissioner.

Section 6. Confidentiality

A. Documents, materials or other information including the CGAD, in the possession or control of the Department of Insurance that are obtained by, created by or disclosed to the Commissioner or any other person under this Act, are recognized by this state as being proprietary and to contain trade secrets. All such documents, materials or other information shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the Commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the Commissioner's official duties. The Commissioner shall not otherwise make the documents, materials or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require written consent of the insurer before the Commissioner may share or receive confidential documents, materials or other CGAD-related information pursuant to Subsection C below to assist in the performance of the Commissioner's regular duties.

Drafting Note: States should consider whether to specifically invoke their examination statute as applicable additional confidentiality protection for documents submitted pursuant to this Model Act.

B. Neither the Commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other CGAD-related information, through examination or otherwise, while acting under the authority of the Commissioner, or with whom such documents, materials or other information are shared pursuant to this Act shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the Commissioner's regulatory duties, the Commissioner:

(1) May, upon request, share documents, materials or other CGAD-related information including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A, including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials with other state, federal and international financial regulatory agencies, including members of any supervisory college as defined in the [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act, as amended], with the NAIC, and with third party consultants pursuant to Section 7, provided that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the CGAD-related documents, material or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality; and

(2) May receive documents, materials or other CGAD-related information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, including proprietary and trade-secret information or documents, from regulatory officials of other state, federal and international financial regulatory agencies, including members of any supervisory college as defined in the [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act, as amended], and from the NAIC, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any documents, materials or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information.

D. The sharing of information and documents by the Commissioner pursuant to this Act shall not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the Commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution and enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

E. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, proprietary and trade-secret materials or other CGAD-related information shall occur as a result of disclosure of such CGAD-related information or documents to the Commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in this Act.

Section 7. NAIC and Third-party Consultants

A. The Commissioner may retain, at the insurer's expense, third-party consultants, including attorneys, actuaries, accountants and other experts not otherwise a part of the Commissioner's staff as may be reasonably necessary to assist the Commissioner in reviewing the CGAD and related information or the insurer's compliance with this Act.

B. Any persons retained under Subsection A shall be under the direction and control of the Commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

C. The NAIC and third-party consultants shall be subject to the same confidentiality standards and requirements as the Commissioner.

D. As part of the retention process, a third-party consultant shall verify to the Commissioner, with notice to the insurer, that it is free of a conflict of interest and that it has internal procedures in place to monitor compliance with a conflict and to comply with the confidentiality standards and requirements of this Act.

E. A written agreement with the NAIC and/or a third-party consultant governing sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this Act shall contain the following provisions and expressly require the written consent of the insurer prior to making public information provided under this Act:

(1) Specific procedures and protocols for maintaining the confidentiality and security of CGAD-related information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Act.

(2) Procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC only with other state regulators from states in which the insurance group has domiciled insurers. The agreement shall provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the CGAD-related documents, materials or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(3) A provision specifying that ownership of the CGAD-related information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant remains with the Department of Insurance and the NAIC's or third-party consultant's use of the information is subject to the direction of the Commissioner;

(4) A provision that prohibits the NAIC or a third-party consultant from storing the information shared pursuant to this Act in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is completed;

(5) A provision requiring the NAIC or third-party consultant to provide prompt notice to the Commissioner and to the insurer or insurance group regarding any subpoena, request for disclosure, or request for production of the insurer's CGAD-related information; and

(6) A requirement that the NAIC or a third-party consultant to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Act.

Section 8. Sanctions

Any insurer failing, without just cause, to timely file the CGAD as required in this Act shall be required, after notice and hearing, to pay a penalty of $[insert amount] for each day's delay, to be recovered by the Commissioner and the penalty so recovered shall be paid into the General Revenue Fund of this state. The maximum penalty under this section is $[insert amount]. The Commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the Commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

Section 9. Severability Clause

If any provision of this Act other than Section 6, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such determination shall not affect the provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to that end the provisions of this Act, with the exception of Section 6, are severable.

Section 10. Effective Date

The requirements of this Act shall become effective on January 1, 2016. The first filing of the CGAD shall be in 2016.

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2014

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL ACT (#305)

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL REGULATION (#306)

1. Project Description

In light of the 2008 financial crisis, growing regulatory needs and various international developments, U.S. insurance regulators, working together through the NAIC, concluded that a greater regulatory focus on corporate governance was necessary and formed the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group in September 2009 to address these matters. The Working Group received a charge to outline high-level corporate governance principles for use in U.S. insurance regulation. To do so, the Working Group analyzed the existing statutory requirements, regulatory initiatives and review practices of the state insurance departments, international supervisors, other U.S. functional regulators and the insurance industry. The Working Group was also asked to determine the appropriate method to ensure adherence with such principles, giving due consideration to development of a model law and to development of additional regulatory guidance, including detailed best practices for the corporate governance of insurers.

In completing work on this charge, the Working Group developed a summary of existing corporate governance requirements found within NAIC/insurance-specific sources and within more general, broadly based sources. The goal was to identify potential changes in the existing insurance regulatory structure that could be affected through the NAIC Solvency Modernization Initiative. The Working Group then compared those existing U.S. requirements to regulatory needs, best practices and principles outlined in the Insurance Core Principles adopted by the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS). The results of this comparative analysis indicated a need to collect additional information from insurers regarding corporate governance practices on an annual basis, to facilitate the review and assessment of this information through the solvency-monitoring process.

The Working Group investigated several options for collecting confidential information from insurers on corporate governance practices before proceeding with the development of the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act (Model Act) authorizing the collection and protection of governance information. In addition to the Model Act, the Working Group identified a need to develop a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Regulation (Model Regulation) outlining the detailed disclosure requirements.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting the Model Act and Regulation

The project to develop the Model Act and Model Regulation was given to the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group. The Working Group created a Drafting (E) Subgroup to develop an initial draft of the Model Act for the Working Group to consider, which was originally supported by a draft guidance manual. Members of the Subgroup included Vermont (chair), California, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. After the initial draft was developed by the Subgroup, it was later reviewed and revised by the full Working Group, whose members included Vermont (chair), New York (vice chair), Alabama, California, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Indiana, Louisiana, Missouri, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Washington.

3. Charge Authorizing the Project

On April 8, 2013, the Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted a request for model law development to develop the Model Act. The Executive (EX) Committee adopted this request July 26, 2013. The Financial Condition (E) Committee delegated the assignment of developing the Model Act to the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group, and drafting work began soon after the 2013 Summer National Meeting.

4. General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

- During September and October 2013, the Drafting (E) Subgroup met via conference call in regulator-to-regulator session to develop an initial draft of the Model Act, supported by a guidance manual.
- After finalizing an initial draft of the Model Act and guidance manual, the Subgroup referred the draft to the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group for its review on a Nov. 8, 2013, conference call.

- The Working Group discussed the draft on its Nov. 8, 2013, conference call and received verbal comments from interested parties. Interested parties voiced objections to the use of a guidance manual to house the filing instructions. Based on the discussions held, the Working Group agreed to develop modifications to the Model Act and the guidance manual before exposing the drafts for public comment.
- Updated drafts of the Model Act and guidance manual were presented to the Working Group at its Dec. 16, 2013, meeting at the 2013 Fall National Meeting. The updated draft of the guidance manual limited its purpose, restricted the frequency with which changes could be made and prohibited the addition of new sections to the guidance manual without updating the Model Act. The drafts of the Model Act and guidance manual were then exposed for a 45-day public comment period ending Jan. 31, 2014.
- At the conclusion of the public comment period, a number of comment letters were received, including additional objections from interested parties regarding the use of a guidance manual to house the annual filing instructions.
- In February 2014, the Working Group instructed NAIC staff to develop a draft Model Regulation to house the annual filing requirements in lieu of the guidance manual.
- A Model Regulation housing annual disclosure instructions was presented to the Working Group for review during its March 6, 2014, conference call. The Model Regulation was then exposed for a 45-day public comment period ending April 21, 2014.
- The Model Act was then revised to refer to the Model Regulation, which led to discussions at the Working Group's March 30, 2014, meeting at the 2014 Spring National Meeting and a brief exposure of the updated Model Act for a public comment period ending April 21, 2014.
- Comment letters were received on both the Model Act and the Model Regulation, which were discussed on conference calls held June 19 and July 1, 2014. Much of the discussion related to the confidentiality language included in the Model Act, which was finalized on these calls.
- The Model Act and Model Regulation were adopted by the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group Aug. 17, 2014. The Model Act and Model Regulation were adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee Aug. 18, 2014.

5. Discussion of Key Issues

A number of key issues were raised during the development of the Model Act and Model Regulation. These issues included confidentiality protection for the governance information to be disclosed, the level at which the disclosure should be completed, the contents of the annual disclosure, the placement of disclosure instructions and the removal of potential redundancies in other areas of insurance regulation created by the disclosure.

As demonstrated above, the most significant debate in developing both models revolved around the placement of instructions for the annual disclosure. Initially, regulators proposed the use of a guidance manual to house instructions that would ensure consistency across the states and to allow the ability to make modifications when necessary to address new and emerging corporate governance issues. Interested parties objected on the grounds that a guidance manual could allow for frequent and significant changes to the disclosure requirements without such changes being subject to sufficient due process. Ultimately, regulators and interested parties agreed to compromise by presenting the disclosure instructions in the Model Regulation supporting the Model Act.

Together, the Model Act and Model Regulation require an insurer (or group of insurers) to provide a confidential disclosure regarding its corporate governance practices to the lead state and/or domestic regulator annually by June 1. The insurer (or group of insurers) may choose to provide information on governance activities that occur at the ultimate controlling parent level, an intermediate holding company level and/or the individual legal entity level, based on its determination of the level at which decisions are made, oversight is provided and governance accountability is assessed in relation to the insurance activities of the insurer.

The insurer has discretion regarding the appropriate format for providing the information and is permitted to customize the communication to provide the most relevant information necessary to permit the domiciliary commissioner to gain an understanding of the corporate governance structure, policies and practices utilized by the insurer. However, at a minimum, the disclosure is required to address:

- The insurer's corporate governance framework and structure;
- The policies and practices of its board of directors and significant committees;
- The policies and practices directing senior management; and
- The processes by which the board of directors, its committees and senior management ensure an appropriate level of oversight to the critical risk areas impacting the insurer's business activities.

In completing the annual disclosure, the insurer may reference other existing documents (e.g., the Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA) Summary Report, holding company Form B or Form F filings, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) proxy statements, foreign regulatory reporting requirements, etc.) to the regulator in fulfillment of the information requested in various areas.

All information provided in the annual disclosure is recognized as being proprietary to the insurer and containing trade secrets. Therefore, confidentiality language was included in the Model Act stating that all such information is deemed confidential by law and privileged, is not subject to subpoena and is not subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the domiciliary commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

Some state insurance regulators expressed concern that the confidentiality language included in the Model Act (i.e., the ability to restrict discovery from the insurer) is overly broad and extends beyond the authority typically granted to the insurance department. However, the Working Group noted that the same confidentiality language has been included in multiple NAIC models and the industry argued strongly on its behalf. Therefore, the Working Group agreed to keep the standard wording in the Model Act, but recognized the fact that individual states may have to modify the confidentiality language, if necessary, in the process of adopting the Model Act.

The requirements of the Model Act and Model Regulation are intended to be effective Jan. 1, 2016. The first annual disclosure is scheduled to be due by June 1, 2016.

No other items identified at this time.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL REGULATION

Table of Contents

Section 1. Authority

These regulations are promulgated pursuant to the authority granted by Sections [insert applicable sections] and [insert applicable section] of the Insurance Law.

Section 2. Purpose

The purpose of these regulations is to set forth the procedures for filing and the required contents of the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure (CGAD), deemed necessary by the [Commissioner] to carry out the provisions of [insert reference to Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act].

Section 3. Definitions.

A. "Commissioner." The Insurance Commissioner of the State.

B. "Insurance group." For the purpose of this Act, the term "insurance group" shall mean those insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system as defined in [insert state law equivalent to the model Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act.]

C. "Insurer." The term "insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in Section [insert applicable section] of this Chapter, except that it shall not include agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

D. "Senior Management." The term "senior management" shall mean any corporate officer responsible for reporting information to the board of directors at regular intervals or providing this information to shareholders or regulators and shall include, for example and without limitation, the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), Chief Financial Officer ("CFO"), Chief Operations Officer ("COO"), Chief Procurement Officer ("CPO"), Chief Legal Officer ("CLO"), Chief Information Officer ("CIO"), Chief Technology Officer ("CTO"), Chief Revenue Officer ("CRO"), Chief Visionary Officer ("CVO"), or any other "C" level executive.

Section 4. Filing Procedures

A. An insurer, or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, required to file a CGAD by the [insert reference to Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act], shall, no later than June 1 of each calendar year, submit to the Commissioner a CGAD that contains the information described in Section 5 of these regulations.

B. The CGAD must include a signature of the insurer's or insurance group's chief executive officer or corporate secretary attesting to the best of that individual's belief and knowledge that the insurer or insurance group has implemented the corporate governance practices and that a copy of the CGAD has been provided to the insurer's or insurance group's Board of Directors (hereafter "Board") or the appropriate committee thereof.

C. The insurer or insurance group shall have discretion regarding the appropriate format for providing the information required by these regulations and is permitted to customize the CGAD to provide the most relevant information necessary to permit the Commissioner to gain an understanding of the corporate governance structure, policies and practices utilized by the insurer or insurance group.

D. For purposes of completing the CGAD, the insurer or insurance group may choose to provide information on governance activities that occur at the ultimate controlling parent level, an intermediate holding company level and/or the individual legal entity level, depending upon how the insurer or insurance group has structured its system of corporate governance. The insurer or insurance group is encouraged to make the CGAD disclosures at the level at which the insurer's or insurance group's risk appetite is determined, or at which the earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer are overseen collectively and at which the supervision of those factors are coordinated and exercised, or the level at which legal liability for failure of general corporate governance duties would be placed. If the insurer or insurance group determines the level of reporting based on these criteria, it shall indicate which of the three criteria was used to determine the level of reporting and explain any subsequent changes in level of reporting.

E. Notwithstanding Subsection A of this Section, and as outlined in Section 3 of the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act, if the CGAD is completed at the insurance group level, then it must be filed with the lead state of the group as determined by the procedures outlined in the most recent Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the NAIC. In these instances, a copy of the CGAD must also be provided to the chief regulatory official of any state in which the insurance group has a domestic insurer, upon request.

F. An insurer or insurance group may comply with this section by referencing other existing documents (e.g., ORSA Summary Report, Holding Company Form B or F Filings, Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Proxy Statements, foreign regulatory reporting requirements, etc.) if the documents provide information that is comparable to the information described in Section 5. The insurer or insurance group shall clearly reference the location of the relevant information within the CGAD and attach the referenced document if it is not already filed or available to the regulator.

G. Each year following the initial filing of the CGAD, the insurer or insurance group shall file an amended version of the previously filed CGAD indicating where changes have been made. If no changes were made in the information or activities reported by the insurer or insurance group, the filing should so state.

Section 5. Contents of Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure

A. The insurer or insurance group shall be as descriptive as possible in completing the CGAD, with inclusion of attachments or example documents that are used in the governance process, since these may provide a means to demonstrate the strengths of their governance framework and practices.

B. The CGAD shall describe the insurer's or insurance group's corporate governance framework and structure including consideration of the following.

(1) The Board and various committees thereof ultimately responsible for overseeing the insurer or insurance group and the level(s) at which that oversight occurs (e.g., ultimate control level, intermediate holding company, legal entity, etc.). The insurer or insurance group shall describe and discuss the rationale for the current Board size and structure; and

(2) The duties of the Board and each of its significant committees and how they are governed (e.g., bylaws, charters, informal mandates, etc.), as well as how the Board's leadership is structured, including a discussion of the roles of Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and Chairman of the Board within the organization.

C. The insurer or insurance group shall describe the policies and practices of the most senior governing entity and significant committees thereof, including a discussion of the following factors:

(1) How the qualifications, expertise and experience of each Board member meet the needs of the insurer or insurance group.

(2) How an appropriate amount of independence is maintained on the Board and its significant committees.

(3) The number of meetings held by the Board and its significant committees over the past year as well as information on director attendance.

(4) How the insurer or insurance group identifies, nominates and elects members to the Board and its committees. The discussion should include, for example:

(a) Whether a nomination committee is in place to identify and select individuals for consideration.

(b) Whether term limits are placed on directors.

(c) How the election and re-election processes function.

(d) Whether a Board diversity policy is in place and if so, how it functions.

(5) The processes in place for the Board to evaluate its performance and the performance of its committees, as well as any recent measures taken to improve performance (including any Board or committee training programs that have been put in place).

D. The insurer or insurance group shall describe the policies and practices for directing Senior Management, including a description of the following factors:

(1) Any processes or practices (i.e., suitability standards) to determine whether officers and key persons in control functions have the appropriate background, experience and integrity to fulfill their prospective roles, including:

(a) Identification of the specific positions for which suitability standards have been developed and a description of the standards employed.

(b) Any changes in an officer's or key person's suitability as outlined by the insurer's or insurance group's standards and procedures to monitor and evaluate such changes.

(2) The insurer's or insurance group's code of business conduct and ethics, the discussion of which considers, for example:

(a) Compliance with laws, rules, and regulations; and

(b) Proactive reporting of any illegal or unethical behavior.

(3) The insurer's or insurance group's processes for performance evaluation, compensation and corrective action to ensure effective senior management throughout the organization, including a description of the general objectives of significant compensation programs and what the programs are designed to reward. The description shall include sufficient detail to allow the Commissioner to understand how the organization ensures that compensation programs do not encourage and/or reward excessive risk taking. Elements to be discussed may include, for example:

(a) The Board's role in overseeing management compensation programs and practices.

(b) The various elements of compensation awarded in the insurer's or insurance group's compensation programs and how the insurer or insurance group determines and calculates the amount of each element of compensation paid;

(c) How compensation programs are related to both company and individual performance over time;

(d) Whether compensation programs include risk adjustments and how those adjustments are incorporated into the programs for employees at different levels;

(e) Any clawback provisions built into the programs to recover awards or payments if the performance measures upon which they are based are restated or otherwise adjusted;

(f) Any other factors relevant in understanding how the insurer or insurance group monitors its compensation policies to determine whether its risk management objectives are met by incentivizing its employees.

(4) The insurer's or insurance group's plans for CEO and Senior Management succession.

E. The insurer or insurance group shall describe the processes by which the Board, its committees and Senior Management ensure an appropriate amount of oversight to the critical risk areas impacting the insurer's business activities, including a discussion of:

(1) How oversight and management responsibilities are delegated between the Board, its committees and Senior Management;

(2) How the Board is kept informed of the insurer's strategic plans, the associated risks, and steps that Senior Management is taking to monitor and manage those risks;

(3) How reporting responsibilities are organized for each critical risk area. The description should allow the Commissioner to understand the frequency at which information on each critical risk area is reported to and reviewed by Senior Management and the Board. This description may include, for example, the following critical risk areas of the insurer:

(a) Risk management processes (An ORSA Summary Report filer may refer to its ORSA Summary Report pursuant to the Risk Management and Own Risk and Solvency Assessment Model Act);

(b) Actuarial function;

(c) Investment decision-making processes;

(d) Reinsurance decision-making processes;

(e) Business strategy/finance decision-making processes;

(f) Compliance function;

(g) Financial reporting/internal auditing; and

(h) Market conduct decision-making processes.

Section 6. Severability Clause

If any provision of these regulations, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such determination shall not affect other provisions or applications of these regulations which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to that end the provisions of these regulations are severable.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL REGULATION

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2014

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL ACT (#305)

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE MODEL REGULATION (#306)

1. Project Description

In light of the 2008 financial crisis, growing regulatory needs and various international developments, U.S. insurance regulators, working together through the NAIC, concluded that a greater regulatory focus on corporate governance was necessary and formed the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group in September 2009 to address these matters. The Working Group received a charge to outline high-level corporate governance principles for use in U.S. insurance regulation. To do so, the Working Group analyzed the existing statutory requirements, regulatory initiatives and review practices of the state insurance departments, international supervisors, other U.S. functional regulators and the insurance industry. The Working Group was also asked to determine the appropriate method to ensure adherence with such principles, giving due consideration to development of a model law and to development of additional regulatory guidance, including detailed best practices for the corporate governance of insurers.

In completing work on this charge, the Working Group developed a summary of existing corporate governance requirements found within NAIC/insurance-specific sources and within more general, broadly based sources. The goal was to identify potential changes in the existing insurance regulatory structure that could be affected through the NAIC Solvency Modernization Initiative. The Working Group then compared those existing U.S. requirements to regulatory needs, best practices and principles outlined in the Insurance Core Principles adopted by the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS). The results of this comparative analysis indicated a need to collect additional information from insurers regarding corporate governance practices on an annual basis, to facilitate the review and assessment of this information through the solvency-monitoring process.

The Working Group investigated several options for collecting confidential information from insurers on corporate governance practices before proceeding with the development of the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act (Model Act) authorizing the collection and protection of governance information. In addition to the Model Act, the Working Group identified a need to develop a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Regulation (Model Regulation) outlining the detailed disclosure requirements.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting the Model Act and Regulation

The project to develop the Model Act and Model Regulation was given to the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group. The Working Group created a Drafting (E) Subgroup to develop an initial draft of the Model Act for the Working Group to consider, which was originally supported by a draft guidance manual. Members of the Subgroup included Vermont (chair), California, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. After the initial draft was developed by the Subgroup, it was later reviewed and revised by the full Working Group, whose members included Vermont (chair), New York (vice chair), Alabama, California, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Indiana, Louisiana, Missouri, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Washington.

3. Charge Authorizing the Project

On April 8, 2013, the Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted a request for model law development to develop the Model Act. The Executive (EX) Committee adopted this request July 26, 2013. The Financial Condition (E) Committee delegated the assignment of developing the Model Act to the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group, and drafting work began soon after the 2013 Summer National Meeting.

4. General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

- During September and October 2013, the Drafting (E) Subgroup met via conference call in regulator-to-regulator session to develop an initial draft of the Model Act, supported by a guidance manual.
- After finalizing an initial draft of the Model Act and guidance manual, the Subgroup referred the draft to the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group for its review on a Nov. 8, 2013, conference call.

- The Working Group discussed the draft on its Nov. 8, 2013, conference call and received verbal comments from interested parties. Interested parties voiced objections to the use of a guidance manual to house the filing instructions. Based on the discussions held, the Working Group agreed to develop modifications to the Model Act and the guidance manual before exposing the drafts for public comment.
- Updated drafts of the Model Act and guidance manual were presented to the Working Group at its Dec. 16, 2013, meeting at the 2013 Fall National Meeting. The updated draft of the guidance manual limited its purpose, restricted the frequency with which changes could be made and prohibited the addition of new sections to the guidance manual without updating the Model Act. The drafts of the Model Act and guidance manual were then exposed for a 45-day public comment period ending Jan. 31, 2014.
- At the conclusion of the public comment period, a number of comment letters were received, including additional objections from interested parties regarding the use of a guidance manual to house the annual filing instructions.
- In February 2014, the Working Group instructed NAIC staff to develop a draft Model Regulation to house the annual filing requirements in lieu of the guidance manual.
- A Model Regulation housing annual disclosure instructions was presented to the Working Group for review during its March 6, 2014, conference call. The Model Regulation was then exposed for a 45-day public comment period ending April 21, 2014.
- The Model Act was then revised to refer to the Model Regulation, which led to discussions at the Working Group's March 30, 2014, meeting at the 2014 Spring National Meeting and a brief exposure of the updated Model Act for a public comment period ending April 21, 2014.
- Comment letters were received on both the Model Act and the Model Regulation, which were discussed on conference calls held June 19 and July 1, 2014. Much of the discussion related to the confidentiality language included in the Model Act, which was finalized on these calls.
- The Model Act and Model Regulation were adopted by the Corporate Governance (E) Working Group Aug. 17, 2014. The Model Act and Model Regulation were adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee Aug. 18, 2014.

5. Discussion of Key Issues

A number of key issues were raised during the development of the Model Act and Model Regulation. These issues included confidentiality protection for the governance information to be disclosed, the level at which the disclosure should be completed, the contents of the annual disclosure, the placement of disclosure instructions and the removal of potential redundancies in other areas of insurance regulation created by the disclosure.

As demonstrated above, the most significant debate in developing both models revolved around the placement of instructions for the annual disclosure. Initially, regulators proposed the use of a guidance manual to house instructions that would ensure consistency across the states and to allow the ability to make modifications when necessary to address new and emerging corporate governance issues. Interested parties objected on the grounds that a guidance manual could allow for frequent and significant changes to the disclosure requirements without such changes being subject to sufficient due process. Ultimately, regulators and interested parties agreed to compromise by presenting the disclosure instructions in the Model Regulation supporting the Model Act.

Together, the Model Act and Model Regulation require an insurer (or group of insurers) to provide a confidential disclosure regarding its corporate governance practices to the lead state and/or domestic regulator annually by June 1. The insurer (or group of insurers) may choose to provide information on governance activities that occur at the ultimate controlling parent level, an intermediate holding company level and/or the individual legal entity level, based on its determination of the level at which decisions are made, oversight is provided and governance accountability is assessed in relation to the insurance activities of the insurer.

The insurer has discretion regarding the appropriate format for providing the information and is permitted to customize the communication to provide the most relevant information necessary to permit the domiciliary commissioner to gain an understanding of the corporate governance structure, policies and practices utilized by the insurer. However, at a minimum, the disclosure is required to address:

- The insurer's corporate governance framework and structure;
- The policies and practices of its board of directors and significant committees;
- The policies and practices directing senior management; and
- The processes by which the board of directors, its committees and senior management ensure an appropriate level of oversight to the critical risk areas impacting the insurer's business activities.

In completing the annual disclosure, the insurer may reference other existing documents (e.g., the Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA) Summary Report, holding company Form B or Form F filings, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) proxy statements, foreign regulatory reporting requirements, etc.) to the regulator in fulfillment of the information requested in various areas.

All information provided in the annual disclosure is recognized as being proprietary to the insurer and containing trade secrets. Therefore, confidentiality language was included in the Model Act stating that all such information is deemed confidential by law and privileged, is not subject to subpoena and is not subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the domiciliary commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

Some state insurance regulators expressed concern that the confidentiality language included in the Model Act (i.e., the ability to restrict discovery from the insurer) is overly broad and extends beyond the authority typically granted to the insurance department. However, the Working Group noted that the same confidentiality language has been included in multiple NAIC models and the industry argued strongly on its behalf. Therefore, the Working Group agreed to keep the standard wording in the Model Act, but recognized the fact that individual states may have to modify the confidentiality language, if necessary, in the process of adopting the Model Act.

The requirements of the Model Act and Model Regulation are intended to be effective Jan. 1, 2016. The first annual disclosure is scheduled to be due by June 1, 2016.

RISK-BASED CAPITAL (RBC) FOR INSURERS MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Definitions

As used in this Act, these terms shall have the following meanings:

A. "Adjusted RBC Report" means an RBC report which has been adjusted by the commissioner in accordance with Section 2E.

B. "Corrective order" means an order issued by the commissioner specifying corrective actions which the commissioner has determined are required.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

C. "Domestic insurer" means any insurance company domiciled in this state.

D. "Foreign insurer" means any insurance company which is licensed to do business in this State under [cite appropriate statute] but is not domiciled in this State.

Drafting Note: The drafting committee does not recommend application of the risk-based capital model act to any insurance company organized under the laws of any state of the United States if such company (1) has a provision in its certificate of incorporation (or like corporate instrument) prohibiting the doing of insurance business with persons or entities which are citizens or residents of, or organized or located within, the United States and (2) does not, in fact, do insurance business with such persons or entities, so that none of its insurance liabilities are to any such person or entity.

E. "NAIC" means the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

F. "Life and/or health insurer" means any insurance company licensed under Section [cite appropriate statute], or a licensed property and casualty insurer writing only accident and health insurance.

Drafting Note: The drafting committee did not specifically examine, and expresses no opinion with respect to, the application of the risk-based capital formula to health service organizations, dental service organizations, health maintenance organizations, dental plan organizations or mutual benefit associations (including without limitation Blue Cross/Blue Shield organizations). States may wish to consider the application of the risk-based capital model act to these entities, or any of them.

G. "Fraternal benefit society" means any insurance company ("insurer") licensed under Section [cite appropriate statute].

H. "Property and casualty insurer" means any insurance company licensed under Section [cite appropriate statute] but shall not include monoline mortgage guaranty insurers, financial guaranty insurers and title insurers.

Drafting Note: The drafting committee did not specifically examine, and expresses no opinion with respect to, the application of the risk-based capital formula to farm and county mutuals, health service organizations, dental service organizations, health maintenance organizations, dental plan organizations or any single state specialty insurer not subject to rules and regulations applicable to property and casualty insurers. States may wish to consider the application of the risk-based capital model act to these entities, or any of them.

I. "Negative trend" means, with respect to a life and/or health insurer or a fraternal benefit society, negative trend over a period of time, as determined in accordance with the "Trend Test Calculation" included in the Life or Fraternal RBC Instructions.

J. "RBC instructions" means the RBC Report including risk-based capital instructions adopted by the NAIC, as such RBC Instructions may be amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

K. "RBC Level" means an insurer's Company Action Level RBC, Regulatory Action Level RBC, Authorized Control Level RBC, or Mandatory Control Level RBC where:

(1) "Company Action Level RBC" means, with respect to any insurer, the product of 2.0 and its Authorized Control Level RBC;

(2) "Regulatory Action Level RBC" means the product of 1.5 and its Authorized Control Level RBC;

(3) "Authorized Control Level RBC" means the number determined under the risk-based capital formula in accordance with the RBC Instructions;

(4) "Mandatory Control Level RBC" means the product of .70 and the Authorized Control Level RBC.

L. "RBC Plan" means a comprehensive financial plan containing the elements specified in Section 3B. If the commissioner rejects the RBC Plan, and it is revised by the insurer, with or without the commissioner's recommendation, the plan shall be called the "Revised RBC Plan."

M. "RBC Report" means the report required in Section 2.

N. "Total adjusted capital" means the sum of:

(1) An insurer's statutory capital and surplus as determined in accordance with the statutory accounting applicable to the annual financial statements required to be filed under [cite appropriate statute]; and

(2) Such other items, if any, as the RBC instructions may provide.

Section 2. RBC Reports

A. Every domestic insurer shall, on or prior to each March 1 (the "filing date"), prepare and submit to the commissioner a report of its RBC Levels as of the end of the calendar year just ended, in a form and containing such information as is required by the RBC instructions. In addition, every domestic insurer shall file its RBC Report:

(1) With the NAIC in accordance with the RBC instructions; and

(2) With the insurance commissioner in any state in which the insurer is authorized to do business, if the insurance commissioner has notified the insurer of its request in writing, in which case the insurer shall file its RBC Report not later than the later of:

(a) Fifteen (15) days from the receipt of notice to file its RBC Report with that state; or

(b) The filing date.

B. A life and health insurer's or fraternal benefit society's RBC shall be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula shall take into account (and may adjust for the covariance between) the following factors determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(1) The risk with respect to the insurer's assets;

(2) The risk of adverse insurance experience with respect to the insurer's liabilities and obligations;

(3) The interest rate risk with respect to the insurer's business; and

(4) All other business risks and such other relevant risks as are set forth in the RBC instructions.

C. A property and casualty insurer's RBC shall be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula shall take the following into account (and may adjust for the covariance between) determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(1) Asset risk;

(2) Credit risk;

(3) Underwriting risk; and

(4) All other business risks and such other relevant risks as are set forth in the RBC instructions.

D. An excess of capital over the amount produced by the risk-based capital requirements contained in the Act and the formulas, schedules and instructions referenced in this Act is desirable in the business of insurance. Accordingly, insurers should seek to maintain capital above the RBC levels required by this Act. Additional capital is used and useful in the insurance business and helps to secure an insurer against various risks inherent in, or affecting, the business of insurance and not accounted for or only partially measured by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this Act.

E. If a domestic insurer files an RBC Report which in the judgment of the commissioner is inaccurate, then the commissioner shall adjust the RBC Report to correct the inaccuracy and shall notify the insurer of the adjustment. The notice shall contain a statement of the reason for the adjustment. An RBC Report as so adjusted is referred to as an "Adjusted RBC Report."

Section 3. Company Action Level Event

A. "Company Action Level Event" means any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC Report by an insurer which indicates that:

(a) The insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its Regulatory Action Level RBC but less than its Company Action Level RBC;

(b) If a life and/or health insurer or a fraternal benefit society, the insurer or society has total adjusted capital which is greater than or equal to its Company Action Level RBC but less than the product of its Authorized Control Level RBC and 3.0 and has a negative trend; or

(c) If a property and casualty insurer, the insurer has total adjusted capital which is greater than or equal to its Company Action Level RBC but less than the product of its Authorized Control Level RBC and 3.0 and triggers the trend test determined in accordance with the trend test calculation included in the Property and Casualty RBC instructions;

(2) The notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates an event in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, provided the insurer does not challenge the Adjusted RBC Report under Section 7; or

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, an insurer challenges an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

B. In the event of a Company Action Level Event, the insurer shall prepare and submit to the commissioner an RBC Plan which shall:

(1) Identify the conditions which contribute to the Company Action Level Event;

(2) Contain proposals of corrective actions which the insurer intends to take and would be expected to result in the elimination of the Company Action Level Event;

(3) Provide projections of the insurer's financial results in the current year and at least the four (4) succeeding years, both in the absence of proposed corrective actions and giving effect to the proposed corrective actions, including projections of statutory operating income, net income, capital and surplus. (The projections for both new and renewal business might include separate projections for each major line of business and separately identify each significant income, expense and benefit component);

(4) Identify the key assumptions impacting the insurer's projections and the sensitivity of the projections to the assumptions; and

(5) Identify the quality of, and problems associated with, the insurer's business, including but not limited to its assets, anticipated business growth and associated surplus strain, extraordinary exposure to risk, mix of business and use of reinsurance, if any, in each case.

C. The RBC Plan shall be submitted

(1) Within forty-five (45) days of the Company Action Level Event; or

(2) If the insurer challenges an Adjusted RBC Report pursuant to Section 7, within forty-five (45) days after notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

D. Within sixty (60) days after the submission by an insurer of an RBC Plan to the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the insurer whether the RBC Plan shall be implemented or is, in the judgment of the commissioner, unsatisfactory. If the commissioner determines the RBC Plan is unsatisfactory, the notification to the insurer shall set forth the reasons for the determination, and may set forth proposed revisions which will render the RBC Plan satisfactory, in the judgment of the commissioner. Upon notification from the commissioner, the insurer shall prepare a Revised RBC Plan, which may incorporate by reference any revisions proposed by the commissioner, and shall submit the Revised RBC Plan to the commissioner:

(1) Within forty-five (45) days after the notification from the commissioner; or

(2) If the insurer challenges the notification from the commissioner under Section 7, within forty-five (45) days after a notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

E. In the event of a notification by the commissioner to an insurer that the insurer's RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan is unsatisfactory, the commissioner may at the commissioner's discretion, subject to the insurer's right to a hearing under Section 7, specify in the notification that the notification constitutes a Regulatory Action Level Event.

F. Every domestic insurer that files an RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan with the commissioner shall file a copy of the RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan with the insurance commissioner in any state in which the insurer is authorized to do business if:

(1) Such state has an RBC provision substantially similar to Section 8A; and

(2) The insurance commissioner of that state has notified the insurer of its request for the filing in writing, in which case the insurer shall file a copy of the RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan in that state no later than the later of:

(a) Fifteen (15) days after the receipt of notice to file a copy of its RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan with the state; or

(b) The date on which the RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan is filed under Section 3C and 3D.

Section 4. Regulatory Action Level Event

A. "Regulatory Action Level Event" means, with respect to any insurer, any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC Report by the insurer which indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its Authorized Control Level RBC but less than its Regulatory Action Level RBC;

(2) The notification by the commissioner to an insurer of an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), provided the insurer does not challenge the Adjusted RBC Report under Section 7;

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, the insurer challenges an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), the notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge;

(4) The failure of the insurer to file an RBC Report by the filing date, unless the insurer has provided an explanation for such failure which is satisfactory to the commissioner and has cured the failure within ten (10) days after the filing date;

(5) The failure of the insurer to submit an RBC Plan to the commissioner within the time period set forth in Section 3C;

(6) Notification by the commissioner to the insurer that

(a) The RBC Plan or revised RBC Plan submitted by the insurer is, in the judgment of the commissioner, unsatisfactory; and

(b) Such notification constitutes a Regulatory Action Level Event with respect to the insurer, provided the insurer has not challenged the determination under Section 7;

(7) If, pursuant to Section 7, the insurer challenges a determination by the commissioner under Paragraph (6), the notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected such challenge;

(8) Notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the insurer has failed to adhere to its RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan, but only if such failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the insurer to eliminate the Company Action Level Event in accordance with its RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan and the commissioner has so stated in the notification, provided the insurer has not challenged the determination under Section 7; or

(9) If, pursuant to Section 7, the insurer challenges a determination by the commissioner under Paragraph (8), the notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge.

B. In the event of a Regulatory Action Level Event the commissioner shall:

(1) Require the insurer to prepare and submit an RBC Plan or, if applicable, a Revised RBC Plan;

(2) Perform such examination or analysis as the commissioner deems necessary of the assets, liabilities and operations of the insurer including a review of its RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan; and

(3) Subsequent to the examination or analysis, issue an order specifying such corrective actions as the commissioner shall determine are required (a "corrective order").

C. In determining corrective actions, the commissioner may take into account such factors as are deemed relevant with respect to the insurer based upon the commissioner's examination or analysis of the assets, liabilities and operations of the insurer, including, but not limited to, the results of any sensitivity tests undertaken pursuant to the RBC instructions. The RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan shall be submitted:

(1) Within forty-five (45) days after the occurrence of the Regulatory Action Level Event;

(2) If the insurer challenges an Adjusted RBC Report pursuant to Section 7 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner within forty-five (45) days after the notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge; or

(3) If the insurer challenges a Revised RBC Plan pursuant to Section 7 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner, within forty-five (45) days after the notification to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

D. The commissioner may retain actuaries and investment experts and other consultants as may be necessary in the judgment of the commissioner to review the insurer's RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan, examine or analyze the assets, liabilities and operations of the insurer and formulate the corrective order with respect to the insurer. The fees, costs and expenses relating to consultants shall be borne by the affected insurer or such other party as directed by the commissioner.

Section 5. Authorized Control Level Event

A. "Authorized Control Level Event" means any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC Report by the insurer which indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its Mandatory Control Level RBC but less than its Authorized Control Level RBC;

(2) The notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), provided the insurer does not challenge the Adjusted RBC Report under Section 7;

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, the insurer challenges an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge;

(4) The failure of the insurer to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to a corrective order (provided the insurer has not challenged the corrective order under Section 7); or

(5) If the insurer has challenged a corrective order under Section 7 and the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge or modified the corrective order, the failure of the insurer to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to the corrective order subsequent to rejection or modification by the commissioner.

B. In the event of an Authorized Control Level Event with respect to an insurer, the commissioner shall:

(1) Take such actions as are required under Section 4 regarding an insurer with respect to which an Regulatory Action Level Event has occurred; or

(2) If the commissioner deems it to be in the best interests of the policyholders and creditors of the insurer and of the public, take such actions as are necessary to cause the insurer to be placed under regulatory control under [insert reference to relevant insurance company rehabilitation and liquidation act]. In the event the commissioner takes such actions, the Authorized Control Level Event shall be deemed sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under [insert same reference], and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in [insert same reference]. In the event the commissioner takes actions under this paragraph pursuant to an Adjusted RBC Report, the insurer shall be entitled to such protections as are afforded to insurers under the provisions of Section [insert reference] pertaining to summary proceedings.

Section 6. Mandatory Control Level Event

A. "Mandatory Control Level Event" means any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC Report which indicates that the insurer's total adjusted capital is less than its Mandatory Control Level RBC;

(2) Notification by the commissioner to the insurer of an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), provided the insurer does not challenge the Adjusted RBC Report under Section 7; or

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, the insurer challenges an Adjusted RBC Report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), notification by the commissioner to the insurer that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the insurer's challenge.

B. In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event:

(1) With respect to a life insurer or fraternal benefit society, the commissioner shall take such actions as are necessary to place the insurer under regulatory control under [insert reference to relevant insurance company rehabilitation and liquidation act]. In that event, the Mandatory Control Level Event shall be deemed sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under [insert same reference], and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in [insert same reference]. If the commissioner takes actions pursuant to an Adjusted RBC Report, the insurer shall be entitled to the protections of Section [insert reference] pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to ninety (90) days after the Mandatory Control Level Event if the commissioner finds there is a reasonable expectation that the Mandatory Control Level Event may be eliminated within the ninety (90) day period.

(2) With respect to a property and casualty insurer, the commissioner shall take such actions as are necessary to place the insurer under regulatory control under [insert reference to relevant insurance company rehabilitation and liquidation act], or, in the case of an insurer which is writing no business and which is running-off its existing business, may allow the insurer to continue its run-off under the supervision of the commissioner. In either event, the Mandatory Control Level Event shall be deemed sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under [insert same reference] and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers and duties with respect to the insurer as are set forth in [insert same reference]. If the commissioner takes actions pursuant to an Adjusted RBC Report, the insurer shall be entitled to the protections of Section [insert reference] pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to ninety (90) days after the Mandatory Control Level Event if the commissioner finds there is a reasonable expectation that the Mandatory Control Level Event may be eliminated within the ninety (90) day period.

Section 7. Hearings

Upon any of the following the insurer shall have the right to a confidential departmental hearing, on a record, at which the insurer may challenge any determination or action by the commissioner. The insurer shall notify the commissioner of its request for a hearing within five (5) days after the notification by the commissioner under Subsection A, B, C or D. Upon receipt of the insurer's request for a hearing, the commissioner shall set a date for the hearing, which date shall be no less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days after the date of the insurer's request.

A. Notification to an insurer by the commissioner of an Adjusted RBC Report; or

B. Notification to an insurer by the commissioner that

(1) The insurer's RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan is unsatisfactory; and

(2) Such notification constitutes a Regulatory Action Level Event with respect to such insurer; or

C. Notification to any insurer by the commissioner that the insurer has failed to adhere to its RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan and that such failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the insurer to eliminate the Company Action Level Event with respect to the insurer in accordance with its RBC Plan or Revised RBC Plan; or

D. Notification to an insurer by the commissioner of a corrective order with respect to the insurer.

Section 8. Confidentiality; Prohibition on Announcements, Prohibition on Use in Ratemaking

A. All RBC Reports (to the extent the information therein is not required to be set forth in a publicly available annual statement schedule) and RBC Plans (including the results or report of any examination or analysis of an insurer performed pursuant hereto and any corrective order issued by the commissioner pursuant to examination or analysis) with respect to any domestic insurer or foreign insurer that are in the possession or control of the Department of Insurance shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(1) May share documents, materials or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A, with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, with the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal and international law enforcement authorities, provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material or other information;

(2) May receive documents, materials or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, from the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information; and

(3) [Optional provision] May enter into agreements governing sharing and use of information consistent with this subsection.

Drafting Note: The language in Subsection C(1) assumes the recipient has the authority to protect the applicable confidentiality or privilege, but does not address the verification of that authority, which would presumably occur in the context of a broader information sharing agreement.

D. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Subsection C.

E. It is the judgment of the legislature that the comparison of an insurer's Total Adjusted Capital to any of its RBC Levels is a regulatory tool which may indicate the need for possible corrective action with respect to the insurer, and is not intended as a means to rank insurers generally. Therefore, except as otherwise required under the provisions of this Act, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating or placing before the public, or causing, directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public, in a newspaper, magazine or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter or poster, or over any radio or television station, or in any other way, an advertisement, announcement or statement containing an assertion, representation or statement with regard to the RBC Levels of any insurer, or of any component derived in the calculation, by any insurer, agent, broker or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is therefore prohibited; provided, however, that if any materially false statement with respect to the comparison regarding an insurer's Total Adjusted Capital to its RBC Levels (or any of them) or an inappropriate comparison of any other amount to the insurers' RBC Levels is published in any written publication and the insurer is able to demonstrate to the commissioner with substantial proof the falsity of such statement, or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, then the insurer may publish an announcement in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

F. It is the further judgment of the legislature that the RBC Instructions, RBC Reports, Adjusted RBC Reports, RBC Plans and Revised RBC Plans are intended solely for use by the commissioner in monitoring the solvency of insurers and the need for possible corrective action with respect to insurers and shall not be used by the commissioner for ratemaking nor considered or introduced as evidence in any rate proceeding nor used by the commissioner to calculate or derive any elements of an appropriate premium level or rate of return for any line of insurance which an insurer or an affiliate is authorized to write.

Section 9. Supplemental Provisions; Rules; Exemption

A. The provisions of this Act are supplemental to any other provisions of the laws of this state, and shall not preclude or limit any other powers or duties of the commissioner under such laws, including, but not limited to, [cite rehabilitation and liquidation law and law pertaining to insurers in hazardous financial condition].

B. The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules necessary for the implementation of this Act.

C. The commissioner may exempt from the application of this Act any domestic property and casualty insurer which;

(1) Writes direct business only in this state;

(2) Writes direct annual premiums of [$X] or less; and

(3) Assumes no reinsurance in excess of five percent (5%) of direct premium written.

Drafting Note: It is the drafters' intent that the domiciliary commissioner have the ability to exempt certain insurers doing business only within the commissioner's jurisdiction. The intent is to limit this exemption to insurers that do not write in excess of $2,000,000 in annual premiums.

Section 10. Foreign Insurers

A. Any foreign insurer shall, upon the written request of the commissioner, submit to the commissioner an RBC Report as of the end of the calendar year just ended the later of:

(1) The date an RBC Report would be required to be filed by a domestic insurer under this Act; or

(2) Fifteen (15) days after the request is received by the foreign insurer.

Any foreign insurer shall, at the written request of the commissioner, promptly submit to the commissioner a copy of any RBC Plan that is filed with the insurance commissioner of any other state.

B. In the event of a Company Action Level Event, Regulatory Action Level Event or Authorized Control Level Event with respect to any foreign insurer as determined under the RBC statute applicable in the state of domicile of the insurer (or, if no RBC statute is in force in that state, under the provisions of this Act), if the insurance commissioner of the state of domicile of the foreign insurer fails to require the foreign insurer to file an RBC Plan in the manner specified under that state's RBC statute (or, if no RBC statute is in force in that state, under Section 3 hereof), the commissioner may require the foreign insurer to file an RBC Plan with the commissioner. In such event, the failure of the foreign insurer to file an RBC Plan with the commissioner shall be grounds to order the insurer to cease and desist from writing new insurance business in this state.

C. In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event with respect to any foreign insurer, if no domiciliary receiver has been appointed with respect to the foreign insurer under the rehabilitation and liquidation statute applicable in the state of domicile of the foreign insurer, the commissioner may make application to the [cite appropriate state court] permitted under the [cite rehabilitation and liquidation statute] with respect to the liquidation of property of foreign insurers found in this state, and the occurrence of the Mandatory Control Level Event shall be considered adequate grounds for the application.

Section 11. Immunity

There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action shall arise against, the commissioner or the insurance department or its employees or agents for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this Act.

Section 12. Severability Clause

If any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such determination shall not affect the provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to that end the provisions of this Act are severable.

Section 13. Notices

All notices by the commissioner to an insurer which may result in regulatory action hereunder shall be effective upon dispatch if transmitted by registered or certified mail, or in the case of any other transmission shall be effective upon the insurer's receipt of such notice.

Section 14. Phase-In Provision

A. For RBC Reports required to be filed by life insurers with respect to 1993, the following requirements shall apply in lieu of the provisions of Section 3, 4, 5 and 6:

(1) In the event of a Company Action Level Event with respect to a domestic insurer, the commissioner shall take no regulatory action hereunder.

(2) In the event of an Regulatory Action Level Event under Section 4A(1), (2) or (3) the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 3.

(3) In the event of an Regulatory Action Level Event under Section 4A(4), (5), (6), (7), (8) or (9) or an Authorized Control Level Event, the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 4 with respect to the insurer.

(4) In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event with respect to an insurer, the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 5 with respect to the insurer.

Drafting Note: This provision should be included for states which adopt the model law in 1993 for implementation in 1994 (based on 1993 annual statements).

B. For RBC Reports required to be filed by property and casualty insurers with respect to 1994, the following requirements shall apply in lieu of the provisions of Section 3, 4, 5 and 6:

(1) In the event of a Company Action Level Event with respect to a domestic insurer, the commissioner shall take no regulatory action hereunder.

(2) In the event of an Regulatory Action Level Event under Section 4A(1), (2) or (3) the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 3.

(3) In the event of an Regulatory Action Level Event under Section 4A(4), (5), (6), (7), (8) or (9) or an Authorized Control Level Event, the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 4 with respect to the insurer.

(4) In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event with respect to an insurer, the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 5 with respect to the insurer.

Drafting Note: This provision should be included for states which adopt the model law as amended to include property and casualty insurers or which adopt the property and casualty amendments in 1994 for implementation in 1995 (based on 1994 annual statements).

Section 15. Effective Date

This Act shall become effective immediately upon its enactment.

Chronological Summary of Actions (all references are to the Proceedings of the NAIC).

1993 Proc. I 8, 137, 275-276, 556-557, 559-565, (adopted model applying only to life and health insurers).

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2011

RISK-BASED CAPITAL FOR INSURERS MODEL ACT (#312)
(Revisions to the Fraternal Benefit Societies)

1. Project Description

To add fraternal benefit societies to the life sections of the Risk-Based Capital for Insurers Model Act. (#312). The request was developed based upon the need for regulatory authority to take corrective actions as a result of a fraternal society having less than the minimum amount of capital as calculated by the fraternal RBC formula.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting Model and States Participating

The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force was responsible for drafting the revisions of the model. James J. Wrynn represented by Lou Felice (NY) chairs the Task Force. Ted Nickel represented by Peter Medley (WI) is the vice chair of the Task Force. The following states are Task Force members: Alabama, California, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Utah and Washington.

3. Charge Authorizing Project

A Sept. 17, 2009, referral letter from the NAIC president on behalf of the NAIC officers was received by the Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force suggesting that "the Capital Adequacy Task Force consider development of a new risk-based capital model law for fraternal benefit societies."

4. A General Description of Drafting Process and Due Process

A request for a new model law development was adopted by the Executive (EX) Committee at the 2009 Winter National Meeting. Discussions were held by the Task Force over the next several national meetings regarding the need for a fraternal RBC model act.

At the 2011 Spring National Meeting, the Task Force requested changing the current Risk-Based Capital for Insurers Model Act (#312) rather than developing a new model. This request was subsequently adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee and Executive (EX) Committee at the 2011 Spring National Meeting.

NAIC staff were asked to draft a proposal to add fraternal benefit societies to the existing model act. The fraternal proposal was released for comment for a 30-day period at a July 14, 2011, Task Force conference call. No comment letters were received during the comment period. The Task Force unanimously adopted the draft fraternal changes to the model act at the Sept. 14, 2011, conference call. The fraternal changes to the model act were then adopted at the Financial Condition (E) Committee's Sept. 19 meeting.

5. Significant Issues Raised

A concern was raised about whether the change to add fraternal benefit societies would become an accreditation standard. The Task Force will recommend to the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee that the changes to add fraternal benefit societies to the model act would not become an accreditation standard at this point in time.

An issue was raised regarding whether the RBC trend test would also apply to fraternal RBC. The model act draft was modified to incorporate the same trend test language and level as used for life.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2011

RISK-BASED CAPITAL FOR INSURERS MODEL ACT (#312)
(Revisions to the Life RBC Trend Test Level)

1. Project Description

To change the trend test level for the Risk-Based Capital for Insurers Model Act (#312). The request was developed to change the level where the Life RBC trend test is triggered to be raised from 2.5 of the authorized control level amount to 3.0. This would change the level to be the same level as that used for the property and casualty RBC and health RBC trend tests.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting Model and States Participating

The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force was responsible for drafting the revisions of the model. James J. Wrynn represented by Lou Felice (NY) chairs the Task Force. Ted Nickel represented by Peter Medley (WI) is the vice chair of the Task Force. The following states are Task Force members: Alabama, California, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Utah and Washington.

3. Charge Authorizing Project

A March 27, 2007, letter from Steve Johnson (PA) was received by the Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force that suggested: "Raising the trigger for the Life RBC Trend Test from 250 to 300. This change would be consistent with the Property/Casualty Trend Test and would result in more effective efforts to correct negative trends before they create a solvency concern." The item was added to the Task Force's working agenda assigned to the Life Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group.

4. A General Description of Drafting Process and Due Process

At the 2008 Fall National Meeting, the Life Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group reviewed year-end 2003 to 2007 data of additional companies that would be triggered by the change in the trend test level. The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force decided to keep the issue on the working agenda in order to review data for companies that would have triggered the trend test during the 2008 financial crisis. The Working Group reviewed data for year-end 2005 through 2009 at the 2010 Fall National Meeting. The Working Group recommendation was to consider this change when another change was being made to the model act.

At the 2010 Fall National Meeting, with one state objecting, the Task Force decided to release for a comment period of 30 days a draft model law request form to change the life trend test level. One comment letter was received and discussed on a Dec. 13, 2010, Task Force conference call, where the model law request was adopted with four states opposing the motion. The model law request form was then adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee. The request to amend the model law was adopted by the Executive (EX) Committee at the 2011 Spring National Meeting.

The trend test change to the model act was released for comment for a 30-day period at a July 14, 2011, Task Force conference call. No comment letters were received during the comment period. The Task Force unanimously adopted the life trend test change to the model act on the Sept. 14, 2011, conference call. The life trend test changes to the model act were then adopted at the Financial Condition (E) Committee's Sept. 19 meeting.

5. Significant Issues Raised

The Life Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group had a concern about whether the relatively small number of additional companies that would trigger the trend test would justify changing the model act for just this item. The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force later decided to make changes to the model for fraternal benefit societies in addition to the trend test change.

A Nov. 29, 2010, comment letter from the American Council of Life Insurers (ACLI) requested further analysis of the need for and the impact of the proposed change. Regulator-only reports of the companies that would have been affected for year-end 2005 to 2009 were distributed to the Task Force. The ACLI eventually agreed to not oppose implementation of the change.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2006

RISK-BASED CAPITAL FOR INSURERS MODEL ACT (#312)
(Incorporation of the Property and Casualty Trend Test)

1. Project Description

The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force adopted the following Property/Casualty (P/C) "trend test" to be effective for year-end 2005 RBC reporting:

> If the combined ratio is greater than 120% and the RBC is between 200-300, then the RBC company action level is triggered.

However, the trend test is "Informational Only" and the company action level is not legally triggered until states implement modifications to their RBC for Insurers Model Act. The major change proposed to the Model Act is to cite the P/C trend test as a way for the company action level to be triggered. Some minor editorial changes are made to distinguish the Life/Health Trend Test that is already in the Model Act with this new P/C trend test.

History

At the September 2004 meeting in Anchorage, AK, the Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force exposed a formula, called a dual trend test, as recommended by the P/C RBC Subgroup:

> If the RBC is between 200-300 and the combined ratio is greater than 120% OR
> If the RBC is between 300-350 and the combined ratio is greater than 134%,
> Then the RBC company action level is triggered.

Steve Johnson (PA) noted that the Task Force would also need to draft a revised RBC model Act for the trend test to be enforceable.

At the December 22, 2004, conference call of the Task Force, the higher tier (at the 300-350 RBC level) of the trend test for the P/C RBC formula was removed and the revised trend test was released for comment. The Task Force noted that the results of the trend test, if adopted, would not be utilized to move an insurer's result to the Company Action Level RBC in the 2005 formula until an amendment to the RBC Model Law is implemented.

The changes to the P/C RBC formula were adopted at the Jan 27, 2005, conference call of the Capital Adequacy Task Force and at the E Committee in March.

At the June 2005 meeting, Mr. Johnson suggested taking the opportunity to amend the RBC Model Act to exempt monoline bail/immigration bond insurers from filing the property RBC calculation. With this additional amendment, the proposed changes to the RBC Model Act were exposed. During the Task Force's August 9, 2005 conference call, the exemption of monoline bail/immigration bond insurers was removed, some editorial changes were made, and the revised RBC Model Act was adopted. The revised RBC Model Act is anticipated to be adopted by the E Committee in December.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting Model and States Participating

The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force was responsible for drafting the revisions to the model. Lou Felice (New York) chaired the Task Force. The following states were members: Minnesota, Alabama, California, Connecticut, District Columbia, Florida, Kansas, Missouri, New Jersey, New Mexico, Ohio, Texas, Washington, and Wisconsin.

3. Charge Authorizing Project

The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force was charged to consider refinements to the RBC calculations and to maintain the Risk-Based Capital For Insurers Model Act.

4. Significant Issues Raised

There were no serious issues raised with the Model Act. Likely, this is because there is already precedence from the Life/Health Trend Test that is already included in the Model Act.

There were some concerns with the underlying formula and the impact of "false positives" (where the company action level would be triggered for a company when the RBC would not trend toward the company action level in subsequent years), but the formula itself is not included in the Model Act.

RISK-BASED CAPITAL (RBC) FOR HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Drafting Note: The effectiveness of RBC is based on the reliability of the underlying data. The efficacy of RBC as a regulatory instrument is greatly improved if (a) an actuarial opinion supporting the estimated claims and loss adjustment reserves is required, and (b) the health organization be required to submit audited financial statements with the RBC calculation amended to reflect any significant audit adjustments. Additionally, the formula was developed for use in conjunction with the most current NAIC Health Maintenance Organization Annual Statement Blank. States should consider requiring the filing of this statement in order to verify the calculation upon examination.

Section 1. Definitions

As used in this Act, these terms shall have the following meanings:

A. "Adjusted RBC report" means an RBC report which has been adjusted by the commissioner in accordance with Section 2D.

B. "Corrective order" means an order issued by the commissioner specifying corrective actions which the commissioner has determined are required.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

C. "Domestic health organization" means a health organization domiciled in this state.

D. "Foreign health organization" means a health organization that is licensed to do business in this state under [cite appropriate statute] but is not domiciled in this state.

Drafting Note: The drafting committee does not recommend application of the risk-based capital model act to an insurance company organized under the laws of a state of the United States if the company (1) has a provision in its certificate of incorporation (or like corporate instrument) prohibiting the doing of insurance business with persons or entities that are citizens or residents of, or organized or located within, the United States and (2) does not, in fact, do insurance business with these persons or entities, so that none of its insurance liabilities are to any such person or entity.

E. "NAIC" means the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

F. "Health organization" means a health maintenance organization, limited health service organization, dental or vision plan, hospital, medical and dental indemnity or service corporation or other managed care organization licensed under Section [cite appropriate statute]. This definition does not include an organization that is licensed as either a life and health insurer or a property and casualty insurer under Section [cite appropriate statute] and that is otherwise subject to either the life or property and casualty RBC requirements.

Drafting Note: The formula was designed for use with provider sponsored organizations, and other similar risk-bearing entities (e.g., hospitals, doctors, limited liability corporations, networks, dental practices, etc.). In order to apply consistent regulatory treatment for similar organizations, States are encouraged to license these entities wherever possible under existing HMO laws or other laws specifically enacted to govern managed care plans.

Drafting Note: It is noted by the working group that when implementing this model law, a commissioner may wish to consider whether a licensed property/casualty or life and health insurer should be subject to the existing Property/Casualty RBC or Life RBC formulas as opposed to being defined as a health organization subject to the Health Organizations RBC formula. Such consideration may require legislative changes or present reporting or other practical problems when attempting to identify insurers by business segment vs. license status.

G. "RBC instructions" means the RBC report including risk-based capital instructions adopted by the NAIC, as these RBC instructions may be amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

H. "RBC level" means a health organization's Company Action Level RBC, Regulatory Action Level RBC, Authorized Control Level RBC, or Mandatory Control Level RBC where:

(1) "Company Action Level RBC" means, with respect to any health organization, the product of 2.0 and its Authorized Control Level RBC;

(2) "Regulatory Action Level RBC" means the product of 1.5 and its Authorized Control Level RBC;

(3) "Authorized Control Level RBC" means the number determined under the risk-based capital formula in accordance with the RBC Instructions;

(4) "Mandatory Control Level RBC" means the product of .70 and the Authorized Control Level RBC.

I. "RBC plan" means a comprehensive financial plan containing the elements specified in Section 3B. If the commissioner rejects the RBC plan, and it is revised by the health organization, with or without the commissioner's recommendation, the plan shall be called the "revised RBC plan."

J. "RBC report" means the report required in Section 2.

K. "Total adjusted capital" means the sum of:

(1) A health organization's statutory capital and surplus (i.e. net worth) as determined in accordance with the statutory accounting applicable to the annual financial statements required to be filed under [cite appropriate statute]; and

(2) Such other items, if any, as the RBC instructions may provide.

Drafting Note: The RBC formula adopted by the Health Organizations Risk-Based Capital Working Group was developed using current NAIC guidance contained in the HMO Model Act, and tested using current state practices regarding the assumption of admissibility of health care delivery assets. If the admissibility of these assets is reduced in a given jurisdiction, then that jurisdiction should consider this reduction in total adjusted capital when evaluating action levels described in Sections 3 through 6.

Section 2. RBC Reports

A. A domestic health organization shall, on or prior to each March 1 (the "filing date"), prepare and submit to the commissioner a report of its RBC levels as of the end of the calendar year just ended, in a form and containing such information as is required by the RBC instructions. In addition, a domestic health organization shall file its RBC report:

(1) With the NAIC in accordance with the RBC instructions; and

(2) With the insurance commissioner in any state in which the health organization is authorized to do business, if the insurance commissioner has notified the health organization of its request in writing, in which case the health organization shall file its RBC report not later than the later of:

(a) Fifteen (15) days from the receipt of notice to file its RBC report with that state; or

(b) The filing date.

Drafting Note: In jurisdictions where the required annual statement filing date is later than March 1, the due date of the RBC report may be adjusted.

B. A health organization's RBC shall be determined in accordance with the formula set forth in the RBC instructions. The formula shall take the following into account (and may adjust for the covariance between) determined in each case by applying the factors in the manner set forth in the RBC instructions.

(1) Asset risk;

(2) Credit risk;

(3) Underwriting risk; and

(4) All other business risks and such other relevant risks as are set forth in the RBC instructions.

C. An excess of capital (i.e. net worth) over the amount produced by the risk-based capital requirements contained in the Act and the formulas, schedules and instructions referenced in this Act is desirable in the business of health insurance. Accordingly, health organizations should seek to maintain capital above the RBC levels required by this Act. Additional capital is used and useful in the insurance business and helps to secure a health organization against various risks inherent in, or affecting, the business of insurance and not accounted for or only partially measured by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this Act.

D. If a domestic health organization files an RBC report that in the judgment of the commissioner is inaccurate, then the commissioner shall adjust the RBC report to correct the inaccuracy and shall notify the health organization of the adjustment. The notice shall contain a statement of the reason for the adjustment. An RBC report as so adjusted is referred to as an "adjusted RBC report."

Section 3. Company Action Level Event

Drafting Note: Risk-based capital is a method of establishing the minimum amount of capital appropriate for a health organization to support its overall business operations in consideration of its size, structure and risk profile. Typically, the formula result is compared to total adjusted capital to determine if any action is necessary. The domiciliary commissioner may wish to determine whether other financial resources (e.g. parental guarantees, letters of credit) provide adequate safeguards to consumers based on the dynamics of the market in their particular state, although the working group did not specifically examine, and expresses no opinion on the merits of any such alternative financial resources. Rather, the working group acknowledges that these arrangements may fall within the statutory or regulatory discretion that is available to a regulator in a given jurisdiction. However, this discretion should not be used to mask the reporting of any action level under the provisions of this Act, but may be used in evaluating an RBC plan submitted pursuant to Sections 3 through 5.

A. "Company Action Level Event" means any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC report by a health organization that indicates that the health organization's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its Regulatory Action Level RBC but less than its Company Action Level RBC;

(a) If a health organization has total adjusted capital which is greater than or equal to its Company Action Level RBC but less than the product of its Authorized Control Level RBC and 3.0 and triggers the trend test determined in accordance with the trend test calculation included in the Health RBC instructions;

(2) Notification by the commissioner to the health organization of an adjusted RBC report that indicates an event in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, provided the health organization does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under Section 7; or

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, a health organization challenges an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge.

B. In the event of a Company Action Level Event, the health organization shall prepare and submit to the commissioner an RBC plan that shall:

(1) Identify the conditions that contribute to the Company Action Level Event;

(2) Contain proposals of corrective actions that the health organization intends to take and that would be expected to result in the elimination of the Company Action Level Event;

(3) Provide projections of the health organization's financial results in the current year and at least the two (2) succeeding years, both in the absence of proposed corrective actions and giving effect to the proposed corrective actions, including projections of statutory balance sheets, operating income, net income, capital and surplus, and RBC levels. The projections for both new and renewal business might include separate projections for each major line of business and separately identify each significant income, expense and benefit component;

(4) Identify the key assumptions impacting the health organization's projections and the sensitivity of the projections to the assumptions; and

(5) Identify the quality of, and problems associated with, the health organization's business, including but not limited to its assets, anticipated business growth and associated surplus strain, extraordinary exposure to risk, mix of business and use of reinsurance, if any, in each case.

C. The RBC plan shall be submitted

(1) Within forty-five (45) days of the Company Action Level Event; or

(2) If the health organization challenges an adjusted RBC report pursuant to Section 7, within forty-five (45) days after notification to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge.

D. Within sixty (60) days after the submission by a health organization of an RBC plan to the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the health organization whether the RBC plan shall be implemented or is, in the judgment of the commissioner, unsatisfactory. If the commissioner determines the RBC plan is unsatisfactory, the notification to the health organization shall set forth the reasons for the determination, and may set forth proposed revisions which will render the RBC plan satisfactory, in the judgment of the commissioner. Upon notification from the commissioner, the health organization shall prepare a revised RBC plan, which may incorporate by reference any revisions proposed by the commissioner, and shall submit the revised RBC plan to the commissioner:

(1) Within forty-five (45) days after the notification from the commissioner; or

(2) If the health organization challenges the notification from the commissioner under Section 7, within forty-five (45) days after a notification to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge.

E. In the event of a notification by the commissioner to a health organization that the health organization's RBC plan or revised RBC plan is unsatisfactory, the commissioner may at the commissioner's discretion, subject to the health organization's right to a hearing under Section 7, specify in the notification that the notification constitutes a Regulatory Action Level Event.

F. Every domestic health organization that files an RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the commissioner shall file a copy of the RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the insurance commissioner in any state in which the health organization is authorized to do business if:

(1) The state has an RBC provision substantially similar to Section 8A; and

(2) The insurance commissioner of that state has notified the health organization of its request for the filing in writing, in which case the health organization shall file a copy of the RBC plan or revised RBC plan in that state no later than the later of:

(a) Fifteen (15) days after the receipt of notice to file a copy of its RBC plan or revised RBC plan with the state; or

(b) The date on which the RBC plan or revised RBC plan is filed under Subsections C and D of this section.

Section 4. Regulatory Action Level Event

A. "Regulatory Action Level Event" means, with respect to a health organization, any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC report by the health organization that indicates that the health organization's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its Authorized Control Level RBC but less than its Regulatory Action Level RBC;

(2) Notification by the commissioner to a health organization of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), provided the health organization does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under Section 7;

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, the health organization challenges an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), the notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge;

(4) The failure of the health organization to file an RBC report by the filing date, unless the health organization has provided an explanation for the failure that is satisfactory to the commissioner and has cured the failure within ten (10) days after the filing date;

(5) The failure of the health organization to submit an RBC plan to the commissioner within the time period set forth in Section 3C;

(6) Notification by the commissioner to the health organization that:

(a) The RBC plan or revised RBC plan submitted by the health organization is, in the judgment of the commissioner, unsatisfactory; and

(b) Notification constitutes a Regulatory Action Level Event with respect to the health organization, provided the health organization has not challenged the determination under Section 7;

(7) If, pursuant to Section 7, the health organization challenges a determination by the commissioner under Paragraph (6), the notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge;

(8) Notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the health organization has failed to adhere to its RBC plan or revised RBC plan, but only if the failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the health organization to eliminate the Company Action Level Event in accordance with its RBC plan or revised RBC plan and the commissioner has so stated in the notification, provided the health organization has not challenged the determination under Section 7; or

(9) If, pursuant to Section 7, the health organization challenges a determination by the commissioner under Paragraph (8), the notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge.

B. In the event of a Regulatory Action Level Event the commissioner shall:

(1) Require the health organization to prepare and submit an RBC plan or, if applicable, a revised RBC plan;

(2) Perform such examination or analysis as the commissioner deems necessary of the assets, liabilities and operations of the health organization including a review of its RBC plan or revised RBC plan; and

(3) Subsequent to the examination or analysis, issue an order specifying such corrective actions as the commissioner shall determine are required (a "corrective order").

C. In determining corrective actions, the commissioner may take into account factors the commissioner deems relevant with respect to the health organization based upon the commissioner's examination or analysis of the assets, liabilities and operations of the health organization, including, but not limited to, the results of any sensitivity tests undertaken pursuant to the RBC instructions. The RBC plan or revised RBC plan shall be submitted:

(1) Within forty-five (45) days after the occurrence of the Regulatory Action Level Event;

(2) If the health organization challenges an adjusted RBC report pursuant to Section 7 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner within forty-five (45) days after the notification to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge; or

(3) If the health organization challenges a revised RBC plan pursuant to Section 7 and the challenge is not frivolous in the judgment of the commissioner, within forty-five (45) days after the notification to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge.

D. The commissioner may retain actuaries and investment experts and other consultants as may be necessary in the judgment of the commissioner to review the health organization's RBC plan or revised RBC plan, examine or analyze the assets, liabilities and operations (including contractual relationships) of the health organization and formulate the corrective order with respect to the health organization. The fees, costs and expenses relating to consultants shall be borne by the affected health organization or such other party as directed by the commissioner.

Section 5. Authorized Control Level Event

A. "Authorized Control Level Event" means any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC report by the health organization that indicates that the health organization's total adjusted capital is greater than or equal to its Mandatory Control Level RBC but less than its Authorized Control Level RBC;

(2) The notification by the commissioner to the health organization of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), provided the health organization does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under Section 7;

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, the health organization challenges an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge;

(4) The failure of the health organization to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to a corrective order (provided the health organization has not challenged the corrective order under Section 7); or

(5) If the health organization has challenged a corrective order under Section 7 and the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the challenge or modified the corrective order, the failure of the health organization to respond, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, to the corrective order subsequent to rejection or modification by the commissioner.

B. In the event of an Authorized Control Level Event with respect to a health organization, the commissioner shall:

(1) Take such actions as are required under Section 4 regarding a health organization with respect to which an Regulatory Action Level Event has occurred; or

(2) If the commissioner deems it to be in the best interests of the policyholders and creditors of the health organization and of the public, take such actions as are necessary to cause the health organization to be placed under regulatory control under [insert reference to relevant health organization rehabilitation and liquidation act]. In the event the commissioner takes such actions, the Authorized Control Level Event shall be deemed sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under [insert same reference], and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers and duties with respect to the health organization as are set forth in [insert same reference]. In the event the commissioner takes actions under this paragraph pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the health organization shall be entitled to such protections as are afforded to health organizations under the provisions of Section [insert reference] pertaining to summary proceedings.

Section 6. Mandatory Control Level Event

A. "Mandatory Control Level Event" means any of the following events:

(1) The filing of an RBC report which indicates that the health organization's total adjusted capital is less than its Mandatory Control Level RBC;

(2) Notification by the commissioner to the health organization of an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), provided the health organization does not challenge the adjusted RBC report under Section 7; or

(3) If, pursuant to Section 7, the health organization challenges an adjusted RBC report that indicates the event in Paragraph (1), notification by the commissioner to the health organization that the commissioner has, after a hearing, rejected the health organization's challenge.

B. In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event, the commissioner shall take such actions as are necessary to place the health organization under regulatory control under [insert reference to relevant health organization rehabilitation and liquidation act]. In that event, the Mandatory Control Level Event shall be deemed sufficient grounds for the commissioner to take action under [insert same reference], and the commissioner shall have the rights, powers and duties with respect to the health organization as are set forth in [insert same reference]. If the commissioner takes actions pursuant to an adjusted RBC report, the health organization shall be entitled to the protections of Section [insert reference] pertaining to summary proceedings. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the commissioner may forego action for up to ninety (90) days after the Mandatory Control Level Event if the commissioner finds there is a reasonable expectation that the Mandatory Control Level Event may be eliminated within the ninety-day period.

Drafting Note: States may want to consider allowing a health organization that is not writing new business by order of the commissioner to run-off its existing business under the supervision of the commissioner. The committee does not necessarily recommend this approach, but does acknowledge that there are states that use this approach when the possibility of harm to the policyholders and the public due to the run-off is minimal.

Section 7. Hearings

Upon the occurrence of any of the following events the health organization shall have the right to a confidential departmental hearing, on a record, at which the health organization may challenge any determination or action by the commissioner. The health organization shall notify the commissioner of its request for a hearing within five (5) days after the notification by the commissioner under Subsection A, B, C or D. Upon receipt of the health organization's request for a hearing, the commissioner shall set a date for the hearing, which shall be no less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days after the date of the health organization's request. The events include:

A. Notification to a health organization by the commissioner of an adjusted RBC report;

B. Notification to a health organization by the commissioner that:

(1) The health organization's RBC plan or revised RBC plan is unsatisfactory; and

(2) Notification constitutes a Regulatory Action Level Event with respect to the health organization;

C. Notification to a health organization by the commissioner that the health organization has failed to adhere to its RBC plan or revised RBC plan and that the failure has a substantial adverse effect on the ability of the health organization to eliminate the Company Action Level Event with respect to the health organization in accordance with its RBC plan or revised RBC plan; or

D. Notification to a health organization by the commissioner of a corrective order with respect to the health organization.

Section 8. Confidentiality; Prohibition on Announcements, Prohibition on Use in Ratemaking

A. All RBC reports (to the extent the information is not required to be set forth in a publicly available annual statement schedule) and RBC plans (including the results or report of any examination or analysis of a health organization performed pursuant to this statute and any corrective order issued by the commissioner pursuant to examination or analysis) with respect to a domestic health organization or foreign health organization that are in the possession or control of the Department of Insurance shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(1) May share documents, materials or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A, with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, with the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal and international law enforcement authorities, provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material or other information;

(2) May receive documents, materials or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, from the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information; and

(3) [Optional provision] May enter into agreements governing sharing and use of information consistent with this subsection.

Drafting Note: The language in Subsection C(1) assumes the recipient has the authority to protect the applicable confidentiality or privilege, but does not address the verification of that authority, which would presumably occur in the context of a broader information sharing agreement.

D. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Paragraph (3).

E. It is the judgment of the legislature that the comparison of a health organization's total adjusted capital to any of its RBC levels is a regulatory tool which may indicate the need for corrective action with respect to the health organization, and is not intended as a means to rank health organizations generally. Therefore, except as otherwise required under the provisions of this Act, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating or placing before the public, or causing, directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public, in a newspaper, magazine or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter or poster, or over a radio or television station, or in any other way, an advertisement, announcement or statement containing an assertion, representation or statement with regard to the RBC levels of any health organization, or of any component derived in the calculation, by any health organization, agent, broker or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is therefore prohibited; provided, however, that if any materially false statement with respect to the comparison regarding a health organization's total adjusted capital to its RBC levels (or any of them) or an inappropriate comparison of any other amount to the health organizations' RBC levels is published in any written publication and the health organization is able to demonstrate to the commissioner with substantial proof the falsity of the statement, or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, then the health organization may publish an announcement in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

F. It is the further judgment of the legislature that the RBC instructions, RBC reports, adjusted RBC reports, RBC plans and revised RBC plans are intended solely for use by the commissioner in monitoring the solvency of health organizations and the need for possible corrective action with respect to health organizations and shall not be used by the commissioner for ratemaking nor considered or introduced as evidence in any rate proceeding nor used by the commissioner to calculate or derive any elements of an appropriate premium level or rate of return for any line of insurance that a health organization or any affiliate is authorized to write.

Section 9. Supplemental Provisions; Rules; Exemption

A. The provisions of this Act are supplemental to any other provisions of the laws of this state, and shall not preclude or limit any other powers or duties of the commissioner under such laws, including, but not limited to, [cite rehabilitation and liquidation law and law pertaining to health organizations in hazardous financial condition].

B. The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules necessary for the implementation of this Act.

C. The commissioner may exempt from the application of this Act a domestic health organization that:

(1) Writes direct business only in this state;

(2) Assumes no reinsurance in excess of five percent (5%) of direct premium written; and

(3) Writes direct annual premiums for comprehensive medical business of [$X] or less; or

(4) Is a limited health service organization that covers less than [X] lives.

Drafting Note: It is the drafters' intent that the domiciliary commissioner have the ability to exempt certain health organizations doing business only within the commissioner's jurisdiction. The intent is to limit this exemption to health organizations that do not write in excess of $2,000,000 in annual premiums and limited health service organizations that cover less than 2,000 lives.

Section 10. Foreign Health Organizations

A. (1) A foreign health organization shall, upon the written request of the commissioner, submit to the commissioner an RBC report as of the end of the calendar year just ended the later of:

(a) The date an RBC report would be required to be filed by a domestic health organization under this Act; or

(b) Fifteen (15) days after the request is received by the foreign health organization.

(2) A foreign health organization shall, at the written request of the commissioner, promptly submit to the commissioner a copy of any RBC plan that is filed with the insurance commissioner of any other state.

B. In the event of a Company Action Level Event, Regulatory Action Level Event or Authorized Control Level Event with respect to a foreign health organization as determined under the RBC statute applicable in the state of domicile of the health organization (or, if no RBC statute is in force in that state, under the provisions of this Act), if the insurance commissioner of the state of domicile of the foreign health organization fails to require the foreign health organization to file an RBC plan in the manner specified under that state's RBC statute (or, if no RBC statute is in force in that state, under Section 3 of this Act), the commissioner may require the foreign health organization to file an RBC plan with the commissioner. In such event, the failure of the foreign health organization to file an RBC plan with the commissioner shall be grounds to order the health organization to cease and desist from writing new insurance business in this state.

Drafting Note: Nothing in this section should be construed as limiting the commissioner's authority to regulate the health insurance market in his or her state. It is not the intention of the working group to infer that the commissioner is required to accept an RBC plan filed with the domiciliary commissioner by a health organization, especially given the potential for statutory or regulatory discretion discussed in the drafting note in Section 3.

C. In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event with respect to a foreign health organization, if no domiciliary receiver has been appointed with respect to the foreign health organization under the rehabilitation and liquidation statute applicable in the state of domicile of the foreign health organization, the commissioner may make application to the [cite appropriate state court] permitted under the [cite rehabilitation and liquidation statute] with respect to the liquidation of property of foreign health organizations found in this state, and the occurrence of the Mandatory Control Level Event shall be considered adequate grounds for the application.

Section 11. Immunity

There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action shall arise against, the commissioner or the insurance department or its employees or agents for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this Act.

Section 12. Severability Clause

If any provision of this Act, or its application to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, that determination shall not affect the provisions or applications of this Act that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to that end the provisions of this Act are severable.

Section 13. Notices

All notices by the commissioner to a health organization that may result in regulatory action under this Act shall be effective upon dispatch if transmitted by registered or certified mail, or in the case of any other transmission shall be effective upon the health organization's receipt of notice.

Section 14. Phase-In Provision

For RBC reports required to be filed by health organizations with respect to 1998, the following requirements shall apply in lieu of the provisions of Section 3, 4, 5 and 6:

A. In the event of a Company Action Level Event with respect to a domestic health organization, the commissioner shall take no regulatory action under this Act.

B. In the event of an Regulatory Action Level Event under Section 4A(1), (2) or (3) the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 3.

C. In the event of an Regulatory Action Level Event under Section 4A(4), (5), (6), (7), (8) or (9) or an Authorized Control Level Event, the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 4 with respect to the health organization.

D. In the event of a Mandatory Control Level Event with respect to a health organization, the commissioner shall take the actions required under Section 5 with respect to the health organization.

Drafting Note: This provision should be included for states that adopt the model law in 1998 for implementation in 1999 (based on 1998 annual statements).

Drafting Note: RBC is designed to interact with other operational requirements and regulatory frameworks that exist under state licensure laws. The working group drafted this section under the assumption that the state has a requirement for the filing of a comprehensive business plan in its application requirement. A comprehensive business plan would include some, if not all, of the following: feasibility studies and marketing plan; description of the proposed service area, provider contracts; provider access; plan administration and, if applicable, management contracts; minimum of three years of financial projections; description of any financial guarantees; and a summary of the benefits to be offered (and/or the benefit contracts). States are encouraged to implement these requirements if this information is not part of the application requirement. This section is not intended to limit initial capital to the first year RBC calculation. States should also consider start up losses and other contingencies when determining an appropriate level of initial capital funding for a health organization. A health organization that has just commenced operations and has only partial year data should estimate the initial RBC levels using operating (revenue and expense) projections (considering managed care arrangements) for its first full year (12 months) of managed care operations. The projections, including the risk-based capital requirement, should be the same as those filed as part of a comprehensive business plan that is submitted as part of the application for licensure. The underwriting, credit (capitation risk only), and business risk sections of the first RBC report submitted pursuant to Section 2 of this Act should be completed using the health organization's actual operating data for the period from the commencement of operations until year-end, plus projections for the number of months necessary to provide 12 months of data. The affiliate, asset and portions of the credit risk section that are based on balance sheet information shall be reported using actual data. For subsequent years' reports the RBC results for all of the formula components should be calculated using actual data.

Section 15. Effective Date

This Act shall become effective immediately upon its enactment.

RISK-BASED CAPITAL FOR HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: *This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. RISK-BASED CAPITAL FOR HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS MODEL ACT

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. PROJECT HISTORY - 2009

RISK-BASED CAPITAL FOR HEALTH ORGANIZATIONS MODEL ACT (#315)
TO INCORPORATE THE HEALTH TREND TEST

1. Project Description

To establish a trend test wherein the RBC company action level is triggered when the combined ratio is greater than 105% and the RBC is between 200-300%.

The trend test has been established within the RBC formula but would be considered "Information Only" until states adopt legislation that conforms their statutes to the modifications included in this change to the RBC for Health Organizations Model Act. The major change to the Model Act is to cite the health trend test as a way for the company action level to be triggered.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting Model and States Participating

The Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group was responsible for drafting the revisions of the model. Dennis Julnes (Washington) chaired the Working Group. The following states were members: Alabama, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania, and Texas.

3. Charge Authorizing Project

The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force originally charged the Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group in 2006 with the creation of the health trend test and to consider refinements to the RBC calculations and to maintain the Risk-Based Capital for Health Organizations Model Act.

4. Description of Drafting Process

During a March 5, 2008, conference call of the Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group, the American Academy of Actuaries (AAA) and the Working Group began work to create the Health Trend Test. The AAA worked with blinded data from the NAIC and the default proposal consisted of a HRBC ratio between 200-300% and a combined ratio greater than 105%. The AAA submitted a report containing three proposed tests to the Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group on August 26, 2008. The report proposed three different trend tests, they were:

Trend Test 1: If 200 percent < HRBCbase year ≤ 300 percent and combined ratiobase year > 105 percent
(straw man benchmark trend test)

Trend Test 2: If net income before FIT/(TAC - 2*ACL) ≤ -1, where TAC = total adjusted capital in the base year
ACL = authorized control level (100 percent RBC)

Trend Test 3: If net income before FIT/(TAC -1.5*ACL) ≤ -1

Lou Felice (NY) noted that a change would also need to be made to the RBC for Health Organizations Model Act for the trend test to be enforceable.

5. Description of Due Process

The Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group discussed the report on an October 10, 2008, conference call. The Trend Test 1 proposal for the health RBC formula was released for comment for a 30-day period. A comment letter was received from America's Health Insurance Plans (AHIP) to create a trend test that looks at trends over a time period and not only at one point in time.

The changes to the Health RBC formula for trend test 1 were adopted at the November 12, 2008, conference call of the Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group. At the same time, a model review request to make changes to the RBC for Health Organizations Model Act was also approved. The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force and Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the health RBC trend test formula changes and Request for RBC for Health Organizations Model Act changes at the 2008 Winter National Meeting.

Authorization to consider changes to the RBC for Health Organizations Model Act was given by the Executive (EX) Committee at the 2009 Spring National Meeting. The revised RBC for Health Organizations Model Act language was released for comment on a March 31, 2009, conference call of the Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group. No comments were received, and the Health Risk-Based Capital (E) Working Group adopted the model act changes at the May 7, 2009, Working Group conference call. The Capital Adequacy (E) Task Force and Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the RBC for Health Organizations (E) Model Act changes at the 2009 Summer National Meeting.

6. Significant Issues Raised

There were no serious issues raised with the Model Act.

There were some concerns of the trend test only looked at only one point in time and not at trends over a time period. There were also concerns expressed about the test producing false positive results. The Working Group found that an RBC action level had not resulted in the next year for those companies because of capital infusions.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED WITH PRODUCER CONTROLLED PROPERTY/CASUALTY INSURER ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Short Title

This Act may be cited as the Business Transacted with Producer Controlled Insurer Act.

Section 2. Definitions

As used in this Act:

A. "Accredited state" means a state in which the insurance department or regulatory agency has qualified as meeting the minimum financial regulatory standards promulgated and established from time to time by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).

B. "Control" or "controlled" has the meaning ascribed in [cite insurance law section incorporating NAIC Model Insurance Holding Company Act];

C. "Controlled insurer" means a licensed insurer that is controlled, directly or indirectly, by a producer.

D. "Controlling producer" means a producer who, directly or indirectly, controls an insurer.

E. "Licensed insurer" or "insurer" means a person, firm, association or corporation duly licensed to transact a property/casualty insurance business in this state. The following, among others, are not licensed insurers for the purposes of this Act:

(1) All residual market pools and joint underwriting authorities or associations; and

(2) All captive insurers other than risk retention groups as defined in 15 U.S.C. Section 3901 et seq. and 42 U.S.C. Section 9671 (for the purposes of this Act, captive insurers are insurance companies owned by another organization whose exclusive purpose is to insure risks of the parent organization and affiliated companies or, in the case of groups and associations, insurance organizations owned by the insureds whose exclusive purpose is to insure risks to member organizations and group members and their affiliates).

F. "Producer" means an insurance broker or brokers or any other person, firm, association or corporation, when, for any compensation, commission or other thing of value, the person, firm, association or corporation acts or aids in any manner in soliciting, negotiating or procuring the making of an insurance contract on behalf of an insured other than the person, firm, association or corporation.

Drafting Note: The term "producer" as used in this Act is not intended to include an exclusive agent or any independent agent acting on behalf of the controlled insurer and a subagent or representative of the agent, who acts as such in the solicitation of, negotiation for, or procurement or making of an insurance contract, if the agent is not also acting in the capacity of an insurance broker in the transaction in question. States that define both insurance agent and insurance broker should substitute the term "insurance broker" and an appropriate definition for the term "producer," and rename the Act accordingly.

Section 3. Applicability

This Act shall apply to licensed insurers as defined in Section 2 of this Act, either domiciled in this state or domiciled in a state that is not an accredited state having in effect a substantially similar law. All provisions of the Insurance Holding Company Act, to the extent they are not superseded by this Act, shall continue to apply to all parties within holding company systems subject to this Act.

Section 4. Minimum Standards

A. Applicability of section.

(1) The provisions of this section shall apply if, in any calendar year, the aggregate amount of gross written premium on business placed with a controlled insurer by a controlling producer is equal to or greater than five percent (5%) of the admitted assets of the controlled insurer, as reported in the controlled insurer's quarterly statement filed as of September 30 of the prior year.

(2) Notwithstanding Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the provisions of this section shall not apply if:

(a) The controlling producer:

(i) Places insurance only with the controlled insurer, or only with the controlled insurer and a member or members of the controlled insurer's holding company system, or the controlled insurer's parent, affiliate or subsidiary and receives no compensation based upon the amount of premiums written in connection with such insurance; and

(ii) Accepts insurance placements only from non-affiliated subproducers, and not directly from insureds; and

(b) The controlled insurer, except for insurance business written through a residual market facility such as [cite example], accepts insurance business only from a controlling producer, a producer controlled by the controlled insurer, or a producer that is a subsidiary of the controlled insurer.

B. Required contract provisions. A controlled insurer shall not accept business from a controlling producer and a controlling producer shall not place business with a controlled insurer unless there is a written contract between the controlling producer and the insurer specifying the responsibilities of each party, the contract has been approved by the board of directors of the insurer, and it contains the following minimum provisions:

(1) The controlled insurer may terminate the contract for cause, upon written notice to the controlling producer. The controlled insurer shall suspend the authority of the controlling producer to write business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for the termination.

(2) The controlling producer shall render accounts to the controlled insurer detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges and other fees received by, or owing to, the controlling producer.

(3) The controlling producer shall remit all funds due under the terms of the contract to the controlled insurer on at least a monthly basis. The due date shall be fixed so that premiums or installments thereof collected shall be remitted no later than ninety (90) days after the effective date of a policy placed with the controlled insurer under this contract.

(4) All funds collected for the controlled insurer's account shall be held by the controlling producer in a fiduciary capacity, in one or more appropriately identified bank accounts in banks that are members of the Federal Reserve System, in accordance with the provisions of the insurance law as applicable. (However, funds of a controlling producer not required to be licensed in this state shall be maintained in compliance with the requirements of the controlling producer's domiciliary jurisdiction).

(5) The controlling producer shall maintain separately identifiable records of business written for the controlled insurer.

(6) The contract shall not be assigned in whole or in part by the controlling producer.

(7) The controlled insurer shall provide the controlling producer with its underwriting standards, rules and procedures, manuals setting forth the rates to be charged, and the conditions for the acceptance or rejection of risks. The controlling producer shall adhere to the standards, rules, procedures, rates and conditions. The standards, rules, procedures, rates and conditions shall be the same as those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by a producer other than the controlling producer.

(8) The contract shall specify the rates and terms of the controlling producer's commissions, charges or other fees and the purposes for those charges or fees. The rates of the commissions, charges and other fees shall be no greater than those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by producers other than controlling producers. For purposes of this paragraph and Paragraph (7) of this subsection, examples of "comparable business" includes the same lines of insurance, same kinds of insurance, same kinds of risks, similar policy limits and similar quality of business.

(9) If the contract provides that the controlling producer, on insurance business placed with the insurer, is to be compensated contingent upon the insurer's profits on that business, then the compensation shall not be determined and paid until at least five (5) years after the premiums on liability insurance are earned and at least one year after the premiums are earned on any other insurance. In no event shall the commissions be paid until the adequacy of the controlled insurer's reserves on remaining claims has been independently verified pursuant to Subsection D(1) of this section.

(10) The contract shall specify a limit on the controlling producer's writings in relation to the controlled insurer's surplus and total writings. The insurer may establish a different limit for each line or sub-line of business. The controlled insurer shall notify the controlling producer when the applicable limit is approached and shall not accept business from the controlling producer if the limit is reached. The controlling producer shall not place business with the controlled insurer if it has been notified by the controlled insurer that the limit has been reached.

(11) The controlling producer may negotiate but shall not bind reinsurance on behalf of the controlled insurer on business the controlling producer places with the controlled insurer, except that the controlling producer may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the controlled insurer contains underwriting guidelines including, for both reinsurance assumed and ceded, a list of reinsurers with which such automatic agreements are in effect, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

C. Audit Committee. Every controlled insurer shall have an audit committee of the board of directors composed of independent directors. The audit committee shall annually meet with management, the insurer's independent certified public accountants, and an independent casualty actuary or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner to review the adequacy of the insurer's loss reserves.

Drafting Note: Insert the appropriate title for the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term commissioner appears.

D. Reporting requirements.

(1) In addition to any other required loss reserve certification, the controlled insurer shall annually, on April 1 of each year, file with the commissioner an opinion of an independent casualty actuary (or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner) reporting loss ratios for each line of business written and attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding as of year-end (including incurred but not reported) on business placed by the producer; and

(2) The controlled insurer shall annually report to the commissioner the amount of commissions paid to the producer, the percentage such amount represents of the net premiums written and comparable amounts and percentage paid to noncontrolling producers for placements of the same kinds of insurance.

Section 5. Disclosure

Prior to the effective date of the policy, the producer shall deliver written notice to the prospective insured disclosing the relationship between the producer and the controlled insurer; except that, if the business is placed through a subproducer who is not a controlling producer, the controlling producer shall retain in his or her records a signed commitment from the subproducer that the subproducer is aware of the relationship between the insurer and the producer and that the subproducer has or will notify the insured.

Section 6. Penalties

A. (1) If the commissioner believes that the controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with this Act, or any regulation or order promulgated under this Act, after notice and opportunity to be heard, the commissioner may order the controlling producer to cease placing business with the controlled insurer; and

(2) If it is found that because of such material non-compliance the controlled insurer or any policyholder thereof has suffered any loss or damage, the commissioner may maintain a civil action or intervene in an action brought by or on behalf of the insurer or policyholder for recovery of compensatory damages for the benefit of the insurer or policyholder, or other appropriate relief.

B. If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of the controlled insurer has been entered pursuant to [insert state's rehabilitation and liquidation statute], and the receiver appointed under that order believes that the controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with this Act, or any regulation or order promulgated hereunder, and the insurer suffered any loss or damage therefrom, the receiver may maintain a civil action for recovery of damages or other appropriate sanctions for the benefit of the insurer.

C. Nothing contained in this section shall affect the right of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided for in the Insurance Law.

D. Nothing contained in this section is intended to or shall in any manner alter or affect the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors or other third parties.

Section 7. Effective Date

This Act shall take effect on [insert date]. Controlled insurers and controlling producers who are not in compliance with Section 4 of this Act on its effective date shall have sixty (60) days to come into compliance and shall comply with Section 5 beginning with all policies written or renewed on or after [insert a date 60 days after the effective date of this Act].

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2012

BUSINESS TRANSACTED WITH PRODUCER CONTROLLED PROPERTY/CASUALTY INSURER ACT (#325)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

The original request was from the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee (FRSAC), which noted that RRGs are specifically excluded in the definition of "licensed insurer" in the Business Transacted with Producer Controlled Property/Casualty Insurer Act (#325). The FRSAC requested that the Property and Casualty Insurance (C) Committee review Model #325 to determine if the exclusion of RRGs and other residual market mechanisms from the definition of insurer is appropriate and should remain in the model. Until this matter is resolved, FRSAC decided that accredited jurisdictions would not be deemed as failing the Part A Standards applicable to RRGs if they have not adopted a regulatory framework similar to that in Model #325. Ultimately, the Property and Casualty Insurance (C) Committee adopted a revision to the Act removing the exemption for RRGs.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Property and Casualty Insurance (C) Committee. The Risk Retention (C) Working Group did the actual drafting. States participating included: California, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Utah, Vermont and Washington.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The Property and Casualty Insurance (C) Committee was asked by the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee (FRSAC) in 2011 to give its opinion on RRGs being specifically excluded in the definition of "licensed insurer" in Model #325.

Formal permission to open the model for revision was granted by the Executive (EX) Committee on Aug. 12, 2012. The Risk Retention (C) Working Group had already discussed the matter and recommended the removal of the RRG exemption. The Property and Casualty Insurance (C) Committee agreed with this recommendation and adopted this revision to Model #325 on Aug. 13, 2012.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

The Risk Retention (C) Working Group discussed the matter on two conference calls and the Risk Retention Handbook and Model Law Amendment (C) Subgroup discussed it on one conference call. The Working group decided in December 2011 that the Business Transacted with Producer Controlled Property/Casualty Insurer Act (#325) should be applicable to RRGs and the RRG exemption should be removed from the current version of the Act.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

The Risk Retention (C) Working Group discussed the matter on an open conference call on Nov. 4, 2011, and the Risk Retention Handbook and Model Law Amendment (C) Subgroup discussed it on an open conference call on Nov. 17, 2011. The revised law was posted on the Working Group's webpage and distributed to members, interested regulators and interested parties on Nov. 23, 2011. No comments were received and the Working Group held a conference call on Dec. 14, 2011, followed by an electronic vote to approve the recommendation.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response)

The project came about because RRGs were specifically excluded in the definition of "licensed insurer" in Model #325. The NAIC Legal Division researched this issue and concurred that the model excludes RRGs. However, the Legal Division also noted Model #325 excludes other entities such as joint underwriting pools and residual market mechanisms. The Legal Division's conclusion was there may have been an oversight when the model was revised in 1991 to amend the penalty provisions. In the original version of Model #325, the penalty was that the controlling producer would be liable to reimburse the state guaranty fund. However, RRGs are not protected by guaranty funds, thus it seems this is why RRGs, and the other entities not covered by guaranty funds were excluded from the original version of the model. The 1991 revisions to Model #325 changed the penalty provision so the receiver may maintain a civil cause of action against the controlling producer. This would seem to eliminate the original reasoning in excluding RRGs, but the exclusion of RRGs has remained in the model.

NAIC Legal Division also explained that Model #325 refers to RRGs as defined under both the federal Liability Risk Retention Act (LRRA) and the Superfund Amendments Reauthorization Act of 1986 (SARA). The Legal Division stated in a memo that "It appears likely that the drafters of Model #325 may have considered SARA-RRGs and LRRA-RRGs to be two different types of entities, thus causing the distinction in the model." SARA created a separate classification of RRGs dealing with pollution risks for underground storage tanks, and is probably the reason for the separate language originally in Model #325. Working Group members did not think there were any existing RRGs, as defined by SARA, writing exclusively pollution liability insurance.

The Working Group decided Model #325 should apply to all RRGs, even though it is unlikely that RRGs would meet the model's criteria for producer-controlled insurer given that they are owned by their member insureds. The removal of the exemption from the model will allow the Part A Standards of the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program to become effective for captive RRGs, including a requirement that state enactments of a regulatory framework similar to Model #325 apply to RRGs.

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

This project affects an accreditation standard. The Part A Standards of the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program became effective for captive RRGs on January 1, 2011, and included a requirement that Model #325 should apply to RRGs. One of these standards is entitled Producer Controlled Insurers and requires that states provide evidence of a regulatory framework similar to that contained in Model #325 or similar provisions. The FRSAC postponed the applicability of this standard to RRGs until this matter is resolved.

INVESTMENTS IN MEDIUM AND LOWER GRADE OBLIGATIONS MODEL REGULATION

Table of Contents

Section 1. Short Title

This may be cited as the Investments in Medium Grade and Lower Grade Obligations Regulation.

Section 2. Purposes

The purposes of this regulation are:

A. To protect the interests of the insurance-buying public by establishing limitations on the concentration of medium grade and lower grade obligations in which a domestic insurer can invest; and

B. To implement section [insert section of the insurance law specifying allowable investments] of the insurance law by regulating the acts and practices of domestic insurers with respect to the concentration of investments in medium grade and lower grade obligations.

Section 3. Preamble

A. The insurance department is concerned that changes in economic conditions and other market variables could adversely affect domestic insurers having a high concentration of these investments. Accordingly, the Department has concluded that a limitation on the percentage of total admitted assets that a domestic insurer may prudently invest in such obligations is reasonable, necessary and required in order to carry out the Department's responsibilities under relevant statutory law.

B. The department understands that medium grade and lower grade obligations can have a place in a well-diversified portfolio. However, it is also understood that the special risks associated with these investments require a high degree of management even when they are held within an aggregate limit. While this regulation will leave all domestic insurers with authority to invest a substantial portion of their assets in medium grade and lower grade obligations, the prudent management of the attendant risks will remain an essential element of such investing.

Section 4. Definitions

As used in this regulation:

A. "Medium grade obligations" means obligations which are rated three by the Securities Valuation Office of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

B. "Lower grade obligations" means obligations which are rated four, five or six by the Securities Valuation Office of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

C. "Admitted assets" means the amount as of the last day of the most recently concluded annual statement year, computed in the same manner as "admitted assets" in Section [insert section] of the Insurance Law.

D. "Aggregate amount" of medium grade and lower grade obligations means the aggregate statutory statement value.

E. "Institution" means a corporation, a joint-stock company, an association, a trust, a business partnership, a business joint venture or similar entity.

Section 5. Provisions

A. A domestic insurer shall not acquire, directly or indirectly, a medium grade or lower grade obligation of an institution if, after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of all medium grade and lower grade obligations then held by the domestic insurer would exceed twenty percent (20%) of its admitted assets provided that no more than ten percent (10%) of its admitted assets consists of obligations rated four, five or six by the Securities Valuation Office; and no more than three percent (3%) of its admitted assets consists of obligations rated five or six by the Securities Valuation Office, and no more than one percent (1%) of its admitted assets consists of obligations rated six by the Securities Valuation Office. Attaining or exceeding the limit of any one category shall not preclude an insurer from acquiring obligations in other categories subject to the specific and multi-category limits.

B. A domestic insurer shall not invest more than an aggregate of one percent (1%) of its admitted assets in medium grade obligations issued, guaranteed or insured by any one institution nor may it invest more than one half of one percent (.5%) of its admitted assets in lower grade obligations issued, guaranteed or insured by any one institution. In no event, however, may a domestic insurer invest more than one percent (1%) of its admitted assets in any medium or lower grade obligations issued, guaranteed or insured by any one institution.

C. Nothing contained in this regulation shall prohibit a domestic insurer from acquiring obligations which it has committed to acquire if the insurer would have been permitted to acquire that obligation pursuant to this regulation on the date on which the insurer committed to purchase that obligation.

D. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a domestic insurer may acquire an obligation of an institution in which the insurer already has one or more obligations, if the obligation is acquired in order to protect an investment previously made in the obligations of the institution; provided that all such acquired obligations shall not exceed one-half of one percent (.5%) of the insurer's admitted assets.

E. Nothing contained in this regulation shall prohibit a domestic insurer from acquiring an obligation as a result of a restructuring of a medium or lower grade obligation already held.

F. Nothing contained in this regulation shall require a domestic insurer to sell or otherwise dispose of an obligation legally acquired prior to the effective date of this regulation.

G. The board of directors of a domestic insurance company that acquires or invests, directly or indirectly, more than two percent (2%) of its admitted assets in medium grade and lower grade obligations of an institution, shall adopt a written plan for the making of such investments. The plan, in addition to guidelines with respect to the quality of the issues invested in, shall contain diversification standards including, but not limited to, standards for issuer, industry, duration, liquidity and geographic location.

This regulation shall take effect on [insert date].

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

REDOMESTICATION MODEL BILL

Table of Contents

An Act to provide a means whereby any insurer organized under the laws of any other state may become a domestic insurer; to provide a means for any domestic insurer to transfer its domicile to another state; and to provide a means for the continuation of a certificate of authority and other approvals pertaining to a foreign insurer that transfers its corporate domicile to another state by merger or consolidation or any other lawful method.

Section 1. Approval as a Domestic Insurer

An insurer that is organized under the laws of any other state and is admitted to do business in this state for the purpose of writing insurance may become a domestic insurer by complying with all of the requirements of law relative to the organization and licensing of a domestic insurer of the same type and by designating its principal place of business at a place in this state. The domestic insurer will be entitled to like certificates and licenses to transact business in this state, and shall be subject to the authority and jurisdiction of this state.

Section 2. Conversion to Foreign Insurer

A domestic insurer may, upon the approval of the commissioner of insurance, transfer its domicile to any other state in which it is admitted to transact the business of insurance, and upon such a transfer shall cease to be a domestic insurer, and shall be admitted to this state if qualified as a foreign insurer. The commissioner of insurance shall approve the proposed transfer unless he or she determines the transfer is not in the interest of the policyholders of this state.

Section 3. Effects of Redomestication

The certificate of authority, agents appointments and licenses, rates and other items which the commissioner of insurance allows, in his or her discretion, that are in existence at the time an insurer licensed to transact the business of insurance in this state transfers its corporate domicile to this or any other state by merger, consolidation or any other lawful method shall continue in full force and effect upon transfer if the insurer remains duly qualified to transact the business of insurance in this state. All outstanding policies of a transferring insurer shall remain in full force and effect and need not be endorsed as to the new name of the company or its new location unless so ordered by the commissioner of insurance. A transferring insurer shall file new policy forms with the commissioner of insurance on or before the effective date of the transfer, but may use existing policy forms with appropriate endorsements if allowed by, and under such conditions as approved by, the commissioner of insurance. However, every transferring insurer shall notify the commissioner of insurance of the details of the proposed transfer and shall file promptly any resulting amendments to corporate documents filed or required to be filed with the commissioner of insurance.

Section 4. Authority of Promulgate Rules and Regulations

The commissioner of insurance of this state may promulgate rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of this Act.

.MODEL INDEMNITY CONTRACTS ACT

Editor's Note: These laws are generally referred to as "Reciprocal Insurance" or "Inter-Insurance."

Table of Contents

An Act Authorizing and Regulating Certain Classes of indemnity Contracts Empowering Corporations to Make Such Contracts and Fixing Certain Fees, and the Penalty for Violation Thereof.

Section 1. Authority

Individuals, partnerships and corporations of this state, hereby designated subscribers, are authorized to exchange reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts with each other, or with individuals, partnerships and corporations of other states and countries in which they are authorized or not forbidden to do business, providing indemnity among themselves from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of the laws, excepting life or accident and health insurance.

Section 2. Execution By Attorney

The contracts may be executed by an attorney, agent or other representative, herein designated "attorney," duly authorized and acting for the subscribers.

Section 3. Filing of Declaration

Subscribers so contracting among themselves shall through their attorney file with the insurance commissioner of this state a declaration verified by the oath of the attorney, setting forth:

A. The name or title of the office at which the subscribers propose to exchange indemnity contracts. The name or title shall not be so similar to any other name or title adopted by a similar organization or by any insurance corporation or association as in the opinion of the insurance commissioner is calculated to result in confusion or deception;

B. The kind or kinds of insurance to be effected or exchanged;

C. A copy of the form of policy contract or agreement under or by which insurance is to be effected or exchanged;

D. A copy of the form of power of attorney or other authority of the attorney under which insurance is to be effected or exchanged. The form shall contain a provision authorizing the attorney for and on behalf of the subscribers to file the written instruments prescribed in Section 4;

E. The location of the office or offices from which the contracts or agreements are to be issued; and

F. That applications have been made for indemnity upon at least 100 separate risks aggregating not less than $1,500,000 as represented by executed contracts or bona fide applications to become concurrently effective, or, in case of liability or compensation insurance, covering a total payroll of not less than $1,500,000.

Section 4. Instrument in Writing for Lawsuits

Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for by Section 3, the attorney shall file with the insurance commissioner an instrument in writing executed by the attorney for the subscribers, conditioned that upon the issuance of the certificate of authority provided for in Section 10, in all suits in this state arising out of such policies, contracts or agreements, action may be brought in the county in which the insured property is situated and service of process may be had upon the insurance commissioner. This service shall be valid and binding upon all subscribers exchanging at any time reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts through the attorney. Three (3) copies of the process shall be served and the insurance commissioner shall file one copy, forward one copy to the attorney and return one copy with his admission of service.

Section 5. Maximum Amount of Indemnity

There shall be filed with the insurance commissioner of this state by the attorney a statement under the oath of the attorney showing the maximum amount of indemnity upon any single risk and the attorney shall, whenever and as often as shall be required, file with the insurance commissioner a statement verified by his oath to the effect that he or she has examined the commercial rating of the subscribers as shown by the reference book of a commercial agency having at least 100,000 subscribers, and that from the examination or from other information in the attorney's possession it appears that no subscriber has assumed on any single risk an amount greater than ten percent (10%) of the net worth of the subscriber.

Section 6. Commissioner Examine

Upon the filing of the foregoing papers it shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to examine and pass upon the same and if found satisfactory to issue a license.

Section 7. Reserves

There shall at all times be maintained as a reserve a sum in cash or convertible securities equal to fifty percent (50%) of the net annual deposits collected and credited to the accounts of the subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for longer periods. Net annual deposits shall be construed to mean the advance payments of subscribers after deducting the amounts specifically provided in the subscribers' agreements, for expenses. The sum shall at no time be less than $25,000, and if at any time fifty percent (50%) of the deposits so collected and credited shall not equal that amount, then the subscribers, or their attorney for them, shall make up any deficiency.

Section 8. Report by Attorney

The attorney shall make a report to the insurance commissioner for each calendar year on or before [insert date] showing the financial condition of affairs at the office where the contracts are issued and shall furnish any additional information and reports required. The attorney shall not be required to furnish for filing the names and addresses of any subscribers nor the loss ratio. The business affairs and assets of the organizations shall be subject to examination by the insurance commissioner.

Section 9. Exchange Insurance Contracts

A corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state shall, in addition to the rights, powers and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority to exchange insurance contracts of the kind and character herein mentioned. The right to exchange contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which the corporations are organized and as much granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

Section 10. Exchange Indemnity Contracts

An attorney, agent or representative who shall, except for purpose of applying for certificate of authority as herein provided, exchange any contracts of indemnity of the kind and character specified in this Act, or directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate any applications for same without first complying with the foregoing provisions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be subjected to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

Section 11. Certificate of Authority

Each attorney by or through whom is issued any policies of or contracts for indemnity of the character referred to in this Act shall procure from the insurance commissioner annually a certificate of authority stating that all the requirements of this Act have been complied with, and upon such compliance and payment of the fees required by this Act, the insurance commissioner shall issue a certificate. The insurance commissioner may for cause revoke any certificate of authority.

Section 12. Annual License Fee

An attorney, in lieu of all taxes, shall pay to the state with the filing of each annual report, as an annual license fee [insert number] percent of the gross premiums of deposits for the preceding calendar year, deducting all amounts returned to subscribers or credited to their accounts other than for losses; and shall pay a filing fee of $[insert number].

Section 13. Insurance Law Exceptions

Except as herein provided, no insurance law of this state shall apply to the exchange of indemnity contracts unless they are specially mentioned.

Editor's Note: In 1918, the NAIC adopted the following report, which constituted amendments to the 1912 Model Indemnity Contracts Act.

Reciprocal or Inter-Insurance

To the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners:

Your Committee on Laws and Legislation, to which was referred the question of examining the laws of the various States pertaining to the exchange of reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts with a view to making recommendations or changes in the Commissioner's Bill, submits the following report:

Your committee does not deem it advisable at this time to recommend legislation in the form of a new bill, but suggests certain amendments to the Commissioner's Bill which will strengthen that measure.

We recommend that the Commissioner's Bill in the form adopted be amended as follows:

First, so that subscribers exchanging fire insurance contracts in the name of an exchange have assets on hand at all times available for the payment of losses a sum of not less than $50,000.

Second, that the various forms of liability and workmen's compensation insurance exchanges have assets on hand at all times available for the payment of losses the sum of $100,000.

Third, the attorney in fact in the name of the exchange shall have on hand at all times assets in cash or securities authorized by the laws of the state in which the principal office of the exchange is located, for the investment of funds of insurance companies doing the same kind of business, an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the net unearned premiums or deposit collected and credited to the account of the subscribers, or fifty percent (50%) of the net annual advance premium or deposit collected and credited to the account of subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for a longer period. In addition to the foregoing sum there shall be on hand at all times in cash or such securities, assets equal to all liabilities on account of outstanding losses and other accrued obligations of such exchange.

Fourth, the attorney in fact may purchase reinsurance upon the risk of any subscriber at the exchange. No attorney in fact shall, however, grant reinsurance upon any risk or risks insured by any other insurance carrier. Any exchange may, however, consolidate with or reinsure its entire business in another exchange upon the approval of the insurance commissioners of the States wherein the exchanges are located.

Fifth, all claims for money advanced by the attorney in fact or subscribers shall be deferred to all claims or other obligations arising under the policies and all other obligations imposed by this law.

The following clause is submitted for the last clause of the Commissioner's Bill:

Except as herein provided, no law relating to fire insurance shall apply to reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts or the execution thereof, unless they are therein specifically mentioned.

MODEL INDEMNITY CONTRACT ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

MODEL INDEMNITY CONTRACT ACT

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

CONSUMER CREDIT INSURANCE MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

BE IT ENACTED BY THE STATE OF [insert state].

[adapt caption and formal portions to local requirements and statutes]

Section 1. Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to promote the public welfare by regulating consumer credit insurance. Nothing in this Act is intended to prohibit or discourage reasonable competition. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed.

Section 2. Scope and Definitions

A. Citation and Scope

(1) This Act may be cited as the "Consumer Credit Insurance Act."

(2) All consumer credit insurance issued or sold in connection with loans or other credit transactions for personal, family or household purposes shall be subject to the provisions of this Act, except:

(a) Insurance written in connection with a credit transaction that is:

(i) Secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust; and

(ii) Made to finance the purchase of real property or the construction of a dwelling thereon, or to refinance a prior credit transaction made for such a purpose;

(b) Insurance sold as an isolated transaction on the part of the insurer and not related to an agreement or a plan for insuring debtors of the creditor.

(c) Insurance for which no identifiable charge is made to the debtor.

(d) Insurance on accounts receivable.

B. Definitions

For the purpose of this Act:

(1) "Commissioner" means the insurance supervisory authority of the state;

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

(2) "Compensation" means commissions, dividends, retrospective rate credits, service fees, expense allowances or reimbursements, gifts, furnishing of equipment, facilities, goods or services, or any other form of remuneration resulting directly from the sale of consumer credit insurance;

(3) "Consumer credit insurance" is a general term used in this Act to refer to any or all of credit life insurance, credit accident and health insurance, credit unemployment insurance or any other insurance specifically defined in this Act;

(4) "Credit accident and health insurance" means insurance on a debtor to provide indemnity for payments or debt becoming due on a specific loan or other credit transaction while the debtor is disabled as defined in the policy;

(5) "Credit life insurance" means insurance on a debtor or debtors, pursuant to or in connection with a specific loan or other credit transaction, to provide for satisfaction of a debt, in whole or in part, upon the death of an insured debtor;

(6) "Credit transaction" means any transaction by the terms of which the repayment of money loaned or loan commitment made, or payment for goods, services or properties sold or leased, is to be made at a future date or dates;

(7) "Credit unemployment insurance" means insurance on a debtor to provide indemnity for payments or debt becoming due on a specific loan or other credit transaction while the debtor is involuntarily unemployed as defined in the policy;

(8) "Creditor" means the lender of money or vendor or lessor of goods, services or property, rights or privileges, for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction, or any successor to the right, title or interest of any such lender, vendor, or lessor, and an affiliate, associate or subsidiary of any of them or any director, officer or employee of any of them or any other person in any way associated with any of them;

(9) "Debtor" means a borrower of money or a purchaser or lessee of goods, services, property, rights or privileges for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction;

(10) "Gross debt" means the sum of the remaining payments owed to the creditor by the debtor;

(11) "Identifiable charge" means a charge for a type of consumer credit insurance that is made to debtors having such insurance and not made to debtors not having such insurance; it includes a charge for insurance that is disclosed in the credit or other instrument furnished to the debtor which sets out the financial elements of the credit transaction and any difference in the finance, interest, service or other similar charge made to debtors who are in like circumstances except for the insured or non-insured status of the debtor or of the property used as security for the credit transaction;

(12) "Insurer" means insurer as defined in [insert section of Code];

(13) "Net debt" means the amount necessary to liquidate the remaining debt in a single lump-sum payment, excluding all unearned interest and other unearned finance charges;

(14) "Open-end credit" means credit extended by a creditor under an agreement in which:

(a) The creditor reasonably contemplates repeated transactions;

(b) The creditor imposes a finance charge from time to time on an outstanding unpaid balance; and

(c) The amount of credit that may be extended to the debtor during the term of the agreement (up to any limit set by the creditor) is generally made available to the extent that any outstanding balance is repaid.

Drafting Note: The definition of open-end credit should be controlled by applicable lending laws in each state and the definition contained in this bill should be consistent with that contained in the applicable lending law. This definition is consistent with that contained in Federal Truth-in-Lending Regulation Z, which applies in most states. In a state having a controlling lending law containing an inconsistent definition, the definition in this bill should be modified to be consistent with the definition in that state's lending law.

Drafting Note: A concern has been raised that the definition of "consumer credit insurance" not be so broad as to exclude coverage of consumer credit insurance under the various state guaranty funds. Specifically, the NAIC's Post-Assessment Property and Liability Insurance Guaranty Model Act specifically excludes coverage for "credit insurance, vendor's single interest insurance, or collateral protection insurance or any similar insurance protecting the interests of a creditor arising out of a creditor-debtor transaction." That model further comments that: ""Credit insurance" as used here is intended to mean insurance on accounts receivable." The use of the phrase "consumer credit insurance" in this Consumer Credit Insurance Model Act is intended to differentiate typical forms of insurance made available to consumers from those coverages excluded from the model property and casualty guaranty fund act.

Drafting Note: The definitions in Paragraphs (6), (8), and (9) include terms to allow the writing of Consumer Credit Insurance on leases. States may wish to reword these definitions with the references to leases removed if they feel Consumer Credit Insurance should not be written on leases.

Section 3. Types of Consumer Credit Insurance

The types of consumer credit insurance defined in Section 2 may each be written separately or in combination with other types of consumer credit insurance on an individual policy or group policy basis. The Commissioner may by regulation prohibit or limit any combination.

Drafting Note: States may wish to consider including provisions which call for discounts when policies are sold on a package basis.

Section 4. Amount of Consumer Credit Insurance

A. Credit Life Insurance

(1) The amount of credit life insurance shall at no time exceed the greater of the actual net debt or the scheduled net debt.

(2) If the coverage is written on the actual net debt, then the amount payable at the time of loss may not be less than the actual net debt less any payments more than two (2) months overdue.

(3) If the coverage is written on the scheduled net debt, then the amount payable at the time of loss shall be:

(a) If the actual net debt is less than or equal to the scheduled net debt, then the scheduled net debt;

(b) If the actual net debt is greater than the scheduled net debt but less than or equal to the scheduled net debt plus two (2) months of payments, then the actual net debt; or

(c) If the actual net debt is greater than the scheduled net debt plus two months of payments, then the scheduled net debt plus two months of payments.

Drafting Note: If desired, the following provisions may be added as Paragraphs (4),(5), (6), (7) and (8).

(4) If a premium is assessed to the debtor on a monthly basis and is based on the actual net debt, then the amount payable at the time of loss shall be the actual net debt on the date of death. When such premium is computed on the basis of a balance which does not include accrued past due interest, then the amount payable at the time of loss shall not be less than the actual net debt less any accrued interest more than two (2) months past due.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph (1) of this subsection, insurance on agricultural loan commitments, not exceeding one year in duration, may be written up to the amount of the loan commitment, on a non-decreasing or level term plan.

(6) Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph (1) of this subsection, insurance on educational loan commitments may be written for net unpaid indebtedness plus any unused commitment.

(7) Coverage may be written for less than the net debt by the following methods:

(a) The amount of insurance may be the lesser of a stated level amount and the amount determined by Paragraph (2) of this subsection;

(b) The amount of insurance may be the lesser of a stated level amount and the amount determined by Paragraph (3) of this subsection;

(c) The amount of insurance may be a constant percentage of the amount determined by Paragraph (2) of this subsection;

(d) The amount of insurance may be a constant percentage of the amount determined by Paragraph (3) of this subsection; or

(e) In the absence of any preexisting condition exclusions, the amount of insurance payable in the event of death due to natural causes may be limited to the balance as it existed six (6) months prior to the date of death if:

(i) There has been one or more increase in the outstanding balance during the six-month period, other than those due to the accrual of interest or late charges; and

(ii) Evidence of individual insurability has not been required during the six-month period.

(8) Other patterns of insurance may be used which are not inconsistent with the rest of this subsection.

Drafting Note: States allowing consumer credit insurance on leases may want to consider adding language to this section which specifically defines acceptable amounts of insurance for leases. Some possible variations would include:

1. Coverage providing for the payment in a lump sum of the remaining lease payments;

2. Coverage providing for the payment in a lump sum of the remaining lease payments plus a stated amount for which the leased property may be purchased at the end of the lease;

3. Coverage providing for the payment as they come due of the lease payments; or

4. Coverage providing for the payment as they come due of the lease payments plus payment at the end of the lease of a stated amount which purchases the leased property.

B. Credit Accident and Health Insurance and Consumer Credit Unemployment Insurance

(1) The total amount of periodic indemnity payable by credit accident and health insurance or credit unemployment insurance in the event of disability or unemployment, as defined in the policy, shall not exceed the aggregate of the periodic scheduled unpaid installments of the gross debt; and the amount of each periodic indemnity payment shall not exceed the original gross debt divided by the number of periodic installments.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph (1), for credit accident and health insurance or credit unemployment insurance written in connection with an open-end credit agreement, the amount of insurance shall not exceed the gross debt which would accrue on that amount using the periodic indemnity. Subject to any policy maximums, the periodic indemnity must not be less than the creditor's minimum repayment schedule.

Section 5. Term of Consumer Credit Insurance

A. Effective Date of Coverage

(1) For consumer credit insurance made available to and elected by the debtor before or contemporaneous with a credit transaction to which the insurance relates, the term of the insurance shall, subject to acceptance by the insurer, commence on the date when the debtor becomes obligated to the creditor except that when evidence of individual insurability is required and such evidence is furnished more than thirty (30) days after the date when the debtor becomes obligated to the creditor, the term of the credit insurance may commence on the date on which the insurance company determines the evidence to be satisfactory.

(2) For insurance coverage made available to and elected by the debtor on a date subsequent to the date of the consumer credit transaction to which the insurance relates, the insurance shall, subject to acceptance by the insurer, commence on a date not earlier than the date the election is made by the debtor nor later than thirty (30) days following the date on which the insurance company accepts the risk for coverage, according to an objective method such as one related to a particular date within a billing or repayment cycle or a calendar month.

Drafting Note: A state may wish to review its existing laws to determine if prompt underwriting action is required of insurers when evidence of insurability is submitted. If no other law imposes such a requirement, one may be inserted as a new paragraph in Subsection 5A.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection, when a group policy provides coverage with respect to debts existing on the policy effective date, the insurance relating to the debt shall not commence before the effective date of the group policy.

(4) In no event shall a charge for insurance be made to the debtor and retained by the creditor or insurer for any time prior to commencement of the consumer credit insurance to which the charge is related.

B. Termination Date of Coverage

(1) The term of any consumer credit insurance shall not extend beyond the termination date specified in the policy. The termination date of insurance may precede, coincide with or follow the scheduled maturity date of the debt to which it relates, subject to any other requirements and restrictions of this Act.

(2) The term of any consumer credit insurance shall not extend more than fifteen (15) days beyond the scheduled maturity date of the debt except when extended without additional cost to the debtor or except when extended pursuant to a written agreement, signed by the debtor, in connection with a variable interest rate credit transaction or a deferral, renewal, refinancing or consolidation of debt.

(3) If the debt is discharged due to renewal, refinancing or consolidation prior to the scheduled termination date of the insurance, any insurance in force shall be terminated before any new insurance may be written in connection with the renewed, refinanced or consolidated debt.

(4) In all cases of termination of insurance prior to the scheduled termination of the insurance, an appropriate refund or credit to the debtor shall be made of any unearned insurance charge paid by the debtor for a term of insurance after the date of the termination, except that no refund is required of a charge made for insurance if the insurance is terminated by performance of the insurer's obligation with respect to the insurance.

(5) An insured debtor may terminate consumer credit insurance at any time by providing advance request to the insurer. The individual policy or group certificate may require that the request be in writing or that the debtor surrender the individual policy or group certificate, or both. The debtor's right to terminate coverage may also be subject to the terms of the credit transaction contract.

Section 6. Disclosure to Debtors and Provisions of Policies and Certificates of Insurance

A. Pre-purchase disclosure. Before the debtor elects to purchase consumer credit insurance in connection with a credit transaction, the following shall be disclosed to the debtor in writing;

(1) That the purchase of consumer credit insurance is optional and not a condition of obtaining credit approval;

(2) If more than one kind of consumer credit insurance is being made available to the debtor, whether the debtor can purchase each kind separately or the multiple coverages only as a package;

(3) The conditions of eligibility;

(4) That, if the consumer has other insurance that covers the risk, he or she may not want or need credit insurance;

(5) That within the first thirty (30) days after receiving the individual policy or group certificate, the debtor may cancel the coverage and have all premium paid by the debtor refunded or credited. Thereafter, the debtor may cancel the policy at any time during the term of the loan and receive a refund of any of the unearned premium. However, only in those instances where insurance is a requirement for the extension of credit, the debtor may be required to offer evidence of alternative insurance acceptable to the creditor at the time of cancellation;

(6) A brief description of the coverage, including a description of the amount, the term, any exceptions, limitations and exclusions, the insured event, any waiting or elimination period, any deductible, any applicable waiver of premium provision, to whom the benefits would be paid and the premium rate for each coverage or for all coverages in a package;

(7) That if the premium or insurance charge is financed, it will be subject to finance charges at the rate applicable to the credit transaction.

B. The disclosures required in Section 6A shall be provided in the following manner:

(1) In connection with consumer credit insurance offered contemporaneously with the extension of credit or offered through direct mail advertisements, disclosure shall be made in writing and presented to the consumer in a clear and conspicuous manner;

(2) In conjunction with the offer of credit insurance subsequent to the extension of credit by other than direct mail advertisements, disclosure may be provided orally so long as written disclosures are provided to the debtor no later than the earlier of:

(a) Ten (10) days after the offer, or

(b) The date any other written material is provided to the debtor.

C. All consumer credit insurance shall be evidenced by an individual policy or a group certificate of insurance which shall be delivered to the debtor.

D. The individual policy or group certificate shall, in addition to other requirements of law, set forth the following:

(1) The name and home office address of the insurer;

(2) The name or names of the debtor or debtors, or, in the case of a group certificate, the identity by name or otherwise of the debtor or debtors;

(3) The premium or amount of payment by the debtor separately for each kind of coverage or for all coverages in a package, except that for open-end loans, the premium rate and the basis of premium calculation (e.g., average daily balance, prior monthly balance) shall be specified;

(4) A full description of the coverage or coverages including the amount and term thereof, and any exceptions, limitation and exclusions;

(5) A statement that the benefits shall be paid to the creditor to reduce or extinguish the unpaid debt and, whenever the amount of insurance benefit exceeds the unpaid debt that any such excess shall be payable to a beneficiary, other than the creditor, named by the debtor, or to the debtor's estate; and

(6) If the scheduled term of insurance is less than the scheduled term of the credit transaction, a statement to that effect on the face of the individual policy or group certificate in not less than ten-point bold face type.

E. Unless the individual policy or group certificate of insurance is delivered to the debtor at the time the debt is incurred, or at such other time that the debtor elects to purchase coverage, a copy of the application for the policy or a notice of proposed insurance, signed by the debtor and setting forth the name and home office address of the insurer, the name or names of the debtor, the premium rate or amount of payment by the debtor for the insurance and the amount, term and a brief description of the coverage provided, shall be delivered to the debtor at the time the debt is incurred or the election to purchase coverage is made. The copy of the application for, or notice of proposed insurance, shall also refer exclusively to insurance coverage, and shall be separate and apart from the loan, sale or other credit statement of account, instrument or agreement, unless the information required by this subsection is prominently set forth therein. Upon acceptance of the insurance by the insurer and within thirty (30) days of the date upon which the debt is incurred or the election to purchase coverage is made, the insurer shall cause the individual policy or group certificate of insurance to be delivered to the debtor. The application or notice of proposed insurance shall state that upon acceptance by the insurer, the insurance shall become effective as provided in Section 5.

F. The application, notice of proposed insurance or certificate may be used to fulfill all of the requirements of Subsection A and Subsection D if it contains all of the information required by those subsections.

G. The debtor has thirty (30) days from the date that he or she receives either the individual policy or the group certificate to review the coverage purchased. At any time within the 30-day period, the debtor may contact the creditor or insurer issuing the policy or certificate and request that the coverage be cancelled. The individual policy or group certificate may require the request to be in writing or that the policy or certificate be returned to the insurer or both. The debtor shall, within thirty (30) days of the request, receive a full refund or credit of all premiums or insurance charges paid by the debtor.

H. If the named insurer does not accept the risk, the debtor shall receive a policy or certificate of insurance setting forth the name and home office address of the substituted insurer and the amount of the premium to be charged, and, if the amount of premium is less than that set forth in the notice of proposed insurance, an appropriate refund shall be made within thirty (30) days. If no insurer accepts the risk, then all premiums paid shall be refunded or credited within thirty (30) days of application to the person entitled thereto.

I. For the purpose of Subsection E of this section, an individual policy or group certificate delivered in conjunction with an open-end consumer credit agreement or any consumer credit insurance requested by the debtor after the date of the debt shall be deemed to be delivered at the time the debt is incurred or election to purchase coverage is made if the delivery occurs within thirty (30) days of the date the insurance is effective.

J. An individual policy or group certificate delivered in conjunction with an open-end credit agreement shall continue from its effective date through the term of the agreement unless the individual policy or group certificate is terminated in accordance with its terms at an earlier date.

Section 7. Filing, Approval and Withdrawal of Forms

A. All policies, certificates of insurance, notices of proposed insurance, disclosure notices, applications for insurance, endorsements and riders delivered or issued for delivery in this state and the schedules of premium rates pertaining thereto shall be filed with the Commissioner before being used.

Drafting Note: Some states may want to have advertising filed, but states should consider relying on safe harbor provisions.

B. The Commissioner shall within thirty (30) days after the filing of any such policies, certificates of insurance, notices of proposed insurance, disclosure notices, applications for insurance, endorsements and riders, disapprove any such form if the benefits provided are not reasonable in relation to the premium charged, or if it contains provisions which are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive or encourage misrepresentation of the coverage, or are contrary to any provision of the Insurance Code or of any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder. If the Commissioner does not disapprove a filing within thirty (30) days, it may be deemed approved.

C. If the Commissioner notifies the insurer that the form is disapproved, it is unlawful thereafter for the insurer to issue or use the form. In such notice, the Commissioner shall specify the reason for disapproval and state that a hearing will be granted within twenty (20) days after request in writing by the insurer. No such policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, nor any application, endorsement or rider, shall be issued or used until the expiration of thirty (30) days after it has been so filed, unless the Commissioner shall give prior written approval.

D. The Commissioner may, at any time after a hearing held not less than twenty (20) days after written notice to the insurer, withdraw approval of any such form on any ground set forth in Subsection B above. The written notice of hearing shall state the reason for the proposed withdrawal.

E. It is not lawful for the insurer to issue forms or use them after the effective date of such withdrawal.

F. If a group policy of consumer credit insurance

(1) Has been delivered in this state before the effective date of this Act; or

(2) Has been or is delivered in another state before or after the effective date of this Act

then the insurer shall be required to file only the group certificate and notice of proposed insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state as specified in Subsections C and E of Section 6 of this Act and such forms shall be approved by the Commissioner if they conform with the requirements specified in these subsections and if the schedules of premium rates applicable to the insurance evidenced by such certificate or notice are not in excess of the insurer's schedules of premium rates filed with the Commissioner; provided, however, the premium rate in effect on existing group policies may be continued until the first policy anniversary date following the date this Act becomes operative as provided in Section 12. However, all other forms specified in Section 7A shall also be filed as specified in this section unless the group policy has been or is delivered in another state which has adopted statutes, regulations, or other provisions similar to this statute. In that event, the forms should be filed for informational purposes. However, the insurer shall be prohibited from using any form filed for informational purposes if the Commissioner subsequently determines that the form is not in substantive compliance with the requirements of this statute.

G. Any order or final determination of the Commissioner under the provisions of this section shall be subject to judicial review.

Drafting Note: This regulatory format applies only to states with a file and use regulatory system. Appropriate modifications will need to be made in states requiring a prior approval, use and file, or no file system.

Section 8. Premiums and Refunds

A. An insurer may revise its schedules of premium rates from time to time, and shall file the revised schedules with the Commissioner. No insurer shall issue any consumer credit insurance policy for which the premium rate exceeds that determined by the schedules of the insurer as then on file with the Commissioner. The Commissioner shall have the authority to promulgate regulations to assure that the premium rates are reasonable in relation to the benefits provided, including the authority to regulate the compensation component of the premium rates.

Drafting Note: In the event that a state wishes to develop a regulatory framework allowing for component rating, the following is suggested language:

Alternative Section 8A:

A. An insurer may revise its schedules of premium rates from time to time, and shall file the revised schedules with the Commissioner. No insurer shall issue any consumer credit insurance policy for which the premium rate exceeds that determined by the schedules of the insurer as then on file with the Commissioner. The Commissioner shall have the authority to promulgate regulations to assure that the premium rates are reasonable in relation to the benefits provided, including the authority to regulate the compensation component of the premium rates. In determining whether the premium rates are reasonable in relation to the benefits provided, the Commissioner shall consider and provide for: actual and expected loss experience, general and administrative expenses, loss settlement and adjustment expenses, reasonable creditor compensation, investment income, the manner in which premiums are charged, and other acquisition costs, reserves, taxes, regulatory license fees and fund assessments, reasonable insurer profit and other relevant data, consistent with generally accepted actuarial standards.

Drafting Note: The NAIC, as a whole, neither endorses nor opposes component rating as the appropriate methodology for developing rates for consumer credit insurance products.

B. Each individual policy or group certificate shall provide for a refund in the event of termination of the insurance prior to the scheduled maturity date of the insurance and upon notice to the insurer. The refund of an amount paid by the debtor for insurance shall be paid or credited promptly to the person entitled thereto; provided however, that the Commissioner shall prescribe a minimum refund and no refund which would be less than such minimum need be made. Refund formulas which any insurer desires to use must develop refunds which are at least as favorable to the debtor as refunds equal to the premium cost of scheduled benefits subsequent to the date of cancellation or termination, computed at the schedule of premium rates in effect on the date of issue. The formula to be used in computing such refund shall be filed with and approved by the Commissioner.

Drafting Note: The above refund requirement can be satisfied by a method commonly referred to as either the Rule of Anticipation or the Actuarial Method. The Commissioner may wish to consider other refund methodologies which meet the above requirement.

C. If a creditor requires a debtor to make any payment for consumer credit insurance and an individual policy or group certificate of insurance is not issued, the creditor shall immediately give written notice to the debtor and shall promptly make an appropriate credit to the account or issue a refund.

D. The amount charged to a debtor for any consumer credit insurance shall not exceed the premiums charged by the insurer, as computed at the time the charge to the debtor is determined.

Drafting Note: Where a state prohibits payments for insurance by the debtor in connection with credit transactions, the following paragraph may be included.

E. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize any payments for insurance now prohibited under any statute, or rule thereunder, governing credit transactions.

Section 9. Issuance of Policies

All policies of consumer credit insurance shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state only by an insurer authorized to engage in the business of insurance therein, and shall be issued only through holders of licenses or authorizations issued by the Commissioner.

Section 10. Claims

A. All claims shall be promptly reported to the insurer or its designated claim representative, and the insurer shall maintain adequate claim files. All claims shall be settled as soon as possible and in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract.

B. All claims shall be paid either by draft drawn upon the insurer, by electronic funds transfer, or by check of the insurer to the order of the claimant to whom payment of the claim is due pursuant to the policy provisions, or upon direction of such claimant to one specified.

C. No plan or arrangement shall be used whereby any person, firm or corporation other than the insurer or its designated claim representative shall be authorized to settle or adjust claims. The creditor shall not be designated as claim representative for the insurer in adjusting claims; provided, that a group policyholder may, by arrangement with the group insurer, draw drafts, checks, or electronic transfers in payment of claims due to the group policyholder subject to audit and review by the insurer.

D. All claims for consumer credit insurance shall be subject to Section [insert code section for the Unfair Claims Settlement Practices Act].

Section 11. Existing Insurance—Choice of Insurer

When consumer credit insurance is required as additional security for any debt; the debtor shall, upon request to the creditor, have the option of furnishing the required amount of insurance through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by the debtor or of procuring and furnishing the required coverage through any insurer authorized to transact an insurance business within this state.

Section 12. Duties of an Insurer

Except as otherwise prohibited by law, duties imposed upon an insurer within this Act may be carried out by a creditor if the creditor is acting as a common law or statutory agent on behalf of the insurer.

Section 13. Enforcement

The Commissioner may, after notice and hearing, issue such rules and regulations as the Commissioner deems appropriate for the supervision of this Act. Whenever the Commissioner finds that there has been a violation of this Act or any rules or regulations issued pursuant thereto, and after written notice thereof and hearing given to the insurer or other person authorized or licensed by the Commissioner, he or she shall set forth the details of the findings together with an order for compliance by a specified date. The order shall be binding on the insurer and other person authorized or licensed by the Commissioner on the date specified unless sooner withdrawn by the Commissioner or a stay thereof has been ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction. The provisions of Sections 5 through 11 of this Act shall not be operative until ninety (90) days after the effective date of this Act, and the Commissioner in his or her discretion may extend by not more than an additional ninety (90) days the initial period within which the provisions of the specified sections shall not be operative. The Commissioner may set forth by regulation prima facie reasonable premium rates, together with corresponding safe-harbor benefit provisions, which premium rates shall be conclusively presumed reasonable in relation to the benefits provided when used for policies containing such benefit provisions.

Section 14. Judicial Review

Any party to the proceeding affected by an order of the Commissioner shall be entitled to judicial review by following the procedure set forth in [insert applicable section].

Section 15. Penalties

In addition to any other penalty provided by law, any person, firm or corporation which violates an order of the Commissioner after it has become final, and while such order is in effect, shall, upon proof thereof to the satisfaction of the court, forfeit and pay to the State of [insert state] a sum not to exceed $[insert amount] which may be recovered in a civil action, except that if such violation is found to be willful, the amount of such penalty shall be a sum not to exceed $[insert amount]. The Commissioner, in his discretion, may revoke or suspend the license or certificate of authority of the person, firm or corporation guilty of such violation. Such order for suspension or revocation shall be upon notice and hearing, and shall be subject to judicial review as provided in Section 13 of this Act.

Section 16. Severability Provision

If any provision of this Act, or the application of such provision to any person or circumstances, shall be held invalid, the remainder of the Act, and the application of such provision to any person or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

CONSUMER CREDIT INSURANCE MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

CONSUMER CREDIT INSURANCE MODEL ACT

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

CREDIT PERSONAL PROPERTY INSURANCE MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Purpose

A. The purposes of this Act are to:

(1) Promote the public welfare by regulating credit personal property insurance;

(2) Create a legal framework within which credit personal property insurance may be written in this state;

(3) Help maintain the separation between creditors and insurers;

(4) Minimize the possibilities of unfair competitive practices in the sale of credit personal property insurance; and

(5) Address the problems arising from reverse competition in credit insurance markets.

B. Nothing in this Act is intended to prohibit or discourage reasonable competition. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed.

Section 2. Scope

A. This Act applies to an insurer or producer transacting credit personal property insurance as defined in this Act.

B. All credit personal property insurance written in connection with credit transactions for personal, family or household purposes is subject to the provisions of this Act, except:

Drafting Note: A state may wish to authorize the commissioner to adopt the consumer protections in this model as a regulation. If so, this model can generally be adopted as a regulation with minor editorial changes.

(1) Transactions involving extensions of credit primarily for business or commercial purposes;

(2) Insurance on motor vehicles designed for highway use and mobile homes;

(3) Insurance written in connection with a credit transaction that is secured by a real estate mortgage or deed of trust;

(4) Creditor-placed insurance;

(5) Title insurance;

(6) Non-filing insurance; and

(7) Insurance purchased by a creditor after repossession or a similar event where the creditor gains possession of the property; and

(8) Insurance for which no identifiable charge is made to or collected from the debtor.

Section 3. Definitions

As used in this Act:

A. "Closed-end credit" means a credit transaction that does not meet the definition of open-end credit.

B. "Collateral" means personal property in which a purchase money security interest is retained, or that is pledged as security for the satisfaction of a debt.

C. "Commissioner" means the insurance supervisory authority of the state.

D. "Compensation" means commission, dividends, retrospective rate credits, service fees, expense allowances or reimbursements, gifts, furnishing of equipment, facilities, goods and services or any other form of remuneration that is paid either directly or indirectly as a result of the sale of credit property insurance.

E. "Credit agreement" means the written document that sets forth the terms of the credit transaction and includes the security agreement.

F. "Credit personal property insurance" means a policy, endorsement, rider, binder, certificate or other instrument or evidence of insurance written in connection with a credit transaction that:

(1) Covers perils to the goods purchased through a credit transaction or used as collateral for a credit transaction and that concerns a creditor's interest in the purchased goods or pledged collateral either in whole or in part; or

(2) Covers perils to goods purchased in connection with an open-end credit transaction.

G. "Credit transaction" means a transaction by which the repayment of money loaned or credit commitment made, or payment of goods, services or properties sold or leased, is to be made at a future date or dates.

H. "Creditor" means the lender of money or vendor or lessor of goods, services, property, rights or privileges for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction, or any successor to the right, title or interest of a lender, vendor or lessor and an affiliate, associate or subsidiary of any of them or any director, officer or employee of any of them or any person in any way associated with any of them.

I. "Creditor-placed insurance" means insurance that is purchased unilaterally by the creditor, who is the named insured, subsequent to the date of the credit transaction, has provided coverage against loss, expense or damage to the collateralized personal property as a result of fire, theft, collision or other risks of loss that would either impair a creditor's interest or adversely affect the value of collateral covered by dual interest insurance. It is purchased according to the terms of the credit agreement as a result of the debtor's failure to provide required insurance, with the cost of the coverage being charged to the debtor. It shall be either single interest insurance or dual interest insurance.

J. "Debtor" means the borrower of money or a purchaser or lessee of goods, services, property, rights or privileges for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction.

K. "Dual interest insurance" means credit personal property insurance covering the seller's or creditor's interest and at least partially the borrower's interest in the goods purchased through the credit transaction or pledged as collateral for the credit transaction.

L. "Experience" means earned premiums and incurred losses during the experience period.

M. "Experience period" means the most recent period of time for which earned premiums and incurred losses are reported, but not for a period longer than three (3) full years.

N. "Finance charge" means any charge payable directly or indirectly as an incident to or as a condition of the extension of credit, including but not limited to: interest, time price differentials; amount payable under a discount system of additional charges; service, transaction or carrying charges; loan fees; points or similar charges; appraisal fees; or charges incurred for investigating the credit-worthiness of the consumer. The terms shall not include charges as a result of default, taxes, license fees, delinquency charges or filing fees.

O. "Gross debt" means the sum of the remaining payments owed to the creditor by the debtor.

P. "Incurred losses," means total claims and claim adjustment expenses paid during the experience period plus any change in claim and claim adjustment expense reserves.

Q. "Identifiable charge" means a charge for credit personal property insurance that is made to debtors having such insurance and not made to debtors not having such insurance. It includes a charge for insurance that is disclosed in the credit or other instrument furnished to the debtor which sets out the financial elements of the credit transaction and any difference in the finance, interest, service or other similar charge made to debtors who are in like circumstances except for the insured or noninsured status of the debtor.

R. "Insurer" means insurer as identified in [insert section of Code].

S. "Loss ratio" means incurred losses divided by the sum of earned premiums.

T. "Net debt" means the amount necessary to liquidate the remaining debt in a single lump-sum payment, excluding all unearned interest and other unearned finance charges.

U. "Non-filing insurance" means insurance that indemnifies the creditor for loss of its interest in the collateral due to the failure to perfect a security interest.

V. "Open-end credit" means credit extended by a creditor under an agreement in which:

(1) The creditor reasonably contemplates repeated transactions;

(2) The creditor imposes a finance charge from time to time on an outstanding unpaid balance; and

(3) The amount of credit that may be extended to the debtor during the term of the agreement (up to any limit set by the creditor) is generally made available to the extent that any outstanding balance is repaid.

W. "Producer" means a person or entity that receives compensation for insurance written or that, on behalf of an insurer or creditor, solicits, negotiates, effects, procures, delivers, renews, continues or binds credit personal property insurance to which this Act applies.

X. "Reverse competition" means competition among insurers that regularly takes the form of insurers vying with each other for the favor of persons who control, or may control, the placement of the insurance with insurers. Reverse competition tends to increase insurance premiums or prevent the lowering of premiums in order that greater compensation may be paid to persons for such business as a means of obtaining the placement of business. In these situations, the competitive pressure to obtain business by paying higher compensation to these persons overwhelms any downward pressures consumers may exert on the price of insurance, thus causing prices to rise or remain higher than they would otherwise.

Y. "Single interest insurance" means credit personal property insurance covering only the seller's or creditor's interest in the goods purchased through the credit transaction or pledged as collateral in the credit transaction.

Z. "Title insurance" means insurance that compensates for loss from title defects or encumbrances that were unknown but should have been discovered at the time the policy was issued.

Section 4. Amount, Term, Coverage and Prohibited Practices

A. For credit personal property insurance sold in conjunction with a closed end transaction, an insurer may not issue credit personal property insurance coverage unless the amount financed exceeds $[insert amount].

B. For credit personal property insurance sold in conjunction with a closed end transaction, an insurer may not issue credit personal property insurance in an amount that exceeds the amount of the underlying credit transaction unless otherwise required by [insert state lending law cite].

C. For credit personal property insurance sold in conjunction with a closed end transaction, an insurer may not sell credit personal property insurance with a term that exceeds in duration the scheduled term of the underlying credit transaction.

D. Credit personal property insurance coverage shall, at a minimum, include the coverages in the standard fire policy with coverage attachment, and extended coverage endorsement.

E. Credit personal property insurance shall cover a substantial risk of loss of or damage to the property related to the credit transaction.

F. An insurer may not require the bundling of other credit insurance coverages with the purchase of credit personal property insurance coverage. A debtor shall have the choice to purchase credit personal property insurance separate from other credit insurance coverage.

G. An insurer shall not use gross debt as an exposure base in determining credit personal property insurance premiums.

Section 5. Disclosure to Debtors and Provisions of Policies and Certificates of Insurance

A. Pre-purchase disclosure. The following shall be disclosed to the debtor in writing, and may be combined with other disclosures required by [insert state lending law cite] or by federal laws and regulations;

(1) That the purchase of credit personal property insurance through the creditor is optional and not a condition of obtaining credit approval;

(2) If more than one kind of credit insurance is being made available to the debtor, that the debtor can purchase credit personal property insurance separately;

(3) That if the consumer has other insurance that covers the risk, he or she may not want or need credit personal property insurance;

(4) That within the first thirty (30) days after receiving the individual policy or certificate of insurance, the debtor may cancel the coverage and have all premiums paid by the debtor refunded or credited. Thereafter, the debtor may cancel the policy at any time during the term of the loan and receive a refund or any of the unearned premiums. However, only in those instances where the creditor requires evidence of insurance for the extension of credit, the debtor may be required to offer evidence of alternative insurance acceptable to the creditor at the time of cancellation;

(5) A brief description of the coverage, including a description of the major perils and exclusions, any deductible, to whom the benefits would be paid, and the premium or premium rate for the credit personal property coverage; and

(6) If the premium or insurance charge is financed, it will be subject to finance charges at the rate applicable to the credit transaction.

B. The disclosures required in Subsection A shall be provided in the following manner:

(1) In connection with credit personal property insurance offered contemporaneously with the extension of credit or offered through direct mail advertisements, disclosure shall be made in writing and presented to the consumer in a clear and conspicuous manner; and

(2) In conjunction with the offer of credit insurance subsequent to the extension of credit by other than direct mail advertisements, disclosure may be provided orally or electronically so long as written disclosures are provided to the debtor no later than the earlier of:

(a) Ten (10) days after the election, or

(b) The date any other written material is provided to the debtor.

C. An offer to extend coverage for an open-end consumer transaction shall include, at the time of the invitation to contract, the written disclosure below in no smaller than twelve-point type. If the solicitation is made by telephone the disclosure may be summarized and given orally, provided that written disclosure is mailed within ten (10) days of enrollment.

"This coverage might duplicate existing coverage if you have a residential property insurance policy. It applies to any item of covered property on which you owe a debt. This coverage is primary, so it is the first source to be used in the event of a loss on property it covers. You may cancel this coverage at any time by calling the insurer at the telephone number provided to you, or by writing to the insurer. We are charging you a premium that may be based on things for which a claim cannot be made, such as services, meals or other consumables, entertainment, finance or service fees, loan interest, delivery charges or other insurance premiums."

D. All credit personal property insurance shall be evidenced by an individual policy or a certificate of insurance that shall be delivered to the debtor.

E. The individual policy or certificate of insurance shall, in addition to other requirements of law, set forth the following:

(1) The name and home office address of the insurer;

(2) The name or names of the debtor or debtors, or, in the case of a certificate of insurance, the identity by name or otherwise of the debtor or debtors;

(3) The premium or amount of payment by the debtor, except that for open-end loans, the premium rate and balance to which the rate applies shall be specified;

(4) A full description of the coverage or coverages including the amount and term thereof, and any exceptions, limitations, and exclusions;

(5) A statement that the benefits shall be paid to the creditor to reduce or extinguish the unpaid debt or to repair or replace the property and, whenever the amount of loss payment exceeds the unpaid debt, that any excess payment shall be payable to the debtor;

(6) If the scheduled term of the insurance is less than the scheduled term of the credit transaction, a statement to that effect on the face of the individual policy or certificate of insurance in not less than twelve-point bold face type.

(7) Policies issued to cover open-end consumer transactions shall provide that the policyholder or certificate holder will be furnished the following disclosure notice with the account statement at least annually in no smaller than twelve-point type:

"You are paying credit property insurance premium based on the outstanding balance of this account. You may cancel this coverage at any time by calling the insurer at the telephone number the insurer has provided to you, or by writing to the insurer. Your premium may be based on things for which a claim cannot be made, such as services, meals or other consumables, entertainment, finance or service fees, loan interest, delivery charges, or other insurance premiums."

F. (1) Except as provided in Paragraph (2), the individual policy or group certificate shall be delivered to the debtor upon acceptance of the insurance by the insurer.

(2) An individual policy or group certificate delivered in conjunction with an open-end credit agreement or any credit personal property insurance requested by the debtor after the date the indebtedness is incurred shall be deemed to be delivered or the election to purchase insurance is made if the delivery occurs within thirty (30) days of the date the insurance is requested by the debtor.

Section 6. Filing, Approval and Withdrawal of Forms

A. All policies, certificates of insurance, group and individual applications for insurance and enrollment forms, endorsements and riders delivered or issued for delivery in this state and the schedules of premium rates pertaining thereto shall be filed with the commissioner before being used. No policy, certificate of insurance, nor any application, endorsement or rider, shall be issued until the expiration of thirty (30) days after it has been filed, unless the commissioner shall have given prior written approval.

B. The commissioner shall within thirty (30) days after the filing of a form or rate disapprove a form or rate if the benefits provided are not reasonable in relation to the premium charged, or if it contains provisions that are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive or encourage misrepresentation of the coverage, or are contrary to any provision of the Insurance Code or of any regulation promulgated thereunder. If the commissioner does not disapprove a filing within thirty (30) days, it shall be deemed approved.

C. If the commissioner notifies the insurer that the form is disapproved, it is unlawful for the insurer to issue or use the form. The commissioner shall specify the reason for disapproval and state that a hearing will be granted within twenty (20) days after request in writing by the insurer. No policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, nor any application, endorsement or rider, shall be issued until the expiration of thirty (30) days after it has been filed, unless the commissioner shall have given prior written approval.

D. The commissioner may, at any time after a hearing held not less than twenty (20) days after written notice to the insurer, withdraw approval of any form or rate on any ground set forth in Subsection B. The written notice of hearing shall state the reason for the proposed withdrawal.

E. An insurer shall not issue forms or use them after the effective date of withdrawal.

Section 7. Reasonableness of Benefits in Relation to Premium Charge

A. An insurer may revise its schedule of premium rates from time to time and, shall file the revised schedules with the commissioner pursuant to the filing requirements in Section 6. An insurer shall not issue a credit personal property insurance policy for which the premium rates exceed that determined by the approved schedules of the insurer as then on file with the commissioner.

B. Benefits provided by credit personal property insurance policies shall be reasonable in relation to the premium charged. This requirement is satisfied if the premium rate charged develops or may reasonably be expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%) or such higher loss ratio as designated by the commissioner to afford a reasonable allowance for actual and expected loss experience including a reasonable catastrophe provision, general and administrative expenses, reasonable acquisition expenses, reasonable creditor compensation, investment income, premium taxes, licenses, fees, assessments, and reasonable insurer profit.

C. For open-end credit transactions, an insurer's rating plan shall address, by grouping of like accounts, the expected variance in the mix of goods purchased that are covered under the credit personal property coverage versus items purchased that are not covered under the credit personal property coverage. Accounts shall be separated into groupings that possess or are expected to possess a similar mix of covered goods purchased versus not covered goods purchased.

Section 8. Limitation on Creditor Compensation [Optional]

An insurer shall not pay compensation in excess of [insert amount] percent of premium to a creditor. A reasonable level of creditor compensation may be lower than this limitation and this reasonable level shall be justified in determining the reasonableness of benefits pursuant to Section 7.

Section 9. Experience Reports and Triennial Filing Requirements

A. An insurer doing insurance business in this state shall annually file with the commissioner and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) a report of credit personal property insurance written on a calendar year basis. The report shall utilize the Credit Insurance Supplement–Annual Statement Blank approved by the NAIC, and shall contain data separately for each state, rather than an allocation of the company's countrywide experience. The filing shall be made in accordance with and no later than the due date in the Instructions to the Annual Statement.

B. Rates that have been filed and approved pursuant to Section 6 are effective for a period not to exceed three (3) years. An insurer shall file a new rate or support the previously approved rate before the three-year period expires. An insurer may file for a new rate before the end of the three-year period.

Section 10. Cancellation and Refund of Unearned Premium

Upon cancellation for any reason, the debtor is entitled to a refund of unearned premiums calculated on a daily pro rata basis. No refunds of less than $[insert amount] are required.

Section 11. Claims

A. All claims shall be promptly reported by the creditor to the insurer or its designated claim representative, and the insurer shall maintain adequate claim files. All claims shall be settled as soon as possible and in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract.

B. All claims shall be paid either by draft drawn upon the insurer, by electronic funds transfer, or by check of the insurer to the order of the claimant to whom payment of the claim is due pursuant to the policy provisions, or upon direction of the claimant to the party specified by the claimant.

C. No plan or arrangement shall be used whereby any person, firm or corporation other than the insurer or its designated claim representative shall be authorized to settle or adjust claims. The creditor shall not be designated as claim representative for the insurer in adjusting claims; provided, that once the amount is determined a group policyholder may, by arrangement with the group insurer, draw drafts, checks or electronic transfers in payment of claims due to the group policyholder subject to audit and review by the insurer.

D. No claim may be denied because the debtor was ineligible for coverage later than ninety (90) days after the initiation of coverage unless the debtor misrepresented a material fact. If a claim is denied because the debtor was ineligible for coverage within ninety (90) days of initiation of coverage or because the debtor misrepresented a material fact for coverage, the insurer shall refund to the debtor all premium paid and the creditor shall refund any finance charge paid on the premium.

E. All claims for credit personal property insurance shall be subject to Section [insert reference to the Unfair Claims Settlement Practices Act].

Drafting Note: In the event enforcement is addressed on a global basis in other statutes, the following section should be omitted.

Section 12. Enforcement

A. The commissioner may conduct investigations or examinations of insurers and producers to ensure compliance with and enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

B. The commissioner may take any of the following actions when necessary or appropriate to enforce the provisions of this Act and any regulations promulgated under this Act:

(1) Upon finding that an insurer or producer has violated a provision of this Act or a regulation promulgated under this Act, the commissioner may issue an order directing that the insurer or producer cease and desist from committing the violations, impose a civil penalty for the violations, provide an equitable remedy for past violations, or any combination of these.

(2) Upon the issuance of an order pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the insurer or producer shall have the right to request a hearing. At the hearing, the burden shall be on the insurer or producer to show cause why an order pursuant to this subsection should be annulled, modified or confirmed. The provisions of [insert citation of statute concerning the conduct of hearing before the commissioner] shall apply to all hearings.

(3) Pending the hearing and the decision by the commissioner, the commissioner shall suspend the effective date of the order.

(4) Not more than sixty (60) days following completion of the hearing, the commissioner shall enter an order of final determination which shall specify all relevant findings of fact, conclusions of law and orders.

(5) With the agreement of each affected insurer or producer, and in lieu of a hearing, the commissioner may enter into a consent agreement disposing of the matters that would be the subject of the hearing and order.

(6) The commissioner may bring an action in [insert court] Court for an injunction or other appropriate relief to enjoin threatened or existing violations of this Act, the commissioner's orders or regulations. An action filed under this paragraph may also seek restitution on behalf of persons aggrieved by a violation of this Act or orders or regulations of the commissioner.

Section 13. Regulations

The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable regulations and orders to carry out and effectuate the provisions of this Act.

Section 14. Judicial Review

A. A person subject to an order or final determination of the commissioner under Section 6 or Section 12 may obtain a review of the order or final determination by filing in the [insert date] Court of [insert county] County, within [insert number] days from the date of the service of the order, a written petition praying that the order of the commissioner be set aside. A copy of the petition shall be served upon the commissioner, and the commissioner shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including all the evidence taken and the report and order or final determination of the commissioner. Upon filing of the petition and transcript, the court shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the questions determined, shall determine whether the filing of the petition shall operate as a stay of the order or final determination of the commissioner, and shall have power to make and enter upon the pleadings, evidence and proceedings set forth in the transcript a decree modifying, affirming or reversing the order or final determination of the commissioner, in whole or in part. The findings of the commissioner as to the facts, if supported by [insert type] evidence, shall be conclusive.

Drafting Note: Insert appropriate language to accommodate to local procedure the effect given the commissioner's determination.

B. To the extent that the order or final determination of the commissioner is affirmed, the court shall issue its own order commanding obedience to the terms of the order or final determination of the commissioner. If either party applies to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the proceeding before the commissioner, the court may order the additional evidence to be taken before the commissioner and to be adduced upon the hearing in the manner and upon the terms and conditions the court may deem proper. The commissioner may modify the findings of fact, or make new findings by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and shall file such modified or new findings that are supported by [insert type] evidence with a recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of the original order or final determination, with the return of the additional evidence.

Drafting Note: Insert appropriate language to accommodate to local procedure the effect given the commissioner's determination. In a state where final judgement, order or final determination or decree would not be subject to review by an appellate court, provision therefor should be inserted here.

C. An order issued by the commissioner under Section 12 shall become final:

(1) Upon the expiration of the time allowed for filing a petition for review if no petition had been duly filed within that time; except that the commissioner may thereafter modify or set aside the order to the extent provided in Section 12; or

(2) Upon the final decision of the court if the court directs that the order of the commissioner be affirmed or the petition for the review dismissed.

D. No order of the commissioner under this Act or order of a court to enforce the same shall relieve or absolve any person affected by the order from liability under any other laws of this state.

Drafting Note: In the event penalties are addressed on a global basis in other statutes, the following section should be omitted.

Section 15. Penalties

An insurer that violates an order of the commissioner while the order is in effect, may after notice and hearing and upon order of the commissioner, be subject at the discretion of the commissioner to either or both of the following:

A. Payment of a monetary penalty of not more than $1,000 for each violation, but not to exceed an aggregate penalty of $100,000, unless the violation was committed flagrantly in a conscious disregard of this Act, in which case the penalty shall not be more than $25,000 for each violation not to exceed an aggregate penalty of $250,000; or

B. Suspension or revocation of the insurer's license.

Section 16. Severability

If any provision of this Act, or the application of the provision to any person or circumstance, shall be held invalid, the remainder of this Act, and the application of the provision to any person or circumstance other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected.

Section 17. Effective Date

This Act shall take effect [insert effective date].

CREDIT PERSONAL PROPERTY INSURANCE MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY – 2002

CREDIT PERSONAL PROPERTY INSURANCE MODEL ACT (#365)

1. Project Description

The National Council of Insurance Legislatures (NCOIL) issued a resolution opposing the inclusion of the 60% loss ratio in the Credit Personal Property Insurance Model Act. The Credit Insurance (D) Working Group reviewed the concerns and determined a drafting note should be added to the model.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting Model and States Participating

The Credit Insurance (D) Working Group of the Market Regulation and Consumer Affairs (D) Committee assumed responsibility for reviewing the NCOIL resolution. Commissioner David Parsons of Alabama and Commissioner Mike Kreidler of Washington co-chaired the working group. The following states are members of the working group: Colorado, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon and Utah.

3. Charge Authorizing Project

The 2002 charge to the working group reads, "Appoint a working group to 1) finalize a bulletin to encourage states to revise prima facie rates and take other steps available under the NAIC credit insurance model acts and regulations and state laws to bring credit insurance rates in line with benchmark loss ratios and to correct other problem areas of credit insurance, 2) coordinate with the Blanks Task Force to revise the credit insurance experience exhibit to better capture information on credit property and new coverages and 3) work with attorneys general and other state and federal regulators to investigate marketing practices in the sale and distribution of credit insurance products and determine whether further action is necessary to address any identified consumer issues. Report by the NAIC 2002 Winter National Meeting." The Market Regulation and Consumer Affairs (D) Committee asked the Credit Insurance Working Group to review the NCOIL resolution to determine if additional action should be taken regarding the model.

4. General Description of Drafting Process

The drafting process was very open as the Credit Insurance Working Group solicited comments from all interested parties, including interested regulators, funded consumer representatives and industry representatives. The working group also solicited key concerns from interested parties and funded consumer representatives. All of the meetings of the working group were open to all interested parties. All revised language of the drafting note were posted on the NAIC Website and circulated for public comment. The working group received and reviewed numerous comments from interested parties.

5. Significant Issues Raised

The significant issues introduced about the resolution and drafting note revolved around whether a loss ratio requirement should be included in a model act rather than a model regulation. In addition, there was discussion about whether the entire provisions of the model act could be modified for adoption as a regulation versus an act.

6. Other Pertinent Information

NCOIL representatives participated in the review and drafting discussions and did not voice opposition to the inclusion of this new drafting note.

PROJECT HISTORY – 2001

CREDIT PERSONAL PROPERTY INSURANCE MODEL ACT (#365)

1. Project Description

The Credit Personal Property Insurance Model Act provides a recommended statute specifically for the regulation of credit property insurance. This model is designed to complement other credit insurance related models such as the Consumer Credit Insurance Model Act, the Consumer Credit Insurance Model Regulation and the Creditor-Placed Insurance Model Act.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting Model and States Participating

The Credit Property Working Group of the Market Conduct and Consumer Affairs (D) Committee was responsible for drafting the model. Commissioner David Parsons of Alabama chaired the working group. The following states were members of the working group: Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, and South Dakota.

3. Charge Authorizing Project

The 2001 charge of the working group is, "Appoint a working group to finalize the credit property model act." This charge resulted from a previous charge of the Market Conduct and Consumer Affairs (D) Committee in 1999: "Appoint a working group to review existing and proposed state laws and regulations and current regulatory efforts by states addressing credit insurance products offered by insurers in order to assess the overall effectiveness of the existing regulatory framework and to make recommendations for areas needing change or improvement. After completing a study of credit insurance, the D Committee recommended that a model addressing credit property insurance be developed.

4. General Description of Drafting Process

The drafting process was very open as the Credit Property Insurance Working Group solicited comments from all interested parties, including interested regulators, funded consumer representatives and industry representatives. The working group also solicited key concerns from interested parties and funded consumer representatives. All of the meetings of the working group and of the Market Conduct and Consumer Affairs (D) Committee were open to all interested parties. All revised drafts of the paper were posted on the NAIC Website and circulated for public comment. The working group received and reviewed numerous comments from interested parties.

5. Significant Issues Raised

The most significant issues raised and discussed by the working group and interested parties include (1) the definition of credit personal property insurance; and (2); the method of rate supervision that should be in place for credit property insurance. The positions of industry representatives, consumer representatives and regulators were considered while developing the model act.

The controversy surrounding the definition of credit personal property insurance involves the inadvertent inclusion of products not intended to be considered as credit property insurance. After several iterations of the definition, the last debate involved whether the definition should include a reference to security interest. The final definition adopted by the working group reads, "Credit personal property insurance" means a policy, endorsement, rider, binder, certificate or other instrument or evidence of insurance written in connection with a credit transaction that:

(1) covers perils to the goods purchased through a credit transaction or used as collateral for a credit transaction and that concerns a creditor's interest in the purchased goods or pledged collateral either in whole or in part; or

(2) covers perils to goods purchased in connection with an open-end credit transaction.

The second major issue surrounded the best method for regulating credit property insurance rates. The working group decided to use a loss ratio requirement in conjunction with a component rating feature. Once the determination to include a loss ratio requirement was determined, there was extended debate on the language to use with the percentage (e.g. % or such "higher" loss ratio, % or such "other" loss ratio, etc.) The working group determined they would include a 60% loss ratio requirement, or such "higher" loss ratio as designated by the Commissioner. This issue remained controversial through the adoption of the model act.

Other issues addressed by the working group included phantom coverage (insurance coverage for non-durable goods for which no claim can be made), reverse competition, and creditor compensation limitations. Each of these topics were considered and discussed before reaching agreement on how to incorporate provisions in the model addressing these issues.

6. Other Pertinent Information

The NAIC previously considered development of a credit property insurance model in 1995. A determination was made not to develop a model at that time.

CONSUMER CREDIT INSURANCE MODEL REGULATION

Table of Contents

Section 1. Purpose and Authority

The purpose of this regulation is to protect the interests of debtors and the public in this state by providing a system of rate, policy form, and operating standards for the transaction of credit life, credit accident and health, and credit unemployment insurance. This rule interprets and implements the [insert state] Statutes, including but not limited to the following sections: [insert sections].

Section 2. Definitions

As used in this regulation:

A. "Affiliate" has the same meaning as defined in Section [insert reference to state's insurance holding company registration act].

B. "Closed-end credit" means a credit transaction that does not meet the definition of open-end credit.

C. "Control" has the same meaning as defined in Section [insert reference to state's insurance holding company registration act].

D. "Evidence of individual insurability" means a statement furnished by the debtor, as a condition of insurance becoming effective, that relates specifically to the health status or to the health or medical history of the debtor.

E. "Loss ratio" means incurred claims divided by the sum of earned premiums and imputed interest earned on unearned premiums.

Drafting Note: Although this definition of loss ratio represents a change from the prior method, the (EX) Committee on Credit Insurance has determined that this definition represents the most appropriate option. While the crediting of imputed interest means that single premium rates will be slightly lower (for a specified loss ratio) under this definition than under the prior methodology, for most states the reduction in single premium rates will be approximately five percent (5%) due to the implementation of this definition.

F. "Open-end credit" means credit extended by a creditor under an agreement in which:

(1) The creditor reasonably contemplates repeated transactions;

(2) The creditor imposes a finance charge from time to time on an outstanding unpaid balance; and

(3) The amount of credit that may be extended to the debtor during the term of the agreement (up to any limit set by the creditor) is generally made available to the extent that any outstanding balance is repaid.

Drafting Note: The definition of open-end credit here is identical to the definition in the Consumer Credit Insurance Model Act. There is generally no need to restate a definition from the Act in this regulation; however, since the definition here of closed-end credit is dependent on the definition of open-end credit, it seems appropriate to include it here as well. States should consider their own drafting procedures to determine where the definitions should be located.

G. "Person" has the same meaning as defined in Section [insert reference to state's insurance holding company registration act].

H. "Preexisting condition" means any condition for which the insured debtor received medical advice, consultation or treatment within six (6) months before the effective date of the coverage and from which the insured debtor becomes disabled within six (6) months after the effective date of this coverage.

Section 3. Rights and Treatment of Debtors

A. Multiple Plans of Insurance. If a creditor makes available to the debtors more than one plan of consumer credit insurance, every debtor must be informed of each plan for which the debtor is eligible and of the premium or insurance charge for each.

B. Substitution. When a creditor requires insurance as additional security for a debt, the debtor shall be given the option of furnishing the required amount of insurance through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by the debtor or of procuring and furnishing the required coverage through any insurer authorized to transact insurance business in this state. If this subsection is applicable, the debtor shall be informed by the creditor of the right to provide alternative coverage before the transaction is completed.

C. Termination of Group Consumer Credit Insurance Policy.

(1) If a debtor is covered by a group consumer credit insurance policy providing for the payment of single premiums to the insurer, or any other premium payment method which prepays coverage beyond one month, then provision shall be made by the insurer that in the event of termination of the policy for any reason, insurance coverage with respect to any debtor insured under the policy shall be continued for the entire period for which the premium has been paid.

(2) If a debtor is covered by a group consumer credit insurance policy providing for the payment of premiums to the insurer on a monthly basis, then the policy shall provide that, in the event of termination of the policy, termination notice shall be given to the insured debtor at least thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of termination except where replacement of the coverage by the same or another insurer in the same or greater amount takes place without lapse of coverage. The insurer shall provide or cause to be provided this required information to the debtor.

D. Remittance of Premiums. If the creditor adds identifiable insurance charges or premiums for consumer credit insurance to the debt, and any direct or indirect finance, carrying, credit or service charge is made to the debtor on the insurance charges or premiums, the creditor must remit and the insurer shall collect the premium within sixty (60) days after it is added to the debt.

E. Refinancing of the Debt. If the debt is discharged due to refinancing prior to the scheduled maturity date, the insurance in force shall be terminated before any new insurance may be issued in connection with the refinanced debt. In all cases of termination prior to scheduled maturity, a refund of all unearned premium or unearned insurance charges paid by the debtor shall be paid or credited to the debtor as provided in Section 9. In any refinancing of the debt, the effective date of the coverage as respects any policy provision shall be deemed to be the first date on which the debtor became insured under the policy with respect to the debt which was refinanced, at least to the extent of the amount and term of the debt outstanding at the time of refinancing of the debt.

F. Maximum Aggregate Provisions. A provision in an individual policy or group certificate that sets a maximum limit on total claim payments must apply only to that individual policy or group certificate.

Drafting Note: It should be noted that the maximum amount which can be paid for coverage for a single consumer credit transaction may be subject to statutory limitations.

G. Prepayment of Debt. If a debtor prepays the debt in full, then any consumer credit insurance covering the debt shall be terminated and an appropriate refund of the consumer credit insurance premium shall be paid or credited to the debtor in accordance with Section 9. However, if the prepayment is a result of death or any other lump sum consumer credit insurance payment, no refund shall be required for the coverage under which the lump sum was paid. If a claim under credit accident and health coverage or credit unemployment coverage is in progress at the time of prepayment, the amount of refund may be determined as if the prepayment did not occur until the payment of benefits terminates. No refund need be paid during any period of disability for which credit accident and health benefits are payable or during any period of unemployment for which credit unemployment benefits are payable. A refund shall be computed as if prepayment occurred at the end of the disability period or at the end of the unemployment period.

H. If a creditor has opened a line of credit for a debtor and, under Section 4A(5) or 4A(6) of the Consumer Credit Insurance Model Act, is charging for this line of credit rather than the amount of debt in the event of the death of the debtor, the insured amount due is the amount of the established amount of credit against which premium was last charged.

Section 4. Determination of Reasonableness of Benefits in Relation to Premium Charge

A. Benefits provided by consumer credit insurance policies must be reasonable in relation to the premium charged. This requirement is satisfied if the premium ratecharged develops or may reasonably be expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%). With the exception of deviations approved under Section 11, the rates shown in Sections 6 and 7, as adjusted pursuant to Section 10, shall be presumed to satisfy this standard. Anticipated losses that develop or are expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%) shall be presumed reasonable. Any insurer filing a deviation in accordance with Section 11 must satisfy the sixty percent (60%) loss ratio standard on their total consumer credit insurance business, including that of affiliated insurers, for each type of insurance defined in Section [insert section referring to definitions in state Consumer Credit Insurance Model Act] of the [insert state] Statutes for which the deviation is being filed.

Drafting Note: In the event that a state wishes to develop a regulatory framework allowing for component rating, the following is suggested language which should be used in conjunction with suggested language for Section 10B:

Alternative Section 4A:

A. Benefits provided by consumer credit insurance policies must be reasonable in relation to the premium charged. This requirement is satisfied if the premium rate charged develops or may reasonably be expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%) or such lower loss ratio as designated by the Commissioner to afford a reasonable allowance for actual and expected loss experience, general and administrative expenses, reasonable creditor compensation, investment income, the manner in which premiums are charged and other acquisition costs, reserves, taxes, regulatory license fees and fund assessments, reasonable insurer profit and other relevant actuarial data. With the exception of deviations approved under Section 11, the rates shown in Sections 6 and 7, as adjusted pursuant to Section 10, shall be conclusively presumed to satisfy the loss ratio standard. Any insurer filing a deviation in accordance with Section 11 must satisfy the loss ratio standard designated by the Commissioner pursuant to Section 10 on their total consumer credit insurance business, including that of affiliated insurers, for each type of insurance defined in Section [insert section referring to definitions in state Consumer Credit Insurance Model Act] of the [insert state] Statutes for which the deviation is being filed.

Drafting Note: The NAIC, as a whole, neither endorses nor opposes component rating as the appropriate methodology for developing rates for consumer credit insurance products.

B. Nonstandard Coverage. If any insurer files for approval of any form providing coverage different than that described in Sections 6 through 8, the insurer shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the premium rates to be charged for such coverage are: (a) reasonably expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%), or (b) actuarially consistent with the rates used for standard coverages.

Section 5. Limitation on Compensation [Optional]

A. An insurer shall not pay compensation in excess of thirty percent (30%) of the net written prima facie premium of which not more than twenty-five percent (25%) of net written prima facie premium may be paid to a creditor.

B. For the purpose of Subsection A, prima facie premium means premium using the premium rates set out in Sections 6 and 7, or actuarially consistent premium rates for plans not described in Sections 6 and 7, without any adjustment pursuant to Section 10.

Drafting Note: This is an optional provision subject to the statutory provisions of the state or jurisdiction. Once a state has established a prima facie rate based upon a sixty percent (60%) loss ratio, a state may wish to consider that this provision be deleted.

Section 6. Credit Life Insurance Rates

A. Premium Rate. Subject to the conditions and requirements in Section 6B and Section 11, the prima facie rates shown below are considered to meet the requirements of Section 4, and may be used without filing additional actuarial support.

(1) Monthly outstanding balance basis: _____ per month per $1,000 of outstanding insured debt on single life and _____ per month per $1,000 of outstanding insured debt on joint life if premiums are payable on a monthly outstanding balance basis.

(2) Single premium basis: If the premium is charged on a single premium basis, the rate shall be computed according to the following formula or according to a formula approved by the commissioner which produces rates substantially the same as those produced by the following formula:

$$Sp = \sum_{t=1}^{n} \left(\frac{O_p}{10} \times \frac{I_t}{I_i} \times (v^{t-1}) \right)$$

$$v = \frac{1}{1 + (dis)}$$

S_p = Single Premium per $100 of initial consumer credit life insurance coverage.

O_p = _____, the *prima faci*e consumer credit life insurance premium rate for monthly outstanding balance coverage from Paragraph 1.

I_t = The scheduled amount of insurance for month t.

I_i = Initial amount of insurance. For a net insurance policy, I_i equals the initial principal balance of the loan.

dis = .0036, representing an annual discount rate of 4 percent for interest plus 0.4 percent for mortality.

Drafting Note: The 4 percent discount for interest reflected current rates at the time this model was drafted. States should set the discount rate in their regulation to equal the average of the rates being paid on 3 year United States Treasury Notes as reported in the Wall Street Journal on the last day of sale in the most recent 3 calendar years.

n = The number of months in the term of the insurance.

(3) If the benefits provided are other than those described in the introduction to this subsection, premium rates for such benefits shall be actuarially consistent with the rates provided in Paragraphs (1) and (2).

Drafting Note: Credit life insurance premium rates have not been included in the model regulation. Each state should adopt rates which reflect the experience developed within that state or regionally if a state lacks sufficient credible data. A state may also establish rates by creditor class of business wherever warranted. For those states addressing the issue of delinquencies, the prima facie rates included in Sections 6 and 7 and any other rates approved for use, restricted to premium rates that are computed by formulae such as that contained in Paragraph 6A(2), are presumed sufficient to provide for up to two months of delinquencies. Therefore, the amount of insurance shall not be increased to accommodate such delinquencies.

B. The premium rates in Subsection A shall apply to contracts providing credit life insurance that are offered to all eligible debtors, that do not require evidence of individual insurability from any eligible debtor electing to purchase coverage within thirty (30) days of the date the debtor becomes eligible and that contain the provisions below:

(1) Coverage for death by whatever means caused, except that coverage may exclude death resulting from:

(a) War or any act of war;

(b) Suicide within six (6) months after the effective date of the coverage; or,

(c) Subject to the provisions of Section 6B(2), a preexisting condition or conditions.

(2) For the purpose of Section 6B(1)(c),

(a) Preexisting condition means any condition for which the debtor received medical advice or treatment within six (6) months preceding the effective date of coverage;

(b) No preexisting condition exclusion shall apply unless death is caused by or substantially contributed to by the preexisting condition and unless death occurs within six (6) months following the effective date of coverage; and,

(c) A preexisting condition exclusion shall apply only if and to the extent that the amount of coverage to which it would otherwise apply (in the absence of this limitation) exceeds $1,000.

(3) For the exclusions listed in Section 6B(1) and (2) above, the effective date of coverage for each part of the insurance attributable to a different advance or a charge to the plan account is the date on which the advance or charge occurs.

(4) At the option of the insurer and in lieu of a preexisting condition exclusion on insurance written in connection with open-ended consumer credit, a provision may be included to limit the amount of insurance payable on death due to natural causes to the balance as it existed six (6) months prior to the date of death if there has been one or more increases in the outstanding balance during the six-month period and if evidence of individual insurability has not been required in the six-month period prior to the date of death. This provision applies only if and to the extent that the amount of coverage to which it would otherwise apply (in the absence of this limitation) exceeds $1,000.

(5) An age restriction providing that no insurance will become effective on debtors on or after the attainment of age sixty-six (66) and that all insurance will terminate upon attainment by the debtor of age sixty-six (66).

Drafting Note: These provisions are intended only to be provisions that correspond to the use of the rates provided for in Subsection 7A. Consistent with the commissioner's authority in the Model Bill, they are neither required provisions nor minimum standards. They are no more than safe harbor provisions. All other policy provisions must be judged based solely on the standard in the Model Bill that prohibits provisions that are unfair, unjust, inequitable, misleading, deceptive or encourage misrepresentation of the coverage or that are contrary to statute or administrative rule.

The suicide provision exemplifies this. Subsection 7B provides for use of a six-month exclusionary period for suicide in contracts to which the prima facie rate is applied. However, a suicide exclusionary period of one or two years is consistent with statutes enacted in several states. Thus, the use of a suicide exclusionary period exceeding six (6) months is not prohibited by the mere fact that a six-month period is set out as a provision corresponding to the use of prima facie rates. The use of a longer exclusionary period may, however, require the use of reduced premium rates.

C. Application of Rates:

(1) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance does not request or require that the debtor provide evidence of insurability, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 6A.

(2) Except as provided in Section 6C(3), if the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of insurance is $15,000 or less, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the rates in Section 6A multiplied by 90 percent (.90).

(3) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of insurance is above $15,000 or the applicant elects to purchase coverage more than thirty (30) days after the date the debtor became eligible under a group plan of insurance, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 6A. For policies insuring open lines of credit, the insurer may require evidence of insurability for advances which increase the outstanding debt above $15,000.

D. Insurers may use the same application forms for credit life insurance whether or not underwriting questions are asked pursuant to Section 6C. The commissioner will presume that any application form for which all relevant underwriting questions have been left unanswered represents a policy which has not been underwritten and for which prima facie rates are permissible. A form for which any relevant underwriting questions have been answered or filled in represents a policy for which premium decreases pursuant to Section 6C are required. Insurers should maintain in their files their rules for those circumstances where underwriting questions shall be asked. Those rules shall be communicated to and followed by the insurer's agents or other producers.

Section 7. Credit Accident and Health Insurance Rates

A. Premium Rate. Subject to the conditions and requirements in Section 6B and Section 11, the prima facie rates shown below are considered to meet the requirements of Section 4, and may be used without filing additional actuarial support.

(1) If premiums are payable on a single-premium basis for the duration of the coverage, the prima facie rate per $100 of initial insured debt for single accident and health is as set forth in the table below (rates for monthly periods other than those listed shall be interpolated or extrapolated):

Original Number of Equal Monthly Installments	14 Day retroactive policies	14 Day non-retroactive policies	30 Day retroactive policies	30 Day non-retroactive policies
24
36
48
60
72
84
96

Drafting Note: Consistent with Subsection 6A(2), pursuant to which credit life single premiums are discounted for interest and mortality, credit disability single premiums in the table above should incorporate similar discount for interest (but not for mortality, since on death a refund of the unearned credit disability premium is required to be made).

(2) If premiums are paid on the basis of a premium rate per month per thousand of outstanding insured gross debt, these premiums shall be computed according to the following formula or according to a formula approved by the commissioner which produces rates actuarially consistent with the single premium rates in Subsection 7A(1):

$$\text{where } v = \frac{1}{1 + (dis)}$$

Where SP_n = Single Premium Rate per $100 of initial insured debt repayable in n equal monthly installments as shown in Subsection 7A(1).

OP_n = Monthly Outstanding Balance Premium Rate per $1,000.

n = The number of months in the term of the insurance.

dis = .0033, representing an annual discount rate of 4 percent for interest.

Drafting Note: The 4 percent discount for interest reflected current rates at the time this model was drafted. States should set the discount rate in their regulation to equal the average of the rates being paid on 3-year United States Treasury Notes as reported in the Wall Street Journal on the last day of sale in the most recent 3 calendar years.

(3) If the coverage provided is a constant maximum indemnity for a given period of time, the actuarial equivalent of Section 7A(1) and 7A(2) shall be used.

(4) If the coverage provided is a combination of a constant maximum indemnity for a given period of time after which the maximum indemnity begins to decrease in even amounts per month, an appropriate combination of the premium rate for a constant maximum indemnity for a given period of time and the premium rate for a maximum indemnity which decreases in even amounts per month shall be used.

(5) The outstanding balance rate for credit accident and health insurance may be either a term-specified rate or may be a single composite term outstanding balance rate.

B. Subject to the conditions and requirements in Section 7C and Section 11, the prima facie rates for credit accident and health insurance shown below are considered to meet the requirements of Section 4 in the situation where the insurance is written on an open-end loan. These prima facie rates and the formulae used to calculate them may be used without filing additional actuarial support. Other formulae to convert from a closed-end credit rate to an open-end credit rate may be used if approved by the commissioner.

(1) If the maximum benefit of the insurance equals the net debt on the date of disability, the term of the loan is calculated according to the formula: 1/(minimum payment percent). The prima facie rate is determined by applying the calculated term to the rates shown in Section 7A. A composite minimum payment percentage may be used in place of the minimum payment percentage for a specific credit transaction.

(2) If the maximum benefit of the insurance equals the outstanding balance of the loan on the date of disability plus any interest accruing on that amount during disability, the term of the insurance (n) is estimated by using the following formula:

$$n = \ln\{1-(1000i/x)\}/\ln(v)$$

where:

i = interest rate on the account or a composite interest rate used for the type of policy;
x = monthly payment per $1000 of coverage consistent with the term calculated above; and,
$v = 1/(1 + i)$.

The calculated value of the term is used to look up an initial rate in Section 7A. The final prima facie rate is calculated by multiplying the initial rate by:

the adjustment $n/a_{\overline{n}|}$

where:

n is the term calculated above; and

$a_{\overline{n}|} = (1 - v^n)/i$.

C. If the accident and health coverage is sold on a joint basis (involving two people), the rate for the joint coverage shall be filed with the commissioner prior to use.

D. If the benefits provided are other than those described in Section 7A or 7B above, rates for those benefits shall be actuarially consistent with rates provided in Section 7A and 7B.

E. The premium rates in Subsection A shall apply to contracts providing credit accident and health insurance that are offered to all eligible debtors, that do not require evidence of individual insurability from any eligible debtor electing to purchase coverage within thirty (30) days of the date the debtor becomes eligible and that contain the provisions below:

(1) Coverage for disability by whatever means caused, except that coverage may be excluded for disabilities resulting from: (a) normal pregnancy; (b) war or any act of war; (c) elective surgery; (d) intentionally self-inflicted injury; (e) sickness or injury caused by or resulting from the use of alcoholic beverages or narcotics (including hallucinogens) unless they are administered on the advice of and taken as directed, by a licensed physician other than the insured; (f) flight in any aircraft other than a commercial scheduled aircraft; (g) a preexisting condition.

(2) For the exclusion listed in Section 7B(1)(g) above, the effective date of coverage for each part of the insurance attributable to a different advance or a charge to the plan account is the date on which the advance or charge occurs.

(3) A definition of disability providing that for the first twelve (12) months of disability, total disability shall be defined as the inability to perform the essential functions of the insured's own occupation. Thereafter, it shall mean the inability of the insured to perform the essential functions of any occupation for which he or she is reasonably suited by virtue of education, training or experience.

(4) No employment requirement more restrictive than one requiring that the debtor be employed full-time on the effective date of coverage and for at least twelve (12) consecutive months prior to the effective date of coverage. "Full time" means a regular work week of not less than thirty (30) hours.

(5) An age restriction providing that no insurance will become effective on debtors on or after the attainment of age sixty-six (66) and that all insurance will terminate upon attainment by the debtor of age sixty-six (66).

(6) A daily benefit of not less than one-thirtieth of the monthly benefit payable under the policy.

Drafting Note: These provisions are intended only to be provisions that correspond to the use of the rates provided for in Subsection 7A. Consistent with the commissioner's authority in the Model Bill, they are neither required provisions nor minimum standards. They are no more than safe harbor provisions. All other policy provisions must be judged based solely on the standard in the Model Bill that prohibits provisions that are unfair, unjust, inequitable, misleading, deceptive or encourage misrepresentation of the coverage or that are contrary to statute or administrative rule.

The preexisting condition exemplifies this. Subsection 7B contemplates that a six (6) month exclusionary period for preexisting conditions will be used in contracts to which the prima facie rates are applied. This alone does not, however, prohibit the use of a longer exclusionary period for preexisting conditions. A longer exclusionary period could be prohibited only if it is reasonably determined to be unjust or unfair, etc. Use of a longer exclusionary period would, however, remove the presumption that the prima facie rates are acceptable for use in connection with that form and use of lower rates may be required to reflect the difference in expected claims.

F. Application of Rates:

(1) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance does not request or require that the debtor provide evidence of insurability, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 7A.

(2) Except as provided in Section 7F(3), if the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of insurance is $15,000 or less, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the rates in Section 7A multiplied by 90 percent (.90).

(3) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of insurance is above $15,000 or the applicant is a elects to purchase coverage more than thirty (30) days after the date the debtor became eligible under a group plan of insurance, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 7A. For policies insuring open lines of credit, the insurer may require evidence of insurability for advances which increase the outstanding debt above $15,000.

G. Insurers may use the same application forms for credit accident and health insurance whether or not underwriting questions are asked pursuant to Section 7F. The commissioner will presume that any application form for which all relevant underwriting questions have been left unanswered represents a policy which has not been underwritten and for which prima facie rates are permissible. A form for which any relevant underwriting questions have been answered or filled in represents a policy for which premium decreases pursuant to Section 7F are required. Insurers should maintain in their files their rules for those circumstances where underwriting questions shall be asked. Those rules shall be communicated to and followed by the insurer's agents or other producers.

Section 8. Credit Unemployment Insurance Rates

A. Each insurer filing rates for credit unemployment insurance shall include in its rate filing with the commissioner the appropriate rate formula upon which its rates are based, including a provision for anticipated losses. Anticipated losses that develop or are expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%) shall be presumed reasonable. Anticipated losses may include an amount for fluctuation in loss due to catastrophe based on the experience of at least the latest nine (9) policy years or as long as the company has been writing this line of business.

B. Credit unemployment insurance policies must contain benefits at least as favorable to insureds as the provisions below:

(1) Coverage for unemployment for any reason, except that coverage may be excluded for: (a) voluntary forfeiture of salary, wage or other employment income; (b) resignation; (c) retirement; (d) general strike; (e) illegal walk out; (f) war; (g) separation from the military; (h) willful misconduct or criminal misconduct or unlawful behavior; and (i) disability caused by injury, sickness or pregnancy.

Drafting Note: State laws may vary on whether strikes or labor disputes may qualify an individual for unemployment insurance benefits.

(2) For credit unemployment insurance which provides for a monthly benefit in the event of unemployment, benefits must start after a waiting period of not longer than thirty (30) days but need not be retroactive to the first day of unemployment and must have a maximum benefit period that is no shorter than six (6) months.

C. Credit unemployment insurance policies may not contain eligibility requirements more restrictive than the restrictions below:

(1) Exclusion from qualification for coverage: (a) self employed individuals; (b) workers in seasonal or temporary jobs, defined as jobs designed to last six (6) consecutive months or less; and, (c) debtors who have been notified either orally or in writing of any layoff or of employment termination either now or within the next sixty (60) days. This exclusion must be disclosed to all prospective insureds.

Drafting Note: States may wish to adjust the time period that defines temporary and seasonal workers to be appropriate for the types of businesses in their state.

(2) No employment requirement more restrictive than one requiring that the debtor be employed full-time on the effective date of coverage for at least twelve (12) consecutive months prior to the effective date of coverage. "Full time" means a regular work week of not less than thirty (30) hours.

(3) An age restriction providing that no insurance will become effective on debtors on or after the attainment of age sixty-six (66) and that all insurance will terminate upon attainment by the debtor of age sixty-six (66).

Section 9. Refund Formulas

A. In the event of termination, no charge for consumer credit insurance may be made for the first fifteen (15) days of a month and a full month may be charged for sixteen (16) days or more of a month.

Drafting Note: States should verify that the use of 15 days in the above section does not conflict with their banking laws.

B. The requirements of the consumer credit insurance law that refund formulas be filed with the commissioner shall be considered fulfilled if the refund formulas are set forth in the individual policy or group certificate filed with the commissioner.

C. No refund of $5 or less need be made.

Section 10. Experience Reports and Adjustment of Prima Facie Rates

A. Each insurer doing insurance business in this state shall annually file with the commissioner and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) Support and Services Office a report of consumer credit insurance written on a calendar year basis. The report shall utilize the Credit Insurance Supplement—Annual Statement Blank as approved by the NAIC, and shall contain data separately for each state, rather than an allocation of the company's countrywide experience. The filing shall be made in accordance with and no later than the due date in the Instructions to the Annual Statement.

B. The commissioner will, on a triennial basis, review the loss ratio standards set forth in Section 4 and the prima facie rates set forth in Sections 6 and 7 and determine therefrom the rate of expected claims on a statewide basis, compare such rate of expected claims with the rate of actual claims for the preceding three (3) years determined from the incurred claims and earned premiums at prima facie rates reported in the Annual Statement Supplement or other available source, and publish the adjusted actual statewide prima facie rates to be used by insurers during the next triennium. The rates will reflect the difference between (a) actual claims based on experience; and (b) expected claims based on the loss ratio standards set forth in Section 4 applied to the prima facie rates set forth in Sections 6 and 7.

C. The commissioner will, on a triennial basis, review the discount rates for interest included in the formulae in Sections 6A and 7A, and adjust those discount rates to equal the average of the rates being paid at that time on three-year United States Treasury Notes as reported in the Wall Street Journal on the last day of sale in the most recent three (3) calendar years.

Drafting Note: This contemplates automatic adjustment of premium and discount rates every three years, based on state-wide experience. The need for notice and public hearing will be dictated by the provisions of the Administrative Procedures Acts in the various states. It is contemplated that the rate adjustments, as a purely administrative procedure, should generally require only notice, without formal hearings.

Drafting Note: States should verify that the wording in Section 10C is specific enough to allow the commissioner to change the interest rate in an administrative action, rather than by having to readopt the regulation.

Section 11. Use of Rates - Direct Business Only

A. Use of Prima Facie Rates.

An insurer that files rates or has rates on file that are equivalent to the prima facie rates shown in Sections 6 and 7, to the extent adjusted pursuant to Section 10, may use those rates without further proof of their reasonableness.

B. Use of Rates Higher Than Prima Facie Rates.

An insurer may file for approval of and use rates that are higher than the prima facie rates shown in Sections 6 and 7, to the extent adjusted pursuant to Section 10, as long as the filed rates are consistent with the provisions of Section 4 of this regulation.

If rates higher than the prima facie rates shown in Sections 6 and 7, to the extent adjusted pursuant to Section 10, are filed for approval, the filing shall specify the account or accounts to which the rates apply. The rates may be:

(1) Applied uniformly to all accounts of the insurer; or

(2) Applied on an equitable basis approved by the commissioner to only one or more accounts of the insurer for which the experience has been less favorable than expected; or

(3) Applied according to a case-rating procedure on file with the commissioner.

C. Approval Period of Deviated Rates.

(1) A deviated rate will be in effect for a period of time not longer than the experience period used to establish the rate (i.e. one year, two years or three years). An insurer may file for a new rate before the end of a rate period, but not more often than once during any twelve-month period.

(2) Notwithstanding the provision of Subsection A of this section, if an account changes insurers, the rate approved to be used for the account by the prior insurer is the maximum rate that may be used by the succeeding insurer for the remainder of the rate approval period approved for the prior insurer or until a new rate is approved for use on the account, if sooner.

D. Use of Rates Lower than Filed Rates.

An insurer may at any time use a rate for an account that is lower than its filed rate without notice to the commissioner.

E. Glossary of Terms and Definitions as Used in Section 11.

(1) "Experience" means "earned premiums" and "incurred losses during the experience period.

(2) "Experience period" means the most recent period of time for which earned premiums and incurred losses are reported, but not for a period longer than three (3) full years.

(3) "Incurred losses means total claims paid during the experience period, adjusted for the change in claim reserve.

Section 12. Supervision of Consumer Credit Insurance Operations

A. Each insurer transacting credit insurance in this state shall be responsible for conducting a thorough periodic review of creditors with respect to their credit insurance business with such creditors, to assure compliance with the insurance laws of this state and the regulation promulgated by the commissioner.

B. Written records of such reviews shall be maintained by the insurer for review by the Insurance Commissioner.

Note: The states may wish to specify the minimum time in accordance with their respective statutes.

Section 13. Prohibited Transactions

The following practices, when engaged in by insurers in connection with the sale or placement of credit insurance, or as an inducement thereto, shall constitute unfair methods of competition and shall be subject to the Unfair Trade Practices Act of this State.

A. The offer or grant by an insurer to a creditor of any special advantage or any service not set out in either the group insurance contract or in the agency contract, other than the payment of agent's commissions;

B. Agreement by an insurer to deposit with a bank or financial institution money or securities of the insurer with the design or intent that the same shall affect or take the place of a deposit of money or securities which otherwise would be required of the creditor by the bank or financial institution as a compensating balance or offsetting deposit for a loan or other advancement; and

C. Deposit by an insurer of money or securities without interest or at a lesser rate of interest than is currently being paid by the creditor, bank or financial institution to other depositors of like amounts for similar durations. This subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the maintenance by an insurer of such demand deposits or premium deposit accounts as are reasonably necessary for use in the ordinary course of the insurer's business.

Section 14. Readability [Optional]

The commissioner shall not approve any form unless the policy or certificate is written in non-technical, readily understandable language, using words of common everyday usage:

A. Each insurer is required to test the readability of its policies or certificates by use of the Flesch Readability Formula, as set forth in Rudolf Flesch, The Art of Readable Writing, (1949, as revised 1974);

B. A total readability score of forty (40) or more on the Flesch scale is required;

C. All policies or certificates within the scope of this section shall be filed with the commissioner, accompanied by a certification setting forth the Flesch score and certifying the compliance with the guidelines set forth in this Section.

Drafting Note: This optional section should be included only in those states which have not enacted a policy language simplification act.

Section 15. Severability

If any provision or clause of this regulation or the application thereof to any person or situation is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of the regulation which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this regulation are declared severable.

Section 16. Effective Date

A. This regulation shall take effect [insert date] as to premium rates.

B. Approval of all forms not in compliance with this regulation is hereby withdrawn as of [insert date]. No such form may be issued after said date unless it has been submitted to and approved by the commissioner subsequent to [30 days prior to effective date], or unless a rider approved subsequent to such date has been attached bringing the form into compliance with this regulation.

C. Any deviations thought to be appropriate by an insurer as a result of promulgation of this regulation shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 11 no later than [insert date].

D. Certificates, notices of proposed insurance and premium rates in connection with existing group policies shall conform to the requirements of this regulation not later than the anniversary date of the group policy next following the effective date of this regulation.

E. Any group policy issued to replace an existing group policy of consumer credit insurance or an amendment to an existing group policy of consumer credit insurance shall be ignored for the purposes of determining the anniversary date if the change is made on or after [insert the date of publication of notice].

Drafting Note: This section should be drafted in accordance with the state statutes regarding approval and disapproval of forms.

CONSUMER CREDIT INSURANCE MODEL REGULATION

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

MODEL REGULATION TO DEFINE STANDARDS AND COMMISSIONER'S AUTHORITY FOR COMPANIES DEEMED TO BE IN HAZARDOUS FINANCIAL CONDITION

Section 1. Authority

This regulation is adopted and promulgated by [title of supervisory authority] pursuant to Section [insert reference to section authorizing the commissioner to adopt regulations and a reference to the state equivalent of the NAIC Insurer's Rehabilitation and Liquidation Model Act and any other section where the term hazardous financial condition or a similar term is used] of the [insert state] Insurance Code.

Section 2. Purpose

The purpose of this regulation is to set forth the standards which the commissioner may use for identifying insurers found to be in such condition as to render the continuance of their business hazardous to their policyholders, creditors or the general public.

This regulation shall not be interpreted to limit the powers granted the commissioner by any laws or parts of laws of this state, nor shall this regulation be interpreted to supercede any laws or parts of laws of this state.

Section 3. Standards

The following standards, either singly or a combination of two or more, may be considered by the commissioner to determine whether the continued operation of any insurer transacting an insurance business in this state might be deemed to be hazardous to its policyholders, creditors or the general public. The commissioner may consider:

A. Adverse findings reported in financial condition and market conduct examination reports, audit reports, and actuarial opinions, reports or summaries;

B. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners Insurance Regulatory Information System and its other financial analysis solvency tools and reports;

C. Whether the insurer has made adequate provision, according to presently accepted actuarial standards of practice, for the anticipated cash flows required by the contractual obligations and related expenses of the insurer, when considered in light of the assets held by the insurer with respect to such reserves and related actuarial items including, but not limited to, the investment earnings on such assets, and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under such policies and contracts;

D. The ability of an assuming reinsurer to perform and whether the insurer's reinsurance program provides sufficient protection for the insurer's remaining surplus after taksing into account the insurer's cash flow and the classes of business written as well as the financial condition of the assuming reinsurer;

E. Whether the insurer's operating loss in the last twelve-month period or any shorter period of time, including but not limited to net capital gain or loss, change in non-admitted assets, and cash dividends paid to shareholders, is greater than fifty percent (50%) of the insurer's remaining surplus as regards policyholders in excess of the minimum required;

F. Whether the insurer's operating loss in the last twelve-month period or any shorter period of time, excluding net capital gains, is greater than twenty percent (20%) of the insurer's remaining surplus as regards policyholders in excess of the minimum required;

G. Whether a reinsurer, obligor or any entity within the insurer's insurance holding company system, is insolvent, threatened with insolvency or delinquent in payment of its monetary or other obligations, and which in the opinion of the commissioner may affect the solvency of the insurer;

H. Contingent liabilities, pledges or guaranties which either individually or collectively involve a total amount which in the opinion of the commissioner may affect the solvency of the insurer;

I. Whether any "controlling person" of an insurer is delinquent in the transmitting to, or payment of, net premiums to the insurer;

J. The age and collectibility of receivables;

K. Whether the management of an insurer, including officers, directors, or any other person who directly or indirectly controls the operation of the insurer, fails to possess and demonstrate the competence, fitness and reputation deemed necessary to serve the insurer in such position;

L. Whether management of an insurer has failed to respond to inquiries relative to the condition of the insurer or has furnished false and misleading information concerning an inquiry;

M. Whether the insurer has failed to meet financial and holding company filing requirements in the absence of a reason satisfactory to the commissioner;

N. Whether management of an insurer either has filed any false or misleading sworn financial statement, or has released false or misleading financial statement to lending institutions or to the general public, or has made a false or misleading entry, or has omitted an entry of material amount in the books of the insurer;

O. Whether the insurer has grown so rapidly and to such an extent that it lacks adequate financial and administrative capacity to meet its obligations in a timely manner;

P. Whether the insurer has experienced or will experience in the foreseeable future cash flow or liquidity problems;

Q. Whether management has established reserves that do not comply with minimum standards established by state insurance laws, regulations, statutory accounting standards, sound actuarial principles and standards of practice;

R. Whether management persistently engages in material under reserving that results in adverse development;

S. Whether transactions among affiliates, subsidiaries or controlling persons for which the insurer receives assets or capital gains, or both, do not provide sufficient value, liquidity or diversity to assure the insurer's ability to meet its outstanding obligations as they mature;

T. Any other finding determined by the commissioner to be hazardous to the insurer's policyholders, creditors or general public.

Section 4. Commissioner's Authority

A. For the purposes of making a determination of an insurer's financial condition under this regulation, the commissioner may:

(1) Disregard any credit or amount receivable resulting from transactions with a reinsurer that is insolvent, impaired or otherwise subject to a delinquency proceeding;

(2) Make appropriate adjustments including disallowance to asset values attributable to investments in or transactions with parents, subsidiaries or affiliates consistent with the NAIC Accounting Practices And Procedures Manual, state laws and regulations;

(3) Refuse to recognize the stated value of accounts receivable if the ability to collect receivables is highly speculative in view of the age of the account or the financial condition of the debtor;

(4) Increase the insurer's liability in an amount equal to any contingent liability, pledge, or guarantee not otherwise included if there is a substantial risk that the insurer will be called upon to meet the obligation undertaken within the next twelve-month period.

B. If the commissioner determines that the continued operation of the insurer licensed to transact business in this state may be hazardous to its policyholders, creditors or the general public, then the commissioner may, upon a determination, issue an order requiring the insurer to:

(1) Reduce the total amount of present and potential liability for policy benefits by reinsurance;

(2) Reduce, suspend or limit the volume of business being accepted or renewed;

(3) Reduce general insurance and commission expenses by specified methods;

(4) Increase the insurer's capital and surplus;

(5) Suspend or limit the declaration and payment of dividend by an insurer to its stockholders or to its policyholders;

(6) File reports in a form acceptable to the commissioner concerning the market value of an insurer's assets;

(7) Limit or withdraw from certain investments or discontinue certain investment practices to the extent the commissioner deems necessary;

(8) Document the adequacy of premium rates in relation to the risks insured;

(9) File, in addition to regular annual statements, interim financial reports on the form adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners or in such format as promulgated by the commissioner.

(10) Correct corporate governance practice deficiencies, and adopt and utilize governance practices acceptable to the commissioner.

(11) Provide a business plan to the commissioner in order to continue to transact business in the state.

(12) Notwithstanding any other provision of law limiting the frequency or amount of premium rate adjustments, adjust rates for any non-life insurance product written by the insurer that the commissioner considers necessary to improve the financial condition of the insurer.

If the insurer is a foreign insurer the commissioner's order may be limited to the extent provided by statute.

C. An insurer subject to an order under Subsection B may request a hearing to review that order. The notice of hearing shall be served upon the insurer pursuant to [cite the applicable rules of civil or administrative procedure]. The notice of hearing shall state the time and place of hearing, and the conduct, condition or ground upon which the commissioner based the order. Unless mutually agreed between the commissioner and the insurer, the hearing shall occur not less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days after notice is served and shall be either in [insert proper county] county or in some other place convenient to the parties designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall hold all hearings under this subsection privately, unless the insurer requests a public hearing, in which case the hearing shall be public.

Section 5. Judicial Review

Any order or decision of the commissioner shall be subject to review in accordance with [cite applicable provision of the state administrative code] at the instance of any party to the proceedings whose interests are substantially affected.

Note: Consideration should be given to the practice and procedure in each state.

Section 6. Separability

If any provisions of this regulation be held invalid, the remainder shall not be affected.

Section 7. Effective Date

This regulation shall become effective [insert date].

MODEL REGULATION TO DEFINE STANDARDS AND COMMISSIONER'S AUTHORITY FOR COMPANIES DEEMED TO BE IN HAZARDOUS FINANCIAL CONDITION

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

MODEL REGULATION TO DEFINE STANDARDS AND COMMISSIONER'S AUTHORITY FOR COMPANIES DEEMED TO BE IN HAZARDOUS FINANCIAL CONDITION

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2008

MODEL REGULATION TO DEFINE STANDARDS AND COMMISSIONER'S AUTHORITY FOR COMPANIES DEEMED TO BE IN HAZARDOUS FINANCIAL CONDITION (#385)

1. Project Description

In June 2004, the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force received a referral from the Financial Condition (E) Committee to review Model Law #385: Model Regulation to Define Standards and Commissioner's Authority for Companies Deemed to be in Hazardous Financial Condition. The Task Force was asked to work with the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force in reviewing the model as it represented an accreditation standard that had not been revised since its adoption in 1985. Based on the initial review performed in 2005, the Task Force recommended that the model be revised and updated. A charge was adopted for 2006 instructing the Task Force to produce revisions to the model in coordination with the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force. Preliminary work was completed on the charge in 2006 but in 2007, in accordance with the NAIC's adoption of a revised Model Law Development Framework, the project to revise the model was put on hold until the approval of an Appendix A by the Executive Committee. The Appendix A was approved by the Executive Committee at the 2007 Winter National Meeting and the task forces resumed their work to revise the model at this time.

2. Group Responsible for Drafting the Regulation

The project to review and produce revisions to Model #385 was given to the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force. The two task forces formed a joint subgroup, entitled the Hazardous Financial Condition Model Revisions Subgroup, to draft revisions to the model regulation. The following states participated in the subgroup:

Iowa, Chair	Pennsylvania
Arkansas	Tennessee
Florida	Utah
New York	Virginia
Ohio

3. Charge Authorizing the Project

The Examination Oversight (E) Task Force and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force have been working on this project in accordance with related charges since 2004. In 2007, in accordance with the revised Model Law Development Framework, the task forces prepared an Appendix A-Request for Model Law Development, for the approval of the Financial Condition (E) Committee and the Executive (EX) Committee. The Appendix A received final approval of the Executive Committee at the 2007 NAIC Winter National Meeting and the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force was asked to proceed with the following charge:

Produce in coordination with the Receivership and Insolvency Task Force, revisions to Model 385 – Model Regulation to Define Standards and Commissioner's Authority for Companies Deemed to be in Hazardous Financial Condition.

4. General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

In November 2004, the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force conducted a survey of state insurance departments to determine state satisfaction with the current version of Model #385. As a result of the survey, a number of suggested revisions were proposed by various state insurance departments. When the approval to proceed with the project was received in December 2007, the Hazardous Financial Condition Subgroup utilized the suggested revisions from the survey results as a starting point to draft revisions to the Model. These suggested revisions were discussed on a call of the Subgroup on February 20, 2008. During this call, draft revisions to the model were finalized and the Subgroup voted to expose the proposed revisions for a 45-day comment period. The exposure period was subsequently extended to 60-days at the request of the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force. After the exposure period concluded, the Subgroup held a conference call on May 22, 2008, to discuss the three comment letters received during the exposure period. During this conference call, the group discussed the comments received and agreed to add explanatory language to amend several of the proposed revisions. The proposed revisions to Model #385 were then adopted as amended. The revisions to the model were then unanimously adopted by both the Examination Oversight and Receivership & Insolvency (E) Task Forces and the Financial Condition (E) Committee at their June 2008 meetings.

5. Discussion of Key Issues

Section 3. Standards

The following additions were made to the standards that may be considered by the commissioner to determine whether the continued operation of any insurer transacting an insurance business in this state might be deemed to be hazardous to the policyholders, creditors or the general public:

- Findings from audit reports and actuarial opinions, reports or summaries;
- Whether the insurer has made adequate provision, according to presently accepted actuarial standards of practice, for the anticipated cash flows required by the contractual obligations and related expenses of the company, when considered in light of the assets held by the company with respect to such reserves and related actuarial items including, but not limited to, the investment earnings on such assets, and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under such policies and contracts;
- Whether the insurer's operating loss in the last twelve-month period or any shorter period of time, excluding net capital gains, is greater than twenty percent (20%) of the insurer's remaining surplus as regards policyholders in excess of the minimum required;
- Whether the insurer has failed to meet financial and holding company filing requirements in the absence of a reason satisfactory to the commissioner;
- Whether management has established reserves that do not comply with minimum standards established by state insurance laws, regulations, statutory accounting standards, sound actuarial principles and standards of practice;
- Whether management persistently engages in material under reserving that results in adverse development;
- Whether transactions among affiliates, subsidiaries or controlling persons for which the insurer receives assets or capital gains, or both, do not provide sufficient value, liquidity or diversity to assure the insurer's ability to meet its outstanding obligations as they mature;
- Any other finding determined by the commissioner to be hazardous to the policyholders, creditors or general public.

These standards have been added to give the commissioner additional items to consider in determining whether an insurer is in a hazardous financial condition.

Section 4. Commissioner's Authority

The following additions were made to the commissioner's authority to issue an order requiring the insurer to:

- Correct corporate governance practice deficiencies, and adopt and utilize governance practices acceptable to the commissioner.
- Provide a business plan to the commissioner in order to continue to transact business in the state.
- Notwithstanding any other provision of law limiting the frequency or amount of premium rate adjustments, adjust rates for any non-life insurance product written by the insurer that the commissioner considers necessary to improve the financial condition of the insurer.

These additional requirements have been included in the revised model to allow the commissioner additional authority in preventing the situation at insurers in hazardous financial condition from worsening.

Exhibit A: Illustrative Timeline on Due Process and Drafting Process– Model 385

June 2004	(Summer National Meeting) Examination Oversight Task Force receives the referral of the Financial Condition (E) Committee to review Model #385 in conjunction with the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force.
September 2004	(Fall National Meeting) Subgroup of Examination Oversight Task Force formed to begin review of the model.
October 2004	Subgroup holds a conference call to review the model and develops a survey to be conducted among all states regarding the current effectiveness of the model and whether revisions may be necessary.
November 2004	Survey of states conducted.
December 2004	(Winter National Meeting) Survey responses are briefly discussed. Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force indicates that it is actively working on revisions to Model #555 (Insurer Receivership Model Act) and has limited availability to participate in the review of Model #385 at this time.
March 2005	Due to the involvement of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force in developing revisions to Model #555, the project to review Model #385 is postponed.
December 2005	Financial Condition (E) Committee adopts a charge for the task forces to move forward by drafting revisions to update the model.
2006	Limited work performed on the project due to the Receivership and Insolvency Task Force's work on Model #555.
March 2007	(Spring National Meeting) A joint subgroup of the Examination Oversight (E) Task Force and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force titled the Hazardous Financial Condition Model Revisions Subgroup is formed to work on the project.
May 2007	The NAIC adopts a new Model Law Development Framework requiring an additional approval process before work to revise the model is begun.
June-August 2007	The Hazardous Financial Condition Model Revisions Subgroup surveys Chief Financial Regulators regarding their support for formally revising Model #385 to comply with the Model Law Development Framework. The results of the survey indicate sufficient support for the project and an Appendix A is created to request approval to proceed with formally revising the model.
September 2007	(Fall National Meeting) The Appendix A to proceed with formally revising Model #385 is approved by both the Examination Oversight and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Forces and the Financial Condition (E) Committee.
December 2007	(Winter National Meeting) The Appendix A is approved by the Executive Committee.
February 20, 2008	In a conference call of the Hazardous Financial Condition Model Revisions Subgroup, proposed revisions to the model are discussed and voted to be exposed for public comment.
May 22, 2008	A conference call of the Hazardous Financial Condition Model Revisions Subgroup is held to discuss comments received during the exposure period. An amended version of the revisions to the model is adopted for presentation to the Examination Oversight and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Forces.
June 1, 2008	The revised model is adopted by both the Examination Oversight and the Receivership & Insolvency (E) Task Forces.
June 2, 2008	The revised model is adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

MODEL LAW ON EXAMINATIONS

Table of Contents

Prefatory Drafting Comment

This model act reflects a conceptual change with respect to the frequency and scope of on-site financial examinations of insurers. The Act authorizes the commissioner to conduct examinations whenever it is deemed necessary and the commissioner is given the flexibility to decide the scope of the examination. Since criteria for determining when a company should be examined and the scope of that examination and procedures to be employed is a complex matter, the Act requires the commissioner to observe the direction set forth in the NAIC Examiner's Handbook with respect to these matters.

The objective of the model act is to direct department resources to companies having or likely to have financial difficulty; however, all companies are required to be examined once every five years, although the scope and extent of that exam will be based on the particular attributes of the company to be examined.

The conceptual change reflected by this model law can be accomplished because over the last several years a variety of additional financial regulatory tools have been developed and implemented including annual independent CPA audits, opinions on insurance reserves by qualified actuaries, annual financial statement analyses and others which alleviate the necessity for comprehensive periodic examinations.

This model act will not diminish the commissioner's authority to conduct examinations but rather will see that examinations are a more effective part of the department financial regulation and surveillance program.

Section 1. Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to provide an effective and efficient system for examining the activities, operations, financial condition and affairs of all persons transacting the business of insurance in this state and all persons otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner. The provisions of the Act are intended to enable the commissioner to adopt a flexible system of examinations that directs resources as may be deemed appropriate and necessary for the administration of the insurance and insurance related laws of this state.

Section 2. Definitions

The following terms as used in this Act shall have the respective meanings hereinafter set forth:

A. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of this state.

Drafting Note: The title of the chief insurance regulatory official should be used here and throughout the law.

B. "Company" means a person engaging in or proposing or attempting to engage in any transaction or kind of insurance or surety business and any person or group of persons who may otherwise be subject to the administrative, regulatory or taxing authority of the commissioner.

C. "Department" means the department of insurance of this state.

D. "Examiner" means an individual or firm having been authorized by the commissioner to conduct an examination under this Act.

E. "Insurer" means [refer to appropriate definition in state insurance code].

F. "Person" means an individual, aggregation of individuals, trust, association, partnership or corporation, or any affiliate thereof.

Section 3. Authority, Scope and Scheduling of Examinations

A. The commissioner or any of the commissioner's examiners may conduct an examination under this Act of any company as often as the commissioner in his or her sole discretion deems appropriate but shall at a minimum, conduct an examination of every insurer licensed in this state not less frequently than once every five (5) years. In scheduling and determining the nature, scope and frequency of the examinations, the commissioner shall consider such matters as the results of financial statement analyses and ratios, changes in management or ownership, actuarial opinions, reports of independent Certified Public Accountants and other criteria as set forth in the Examiners' Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance commissioners and in effect when the commissioner exercises discretion under this section.

B. For purposes of completing an examination of a company under this Act, the commissioner may examine or investigate any person, or the business of any person, in so far as the examination or investigation is, in the sole discretion of the commissioner, necessary or material to the examination of the company.

Drafting Note: In order to force a person outside the state to cooperate with any examination, it may be necessary to obtain judicial enforcement of a subpoena.

C. In lieu of an examination under this Act of a foreign or alien insurer licensed in this state, the commissioner may accept an examination report on the company as prepared by the insurance department for the company's state of domicile or port-of-entry state until January 1, 1994. Thereafter, such reports may only be accepted if (1), the insurance department was at the time of the examination accredited under the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program or (2) the examination is performed under the supervision of an accredited insurance department or with the participation of one or more examiners who are employed by an accredited state insurance department and who, after a review of the examination work papers and report, state under oath that the examination was performed in a manner consistent with the standards and procedures required by their insurance department.

Section 4. Conduct of Examinations

A. Upon determining that an examination should be conducted, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee shall issue an examination warrant appointing one or more examiners to perform the examination and instructing them as to the scope of the examination. In conducting the examination, the examiner shall observe those guidelines and procedures set forth in the Examiners' Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. The commissioner may also employ such other guidelines or procedures as the commissioner may deem appropriate.

B. Every company or person from whom information is sought, its officers, directors and agents shall provide to the examiners appointed under Subsection A timely, convenient and free access at all reasonable hours at its offices to all books, records, accounts, papers, documents and any or all computer or other recordings relating to the property, assets, business and affairs of the company being examined. The officers, directors, employees and agents of the company or person must facilitate the examination and aid in the examination so far as it is in their power to do so. The refusal of a company, by its officers, directors, employees or agents, to submit to examination or to comply with any reasonable written request of the examiners shall be grounds for suspension or refusal of, or nonrenewal of any license or authority held by the company to engage in an insurance or other business subject to the commissioner's jurisdiction. Any such proceedings for suspension, revocation or refusal of a license or authority shall be conducted pursuant to Section [insert reference to cease and desist statute or other law having a post-order hearing mechanism].

C. The commissioner or any of the commissioner's examiners shall have the power to issue subpoenas, to administer oaths and to examine under oath any person as to any matter pertinent to the examination. Upon the failure or refusal of a person to obey a subpoena, the commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction, and upon proper showing, the court may enter an order compelling the witness to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence. Failure to obey the court order shall be punishable as contempt of court. [or "Such subpoenas may be enforced pursuant to the provisions of Section _____ of this Code."]

D. When making an examination under this Act, the commissioner may retain attorneys, appraisers, independent actuaries, independent certified public accountants or other professionals and specialists as examiners, the cost of which shall be borne by the company that is the subject of the examination.

E. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to limit the commissioner's authority to terminate or suspend an examination in order to pursue other legal or regulatory action pursuant to the insurance laws of this state. Findings of fact and conclusions made pursuant to an examination shall be prima facie evidence in any legal or regulatory action.

F. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to limit the commissioner's authority to use and, if appropriate, to make public any final or preliminary examination report, any examiner or company workpapers or other documents, or any other information discovered or developed during the course of an examination in the furtherance of any legal or regulatory action that the commissioner may, in his or her sole discretion, deem appropriate.

Section 5. Examination Reports

A. General Description

An examination report shall be comprised of only facts appearing upon the books, records or other documents of the company, its agents or other persons examined, or as ascertained from the testimony of its officers or agents or other persons examined concerning its affairs, and such conclusions and recommendations as the examiners find reasonably warranted from the facts.

B. Filing of Examination Report

No later than sixty (60) days following completion of the examination, the examiner in charge shall file with the department a verified written report of examination under oath. Upon receipt of the verified report, the department shall transmit the report to the company examined, together with a notice that shall afford the company examined a reasonable opportunity of not more than thirty (30) days to make a written submission or rebuttal with respect to any matters contained in the examination report.

C. Adoption of Report on Examination

Within thirty (30) days of the end of the period allowed for the receipt of written submissions or rebuttals, the commissioner shall fully consider and review the report, together with any written submissions or rebuttals and any relevant portions of the examiner's workpapers and enter an order:

(1) Adopting the examination report as filed or with modification or corrections. If the examination report reveals that the company is operating in violation of any law, regulation or prior order of the commissioner, the commissioner may order the company to take any action the commissioner considers necessary and appropriate to cure the violation; or

(2) Rejecting the examination report with directions to the examiners to reopen the examination for purposes of obtaining additional data, documentation or information, and refiling pursuant to Subsection A above; or

(3) Calling for an investigatory hearing with no less than twenty (20) days notice to the company for purposes of obtaining additional documentation, data, information and testimony.

D. Orders and Procedures

(1) Orders entered pursuant to Subsection C(1) above shall be accompanied by findings and conclusions resulting from the commissioner's consideration and review of the examination report, relevant examiner workpapers and any written submissions or rebuttals. An order shall be considered a final administrative decision and may be appealed pursuant to the [insert name of State Administrative Review Law], and shall be served upon the company by certified mail, together with a copy of the adopted examination report. Within thirty (30) days of the issuance of the adopted report, the company shall file affidavits executed by each of its directors stating under oath that they have received a copy of the adopted report and related orders.

(2) A hearing conducted under Subsection C(3) above by the commissioner or authorized representative shall be conducted as a nonadversarial confidential investigatory proceeding as necessary for the resolution of any inconsistencies, discrepancies or disputed issues apparent upon the face of the filed examination report or raised by or as a result of the commissioner's review of relevant workpapers or by the written submission or rebuttal of the company. Within twenty (20) days of the conclusion of any such hearing, the commissioner shall enter an order pursuant to Subsection C(1) above.

(a) The commissioner shall not appoint an examiner as an authorized representative to conduct the hearing. The hearing shall proceed expeditiously with discovery by the company limited to the examiner's workpapers that tend to substantiate any assertions set forth in any written submission or rebuttal. The commissioner or the commissioner's representative may issue subpoenas for the attendance of any witnesses or the production of any documents deemed relevant to the investigation whether under the control of the department, the company or other persons. The documents produced shall be included in the record and testimony taken by the commissioner or the commissioner's representative shall be under oath and preserved for the record. Nothing contained in this section shall require the department to disclose any information or records that would indicate or show the existence or content of any investigation or activity of a criminal justice agency.

(b) The hearing shall proceed with the commissioner or the commissioner's representative posing questions to the persons subpoenaed. Thereafter the company and the department may present testimony relevant to the investigation. Cross examination shall be conducted only by the commissioner or the commissioner's representative. The company and the department shall be permitted to make closing statements and may be represented by counsel of their choice.

E. Publication and Use

(1) Upon the adoption of the examination report under Subsection C(1) above, the commissioner shall continue to hold the content of the examination report as private and confidential information for a period of [insert number] days except to the extent provided in Subsection B. Thereafter, the commissioner may open the report for public inspection so long as no court of competent jurisdiction has stayed its publication.

Drafting Note: The time period may correspond to the amount of time allowed for a party to seek administrative review under state law or it should at a minimum allow a company adequate time, not less than two (2) days following receipt of the adopted report to obtain an equitable stay if provided for under state law.

(2) Nothing contained in this Code shall prevent or be construed as prohibiting the commissioner from disclosing the content of an examination report, preliminary examination report or results, or any matter relating thereto, to the insurance department of this or any other state or country, or to law enforcement officials of this or any other state or agency of the federal government at any time, so long as the agency or office receiving the report or matters relating thereto agrees in writing to hold it confidential and in a manner consistent with this Act.

(3) In the event the commissioner determines that regulatory action is appropriate as a result of an examination, he or she may initiate any proceedings or actions provided by law.

F. Privilege for, and Confidentiality of Ancillary Information

(1) (a) Except as provided in Subsection E above and in this subsection, documents, materials or other information, including, but not limited to, all working papers, and copies thereof, created, produced or obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination made under this Act, or in the course of analysis by the commissioner of the financial condition or market conduct of a company shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. The commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as part of the commissioner's official duties.

(b) Documents, materials or other information, including, but not limited to, all working papers, and copies thereof, in the possession or control of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action if they are:

(i) Created, produced or obtained by or disclosed to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries in the course of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries assisting an examination made under this Act, or assisting a commissioner in the analysis of the financial condition or market conduct of a company; or

(ii) Disclosed to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries under Paragraph (3) of this subsection by a commissioner.

(c) For the purposes of Paragraph (1)(b), "Act" includes the law of another state or jurisdiction that is substantially similar to this Act.

(2) Neither the commissioner nor any person who received the documents, material or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner, including the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, shall be permitted to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials or information subject to Paragraph (1).

(3) In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(a) May share documents, materials or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to Paragraph (1), with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal and international law enforcement authorities, provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material, communication or other information;

(b) May receive documents, materials, communications or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, from the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information; and

(c) [Optional provision] May enter into agreements governing sharing and use of information consistent with this subsection.

Drafting Note: Subsection F(3)(a) assumes that the recipient has the authority to protect the applicable confidentiality or privilege, but does not address the verification of that authority, which would presumably occur in the context of a broader information sharing agreement.

(4) No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Paragraph (3).

(5) A privilege established under the law of any state or jurisdiction that is substantially similar to the privilege established under this subsection shall be available and enforced in any proceeding in, and in any court of, this state.

(6) In this subsection "department," "insurance department," "law enforcement agency," "regulatory agency," and the "National Association of Insurance Commissioners" include, but are not limited to, their employees, agents, consultants and contractors.

Section 6. Conflict of Interest

A. An examiner may not be appointed by the commissioner if the examiner, either directly or indirectly, has a conflict of interest or is affiliated with the management of or owns a pecuniary interest in any person subject to examination under this Act. This section shall not be construed to automatically preclude an examiner from being:

(1) A policyholder or claimant under an insurance policy;

(2) A grantor of a mortgage or similar instrument on the examiner's residence to a regulated entity if done under customary terms and in the ordinary course of business;

(3) An investment owner in shares of regulated diversified investment companies; or

(4) A settlor or beneficiary of a "blind trust" into which any otherwise impermissible holdings have been placed.

B. Notwithstanding the requirements of this section, the commissioner may retain from time to time, on an individual basis, qualified actuaries, certified public accountants, or other similar individuals who are independently practicing their professions, even though these persons may from time to time be similarly employed or retained by persons subject to examination under this Act.

Section 7. Cost of Examinations

Drafting Comment: The NAIC Model State Insurance Department Funding Bill or such funding mechanism as may be currently authorized by law should be incorporated here by reference. Any funding mechanism should assure that the manner in which examinations are funded does not influence the scheduling, scope or conduct of examination.

Section 8. Immunity from Liability

A. No cause of action shall arise nor shall any liability be imposed against the commissioner, the commissioner's authorized representatives or an examiner appointed by the commissioner for any statements made or conduct performed in good faith while carrying out the provisions of this Act.

B. No cause of action shall arise, nor shall any liability be imposed against any person for the act of communicating or delivering information or data to the commissioner or the commissioner's authorized representative or examiner pursuant to an examination made under this Act, if the act of communication or delivery was performed in good faith and without fraudulent intent or the intent to deceive.

C. This section does not abrogate or modify in any way any common law or statutory privilege or immunity heretofore enjoyed by any person identified in Subsection A.

D. A person identified in Subsection A shall be entitled to an award of attorney's fees and costs if he or she is the prevailing party in a civil cause of action for libel, slander or any other relevant tort arising out of activities in carrying out the provisions of this Act and the party bringing the action was not substantially justified in doing so. For purposes of this section a proceeding is "substantially justified" if it had a reasonable basis in law or fact at the time that it was initiated.

MODEL LAW ON EXAMINATIONS

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

PARTICIPATION IN THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS (NAIC) INSURANCE REGULATORY INFORMATION SYSTEM MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Scope

The provisions of this Act shall apply to all domestic, foreign and alien insurers who are authorized to transact business in this state.

Section 2. Filing Requirements

A. Each domestic, foreign and alien insurer who is authorized to transact insurance in this state shall annually on or before March 1 of each year file with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) a copy of its annual statement convention blank, along with such additional filings as prescribed by the Commissioner for the preceding year. The information filed with the NAIC shall be in the same format and scope as that required by the Commissioner and shall include the signed jurat page and the actuarial certification. Any amendments and addendums to the annual statement filing subsequently filed with the Commissioner shall also be filed with the NAIC.

B. Foreign insurers that are domiciled in a state which has a law substantially similar to Subsection A of this section shall be deemed in compliance with this section.

Section 3. Immunity

In the absence of actual malice, members of the NAIC, their duly authorized committees, subcommittees, and task forces, their delegates, NAIC employees, and all others charged with the responsibility of collecting, reviewing, analyzing and disseminating the information developed from the filing of the annual statement convention blanks shall be acting as agents of the Commissioner under the authority of this Act and shall not be subject to civil liability for libel, slander or any other cause of action by virtue of their collection, review, and analysis or dissemination of the data and information collected from the filings required hereunder.

Section 4. Confidentiality

A. All financial analysis ratios and examination synopses concerning insurance companies that are submitted to the department by the NAIC's Insurance Regulatory Information System and in the possession or control of the Department of Insurance shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(1) May share documents, materials or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A, with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies, with the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal and international law enforcement authorities, provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material or other information;

(2) May receive documents, materials or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, from the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information; and

(3) [Optional provision] May enter into agreements governing sharing and use of information consistent with this subsection.

Drafting Note: The language in Subsection C(1) assumes the recipient has the authority to protect the applicable confidentiality or privilege, but does not address the verification of that authority, which would presumably occur in the context of a broader information sharing agreement.

D. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Subsection C.

Section 5. Revocation of Certificate of Authority

The Commissioner may suspend, revoke or refuse to renew the Certificate of Authority of any insurer failing to file its annual statement when due or within any extension of time which the Commissioner, for good cause, may have granted.

Section 6. Effective Date

This Act will be effective immediately.

HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATION MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Short Title

This Act may be cited as the Health Maintenance Organization Act of [insert year].

Section 2. Purpose and Intent

The purpose of this Act is to provide for a system of regulation for health maintenance organizations that is fair and efficient, and promotes the continued solvency of health maintenance organizations. This Act is designed to operate in conjunction with and as a companion to other state laws that establish standards for the regulation of health maintenance organizations, such as [insert state law equivalent to the Health Benefit Plan Network Access and Adequacy Model Act (#74) the Quality Assessment and Improvement Model Act (#71), the Health Care Professional Credentialing Verification Model Act (#70), the Utilization Review and Benefit Determination Model Act (#73), the Health Carrier Grievance Procedure Model Act (#72), the Health Carrier External Review Model Act (#75), the Health Information Privacy Model Act (#55), the Unfair Trade Practices (#880), the Unfair Claims Settlement Practices Model Act (#900), the Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440) and the Risk-Based Capital (RBC) for Health Organizations Model Act (#315)].

Drafting Note: This model act presumes the existence of state laws that are based on the listed NAIC model acts described in this section. States that have not already adopted these laws should consider adopting them to ensure that a comprehensive system of regulation for health maintenance organizations is in place.

Drafting Note: Former Section 14—Continuation of Benefits and Section 20—Uncovered Expenditures provide consumer protections for health maintenance organization enrollees in the event of a health maintenance organization insolvency in the absence of guaranty association protection for health maintenance organization enrollees. Those sections (along with Section 3HH, defining the term "uncovered expenditures") have been repealed to reconcile this Act with the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act (#520), which was amended in 2017 to make health maintenance organizations members of the guaranty association. States that continue to exclude health maintenance organizations from guaranty association membership should retain provisions, comparable to former Sections 3HH, 14 and 20, requiring health maintenance organizations to develop advance insolvency plans that include procedures to facilitate continuation of benefits after an insolvency, and to post deposits to secure any uncovered expenditures in excess of 10% of total health care expenditures. The language from former Section 14, former Section 20 and the former definition of "uncovered expenditures" in Section 3HH can be found in Appendix A. Former Section 21—Open Enrollment and Replacement Coverage in the Event of Insolvency was repealed as obsolete due to the provisions of the federal Affordable Care Act (ACA).

Section 3. Definitions

A. "Adverse determination" means a determination by a health maintenance organization or its designee utilization review organization that an admission, availability of care, continued stay or other health care service has been reviewed and, based upon the information provided, does not meet the health maintenance organization's requirements for medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care or effectiveness, and the requested service is therefore denied, reduced or terminated.

B. "Basic health care services" includes the following medically necessary services: preventive care, emergency care, inpatient and outpatient hospital and physician care, diagnostic laboratory and diagnostic and therapeutic radiological services. It does not include mental health services or services for alcohol or drug abuse, dental or vision services or long-term rehabilitation treatment.

C. "Capitated basis" means fixed per member per month payment or percentage of premium payment wherein the provider assumes the full risk for the cost of contracted services without regard to the type, value or frequency of services provided. For purposes of this definition, capitated basis includes the cost associated with operating staff model facilities.

D. "Coinsurance" means the percentage amount a covered person must pay under the terms of a health benefit plan in order to receive a health care service that is not fully prepaid.

Drafting Note: States that do not allow HMOs to impose a coinsurance requirement should not adopt this definition nor include the term when it is referenced throughout the model.

E. "Commissioner" means the insurance commissioner of this state.

Drafting Note: Use the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears. If the jurisdiction of health maintenance organizations lies with some state agency other than the insurance department, or if there is dual regulation, a state should add language referencing that agency to ensure the appropriate coordination of responsibilities.

F. "Copayment" means a specified dollar amount a covered person must pay under the terms of a health benefit plan in order to receive a health care service that is not fully prepaid.

G. "Covered benefits" means those health care services to which a covered person is entitled under the terms of a health benefit plan.

H. "Covered person" means any person eligible to receive covered benefits under the terms of a health benefit plan.

I. "Deductible" means the amount a covered person is responsible to pay out-of-pocket before the health maintenance organization begins to pay the covered expenses associated with treatment.

J. "Enrollee" means an individual whose employment or other status, except family dependency, is the basis for eligibility for enrollment in the health maintenance organization, or in the case of an individual contract, the person in whose name the contract is issued.

K. "Evidence of coverage" means a statement that sets out the coverage and other rights to which the covered person is entitled under the health benefit plan and that may be issued by the health maintenance organization or by the group contract holder to an enrollee electronically or, upon request, in writing.

L. "Extension of benefits" means the continuation of coverage under a particular benefit provided under a contract following termination with respect to a covered person who is totally disabled on the date of termination.

M. "Facility" means an institution providing health care services or a health care setting, including but not limited to hospitals and other licensed inpatient centers, ambulatory surgical or treatment centers, skilled nursing centers, residential treatment centers, diagnostic, laboratory and imaging centers, and rehabilitation and other therapeutic health settings.

N. "Grievance" means a written complaint submitted by or on behalf of a covered person regarding:

(1) The availability, delivery or quality of health care services, including a complaint regarding an adverse determination made pursuant to utilization review;

(2) Claims payment, handling or reimbursement for health care services; or

(3) Matters pertaining to the contractual relationship between a covered person and a health maintenance organization.

O. "Group contract" means a contract for health care services, which by its terms limits eligibility to members of a specified group. The group contract may include coverage for dependents.

P. "Group contract holder" means a person, other than an individual, to which a group contract has been issued.

Q. "Health benefit plan" means a policy, contract, certificate or agreement offered or issued by a health carrier to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for or reimburse any of the costs of health care services.

R. "Health care professional" means a physician or other health care practitioner license, accredited or certified to perform specified health services consistent with state law.

S. "Health care provider" or "provider" means a health care professional or facility.

T. "Health care services" means services for the diagnosis, prevention, treatment, cure or relief of a health condition, illness, injury or disease.

U. "Health carrier" or "carrier" means an entity subject to the insurance laws and regulations of this state, or subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner, that contracts or offers to contract to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for or reimburse any of the costs of health care services, including a sickness and accident insurance company, managed care organization, health maintenance organization, a nonprofit hospital or medical service corporation, or any other entity providing a plan of health insurance, health benefits or health care services.

Drafting Note: States that license health maintenance organizations pursuant to statutes other than the insurance statutes and regulations, such as the public health laws, will want to reference the applicable statutes instead of, or in addition to, the insurance laws and regulations.

Drafting Note: The term "hospital or medical service corporation," as used in the model act, is intended to apply to any nonprofit health, hospital or medical service corporation or similar organization. In order to include such organizations in this section, which are also commonly referred to as "Blue Cross Blue Shield-type" plans, each state should identify these organizations in accordance with its statutory terminology for such plans or by specific statutory citation. Some states also may have to amend other laws to bring these organizations within the scope of this section since the portions of state law applicable to these organizations may provide that no other portion of the insurance code applies to these organizations without a specific reference to the other provision.

V. "Health maintenance organization" means a person that undertakes to provide or arrange for the delivery of basic health care services to covered persons on a prepaid basis, except for a covered person's responsibility for copayments, coinsurance or deductibles.

W. "Individual contract" means a contract for health care services issued to and covering an individual. The individual contract may include dependents of the enrollee.

X. "Insolvent" or "insolvency" shall mean that the health maintenance organization has been declared insolvent and placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Y. "Intermediary organization" means a person, other than an individual, authorized to negotiate and execute provider contracts with health maintenance organizations on behalf of a group of health care providers or on behalf of a network, but does not include a provider or group of providers negotiating on its own behalf.

Z. "Network" means the group of participating providers providing services to a health maintenance organization.

AA. "Net worth" means the excess of total admitted assets over total liabilities, but the liabilities shall not include fully subordinated debt.

BB. "Participating provider" means a provider that, under an express or implied contract with the health maintenance organization or with its contractor or subcontractor, has agreed to provide health care services to covered persons with an expectation of receiving payment, other than copayments, coinsurance or deductibles, from the health maintenance organization or other organization under contract with the health maintenance organization to provide payment in accordance with the terms of the contract.

CC. "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint venture, a joint stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, any similar entity or a combination of the foregoing.

DD. "Policyholder" means, for individual contracts, the individual in whose name the contract is issued, and for group contracts, the group contract holder.

EE. "Qualified actuary" means an individual who is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries or meets such reasonable standards and qualifications as the commissioner may require.

FF. "Replacement coverage" means the benefits provided by a succeeding carrier.

GG. "Risk bearing entity" means an intermediary organization that is at financial risk for services provided through contractual assumption of the obligation for the delivery of specified health care services to covered persons of the health maintenance organization.

HH. "Utilization review" means a set of formal techniques utilized by or on behalf of the health maintenance organization designed to monitor the use of or evaluate the clinical necessity, appropriateness, efficacy or efficiency of health care services, procedures, providers or facilities. Techniques may include ambulatory review, prospective review, second opinion, certification, concurrent review, case management, discharge planning or retrospective review.

Section 4. Applicability and Scope

This Act applies to all health maintenance organizations and risk bearing entities doing business in this state.

Section 5. Establishment of Health Maintenance Organizations

Option A:

A. Notwithstanding any law of this state to the contrary, any person other than an individual may apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to establish and operate a health maintenance organization in compliance with this Act. No person shall establish or operate a health maintenance organization in this state, without obtaining a certificate of authority under this Act. A foreign corporation may qualify under this Act, subject to its registration to do business in this state as a foreign corporation under [insert reference to applicable state law] and compliance with all provisions of this Act and other applicable state laws.

Drafting Note: State laws differ as to whether a health maintenance organization is required to be a domestic corporation. This provision should be adopted if your state wants to permit a foreign corporation to qualify under this Act if it registers to do business in a state as a foreign corporation and complies with all provisions of this Act and other applicable state laws.

Option B:

A. Notwithstanding any law of this state to the contrary, any organization may apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to establish and operate a health maintenance organization in compliance with this Act. A person shall not establish or operate a health maintenance organization in this state without obtaining a certificate of authority under this Act.

Drafting Note: State laws differ as to whether a health maintenance organization may be a foreign corporation. This option does not differentiate between foreign and domestic corporations. Whether or not to allow foreign corporations to become health maintenance organizations should be determined in light of a particular state's regulatory framework.

B. Each application for a certificate of authority shall be verified by an officer or authorized representative of the applicant, shall be in a form prescribed by the commissioner, and shall demonstrate, set forth or be accompanied by the following:

(1) A copy of the organizational documents of the applicant, such as the articles of incorporation, articles of association, partnership agreement, trust agreement, or other applicable documents, and all amendments thereto;

(2) A copy of the bylaws, rules and regulations, or similar document, if any, regulating the conduct of the internal affairs of the applicant;

(3) (a) A disclosure of the internal organizational structure identifying senior management employees;

(b) A disclosure of the external organizational structure identifying all parent, subsidiary and affiliate organizations; and

(c) If the applicant is a member of a holding company:

(i) Identification of the holding company; and

(ii) A copy of the most recent holding company Form B that includes current financial information for the ultimate controlling party;

(4) The applicant's federal identification number, NAIC number if applicable, corporate address and mailing address;

(5) (a) The names, addresses, official positions and biographical affidavit of the individuals who are to be responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the applicant, including, but not limited to all members of the board of directors, executive committee, and the principal officers accompanied by a completed release of information for each of these individuals, on forms acceptable to the commissioner; and

(b) A disclosure of any person owning or having the right to acquire five percent (5%) or more of the voting securities or subordinated debt of the applicant;

(6) A detailed plan of operation for [insert state name];

(7) A description of the applicant and its personnel, and, where applicable, its facilities, including, but not limited to, location, hours of operation and telephone numbers;

(8) A copy of:

(a) Any contract made or to be made between the applicant and an affiliated or unaffiliated person for managerial or administrative services, including, third party administrators, marketing consultants or persons listed in Paragraph (5); and

(b) Sample contract forms proposed for use between the applicant and persons providing health care services to covered persons, including, participating providers and intermediary organizations.

Drafting Note: Section 11A of the Health Benefit Plan Network Access and Adequacy Model Act (#74) requires the filing of substantially similar information to the filing of sample provider contracts required in Paragraph (8)(b). States that have adopted the Health Benefit Plan Network Access and Adequacy Model Act (#74) should consider whether it is necessary to include a similar requirement in this Act as well.

(9) A copy of each type of evidence of coverage and identification card or similar document to be issued to the enrollees;

(10) A copy of each type of individual or group policy, contract or agreement to be used;

(11) A copy of all marketing materials;

(12) A copy, if applicable, of the most recent financial examination report made of the health maintenance organization within the previous three (3) years, certified by the insurance regulatory agency of the applicant's state of domicile;

(13) (a) A copy of the applicant's financial statements showing the applicant's assets, liabilities and sources of financial support, including a copy of the applicant's most recent audited financial statement that complies with [insert reference to state law equivalent to Model Regulation Requiring Annual Audited Financial Reports] and an unaudited current financial statement; or

(b) If the information in Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph is not applicable to the applicant, a list of the assets representing the initial net worth of the applicant;

Drafting Note: States should ensure that the state law equivalent to the Model Regulation Requiring Annual Audited Financial Reports is applicable to health maintenance organizations before referencing it in Paragraph (13)(a).

(14) A financial plan that provides a three-year projection of operating results, including:

(a) A projection of balance sheets;

(b) Income and expense statements anticipated from the start of operations until the organization has had net income for at least one year;

(c) Cash flow statements showing any capital expenditures, purchase and sale of investments and deposits with the state;

(d) Detailed enrollment projections;

(e) The methodology for determining premium rates to be charged that has been certified by a qualified actuary; and

(f) A statement as to the sources of working capital as well as any other sources of funding;

(15) The names and addresses of the applicant's qualified actuary and external auditors;

(16) If the applicant has a parent company and the commissioner determines that additional solvency guarantees are necessary, the parent company's guaranty, on a form acceptable to the commissioner, that the applicant will maintain the minimum net worth required under this Act. If no parent company exists, a statement regarding the availability of future funds if needed;

(17) A description of the nature and extent of any reinsurance program to be implemented, including a detailed risk retention schedule indicating direct, assumed, ceded and net maximum risk exposures on any one risk;

(18) A demonstration that errors and omission insurance or other arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner will be in place upon the applicant's receipt of a certificate of authority;

(19) Information regarding the proposed fidelity bond required pursuant to Section 21B of this Act;

(20) If the applicant is a foreign corporation, a statement from the appropriate regulatory agency of the applicant's state of domicile stating that:

(a) The applicant is authorized to operate as a health maintenance organization in the state of domicile;

(b) The regulatory agency has no objection to the applicant applying for a certificate of authority in this state; and

(c) The applicant is in good standing in the applicant's state of domicile;

(21) The name and address of the applicant's [insert state name] statutory agent for service of process, notice, or demand, or if not domiciled in this state, a power of attorney duly executed by the applicant, appointing the commissioner and duly authorized deputies, as the true and lawful attorney of the applicant in and for this state upon whom all lawful process in any legal action or proceeding against the health maintenance organization on a cause of action arising in this state may be served;

(22) A description of the proposed policies, standards and procedures for the management of health information, including proposed policies, standards and procedures that guard against the unauthorized collection, use or disclosure of protected health information, that complies with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Information Privacy Model Act (#55)];

(23) A description of the proposed quality assessment and improvement activities that comply with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Quality Assessment and Improvement Model Act (#71)] regarding the maintenance and improvement of the quality of health care services provided to covered persons;

(24) If the health maintenance organization will not operate statewide, a statement or map describing the service area;

(25) A list of the names, addresses, and license numbers of all providers with which the health maintenance organization has agreements;

(26) A description of the proposed network adequacy standards that assure the adequacy, accessibility and quality of health care that complies with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Benefit Plan Network Access and Adequacy Model Act (#74)];

(27) A description of the proposed health care provider credentialing program in compliance with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Care Professional Credentialing Verification Model Act (#70)];

(28) If the health maintenance organization will provide or perform utilization review services, a description of the proposed utilization review procedures that comply with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Utilization Review and Benefit Determination Model Act (#73)] regarding the ongoing assessment and management of health care services;

(29) A description of the proposed internal grievance procedures that comply with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Carrier Grievance Procedure Model Act (#72)] regarding the investigation and resolution of covered persons' complaints and grievances;

(30) A description of the proposed external review procedures that comply with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Carrier External Review Model Act (#75)] regarding the external independent review of covered persons' grievances; and

(31) Any other information the commissioner may require.

Section 6. Issuance or Denial of Certificate of Authority

A. Within ninety (90) days of receipt of a completed application, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority when the commissioner is satisfied that:

(1) The persons responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the applicant are competent, trustworthy and possess good reputations;

(2) The name of the health maintenance organization is not the same as, or deceptively similar to, the name of a domestic insurer, or of a foreign or alien company authorized to transact business in this state, nor does the name of the health maintenance organization tend to deceive or mislead as to the authorization of the health maintenance organization to engage in a specific line of business;

(3) The health maintenance organization will provide or arrange for the provision of basic health care services on a prepaid basis, through insurance or otherwise, except to the extent of reasonable requirements for copayments, coinsurance or deductibles; and

(4) The health maintenance organization is in compliance with the requirements of this Act.

B. A certificate of authority shall be denied only after the commissioner complies with the requirements of Section 26 of this Act.

Section 7. Powers of Health Maintenance Organizations

A. The powers of a health maintenance organization include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) The purchase, lease, construction, renovation, operation or maintenance of hospitals, medical facilities, or both, and their ancillary equipment, and property reasonably required for its principal office or for purposes necessary to the transaction of the business of the organization;

(2) Transactions between affiliated entities, including loans and the transfer of responsibility under all contracts (provider, subscriber, etc.,) between affiliates or between the health maintenance organization and its parent;

(3) The furnishing of health care services through providers, provider associations, intermediary organizations or agents for providers which are under contract with or employed by the health maintenance organization;

(4) The contracting with a person for the performance on its behalf of certain functions such as marketing, enrollment and administration;

(5) The contracting with an insurance company licensed in this state, or with a hospital or medical service corporation authorized to do business in this state, for the provision of insurance, indemnity or reimbursement against the cost of health care services provided by the health maintenance organization;

(6) The offering of other health care services, in addition to basic health care services. Non-basic health care services may be offered by a health maintenance organization on a prepaid basis without offering basic health care services to any group or individual;

(7) The joint marketing of products with an insurance company licensed in this state or with a hospital or medical service corporation authorized to do business in this state as long as the company that is offering each product is clearly identified.

Drafting Note: States that allow health maintenance organizations to offer a point of services contract may wish to consider additional requirements for those organizations, including but not limited to, additional ongoing net worth and capital, additional deposits, more detailed annual and quarterly financial statement filings, limitations on out-of-plan expenditures and additional reinsurance coverage.

B. (1) A health maintenance organization shall file notice, with adequate supporting information, with the commissioner prior to the exercise of any power granted in Subsection A(1), (2) or (4) that may affect the financial soundness of the health maintenance organization. The commissioner shall disapprove the exercise of power only if, in the commissioner's opinion, it would substantially and adversely affect the financial soundness of the health maintenance organization and endanger its ability to meet its obligations. If the commissioner does not disapprove within thirty (30) days of the filing, it shall be deemed approved.

(2) The commissioner may promulgate rules and regulations exempting from the filing requirement of Paragraph (1) those activities having a de minimis effect.

(3) Transactions between affiliated entities shall be subject to [insert reference to state law equivalent to NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440)].

Section 8. Contract Requirements

A. Each group or individual contract holder is entitled to a group or individual contract within thirty (30) days of the effective date of a new or amended contract.

B. The contract shall not contain provisions or statements that:

(1) Are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, or deceptive; or

(2) Encourage misrepresentation as defined by [reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Unfair Trade Practices Act (#880)].

C. (1) The contract shall contain a clear statement of the following:

(a) Name and address of the health maintenance organization;

(b) Eligibility requirements;

(c) Benefits and services within the service area;

(d) Emergency care benefits and services;

(e) Out of area benefits and services (if any);

(f) Copayments, coinsurance, deductibles or other out-of-pocket expenses, the financial responsibility of the covered person and how the covered person's obligation is determined;

(g) Provider hold harmless provisions;

(h) Limitations and exclusions;

(i) covered person termination;

(j) covered person reinstatement (if any);

(k) Claims procedures;

(l) Utilization review procedures;

(m) Grievance procedures;

(n) Procedures for requesting independent external review;

(o) Continuation of coverage;

(p) Conversion;

(q) Extension of benefits (if any);

(r) Coordination of benefits (if applicable);

(s) Subrogation (if any);

(t) Description of the service area;

(u) Procedures for obtaining a provider directory;

(v) The existence of a formulary and procedures for obtaining a copy of the formulary list (if applicable);

(w) Entire contract provision;

(x) Term of coverage;

(y) Cancellation of group or individual contract holder;

(z) Renewal;

(aa) Reinstatement of group or individual contract holder (if any);

(bb) Grace period; and

(cc) Conformity with state law.

(2) An evidence of coverage may be filed as part of the group contract to describe the provisions required in Paragraph (1).

D. (1) In addition to the provisions required in Subsection C(1), an individual contract shall provide for a ten-day period to examine and return the contract and have the premium refunded.

(2) If services were received during the ten-day period, and the individual returns the contract to receive a refund of the premium paid, the individual must pay for those services.

E. The commissioner may adopt regulations establishing readability standards for individual and group contract forms.

Drafting Note: The commissioner may adopt standards in the NAIC Life and Health Insurance Policy Language Simplification Act.

Section 9. Risk Bearing Entity Registration and Contracting Requirements

A. Registration Requirements.

(1) All risk bearing entities shall register annually with the commissioner in this state unless already subject to state insurance regulation.

Drafting Note: A state may wish to exempt a risk bearing entity from the registration requirements of this subsection, or modify the provisions of this subsection as they apply to a risk bearing entity, where a risk bearing entity accepts risk exclusively from a single health maintenance organization, provides direct care to covered persons of that health maintenance organization, and where detail of claims payments is available for examination from the health maintenance organization. A state may want to require the health maintenance organization to demonstrate to the commissioner that the contractual arrangement with the risk bearing entity will allow it to fulfill the provisions of its contract for the contract year. Health maintenance organizations contracting with risk bearing entities that are exempt from this subsection, or subject to modified registration requirements, should be subject to Subsections C and D of this section and Section 18 of this Act.

(2) The registration shall be in a form approved by the commissioner and shall include:

(a) The name of the risk bearing entity;

(b) The business address of the risk bearing entity;

(c) The principal contact person for risk bearing entity;

(d) The names and positions of senior officers of risk bearing entity, including, President, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operating Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Executive Vice Presidents, Treasurer and Secretary;

(e) A list of all entities on whose behalf the risk bearing entity has contracts or agreements to provide health care services;

(f) A matrix listing of all major categories of health care services provided by the risk bearing entity;

(g) An approximate number of total covered persons served in all the risk bearing entity's contracts or agreements;

(h) An annual audited Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) financial statement;

(i) A list of all subcontractors of the risk bearing entity;

(j) Sample contract forms proposed for use between subcontractors and the risk bearing entity;

(k) A list of all stop loss arrangements; and

(l) Any other information or financial information requested by the commissioner.

(3) The commissioner may charge a registration fee sufficient to cover the cost of implementing this section.

(4) The risk bearing entity shall permit the commissioner to:

(a) Inspect the risk bearing entity's books and records; and

(b) Examine, under oath, any officer or agent of the risk bearing entity with respect to the use of its funds and compliance with the terms and conditions of its contracts to provide covered benefits under the health benefit plan.

(5) A risk bearing entity shall file with the commissioner a notice of any material modification of any matter or document furnished pursuant to this section, together with such supporting documents as are necessary to explain the modification.

B. Contracting Requirements

(1) Except as provided in Paragraph (2), a health maintenance organization shall not contract with a risk bearing entity that has not registered in accordance with this section.

(2) The requirements of this section shall apply to any contract entered into, amended or renewed after the effective date of this section and shall apply to all contracts no later than two (2) years after the effective date of this section.

(3) A health maintenance organization shall:

(a) Unless already specified in the contract with the risk bearing entity, provide the following, upon request, to the risk bearing entity with which it contracts:

(i) At the time the contract is entered into, a written statement describing the amount or method of remuneration to be paid to the risk bearing entity. If any part of the remuneration is a calculated amount based on variable factors, the payment methodology upon which the calculated amount will be determined. The statement shall specify the services and expenses for which the risk bearing entity is financially liable in whole or part;

(ii) At the time payment is made, the basis of the calculation of that payment;

(iii) For health benefit plans in which the covered persons are assigned to the risk bearing entity under a capitated payment arrangement, a list of enrollees and payments due to the risk bearing entity, to be provided monthly if not already available to the risk bearing entity;

(iv) At the time the contract is entered into, a copy of the health maintenance organization's most recent annual statement filed with the NAIC;

(v) Once the contract is in effect, the quarterly or annual statement filed with the NAIC; and

(vi) Any other information requested by the commissioner.

(b) Include in its contracts with a risk bearing entity a provision that requires the risk bearing entity to provide to the health maintenance organization at the time a contract is entered into and annually thereafter:

(i) Annual audited GAAP report;

(ii) Documentation that satisfies the health maintenance organization that the risk bearing entity has sufficient ability to accept risk; and

(iii) Documentation that satisfies the health maintenance organization that the risk bearing entity has appropriate management expertise and infrastructure;

(c) Include in its contracts with a risk bearing entity a provision that requires the risk bearing entity to provide to the health maintenance organization a quarterly status report that includes:

(i) GAAP financial statements;

(ii) An aging report of the percentage of claims that have been paid, pended or denied, across all contracts with risk bearing entities; and

(iii) On a monthly basis, a report of the estimated reported claims and incurred but not reported claims liability of the risk bearing entity; and

(d) Require that a risk bearing entity with which the health maintenance organization contracts provide notice within thirty (30) days to the health maintenance organization of:

(i) Any changes involving the ownership structure of the risk bearing entity;

(ii) Financial or operational concerns regarding the financial viability of the risk bearing entity; or

(iii) Loss of registration.

(4) A health maintenance organization shall provide to the commissioner on a quarterly basis a list of all risk bearing entities with which it has an agreement or contract and the number of covered persons assigned or selected by each risk bearing entity, and any additional information the commissioner may require.

(5) A health maintenance organization shall include in its contracts with a risk bearing entity a provision that allows the commissioner, in the event that a risk bearing entity fails to comply with any provision of this Act, to assign for six (6) months, the risk bearing entity's contract with providers to furnish covered services.

C. Oversight Responsibility

(1) A health maintenance organization shall have procedures in place to notify the commissioner within a reasonable time that a risk bearing entity has materially failed to perform under its contract with the health maintenance organization. A health maintenance organization is not in violation of this paragraph if it acts in good faith in its attempt to comply. The commissioner may by rule enumerate more specific circumstances under which a report may be filed.

(2) A health maintenance organization shall maintain systems and controls for, including but not limited to, reviewing the information provided to the health maintenance organization by the risk bearing entity pursuant to this Act.

(3) Any information that has been provided to the commissioner by a health maintenance organization pursuant to this subsection is confidential and shall not be disclosed to any person except to the extent that it may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act and as allowed by state law, regardless of whether the information is in the form of paper, is preserved on microfilm or is stored in computer readable form. If the information is disclosed pursuant this subsection, the health maintenance organization providing the notice shall not be liable for the disclosure or any subsequent use or misuse of the information. The health maintenance organization shall be entitled to claim any statutory privileges against disclosure that the entity that provided the information to the health maintenance organization is entitled to claim.

(4) Any person acting as a director, officer, employee, contractor or agent of a health maintenance organization, who, in good faith and without malice, makes any decision or takes any action to provide a notice of the type contemplated by this subsection shall not be subject to liability for civil damages or any legal action in consequence of that decision or action, nor shall the health maintenance organization, or any other director, officer, employee, contractor or agent be liable for the activities of the person.

(5) In the event that a health maintenance organization has been notified that the registration of a risk bearing entity has been terminated, revoked, non- renewed or forfeited for any reason, a health maintenance organization shall terminate its contract with the risk bearing entity unless specific permission is provided by the commissioner to maintain the contract at the request of both parties, or enter into an agreement pursuant to which the risk bearing entity ceases to bear risk. The commissioner may set conditions on any agreements between the risk bearing entity and the health maintenance organization.

(6) This subsection is not intended to create a private right of action.

D. Continuity of Care.

Notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, the health maintenance organization shall:

(1) Retain full responsibility on a prospective basis for the provision of health care services pursuant to any applicable health benefit plan; and

(2) At all times, be able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the health maintenance organization can fulfill its non-transferable obligation to provide health care services to covered persons in any event, including the failure, for any reason, of a risk bearing entity.

E. Enforcement Against Risk Bearing Entities.

(1) If the commissioner determines that a risk bearing entity has not complied with any provision of this Act, the commissioner may terminate the risk bearing entity's registration, institute a corrective action against the risk bearing entity, or use any of the commissioner's other enforcement powers to obtain compliance with this Act.

(2) The commissioner shall, within five (5) business days, inform each health maintenance organization with which a risk bearing entity contracts, in writing:

(a) Of any corrective action undertaken by the commissioner against a risk bearing entity; and

(b) If the registration of a risk bearing entity has been revoked, non-renewed, forfeited or terminated.

(3) The commissioner may, in the event that a risk bearing entity fails to comply with any provision of this Act, require the assignment of the risk bearing entity's contract to furnish covered services for a period not to exceed six (6) months.

(4) The commissioner may assess fines on a risk bearing entity for every day that the entity has failed to meet the registration requirements of this section.

Section 10. Form and Rate Filing Requirements

Drafting Note: States that require prior approval of policy forms and premium rates should adopt Option A. States that have a system of file and use for policy forms and premium rates should adopt Option B.

Option A. Prior Approval

A. Subject to Subsections B and C, no group or individual contract, evidence of coverage or amendment thereto, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state, unless its form has been filed with and approved by the commissioner.

B. (1) Every form required by this section shall be filed with the commissioner not less than thirty (30) days prior to delivery or issue for delivery in this state. At any time during the initial thirty-day period, the commissioner may extend the period for review for an additional thirty (30) days. Notice of an extension shall be in writing. At the end of the review period, the form is deemed approved if the commissioner has taken no action. The filer must notify the commissioner in writing prior to using a form that is deemed approved.

(2) At any time, after thirty (30) days notice and for cause shown, the commissioner may withdraw approval of a form, effective at the end of the thirty-day period.

(3) Whenever the commissioner disapproves a form or withdraws approval of a form, the commissioner shall notify the health maintenance organization in writing of the reasons for the disapproval. The notice shall inform the health maintenance organization that the health maintenance organization has thirty (30) days after the date it receives the notice to make a written request for a hearing. The commissioner shall conduct a hearing within thirty (30) days after the date the commissioner receives the written request for a hearing.

C. (1) A health maintenance organization shall not use a premium rate until either a schedule of premium rates or methodology for determining premium rates has been filed with and approved by the commissioner.

(2) Any schedule of premium rates or rating methodology submitted pursuant to this subsection shall clearly state any copayments, coinsurance or deductibles to be paid by the covered person.

(3) Either a specific schedule of premium rates, or a methodology for determining premium rates, shall be established in accordance with actuarial principles for various categories of covered persons, provided that the premium applicable to a covered person shall not be individually determined based on the status of the covered person's health. However, the premium rates shall not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory. A certification by a qualified actuary or other qualified person acceptable to the commissioner as to the appropriateness of the use of the methodology, based on reasonable assumptions, shall accompany the filing along with adequate supporting information.

Drafting Note: States may wish to vary the type of information required to accompany a rate filing based on the type of rating mechanism in use. For instance, requiring that only the rating methodology for setting premium rates accompany the rate filing may be sufficient for experience rated groups, while requiring the rate filing to include both the schedule of rates and the rating methodology used to set the rates may be more appropriate for community rated or pooled groups. Regardless of whether a rating methodology or schedule of rates is required to accompany the rate filing, states should require that adequate supporting documentation be included.

(4) The commissioner shall approve the schedule of premium rates or methodology for determining premium rates if the requirements of Paragraph (2) are met. If the commissioner disapproves the filing, the commissioner shall notify the health maintenance organization, in writing, of the reasons for the disapproval. The notice shall inform the health maintenance organization that the health maintenance organization has thirty (30) days after the date it receives the notice, to make a written request for a hearing. The commissioner shall conduct a hearing within thirty (30) days after the date the commissioner receives the written request for a hearing. If the commissioner does not take action on the schedule or methodology within thirty (30) days of the date of the filing of the schedule or methodology, it shall be deemed approved.

D. The commissioner may require the submission of whatever relevant information the commissioner deems necessary in determining whether to approve or disapprove a form or rate filing made pursuant to this section.

Option B. File and Use

A. No group or individual contract, evidence of coverage or amendment thereto, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state, unless its form and rates have been filed with the commissioner at least thirty (30) days prior to its issuance or delivery.

B. (1) At any time, after its issuance and delivery, and for cause shown, the commissioner may disapprove the use of a form. The disapproval shall be effective thirty (30) days after the health maintenance organization receives the notice described in Paragraph (2).

(2) The commissioner shall notify the health maintenance organization, in writing, of the reasons for disapproval of the form. The notice shall inform the health maintenance organization that the health maintenance organization has thirty (30) days after the date it receives the notice, to make a written request for a hearing. The commissioner shall conduct a hearing within thirty (30) days after the date the commissioner receives the written request for a hearing. A written request for hearing shall stay the effect of the disapproval.

C. (1) A health maintenance organization shall not use a premium rate unless the premium rate or a methodology for determining the premium rate has been filed with the commissioner at least thirty (30) days prior to its use.

(2) The health maintenance organization shall certify that the rates meet the requirements of Paragraph (4).

(3) Any schedule of premium rates or rating methodology submitted pursuant to this subsection shall clearly state any copayments, coinsurance or deductibles to be paid by the covered person.

(4) A specific schedule of premium rates, or a methodology for determining premium rates, shall be established in accordance with actuarial principles for various categories of covered persons, provided that the premium applicable to a covered person shall not be individually determined based on the status of the covered person's health. However, the premium rates shall not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory. A qualified actuary or other qualified person acceptable to the commissioner must certify the appropriateness of the use of the methodology, based on reasonable assumptions, backed by adequate supporting information.

Drafting Note: States may wish to vary the type of information required to accompany a rate filing based on the type of rating mechanism in use. For instance, requiring that only the rating methodology for setting premium rates accompany the rate filing may be sufficient for experience rated groups, while requiring the rate filing to include both the schedule of rates and the rating methodology used to set the rates may be more appropriate for community rated or pooled groups. Regardless of whether a rating methodology or schedule of rates is required to accompany the rate filing, states should require that adequate supporting documentation be included.

(5) At any time after its implementation, and for good cause shown, the commissioner may disapprove the use of a specific rate or rating methodology. The commissioner shall notify the health maintenance organization, in writing, of the reasons for the disapproval. The notice shall inform the health maintenance organization that the health maintenance organization has thirty (30) days after the date it receives the notice, to make a written request for a hearing. The commissioner shall conduct a hearing within thirty (30) days after the date the commissioner receives the written request for a hearing. A written request for a hearing shall stay the effect of the disapproval.

Section 11. Evidence of Coverage

A. (1) Every enrollee shall receive an evidence of coverage from the group contract holder or the health maintenance organization.

(2) The evidence of coverage shall not contain provisions or statements that are unfair, unjust, inequitable, misleading, deceptive, or that encourage misrepresentation as defined by [insert reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Unfair Trade Practices Act (#880)].

(3) The evidence of coverage shall contain a clear statement of the provisions required in Section 8C of this Act.

B. If an evidence of coverage issued pursuant to and incorporated in a contract issued in this state is intended for delivery in another state and the evidence of coverage has been approved for use in the state in which it is to be delivered, the evidence of coverage need not be submitted to the commissioner of this state for approval.

Section 12. Marketing and Advertising Materials

A. The advertising and marketing materials of health maintenance organizations are subject to the requirements of [insert reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Advertisements of Accident and Sickness Insurance Model Regulation (#40)].

B. The advertising and marketing materials of health maintenance organizations marketing Medicare supplement insurance are subject to the requirements of [insert reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Model Act (#650) and the Model Regulation to Implement the NAIC Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Model Act (#651)].

C. The advertising and marketing materials of health maintenance organizations marketing long-term care insurance are subject to the requirements of [insert reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Long-Term Care Insurance Model Regulation (#641)].

Section 13. Information to Enrollees and Covered Persons

A. A health maintenance organization shall provide, within thirty (30) days, notice to enrollees of any material change in the operation of the organization that will affect them directly.

B. (1) The health maintenance organization shall make written copies of provider directories available to enrollees upon enrollment and re-enrollment.

(2) The health maintenance organization shall provide written copies of provider directories to covered persons upon request.

(3) The health maintenance organization shall provide the directory and any updates to enrollees, in writing or by electronic means, in accordance with the terms of its contract.

C. (1) A health maintenance organization shall notify covered persons of the termination of the primary care provider who currently provides health care services to that covered person.

(2) A health maintenance organization shall establish a method to permit a covered person, at the option of the covered person, to receive notice in writing or by electronic means, of the termination of the primary care provider who currently provides health care services to that covered person.

(3) The health maintenance organization shall provide assistance to the covered person in transferring to another participating primary care provider.

D. The health maintenance organization shall establish a method to permit a covered person, at the option of the covered person, to obtain information in writing or by electronic means, on how services may be obtained, where additional information on access to services may be obtained and a telephone number where covered persons may contact the health maintenance organization, at no cost to the covered person.

Drafting Note: For the purpose of this section any major change in the provider network is considered a material change.

Section 14. Coordination of Benefits

A. Health maintenance organizations are permitted, but not required, to adopt coordination of benefits provisions to avoid overinsurance and to provide for the orderly payment of claims when a person is covered by two (2) or more group health insurance or health benefit plans.

B. If a health maintenance organization adopts coordination of benefits provisions, the provisions shall be consistent with [insert reference to state law equivalent to NAIC Coordination of Benefits Model Regulation (#120)] in general use in the state for coordinating coverage between two (2) or more group health insurance or health benefit plans.

C. To the extent necessary for health maintenance organizations to meet their obligations as secondary carriers under the rules for coordination consistent with [insert reference to state law equivalent to NAIC Coordination of Benefits Model Regulation (#120)], health maintenance organizations shall make payments for services that are:

(1) Received from non-participating providers;

(2) Provided outside their service areas; or

(3) Not covered under the terms of their group contracts or evidence of coverage.

Section 15. Initial Net Worth and Capital Requirements

A. Before the commissioner issues a certificate of authority in accordance with Section 6 of this Act, an applicant seeking to establish or operate a health maintenance organization shall have the greater of:

(1) The amount of capital required under [insert reference in state law equivalent to the Risk-Based Capital (RBC) for Health Organizations Model Act (#315)];

(2) An initial net worth of $3,000,000; or

(3) At the commissioner's discretion, an amount greater than required under Paragraph (1) or (2), as indicated by a business plan and a projected risk-based capital calculation after the first full year of operation based on the most current NAIC Health Annual Statement Blank.

Section 16. Ongoing Net Worth and Capital Requirements

A. A health maintenance organization shall maintain minimum net worth equal to the greater of $2,500,000 or the amount necessary to maintain capital required pursuant to [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Risk-Based Capital (RBC) for Health Organizations Model Act (#315)].

B. The amount in Subsection A may be adjusted annually for inflation, at the commissioner's discretion.

Drafting Note: The following definition of "managed hospital payment basis" and formulation for ongoing net worth, based on the 1989 amended version of HMO Model Act, have been included for the benefit of states that have not adopted the Risk-Based Capital (RBC) for Health Organizations Model Act (#315):

"Managed hospital payment basis" means agreements wherein the financial risk is primarily related to the degree of utilization rather than to the cost of services. Examples of managed hospital payment basis agreements include but are not limited to payments on a DRG or per diem basis or where there is an agreement between a hospital and a health maintenance organization and which are under common ownership or control.

C. A health maintenance organization shall maintain a minimum net worth equal to the greater of $2,500,000; or an amount equal to the sum of:

(1) Eight percent (8%) of annual health care expenditures except those paid on a capitated basis or managed hospital payment basis as reported on the most recent financial statement filed with the commissioner; and

(2) Four percent (4%) of annual hospital expenditures paid on a managed hospital payment basis as reported on the most recent financial statement filed with the commissioner.

Section 17. Deposit Requirements

A. Unless otherwise provided in this section, a health maintenance organization shall deposit with the commissioner or, at the discretion of the commissioner, with any organization or trustee acceptable to the commissioner through which a custodial or controlled account is utilized, cash, securities, or any combination of these or other measures that are acceptable to the commissioner which at all times shall have a market value of not less than $1,000,000.

B. The deposit shall be an admitted asset of the health maintenance organization in the determination of net worth.

C. All income from deposits shall be an asset of the health maintenance organization. A health maintenance organization that has made a securities deposit may withdraw that deposit or any part thereof after making a substitute deposit of cash, securities or any combination of these or other measures of equal amount and value. Any securities shall be approved by the commissioner before being deposited or substituted.

D. The deposit shall be used to protect the interests of the health maintenance organization's covered persons and to assure continuation of health care services to covered persons of a health maintenance organization that is in rehabilitation or conservation. The commissioner may use the deposit for administrative costs directly attributable to a rehabilitation, receivership or liquidation. If the health maintenance organization is placed in receivership or liquidation, the deposit shall be an asset subject to the provisions of the liquidation act.

E. The commissioner may reduce or eliminate the deposit requirement if the health maintenance organization deposits with the state treasurer, commissioner, or other official body of the state or jurisdiction of domicile for the protection of all covered persons, wherever located, of the health maintenance organization, cash, acceptable securities or surety, and delivers to the commissioner a certificate to that effect, duly authenticated by the appropriate state official holding the deposit.

Section 18. Hold Harmless Provision Requirements for Covered Persons

A. Except for coinsurance, deductibles or copayments as specifically provided in the evidence of coverage, in no event, including but not limited to nonpayment by the health maintenance organization, insolvency of the health maintenance organization or breach of contract among the health maintenance organization, risk bearing entity or participating provider, shall a risk bearing entity or participating provider bill, charge, collect a deposit from, seek compensation, remuneration or reimbursement from, or have any recourse against a covered person or a person (other than the health maintenance organization) acting on behalf of the covered person for covered services provided. No risk bearing entity or participating provider, nor any agent, trustee or assignee of the risk bearing entity or participating provider may maintain an action at law against a covered person to collect sums owed by the health maintenance organization.

B. All contracts among health maintenance organizations, risk bearing entities, and participating providers shall include a hold harmless provision specifying protection for covered persons. Any attempted waiver or amendment in a manner materially adverse to the interests of covered persons of a hold harmless provision shall be null and void and unenforceable.

C. The requirement of Subsection B shall be met by including a provision substantially similar to the following:

> "Provider agrees that in no event, including but not limited to nonpayment by the health maintenance organization or intermediary organization, insolvency of the health maintenance organization or intermediary organization, or breach of this agreement, shall the provider bill, charge, collect a deposit from, seek compensation, remuneration or reimbursement from, or have any recourse against a covered person or a person (other than the health maintenance organization or intermediary organization) acting on behalf of the covered person for covered services provided pursuant to this agreement. This agreement does not prohibit the provider from collecting coinsurance, deductibles, copayments or services in excess of limits, as specifically provided in the evidence of coverage, or fees for uncovered services delivered on a fee-for-service basis to covered persons."

D. (1) Any statement sent to a covered person shall clearly state the amounts billed to the health maintenance organization and include a notice explaining that covered persons are not responsible for amounts owed by the health maintenance organization.

(2) All contracts among health maintenance organizations, risk bearing entities, and participating providers shall require that all statements sent to covered persons clearly state the amounts billed to the health maintenance organization and include a notice explaining that covered persons are not responsible for amounts owed by the health maintenance organization.

(3) The notice requirements in this subsection shall be met by including in the statement to covered persons a provision substantially similar the following:

NOTICE: YOU ARE NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY AMOUNTS OWED BY YOUR HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATION

E. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair trade practice pursuant to [insert reference to state insurance fraud statute] and shall subject the health care provider to monetary penalties in accordance with [insert reference to state insurance fraud statute] and notification to the [insert reference to appropriate licensing entity for type of provider].

Drafting Note: States that do not authorize insurance departments to take action against providers should not adopt Subsection E and should consider other options such as contacting the state attorney general's office or other appropriate state official.

Drafting Note: States with consumer protection acts that provide covered persons with a private right of action should consider including a reference in Subsection E.

Section 19. Investment Powers

With the exception of investments made in accordance with Section 7A(1) of this Act, the investment practices of a health maintenance organization shall be governed by [insert reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Health Maintenance Organization Investment Guidelines].

Section 20. Accounting Practices

Every health maintenance organization shall maintain its financial records in accordance with [insert reference to state law equivalent to NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual].

Section 21. Fiduciary Responsibilities

A. A director, officer, employee or partner of a health maintenance organization who receives, collects, disburses or invests funds in connection with the activities of the health maintenance organization shall be responsible for the funds in a fiduciary relationship to the health maintenance organization.

B. A health maintenance organization shall maintain in force a fidelity bond or fidelity insurance on these employees and officers, directors and partners in an amount not less than $1,000,000 for each health maintenance organization or a maximum of $10,000,000 in aggregate maintained on behalf of health maintenance organizations owned by a common parent corporation, or the sum prescribed by the commissioner.

Drafting Note: As an optional additional subsection, language may be included that would make the appropriate provisions of the state's insurance laws governing prohibitions or restrictions on activities of directors, officers and certain shareholders applicable to health maintenance organizations.

Section 22. Annual and Quarterly Financial Statement Filing Requirements

A. (1) Every health maintenance organization shall file annual and quarterly financial statements, as provided in Paragraph (2), with the commissioner and with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).

(2) The annual statement shall be filed by March 1 for the preceding year and a quarterly financial statement by May, August and November 15 for the preceding quarter.

B. The annual and quarterly financial statements shall be prepared on the most current NAIC Health Annual Statement Blank in accordance with the NAIC Annual Statement Instructions and the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual.

Section 23. Reporting Requirements

A. (1) Every health maintenance organization shall annually, on or before March 1, file a report verified by at least two principal officers with the commissioner covering the preceding calendar year. The report shall be on forms prescribed by the commissioner.

(2) In addition, the health maintenance organization shall file by March 1, unless otherwise stated:

(a) Audited financial statements on or before June 1;

(b) A list of participating providers in a form approved by the commissioner; and

(c) (i) A description of the grievance procedures; and

(ii) The total number of grievances handled through these procedures, a compilation of the causes underlying those grievances, and a summary of the final disposition of those grievances.

B. (1) Unless otherwise provided in this Act, a health maintenance organization shall file notice with the commissioner within thirty (30) days of the effective date of a change, describing any material modifications to the documents required to be filed with the application for a certificate of authority as set forth in Section 5B(1) and (2) of this Act.

(2) Unless otherwise provided in this Act, a health maintenance organization shall file with the commissioner advance notice, or if advance notice is not practicable, notice filed as soon as possible, but in no event more than thirty (30) days after the effective date of a change, describing any material modifications to the health maintenance organization's operations as set forth in the information required by Section 5B of this Act that affects any of the following:

(a) The solvency of the health maintenance organization;

(b) The health maintenance organization's continued provision of health care services that it has contracted to provide;

(c) The manner in which the health maintenance organization conducts its business; or

(d) Any other matters the commissioner may prescribe by regulation.

C. The commissioner may require additional reports as necessary to carry out the commissioner's duties under this Act.

Section 24. Powers of Insurers and [Hospital and Medical Service Corporations]

A. An insurance company licensed in this state, or a hospital or medical service corporation authorized to do business in this state, may either directly or through a subsidiary or affiliate organize and operate a health maintenance organization under the provisions of this Act. Notwithstanding any other law, which may be inconsistent, any two (2) or more insurance companies, hospital or medical service corporations, or subsidiaries or affiliates thereof, may jointly organize and operate a health maintenance organization. The business of insurance is deemed to include the providing of health care services by a health maintenance organization owned or operated by an insurer or its subsidiary.

B. Notwithstanding any provision of insurance and hospital or medical service corporation laws [citations], an insurer or a hospital or medical service corporation may contract with a health maintenance organization to provide insurance or similar protection against the cost of care provided through health maintenance organizations and to provide coverage in the event of the failure of the health maintenance organization to meet its obligations. The covered persons of a health maintenance organization constitute a permissible group under such laws. Among other things, under such contracts, the insurer or hospital or medical service corporation may make benefit payments to health maintenance organizations for health care services rendered by providers.

Section 25. Examinations

A. The commissioner may make an examination of the affairs of a health maintenance organization, providers and risk bearing entities with which the health maintenance organization has contracts, agreements or other arrangements as often as is reasonably necessary for the protection of the interests of the people of this state, but not less frequently than once every five (5) years.

B. An examination conducted under this section shall be performed in accordance with the provisions of [insert reference to state law equivalent to the NAIC Model Law on Examinations].

C. The expenses of examinations under this section shall be assessed against the health maintenance organization being examined and remitted to the commissioner.

D. In lieu of an examination, the commissioner may accept the report of an examination made by the commissioner of another state provided that the provisions of [insert state law equivalent to Section 3C of the NAIC Model Law on Examinations] are satisfied.

Section 26. Suspension or Revocation of Certificate of Authority

A. A certificate of authority issued under this Act may be suspended or revoked, and an application for a certificate of authority may be denied, if the commissioner finds that any of the conditions listed below exist:

(1) The health maintenance organization is operating significantly in contravention of its basic organizational document or in a manner contrary to that described in any other information submitted under Section 5 of this Act, unless amendments to those submissions have been filed with and approved by the commissioner;

(2) The health maintenance organization issues an evidence of coverage or uses a schedule of charges for health care services that does not comply with the requirements of Sections 8 and 9 of this Act;

(3) The health maintenance organization does not provide or arrange for basic health care services;

(4) The health maintenance organization is unable to fulfill its obligations to furnish health care services;

(5) The health maintenance organization is no longer financially responsible and may reasonably be expected to be unable to meet its obligations to covered persons or prospective covered persons;

(6) The health maintenance organization has failed to correct any deficiency occurring due to the health maintenance organization's prescribed minimum net worth being impaired;

Drafting Note: States that have not adopted Risk Based Capital (RBC) for Health Organizations Model Act (#315) should consider including a provision that provides for early warning and correction of insufficient net worth by a health maintenance organization.

(7) The health maintenance organization has failed to implement internal grievance procedures in compliance with [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Carrier Grievance Procedure Model Act (#72)];

(8) The health maintenance organization has failed to implement the external review procedures required by [insert reference to state law equivalent to the Health Carrier External Review Model Act (#75)];

Drafting Note: States that have adopted Options 1 or 2 of the NAIC Health Carrier External Review Model Act (#75) should not adopt this provision.

(9) The health maintenance organization, or any person acting on its behalf, has advertised or merchandised its services in an untrue, misrepresentative, misleading, deceptive or unfair manner;

(10) The continued operation of the health maintenance organization would be hazardous to its covered persons;

(11) The health maintenance organization has otherwise failed substantially to comply with this Act or any regulation adopted pursuant to this Act; or

(12) The health maintenance organization or applicant has violated any other provision of the state insurance code.

Drafting Note: States that have adopted an Administrative Procedures Act should adopt Option A. States that have not adopted an Administrative Procedures Act should adopt Option B.

Option A.

B. The provisions of the [insert reference to state Administrative Procedure Act] of this state shall apply to proceedings under this section.

Option B.

B. (1) Suspension or revocation of a certificate of authority or the denial of an application pursuant to this section shall be by written order and shall be sent to the health maintenance organization or applicant by certified or registered mail. The written order shall state the grounds, charges or conduct on which the suspension, revocation or denial or administrative penalty is based. The health maintenance organization or applicant may in writing request a hearing within thirty (30) days from the date of mailing of the order. If no written request is made, the order shall be final upon the expiration of the thirty (30) day period.

(2) If the health maintenance organization or applicant requests a hearing pursuant to this subsection the commissioner shall issue a written notice of hearing and send it to the health maintenance organization or applicant by certified or registered mail stating:

(a) A specific time for the hearing, which may not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than thirty (30) days after mailing of the notice of hearing; and

(b) A specific place for the hearing, which may be either in [location of regulatory body] or in the county where the health maintenance organization's or applicant's principal place of business is located.

C. (1) With respect to individual contracts, when the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization is suspended, during the period of suspension, the health maintenance organization shall not:

(a) Enroll any additional covered persons except newborn children or other newly acquired dependents of existing covered persons; and

(b) Engage in any advertising or solicitation.

(2) With respect to group contracts, when the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization is suspended, during the period of suspension, the health maintenance organization shall enroll additional enrollees and their eligible dependents and newly acquired eligible dependents of existing enrollees, including individuals who become newly acquired eligible dependents of an enrollee through marriage, birth or adoption or placement for adoption, who meet the requirements for special enrollment in accordance with [cite section of state law or regulation implementing the provisions of Section 2701(f) of the Public Health Service Act] or are otherwise eligible under the health benefit plan.

Drafting Note: Under Section 2701(f) of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), for the group market, health maintenance organizations are required during special enrollment periods to enroll individual eligible employees and dependents of eligible employees and newly acquired dependents of already enrolled eligible employees, including individuals who become dependents through marriage, birth or adoption or placement for adoption. The language in Paragraph (2) is intended to reflect this requirement.

D. When the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization is revoked, the organization shall proceed, immediately following the effective date of the order of revocation, to wind up its affairs, and shall conduct no further business except as may be essential to the orderly conclusion of the affairs of the organization. It shall engage in no further advertising or solicitation whatsoever. The commissioner may, by written order, permit further operation of the organization found to be in the best interest of covered persons, to the end that covered persons will be afforded the greatest practical opportunity to obtain continuing health care coverage.

E. A certificate of authority shall be suspended or revoked or an application or a certificate of authority denied or an administrative penalty imposed only after compliance with the requirements of this section.

Section 27. Summary Orders and Supervision

A. Whenever the commissioner determines that the financial condition of a health maintenance organization is such that its continued operation might be hazardous to covered persons, creditors, or the general public, or that it has violated any provision of this Act, the commissioner may, after notice and hearing, order the health maintenance organization to take action reasonably necessary to rectify the condition or violation, including but not limited to one or more of the following:

(1) Reduce the total amount of present and potential liability for benefits by reinsurance or other method acceptable to the commissioner;

(2) Reduce the volume of new business being accepted;

(3) Reduce expenses by specified methods;

(4) Suspend or limit the writing of new business for a period of time;

(5) Increase the health maintenance organization's capital and surplus by contribution; or

(6) Take other steps the commissioner may deem appropriate under the circumstances.

B. For purposes of this section, the violation by a health maintenance organization of any law of this state to which the health maintenance organization is subject shall be deemed a violation of this Act.

C. The commissioner is authorized to adopt regulations to set uniform standards and criteria for early warning that the continued operation of any health maintenance organization might be hazardous to covered persons, creditors, or the general public and to set standards for evaluating the financial condition of any health maintenance organization. The standards shall be consistent with the purposes expressed in Subsection A.

D. The remedies and measures available to the commissioner under this section shall be in addition to, and not in lieu of, the remedies and measures available to the commissioner under the provisions of [insert reference to state law equivalent to Section 10 of the NAIC Rehabilitation and Liquidation Model Act].

Section 28. Rehabilitation, Liquidation or Conservation of Health Maintenance Organizations

A. A rehabilitation, liquidation or conservation of a health maintenance organization shall be deemed to be the rehabilitation, liquidation or conservation of an insurance company and shall be conducted under the supervision of the commissioner pursuant to the law governing the rehabilitation, liquidation or conservation of insurance companies. The commissioner may apply for an order directing the commissioner to rehabilitate, liquidate or conserve a health maintenance organization upon any one or more grounds set out in [insert reference to state rehabilitation law], or when in the commissioner's opinion the continued operation of the health maintenance organization would be hazardous either to the covered persons or to the people of this state. Covered persons shall have the same priority in the event of liquidation or rehabilitation as the law provides to policyholders of an insurer.

B. For purpose of determining the priority of distribution of general assets, claims of covered persons shall have the same priority as established in [insert reference to state law relating to liquidation of insurers] for policyholders and beneficiaries of insureds of insurance companies. If a covered person is liable to a provider for services provided pursuant to and covered by the health benefit plan, that liability shall have the status of a covered person claim for distribution of general assets. A provider who is obligated by statute or agreement to hold covered persons harmless from liability for services provided pursuant to and covered by a health benefit plan shall have a priority of distribution of the general assets immediately following that of covered persons as described herein, and immediately preceding the priority of distribution described in [insert reference to state liquidation procedures].

Section 29. Penalties and Enforcement

A. In addition to or in lieu of suspension or revocation of a certificate of authority or the denial of an application pursuant to Section 26 of this Act, the applicant or the health maintenance organization may be subjected to an administrative penalty of up to $[insert number] for each cause for suspension or revocation or application denial.

B. (1) If the commissioner shall for any reason have cause to believe that a violation of this Act has occurred or is threatened, the commissioner may give notice to the health maintenance organization and to the representatives, or other persons who appear to be involved in the suspected violation, to arrange a conference with the alleged violators or their authorized representatives for the purpose of attempting to ascertain the facts relating to the suspected violation; and, in the event it appears that a violation has occurred or is threatened, to arrive at an adequate and effective means of correcting or preventing the violation.

(2) Proceedings under this subsection shall not be governed by any formal procedural requirements, and may be conducted in such manner as the commissioner may deem appropriate under the circumstances. However, unless consented to by the health maintenance organization, no rule or order may result from a conference until the requirements of this section of this Act are satisfied.

C. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, if a health maintenance organization fails to comply with the net worth requirement of this Act or fails to correct its net worth to bring it into compliance with the requirements of this Act, the commissioner is authorized to take appropriate action to assure that the continued operation of the health maintenance organization will not be hazardous to its covered persons.

Drafting Note: In addition to the actions provided in this section that a commissioner may use to enforce a health maintenance organization's compliance with the provisions of this Act, some states may authorize the commissioner to issue an order to a health maintenance organization or a representative of the health maintenance organization to cease and desist from engaging in an act or practice that is violation of this Act. In addition, the commissioner may also be authorized to institute an action seeking to obtain injunctive or other relief if the health maintenance organization fails to comply with the order to cease and desist. When the commissioner is not granted such statutory powers, the language should be modified to provide for the legal steps to be taken by the attorney general or other appropriate state official.

Section 30. Regulations

The commissioner may promulgate regulations to carry out the provisions of this Act. The rules and regulations shall be subject to review in accordance with [insert reference to state law relating to administrative rulemaking and review of rules].

Section 31. Statutory Construction and Relationship to Other Laws

A. Except as otherwise provided in this Act or in other laws expressly referring to health maintenance organizations, provisions of the insurance law and provisions of hospital or medical service corporation laws shall not be applicable to a health maintenance organization granted a certificate of authority under this Act. This provision shall not apply to an insurer or hospital or medical service corporation licensed and regulated pursuant to the insurance law or the hospital or medical service corporation laws of this state except with respect to its health maintenance organization activities authorized and regulated pursuant to this Act.

B. Solicitation of enrollees by a health maintenance organization granted a certificate of authority, or its representatives, shall not be construed to violate any provision of law relating to solicitation or advertising by health care professionals.

C. Any health maintenance organization authorized under this Act shall not be deemed to be practicing medicine and shall be exempt from the provision of [insert reference to state law relating to the practice of medicine].

Section 32. Filings and Reports as Public Documents

All applications, filings and reports required under this Act shall be treated as public documents, except those which are trade secrets or privileged or confidential quality assurance, commercial or financial information, other than any annual financial statement that may be required under Section 23 of this Act, and any other information that is considered privileged or confidential under state or federal law.

Section 33. Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act

All health maintenance organizations shall meet the requirements of [insert reference to state law equivalent to NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440)].

Drafting Note: States that have not included health maintenance organizations within the scope of their state law equivalent to the NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440) should not adopt this section.

Section 34. Separability

If any provision of this Act, or the application of the provision to any person or circumstance shall be held invalid, the remainder of the Act, and the application of the provision to persons or circumstances other than those to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected.

Section 35. Effective Date

This Act shall be effective [insert date].

APPENDIX A

Former Section 3HH, Section 14 and Section 20

Below are the sections deleted to reconcile the provisions of this model with the 2017 revisions to the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act (#520), which added health maintenance organizations as members of the guaranty association.

Section 3HH. Definition of Uncovered Expenditures

"Uncovered expenditures" means the costs to the health maintenance organization for health care services that are the obligation of the health maintenance organization, for which a covered person may also be liable in the event of the health maintenance organization's insolvency and for which no alternative arrangements have been made that are acceptable to the commissioner.

Section 14. Continuation of Benefits

A. The commissioner shall require that each health maintenance organization have a plan for handling insolvency that provides for continuation of benefits for the duration of the contract period for which premiums have been paid and continuation of benefits to covered persons who are confined on the date of insolvency in an inpatient facility until their discharge or expiration of benefits.

B. In considering such a plan, the commissioner may require:

(1) Insurance to cover the expenses to be paid for continued benefits after an insolvency;

(2) Provisions in provider contracts that obligate the provider, after the health maintenance organization's insolvency, to provide covered services through the period for which premium has been paid to the health maintenance organization on behalf of the covered person or until the covered person's discharge from an inpatient facility, whichever time is greater. Covered benefits to covered persons confined in an inpatient facility on the date of insolvency will continue until their confinement in an inpatient facility is no longer medically necessary;

(3) Insolvency reserves;

(4) Acceptable letters of credit; or

(5) Any other arrangements to assure that benefits are continued as specified above.

Section 20. Uncovered Expenditures Deposit

A. If at any time uncovered expenditures exceed ten percent (10%) of total health care expenditures, a health maintenance organization shall place an uncovered expenditures insolvency deposit with the commissioner, with an organization or trustee acceptable to the commissioner through which a custodial or controlled account is maintained, cash or securities that are acceptable to the commissioner. The deposit shall at all times have a fair market value in an amount of 120 percent of the health maintenance organization's outstanding liability for uncovered expenditures for covered persons in this state, including incurred but not reported claims, and shall be calculated as of the first day of the month and maintained for the remainder of the month. If a health maintenance organization is not otherwise required to file a quarterly report, it shall file a report within forty-five (45) days of the end of the calendar quarter with information sufficient to demonstrate compliance with this section.

B. The deposit required under this section is in addition to the deposit required under Section 18 and is an admitted asset of the health maintenance organization in the determination of net worth. All income from deposits or trust accounts shall be assets of the health maintenance organization and may be withdrawn from the deposit or account quarterly with the approval of the commissioner.

C. (1) A health maintenance organization that has made a deposit may withdraw that deposit or any part of the deposit if:

(a) A substitute deposit of cash or securities of equal amount and value is made;

(b) The fair market value exceeds the amount of the required deposit; or

(c) The required deposit under Subsection A is reduced or eliminated.

(2) Deposits, substitutions or withdrawals may be made only with the prior written approval of the commissioner.

D. The deposit required under this section is in trust and may be used only as provided under this section. The commissioner may use the deposit of an insolvent health maintenance organization for administrative costs associated with administering the deposit and payment of claims of covered persons of this state for uncovered expenditures in this state. Claims for uncovered expenditures shall be paid on a pro rata basis based on assets available to pay the ultimate liability for incurred expenditures. Partial distribution may be made pending final distribution. Any amount of the deposit remaining shall be paid into the liquidation or receivership of the health maintenance organization.

E. The commissioner may by regulation prescribe the time, manner and form for filing claims under Subsection D.

F. The commissioner may by regulation or order require health maintenance organizations to file annual, quarterly or more frequent reports deemed necessary to demonstrate compliance with this section. The commissioner may require that the reports include liability for uncovered expenditures as well as an audit opinion.

HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATION MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2020

HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATION MODEL ACT (#430)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In May 2018, the Health Insurance and Managed Care (B) Committee received a referral from the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force. The Task Force requested the Committee to review all NAIC models involving health maintenance organizations (HMOs) to determine if conforming changes are needed to provide options for the states that have adopted or are adopting the 2017 revisions to the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act (#520), which added HMOs as members of the life and health insurance guaranty association.

In June 2018, the Committee decided to accept the referral from Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force to review relevant HMO NAIC models to determine if revisions need to be made for consistency with the 2017 revisions to Model #520. The Committee directed the Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force to conduct this review and report back to the Committee with any recommendations. At the 2018 Summer National Meeting, the Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force formed a new subgroup, the Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) Issues (B) Subgroup, to carry out this work. Kentucky volunteered to chair the Subgroup.

To assist the Subgroup in carrying out its work, NAIC staff reviewed several NAIC models having the most potential for being affected by the Model #520 revisions, including the Health Maintenance Organization Model Act (#430). NAIC staff recommended that the Subgroup review the following Model #430 provisions to develop its recommendations to the Committee regarding any potential revisions because of the Model #520 revisions:

- Section 3—Definitions, specifically the definition of "uncovered expenditures" in Section 3HH.
- Section 5—Establishment of Health Maintenance Organizations, specifically the provisions in Option B: Section 5B(16).
- Section 14—Continuation of Benefits.
- Section 18—Deposit Requirements.
- Section 19—Hold Harmless Provision Requirements for Covered Persons.
- Section 20—Uncovered Expenditures Deposit.
- Section 21—Open Enrollment and Replacement Coverage in Event of Insolvency.
- Section 31—Rehabilitation, Liquidation or Conservation of Health Maintenance Organizations.

The Subgroup met Oct. 18, 2018, and Nov. 1, 2018, via conference call to discuss whether it was necessary to revise Model #430 and if so, the scope of the potential revisions, such as revising Model #430 narrowly to address any inconsistencies with the revised Model #520 or revising Model #430 more broadly to include other revisions not related to the revised Model #520. The Subgroup recommended to the Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force that Model #430 be opened for revision, but the Subgroup decided to defer to the Task Force the scope of the revisions.

The Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force presented the Subgroup's recommendation to the Committee. The Committee accepted the Task Force's recommendation to open Model #430 to address any conflicts and inconsistencies with the 2017 revisions to Model #520 during its Feb. 14, 2019, meeting. During its Feb. 26, 2019, meeting, the Task Force directed the Subgroup to move forward with developing and adopting a 2019 charge to revise Model #430 and pursue adoption of a Request for NAIC Model Law Development to revise Model #430. Virginia volunteered to chair the Subgroup to complete its work to revise Model #430 to address any conflicts and inconsistencies with the 2017 revisions to Model #520.

During its April 29, 2019, meeting, the Subgroup adopted its 2019 charge to revise Model #430 to revise provisions in Model #430 to address conflicts and redundancies with the provisions in Model #520. The Subgroup also developed a Request for NAIC Model Law Development to revise Model #430 consistent with its charge. The Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force adopted the Subgroup's 2019 charge and its Request for NAIC Model Law Development May 15, 2019. The Committee adopted the Task Force's 2019 revised charges and the Request for NAIC Model Law Development in June 2019. The Executive (EX) Committee adopted the Request for NAIC Model Law Development at the 2019 Summer National Meeting.

The Subgroup met May 16, 2019, and June 24, 2019 via conference call to discuss its next steps for moving forward while waiting for adoption of its Request for NAIC Model Law Development. The Subgroup requested comments from stakeholders. The Subgroup met Sept. 16, 2019, and Nov. 21, 2019, via conference call to discuss proposals from the Virginia Insurance Bureau and the Maine Department of Insurance (DOI) for revising Model #430 consistent with its charge. The Subgroup decided to use the Maine DOI approach.

In late December 2019, the Subgroup exposed a draft for a public comment period ending March 18, 2020. The Subgroup discussed the comments received on the draft June 11, 2020, via conference call. The Subgroup decided to accept some of the suggested revisions and exposed a revised draft for comment. The Subgroup adopted the revised draft July 13, 2020, via conference call. The Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force adopted the proposed revisions to Model #430 Sept. 24, 2020, via conference call. The Committee adopted the revisions Nov. 2, 2020, via conference call.

The revisions delete several provisions in Model #430 to reconcile it with the 2017 revisions to Model #520. The deleted provisions include Section 14—Continuation of Benefits, Section 20—Uncovered Expenditures Deposit and Section 3HH, the definition of "uncovered expenditures." For states that do not intend to adopt the 2017 revisions to Model #520, for reference, a new appendix to the model includes these deleted provisions. The Subgroup also deleted Section 21—Open Enrollment and Replacement Coverage in the Event of Insolvency because the section's provisions are obsolete due to the federal Affordable Care Act (ACA).

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) Issues (B) Subgroup of the Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force drafted the proposed revisions to Model #430. The members of the Subgroup were: Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Missouri, Nebraska, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. Kentucky chaired the Subgroup in 2018. Virginia chaired the group in 2019 and 2020.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force established the Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) Issues (B) Subgroup in 2019 to carry out the charge below:

"Revise provisions in the Health Maintenance Organization Model Act (#430) to address conflicts and redundancies with provisions in the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act (#520)."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc.; include any parties outside the members that participated)

Beginning in March 2019 and ending in July 2020, the Subgroup reviewed and discussed all the comments received. Numerous interested parties participated in the drafting process. The interested parties represented all stakeholder groups, including consumers, insurers and guaranty association representatives. Each draft of proposed revisions was posted to the Subgroup's web page on the NAIC website. All comment letters received also were posted. The Subgroup met via conference call in open meetings throughout the drafting process.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

Beginning in March 2019 and ending in July 2020, the Subgroup reviewed and discussed all the comments received. Numerous interested parties participated in the drafting process. The interested parties represented all stakeholder groups, including consumers, insurers and guaranty association representatives. Each draft of proposed revisions was posted to the Subgroup's web page on the NAIC website. All comment letters received also were posted. The Subgroup met via conference call in open meetings throughout the drafting process.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the drafting process and the group's response)

There were no significant items of controversy raised during the drafting process. However, the Subgroup extensively discussed what approach to take to revising Model #430 given that some states will not adopt the 2017 revisions to Model #520 and preserving those sections removed from Model #430 for those states. The Subgroup considered a few options, including: 1) retaining the sections that needed to be deleted to reconcile Model #430 with Model #520 and add explanatory drafting notes; or 2) deleting the necessary sections and adding explanatory drafting notes. The Subgroup decided the best approach to address this issue was to delete the section and include the deleted sections in a new appendix to Model #430.

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

PROJECT HISTORY - 2003

HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATION MODEL ACT (#430)

1. Description of the project, issues addressed, etc.

This model act was revised to take into account changes in the marketplace since the Health Maintenance Organization Model Act was adopted by the NAIC in 1984. Revisions were made to the existing reporting requirements and solvency provisions in the model act. The model act was revised to reference other existing NAIC model acts where appropriate, rather than include duplicate sections. In addition, a new section was added for the registration of downstream risk arrangements.

2. Name of group responsible for draft the model:

Managed Care Organization Working Group of the Regulatory Framework (B) Task Force.

States Participating:

Kathy Greenlee, Chair	Kansas
Kenney Shipley	Florida
Joan Krosch	Idaho
Bill McAndrew	Illinois
Richard O'Shee	Louisiana
Manuel Montelongo	Nebraska
Alexander Feldvebel	New Hampshire
Ed Unger	New Jersey
Guy Perkins	Nevada
Barbara Morales Burke	North Carolina
David Fogarty	Ohio
Randy Moses	South Dakota
Fred Nepple	Wisconsin
Bob Wright	Virginia

3. Project authorized by what charge and date first given to the group:

The Special Ad Hoc Committee on HMO Insolvency (HMO Insolvency Committee), formed at the 1999 Summer National Meeting, had its final meeting at the 1999 Winter National Meeting. The charge of the HMO Insolvency Committee was to evaluate the adequacy of current solvency and consumer protection measures with regard to managed care organizations. The HMO Insolvency Committee was intended to be short-lived, and the final recommendations included suggesting charges for the Health Insurance and Managed Care (B) Committee related to consumer protection and managed care solvency.

At the 1999 Winter National Meeting, the B Committee delegated the task of revising the HMO Model Act to the Regulatory Framework Task Force and the task force formed the Managed Care Organization Working Group. The following charges were given to the Managed Care Organization Working Group:

Study the issue of risk sharing arrangements and the implications of downstream risk assumption in particular, including the effects of an insolvency of an entity assuming downstream risk. Make recommendations as appropriate. Report by Winter 2001 National Meeting.

Update and revise the Health Maintenance Organization Model Act as appropriate, paying particular attention to strengthening solvency standards and insolvency protections for managed care organizations. Report by Winter National Meeting.

4. A general description of the drafting process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated.

The revisions were drafted by the working group. Numerous interested parties participated, including industry representatives, such as the American Association of Health Plans (AAHP), the Health Insurance Association of America (HIAA), the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (BCBSA), the EOSHealth. Inc., Kaiser Permanente, and the Group

Health Cooperative of Puget Sound, and consumer representatives, such as AARP, National Partnership for Women and Families; and other interested parties, such as the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) and the federal government through the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

5. A general description of the due process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited.

There have been more than fifteen drafts of revisions to the model since the project began in 2000. Each draft was circulated for comment to interested parties prior to discuss at NAIC quarterly meetings. In addition, all drafts of the proposed model were posted on the NAIC web site. Throughout the drafting process comments from various interest groups and organizations were received and discussed by the working group.

6. A discussion of the significant issues (items of some controversy) raised during the due process and the group's response.

The most significant issue that arose during the drafting of revisions to the model act concerned the extent to which the model should regulate entities assuming downstream risk. The working group heard presentations on the issue, reviewed how other states have addressed the issue, and consulted the National Association of Managed Care Regulators White Paper on Downstream Risk. The working group decided not to license risk bearing entities, but to create a registration requirement, placing the responsibility for monitoring the continuing financial health of the risk bearing entity on the health maintenance organization. The model act includes requirements for the exchange of information among the health maintenance organization, the risk bearing entity and the regulator.

Another significant issue that arose during the drafting of revisions to the model act concerned whether it was appropriate to exempt staff and group model HMOs from the requirements on downstream risk. Because there is mutual exclusivity between a provider group and the health plan in group and staff model HMOs, the financial health of both are deeply intertwined. Several states and the Health Organizations Risk Based Capital (HORBC) Model Act contemplate special treatment for these Kaiser-type plans. The working group agreed to include an exemption for entities similar to that contained the HORBC Model Act.

7. Any other important information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

None.

MODEL REGULATION TO IMPLEMENT RULES REGARDING CONTRACTS AND SERVICES OF HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATIONS

Table of Contents

PREAMBLE

In 1989 the NAIC adopted a significantly revised version of the Model HMO Act. In order to reflect those changes, the NAIC model HMO regulations have been revised to incorporate language that compliments the revised model act, and to delete provisions that are no longer supported by the model. The range of issues for which various states have regulations continue to exceed the regulatory requirements that are common to the majority of states. Further, the range of issues appears to exceed the range of topics specifically addressed in the NAIC model act. This is due, in part, to the rapid evolution of the HMO industry over the past several years coupled with the rapid shift to a more business-oriented environment.

Authorities created by statute vary substantially from state to state and even though it is likely that no single state currently addresses all of the topics presented in this regulation, it was the consensus of the committee that the purview of the model regulation be broad enough to address the entire range of topics that have been identified, rather than remaining silent on certain issues on the basis of uncertainty of jurisdiction in individual states. Because of the variation of authorities that exist, it is incumbent on individual states to ascertain the limits of that authority in the application of the model regulation. Each state will thus be required to limit application of the model regulation, or seek appropriate statutory authority where authority does not appear to presently exist.

Section 1. Authority

This regulation is issued pursuant to the authority vested in the commissioner under [cite section of law enacting the state Health Maintenance Organization Act and any other appropriate sections of law regarding the authority to issue or promulgate rules and regulations vested in the commissioner and the Commissioner of Health where applicable].

Section 2. Purpose

The purpose of this regulation is to implement [cite section of law which sets forth the state Health Maintenance Organization Act] to assure the availability, accessibility and quality of services provided by health maintenance organizations (HMOs) and to provide reasonable standards for terms and provisions contained in HMO group and individual contracts and evidences of coverage.

Section 3. Applicability and Scope

This regulation shall apply to all HMOs that are required to obtain a certificate of authority in this state. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this regulation and the provisions of any other regulation issued by the commissioner, the provisions of this regulation shall be controlling as to HMOs.

Section 4. Effective Date

A. This regulation shall be effective on [insert date].

B. All group and individual contracts written or issued on or after [use a date six months from the effective date of these regulations] shall conform with the provisions of these regulations. [Give specific citations to clarify that this includes the entire set of regulations and not just this section.]

C. No group or individual contract or evidence of coverage shall be reissued, renewed, amended or extended in this state on or after [date in Subsection A above] unless it complies with this regulation. A group or individual contract or evidence of coverage approved before [date from Subsection A] shall be deemed to be reissued, renewed, amended or extended on the date the health maintenance organization changes the terms of the group or individual contract or evidence of coverage or adjusts the premiums charged. A group or individual contract or evidence of coverage shall comply with this regulation when amended but in no event later than twelve (12) months after the effective date of this regulation.

Section 5. Definitions

A group or individual contract or evidence of coverage delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state by an HMO required to obtain a certificate of authority in this state shall contain definitions respecting the matters set forth below. The definitions shall comply with the requirements of this section. Definitions other than those set forth in this regulation may be used as appropriate providing that they do not contradict these requirements. All definitions used in the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall be in alphabetical order. As used in this regulation and as used in the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage:

A. "Basic health care services" means the following medically necessary services: preventive care, emergency care, inpatient and outpatient hospital and physician care, diagnostic laboratory and diagnostic and therapeutic radiological services. It does not include mental health services or services for alcohol or drug abuse, dental or vision services or long-term rehabilitation treatment.

B. "Copayment" means the amount an enrollee must pay in order to receive a specific service that is not fully prepaid.

C. "Deductible" means the amount an enrollee is responsible to pay out-of-pocket before the HMO begins to pay the costs or provide the services associated with treatment.

D. "Eligible dependent" means a member of a subscriber's family who meets the eligibility requirements set forth in Section 6B of this regulation.

E. "Emergency care services" means:

(1) Within the service area: covered health care services rendered by affiliated or non-affiliated providers under unforeseen conditions that require immediate medical attention. Emergency care services within the service area shall include covered health care services from non-affiliated providers only when delay in receiving care from the HMO could reasonably be expected to cause severe jeopardy to the enrollee's condition.

(2) Outside the service area: medically necessary health care services that are immediately required because of unforeseen illness or injury while the enrollee is outside the geographical limits of the HMO's service area.

F. "Enrollee" means an individual who is covered by an HMO.

G. "Evidence of coverage" means a statement of the essential features and services of the HMO coverage that is given to the subscriber by the HMO or by the group contract holder.

H. "Extension of benefits" means the continuation of coverage of a particular benefit provided under a group or individual contract following termination with respect to an enrollee who is totally disabled on the date of termination.

I. "Grievance" means a written complaint submitted in accordance with the HMO's formal grievance procedure by or on behalf of the enrollee regarding any aspect of the HMO relative to the enrollee.

J. "Group contract" means a contract for health care services which by its terms limits eligibility to enrollees of a specified group. The group contract may include coverage for dependents.

K. "Group contract holder" means the person to which a group contract has been issued.

L. "Health maintenance organization" or "HMO" means a person that undertakes to provide or arrange for the delivery of basic health care services to enrollees on a prepaid basis, except for enrollee responsibility for copayments and deductibles.

M. "Hospital" means a duly licensed institution that provides general and specialized inpatient medical care. The term "hospital" shall not include a convalescent facility, nursing home, or an institution or part of an institution that is used principally as a convalescent facility, rest facility, nursing facility or facility for the aged.

N. "Individual contract" means a contract for health care services issued to and covering an individual. The individual contract may include coverage for dependents of the subscriber.

O. "Medical necessity" or "medically necessary" means appropriate and necessary services as determined by a provider affiliated with the HMO that are rendered to an enrollee for a condition requiring, according to generally accepted principles of good medical practice, the diagnosis or direct care and treatment of an illness or injury and are not provided only as a convenience. This does not preclude the HMO from establishing standards by which providers make their decisions as to what is medically necessary or from penalizing providers for failure to meet these standards.In the case of emergency medical services, the HMO has the right to make the final determination of whether services should be covered.

Drafting Note: This definition gives the provider the authority to determine what is medically necessary.

P. "Non-basic health care services" means health care services, other than basic health care services, that may be provided in the absence of basic health care services.

Q. "Out-of-area services" means the health care services that an HMO covers when its enrollees are outside of the service area.

R. "Participating provider" means a provider as defined in Subsection U below who, under an express or implied contract with the HMO or with its contractor or subcontractor, has agreed to provide health care services to enrollees with an expectation of receiving payment, other than copayment or deductible, directly or indirectly from the HMO.

S. "Physician" means a licensed doctor of medicine or osteopathy practicing within the scope of the license.

T. "Primary care physician" means a physician who supervises, coordinates, and provides initial and basic care to enrollees, and who initiates their referral for specialist care and maintains continuity of patient care.

U. "Provider" means a physician, hospital or other person licensed or otherwise authorized to furnish health care services.

V. "Replacement coverage" means the benefits provided by a succeeding carrier.

W. "Service area" means the geographical area as approved by the commissioner within which the HMO provides or arranges for health care services that are available and accessible to enrollees.

X. "Skilled nursing facility" means a facility that is operated pursuant to law and is primarily engaged in providing room and board accommodations and skilled nursing care under the supervision of a duly licensed physician.

Y. "Subscriber" means an individual whose employment or other status, except family dependency, is the basis for eligibility for enrollment in the health maintenance organization, or in the case of an individual contract, the person in whose name the contract is issued.

Z. "Supplemental health care services" means any health care services that are provided in addition to basic health care services.

Section 6. Requirements for Contracts and Evidence of Coverage

Each subscriber shall be entitled to receive an individual contract or evidence of coverage in a form that has been approved by the commissioner. Each group contract holder shall be entitled to receive a group contract as approved by the commissioner. Group contracts, individual contracts and evidences of coverage shall be delivered or issued for delivery to subscribers or group contract holders within a reasonable time after enrollment, but not more than fifteen (15) days from the later of the effective date of coverage or the date on which the HMO is notified of enrollment.

A. Health Maintenance Organization Information. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain the name, address and telephone number of the HMO, and where and in what manner information is available as to how services may be obtained. A telephone number within the service area for calls, without charge to members, to the health maintenance organization's administrative office shall be made available and disseminated to enrollees to adequately provide telephone access for enrollee services, problems or questions. An HMO shall provide a method by which the enrollee may contact the HMO, at no cost to the enrollee. This may be done through the use of toll-free or collect telephone calls, etc. The enrollee shall be informed of the method by notice in the handbook, newsletter or flyer. The group or individual contract or evidence of coverage may indicate the manner in which the number will be disseminated rather than list the number itself.

B. Eligibility Requirements

(1) The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain eligibility requirements indicating the conditions that shall be met to enroll as a subscriber or eligible dependent, the limiting age for subscribers and eligible dependents including the effects of Medicare eligibility, and a clear statement regarding coverage of newborn children.

(2) A group or individual contract or evidence of coverage shall not contain a provision excluding or limiting coverage for a newborn child. Medically diagnosed congenital defects and birth abnormalities shall be treated the same as any other illness or injury for which coverage is provided. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage may require that notification of birth of a newborn child and payment of any required premium shall be furnished to the HMO within thirty-one (31) days after the date of birth in order to have coverage continue beyond the thirty-one-day period. The HMO is entitled to premium for the first thirty-one (31) days of coverage, unless the coverage is rejected by the subscriber prior to the birth of the child.

Drafting Note: Although state laws vary as to coverage for eligible dependents and newborns, many states require coverage; therefore suggested provisions have been included. If a state does not have authority in these areas, only the first paragraph should be included when adopting this regulation.

(3) The definition of an eligible dependent shall include:

(a) The spouse of the subscriber; and

(b) An unmarried dependent child of the subscriber who:

(i) Has not reached age [insert age]; or

(ii) Has reached [insert age] through [insert age] who is attending a recognized college or university, trade or secondary school on a full-time basis; or

(iii) Has reached age [insert age] but who is incapable of self-support because of mental retardation, mental illness or physical incapacity which began before the child reached age [insert age], and who is chiefly dependent upon the subscriber for support and maintenance.

Drafting Note: Paragraph (3) is an optional provision that may be used to define eligible dependents, if the state has that authority.

(4) The definition of a dependent child of a subscriber shall include a child who:

(a) Is related to the subscriber as a natural child, a legally adopted child or a stepchild; or

(b) Resides in the subscriber's household and who qualifies as a dependent of the subscriber or the subscriber's spouse under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code and the federal tax regulations; or

(c) Is eligible by virtue of a court order making the subscriber responsible for health care services for the dependent child.

Drafting Note: Paragraph (4) is an optional provision that may be used to define the dependent child of a subscriber.

C. Benefits and Services within the Service Area. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a specific description of benefits and services available within the service area.

D. Emergency Care Benefits and Services. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a specific description of benefits and services available for emergencies twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week, including disclosure of any restrictions on emergency care services. No group or individual contract or evidence of coverage shall limit the coverage of emergency services within the service area to affiliated providers only.

E. Out of Area Benefits and Services. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a specific description of benefits and services available out of the service area.

F. Copayments and Deductibles. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a description of any copayments or deductibles that must be paid by enrollees.

G. Limitations and Exclusions. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a description of any limitations or exclusions on the services, kind of services, benefits or kind of benefits including any limitations or exclusions due to preexisting conditions, waiting periods or an enrollee's refusal of treatment.

H. Enrollee Termination

(1) An HMO shall not cancel or terminate coverage of services provided an enrollee under an HMO group or individual contract except for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Failure to pay the amounts due under the group or individual contract;

(b) Fraud or material misrepresentation in enrollment or in the use of services or facilities;

(c) Material violation of the terms of the group or individual contract;

(d) Failure to meet the eligibility requirements under a group contract;

(e) Termination of the group contract under which the enrollee was covered;

(f) Failure of the enrollee and the primary care physician to establish a satisfactory patient-physician relationship if:

(i) It is shown that the HMO has, in good faith, provided the enrollee with the opportunity to select an alternative primary care physician;

(ii) The enrollee has repeatedly refused to follow the plan of treatment ordered by the physician; and

(iii) The enrollee is notified in writing at least thirty (30) days in advance that the HMO considers the patient-physician relationship to be unsatisfactory and specific changes are necessary in order to avoid termination; or

(g) Other good cause agreed upon in the group or individual contract and approved by the commissioner. However, coverage shall not be cancelled or terminated on the basis of the status of the enrollee's health or because the enrollee has exercised his or her rights under the HMO's grievance procedure by registering a grievance against the HMO.

(2) An HMO shall not cancel or terminate an enrollee's coverage for services provided under an HMO group or individual contract without giving the enrollee at least fifteen (15) days written notice of termination. Notice will be considered given on the date of mailing or, if not mailed, on the date of delivery. This notice shall include the reason for termination. If termination is due to nonpayment of premium, the grace period required in Section 6W of this regulation shall apply. Advance notice of termination shall not be required to be given for termination due to non-payment of premium.

(3) (a) An HMO shall not terminate coverage of a dependent child upon attainment of the limiting age if the child is and continues to be both:

(i) Incapable of self support because of mental retardation, mental illness or physical incapacity, and

(ii) Chiefly dependent upon the subscriber for support and maintenance.

(b) Proof of incapacity and dependency shall be furnished to the HMO by the subscriber within thirty-one (31) days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as reasonably required by the HMO.

I. Enrollee Reinstatement. If an HMO permits reinstatement of an enrollee's coverage, the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall include any terms and conditions concerning reinstatement. The contract and evidence of coverage may state that all reinstatements are at the option of the HMO and that the HMO is not obligated to reinstate any terminated coverage.

J. Claims Procedures. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain procedures for filing claims that include:

(1) Any required notice to the HMO;

(2) If any claim forms are required, how, when and where to obtain and submit them;

(3) Any requirements for filing proper proofs of loss;

(4) Any time limit of payment of claims;

(5) Notice of any provisions for resolving disputed claims, including arbitration; and

(6) A statement of restrictions, if any, on assignment of sums payable to the enrollee by the HMO.

K. Enrollee Grievance Procedures and Arbitration. In compliance with Section 9D of this regulation, the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a description of the HMO's method for resolving enrollee grievances, including procedures to be followed by the enrollee in the event any dispute arises under the contract, including any provisions for arbitration.

L. Continuation of Coverage. A group contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a provision that an enrollee who is an inpatient in a hospital or a skilled nursing facility on the date of discontinuance of the group contract shall be covered in accordance with the terms of the group contract until discharged from the hospital or skilled nursing facility. The enrollee may be charged the appropriate premium for coverage that was in effect prior to discontinuance of the group contract.

Drafting Note: Group contracts and evidences of coverage are required to contain a continuation of coverage provision to protect enrollees who are in the hospital or a skilled nursing facility when a contract is discontinued. Requirements concerning medically necessary care, copayments and deductible would still apply.

M. Conversion of Coverage

(1) (a) The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a conversion provision that provides that each enrollee has the right to convert coverage to an individual HMO contract in the following circumstances:

(i) Upon termination of eligibility for coverage under a group or individual contract; or

(ii) Upon termination of the group contract.

(b) To obtain the conversion contract, an enrollee shall submit a written application and the applicable premium payment to the HMO within thirty-one (31) days after the date the enrollee's eligibility for coverage terminates.

(2) A conversion contract shall not be required to be made available if:

(a) The enrollee's termination of coverage occurred for any of the reasons listed in Subsection H(1)(a), (b), (c), (f) or (g);

(b) The enrollee is covered by or is eligible for benefits under Title XVIII of the United States Social Security Act (Medicare);

(c) The enrollee is covered by or is eligible for similar hospital, medical or surgical benefits under state or federal law;

(d) The enrollee is covered by or is eligible for similar hospital, medical or surgical benefits under any arrangement of coverage for individuals in a group;

(e) The enrollee is covered for similar benefits by an individual policy or contract; or

(f) The enrollee has not been continuously covered during the three-month period immediately preceding that person's termination of coverage.

(3) The conversion contract shall provide basic health care services to its enrollees as a minimum.

(4) The conversion contract shall begin coverage of the enrollee formerly covered under the group or individual contract on the date of termination from the group or individual contract.

(5) Coverage shall be provided without requiring evidence of insurability and shall not impose any preexisting condition limitations or exclusions as described in Section 7A other than those remaining unexpired under the contract from which conversion is exercised. Any probationary or waiting period set forth in the conversion contract shall be deemed to commence on the effective date of the enrollee's coverage under the prior group or individual contract.

(6) If an HMO does not issue individual or conversion contracts, the HMO may use a non-cancelable group contract to provide coverage for enrollees who are eligible for conversion coverage.

N. Extension of Benefits for Total Disability

(1) Each group contract issued by an HMO shall contain a reasonable extension of benefits upon discontinuance of the group contract with respect to enrollees who become totally disabled while enrolled under the contract and who continue to be totally disabled at the date of discontinuance of the contract.

(2) Upon payment of premium at the current group rate, coverage shall remain in full force and effect until the first of the following to occur:

(a) The end of a period of 180 days starting with the date of termination of the group contract;

(b) The date the enrollee is no longer totally disabled; or

(c) The date a succeeding carrier provides replacement coverage to that enrollee without limitation as to the disabling condition.

(3) Upon termination of the extension of benefits, the enrollee shall have the right to convert coverage as provided in Subsection M of this section.

O. Coordination of Benefits. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage may contain a provision for coordination of benefits that shall be consistent with that applicable to other carriers in the jurisdiction. Any provisions or rules for coordination of benefits established by an HMO shall not relieve an HMO of its duty to provide or arrange for a covered health care service to an enrollee because the enrollee is entitled to coverage under any other contract, policy or plan, including coverage provided under government programs. The HMO shall be required to provide covered health care services first and then, at its option, seek coordination of benefits.

P. Subrogation for Injuries Caused by Third Parties. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall not contain any provisions concerning subrogation for injuries caused by third parties unless the wording has been approved by the commissioner.

Q. Description of the Service Area. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain a description of the approved service area.

R. Entire Contract Provision. The group or individual contract shall contain a statement that the contract, all applications and any amendments thereto shall constitute the entire agreement between the parties. No portion of the charter, bylaws or other document of the HMO shall be part of the contract unless set forth in full in the contract or attached to it. However, the evidence of coverage may be attached to and made a part of the group contract.

S. Term of Coverage. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain the time and date or occurrence upon which coverage takes effect, including any applicable waiting periods, or describe how the time and date or occurrence upon which coverage takes effect is determined. The contract and evidence of coverage shall also contain the time and date or occurrence upon which coverage will terminate.

T. Cancellation or Termination. The group or individual contract shall contain the conditions upon which cancellation or termination may be effected by the HMO, the group contract holder or the subscriber.

U. Renewal. The group or individual contract and evidence of coverage shall contain the conditions for, and any restrictions upon, the subscriber's right to renewal.

V. Reinstatement of Group or Individual Contract Holder. If an HMO permits reinstatement of a group or individual, the contract and evidence of coverage shall include any terms and conditions concerning reinstatement. The contract and evidence of coverage may state that all reinstatements are at the option of the HMO and that the HMO is not obligated to reinstate any terminated contract.

W. Grace Period

(1) The group or individual contract shall provide for a grace period of not less than thirty (30) days for the payment of any premium except the first, during which time the coverage shall remain in effect if payment is made during the grace period. The evidence of coverage shall include notice that a grace period exists under the group contract and that coverage continues in force during the grace period.

(2) During the grace period:

(a) The HMO shall remain liable for providing the services and benefits contracted for;

(b) The contract holder shall remain liable for the payment of premium for coverage during the grace period; and

(c) The subscriber shall remain liable for any copayments and deductibles.

(3) If the premium is not paid during the grace period, coverage is automatically terminated at the end of the grace period. Following the effective date of termination, the HMO shall deliver written notice of the termination to the contract holder.

X. Conformity with State Law. A group or individual contract and evidence of coverage delivered or issued for delivery in this state shall include a provision that states that any provision not in conformity with [cite section of law that sets forth the state's Health Maintenance Organization Act], this regulation or any other applicable law or regulation in this state shall not be rendered invalid but shall be construed and applied as if it were in full compliance with the applicable laws and regulations of this state.

Y. Right to Examine Contract. An individual contract shall contain a provision stating that a person who has entered into an individual contract with a health maintenance organization shall be permitted to return the contract within ten (10) days of receiving it and to receive a refund of the premium paid if the person is not satisfied with the contract for any reason. If the contract is returned to the HMO or to the agent through whom it was purchased, it is considered void from the beginning. However, if services are rendered or claims are paid for the person by the HMO during the ten-day examination period and the person returns the contract to receive a refund of the premium paid, the person shall be required to pay for these services.

Section 7. Prohibited Practices

A. Preexisting Conditions

(1) An HMO may include in its individual contract a provision setting forth reasonable exclusions or limitations of services for preexisting conditions at time of enrollment. However, no such exclusions or limitations shall be for a period greater than two (2) years.

(2) An HMO shall not exclude or limit services for a preexisting condition when the enrollee transfers coverage from one individual contract to another or when the enrollee converts coverage under his conversion option, except to the extent of a preexisting condition limitation or exclusion remaining unexpired under the prior contract. Any required probationary or waiting period shall be deemed to have commenced on the effective date of coverage under the prior contract. The HMO contract shall disclose any preexisting condition limitations or exclusions that are applicable when an enrollee transfers from a prior HMO contract.

(3) A preexisting condition shall not be defined more restrictively than the following:

(a) The existence of symptoms that would cause an ordinarily prudent person to seek diagnosis, care or treatment within a two-year period preceding the effective date of coverage under the health care plan; or

(b) A condition for which medical advice or treatment was recommended by a physician or received from a physician within a two-year period preceding the effective date of coverage under the health care plan.

(4) No group contract or evidence of coverage shall exclude or limit services for a preexisting condition.

B. Unfair Discrimination. An HMO shall not unfairly discriminate against an enrollee or applicant for enrollment on the basis of the age, sex, race, color, creed, national origin, ancestry, religion, marital status or lawful occupation of an enrollee, or because of the frequency of utilization of services by an enrollee. However, nothing shall prohibit an HMO from setting rates or establishing a schedule of charges in accordance with relevant actuarial data. An HMO shall not expel or refuse to re-enroll any enrollee nor refuse to enroll individual members of a group on the basis of the health status or health care needs of the individuals or enrollees.

Section 8. Services

A. Access to Care

(1) An HMO shall establish and maintain adequate arrangements to provide health services for its enrollees, including:

(a) Reasonable proximity to the business or personal residences of the enrollees so as not to result in unreasonable barriers to accessibility;

(b) Reasonable hours of operation and after-hours services;

(c) Emergency care services available and accessible within the service area twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week; and

(d) Sufficient providers, personnel, administrators and support staff to assure that all services contracted for will be accessible to enrollees on an appropriate basis without delays detrimental to the health of enrollees.

(2) An HMO shall make available to each enrollee a primary care physician and provide accessibility to medically necessary specialists through staffing, contracting or referral. An HMO shall provide for continuity of care for enrollees referred to specialists.

(3) An HMO shall have written procedures governing the availability of services utilized by enrollees, including at least the following:

(a) Well-patient examinations and immunizations;

(b) Emergency telephone consultation on a twenty-four (24) hours per day, seven (7) days per week basis;

(c) Treatment of emergencies;

(d) Treatment of minor illness; and

(e) Treatment of chronic illnesses.

B. Basic Health Care Services. An HMO shall provide, or arrange for the provision of, as a minimum, basic health care service, which shall include the following:

(1) Emergency care services, as defined in Section 5 of this regulation;

(2) Inpatient hospital services, meaning medically necessary hospital services including, but not limited to, room and board; general nursing care; special diets when medically necessary; use of operating room and related facilities; use of intensive care units and services; x-ray, laboratory and other diagnostic tests; drugs, medications, biologicals, anesthesia and oxygen services; special nursing when medically necessary; physical therapy, radiation therapy and inhalation therapy; administration of whole blood and blood plasma; and short-term rehabilitation services;

(3) Inpatient physician care services, meaning medically necessary health care services performed, prescribed, or supervised by physicians or other providers including diagnostic, therapeutic, medical, surgical, preventive, referral and consultative health care services; and

(4) Outpatient medical services, meaning preventive and medically necessary health care services provided in a physician's office, a non-hospital-based health care facility or at a hospital. Outpatient medical services shall include but are not limited to diagnostic services; treatment services; laboratory services; x-ray services; referral services; and physical therapy, radiation therapy and inhalation therapy. Outpatient services shall also include preventive health services, which shall include at least a broad range of voluntary family planning services, services for infertility, well-child care from birth, periodic health evaluations for adults, screening to determine the need for vision and hearing correction, and pediatric and adult immunizations in accordance with accepted medical practice.

C. Out-of-Area Services and Benefits

(1) Out-of-area services shall be subject to the same copayment requirements set forth in Section 6F.

(2) When an enrollee is traveling or temporarily residing out of an HMO's service area, an HMO shall provide benefits for reimbursement for emergency care services and transportation that is medically necessary and appropriate under the circumstances to return the enrollee to an HMO provider, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The condition could not reasonably have been foreseen;

(b) The enrollee could not reasonably arrange to return to the service area to receive treatment from the HMO's provider;

(c) The travel or temporary residence must be for some purpose other than the receipt of medical treatments; and

(d) The HMO is notified by telephone within twenty-four (24) hours of the commencement of such care unless it is shown that it was not reasonably possible to communicate with the HMO in those time limits.

(3) Services received by a enrollee outside of the HMO's service area will be covered only so long as it is unreasonable to return the enrollee to the service area.

D. Supplemental Health Care Services. In addition to the basic health care services required to be provided in Subsection B above, an HMO may offer to its enrollees any supplemental health care services it chooses to provide. Limitations as to time and cost may vary from those applicable to basic health care services.

E. Non-Basic Health Care Services. An HMO may offer non-basic health care services to a group or individual on a prepaid basis, subject to the same conditions as for supplemental health care services, as described in Subsection D above, except that the HMO need not provide basic health care services as a condition to providing non-basic health care services.

Drafting Note: The intent of Subsections D and E above are to permit an HMO to provide coverages that are not basic health care services on either a supplement to basic health care services or on a stand-alone basis. The provisions of Subsection E above are not intended to permit the unbundling of basic health care services or the writing of limited forms of basic health care services on a free-standing basis. Subsection E may not be applicable unless state law permits single service HMOs.

Section 9. Other Requirements

A. Description of Providers

(1) An HMO shall provide its subscribers with a list of the names and locations of all of its providers no later than the time of enrollment or the time the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage are issued and upon reenrollment. If a provider is no longer affiliated with an HMO, the HMO shall provide notice of the change to its affected subscribers within thirty (30) days. Subject to the approval of the commissioner, an HMO may provide its subscribers with a list of providers or provider groups for a segment of the service area. However, a list of all providers shall be made available to subscribers upon request.

(2) A list of providers shall contain a notice regarding the availability of the listed primary care physicians. The notice shall be in not less than twelve-point type and be placed in a prominent place on the list of providers. The notice shall contain the following or similar language:

> "Enrolling in [name of HMO] does not guarantee services by a particular provider on this list. If you wish to receive care from specific providers listed, you should contact those providers to be sure that they are accepting additional patients for [name of HMO]."

B. Description of the Services Area. An HMO shall provide its subscribers with a description of its service area no later than the time of enrollment or the time the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage is issued and upon request thereafter. If the description of the service area is changed, the HMO shall provide at such time a new description of the service area to its subscribers.

C. Copayments and Deductibles. An HMO may require copayments or deductibles of enrollees as a condition for the receipt of specific health care services. Copayments for basic health care services shall be shown in the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage as a specified dollar amount. Copayments and deductibles shall be the only allowable charge, other than premiums, assessed to subscribers for basic, supplemental and non-basic health care services.

D. Grievance Procedure

(1) A grievance procedure shall be established and maintained by an HMO to provide reasonable procedures for the prompt and effective resolution of written grievances.

(2) An HMO shall provide grievance forms to be given to enrollees who wish to register written grievances. The forms shall include the address and telephone number to which grievances must be directed and shall also specify any required time limits imposed by the HMO.

(3) The grievance procedure shall provide for (i) written acknowledgement of grievances and (ii) grievances to be resolved or to have a final determination of the grievance by the HMO within a reasonable period of time, but not more than ninety (90) days from the date the grievance is received. This period may be extended (i) in the event of a delay in obtaining the documents or records necessary for the resolution of the grievance, or (ii) by the mutual written agreement of the HMO and the enrollee.

(4) Prior to the resolution of a grievance filed by a subscriber or enrollee, coverage may not be terminated for any reason that is the subject of the written grievance, except where the HMO has, in good faith, made a reasonable effort to resolve the written grievance through its grievance procedure and coverage is being terminated as provided for in Section 6H.

(5) If enrollee's grievances may be resolved through a specified arbitration agreement, the enrollee shall be advised in writing of his rights and duties under the agreement at the time the grievance is registered. Any such agreement must be accompanied by a statement setting forth in writing the terms and conditions of binding arbitration. Any HMO that makes binding arbitration a condition of enrollment shall fully disclose this requirement to its enrollees in the group or individual contract and evidence of coverage.

Section 10. Penalties

Any violation of this regulation shall be punished as provided for in [cite applicable section of law] and any other applicable law of this state.

Section 11. Severability

If any provision of this regulation or its application to any person or circumstances is for any reason held to be invalid, the remainder of the regulation and the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected.

MODEL REGULATION TO IMPLEMENT RULES REGARDING CONTRACTS AND SERVICES OF HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATIONS

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

MODEL REGULATION TO IMPLEMENT RULES REGARDING CONTRACTS AND SERVICES OF HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATIONS

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM REGULATORY ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Definitions

As used in this Act, the following terms shall have these meanings unless the context shall otherwise require:

A. "Affiliate." An "affiliate" of, or person "affiliated" with, a specific person, is a person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, the person specified.

B. "Commissioner." The term "commissioner" shall mean the insurance commissioner, the commissioner's deputies, or the Insurance Department, as appropriate.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the word "commissioner" appears.

C. "Control." The term "control" (including the terms "controlling," "controlled by" and "under common control with") means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing, ten percent (10%) or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing made in the manner provided by Section 4K that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine, after furnishing all persons in interest notice and opportunity to be heard and making specific findings of fact to support the determination, that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

D. "Group-wide supervisor." The regulatory official authorized to engage in conducting and coordinating group-wide supervision activities who is determined or acknowledged by the commissioner under Section 7.1 to have sufficient significant contacts with the internationally active insurance group.

E. "Group Capital Calculation instructions" means the group capital calculation instructions as adopted by the NAIC and as amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

F. "Insurance Holding Company System." An "insurance holding company system" consists of two (2) or more affiliated persons, one or more of which is an insurer.

G. "Insurer." The term "insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in Section [insert applicable section] of this Chapter, except that it shall not include agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

Drafting Note: References in this model act to "Chapter" are references to the entire state insurance code.

Drafting Note: States should consider applicability of this model act to fraternal societies and captives.

H. "Internationally active insurance group." An insurance holding company system that (1) includes an insurer registered under Section 4; and (2) meets the following criteria: (a) premiums written in at least three countries, (b) the percentage of gross premiums written outside the United States is at least ten percent (10%) of the insurance holding company system's total gross written premiums, and (c) based on a three-year rolling average, the total assets of the insurance holding company system are at least fifty billion dollars ($50,000,000,000) or the total gross written premiums of the insurance holding company system are at least ten billion dollars ($10,000,000,000).

I. "Enterprise Risk." "Enterprise risk" shall mean any activity, circumstance, event or series of events involving one or more affiliates of an insurer that, if not remedied promptly, is likely to have a material adverse effect upon the financial condition or liquidity of the insurer or its insurance holding company system as a whole, including, but not limited to, anything that would cause the insurer's Risk-Based Capital to fall into company action level as set forth in [insert cross reference to appropriate section of Risk-Based Capital (RBC) Model Act] or would cause the insurer to be in hazardous financial condition [insert cross reference to appropriate section of Model Regulation to define standards and commissioner's authority over companies deemed to be in hazardous financial condition].

J. "NAIC" means the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

K. "NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework." The "NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework" is a separate NAIC publication which includes a history of the NAIC's development of regulatory liquidity stress testing, the Scope Criteria applicable for a specific data year, and the Liquidity Stress Test instructions and reporting templates for a specific data year, such Scope Criteria, instructions and reporting template being as adopted by the NAIC and as amended by the NAIC from time to time in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

L. "Person." A "person" is an individual, a corporation, a limited liability company, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, any similar entity or any combination of the foregoing acting in concert, but shall not include any joint venture partnership exclusively engaged in owning, managing, leasing or developing real or tangible personal property.

M. "Scope Criteria." The "Scope Criteria," as detailed in the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework, are the designated exposure bases along with minimum magnitudes thereof for the specified data year, used to establish a preliminary list of insurers considered scoped into the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework for that data year.

N. "Securityholder." A "securityholder" of a specified person is one who owns any security of such person, including common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and any other security convertible into or evidencing the right to acquire any of the foregoing.

O. "Subsidiary." A "subsidiary" of a specified person is an affiliate controlled by such person directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

P. "Voting Security." The term "voting security" shall include any security convertible into or evidencing a right to acquire a voting security.

Section 2. Subsidiaries of Insurers

A. Authorization. A domestic insurer, either by itself or in cooperation with one or more persons, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries. The subsidiaries may conduct any kind of business or businesses and their authority to do so shall not be limited by reason of the fact that they are subsidiaries of a domestic insurer.

Drafting Note: This bill neither expressly authorizes noninsurance subsidiaries nor restricts subsidiaries to insurance related activities. It is believed that this is a policy decision which should be made by each individual state. Attached as an appendix are alternative provisions which would authorize the formation or acquisition of subsidiaries to engage in diversified business activity.

B. Additional Investment Authority. In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities permitted under all other sections of this Chapter, a domestic insurer may also:

(1) Invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of ten percent (10%) of the insurer's assets or fifty percent (50%) of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, provided that after such investments, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to meet its financial needs. In calculating the amount of such investments, investments in domestic or foreign insurance subsidiaries and health maintenance organizations shall be excluded, and there shall be included:

(a) Total net monies or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of the subsidiary whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities, and

(b) All amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities; and all contributions to the capital or surplus of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation;

Drafting Note: When considering whether to amend its Holding Company Act to exempt health maintenance organizations and other similar entities from certain investment limitations, a state should consider whether the solvency and general operations of the entities are regulated by the insurance department. In addition to, or in place of, the term "health maintenance organizations" in Paragraph (1) above, a state may include any other entity which provides or arranges for the financing or provision of health care services or coverage over which the commissioner possesses financial solvency and regulatory oversight authority.

(2) Invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities of one or more subsidiaries engaged or organized to engage exclusively in the ownership and management of assets authorized as investments for the insurer provided that each subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that such investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in Paragraph (1) or in Sections [insert applicable section] through [insert applicable section] of this Chapter applicable to the insurer. For the purpose of this paragraph, "the total investment of the insurer" shall include:

(a) Any direct investment by the insurer in an asset, and

(b) The insurer's proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the ownership of the subsidiary;

(3) With the approval of the commissioner, invest any greater amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries; provided that after the investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

C. Exemption from Investment Restrictions. Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to Subsection B shall not be subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in this Chapter applicable to such investments of insurers [except the following:].

Drafting Note: The last phrase is optional in those states having certain special qualitative limitations, such as prohibitions on investments in stock of mining companies, which the state may wish to retain as a matter of public policy.

D. Qualification of Investment; When Determined. Whether any investment made pursuant to Subsection B meets the applicable requirements of that subsection is to be determined before the investment is made, by calculating the applicable investment limitations as though the investment had already been made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations, and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the day they were made, net of any return of capital invested, not including dividends.

E. Cessation of Control. If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this section within three (3) years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after the investment shall have been made, the investment shall have met the requirements for investment under any other section of this Chapter, and the insurer has so notified the commissioner.

Section 3. Acquisition of Control of or Merger with Domestic Insurer

A. Filing Requirements.

(1) No person other than the issuer shall make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of, or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consummation thereof, such person would, directly or indirectly (or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire) be in control of the insurer, and no person shall enter into an agreement to merge with or otherwise to acquire control of a domestic insurer or any person controlling a domestic insurer unless, at the time the offer, request or invitation is made or the agreement is entered into, or prior to the acquisition of the securities if no offer or agreement is involved, such person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to the insurer, a statement containing the information required by this section and the offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner prescribed in this Act.

(2) For purposes of this section, any controlling person of a domestic insurer seeking to divest its controlling interest in the domestic insurer, in any manner, shall file with the commissioner, with a copy to the insurer, confidential notice of its proposed divestiture at least 30 days prior to the cessation of control. The commissioner shall determine those instances in which the party(ies) seeking to divest or to acquire a controlling interest in an insurer, will be required to file for and obtain approval of the transaction. The information shall remain confidential until the conclusion of the transaction unless the commissioner, in his or her discretion determines that confidential treatment will interfere with enforcement of this section. If the statement referred to in Paragraph (1) is otherwise filed, this paragraph shall not apply.

(3) With respect to a transaction subject to this section, the acquiring person must also file a pre-acquisition notification with the commissioner, which shall contain the information set forth in Section 3.1C(1). A failure to file the notification may be subject to penalties specified in Section 3.1E(3).

(4) For purposes of this section a domestic insurer shall include any person controlling a domestic insurer unless the person, as determined by the commissioner, is either directly or through its affiliates primarily engaged in business other than the business of insurance. For the purposes of this section, "person" shall not include any securities broker holding, in the usual and customary broker's function, less than twenty percent (20%) of the voting securities of an insurance company or of any person which controls an insurance company.

B. Content of Statement. The statement to be filed with the commissioner shall be made under oath or affirmation and shall contain the following:

(1) The name and address of each person by whom or on whose behalf the merger or other acquisition of control referred to in Subsection A is to be effected (hereinafter called the "acquiring party"), and

(a) If the person is an individual, his or her principal occupation and all offices and positions held during the past five (5) years, and any conviction of crimes other than minor traffic violations during the past ten (10) years;

(b) If the person is not an individual, a report of the nature of its business operations during the past five (5) years or for the lesser period as the person and any predecessors shall have been in existence; an informative description of the business intended to be done by the person and the person's subsidiaries; and a list of all individuals who are or who have been selected to become directors or executive officers of the person, or who perform or will perform functions appropriate to such positions. The list shall include for each individual the information required by Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph;

(2) The source, nature and amount of the consideration used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control, a description of any transaction where funds were or are to be obtained for any such purpose (including any pledge of the insurer's stock, or the stock of any of its subsidiaries or controlling affiliates), and the identity of persons furnishing consideration; provided, however, that where a source of consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordinary course of business, the identity of the lender shall remain confidential, if the person filing the statement so requests;

(3) Fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding five (5) fiscal years of each acquiring party (or for such lesser period as the acquiring party and any predecessors shall have been in existence), and similar unaudited information as of a date not earlier than ninety (90) days prior to the filing of the statement;

(4) Any plans or proposals which each acquiring party may have to liquidate the insurer, to sell its assets or merge or consolidate it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management;

(5) The number of shares of any security referred to in Subsection A which each acquiring party proposes to acquire, and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in Subsection A, and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at;

(6) The amount of each class of any security referred to in Subsection A which is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by each acquiring party;

(7) A full description of any contracts, arrangements or understandings with respect to any security referred to in Subsection A in which any acquiring party is involved, including but not limited to transfer of any of the securities, joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against loss or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. The description shall identify the persons with whom the contracts, arrangements or understandings have been entered into;

(8) A description of the purchase of any security referred to in Subsection A during the twelve (12) calendar months preceding the filing of the statement by any acquiring party, including the dates of purchase, names of the purchasers and consideration paid or agreed to be paid;

(9) A description of any recommendations to purchase any security referred to in Subsection A made during the twelve (12) calendar months preceding the filing of the statement by any acquiring party, or by anyone based upon interviews or at the suggestion of the acquiring party;

(10) Copies of all tender offers for, requests, or invitations for tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any securities referred to in Subsection A, and (if distributed) of additional soliciting material relating to them;

(11) The term of any agreement, contract or understanding made with or proposed to be made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of securities referred to in Subsection A for tender, and the amount of any fees, commissions or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard thereto;

Drafting Note: An insurer required to file information pursuant to sub-sections 3B(12) and 3B(13) may satisfy the requirement by providing the commissioner with the most recently filed parent corporation reports that have been filed with the SEC, if appropriate.

(12) An agreement by the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A that it will provide the annual report, specified in Section 4L(1), for so long as control exists;

(13) An acknowledgement by the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A that the person and all subsidiaries within its control in the insurance holding company system will provide information to the commissioner upon request as necessary to evaluate enterprise risk to the insurer; and

(14) Such additional information as the commissioner may by rule or regulation prescribe as necessary or appropriate for the protection of policyholders of the insurer or in the public interest.

If the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by Paragraphs (1) through (14) shall be given with respect to each partner of the partnership or limited partnership, each member of the syndicate or group, and each person who controls the partner or member. If any partner, member or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information called for by Paragraphs (1) through (14) shall be given with respect to the corporation, each officer and director of the corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than ten percent (10%) of the outstanding voting securities of the corporation.

If any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to the insurer pursuant to this section, an amendment setting forth the change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to the change, shall be filed with the commissioner and sent to the insurer within two (2) business days after the person learns of the change.

C. Alternative Filing Materials.

If any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in Subsection A is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or under a state law requiring similar registration or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A may utilize the documents in furnishing the information called for by that statement.

D. Approval by Commissioner: Hearings.

(1) The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition of control referred to in Subsection A unless, after a public hearing, the commissioner finds that:

(a) After the change of control, the domestic insurer referred to in Subsection A would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which it is presently licensed;

(b) The effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly. In applying the competitive standard in this subparagraph:

(i) The informational requirements of Section 3.1C(1) and the standards of Section 3.1D(2) shall apply;

(ii) The merger or other acquisition shall not be disapproved if the commissioner finds that any of the situations meeting the criteria provided by Section 3.1D(3) exist; and

(iii) The commissioner may condition the approval of the merger or other acquisition on the removal of the basis of disapproval within a specified period of time;

(c) The financial condition of any acquiring party is such as might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer, or prejudice the interest of its policyholders;

(d) The plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management, are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest;

(e) The competence, experience and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control; or

(f) The acquisition is likely to be hazardous or prejudicial to the insurance-buying public.

(2) The public hearing referred to in Paragraph (1) shall be held within thirty (30) days after the statement required by Subsection A is filed, and at least twenty (20) days notice shall be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than seven (7) days notice of the public hearing shall be given by the person filing the statement to the insurer and to such other persons as may be designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall make a determination within the sixty (60) day period preceding the effective date of the proposed transaction. At the hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interest may be affected shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and in connection therewith shall be entitled to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the [insert title] Court of this state. All discovery proceedings shall be concluded not later than three (3) days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

(3) If the proposed acquisition of control will require the approval of more than one commissioner, the public hearing referred to in Paragraph (2) may be held on a consolidated basis upon request of the person filing the statement referred to in Subsection A. Such person shall file the statement referred to in Subsection A with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) within five (5) days of making the request for a public hearing. A commissioner may opt out of a consolidated hearing, and shall provide notice to the applicant of the opt-out within ten (10) days of the receipt of the statement referred to in Subsection A. A hearing conducted on a consolidated basis shall be public and shall be held within the United States before the commissioners of the states in which the insurers are domiciled. Such commissioners shall hear and receive evidence. A commissioner may attend such hearing, in person or by telecommunication.

(4) In connection with a change of control of a domestic insurer, any determination by the commissioner that the person acquiring control of the insurer shall be required to maintain or restore the capital of the insurer to the level required by the laws and regulations of this state shall be made not later than sixty (60) days after the date of notification of the change in control submitted pursuant to Section 3A(1) of this Act.

(5) The commissioner may retain at the acquiring person's expense any attorneys, actuaries, accountants and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in reviewing the proposed acquisition of control.

E. Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

(1) [Any transaction which is subject to the provisions of Sections [insert applicable section] and [insert applicable section] of the laws of this state, dealing with the merger or consolidation of two or more insurers].

Drafting Note: Optional for use in those states where existing law adequately governs standards and procedures for the merger or consolidation of two or more insurers.

(2) Any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition which the commissioner by order shall exempt as not having been made or entered into for the purpose and not having the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer, or as otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of this section.

F. Violations. The following shall be violations of this section:

(1) The failure to file any statement, amendment or other material required to be filed pursuant to Subsection A or B; or

(2) The effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, divestiture of, or merger with, a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given approval.

G. Jurisdiction, Consent to Service of Process. The courts of this state are hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under this section, and overall actions involving such person arising out of violations of this section, and each such person shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by the person of the commissioner to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all lawful process shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to the person at his last known address.

Section 3.1 Acquisitions Involving Insurers Not Otherwise Covered

A. Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of this section only:

(1) "Acquisition" means any agreement, arrangement or activity the consummation of which results in a person acquiring directly or indirectly the control of another person, and includes but is not limited to the acquisition of voting securities, the acquisition of assets, bulk reinsurance and mergers.

(2) An "involved insurer" includes an insurer which either acquires or is acquired, is affiliated with an acquirer or acquired, or is the result of a merger.

B. Scope

(1) Except as exempted in Paragraph (2) of this subsection, this section applies to any acquisition in which there is a change in control of an insurer authorized to do business in this state.

(2) This section shall not apply to the following:

(a) A purchase of securities solely for investment purposes so long as the securities are not used by voting or otherwise to cause or attempt to cause the substantial lessening of competition in any insurance market in this state. If a purchase of securities results in a presumption of control under Section 1C, it is not solely for investment purposes unless the commissioner of the insurer's state of domicile accepts a disclaimer of control or affirmatively finds that control does not exist and the disclaimer action or affirmative finding is communicated by the domiciliary commissioner to the commissioner of this state;

(b) The acquisition of a person by another person when both persons are neither directly nor through affiliates primarily engaged in the business of insurance, if pre-acquisition notification is filed with the commissioner in accordance with Section 3.1C(1) thirty (30) days prior to the proposed effective date of the acquisition. However, such pre-acquisition notification is not required for exclusion from this section if the acquisition would otherwise be excluded from this section by any other subparagraph of Section 3.1B(2);

(c) The acquisition of already affiliated persons;

(d) An acquisition if, as an immediate result of the acquisition,

(i) In no market would the combined market share of the involved insurers exceed five percent (5%) of the total market,

(ii) There would be no increase in any market share, or

(iii) In no market would

(I) The combined market share of the involved insurers exceeds twelve percent (12%) of the total market, and

(II) The market share increase by more than two percent (2%) of the total market.

For the purpose of this Paragraph (2)(d), a market means direct written insurance premium in this state for a line of business as contained in the annual statement required to be filed by insurers licensed to do business in this state;

(e) An acquisition for which a pre-acquisition notification would be required pursuant to this section due solely to the resulting effect on the ocean marine insurance line of business;

(f) An acquisition of an insurer whose domiciliary commissioner affirmatively finds that the insurer is in failing condition; there is a lack of feasible alternative to improving such condition; the public benefits of improving the insurer's condition through the acquisition exceed the public benefits that would arise from not lessening competition; and the findings are communicated by the domiciliary commissioner to the commissioner of this state.

C. Pre-acquisition Notification; Waiting Period. An acquisition covered by Section 3.1B may be subject to an order pursuant to Section 3.1E unless the acquiring person files a pre-acquisition notification and the waiting period has expired. The acquired person may file a pre-acquisition notification. The commissioner shall give confidential treatment to information submitted under this subsection in the same manner as provided in Section 8 of this Act.

(1) The pre-acquisition notification shall be in such form and contain such information as prescribed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) relating to those markets which, under Section 3.1B(2)(d), cause the acquisition not to be exempted from the provisions of this section. The commissioner may require such additional material and information as deemed necessary to determine whether the proposed acquisition, if consummated, would violate the competitive standard of Section 3.1D. The required information may include an opinion of an economist as to the competitive impact of the acquisition in this state accompanied by a summary of the education and experience of such person indicating his or her ability to render an informed opinion.

(2) The waiting period required shall begin on the date of receipt of the commissioner of a pre-acquisition notification and shall end on the earlier of the thirtieth day after the date of receipt, or termination of the waiting period by the commissioner. Prior to the end of the waiting period, the commissioner on a one-time basis may require the submission of additional needed information relevant to the proposed acquisition, in which event the waiting period shall end on the earlier of the thirtieth day after receipt of the additional information by the commissioner or termination of the waiting period by the commissioner.

D. Competitive Standard

(1) The commissioner may enter an order under Section 3.1E(1) with respect to an acquisition if there is substantial evidence that the effect of the acquisition may be substantially to lessen competition in any line of insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly or if the insurer fails to file adequate information in compliance with Section 3.1C.

(2) In determining whether a proposed acquisition would violate the competitive standard of Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the commissioner shall consider the following:

(a) Any acquisition covered under Section 3.1B involving two (2) or more insurers competing in the same market is prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standards.

(i) If the market is highly concentrated and the involved insurers possess the following shares of the market:

Insurer A	Insurer B
4%	4% or more
10%	2% or more
15%	1% or more

(ii) Or, if the market is not highly concentrated and the involved insurers possess the following shares of the market:

Insurer A	Insurer B
5%	5% or more
10%	4% or more
15%	3% or more
19%	1% or more

A highly concentrated market is one in which the share of the four (4) largest insurers is seventy-five percent (75%) or more of the market. Percentages not shown in the tables are interpolated proportionately to the percentages that are shown. If more than two (2) insurers are involved, exceeding the total of the two columns in the table is prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standard in Paragraph (1) of this subsection. For the purpose of this item, the insurer with the largest share of the market shall be deemed to be Insurer A.

(b) There is a significant trend toward increased concentration when the aggregate market share of any grouping of the largest insurers in the market, from the two (2) largest to the eight (8) largest, has increased by seven percent (7%) or more of the market over a period of time extending from any base year five (5) to ten (10) years prior to the acquisition up to the time of the acquisition. Any acquisition or merger covered under Section 3.1B involving two (2) or more insurers competing in the same market is prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standard in Paragraph (1) of this subsection if:

(i) There is a significant trend toward increased concentration in the market;

(ii) One of the insurers involved is one of the insurers in a grouping of large insurers showing the requisite increase in the market share; and

(iii) Another involved insurer's market is two percent (2%) or more.

(c) For the purposes of Section 3.1D(2):

(i) The term "insurer" includes any company or group of companies under common management, ownership or control;

(ii) The term "market" means the relevant product and geographical markets. In determining the relevant product and geographical markets, the commissioner shall give due consideration to, among other things, the definitions or guidelines, if any, promulgated by the NAIC and to information, if any, submitted by parties to the acquisition. In the absence of sufficient information to the contrary, the relevant product market is assumed to be the direct written insurance premium for a line of business, such line being that used in the annual statement required to be filed by insurers doing business in this state, and the relevant geographical market is assumed to be this state;

(iii) The burden of showing prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standard rests upon the commissioner.

(d) Even though an acquisition is not prima facie violative of the competitive standard under Paragraphs (2)(a) and (2)(b) of this subsection, the commissioner may establish the requisite anticompetitive effect based upon other substantial evidence. Even though an acquisition is prima facie violative of the competitive standard under Paragraphs (2)(a) and (2)(b) of this subsection, a party may establish the absence of the requisite anticompetitive effect based upon other substantial evidence. Relevant factors in making a determination under this subparagraph include, but are not limited to, the following: market shares, volatility of ranking of market leaders, number of competitors, concentration, trend of concentration in the industry, and ease of entry and exit into the market.

(3) An order may not be entered under Section 3.1E(1) if:

(a) The acquisition will yield substantial economies of scale or economies in resource utilization that cannot be feasibly achieved in any other way, and the public benefits which would arise from such economies exceed the public benefits which would arise from not lessening competition; or

(b) The acquisition will substantially increase the availability of insurance, and the public benefits of the increase exceed the public benefits which would arise from not lessening competition.

E. Orders and Penalties

(1) (a) If an acquisition violates the standards of this section, the commissioner may enter an order:

(i) Requiring an involved insurer to cease and desist from doing business in this state with respect to the line or lines of insurance involved in the violation; or

(ii) Denying the application of an acquired or acquiring insurer for a license to do business in this state.

(b) Such an order shall not be entered unless:

(i) There is a hearing;

(ii) Notice of the hearing is issued prior to the end of the waiting period and not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the hearing; and

(iii) The hearing is concluded and the order is issued no later than sixty (60) days after the date of the filing of the pre-acquisition notification with the commissioner.

Every order shall be accompanied by a written decision of the commissioner setting forth findings of fact and conclusions of law.

(c) An order pursuant to this paragraph shall not apply if the acquisition is not consummated.

(2) Any person who violates a cease and desist order of the commissioner under Paragraph (1) and while the order is in effect may, after notice and hearing and upon order of the commissioner, be subject at the discretion of the commissioner to one or more of the following:

(a) A monetary penalty of not more than $10,000 for every day of violation; or

(b) Suspension or revocation of the person's license.

(3) Any insurer or other person who fails to make any filing required by this section, and who also fails to demonstrate a good faith effort to comply with any filing requirement, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50,000.

F. Inapplicable Provisions. Sections 10B, 10C, and 12 do not apply to acquisitions covered under Section 3.1B.

Section 4. Registration of Insurers

A. Registration. Every insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except a foreign insurer subject to registration requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile which are substantially similar to those contained in:

(1) Section 4;

(2) Section 5A(1), 5B, 5D; and

(3) Either Section 5A(2) or a provision such as the following: Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions within fifteen (15) days after the end of the month in which it learns of each change or addition.

Any insurer which is subject to registration under this section shall register within fifteen (15) days after it becomes subject to registration, and annually thereafter by [insert date] of each year for the previous calendar year, unless the commissioner for good cause shown extends the time for registration, and then within the extended time. The commissioner may require any insurer authorized to do business in the state which is a member of an insurance holding company system, and which is not subject to registration under this section, to furnish a copy of the registration statement, the summary specified in Section 4C or other information filed by the insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority of its domiciliary jurisdiction.

B. Information and Form Required. Every insurer subject to registration shall file the registration statement with the commissioner on a form and in a format prescribed by the NAIC, which shall contain the following current information:

(1) The capital structure, general financial condition, ownership and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer;

(2) The identity and relationship of every member of the insurance holding company system;

(3) The following agreements in force, and transactions currently outstanding or which have occurred during the last calendar year between the insurer and its affiliates:

(a) Loans, other investments, or purchases, sales or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the insurer or of the insurer by its affiliates;

(b) Purchases, sales or exchange of assets;

(c) Transactions not in the ordinary course of business;

(d) Guarantees or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate which result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer's business;

(e) All management agreements, service contracts and all cost-sharing arrangements;

(f) Reinsurance agreements;

(g) Dividends and other distributions to shareholders; and

(h) Consolidated tax allocation agreements;

(4) Any pledge of the insurer's stock, including stock of any subsidiary or controlling affiliate, for a loan made to any member of the insurance holding company system;

(5) If requested by the commissioner, the insurer shall include financial statements of or within an insurance holding company system, including all affiliates. Financial statements may include but are not limited to annual audited financial statements filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. An insurer required to file financial statements pursuant to this paragraph may satisfy the request by providing the commissioner with the most recently filed parent corporation financial statements that have been filed with the SEC;

(6) Other matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in any registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner;

Drafting Note: Neither option below is intended to modify applicable state insurance and/or corporate law requirements.

(7) Statements that the insurer's board of directors oversees corporate governance and internal controls and that the insurer's officers or senior management have approved, implemented, and continue to maintain and monitor corporate governance and internal control procedures; and

Alternative Section 4B(7):

(7) Statements that the insurer's board of directors is responsible for and oversees corporate governance and internal controls and that the insurer's officers or senior management have approved, implemented, and continue to maintain and monitor corporate governance and internal control procedures; and

(8) Any other information required by the commissioner by rule or regulation.

C. Summary of Changes to Registration Statement. All registration statements shall contain a summary outlining all items in the current registration statement representing changes from the prior registration statement.

D. Materiality. No information need be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to Subsection B if the information is not material for the purposes of this section. Unless the commissioner by rule, regulation or order provides otherwise; sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, investments, or guarantees involving one-half of one percent (.5%) or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the 31st day of December next preceding shall not be deemed material for purposes of this section. The definition of materiality provided in this subsection shall not apply for purposes of the Group Capital Calculation or the Liquidity Stress Test Framework.

E. Reporting of Dividends to Shareholders. Subject to Section 5B, each registered insurer shall report to the commissioner all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within fifteen (15) business days following the declaration thereof.

F. Information of Insurers. Any person within an insurance holding company system subject to registration shall be required to provide complete and accurate information to an insurer, where the information is reasonably necessary to enable the insurer to comply with the provisions of this Act.

G. Termination of Registration. The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer which demonstrates that it no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

H. Consolidated Filing. The commissioner may require or allow two (2) or more affiliated insurers subject to registration to file a consolidated registration statement.

I. Alternative Registration. The commissioner may allow an insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under Subsection A and to file all information and material required to be filed under this section.

J. Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any insurer, information or transaction if and to the extent that the commissioner by rule, regulation or order shall exempt the same from the provisions of this section.

K. Disclaimer. Any person may file with the commissioner a disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer or a disclaimer may be filed by the insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. The disclaimer shall fully disclose all material relationships and bases for affiliation between the person and the insurer as well as the basis for disclaiming the affiliation. A disclaimer of affiliation shall be deemed to have been granted unless the commissioner, within thirty (30) days following receipt of a complete disclaimer, notifies the filing party the disclaimer is disallowed. In the event of disallowance, the disclaiming party may request an administrative hearing, which shall be granted. The disclaiming party shall be relieved of its duty to register under this section if approval of the disclaimer has been granted by the commissioner, or if the disclaimer is deemed to have been approved.

L. Enterprise Risk Filings.

(1) The ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration shall also file an annual enterprise risk report. The report shall, to the best of the ultimate controlling person's knowledge and belief, identify the material risks within the insurance holding company system that could pose enterprise risk to the insurer. The report shall be filed with the lead state commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners;

(2) Group Capital Calculation. Except as provided below, the ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration shall concurrently file with the registration an annual group capital calculation as directed by the lead state commissioner. The report shall be completed in accordance with the NAIC Group Capital Calculation Instructions, which may permit the lead state commissioner to allow a controlling person that is not the ultimate controlling person to file the group capital calculation. The report shall be filed with the lead state commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the commissioner in accordance with the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the NAIC. Insurance holding company systems described below are exempt from filing the group capital calculation:

(a) An insurance holding company system that has only one insurer within its holding company structure, that only writes business [and is only licensed] in its domestic state, and assumes no business from any other insurer;

(b) An insurance holding company system that is required to perform a group capital calculation specified by the United States Federal Reserve Board. The lead state commissioner shall request the calculation from the Federal Reserve Board under the terms of information sharing agreements in effect. If the Federal Reserve Board cannot share the calculation with the lead state commissioner, the insurance holding company system is not exempt from the group capital calculation filing;

(c) An insurance holding company system whose non-U.S. group-wide supervisor is located within a Reciprocal Jurisdiction as described in [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Credit for Reinsurance Law] that recognizes the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital;

Drafting Note: On September 22, 2017, the United States and the European Union (EU) entered into the "Bilateral Agreement Between the United States of America and the European Union on Prudential Measures Regarding Insurance and Reinsurance." A similar agreement with the United Kingdom (UK) was signed on December 18, 2018. Both agreements are considered to be a "covered agreement" entered into pursuant to Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, 31 U.S.C. §§ 313 and 314, that addresses the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital, and provides that insurers and insurance groups that are domiciled or maintain their headquarters in this state or another jurisdiction accredited by the NAIC shall be subject only to worldwide prudential insurance group supervision including worldwide group governance, solvency and capital, and reporting, as applicable, by the commissioner or the commissioner of the domiciliary state and will not be subject to group supervision at the level of the worldwide parent undertaking of the insurance or reinsurance group. Under the revised Credit for Reinsurance Models, not only are jurisdictions that are subject to the EU and UK Covered Agreements treated as Reciprocal Jurisdictions, but any other Qualified Jurisdiction can also qualify as Reciprocal Jurisdiction if they provide written confirmation that they recognize and accept the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital.

(d) An insurance holding company system:

(i) That provides information to the lead state that meets the requirements for accreditation under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program, either directly or indirectly through the group-wide supervisor, who has determined such information is satisfactory to allow the lead state to comply with the NAIC group supervision approach, as detailed in the NAIC Financial Analysis Handbook, and

(ii) Whose non-U.S. group-wide supervisor that is not in a Reciprocal Jurisdiction recognizes and accepts, as specified by the commissioner in regulation, the group capital calculation as the world-wide group capital assessment for U.S. insurance groups who operate in that jurisdiction.

Drafting Note: The phrase "Recognizes and accepts" does not require the non-U.S. group-wide supervisor to require the U.S. insurance groups to actually file the group capital calculation with the non-U.S. supervisor but rather does not apply its own version of a group capital filing to U.S. insurance groups.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 4L(2)(c) and 4L(2)(d), a lead state commissioner shall require the group capital calculation for U.S. operations of any non-U.S. based insurance holding company system where, after any necessary consultation with other supervisors or officials, it is deemed appropriate by the lead state commissioner for prudential oversight and solvency monitoring purposes or for ensuring the competitiveness of the insurance marketplace.

(f) Notwithstanding the exemptions from filing the group capital calculation stated in Section 4L(2)(a) through Section 4L(2)(d), the lead state commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation or to accept a limited group capital filing or report in accordance with criteria as specified by the commissioner in regulation.

(g) If the lead state commissioner determines that an insurance holding company system no longer meets one or more of the requirements for an exemption from filing the group capital calculation under this section, the insurance holding company system shall file the group capital calculation at the next annual filing date unless given an extension by the lead state commissioner based on reasonable grounds shown.

(3) Liquidity Stress Test. The ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration and also scoped into the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework shall file the results of a specific year's Liquidity Stress Test. The filing shall be made to the lead state insurance commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners:

(a) The NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework includes Scope Criteria applicable to a specific data year. These Scope Criteria are reviewed at least annually by the Financial Stability Task Force or its successor. Any change to the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework or to the data year for which the Scope Criteria are to be measured shall be effective on January 1 of the year following the calendar year when such changes are adopted. Insurers meeting at least one threshold of the Scope Criteria are considered scoped into the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework for the specified data year unless the lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, determines the insurer should not be scoped into the Framework for that data year. Similarly, insurers that do not trigger at least one threshold of the Scope Criteria are considered scoped out of the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework for the specified data year, unless the lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, determines the insurer should be scoped into the Framework for that data year.

(i) Regulators wish to avoid having insurers scoped in and out of the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework on a frequent basis. The lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, will assess this concern as part of the determination for an insurer.

(b) The performance of, and filing of the results from, a specific year's Liquidity Stress Test shall comply with the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework's instructions and reporting templates for that year and any lead state insurance commissioner determinations, in consultation with the Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, provided within the Framework.

Drafting Note: The delay included in the change to the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework or to the data year for which the Scope Criteria are to be measured being effective on January 1 of the year following the calendar year when such changes are adopted is present to: 1) allow sufficient time for states needing to adopt by rule the NAIC Liquidity Stress Test Framework for a given data year and 2) to ensure scoped in insurers have adequate time to comply with the requirements for a given data year .

M. Violations. The failure to file a registration statement or any summary of the registration statement or enterprise risk filing required by this section within the time specified for filing shall be a violation of this section.

Section 5. Standards and Management of an Insurer Within an Insurance Holding Company System

A. Transactions Within an Insurance Holding Company System

(1) Transactions within an insurance holding company system to which an insurer subject to registration is a party shall be subject to the following standards:

(a) The terms shall be fair and reasonable;

(b) Agreements for cost sharing services and management shall include such provisions as required by rule and regulation issued by the commissioner;

(c) Charges or fees for services performed shall be reasonable;

(d) Expenses incurred and payment received shall be allocated to the insurer in conformity with customary insurance accounting practices consistently applied;

(e) The books, accounts and records of each party to all such transactions shall be so maintained as to clearly and accurately disclose the nature and details of the transactions including such accounting information as is necessary to support the reasonableness of the charges or fees to the respective parties; and

(f) The insurer's surplus as regards policyholders following any dividends or distributions to shareholder affiliates shall be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to meet its financial needs.

(g) If an insurer subject to this Act is deemed by the commissioner to be in a hazardous financial condition as defined by [insert citation for Model Regulation to Define Standards and Commissioner's Authority for Companies Deemed to be in Hazardous Financial Condition] or a condition that would be grounds for supervision, conservation or a delinquency proceeding, then the commissioner may require the insurer to secure and maintain either a deposit, held by the commissioner, or a bond, as determined by the insurer at the insurer's discretion, for the protection of the insurer for the duration of the contract(s) or agreement(s), or the existence of the condition for which the commissioner required the deposit or the bond.

In determining whether a deposit or a bond is required, the commissioner should consider whether concerns exist with respect to the affiliated person's ability to fulfill the contract(s) or agreement(s) if the insurer were to be put into liquidation. Once the insurer is deemed to be in a hazardous financial condition or a condition that would be grounds for supervision, conservation or a delinquency proceeding, and a deposit or bond is necessary, the commissioner has discretion to determine the amount of the deposit or bond, not to exceed the value of the contract(s) or agreement(s) in any one year, and whether such deposit or bond should be required for a single contract, multiple contracts or a contract only with a specific person(s);

Drafting Note: This section is intended to apply to a broad range of affiliate managerial and support service contracts including, for example, general managerial services, financial accounting and actuarial services, data management, investment portfolio management and support and policy and policyholder services. (Performance collateralization for reinsurance and other risk transfer or financial contracts with affiliates is typically addressed in the underlying contractual agreements and is beyond the scope of these deposit/bond requirements). The intent of the deposit or bond is to ensure the affiliated services provided under the contract(s) are fulfilled. In determining appropriate circumstances when a commissioner may require a deposit or bond, (deposit vs. bond to be determined by the insurer) and in specifying an amount, the commissioner should evaluate and consider whether an insurer subject to this act is in a hazardous financial condition or a condition that would be grounds for substantial regulatory action, including supervision, conservation or a delinquency proceeding. If it is, the deposit or bond requirement would be available as an additional regulatory remedy at the discretion of the commissioner. Note, the commissioner should consider whether the affiliated person is already required to post a deposit or bond under applicable laws regulating third-party administrators.

(h) All records and data of the insurer held by an affiliate are and remain the property of the insurer, are subject to control of the insurer, are identifiable, and are segregated or readily capable of segregation, at no additional cost to the insurer, from all other persons' records and data. This includes all records and data that are otherwise the property of the insurer, in whatever form maintained, including, but not limited to, claims and claim files, policyholder lists, application files, litigation files, premium records, rate books, underwriting manuals, personnel records, financial records or similar records within the possession, custody or control of the affiliate. At the request of the insurer, the affiliate shall provide that the receiver can obtain a complete set of all records of any type that pertain to the insurer's business; obtain access to the operating systems on which the data is maintained; obtain the software that runs those systems either through assumption of licensing agreements or otherwise; and restrict the use of the data by the affiliate if it is not operating the insurer's business. The affiliate shall provide a waiver of any landlord lien or other encumbrance to give the insurer access to all records and data in the event of the affiliate's default under a lease or other agreement; and,

Drafting Note: The "at no additional cost to the insurer" language is not intended to prohibit recovery of the fair and reasonable cost associated with transferring records and data to the insurer. Since records and data of the insurer are the property of the insurer, the insurer should not pay a cost to segregate commingled records and data from other data of the affiliate.

(i) Premiums or other funds belonging to the insurer that are collected by or held by an affiliate are the exclusive property of the insurer and are subject to the control of the insurer. Any right of offset in the event an insurer is placed into receivership shall be subject to [the receivership act of the state].

(2) The following transactions involving a domestic insurer and any person in its insurance holding company system, including amendments or modifications of affiliate agreements previously filed pursuant to this section, which are subject to any materiality standards contained in subparagraphs (a) through (g), may not be entered into unless the insurer has notified the commissioner in writing of its intention to enter into the transaction at least thirty (30) days prior thereto, or such shorter period as the commissioner may permit, and the commissioner has not disapproved it within that period. The notice for amendments or modifications shall include the reasons for the change and the financial impact on the domestic insurer. Informal notice shall be reported, within thirty (30) days after a termination of a previously filed agreement, to the commissioner for determination of the type of filing required, if any.

(a) Sales, purchases, exchanges, loans, extensions of credit, or investments, provided the transactions are equal to or exceed:

(i) With respect to nonlife insurers, the lesser of three percent (3%) of the insurer's admitted assets or twenty-five percent (25%) of surplus as regards policyholders as of the 31st day of December next preceding;

(ii) With respect to life insurers, three percent (3%) of the insurer's admitted assets as of the 31st day of December next preceding;

(b) Loans or extensions of credit to any person who is not an affiliate, where the insurer makes loans or extensions of credit with the agreement or understanding that the proceeds of the transactions, in whole or in substantial part, are to be used to make loans or extensions of credit to, to purchase assets of, or to make investments in, any affiliate of the insurer making the loans or extensions of credit provided the transactions are equal to or exceed:

(i) With respect to nonlife insurers, the lesser of three percent (3%) of the insurer's admitted assets or twenty-five percent (25%) of surplus as regards policyholders as of the 31st day of December next preceding;

(ii) With respect to life insurers, three percent (3%) of the insurer's admitted assets as of the 31st day of December next preceding;

(c) Reinsurance agreements or modifications thereto, including:

(i) All reinsurance pooling agreements;

(ii) Agreements in which the reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities, or the projected reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities in any of the next three years, equals or exceeds five percent (5%) of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, as of the 31st day of December next preceding, including those agreements which may require as consideration the transfer of assets from an insurer to a non-affiliate, if an agreement or understanding exists between the insurer and non-affiliate that any portion of the assets will be transferred to one or more affiliates of the insurer;

(d) All management agreements, service contracts, tax allocation agreements, guarantees and all cost-sharing arrangements;

(e) Guarantees when made by a domestic insurer; provided, however, that a guarantee which is quantifiable as to amount is not subject to the notice requirements of this paragraph unless it exceeds the lesser of one-half of one percent (.5%) of the insurer's admitted assets or ten percent (10%) of surplus as regards policyholders as of the 31st day of December next preceding. Further, all guarantees which are not quantifiable as to amount are subject to the notice requirements of this paragraph;

(f) Direct or indirect acquisitions or investments in a person that controls the insurer or in an affiliate of the insurer in an amount which, together with its present holdings in such investments, exceeds two and one-half percent (2.5%) of the insurer's surplus to policyholders. Direct or indirect acquisitions or investments in subsidiaries acquired pursuant to Section 2 of this Act (or authorized under any other section of this Chapter), or in non-subsidiary insurance affiliates that are subject to the provisions of this Act, are exempt from this requirement; and

Drafting Note: When reviewing the notification required to be submitted pursuant to Section 5A(2)(f), the commissioner should examine prior and existing investments of this type to establish that these investments separately or together with other transactions, are not being made to contravene the dividend limitations set forth in Section 5B. However, an investment in a controlling person or in an affiliate shall not be considered a dividend or distribution to shareholders when applying Section 5B of this Act.

(g) Any material transactions, specified by regulation, which the commissioner determines may adversely affect the interests of the insurer's policyholders.

Nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to authorize or permit any transactions which, in the case of an insurer not a member of the same insurance holding company system, would be otherwise contrary to law.

(3) A domestic insurer may not enter into transactions which are part of a plan or series of like transactions with persons within the insurance holding company system if the purpose of those separate transactions is to avoid the statutory threshold amount and thus avoid the review that would occur otherwise. If the commissioner determines that separate transactions were entered into over any twelve-month period for that purpose, the commissioner may exercise his or her authority under Section 11.

(4) The commissioner, in reviewing transactions pursuant to Subsection A(2), shall consider whether the transactions comply with the standards set forth in Subsection A(1) and whether they may adversely affect the interests of policyholders.

(5) The commissioner shall be notified within thirty (30) days of any investment of the domestic insurer in any one corporation if the total investment in the corporation by the insurance holding company system exceeds ten percent (10%) of the corporation's voting securities.

(6) Supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership proceedings.

(a) Any affiliate that is party to an agreement or contract with a domestic insurer that is subject to Subsection 5A(2)(d) shall be subject to the jurisdiction of any supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership proceedings against the insurer and to the authority of any supervisor, conservator, rehabilitator or liquidator for the insurer appointed pursuant to [supervision and receivership acts] for the purpose of interpreting, enforcing and overseeing the affiliate's obligations under the agreement or contract to perform services for the insurer that:

(i) Are an integral part of the insurer's operations, including, but not limited to management, administrative, accounting, data processing, marketing, underwriting, claims handling, investment or any other similar functions; or

(ii) Are essential to the insurer's ability to fulfill its obligations under insurance policies.

(b) The commissioner may require that an agreement or contract pursuant to Subsection 5A(2)(d) for the provision of services described in (i) and (ii) above specify that the affiliate consents to the jurisdiction as set forth in this Subsection 5A(6).

Drafting Note: Subsection 5A(6) is not intended to subject affiliates, in particular those that may be subject to regulation in other jurisdictions, to the general jurisdiction of pending supervision, seizure, conservation or receivership court proceedings in this state or the general authority of a supervisor, conservator or receiver for a domestic insurer. Rather, the jurisdiction and authority conferred by this provision is limited to ensuring that a domestic insurer continues to receive essential services from an affiliate that it has contracted with to provide such services, in accordance with the terms of the contract and applicable law, during the aforementioned proceedings. Subsection 5A(6)(b) gives the commissioner discretion to require documentation of an affiliate's consent to this jurisdiction in the agreement or contract. In determining appropriate circumstances when a commissioner may require such provision, the commissioner should consider the scope and materiality to the domestic insurer of the contract, the nature of the holding company system, and whether examination or investigation of the domestic insurer warrants requirement of such a provision.

B. Dividends and other Distributions

No domestic insurer shall pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until thirty (30) days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration thereof and has not within that period disapproved the payment, or until the commissioner has approved the payment within the thirty-day period.

For purposes of this section, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property, whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding twelve (12) months exceeds the lesser of:

(1) Ten percent (10%) of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders as of the 31st day of December next preceding; or

(2) The net gain from operations of the insurer, if the insurer is a life insurer, or the net income, if the insurer is not a life insurer, not including realized capital gains, for the twelve-month period ending the 31st day of December next preceding, but shall not include pro rata distributions of any class of the insurer's own securities.

In determining whether a dividend or distribution is extraordinary, an insurer other than a life insurer may carry forward net income from the previous two (2) calendar years that has not already been paid out as dividends. This carry-forward shall be computed by taking the net income from the second and third preceding calendar years, not including realized capital gains, less dividends paid in the second and immediate preceding calendar years.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner's approval, and the declaration shall confer no rights upon shareholders until (1) the commissioner has approved the payment of the dividend or distribution or (2) the commissioner has not disapproved payment within the thirty-day period referred to above.

Drafting Note: The following Subsection C entitled "Management of Domestic Insurers Subject to Registration" is optional and is to be adopted according to the needs of the individual jurisdiction.

C. Management of Domestic Insurers Subject To Registration.

(1) Notwithstanding the control of a domestic insurer by any person, the officers and directors of the insurer shall not thereby be relieved of any obligation or liability to which they would otherwise be subject by law, and the insurer shall be managed so as to assure its separate operating identity consistent with this Act.

(2) Nothing in this section shall preclude a domestic insurer from having or sharing a common management or cooperative or joint use of personnel, property or services with one or more other persons under arrangements meeting the standards of Section 5A(1).

(3) Not less than one-third of the directors of a domestic insurer, and not less than one-third of the members of each committee of the board of directors of any domestic insurer shall be persons who are not officers or employees of the insurer or of any entity controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the insurer and who are not beneficial owners of a controlling interest in the voting stock of the insurer or entity. At least one such person must be included in any quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the board of directors or any committee thereof.

(4) The board of directors of a domestic insurer shall establish one or more committees comprised solely of directors who are not officers or employees of the insurer or of any entity controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the insurer and who are not beneficial owners of a controlling interest in the voting stock of the insurer or any such entity. The committee or committees shall have responsibility for nominating candidates for director for election by shareholders or policyholders, evaluating the performance of officers deemed to be principal officers of the insurer and recommending to the board of directors the selection and compensation of the principal officers.

(5) The provisions of Paragraphs (3) and (4) shall not apply to a domestic insurer if the person controlling the insurer, such as an insurer, a mutual insurance holding company, or a publicly held corporation, has a board of directors and committees thereof that meet the requirements of Paragraphs (3) and (4) with respect to such controlling entity.

(6) An insurer may make application to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of this subsection, if the insurer's annual direct written and assumed premium, excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program, is less than $300,000,000. An insurer may also make application to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of this subsection based upon unique circumstances. The commissioner may consider various factors including, but not limited to, the type of business entity, volume of business written, availability of qualified board members, or the ownership or organizational structure of the entity.

D. Adequacy of Surplus. For purposes of this Act, in determining whether an insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to meet its financial needs, the following factors, among others, shall be considered:

(1) The size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force and other appropriate criteria;

(2) The extent to which the insurer's business is diversified among several lines of insurance;

(3) The number and size of risks insured in each line of business;

(4) The extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer's insured risks;

(5) The nature and extent of the insurer's reinsurance program;

(6) The quality, diversification and liquidity of the insurer's investment portfolio;

(7) The recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer's investment portfolio;

(8) The surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers;

(9) The adequacy of the insurer's reserves; and

(10) The quality and liquidity of investments in affiliates. The commissioner may treat any such investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in the judgment of the commissioner the investment so warrants.

Section 6. Examination

A. Power of Commissioner. Subject to the limitation contained in this section and in addition to the powers which the commissioner has under Sections [insert applicable sections] relating to the examination of insurers, the commissioner shall have the power to examine any insurer registered under Section 4 and its affiliates to ascertain the financial condition of the insurer, including the enterprise risk to the insurer by the ultimate controlling party, or by any entity or combination of entities within the insurance holding company system, or by the insurance holding company system on a consolidated basis.

B. Access to Books and Records.

(1) The commissioner may order any insurer registered under Section 4 to produce such records, books, or other information papers in the possession of the insurer or its affiliates as are reasonably necessary to determine compliance with this Chapter.

(2) To determine compliance with this Chapter, the commissioner may order any insurer registered under Section 4 to produce information not in the possession of the insurer if the insurer can obtain access to such information pursuant to contractual relationships, statutory obligations, or other method. In the event the insurer cannot obtain the information requested by the commissioner, the insurer shall provide the commissioner a detailed explanation of the reason that the insurer cannot obtain the information and the identity of the holder of information. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that the detailed explanation is without merit, the commissioner may require, after notice and hearing, the insurer to pay a penalty of $[insert amount] for each day's delay, or may suspend or revoke the insurer's license.

C. Use of Consultants. The commissioner may retain at the registered insurer's expense such attorneys, actuaries, accountants and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as shall be reasonably necessary to assist in the conduct of the examination under Subsection A above. Any persons so retained shall be under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

D. Expenses. Each registered insurer producing for examination records, books and papers pursuant to Subsection A above shall be liable for and shall pay the expense of examination in accordance with Section [insert applicable section].

E. Compelling Production. In the event the insurer fails to comply with an order, the commissioner shall have the power to examine the affiliates to obtain the information. The commissioner shall also have the power to issue subpoenas, to administer oaths, and to examine under oath any person for purposes of determining compliance with this section. Upon the failure or refusal of any person to obey a subpoena, the commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction, and upon proper showing, the court may enter an order compelling the witness to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence. Failure to obey the court order shall be punishable as contempt of court. Every person shall be obliged to attend as a witness at the place specified in the subpoena, when subpoenaed, anywhere within the state. He or she shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage, if claimed, as a witness in [insert appropriate statutory reference to trial-level court in that state], which fees, mileage, and actual expense, if any, necessarily incurred in securing the attendance of witnesses, and their testimony, shall be itemized and charged against, and be paid by, the company being examined.

Section 7. Supervisory Colleges

A. Power of Commissioner. With respect to any insurer registered under Section 4, and in accordance with Subsection C below, the commissioner shall also have the power to participate in a supervisory college for any domestic insurer that is part of an insurance holding company system with international operations in order to determine compliance by the insurer with this Chapter. The powers of the commissioner with respect to supervisory colleges include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Initiating the establishment of a supervisory college;

(2) Clarifying the membership and participation of other supervisors in the supervisory college;

(3) Clarifying the functions of the supervisory college and the role of other regulators, including the establishment of a group-wide supervisor;

(4) Coordinating the ongoing activities of the supervisory college, including planning meetings, supervisory activities, and processes for information sharing; and

(5) Establishing a crisis management plan.

B. Expenses. Each registered insurer subject to this section shall be liable for and shall pay the reasonable expenses of the commissioner's participation in a supervisory college in accordance with Subsection C below, including reasonable travel expenses. For purposes of this section, a supervisory college may be convened as either a temporary or permanent forum for communication and cooperation between the regulators charged with the supervision of the insurer or its affiliates, and the commissioner may establish a regular assessment to the insurer for the payment of these expenses.

C. Supervisory College. In order to assess the business strategy, financial position, legal and regulatory position, risk exposure, risk management and governance processes, and as part of the examination of individual insurers in accordance with Section 6, the commissioner may participate in a supervisory college with other regulators charged with supervision of the insurer or its affiliates, including other state, federal and international regulatory agencies. The commissioner may enter into agreements in accordance with Section 8C providing the basis for cooperation between the commissioner and the other regulatory agencies, and the activities of the supervisory college. Nothing in this section shall delegate to the supervisory college the authority of the commissioner to regulate or supervise the insurer or its affiliates within its jurisdiction.

Section 7.1. Group-wide Supervision of Internationally Active Insurance Groups

A. The commissioner is authorized to act as the group-wide supervisor for any internationally active insurance group in accordance with the provisions of this section.. However, the commissioner may otherwise acknowledge another regulatory official as the group-wide supervisor where the internationally active insurance group:

(1) Does not have substantial insurance operations in the United States;

(2) Has substantial insurance operations in the United States, but not in this state; or

(3) Has substantial insurance operations in the United States and this state, but the commissioner has determined pursuant to the factors set forth in Subsections B and F that the other regulatory official is the appropriate group-wide supervisor.

An insurance holding company system that does not otherwise qualify as an internationally active insurance group may request that the commissioner make a determination or acknowledgment as to a group-wide supervisor pursuant to this section.

B. In cooperation with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, the commissioner will identify a single group-wide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group. The commissioner may determine that the commissioner is the appropriate group-wide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group that conducts substantial insurance operations concentrated in this state. However, the commissioner may acknowledge that a regulatory official from another jurisdiction is the appropriate group-wide supervisor for the internationally active insurance group. The commissioner shall consider the following factors when making a determination or acknowledgment under this subsection:

(1) The place of domicile of the insurers within the internationally active insurance group that hold the largest share of the group's written premiums, assets or liabilities;

(2) The place of domicile of the top-tiered insurer(s) in the insurance holding company system of the internationally active insurance group;

(3) The location of the executive offices or largest operational offices of the internationally active insurance group;

(4) Whether another regulatory official is acting or is seeking to act as the group-wide supervisor under a regulatory system that the commissioner determines to be:

(a) Substantially similar to the system of regulation provided under the laws of this state, or otherwise sufficient in terms of providing for group-wide supervision, enterprise risk analysis, and cooperation with other regulatory officials; and

(5) Whether another regulatory official acting or seeking to act as the group-wide supervisor provides the commissioner with reasonably reciprocal recognition and cooperation.

However, a commissioner identified under this section as the group-wide supervisor may determine that it is appropriate to acknowledge another supervisor to serve as the group-wide supervisor. The acknowledgment of the group-wide supervisor shall be made after consideration of the factors listed in Paragraphs (1) through (5) above, and shall be made in cooperation with and subject to the acknowledgment of other regulatory officials involved with supervision of members of the internationally active insurance group, and in consultation with the internationally active insurance group.

C. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when another regulatory official is acting as the group-wide supervisor of an internationally active insurance group, the commissioner shall acknowledge that regulatory official as the group-wide supervisor. However, in the event of a material change in the internationally active insurance group that results in:

(1) The internationally active insurance group's insurers domiciled in this state holding the largest share of the group's premiums, assets or liabilities; or

(2) This state being the place of domicile of the top-tiered insurer(s) in the insurance holding company system of the internationally active insurance group, the commissioner shall make a determination or acknowledgment as to the appropriate group-wide supervisor for such an internationally active insurance group pursuant to Subsection B.

D. Pursuant to Section 6, the commissioner is authorized to collect from any insurer registered pursuant to Section 4 all information necessary to determine whether the commissioner may act as the group-wide supervisor of an internationally active insurance group or if the commissioner may acknowledge another regulatory official to act as the group-wide supervisor. Prior to issuing a determination that an internationally active insurance group is subject to group-wide supervision by the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the insurer registered pursuant to Section 4 and the ultimate controlling person within the internationally active insurance group. The internationally active insurance group shall have not less than thirty (30) days to provide the commissioner with additional information pertinent to the pending determination. The commissioner shall publish in the [insert name of state administrative record] and on its Internet website the identity of internationally active insurance groups that the commissioner has determined are subject to group-wide supervision by the commissioner.

E. If the commissioner is the group-wide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group, the commissioner is authorized to engage in any of the following group-wide supervision activities:

(1) Assess the enterprise risks within the internationally active insurance group to ensure that:

(a) The material financial condition and liquidity risks to the members of the internationally active insurance group that are engaged in the business of insurance are identified by management, and

(b) Reasonable and effective mitigation measures are in place;

(2) Request, from any member of an internationally active insurance group subject to the commissioner's supervision, information necessary and appropriate to assess enterprise risk, including, but not limited to, information about the members of the internationally active insurance group regarding:

(a) Governance, risk assessment and management,

(b) Capital adequacy, and

(c) Material intercompany transactions;

(3) Coordinate and, through the authority of the regulatory officials of the jurisdictions where members of the internationally active insurance group are domiciled, compel development and implementation of reasonable measures designed to ensure that the internationally active insurance group is able to timely recognize and mitigate enterprise risks to members of such internationally active insurance group that are engaged in the business of insurance;

(4) Communicate with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies for members within the internationally active insurance group and share relevant information subject to the confidentiality provisions of Section 8, through supervisory colleges as set forth in Section 7 or otherwise;

(5) Enter into agreements with or obtain documentation from any insurer registered under Section 4, any member of the internationally active insurance group, and any other state, federal and international regulatory agencies for members of the internationally active insurance group, providing the basis for or otherwise clarifying the commissioner's role as group-wide supervisor, including provisions for resolving disputes with other regulatory officials. Such agreements or documentation shall not serve as evidence in any proceeding that any insurer or person within an insurance holding company system not domiciled or incorporated in this state is doing business in this state or is otherwise subject to jurisdiction in this state; and

(6) Other group-wide supervision activities, consistent with the authorities and purposes enumerated above, as considered necessary by the commissioner.

F. If the commissioner acknowledges that another regulatory official from a jurisdiction that is not accredited by the NAIC is the group-wide supervisor, the commissioner is authorized to reasonably cooperate, through supervisory colleges or otherwise, with group-wide supervision undertaken by the group-wide supervisor, provided that:

(1) The commissioner's cooperation is in compliance with the laws of this state; and

(2) The regulatory official acknowledged as the group-wide supervisor also recognizes and cooperates with the commissioner's activities as a group-wide supervisor for other internationally active insurance groups where applicable. Where such recognition and cooperation is not reasonably reciprocal, the commissioner is authorized to refuse recognition and cooperation.

G. The commissioner is authorized to enter into agreements with or obtain documentation from any insurer registered under Section 4, any affiliate of the insurer, and other state, federal and international regulatory agencies for members of the internationally active insurance group, that provide the basis for or otherwise clarify a regulatory official's role as group-wide supervisor.

H. The commissioner may promulgate regulations necessary for the administration of this section.

I. A registered insurer subject to this section shall be liable for and shall pay the reasonable expenses of the commissioner's participation in the administration of this section, including the engagement of attorneys, actuaries and any other professionals and all reasonable travel expenses.

Section 8. Confidential Treatment

A. Documents, materials or other information in the possession or control of the Department of Insurance that are obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination or investigation made pursuant to Section 6 and all information reported or provided to the Department of Insurance pursuant to Section 3B(12) and (13), Section 4, Section 5 and Section 7.1 are recognized by this state as being proprietary and to contain trade secrets, and shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties. The commissioner shall not otherwise make the documents, materials or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer to which it pertains unless the commissioner, after giving the insurer and its affiliates who would be affected thereby notice and opportunity to be heard, determines that the interest of policyholders, shareholders or the public will be served by the publication thereof, in which event the commissioner may publish all or any part in such manner as may be deemed appropriate.

(1) For purposes of the information reported and provided to the Department of Insurance pursuant to Section 4L(2), the commissioner shall maintain the confidentiality of the group capital calculation and group capital ratio produced within the calculation and any group capital information received from an insurance holding company supervised by the Federal Reserve Board or any U.S. group wide supervisor.

(2) For purposes of the information reported and provided to the [Department of Insurance] pursuant to Section 4L(3), the commissioner shall maintain the confidentiality of the liquidity stress test results and supporting disclosures and any liquidity stress test information received from an insurance holding company supervised by the Federal Reserve Board and non-U.S. group wide supervisors.

Drafting Note: This group capital calculation and group capital ratio includes confidential information and filings received from insurance holding companies supervised by the Federal Reserve Board. Similarly, the liquidity stress test may include confidential information and filings received from insurance holding companies supervised by the Federal Reserve Board. The confidential treatment afforded to group capital calculation filings includes any Federal Reserve Board group capital filings and information.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner or with whom such documents, materials or other information are shared pursuant to this Act shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(1) May share documents, materials or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A, including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, with the NAIC, and with any third-party consultants designated by the commissioner, with state, federal, and international law enforcement authorities, including members of any supervisory college described in Section 7, provided that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material or other information, and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) above, the commissioner may only share confidential and privileged documents, material, or information reported pursuant to Section 4L(1) with commissioners of states having statutes or regulations substantially similar to Subsection A and who have agreed in writing not to disclose such information.

(3) May receive documents, materials or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, including propriety and trade-secret information from the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information; and

(4) Shall enter into written agreements with the NAIC and any third-party consultant designated by the commissioner governing sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this Act consistent with this subsection that shall:

(a) Specify procedures and protocols regarding the confidentiality and security of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Act, including procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC with other state, federal or international regulators. The agreement shall provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the documents, materials or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain such confidentiality;

(b) Specify that ownership of information shared with the NAIC or a third party consultant pursuant to this Act remains with the commissioner and the NAIC's or a third-party consultant's, as designated by the commissioner, use of the information is subject to the direction of the commissioner;

(c) Excluding documents, material or information reported pursuant to Section 4L(3), prohibit the NAIC or third-party consultant designated by the commissioner from storing the information shared pursuant to this Act in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is completed;

(d) Require prompt notice to be given to an insurer whose confidential information in the possession of the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Act is subject to a request or subpoena to the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner for disclosure or production; and

(e) Require the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Act.

(f) For documents, material or information reported pursuant to Section 4L(3), in the case of an agreement involving a third-party consultant , provide for notification of the identity of the consultant to the applicable insurers.

D. The sharing of information by the commissioner pursuant to this Act shall not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution and enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

E. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Subsection C.

F. Documents, materials or other information in the possession or control of the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Act shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action.

G. The group capital calculation and resulting group capital ratio required under Section 4L(2) and the liquidity stress test along with its results and supporting disclosures required under Section 4L(3) are regulatory tools for assessing group risks and capital adequacy and group liquidity risks, respectively, and are not intended as a means to rank insurers or insurance holding company systems generally. Therefore, except as otherwise may be required under the provisions of this Act, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating or placing before the public, or causing directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public in a newspaper, magazine or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter or poster, or over any radio or television station or any electronic means of communication available to the public, or in any other way as an advertisement, announcement or statement containing a representation or statement with regard to the group capital calculation, group capital ratio, the liquidity stress test results, or supporting disclosures for the liquidity stress test of any insurer or any insurer group, or of any component derived in the calculation by any insurer, broker, or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is therefore prohibited; provided, however, that if any materially false statement with respect to the group capital calculation, resulting group capital ratio, an inappropriate comparison of any amount to an insurer's or insurance group's group capital calculation or resulting group capital ratio, liquidity stress test result, supporting disclosures for the liquidity stress test, or an inappropriate comparison of any amount to an insurer's or insurance group's liquidity stress test result or supporting disclosures is published in any written publication and the insurer is able to demonstrate to the commissioner with substantial proof the falsity of such statement or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, then the insurer may publish announcements in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

Drafting Note: In Section 8C(4) above, the exclusion in subitem 4(c) is the result of the Liquidity Stress Test primary purpose, which is to be used as a tool for assessing macroprudential risks by the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force assisted by NAIC staff, including trend analysis over time. Provisions against the NAIC owning the information, databasing the results and disclosures, and obtaining written consent from the insurer when a consultant is involved were deemed inappropriate.

Section 9. Rules and Regulations

The commissioner may, upon notice and opportunity for all interested persons to be heard, issue such rules, regulations and orders as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Section 10. Injunctions, Prohibitions Against Voting Securities, Sequestration of Voting Securities

A. Injunctions. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any insurer or any director, officer, employee or agent thereof has committed or is about to commit a violation of this Act or of any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the commissioner may apply to the [insert title] Court for the county in which the principal officer of the insurer is located or if the insurer has no office in this state then to the [insert title] Court for [insert county] County for an order enjoining the insurer or director, officer, employee or agent thereof from violating or continuing to violate this Act or any rule, regulation or order, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interest of the insurer's policyholders, creditors and shareholders or the public may require.

B. Voting of Securities; When Prohibited. No security which is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition, or which is acquired or to be acquired, in contravention of the provisions of this Act or of any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder may be voted at any shareholder's meeting, or may be counted for quorum purposes, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though the securities were not issued and outstanding; but no action taken at any such meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of the securities, unless the action would materially affect control of the insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered. If an insurer or the commissioner has reason to believe that any security of the insurer has been or is about to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this Act or of any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder; the insurer or the commissioner may apply to the [insert title] Court for the county in which the insurer has its principle place of business to enjoin any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition made in contravention of Section 3 or any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner thereunder to enjoin the voting of any security so acquired, to void any vote of the security already cast at any meeting of shareholders and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interest of the insurer's policyholders, creditor and shareholders or the public may require.

C. Sequestration of Voting Securities. In any case where a person has acquired or is proposing to acquire any voting securities in violation of this Act or any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the [insert title] Court for [insert county] County or the [insert title] Court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business may, on such notice as the court deems appropriate, upon the application of the insurer or the commissioner, seize or sequester any voting securities of the insurer owned directly or indirectly by the person, and issue such order as may be appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this Act.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, for the purposes of this Act the situs of the ownership of the securities of domestic insurers shall be deemed to be in this state.

Section 11. Sanctions

A. Any insurer failing, without just cause, to file any registration statement as required in this Act shall be required, after notice and hearing, to pay a penalty of $[insert amount] for each day's delay, to be recovered by the commissioner of Insurance and the penalty so recovered shall be paid into the General Revenue Fund of this state. The maximum penalty under this section is $[insert amount]. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

B. Every director or officer of an insurance holding company system who knowingly violates, participates in, or assents to, or who knowingly shall permit any of the officers or agents of the insurer to engage in transactions or make investments which have not been properly reported or submitted pursuant to Section 4A, 5A(2), or 5B, or which violate this Act, shall pay, in their individual capacity, a civil forfeiture of not more than $[insert amount] per violation, after notice and hearing before the commissioner. In determining the amount of the civil forfeiture, the commissioner shall take into account the appropriateness of the forfeiture with respect to the gravity of the violation, the history of previous violations, and such other matters as justice may require.

C. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any insurer subject to this Act or any director, officer, employee or agent thereof has engaged in any transaction or entered into a contract which is subject to Section 5 of this Act and which would not have been approved had the approval been requested, the commissioner may order the insurer to cease and desist immediately any further activity under that transaction or contract. After notice and hearing the commissioner may also order the insurer to void any contracts and restore the status quo if the action is in the best interest of the policyholders, creditors or the public.

D. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any insurer or any director, officer, employee or agent thereof has committed a willful violation of this Act, the commissioner may cause criminal proceedings to be instituted by the [insert title] Court for the county in which the principal office of the insurer is located or if the insurer has no office in this state, then by the [insert county] Court for [insert title] County against the insurer or the responsible director, officer, employee or agent thereof. Any insurer which willfully violates this Act may be fined not more than $[insert amount]. Any individual who willfully violates this Act may be fined in his or her individual capacity not more than $[insert amount] or be imprisoned for not more than one to three (3) years or both.

E. Any officer, director or employee of an insurance holding company system who willfully and knowingly subscribes to or makes or causes to be made any false statements or false reports or false filings with the intent to deceive the commissioner in the performance of his or her duties under this Act, upon conviction shall be imprisoned for not more than [insert amount] years or fined $[insert amount] or both. Any fines imposed shall be paid by the officer, director or employee in his or her individual capacity.

F. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has committed a violation of Section 3 of this Act and which prevents the full understanding of the enterprise risk to the insurer by affiliates or by the insurance holding company system, the violation may serve as an independent basis for disapproving dividends or distributions and for placing the insurer under an order of supervision in accordance with [insert appropriate statutory reference related to orders of supervision.

Section 12. Receivership

Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has committed a violation of this Act which so impairs the financial condition of a domestic insurer as to threaten insolvency or make the further transaction of business by it hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, shareholders or the public, then the commissioner may proceed as provided in Section [insert applicable section] of this Chapter to take possessions of the property of the domestic insurer and to conduct its business.

Section 13. Recovery

A. If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of a domestic insurer has been entered, the receiver appointed under the order shall have a right to recover on behalf of the insurer, (i) from any parent corporation or holding company or person or affiliate who otherwise controlled the insurer, the amount of distributions (other than distributions of shares of the same class of stock) paid by the insurer on its capital stock, or (ii) any payment in the form of a bonus, termination settlement or extraordinary lump sum salary adjustment made by the insurer or its subsidiary to a director, officer or employee, where the distribution or payment pursuant to (i) or (ii) is made at any time during the one year preceding the petition for liquidation, conservation or rehabilitation, as the case may be, subject to the limitations of Subsections B, C, and D of this section.

B. No distribution shall be recoverable if the parent or affiliate shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable, and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

C. Any person who was a parent corporation or holding company or a person who otherwise controlled the insurer or affiliate at the time the distributions were paid shall be liable up to the amount of distributions or payments under Subsection A which the person received. Any person who otherwise controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were declared shall be liable up to the amount of distributions that would have been received if they had been paid immediately. If two (2) or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they shall be jointly and severally liable.

D. The maximum amount recoverable under this section shall be the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer and to reimburse any guaranty funds.

E. To the extent that any person liable under Subsection C of this section is insolvent or otherwise fails to pay claims due from it, its parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it at the time the distribution was paid, shall be jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it.

Section 14. Revocation, Suspension, or Nonrenewal of Insurer's License

Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has committed a violation of this Act which makes the continued operation of an insurer contrary to the interests of policyholders or the public, the commissioner may, after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard, suspend, revoke or refuse to renew the insurer's license or authority to do business in this state for such period as the commissioner finds is required for the protection of policyholders or the public. Any such determination shall be accompanied by specific findings of fact and conclusions of law.

Section 15. Judicial Review, Mandamus

A. Any person aggrieved by any act, determination, rule, regulation or order or any other action of the commissioner pursuant to this Act may appeal to the [insert title] Court for [insert county] County. The court shall conduct its review without a jury and by trial de novo, except that if all parties, including the commissioner, so stipulate, the review shall be confined to the record. Portions of the record may be introduced by stipulation into evidence in a trial de novo as to those parties so stipulating.

B. The filing of an appeal pursuant to this section shall stay the application of any rule, regulation, order or other action of the commissioner to the appealing party unless the court, after giving the party notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that a stay would be detrimental to the interest of policyholders, shareholders, creditors or the public.

C. Any person aggrieved by any failure of the commissioner to act or make a determination required by this Act may petition the [insert title] Court for [insert county] County for a writ in the nature of a mandamus or a peremptory mandamus directing the commissioner to act or make a determination.

Section 16. Conflict with Other Laws

All laws and parts of laws of this state inconsistent with this Act are hereby superseded with respect to matters covered by this Act.

Section 17. Separability of Provisions

If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provisions or application, and for this purpose the provisions of this Act are separable.

Section 18. Effective Date

This Act shall take effect thirty (30) days from its passage.

APPENDIX
ALTERNATE PROVISIONS

Alternative Section 1. Findings

A. It is hereby found and declared that it may not be inconsistent with the public interest and the interest of policyholders and shareholders to permit insurers to:

(1) Engage in activities which would enable them to make better use of management skills and facilities;

(2) Diversify into new lines of business through acquisition or organization of subsidiaries;

(3) Have free access to capital markets which could provide funds for insurers to use in diversification programs;

(4) Implement sound tax planning conclusions; and

(5) Serve the changing needs of the public and adapt to changing conditions of the social, economic and political environment, so that insurers are able to compete effectively and to meet the growing public demand for institutions capable of providing a comprehensive range of financial services.

B. It is further found and declared that the public interest and the interests of policyholders and shareholders are or may be adversely affected when:

(1) Control of an insurer is sought by persons who would utilize such control adversely to the interests of policyholders or shareholders;

(2) Acquisition of control of an insurer would substantially lessen competition or create a monopoly in the insurance business in this state;

(3) An insurer which is part of an insurance holding company system is caused to enter into transactions or relationships with affiliated companies on terms which are not fair and reasonable; or

(4) An insurer pays dividends to shareholders which jeopardize the financial condition of such insurers.

C. It is hereby declared that the policies and purposes of this Act are to promote the public interest by:

(1) Facilitating the achievement of the objectives enumerated in Subsection A;

(2) Requiring disclosure of pertinent information relating to changes in control of an insurer;

(3) Requiring disclosure by an insurer of material transactions and relationships between the insurer and its affiliates, including certain dividends to shareholders paid by the insurer; and

(4) Providing standards governing material transactions between the insurer and its affiliates.

D. It is further declared that it is desirable to prevent unnecessary multiple and conflicting regulation of insurers. Therefore, this state shall exercise regulatory authority over domestic insurers and unless otherwise provided in this Act, not over nondomestic insurers, with respect to the matters contained herein.

Alternative Section 2. Subsidiaries of Insurers

A. Authorization. Any domestic insurer, either by itself or in cooperation with one or more persons, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries engaged in the following kinds of business:

(1) Any kind of insurance business authorized by the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated;

(2) Acting as an insurance broker or as an insurance agent for its parent or for any of its parent's insurer subsidiaries;

(3) Investing, reinvesting or trading in securities for its own account, that of its parent, a subsidiary of its parent, or an affiliate or subsidiary;

(4) Management of an investment company subject to or registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, including related sales and services;

(5) Acting as a broker-dealer subject to or registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended;

(6) Rendering investment advice to governments, government agencies, corporations or other organizations or groups;

(7) Rendering other services related to the operations of an insurance business, such as actuarial, loss prevention, safety engineering, data processing, accounting, claims, appraisal and collection services;

(8) Ownership and management of assets which the parent corporation could itself own or manage;

Drafting Note: The aggregate investment by the insurer and its subsidiaries acquired or organized pursuant to this paragraph should not exceed the limitations applicable to such investments by the insurer.

(9) Acting as administrative agent for a governmental instrumentality that is performing an insurance function;

(10) Financing of insurance premiums, agents and other forms of consumer financing;

(11) Any other business activity determined by the commissioner to be reasonably ancillary to an insurance business; and

(12) Owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one or more of the businesses specified in this section.

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY-2021

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS (#450)
(Receivership)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In 2020, the NAIC Plenary adopted a new charge for the Receivership Law (E) Working Group. The charge is still active and reads as follows:

> "Review and provide recommendations for remedies to ensure the continuity of essential services and functions to an insurer in receivership by affiliated entities, including nonregulated entities. Among other solutions, this will encompass a review of the Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440) and the Insurance Holding Company System Model Regulation with Reporting Forms and Instructions (#450) to provide proposed revisions to address the continuation of essential services through affiliated intercompany agreements in a receivership."

Prior to, and prompting the need for, the adoption of this charge, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force performed a macroprudential analysis of the U.S. system of insurance regulation with respect to receivership laws compared to international standards under the Financial Stability Board (FSB) and under the Common Framework for the Supervision of Internationally Active Insurance Groups (ComFrame). At the 2019 Summer National Meeting, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force adopted a report including recommendations to address receivership powers that are implicit in state laws, rather than explicit. One such area is the power to ensure the continuity of essential services and functions within a holding company group once an insurer is placed into receivership.

The Task Force identified the following authority and remedies available within the U.S. regime related to these international standards:

- Model #440 requires approval of affiliated transactions, allowing a state insurance regulator to identify agreements that could create obstacles in a receivership. Model #450, Section 19, provides that cost sharing and management agreements specify if the insurer is placed in receivership that an affiliate has no automatic right to terminate the agreement.
- The receiver can take action against a provider that refuses to continue services under a contract or seek an order requiring it to turn over records. If an affiliate providing services is inextricably intertwined with the insurer, the receiver could also seek to place the affiliate into receivership.

However, it was noted that some of these authorities and remedies may not address the immediate need to continue services in some receiverships. Despite these available remedies, receivers continue to be challenged by this issue in receivership, often resulting in significant additional legal and administrative expenses to the receivership estate.

In 2020, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group was given the charge to provide recommendations for remedies to ensure the continuity of essential services and functions to an insurer in receivership by affiliated entities, including nonregulated entities and specifically for agreements with affiliated entities whose sole business purpose is to provide services to the insurance company.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating.

The Receivership Law (E) Working Group of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force drafted the initial revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The 2020 and 2021 members of the Subgroup were: Illinois (Co-Chair); Pennsylvania (Co-Chair); Arkansas; California; Colorado; Connecticut; Florida; Iowa; Louisiana (2021); Maine; Massachusetts; Michigan; Missouri; Nebraska; Texas; and Washington.

A drafting group was formed to draft the revisions. Members included: Florida; Illinois; Maine; Michigan; Oklahoma; Pennsylvania; and Texas.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group.

As described in paragraph 1 above, the initial charge prompting a review of Model #440 and Model #450 was given to the Receivership Law (E) Working Group for 2020. The Request for NAIC Model Law Development to open Model #440 and Model #450 for revision was adopted by the Executive (EX) Committee at the 2020 Summer National Meeting.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc.). Include any parties outside the members that participated.

In August 2020, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group began its work to address its charge by conducting a survey of state insurance regulators and interested parties to gather feedback on possible provisions to be addressed and goals of those revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. Survey responses were received from state insurance regulators and interested parties identifying specific sections of the models and topics to be considered.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited).

On Dec. 17, 2020, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to expose proposed amendments to Section 5A and Section 11 of Model #440 and Section 19 of #450 for a 42-day public comment period ending Jan. 29, 2021. Comments were received from Florida; the American Council of Life Insurers (ACLI); America's Health Insurance Plans (AHIP) and the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (BCBSA); Arbor Strategies LLC; Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP and the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA); and the National Conference of Insurance Guaranty Funds (NCIGF).

On Feb. 4, 2021, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to discuss comments received. Subsequent edits were drafted by the drafting group as discussed during the meeting. The Working Group exposed proposed revised amendments to Section 5A and Section 11 of Model #440 and Section 19 of #450 for a 14-day public comment period ending Feb. 4, 2021. Comments were received from AHIP and the BCBSA; the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA); Arbor Strategies LLC; and NOLHGA and the NCIGF.

On March 4, 2021, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to discuss comments received. Subsequent edits were drafted as discussed during the meeting by the drafting group in coordination with the interested parties that had provided comments. The Working Group co-chairs released proposed revised amendments to Section 5A(1)(g) of Model #440 for a 30-day public comment period ending April 9, 2021. One comment letter was received from the ACLI. The ACLI's proposed edit was accepted.

All exposures were distributed by email to members, interested state insurance regulators and interested parties of both the Receivership Law (E) Working Group and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force and posted to the NAIC website.

All issues raised by members, interested state insurance regulators and interested parties were explained or addressed in the revisions to the original amendments.

The amendments were adopted by the Receivership Law (E) Working Group on May 4, 2021.

The amendments were adopted by the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force on May 20, 2021.

The amendments were adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee on July 8, 2021.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response).

There were no unresolved issues of real significance raised during the exposure periods. However, the following issue was considered and addressed by the Receivership Law (E) Working Group. Interested parties requested and provided draft revisions to the amendments in Section 5.A.(1)(g) regarding the requirement for a bond or deposit that limits the provision to insurers found to be in a condition of hazardous financial condition or a condition that would be grounds for supervision, conservation or a delinquency proceeding. Interested parties also provided revisions to the subsection and the accompanying drafting note that would further define and clarify the circumstances and the agreements to which the subsection could be applied. The Working Group was agreeable to these changes and accepted interested parties' revisions.

7. List the key provisions of the model (sections considered most essential to state adoption).

The amendments to Model #440 are within Section 5, Standards and Management of an Insurer Within an Insurance Holding Company System, and within Model #450 Section 19, Transactions Subject to Prior Notice.

- Section 5A(1) of Model #440
  - Books and records of the insurer are updated to specifically include data of the insurer, being the property of the insurer. The data and records should be identifiable and capable of segregation. Essentially the data and records should be available to the receiver in the event of insolvency, including the systems necessary to access them.
  - If the commissioner deems the insurer to be in a statutorily defined hazardous financial condition, the commissioner may require a bond or deposit, limited in amount, after consideration of whether there are concerns about the affiliated party's ability to fulfill the contract in the event of a liquidation.
  - Premiums are the property of the insurer, with any right of offset subject to receivership law.

- Section 5A(6) of Model #440
  - The affiliated entity is subject to jurisdiction of receivership court, and in certain circumstances the commissioner may require the affiliate to agree to this in writing.

- Section 19 of Model #450
  - Books and records of the insurer are updated to specifically include data of the insurer, being the property of the insurer. The data and records should be identifiable and capable of segregation. Essentially the data and records should be available to the receiver in the event of insolvency, including the systems necessary to access them. The data is specifically defined in Model #450.
  - Model #450 includes a provision relating to indemnification of the insurer in the event of gross negligence or willful misconduct by the affiliate.
  - In the event of receivership (now including supervision and conservatorship):
    - The rights of the insurer extend to the receiver or guaranty fund.
    - The affiliate will make available essential personnel.
    - The affiliate will continue the services for a minimum period of time as specified in the agreement with timely payment for post-receivership work.
    - The affiliate will maintain necessary systems, programs or infrastructure and make them available to the receiver or commissioner for as long as the affiliate receives timely post-receivership payment unless released by the receiver, commissioner or receivership court.

8. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force has not had formal discussions with respect to whether the current Insurance Holding Company Systems accreditation standard under the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program should be amended to include the current revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The Task Force will consider this and make appropriate referrals prior to the 2022 Spring National Meeting.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2020

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)
(Liquidity Stress Testing)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In April 2017, the Executive (EX) Committee adopted a new charge for the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force at the Spring National Meeting. The charge is still active and reads as follows:

> "Analyze existing post-financial crisis regulatory reforms for their application in identifying macroeconomic trends, including identifying possible areas of improvement or gaps, and propose to the Financial Condition (E) Committee or other relevant committee enhancements and/or additions to further improve the ability of state insurance regulators and the industry to address macroprudential impacts; consult with such committees on implementation, as needed."

Prior to, and prompting the need for, the adoption of this charge, the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force performed a review of other jurisdictions' activities in the macroprudential space. Common themes noted in this review included a focus on: stress testing; liquidity assessments, both within specific sectors and cross-sector exposures; enhancing resolution planning and disclosures; and charts and discussions on various domestic economic/regional trends impacting the insurance sector.

After considering these common macroprudential activities against the U.S. system of insurance regulation, the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force adopted a Macroprudential Initiative (MPI) Framework during the 2017 Summer National Meeting. The MPI Framework contained four focused areas for potential enhancements: 1) liquidity; 2) recovery and resolution; 3) capital stress testing; and 4) exposure concentrations. During this meeting, liquidity risk was identified as a top priority for MPI, and the Liquidity Risk Assessment (EX) Subgroup was appointed to address this work and assigned the following charges:

- Review existing public and regulator only data related to liquidity risk, identify any gaps based on regulatory needs, and propose the universe of companies to which any recommendations may apply.
- Construct a liquidity stress testing framework proposal for consideration by the Financial Condition (E) Committee, including the proposed universe of companies to which the framework will apply (e.g., large life insurers).

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating.

The Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force drafted the initial revisions to Model #440. The 2020 members of the Subgroup were: Nebraska (Chair); Connecticut; District of Columbia; Florida; Illinois; Iowa; Minnesota; Missouri; and Texas.

The Financial Stability (EX) Task Force finalized the liquidity stress test (LST) revisions to Model #440. The 2020 members of the Task Force were: New Jersey (Chair); Maine (Vice Chair); Arkansas; California; Connecticut; District of Columbia; Florida; Illinois; Iowa; Massachusetts; Missouri; Nebraska; New York; Oregon; Pennsylvania; and Texas.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group.

As described in paragraph 1 above, the initial charge prompting a review of the U.S. system of insurance regulation to assess its ability to address macroprudential monitoring was assigned to the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force during the 2017 Spring National Meeting. However, the specific charge to create an LST framework—which includes the need to address regulatory authority for requiring the filing of LST reports and confidentiality protection of those filings—was assigned to the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup during the 2017 Summer National Meeting and reads as follows:

> "Construct a liquidity stress testing framework proposal for consideration by the Financial Condition (E) Committee, including the proposed universe of companies to which the framework will apply (e.g., large life insurers)."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc.). Include any parties outside the members that participated.

In late 2017, the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup began its work to address its first charge related to liquidity data gaps, resulting in two blanks proposals to add more product breakout data in the life statutory financial statement or blank. Once the blanks proposals were submitted to the Blanks (E) Working Group, the Subgroup began work on the LST Framework in early 2018. The Subgroup first addressed the scope criteria to determine which life insurers should be subject to an LST requirement, which was adopted by the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force during the 2019 Spring National Meeting.

To construct the actual LST proposal, the Subgroup utilized an unofficial study group, with members consisting of Nebraska (lead), Connecticut, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey and Texas. Also, the study group included industry participants from some of the insurers triggering the initial scope criteria; specifically, John Hancock, Manulife, MassMutual, MetLife, New York Life, Principal and Prudential. At times, the lead states of, and industry participants from, all 23 insurers triggering the initial scope criteria were included in study group calls.

Work on the LST Framework proposal continued until the COVID-19 pandemic prompted the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force to place the LST Framework development on hold effective April 17, 2020. Importantly, this pause did not include any work related to addressing regulatory authority for the LST and confidentiality of the LST reports, which, pursuant to a Feb. 26, 2020 call of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force, was to initially consider using revisions to Model #440. Instead, the Subgroup and study group were directed to obtain data from the 23 insurers to assess how liquidity stress was impacted by the pandemic and subsequent economic stresses. In November 2020, the study group expressed its intent to resume the work to develop the LST proposal.

For the actual proposed revisions to Model #440 required for LST needs, NAIC staff worked with Justin Schrader (NE), chair of the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup, to draft the initial exposure document. The current version of edits exposed by the Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group were used as the baseline for Model #440 and were edited for LST needs.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited).

On June 23, 2020, Justin Schrader (NE), chair of the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup, exposed proposed revisions to Model #440 for a public comment period ending July 29, 2020. Comments were received from the Texas Department of Insurance (TDI) and the American Council of Life Insurers (ACLI). The TDI comments were suggestions for how to organize the revisions within Model #440, consistent with similar comments made with respect to the Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group's exposed revisions, and were all acceptable to the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup members. All but one of the ACLI comments, most with respect to governance and timing issues, were acceptable to the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup members.

On Aug. 31, 2020, an updated draft of proposed revisions to Model #440 was posted as materials for the Sept. 1, 2020, meeting of the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup. Because there were so few comments received during the initial comment period and all comments were accepted except one ACLI comment, a second exposure period was not deemed necessary for the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup. Rather, the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup voted to forward the proposed revisions to Model #440—as modified during its Sept. 1, 2020, conference call to partially address the outstanding ACLI comment—to the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force for a final exposure period.

On Sept. 3, 2020, Commissioner Marlene Caride (NJ), chair of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force, exposed for a public comment period ending Oct. 5, 2020, the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup's modified proposed revisions to Model #440. One comment letter was received, from the ACLI, requesting several editorial changes that were made for the proposed revisions to Model #440 included as materials for the meeting of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force held Oct. 13, 2020.

Several items were raised as concerns with respect to the proposed revisions during the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force's Oct. 13, 2020, conference call, but all were resolved with recommended changes that satisfied the members. As such, on the Oct. 13, 2020, conference call of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force, the members voted to adopt the modified proposed revisions to Model #440 and forward them to the Financial Condition (E) Committee for its consideration.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response).

There were no issues of real significance raised during the exposure periods. However, these are the items discussed during the final consideration by the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force:

a. The ACLI request to limit the use of the LST data to macroprudential purposes only was rejected by state insurance regulators, given that microprudential oversight of legal entity insurers and groups will benefit from this data also.
b. Confirmed the need to change "assets and liabilities" to "exposure bases" in the scope criteria definition as recommended by the ACLI.
c. Agreed with the TDI request to specify that the LST data is still owned by the lead state when a consultant is used.
d. Changed "in conjunction with" to "in consultation with" to clarify that the lead state makes the final decision in terms of when an insurer is added to or removed from the list of insurers required to perform the LST for a specific year.

7. List the key provisions of the model (sections considered most essential to state adoption).

The changes to Section 4L(3) of Model #440 are the most important provisions in the proposed changes, as they require the ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration and meeting the scope criteria to file the results of a specific year's LST to the lead state insurance commissioner. The filing shall be made in accordance with the procedures housed within the Financial Analysis Handbook.

Immediately following this provision in Section 4L(3)(a) of Model #440 is the information regarding the scope criteria and indication that the lead state commissioner, in consultation with the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force or its successor, will make the final determination regarding the insurers that will be scoped in and out of a specific data year's LST.

Section 4L(3)(b) of Model #440 indicates the performance of, and filing of the results from, a specific year's LST shall comply with the NAIC LST framework's instructions and reporting templates for that year, along with any lead state insurance commissioner determinations (in consultation with the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force or its successor).

Finally, Section 8(A)(2) of Model #440 provides key statutory authority to hold the LST confidential.

8. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

It is considered extremely important that lead states of insurance companies that are considered to be internationally active insurance groups (IAIGs) under Model #440 enact these LST revisions. However, it is also important to make the LST revisions to Model #440 an accreditation standard applicable to all states in order to develop a macroprudential surveillance program for the U.S. state-based insurance regulatory system. Each state has primarily microprudential goals in order to regulate individual insurers' solvency, which extend to insurance groups, as well. But all commissioners do have macroprudential goals with respect to having competitive markets in their respective states. However, no state has a complete purview of the entire U.S. insurance industry, or even the entire U.S. life insurance segment. Federal regulators and the U.S. insurance industry have strongly encouraged the creation of a macroprudential framework throughout the states, and this LST should become a baseline element in the overall financial solvency regulation of insurance.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2020

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS (#450)
(Group Capital Calculation (GCC))

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In 2015, the NAIC Plenary adopted a charge to the Financial Condition (E) with respect to the construction of a group capital calculation (GCC). The Financial Condition (E) Committee subsequently formed the Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group to carry out the following charge:

> "Construct a U.S. group capital calculation using an RBC aggregation methodology; liaise as necessary with the ComFrame Development and Analysis (G) Working Group on international capital developments and consider group capital developments by the Federal Reserve Board, both of which may help inform the construction of a U.S. group capital calculation."

The charge was developed primarily as a result of discussions that revealed that developing a GCC was a natural extension of work that state insurance regulators had already begun on group supervision as a result of the lessons learned from the 2008 financial crisis. While state insurance regulators currently have the authority to obtain information regarding the capital positions of non-insurance affiliates, they do not have a consistent analytical framework for evaluating such information. The GCC is designed to address this shortcoming and will serve as an additional financial metric that will assist state insurance regulators in identifying risks that may emanate from a holding company system. More specifically, the GCC and related reporting provides more transparency to state insurance regulators regarding insurance groups and make risks more identifiable and more easily quantified.

It is important to understand that the GCC utilizes an aggregation approach to group capital where existing legal entity capital requirements [e.g., risk-based capital (RBC)] and existing valuation for capital (e.g., statutory accounting) are utilized. In selecting this approach, it was recognized as satisfying state regulatory needs while at the same time having the advantages of being less burdensome and costly to regulators and the industry, in addition to respecting other jurisdictions' existing capital regimes. To capture the risks associated with the entire insurance group, including the insurance holding company, calculations were developed in those instances where no RBC calculations currently exist (i.e., non-regulated entities) and are part of the GCC. The methods selected were tested in 2019 by more than 30 insurance groups representing 15 lead states. These methods have since been modified to consider the lessons learned from the testing and subsequent comments from the industry and state insurance regulators. The more significant items are discussed in paragraph 6 below.

Also important in finalizing the GCC was the scope of groups that would be required to complete it. Specifically, Model #440 exempts single-state companies, insurers located in reciprocal jurisdictions that have already recognized the U.S. approach to group supervision and group capital, as well as other jurisdictions that agree to recognize the U.S. approach to group capital. Model #450 also provides commissioners with additional discretion to exempt groups that have less than $1 billion in premium, provided the group has no non-U.S. insurers, has no banks or similar financial institutions, and has non-risky non-regulated entities within the group.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating.

The Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group of the Financial Condition (E) Committee drafted the revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The 2020 members of the Working Group were: Florida (Chair); Connecticut (Vice Chair); California; District of Columbia; Illinois; Indiana; Iowa; Massachusetts; Michigan; Minnesota; Missouri; Nebraska; New Jersey; New York; North Carolina; Ohio; Oregon; Pennsylvania; Tennessee; Texas; Virginia; and Wisconsin.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group.

At the 2015 Fall National Meeting, the Financial Condition (E) Committee received the following charge:

> "Construct a U.S. group capital calculation using an RBC aggregation methodology; liaise as necessary with the ComFrame Development and Analysis (G) Working Group on international capital developments and consider group capital developments by the Federal Reserve Board, both of which may help inform the construction of a U.S. group capital calculation."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc.). Include any parties outside the members that participated.

The Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group began its work on the GCC in 2016 and spent the next two-and-one-half years constructing the calculation. Over the course of that time, the Working Group conducted numerous public conference calls to discuss the proposed construction on a topic-by-topic basis. In 2019, the Working Group set up a voluntary process under which the GCC was tested by more than 30 insurance groups represented by 15 lead states. This testing was completed in early 2020, at which time the Working Group began to make changes to the GCC to reflect the learnings from the testing. Simultaneously with this testing, at the 2019 Fall National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved the Working Group's request to open Model #440 and Model #450 to develop the legal authority under which the GCC would be implemented. In addition to requiring the filing of the GCC with the lead state commissioner, the models would also provide information on the types of insurance groups that would be exempt from filing the GCC, as well as provide the necessary language to protect the confidentiality of the tool.

In January 2020, the Working Group exposed for public comment a draft memorandum that set forth possible exemptions, as well as the basic construct for the confidentiality protections, based on previous public comments made by Working Group members. The first draft of amendments to Model #440 and Model #450 were drafted based on decisions made by Working Group members, with previous input from the industry considered by the Working Group members. This continued to be the case with respect to future versions of the model(s), although the Sept. 18 version was drafted with specific input from a small drafting group consisting of California, Nebraska, Missouri, Texas and Wisconsin.

NAIC staff met via conference call with representatives of the U.S. Department of the Treasury (Treasury Department) and the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) on Sept. 10 and Oct. 14 to discuss their concerns regarding the consistency of the draft revisions to a covered agreement with the European Union (EU). (Please refer to discussion in paragraph 8.)

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited).

At the 2019 Fall National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved the Working Group's request to open Model #440 and Model #450 to develop the legal authority under which the GCC would be implemented. In January 2020, the Working Group exposed for public comment a draft memorandum that set forth possible exemptions, as well as the basic construct for the confidentiality protections. Comments were received Feb. 17, 2020, but due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the first discussion of proposed changes to Model #440 and Model #450 did not occur until June 2, 2020.

During its June 2, 2020, call, the Working Group made several key decisions related to the comments on exemptions and subsequently released its first version of proposed changes to Model #440. Comments were received July 15, 2020, with numerous edits proposed by interested parties that were incorporated into a modified version for discussion by the Working Group on its July 21, 2020, call, including comments on subgroup reporting. Discussion on the subgroup reporting issue was deferred by the Working Group until decisions were made on all other comments, and the Working Group exposed for public comment proposed changes to Model #440, along with proposed changes to Model #450, on July 23, 2020. Comments on this exposure, which were largely focused on subgroup reporting, were discussed by the Working Group on its Sept. 18, 2020, call. The next version of Model #440 and Model #450 were exposed for a public comment period ending Oct. 5, 2020, with most of the changes from the July 23, 2020, version representing proposed revised wording from various interested parties intended to streamline both models. New versions of the models were produced and exposed following the Working Group's Oct. 20, 2020, call based on comments received Oct. 5, 2020, and discussed by the Working Group on its Oct. 20, 2020, call. The final versions of Model #440 and Model #450 were exposed Oct. 21, 2020, for a public comment period, and subsequently adopted by the Working Group on its Nov. 17, 2020, call.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response).

Significant issues which were ultimately addressed include:

1. Ability to exclude immaterial risky affiliates from the calculation.
2. Excluding recasting of XXX/AXXX transactions in the GCC.[1]
3. Allowing a proxy level of senior debt to be added to capital that represents the subordinated capital controlled by the commissioner's authority over approving extraordinary dividends.
4. Inclusion of the concept of scalars to recognize U.S. reserve requirements are often much higher than other jurisdictions.
5. The level at which the GCC is calibrated with RBC (200%).
6. A subgroup capital calculation under which a lead state commissioner shall require the group capital calculation for U.S. operations of any non-U.S. based insurance holding company system if it is deemed appropriate by the lead state commissioner for prudential oversight and solvency monitoring purposes or for ensuring the competitiveness of the insurance marketplace. This particular aspect of Model #440 was the most controversial topic and was debated extensively, while other potential options failed to receive a majority vote.

7. List the key provisions of the model (sections considered most essential to state adoption).

The changes to Section 4L(2) of Model #440 are the most important provisions in the proposed changes, as they require the ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration to concurrently file an annual GCC as directed by the lead state commissioner with the registration statement. Immediately following this provision in Section 4L(2)(a) through Section 4L(2)(d) are four types of holding company systems that are exempt from filing, which are also important to many parties. As previously discussed, Section 4L(2)(e) would permit, under certain circumstances, a subgroup capital calculation. Section 4L(2)(f) is also important, as it provides the commissioner the discretion to exempt other groups from filing that meet the criteria in Model #450. Finally, Section 8(A)(1) of Model #440 provides key statutory authority to hold the GCC confidential and actually prevents the group itself from sharing the GCC publicly. Model #450 provides more detailed aspects of the exemptions, including additional discretionary authority for exempting certain groups, as well as additional details of the NAIC process for maintaining a list of jurisdictions whose groups recognize and accept the GCC and are, therefore, exempt from filing the GCC.

8. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

a. Covered Agreement

Under Title V of the federal Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act), the Treasury Department and the USTR are authorized to jointly negotiate covered agreements, defined under the Dodd-Frank Act as written bilateral or multilateral agreements between the U.S. and one or more foreign governments, authorities or regulators regarding prudential measures with respect to insurance or reinsurance, on the condition that the prudential measures subject to a covered agreement achieve a level of protection for insurance or reinsurance consumers that is "substantially equivalent" to the level of protection achieved under U.S. state insurance laws. On Sept. 22, 2017, the Treasury Department and the USTR signed the "Bilateral Agreement Between the United States of America and the European Union on Prudential Measures Regarding Insurance and Reinsurance" (Covered Agreement). On Dec. 18, 2018, a separate covered agreement was signed between the U.S. and the United Kingdom, which mirrors the language from the agreement with the EU and has the same timing requirements for implementation.

The Covered Agreement includes requirements on reinsurance collateral, group supervision and group capital. Specifically, Article 4(h) provides that the host supervisor (i.e., a supervisory authority from the territory in which an insurance group has operations but which is not the territory where the worldwide parent is domiciled or headquartered) may not impose a group capital assessment or requirement at the level of the worldwide parent, but only if the insurance group is subject to a group capital assessment imposed by the home supervisor. The group capital assessment of the home supervisor must include a worldwide group capital calculation capturing risk at the level of the entire group, and the home supervisor must have the authority to impose preventive, corrective or otherwise responsive measures on the basis of the assessment, including the authority to impose capital measures where appropriate.

[1] "XXX/AXXX transactions" are those transactions required to be valued under Section 6 or Section 7 of the Valuation of Life Insurance Policies Model Regulation (#830).

Under Article 10(e) of the Covered Agreement, supervisory authorities in the EU shall not impose a group capital requirement at the level of the worldwide parent undertaking of the insurance or reinsurance group, with regard to a U.S. insurance or reinsurance group with operations in the EU, for 60 months after the date of provisional application of the Covered Agreement; i.e., Nov. 7, 2022. The GCC is intended to serve as an analytical tool for evaluating an insurer's capital position at the group level but is not intended to be applied as a group-level capital requirement or standard. The Statement of the United States on the Covered Agreement with the European Union provides further clarification with respect to this group capital assessment.

The Covered Agreement limits the worldwide application of EU prudential group insurance measures on U.S. insurers operating in the EU. The Covered Agreement also provides that U.S. insurers and reinsurers can operate in the EU without the U.S. parent being subject to the group-level governance, solvency and capital, and reporting requirements of Solvency II, and reinforces that the EU system of prudential insurance supervision is not the system in the U.S. The Covered Agreement does not require development of a group capital standard or group capital requirement in the U.S. Article 4(h) contemplates that the states will develop a group-wide capital assessment. Through the NAIC, the states are in the process of developing a group capital calculation which is intended to serve as an analytical tool for evaluating a firm's capital position at the group level. The U.S. expects that the NAIC's GCC will satisfy the "group capital assessment" condition of Article 4(h), provided that the work is completed and implemented within five years of the date on which the Agreement is signed. [Emphasis added].

Any state with U.S. groups operating in either the European Union or the United Kingdome will need to adopt these legislative changes by Nov. 7, 2022, to effectuate compliance with the Covered Agreement.

b. Liquidity Stress Testing

In coordination with the work on the GCC, the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force drafted revisions to Model #440 to incorporate a liquidity stress test (LST) and to provide confidentiality requirements with respect to the LST. These revisions to Model #440, while not directly related to the GCC, are also intended to be considered for adoption by the NAIC membership simultaneously with the GCC-related revisions to Model #440. A separate Project History has been prepared with respect to the LST.

c. Accreditation

The Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group has not had formal discussions with respect to whether the current Insurance Holding Company Systems accreditation standard under the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program should be amended to include the current revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. However, it is expected that these revisions will be incorporated into the accreditation standard in order to encourage the states to effectuate compliance with the Covered Agreement.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2014

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In 2010, in the wake of the financial crisis, the NAIC adopted revisions to the Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440) and the Insurance Holding Company System Model Regulation with Reporting Forms and Instructions (#450). These changes were intended to address one of the lessons learned from the financial crisis, which was the ability of state insurance regulators to be able to assess the enterprise risk within a holding company system and its impact on an insurer within the group.

Despite the changes, state financial regulators have come to expect that the additional changes would need to be made to the states' group supervision framework. At the 2013 Fall National Meeting, the Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the following charge to consider further enhancements in statute:

> Review the Model Insurance Holding Company Act (#440) and Regulation (#450) (HCA Model Act) and consider amendments to address issues that have arisen subsequent to the adoption of the Act and Regulation by the NAIC in 2010.

At the 2014 Spring National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved a model law development request to begin work on this charge. Shortly after the 2014 Spring National Meeting, the chair of the Financial Condition (E) Committee distributed a memorandum to the Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force that set forth four specific areas to be considered in this review of potential changes to these models:

1. Clear legal authority and delineated powers to act as the group-wide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group (IAIG) and other large insurance groups.
2. Direct legal authority over the insurance holding company, including the authority to set group capital requirements.
3. Group-wide financial reporting for large insurance groups.
4. Resolution plans for IAIGs and other large insurance groups.

Subsequent to the 2014 Spring National Meeting, the Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group began its work to address the issues assigned to it by first considering group-wide financial reporting. After significant discussion, the Working Group concluded that no additional specific group-wide financial reporting was necessary, but that further analytical procedures could be developed to encourage a more consistent approach among the states with respect to utilizing existing statutory authority provided for within Model #440, Section 6A. The development of such analytical procedures has been prioritized to a later date to enable the Working Group to focus on other potential changes to Model #440 because such analytical procedures would not require changes to Model #440 or Model #450.

Simultaneous to the Working Group's deliberations on group-wide financial reporting, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force discussed the benefits and costs associated with requiring resolution plans for large insurance groups. The Task Force concluded its discussions on these issues prior to the 2014 Summer National Meeting, at which time it delivered a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee on the issue. In summary, the Task Force concluded it was not the appropriate time to propose that insurers draft resolution plans and, as such, recommended the issue be tabled. However, the Task Force recognized the value in establishing a template checklist of information a particular insurance commissioner could request from an insurer or holding company when he or she believes the risk of insolvency has risen to the level where such information could be helpful in planning a potential rehabilitation or liquidation. Consequently, it was determined that no changes to Model #440 or Model #450 were necessary to address this issue.

Since the 2014 Summer National Meeting, the Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group has been developing model statutory language to address the issue of clear legal authority and powers to act as a group-wide supervisor. The Working Group used statutory language enacted in Pennsylvania as a starting point, and subsequently met six times via conference call and once at a national meeting to consider changes proposed by the industry. On a Dec. 3, 2014, conference call, the Working Group adopted proposed changes to Model #440, which were subsequently adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee on a Dec. 4, 2014, conference call. The Working Group did not believe any changes were needed to Model #450 to address this issue. All of the changes included in the proposed revised Model #440 were intended to address this issue.

The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group did not discuss the issue of direct legal authority over the insurance holding company at any length during this project. It did, however, receive comments from the industry on this issue, along with comments on the other issues assigned to it during the spring and summer of 2014. The industry comments were focused on how such a proposal was premature, given the International Association of Insurance Supervisors (IAIS) had yet to develop certain group-wide supervision standards and that significant uncertainty internationally related to 1) the level at which the insurance group should be subject to group-wide supervisory requirements; 2) the legal means to achieve authority over entities not domiciled in the jurisdiction of the group-wide supervisor; 3) the legal means to achieve authority over non-insurance entities by an "insurance" supervisor; 4) the appropriate group-wide supervisor; and 5) other related issues. Additionally, as the Working Group was finalizing language related to clear legal authority and power to act as a group-wide supervisor, it concluded that the authority contained within the updated Model #440 to take certain action should be done in coordination with, and through the authority of, the regulatory officials of the jurisdictions where members of the insurance group are domiciled. For the above reasons, it was determined that no other changes were needed to Model #440 at that point in time to address this issue.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group of the Financial Condition (E) Committee drafted the revisions to Model #440. The 2014 members of the Working Group, which drafted the revised models that were adopted Dec. 3, 2014, were Texas (Chair), Nebraska (Vice Chair), California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Wisconsin.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

At the 2013 Fall National Meeting, the Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the following charge to consider further enhancements in statute:

> Review the Model Insurance Holding Company Act (#440) and Regulation (#450) (HCA Model Act) and consider amendments to address issues that have arisen subsequent to the adoption of the Act and Regulation by the NAIC in 2010.

At the 2014 Spring National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved a model law development request to begin work on this charge. Shortly after the 2014 Spring National Meeting, the chair of the Financial Condition (E) Committee distributed a memorandum to the Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force that set forth four specific areas to be considered in this review of potential changes to these models. On April 28, 2014, the Working Group held its first conference call to discuss all of the issues assigned to it. On an Oct. 3, 2014, conference call, the Working Group began discussions on the issues resulting in the proposed changes to Model #440.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

Shortly after the 2014 Spring National Meeting, the chair of the Financial Condition (E) Committee distributed a memorandum to the Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group that gave it broad direction on issues to be considered in addressing its charge. As it pertains to the specific changes to Model #440, the memorandum suggested the Working Group start the discussions dealing with the authority to act as the group-wide supervisor by first considering language included in the Pennsylvania statute that provides such authority. On Aug. 22, 2014, the Working Group exposed for a public comment period changes to Model #440 that incorporated language from the Pennsylvania statute. The Working Group received comments from the industry and discussed the comments during public conference calls held Oct. 3, Oct. 10, Oct. 16 and Oct. 24, 2014. The Oct. 3 and Oct. 10 conference calls were dedicated to allowing the industry to expand on their comments. The Oct. 16 and Oct. 24 conference calls were dedicated to making decisions to address the concerns of the industry. Subsequent to the Oct. 24 conference call, a revised Model #440 was drafted and then discussed on a Nov. 7 conference call. The Working Group received two comments letters regarding the Nov. 7, 2014, version of Model #440 and discussed those comments during its meeting at the 2014 Fall National Meeting. The Working Group received one additional comment letter and discussed it on a Dec. 3, 2014, conference call. On that conference call, the Working Group adopted a revised Model #440. In total, eight comment letters were received from interested parties.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

The following topics were generally considered to be the most significant:

a. Section 1—Replace definition of "international insurance group" with "internationally active insurance group."
   - The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group originally proposed that the new section of Model #440 would apply to all international insurance groups, as contained within the Pennsylvania statute.
   - Numerous industry trade associations suggested the new section only apply to groups that would be subject to the IAIS' Common Framework for the Supervision of Internationally Active Insurance Groups (ComFrame). The Working Group originally decided that the language should remain broad enough to encompass all international insurance groups, but later sought and received direction from certain regulators active in international work streams, who advised that the scope should encompass IAIGs only.
   - The revised Model #440 changes only apply to IAIGs as defined within the model law.

b. Section 7.1.A(2)—Add a discretionary provision to allow the insurance commissioner to apply the new section to more than just IAIGs.
   - The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group believed that such authority may be necessary for two reasons: 1) the IAIS may change the ComFrame criteria to where the figures may not capture all (or too many) of the groups that are expected to be subject to ComFrame; and 2) the understanding that the NAIC position was to support the use of a state's discretionary authority with respect to ComFrame.
   - Numerous industry trade associations suggested the new section only apply to groups that would be subject to ComFrame. The Working Group originally decided that the language should remain broad enough to encompass all international insurance groups, but later sought and received direction from certain regulators active in international work streams, who advised that the scope should encompass IAIGs only.
   - The Working Group discussed this concept on Nov. 7, Nov. 16 and Dec. 3, 2014. During this time period, there was some communication between the Working Group and the ComFrame Development and Analysis (G) Working Group related to this issue and a question concerning the need for discretionary language. This communication took place largely because of the correlation between the scope of groups covered under the changes to Model #440 and the scope of groups covered under ComFrame. However, on Dec. 3, the Working Group made it clear that it was not adopting ComFrame within the changes to this model, and that if the NAIC chooses to adopt portions of ComFrame, other future changes may need to be made to the model. However, completion of ComFrame is not expected for a significant period of time.
   - The revised Model #440 does not contain such regulator discretionary language.

c. Section 7.1.B—Factors for Determining the Group-Wide Supervisor.
   - The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group originally proposed factors as included in the Pennsylvania statute.
   - All industry trade associations expressed concerns with the proposed factors, including most notably the inclusion of a factor for the domicile of the ultimate controlling party. The industry trade associations suggested factors related to specific entities should be focused on the insurance legal entities as opposed to non-insurance legal entities. The Working Group agreed to make such changes.
   - The industry trade associations were split on the manner in which to consider the factors. Some industry trade associations were interested in a tiered approach that placed the greatest emphasis on 1) the place of domicile of the largest insurer(s) within the group; and 2) the place of domicile of the top-tiered insurer in the group. Under the tiered approach, other criteria would only be considered if the determination was unclear after applying these two factors. Other industry trade associations were interested in equal consideration of all factors being considered, similar to the existing Financial Analysis Handbook guidance.
   - The Working Group decided to reject the tiering approach and instead consider all factors. In adopting the all-factor approach, the Working Group adopted additional changes on its Dec. 3, 2014, conference call, including a proposal by one trade association intended to address concerns regarding the potential difference in results between the two approaches.
   - The revised Model #440 utilizes the all-factor approach.

d. Section 7.1.E(3)—Authority of the Group-Wide Supervisor.
   - The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group originally included authority as exists in the Pennsylvania statute.
   - All industry trade associations expressed concern with this aspect of the Pennsylvania language and, more specifically, how it may provide the insurance commissioner with extraterritorial jurisdiction over entities domiciled elsewhere. The industry developed revised language authorizing the commissioner to exercise authority to require mitigation of enterprise risks, but such authority must be exercised in coordination with other jurisdictions.
   - The revised Model #440 contains language as proposed by the industry.

e. Section 7.1.E(6)—Other Authority of the Group-Wide Supervisor.
   - The Group Solvency Issues (E) Working Group originally included authority as included in the Pennsylvania statute, including what has been described as a "catch-all provision."
   - All of the industry trade associations expressed concern that such authority was too broad, and needed to be narrowed to where such authority was specified, or at least consistent with the intended scope of considering the enterprise risk of the group. The Working Group rejected the industry suggestion of deleting the "catch-all provision," as well as alternative language proposed by the industry at the 2014 Fall National Meeting.
   - Subsequent to the 2014 Fall National Meeting, the industry trade associations submitted revised proposed language to address the intent of the Working Group. The Working Group adopted the revised language on a Dec. 3, 2014, conference call.

6. Any Other Important Information

Because the scope of the proposed changes to Model #440 limit its applicability to groups with a) premiums written in at least three countries; b) the percentage of gross premiums written outside the United States is at least ten percent (10%) of the insurance holding company system's total gross written premiums; and c) groups with total assets of the insurance holding company system are at least $50 billion or total gross written premiums of the insurance holding company of at least $10 billion, there may be some question whether this language is necessary for the states that would not be considered the lead state for such a group. However, because the groups that do meet the above criteria tend to operate in the vast majority of the states, and the proposed changes to Model #440 discuss the authority of domestic regulators to cooperate together to require certain action by the insurance holding company, it is recommended that all states consider enacting this statutory language.

PROJECT HISTORY – 2011

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS (#450)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In the wake of the recent financial crisis as well as discussions regarding group supervision that have been taking place in the international regulatory community, U.S. state insurance regulators have become aware of the necessity to enhance the insurance Holding Company System Model Act (Model #440) and the Insurance Holding Company System Model Regulation with Reporting Forms and Instructions (Model #450) to address group supervision. At the heart of the lessons learned from the recent financial crisis is the ability of regulators to be able to assess the enterprise risk within a holding company system and its impact on an insurer within the group.

As recommended by the Group Solvency Issues (EX) Working Group, the U.S. insurer solvency regime should consider incorporating certain prudential benefits of group supervision, providing a clearer window into group operations, while building upon, the existing walls which provide solvency protection. Ultimately, this enhanced "windows and walls" approach should provide greater and much needed breadth and scope to solvency regulation while retaining the highest level of policyholder protection that exists currently. The concepts addressed in the enhanced "windows and walls" approach include such items, such as: communication between regulators; supervisory colleges; access to and collection of information; and enforcement measures.

The first step to accomplish building better windows is by addressing some of these topics as well as lessons learned during the recent financial crisis through enhancements to the insurance holding company laws and regulations.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Group Solvency Issues Working Group of the Executive (EX) Committee was charged by the Financial Condition (E) Committee with drafting revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The 2010 members of the Working Group that drafted and adopted the revised models on June 14, 2010, were: Nebraska and Texas (co-Chairs), California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

During the February 11, 2009, conference call, the Financial Condition (E) Committee agreed to revise the holding company models, but suggested the technical work be delegated to a Working Group under the Solvency Modernization Initiative (EX) Task Force that was working on other group related initiatives. Based on this recommendation and referral, the Task Force drafted charges for a new working group that would focus on groups issues, including the NAIC Holding Company Models. The Working Group's charges related to the models were as follows:

- Study the need to modify the Holding Company Model Act by gathering input from all states regarding the use of the existing model and its effectiveness in addressing the issues that exist within insurer groups, particularly considering issues identified during this most recent economic downturn. At the conclusion of such study, provide a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.
- Study the international solvency issues related to groups and the need to modify the Holding Company Model Act for any proposed changes in this area. This study should include consideration of the interaction between federal and state financial regulators and any changes that would be necessary to improve regulatory oversight provided by the Holding Company Model Act. At the conclusion of such study, provide a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

On August 18, 2009, the Financial Condition (E) Committee via electronic vote adopted the model law development form related to models #440 and #450. It was adopted by Executive and Plenary during the 2009 Fall National Meeting.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

An initial survey of state insurance regulators and industry was conducted in June 2009 to gather ideas for areas of focus in drafting revisions to the Models focusing on area where the Models need improvement based on states' experience and the need for more focus on group issues. Twelve states submitted initial proposed language to address the eleven key topics identified in the initial survey.

Many open meetings were conducted to discuss this project. During these meetings, comment letters were discussed, and language was drafted (with some sections specifically assigned to interested parties or interested regulators to draft). Between May 2009 and June 2010, the Working Group conducted 15 public conference calls, five public meetings at NAIC National Meetings and one public interim hearing in June 2010. Financial Condition (E) Committee conducted three public conference calls.

Exposure drafts were released for public comment at multiple times. Public comment periods included December 2009, January 2010, March 2010, May 2010, June 2010 and July 2010.

All comment letters were considered and discussed by the Working Group in public sessions. In total, 27 comment letters were received from regulators and 36 comment letters were received from interested parties. Additionally, Financial Condition (E) Committee received and considered ten comment letters (one regulator and nine interested parties).

On June 18, 2010 the Working Group unanimously adopted revisions to Model #440 and #450 to be sent to Financial Condition (E) Committee for the Committee's consideration with the caveat that centralization data collection and confidentiality of enterprise risk supplemental filing should be addressed by Executive. E Committee met three times on August 5th adopted the revisions to the Models to be sent to Exec/Plenary.

Subsequent Discussions (Post Adoption by Financial Condition (E) Committee) – Director Ann Frohman and Danny Saenz, Chairs of GSIWG, and NAIC Legal and Executive Staff have engaged in numerous discussions with certain large industry trade organizations regarding the centralized filing of information at the NAIC. During these discussions these industry organizations were given significant time and opportunity to provide a compromise and to discuss these issues.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

The following topics for revisions within the Models were discussed extensively with regulators and interested parties:

a. Model #440 Section 1—definitions of "enterprise risk".
   - Purpose of this change is to define a new term used in other revisions within the model.
   - This topic was addressed on GSIWG conference calls and the June 4th hearing. Interested party comments generally suggested replacing the definition of "contagion" with "enterprise risk', and voiced concerns with the phrase "has the potential" and with the term "contagion" being speculative. Comments were heard and discussed. Definitions of contagion was eliminated enterprise risk was incorporated in the model.

b. Model #440 Section 3A4—Notification of divestiture of controlling interests.
   - Purpose of this change is to allow for notification to the state of any divestiture of controlling interests. Regulators' have experienced divestitures that were not in the best interest of the policyholders and where regulators were not given prior notice.
   - This topic was introduced on the May 14th call with a separate exposure document released for comment. It was further discussed on the subsequent calls and the June 4th hearing. The GSIWG heard and discussed comments and made certain edits as a result.

c. Model #440 Sections 3B12, 3B13, 4B8, 11F and Model #450 Form A Item #13 & Form B Item #9—The filing of a report of the ultimate controlling person which identifies material risks within the insurance holding company system that could pose financial and/or reputational contagion to the insurer and potential sanctions.
   - This change is in response to recent economic downturns and worldwide discussions on contagion risk within the financial sector. It is also in response to regulators' experience regarding the financial impact that non-insurance entities within the group can have on an insurance company's financial solvency. The change is intended to provide regulators with more information about potential risks to the insurer.
   - This topic was discussed on multiple calls, revised and new draft language was re-released for public comment. Subsequent edits were also made. Interested party comments primarily focusing on this section being too broad, inconsistent, and creation of the presumption that insurers need to over-comply with the provision in order to cover all foreseeable circumstances in their reporting were heard and discussed on subsequent calls and the June 4th hearing.

d. Model #440 Section 4B5—Providing insurance holding company system financial statements.
   - This change is intended to provide regulators with access to more insurance holding company system information through the filing of holding company financial statements.
   - This topic was discussed on multiple GSIWG calls. Interested parties were heard and given the opportunity to submit optional draft language regarding SEC filings. Edits to the original draft language were made regarding the acceptance of SEC filings.

e. Revisions as they relate to corporate governance including 1) Model #440 section 4B7 —Statements of the Board of Directors; and 2) Model #440 Section 5C—Independence of Board of directors and committees no longer being optional language and the section edited so as not to conflict with the Model Audit Rule.
   - Section 4B7 requires the insurer's board of directors to make statements regarding the corporate governance and internal control responsibilities within the registration statement. Section 5C was changed to no longer be an "optional" section of the model by the Working Group but was revered by the E Committee. The section addresses board of director composition and committee responsibilities (which were edited to be in line with the Model Audit Rule). Additionally, a new paragraph with criteria for waiving the insurer from the requirements of the section was added.
   - These topics were discussed on multiple GSIWG calls and were referred to the Corporate Governance (EX) Working Group (CGWG). It was discussed by CGWG on two public conference calls where interested party comments were considered. Interested party concerns primarily related to suggestions to remove corporate governance language as it was felt is was not appropriate in these models or if not removed to modify the language to reflect that management was "responsible for" and that boards "oversee" rather than stating boards were "responsible for". CGWG made some edits, however retaining the "board is responsible for…" language and the no longer optional section 5C, and sent recommendations to GSIWG. GSIWG heard additional discussion at the June 4th hearing and made edits to section 5C waiver language.

f. Model #440 Section 4K—Disclaimer of affiliation.
   - The change includes language regarding disallowance of a disclaimer of affiliation and request for an administrative hearing.
   - GSIWG discussed this recommended change on the Feb. 26th call and the June 4th hearing. Comments regarding wording changes were heard and edits were made.

g. Model #440 Section 5A1b and Model #450 Section 19. Requirements of agreements for cost sharing services and management.
   - The intent of these changes is to provide minimum requirements for the agreements for cost sharing and management services in order to eliminate the potential for capital to flow out of the insurer through these types of agreements.
   - This topic was discussed on several GSIWG calls. Interested party comments were heard and considered. Numerous edits were made to the original draft language.

h. Model #440 Section 5A2—Amendments or modifications of affiliated agreements.
   - The change requires notification of amendments and modifications to affiliated transactions including requirements for the notification. Included in the change is the addition of notification of all reinsurance pooling agreements and agreements that are projected to be material to surplus.
   - This topic was discussed on several GSIWG calls and the June 4th hearing. Numerous edits were made to the original draft language.

i. Model #440 Section 6—Examination of affiliates, access to books and records and compelling production of information as it relates to examinations.
   - The changes to Section 6 are intended to give regulators power to examine the insurer and its affiliates, to provide better access to books and records of affiliated entities within the insurance holding company system and to compel the insurer to provide that access to those books and records in an effort to better ascertain the financial condition of the insurer and any contagion risk within the insurance holding company system.
   - The GSIWG addressed the topic on multiple conference calls including allowing interested parties to provide optional language. Interested parties expressed concerns about the potential for penalties and that the ability to examine an affiliate was overly broad and exceeded state jurisdictions. Proposed optional language was not accepted by GSIWG.

j. Model #440 Section 7—Supervisory Colleges.
   - As there is a world-wide push for more group-wide supervision of insurance holding company systems with international operations, this new section provides the regulators the authority to recoup expenses incurred for attending or conducting supervisory colleges from domestic insurers whose group is engaging in international activities.
   - The Supervisory Colleges and Methods of Cross-Border Communication (EX) Subgroup met in open session and drafted the language for this new section of Model #440.

- This topic was discussed on by the GSIWG and interested party comments were heard and considered. A few edits were made to the section by GSIWG.

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS

Table of Contents

Section 1. Authority

These regulations are promulgated pursuant to the authority granted by Sections [insert applicable sections] and [insert applicable section] of the Insurance Law.

Drafting Note: Optional for those states in which similar provisions are normally used.

Section 2. Purpose

The purpose of these regulations is to set forth rules and procedural requirements which the Commissioner deems necessary to carry out the provisions of the NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act [insert applicable sections] of the Insurance Code hereinafter referred to as "the Act." The information called for by these regulations is hereby declared to be necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of the policyholders in this State.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

Drafting Note: Optional for those states in which similar provisions are normally used.

Section 3. Severability Clause

If any provision of these regulations, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such determination shall not affect other provisions or applications of these regulations which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to that end the provisions of these regulations are severable.

Drafting Note: Optional for those states in which similar provisions are normally used.

Section 4. Forms - General Requirements

A. Forms A, B, C, D, E and F are intended to be guides in the preparation of the statements required by Sections 3, 3.1, 4, and 5 of the Act. They are not intended to be blank forms which are to be filled in. The statements filed shall contain the numbers and captions of all items, but the text of the items may be omitted provided the answers thereto are prepared in such a manner as to indicate clearly the scope and coverage of the items. All instructions, whether appearing under the items of the form or elsewhere therein, are to be omitted. Unless expressly provided otherwise, if any item is inapplicable or the answer thereto is in the negative, an appropriate statement to that effect shall be made.

B. [Insert number] complete copies of each statement including exhibits and all other papers and documents filed as a part thereof, shall be filed with the Commissioner by personal delivery or mail addressed to: Insurance Commissioner of the State of [insert state and address], Attention: [insert name - title]. At least one of the copies shall be signed in the manner prescribed on the form. Unsigned copies shall be conformed. If the signature of any person is affixed pursuant to a power of attorney or other similar authority, a copy of the power of attorney or other authority shall also be filed with the statement.

C. If an applicant requests a hearing on a consolidated basis under Section 3D(3) of the Act, in addition to filing the Form A with the commissioner, the applicant shall file a copy of Form A with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) in electronic form.

D. Statements should be prepared electronically. Statements shall be easily readable and suitable for review and reproduction. Debits in credit categories and credits in debit categories shall be designated so as to be clearly distinguishable as such on photocopies. Statements shall be in the English language and monetary values shall be stated in United States currency. If any exhibit or other paper or document filed with the statement is in a foreign language, it shall be accompanied by a translation into the English language and any monetary value shown in a foreign currency normally shall be converted into United States currency.

Drafting Note: Section 4 may be omitted if it is included as instructions on Forms A, B, C, D, E and F.

Section 5. Forms - Incorporation by Reference, Summaries and Omissions

A. Information required by any item of Form A, Form B, Form D, Form E or Form F may be incorporated by reference in answer or partial answer to any other item. Information contained in any financial statement, annual report, proxy statement, statement filed with a governmental authority, or any other document may be incorporated by reference in answer or partial answer to any item of Form A, Form B, Form D, Form E or Form F provided the document is filed as an exhibit to the statement. Excerpts of documents may be filed as exhibits if the documents are extensive. Documents currently on file with the Commissioner which were filed within three (3) years need not be attached as exhibits. References to information contained in exhibits or in documents already on file shall clearly identify the material and shall specifically indicate that such material is to be incorporated by reference in answer to the item. Matter shall not be incorporated by reference in any case where the incorporation would render the statement incomplete, unclear or confusing.

B. Where an item requires a summary or outline of the provisions of any document, only a brief statement shall be made as to the pertinent provisions of the document. In addition to the statement, the summary or outline may incorporate by reference particular parts of any exhibit or document currently on file with the Commissioner which was filed within three (3) years and may be qualified in its entirety by such reference. In any case where two (2) or more documents required to be filed as exhibits are substantially identical in all material respects except as to the parties thereto, the dates of execution, or other details, a copy of only one of the documents need be filed with a schedule identifying the omitted documents and setting forth the material details in which the documents differ from the documents, a copy of which is filed.

Drafting Note: Section 5 may be omitted if it is included as instructions on Forms A, B, D, E and F.

Section 6. Forms-Information Unknown or Unavailable and Extension of Time to Furnish

If it is impractical to furnish any required information, document or report at the time it is required to be filed, there shall be filed with the Commissioner a separate document:

A. Identifying the information, document or report in question;

B. Stating why the filing thereof at the time required is impractical; and

C. Requesting an extension of time for filing the information, document or report to a specified date. The request for extension shall be deemed granted unless the Commissioner within [XX] days after receipt thereof enters an order denying the request.

Drafting Note: Section 6 may be omitted if it is included as instruction on Forms A, B, C, D, E and F.

Section 7. Forms - Additional Information and Exhibits

In addition to the information expressly required to be included in Form A, Form B, Form C, Form D, Form E and Form F, the Commissioner may request such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the information contained therein not misleading. The person filing may also file such exhibits as it may desire in addition to those expressly required by the statement. The exhibits shall be so marked as to indicate clearly the subject matters to which they refer. Changes to Forms A, B, C, D, E or F shall include on the top of the cover page the phrase: "Change No. [insert number] to" and shall indicate the date of the change and not the date of the original filing.

Drafting Note: Section 7 may be omitted if it included as instructions on Forms A, B, C, D, E and F.

Section 8. Definitions

A. "Executive officer" means chief executive officer, chief operating officer, chief financial officer, treasurer, secretary, controller, and any other individual performing functions corresponding to those performed by the foregoing officers under whatever title.

B. "Ultimate controlling person" means that person which is not controlled by any other person.

C. Unless the context otherwise requires, other terms found in these regulations and in Section 1 of the Act are used as defined in the Act. Other nomenclature or terminology is according to the Insurance Code, or industry usage if not defined by the Code.

Drafting Note: If regulation Section 2 is not adopted by the state, the following definition should be added to this section: "The Act" means the Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act [insert applicable sections of the Insurance Code].

Section 9. Subsidiaries of Domestic Insurers

The authority to invest in subsidiaries under Section 2B of the Act is in addition to any authority to invest in subsidiaries which may be contained in any other provision of the Insurance Code.

Section 10. Acquisition of Control - Statement Filing

A person required to file a statement pursuant to Section 3 of the Act shall furnish the required information on Form A, hereby made a part of this regulation. Such person shall also furnish the required information on Form E, hereby made a part of this regulation and described in Section 13 of this regulation.

Section 11. Amendments to Form A

The applicant shall promptly advise the Commissioner of any changes in the information furnished on Form A arising subsequent to the date upon which the information was furnished but prior to the Commissioner's disposition of the application.

Section 12. Acquisition of Section 3A(4) Insurers

A. If the person being acquired is deemed to be a "domestic insurer" solely because of the provisions of Section 3A(4) of the Act, the name of the domestic insurer on the cover page should be indicated as follows:

"ABC Insurance Company, a subsidiary of XYZ Holding Company."

B. Where a Section 3A(4) insurer is being acquired, references to "the insurer" contained in Form A shall refer to both the domestic subsidiary insurer and the person being acquired.

Section 13. Pre-Acquisition Notification

If a domestic insurer, including any person controlling a domestic insurer, is proposing a merger or acquisition pursuant to Section 3A(1) of the Act, that person shall file a pre-acquisition notification form, Form E, which was developed pursuant to Section 3.1C(1) of the Act.

Additionally, if a non-domiciliary insurer licensed to do business in this state is proposing a merger or acquisition pursuant to Section 3.1 of the Act, that person shall file a pre-acquisition notification form, Form E. No pre-acquisition notification form need be filed if the acquisition is beyond the scope of Section 3.1 as set forth in Section 3.1B(2).

In addition to the information required by Form E, the Commissioner may wish to require an expert opinion as to the competitive impact of the proposed acquisition.

Section 14. Annual Registration of Insurers - Statement Filing

An insurer required to file an annual registration statement pursuant to Section 4 of the Act shall furnish the required information on Form B, hereby made a part of these regulations.

Section 15. Summary of Registration - Statement Filing

An insurer required to file an annual registration statement pursuant to Section 4 of the Act is also required to furnish information required on Form C, hereby made a part of these regulations.

Section 16. Amendments to Form B

A. An amendment to Form B shall be filed within fifteen (15) days after the end of any month in which there is a material change to the information provided in the annual registration statement.

B. Amendments shall be filed in the Form B format with only those items which are being amended reported. Each amendment shall include at the top of the cover page "Amendment No. [insert number] to Form B for [insert year]" and shall indicate the date of the change and not the date of the original filings.

Drafting Note: Section 16 may be omitted if Section 5A(2) of the Model Act has been adopted and amendments to the registration statement are therefore not required by the Act.

Section 17. Alternative and Consolidated Registrations

A. Any authorized insurer may file a registration statement on behalf of any affiliated insurer or insurers which are required to register under Section 4 of the Act. A registration statement may include information not required by the Act regarding any insurer in the insurance holding company system even if the insurer is not authorized to do business in this State. In lieu of filing a registration statement on Form B, the authorized insurer may file a copy of the registration statement or similar report which it is required to file in its State of domicile, provided:

(1) The statement or report contains substantially similar information required to be furnished on Form B; and

(2) The filing insurer is the principal insurance company in the insurance holding company system.

B. The question of whether the filing insurer is the principal insurance company in the insurance holding company system is a question of fact and an insurer filing a registration statement or report in lieu of Form B on behalf of an affiliated insurer, shall set forth a brief statement of facts which will substantiate the filing insurer's claim that it, in fact, is the principal insurer in the insurance holding company system.

C. With the prior approval of the Commissioner, an unauthorized insurer may follow any of the procedures which could be done by an authorized insurer under Subsection A above.

D. Any insurer may take advantage of the provisions of Section 4H or 4I of the Act without obtaining the prior approval of the Commissioner. The Commissioner, however, reserves the right to require individual filings if he or she deems such filings necessary in the interest of clarity, ease of administration or the public good.

Section 18. Disclaimers and Termination of Registration

A. A disclaimer of affiliation or a request for termination of registration claiming that a person does not, or will not upon the taking of some proposed action, control another person (hereinafter referred to as the "subject") shall contain the following information:

(1) The number of authorized, issued and outstanding voting securities of the subject;

(2) With respect to the person whose control is denied and all affiliates of such person, the number and percentage of shares of the subject's voting securities which are held of record or known to be beneficially owned, and the number of shares concerning which there is a right to acquire, directly or indirectly;

(3) All material relationships and bases for affiliation between the subject and the person whose control is denied and all affiliates of such person;

(4) A statement explaining why the person should not be considered to control the subject.

B. A request for termination of registration shall be deemed to have been granted unless the Commissioner, within thirty (30) days after receipt of the request, notifies the registrant otherwise.

Section 19. Transactions Subject to Prior Notice - Notice Filing

A. An insurer required to give notice of a proposed transaction pursuant to Section 5 of the Act shall furnish the required information on Form D, hereby made a part of these regulations.

B. Agreements for cost sharing services and management services shall at a minimum and as applicable:

(1) Identify the person providing services and the nature of such services;

(2) Set forth the methods to allocate costs;

(3) Require timely settlement, not less frequently than on a quarterly basis, and compliance with the requirements in the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual;

(4) Prohibit advancement of funds by the insurer to the affiliate except to pay for services defined in the agreement;

(5) State that the insurer will maintain oversight for functions provided to the insurer by the affiliate and that the insurer will monitor services annually for quality assurance;

(6) Define records and data of the insurer to include all records and data developed or maintained under or related to the agreement that are otherwise the property of the insurer, in whatever form maintained, including, but not limited to, claims and claim files, policyholder lists, application files, litigation files, premium records, rate books, underwriting manuals, personnel records, financial records or similar records within the possession, custody or control of the affiliate;

(7) Specify that all records and data of the insurer are and remain the property of the insurer, and:

(a) Are subject to control of the insurer;

(b) Are identifiable; and

(c) Are segregated from all other persons' records and data or are readily capable of segregation at no additional cost to the insurer;

Drafting Note: The "at no additional cost to the insurer" language is not intended to prohibit recovery of the fair and reasonable cost associated with transferring records and data to the insurer. Since records and data of the insurer are the property of the insurer, the insurer should not pay a cost to segregate commingled records and data from other data of the affiliate.

(8) State that all funds and invested assets of the insurer are the exclusive property of the insurer, held for the benefit of the insurer and are subject to the control of the insurer;

(9) Include standards for termination of the agreement with and without cause;

(10) Include provisions for indemnification of the insurer in the event of gross negligence or willful misconduct on the part of the affiliate providing the services and for any actions by the affiliate that violate provisions of the agreement required in Subsections 19B(11), 19B(12), 19B(13), 19B(14) and 19B(15) of this regulation;

(11) Specify that if the insurer is placed in supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership pursuant to [supervision and receivership acts]:

(a) All of the rights of the insurer under the agreement extend to the receiver or commissioner to the extent permitted by [law of the state];

(b) All records and data of the insurer shall be identifiable and segregated from all other persons' records and data or readily capable of segregation at no additional cost to the receiver or the commissioner;

Drafting Note: The "at no additional cost to the receiver or the commissioner" language is not intended to prohibit recovery of the fair and reasonable cost associated with transferring records and data to the receiver or the commissioner. Since records and data of the insurer are the property of the insurer, the receiver or commissioner should not pay a cost to segregate commingled records and data from other data of the affiliate.

(c) A complete set of records and data of the insurer will immediately be made available to the receiver or the commissioner, shall be made available in a usable format and shall be turned over to the receiver or commissioner immediately upon the receiver or the commissioner's request, and the cost to transfer data to the receiver or the commissioner shall be fair and reasonable; and,

Drafting Note: The fair and reasonable cost to transfer data to the receiver or commissioner refers to the cost associated with physically or electronically transferring records and data files to the receiver or commissioner. This cost does not include costs to separate comingled data and records that should have been segregated or readily capable of segregation.

(d) The affiliated person(s) will make available all employees essential to the operations of the insurer and the services associated therewith for the immediate continued performance of the essential services ordered or directed by the receiver or commissioner;

(12) Specify that the affiliate has no automatic right to terminate the agreement if the insurer is placed into supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership pursuant to [supervision and receivership acts];

(13) Specify that the affiliate will provide the essential services for a minimum period of time [specified in the agreement] after termination of the agreement, if the insurer is placed into supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership pursuant to [supervision and receivership acts], as ordered or directed by the receiver or commissioner. Performance of the essential services will continue to be provided without regard to pre-receivership unpaid fees, so long as the affiliate continues to receive timely payment for post-receivership services rendered, and unless released by the receiver, commissioner or supervising court;

(14) Specify that the affiliate will continue to maintain any systems, programs or other infrastructure, notwithstanding supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership pursuant to [supervision and receivership acts], and will make them available to the receiver or commissioner as ordered or directed by the receiver or commissioner for so long as the affiliate continues to receive timely payment for post-receivership services rendered, and unless released by the receiver, commissioner or supervising court; and

(15) Specify that, in furtherance of the cooperation between the receiver and the affected guaranty association(s) and subject to the receiver's authority over the insurer, if the insurer is placed into supervision, seizure, conservatorship or receivership pursuant to [supervision and receivership acts], and portions of the insurer's policies or contracts are eligible for coverage by one or more guaranty associations, the affiliate's commitments under Subsections 19B(11), 19B(12), 19B(13) and 19B(14) of this regulation will extend to such guaranty association(s).

Section 20. Enterprise Risk Report

The ultimate controlling person of an insurer required to file an enterprise risk report pursuant to Section 4L(1) of the Act shall furnish the required information on Form F, hereby made a part of these regulations.

Section 21. Group Capital Calculation

A. Where an insurance holding company system has previously filed the annual group capital calculation at least once, the lead state commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation if the lead state commissioner makes a determination based upon that filing that the insurance holding company system meets all of the following criteria:

(1) Has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium (including international direct and assumed premium), but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program, of less than $1,000,000,000;

(2) Has no insurers within its holding company structure that are domiciled outside of the United States or one of its territories;

(3) Has no banking, depository or other financial entity that is subject to an identified regulatory capital framework within its holding company structure;

(4) The holding company system attests that there are no material changes in the transactions between insurers and non-insurers in the group that have occurred since the last filing of the annual group capital; and

(5) The non-insurers within the holding company system do not pose a material financial risk to the insurer's ability to honor policyholder obligations.

B. Where an insurance holding company system has previously filed the annual group capital calculation at least once, the lead state commissioner has the discretion to accept in lieu of the group capital calculation a limited group capital filing if:

(1) The insurance holding company system has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium (including international direct and assumed premium), but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program, of less than $1,000,000,000; and all of the following additional criteria are met:

(a) Has no insurers within its holding company structure that are domiciled outside of the United States or one of its territories;

(b) Does not include a banking, depository or other financial entity that is subject to an identified regulatory capital framework; and

(c) The holding company system attests that there are no material changes in transactions between insurers and non-insurers in the group that have occurred since the last filing of the report to the lead state commissioner and the non-insurers within the holding company system do not pose a material financial risk to the insurers ability to honor policyholder obligations.

C. For an insurance holding company that has previously met an exemption with respect to the group capital calculation pursuant Section 21A or 21B of this regulation, the lead state commissioner may require at any time the ultimate controlling person to file an annual group capital calculation, completed in accordance with the NAIC Group Capital Calculation Instructions, if any of the following criteria are met:

(1) Any insurer within the insurance holding company system is in a Risk-Based Capital action level event as set forth in [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Risk-Based Capital (RBC) Model Act] or a similar standard for a non-U.S. insurer; or

(2) Any insurer within the insurance holding company system meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Model Regulation to Define Standards and Commissioner's Authority for Companies Deemed to be in Hazardous Financial Condition]; or

(3) Any insurer within the insurance holding company system otherwise exhibits qualities of a troubled insurer as determined by the lead state commissioner based on unique circumstances including, but not limited to, the type and volume of business written, ownership and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests.

D. A non-U.S. jurisdiction is considered to "recognize and accept" the group capital calculation if it satisfies the following criteria:

(1) With respect to the [insert cross-reference to Section 4L(2)(d) of the Model Act]

(a) The non-U.S. jurisdiction recognizes the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital, by providing confirmation by a competent regulatory authority, in such jurisdiction, that insurers and insurance groups whose lead state is accredited by the NAIC under the NAIC Accreditation Program shall be subject only to worldwide prudential insurance group supervision including worldwide group governance, solvency and capital, and reporting, as applicable, by the lead state and will not be subject to group supervision, including worldwide group governance, solvency and capital, and reporting, at the level of the worldwide parent undertaking of the insurance or reinsurance group by the non-U.S. jurisdiction; or

(b) Where no U.S. insurance groups operate in the non-U.S. jurisdiction, that non-U.S. jurisdiction indicates formally in writing to the lead state with a copy to the International Association of Insurance Supervisors that the group capital calculation is an acceptable international capital standard. This will serve as the documentation otherwise required in Section 21D(1)(a).

(2) The non-U.S. jurisdiction provides confirmation by a competent regulatory authority in such jurisdiction that information regarding insurers and their parent, subsidiary, or affiliated entities, if applicable, shall be provided to the lead state commissioner in accordance with a memorandum of understanding or similar document between the commissioner and such jurisdiction, including but not limited to the International Association of Insurance Supervisors Multilateral Memorandum of Understanding or other multilateral memoranda of understanding coordinated by the NAIC. The commissioner shall determine, in consultation with the NAIC Committee Process, if the requirements of the information sharing agreements are in force.

E. A list of non-U.S. jurisdictions that "recognize and accept" the group capital calculation will be published through the NAIC Committee Process:

(1) A list of jurisdictions that "recognize and accept" the group capital calculation pursuant to [insert cross-reference to Sections 4L(2)(d)], is published through the NAIC Committee Process to assist the lead state commissioner in determining which insurers shall file an annual group capital calculation. The list will clarify those situations in which a jurisdiction is exempted from filing under [insert cross-reference to Sections 4L(2)(d)]. To assist with a determination under 4L(2)(e), the list will also identify whether a jurisdiction that is exempted under either [insert cross-reference to Sections 4L(2)(c) and 4L(2)(d)] requires a group capital filing for any U.S. based insurance group's operations in that non-U.S. jurisdiction.

(2) For a non-U.S. jurisdiction where no U.S. insurance groups operate, the confirmation provided to meet the requirement of Section 21D(1)(b) will serve as support for recommendation to be published as a jurisdiction that "recognizes and accepts" the group capital calculation through the NAIC Committee Process.

(3) If the lead state commissioner makes a determination pursuant to Section 4L(2)(d) that differs from the NAIC List, the lead state commissioner shall provide thoroughly documented justification to the NAIC and other states.

(4) Upon determination by the lead state commissioner that a non-U.S. jurisdiction no longer meets one or more of the requirements to "recognize and accept" the group capital calculation, the lead state commissioner may provide a recommendation to the NAIC that the non-U.S. jurisdiction be removed from the list of jurisdictions that "recognize and accepts" the group capital calculation.

Section 22. Extraordinary Dividends and Other Distributions

A. Requests for approval of extraordinary dividends or any other extraordinary distribution to shareholders shall include the following:

(1) The amount of the proposed dividend;

(2) The date established for payment of the dividend;

(3) A statement as to whether the dividend is to be in cash or other property and, if in property, a description thereof, its cost, and its fair market value together with an explanation of the basis for valuation;

(4) A copy of the calculations determining that the proposed dividend is extraordinary. The work paper shall include the following information:

(a) The amounts, dates and form of payment of all dividends or distributions (including regular dividends but excluding distributions of the insurer's own securities) paid within the period of twelve (12) consecutive months ending on the date fixed for payment of the proposed dividend for which approval is sought and commencing on the day after the same day of the same month in the last preceding year;

(b) Surplus as regards policyholders (total capital and surplus) as of the 31st day of December next preceding;

(c) If the insurer is a life insurer, the net gain from operations for the 12-month period ending the 31st day of December next preceding;

(d) If the insurer is not a life insurer, the net income less realized capital gains for the 12-month period ending the 31st day of December next preceding and the two preceding 12-month periods; and

(e) If the insurer is not a life insurer, the dividends paid to stockholders excluding distributions of the insurer's own securities in the preceding two (2) calendar years;

(5) A balance sheet and statement of income for the period intervening from the last annual statement filed with the Commissioner and the end of the month preceding the month in which the request for dividend approval is submitted; and

(6) A brief statement as to the effect of the proposed dividend upon the insurer's surplus and the reasonableness of surplus in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and the adequacy of surplus relative to the insurer's financial needs.

B. Subject to Section 5B of the Act, each registered insurer shall report to the Commissioner all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within fifteen (15) business days following the declaration thereof, including the same information required by Subsection A(4).

Section 23. Adequacy of Surplus

The factors set forth in Section 5D of the Act are not intended to be an exhaustive list. In determining the adequacy and reasonableness of an insurer's surplus no single factor is necessarily controlling. The Commissioner instead will consider the net effect of all of these factors plus other factors bearing on the financial condition of the insurer. In comparing the surplus maintained by other insurers, the Commissioner will consider the extent to which each of these factors varies from company to company and in determining the quality and liquidity of investments in subsidiaries, the Commissioner will consider the individual subsidiary and may discount or disallow its valuation to the extent that the individual investments so warrant.

Name of Acquiring Person (Applicant)

Filed with the Insurance Department of

(State of domicile of insurer being acquired)

Dated:_____, 20_____

Name, Title, address and telephone number of Individual to Whom Notices and Correspondence Concerning this Statement Should be Addressed:

ITEM 1. METHOD OF ACQUISITION

State the name and address of the domestic insurer to which this application relates and a brief description of how control is to be acquired.

ITEM 2. IDENTITY AND BACKGROUND OF THE APPLICANT

(a) State the name and address of the applicant seeking to acquire control over the insurer.

(b) If the applicant is not an individual, state the nature of its business operations for the past 5 years or for such lesser period as such person and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence. Briefly describe the business intended to be done by the applicant and the applicant's subsidiaries.

(c) Furnish a chart or listing clearly presenting the identities of the interrelationships among the applicant and all affiliates of the applicant. Indicate in such chart or listing the percentage of voting securities of each such person which is owned or controlled by the applicant or by any other such person. If control of any person is maintained other than by the ownership or control of voting securities, indicate the basis of such control. As to each person specified in such chart or listing indicate the type of organization (e.g. corporation, trust, partnership) and the state or other jurisdiction of domicile. If court proceedings involving a reorganization or liquidation are pending with respect to any such person, indicate which person, and set forth the title of the court, nature of proceedings and the date when commenced.

ITEM 3. IDENTITY AND BACKGROUND OF INDIVIDUALS ASSOCIATED WITH THE APPLICANT

On the biographical affidavit, include a third party background check, and state the following with respect to (1) the applicant if (s)he is an individual or (2) all persons who are directors, executive officers or owners of 10% or more of the voting securities of the applicant if the applicant is not an individual.

(a) Name and business address.

(b) Present principal business activity, occupation or employment including position and office held and the name, principal business and address of any corporation or other organization in which such employment is carried on.

(c) Material occupations, positions, offices or employment during the last 5 years, giving the starting and ending dates of each and the name, principal business and address of any business corporation or other organization in which each such occupation, position, office or employment was carried on; if any such occupation, position, office or employment required licensing by or registration with any federal, state or municipal governmental agency, indicate such fact, the current status of such licensing or registration, and an explanation of any surrender, revocation, suspension or disciplinary proceedings in connection therewith.

(d) Whether or not such person has ever been convicted in a criminal proceeding (excluding minor traffic violations) during the last 10 years and, if so, give the date, nature of conviction, name and location of court, and penalty imposed or other disposition of the case.

ITEM 4. NATURE, SOURCE AND AMOUNT OF CONSIDERATION

(a) Describe the nature, source and amount of funds or other considerations used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control. If any part of the same is represented or is to be represented by funds or other consideration borrowed or otherwise obtained for the purpose of acquiring, holding or trading securities, furnish a description of the transaction, the names of the parties thereto, the relationship, if any, between the borrower and the lender, the amounts borrowed or to be borrowed, and copies of all agreements, promissory notes and security arrangements relating thereto.

(b) Explain the criteria used in determining the nature and amount of such consideration.

(c) If the source of the consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordinary course of business and if the applicant wishes the identity of the lender to remain confidential, he must specifically request that the identity be kept confidential.

ITEM 5. FUTURE PLANS OF INSURER

Describe any plans or proposals which the applicant may have to declare an extraordinary dividend, to liquidate the insurer, to sell its assets to or merge it with any person or persons or to make any other material change in its business operations or corporate structure or management.

ITEM 6. VOTING SECURITIES TO BE ACQUIRED

State the number of shares of the insurer's voting securities which the applicant, its affiliates and any person listed in Item 3 plan to acquire, and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition, and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at.

ITEM 7. OWNERSHIP OF VOTING SECURITIES

State the amount of each class of any voting security of the insurer which is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by the applicant, its affiliates or any person listed in Item 3.

ITEM 8. CONTRACTS, ARRANGEMENTS, OR UNDERSTANDINGS WITH RESPECT TO VOTING SECURITIES OF THE INSURER

Give a full description of any contracts, arrangements or understandings with respect to any voting security of the insurer in which the applicant, its affiliates or any person listed in Item 3 is involved, including but not limited to transfer of any of the securities, joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against loss or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. Such description shall identify the persons with whom the contracts, arrangements or understandings have been entered into.

ITEM 9. RECENT PURCHASES OF VOTING SECURITIES

Describe any purchases of any voting securities of the insurer by the applicant, its affiliates or any person listed in Item 3 during the 12 calendar months preceding the filing of this statement. Include in the description the dates of purchase, the names of the purchasers, and the consideration paid or agreed to be paid therefor. State whether any shares so purchased are hypothecated.

ITEM 10. RECENT RECOMMENDATIONS TO PURCHASE

Describe any recommendations to purchase any voting security of the insurer made by the applicant, its affiliates or any person listed in Item 3, or by anyone based upon interviews or at the suggestion of the applicant, its affiliates or any person listed in Item 3 during the 12 calendar months preceding the filing of this statement.

ITEM 11. AGREEMENTS WITH BROKER-DEALERS

Describe the terms of any agreement, contract or understanding made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of voting securities of the insurer for tender and the amount of any fees, commissions or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard thereto.

ITEM 12. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND EXHIBITS

(a) Financial statements, exhibits, and three-year financial projections of the insurer(s) shall be attached to this statement as an appendix, but list under this item the financial statements and exhibits so attached.

(b) The financial statements shall include the annual financial statements of the persons identified in Item 2(c) for the preceding 5 fiscal years (or for such lesser period as such applicant and its affiliates and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence), and similar information covering the period from the end of such person's last fiscal year, if the information is available. The statements may be prepared on either an individual basis, or, unless the Commissioner otherwise requires, on a consolidated basis if consolidated statements are prepared in the usual course of business.

The annual financial statements of the applicant shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent public accountant to the effect that such statements present fairly the financial position of the applicant and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or with requirements of insurance or other accounting principles prescribed or permitted under law. If the applicant is an insurer which is actively engaged in the business of insurance, the financial statements need not be certified, provided they are based on the Annual Statement of the person filed with the insurance department of the person's domiciliary state and are in accordance with the requirements of insurance or other accounting principles prescribed or permitted under the law and regulations of the state.

(c) File as exhibits copies of all tender offers for, requests or invitations for, tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any voting securities of the insurer and (if distributed) of additional soliciting material relating thereto, any proposed employment, consultation, advisory or management contracts concerning the insurer, annual reports to the stockholders of the insurer and the applicant for the last two fiscal years, and any additional documents or papers required by Form A or regulation Sections 4 and 6.

ITEM 13. AGREEMENT REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTERPRISE RISK MANAGEMENT

Applicant agrees to provide, to the best of its knowledge and belief, the information required by Form F within fifteen (15) days after the end of the month in which the acquisition of control occurs.

ITEM 14. SIGNATURE AND CERTIFICATION

Signature and certification required as follows:

ITEM 1. IDENTITY AND CONTROL OF REGISTRANT

Furnish the exact name of each insurer registering or being registered (hereinafter called "the Registrant"), the home office address and principal executive offices of each; the date on which each registrant became part of the insurance holding company system; and the method(s) by which control of each registrant was acquired and is maintained.

ITEM 2. ORGANIZATIONAL CHART

Furnish a chart or listing clearly presenting the identities of and interrelationships among all affiliated persons within the insurance holding company system. The chart or listing should show the percentage of each class of voting securities of each affiliate which is owned, directly or indirectly, by another affiliate. If control of any person within the system is maintained other than by the ownership or control of voting securities, indicate the basis of control. As to each person specified in the chart or listing indicate the type of organization (e.g., corporation, trust, partnership) and the state or other jurisdiction of domicile.

ITEM 3. THE ULTIMATE CONTROLLING PERSON

As to the ultimate controlling person in the insurance holding company system furnish the following information:

(a) Name;

(b) Home office address;

(c) Principal executive office address;

(d) The organizational structure of the person, i.e., corporation, partnership, individual, trust, etc.;

(e) The principal business of the person;

(f) The name and address of any person who holds or owns 10% or more of any class of voting security, the class of such security, the number of shares held of record or known to be beneficially owned, and the percentage of class so held or owned; and

(g) If court proceedings involving a reorganization or liquidation are pending, indicate the title and location of the court, the nature of proceedings and the date when commenced.

ITEM 4. BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

If the ultimate controlling person is a corporation, an organization, a limited liability company, or other legal entity, furnish the following information for the directors and executive officers of the ultimate controlling person: the individual's name and address, his or her principal occupation and all offices and positions held during the past 5 years, and any conviction of crimes other than minor traffic violations. If the ultimate controlling person is an individual, furnish the individual's name and address, his or her principal occupation and all offices and positions held during the past 5 years, and any conviction of crimes other than minor traffic violations.

ITEM 5. TRANSACTIONS AND AGREEMENTS

Briefly describe the following agreements in force, and transactions currently outstanding or which have occurred during the last calendar year between the registrant and its affiliates:

(a) Loans, other investments, or purchases, sales or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the Registrant or of the Registrant by its affiliates;

(b) Purchases, sales or exchanges of assets;

(c) Transactions not in the ordinary course of business;

(d) Guarantees or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate which result in an actual contingent exposure of the Registrant's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the registrant's business;

(e) All management agreements, service contracts and all cost-sharing arrangements;

(f) Reinsurance agreements;

(g) Dividends and other distributions to shareholders;

(h) Consolidated tax allocation agreements; and

(i) Any pledge of the registrant's stock and/or of the stock of any subsidiary or controlling affiliate, for a loan made to any member of the insurance holding company system.

No information need be disclosed if such information is not material for purposes of Section 4 of the Act.

Sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, investments or guarantees involving one-half of 1% or less of the registrant's admitted assets as of the 31st day of December next preceding shall not be deemed material.

Drafting Note: Commissioner may by rule, regulation or order provide otherwise.

The description shall be in a manner as to permit the proper evaluation thereof by the Commissioner, and shall include at least the following: the nature and purpose of the transaction, the nature and amounts of any payments or transfers of assets between the parties, the identity of all parties to the transaction, and relationship of the affiliated parties to the registrant.

ITEM 6. LITIGATION OR ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS

A brief description of any litigation or administrative proceedings of the following types, either then pending or concluded within the preceding fiscal year, to which the ultimate controlling person or any of its directors or executive officers was a party or of which the property of any such person is or was the subject; give the names of the parties and the court or agency in which the litigation or proceeding is or was pending:

(a) Criminal prosecutions or administrative proceedings by any government agency or authority which may be relevant to the trustworthiness of any party thereto; and

(b) Proceedings which may have a material effect upon the solvency or capital structure of the ultimate holding company including, but not necessarily limited to, bankruptcy, receivership or other corporate reorganizations.

ITEM 7. STATEMENT REGARDING PLAN OR SERIES OF TRANSACTIONS

The insurer shall furnish a statement that transactions entered into since the filing of the prior year's annual registration statement are not part of a plan or series of like transactions, the purpose of which is to avoid statutory threshold amounts and the review that might otherwise occur.

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND EXHIBITS

(a) Financial statements and exhibits should be attached to this statement as an appendix, but list under this item the financial statements and exhibits so attached.

(b) If the ultimate controlling person is a corporation, an organization, a limited liability company, or other legal entity, the financial statements shall include the annual financial statements of the ultimate controlling person in the insurance holding company system as of the end of the person's latest fiscal year.

If at the time of the initial registration, the annual financial statements for the latest fiscal year are not available, annual statements for the previous fiscal year may be filed and similar financial information shall be filed for any subsequent period to the extent such information is available. Such financial statements may be prepared on either an individual basis; or, unless the Commissioner otherwise requires, on a consolidated basis if consolidated statements are prepared in the usual course of business.

Other than with respect to the foregoing, such financial statement shall be filed in a standard form and format adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, unless an alternative form is accepted by the Commissioner. Documentation and financial statements filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission or audited GAAP financial statements shall be deemed to be an appropriate form and format.

Unless the Commissioner otherwise permits, the annual financial statements shall be accompanied by the certificate of an independent public accountant to the effect that the statements present fairly the financial position of the ultimate controlling person and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or with requirements of insurance or other accounting principles prescribed or permitted under law. If the ultimate controlling person is an insurer which is actively engaged in the business of insurance, the annual financial statements need not be certified, provided they are based on the Annual Statement of the insurer's domiciliary state and are in accordance with requirements of insurance or other accounting principles prescribed or permitted under the law and regulations of that state.

Any ultimate controlling person who is an individual may file personal financial statements that are reviewed rather than audited by an independent public accountant. The review shall be conducted in accordance with standards for review of personal financial statements published in the Personal Financial Statements Guide by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Personal financial statements shall be accompanied by the independent public accountant's Standard Review Report stating that the accountant is not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for the statements to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

(c) Exhibits shall include copies of the latest annual reports to shareholders of the ultimate controlling person and proxy material used by the ultimate controlling person; and any additional documents or papers required by Form B or regulation Sections 4 and 6.

ITEM 9. FORM C REQUIRED

A Form C, Summary of Changes to Registration Statement, must be prepared and filed with this Form B.

ITEM 10. SIGNATURE AND CERTIFICATION

Furnish a brief description of all items in the current annual registration statement which represent changes from the prior year's annual registration statement. The description shall be in a manner as to permit the proper evaluation thereof by the Commissioner, and shall include specific references to Item numbers in the annual registration statement and to the terms contained therein.

Changes occurring under Item 2 of Form B insofar as changes in the percentage of each class of voting securities held by each affiliate is concerned, need only be included where such changes are ones which result in ownership or holdings of 10% or more of voting securities, loss or transfer of control, or acquisition or loss of partnership interest.

Changes occurring under Item 4 of Form B need only be included where an individual is, for the first time, made a director or executive officer of the ultimate controlling person; a director or executive officer terminates his or her responsibilities with the ultimate controlling person; or in the event an individual is named president of the ultimate controlling person.

If a transaction disclosed on the prior year's annual registration statement has been changed, the nature of such change shall be included. If a transaction disclosed on the prior year's annual registration statement has been effectuated, furnish the mode of completion and any flow of funds between affiliates resulting from the transaction.

The insurer shall furnish a statement that transactions entered into since the filing of the prior year's annual registration statement are not part of a plan or series of like transactions whose purpose it is to avoid statutory threshold amounts and the review that might otherwise occur.

Date:_____, 20_____

Name, Title, Address and telephone number of Individual to Whom Notices and Correspondence Concerning This Statement Should Be Addressed:

ITEM 1. IDENTITY OF PARTIES TO TRANSACTION

Furnish the following information for each of the parties to the transaction:

(a) Name;

(b) Home office address;

(c) Principal executive office address;

(d) The organizational structure, i.e. corporation, partnership, individual, trust, etc.;

(e) A description of the nature of the parties' business operations;

(f) Relationship, if any, of other parties to the transaction to the insurer filing the notice, including any ownership or debtor/creditor interest by any other parties to the transaction in the insurer seeking approval, or by the insurer filing the notice in the affiliated parties;

(g) Where the transaction is with a non-affiliate, the name(s) of the affiliate(s) which will receive, in whole or in substantial part, the proceeds of the transaction.

ITEM 2. DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSACTION

Furnish the following information for each transaction for which notice is being given:

(a) A statement as to whether notice is being given under Section 5A(2)(a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) of the Act;

(b) A statement of the nature of the transaction;

(c) A statement of how the transaction meets the 'fair and reasonable' standard of Section 5A(1)(a) of the Act; and

(d) The proposed effective date of the transaction.

ITEM 3. SALES, PURCHASES, EXCHANGES, LOANS, EXTENSIONS OF CREDIT, GUARANTEES OR INVESTMENTS

Furnish a brief description of the amount and source of funds, securities, property or other consideration for the sale, purchase, exchange, loan, extension of credit, guarantee, or investment, whether any provision exists for purchase by the insurer filing notice, by any party to the transaction, or by any affiliate of the insurer filing notice, a description of the terms of any securities being received, if any, and a description of any other agreements relating to the transaction such as contracts or agreements for services, consulting agreements and the like. If the transaction involves other than cash, furnish a description of the consideration, its cost and its fair market value, together with an explanation of the basis for evaluation.

If the transaction involves a loan, extension of credit or a guarantee, furnish a description of the maximum amount which the insurer will be obligated to make available under such loan, extension of credit or guarantee, the date on which the credit or guarantee will terminate, and any provisions for the accrual of or deferral of interest.

If the transaction involves an investment, guarantee or other arrangement, state the time period during which the investment, guarantee or other arrangement will remain in effect, together with any provisions for extensions or renewals of such investments, guarantees or arrangements. Furnish a brief statement as to the effect of the transaction upon the insurer’s surplus.

No notice need be given if the maximum amount which can at any time be outstanding or for which the insurer can be legally obligated under the loan, extension of credit or guarantee is less than (a) in the case of non-life insurers, the lesser of 3% of the insurer’s admitted assets or 25% of surplus as regards policyholders, or (b) in the case of life insurers, 3% of the insurer’s admitted assets, each as of the 31st day of December next preceding.

ITEM 4. LOANS OR EXTENSIONS OF CREDIT TO A NON-AFFILIATE

If the transaction involves a loan or extension of credit to any person who is not an affiliate, furnish a brief description of the agreement or understanding whereby the proceeds of the proposed transaction, in whole or in substantial part, are to be used to make loans or extensions of credit to, to purchase the assets of, or to make investments in, any affiliate of the insurer making such loans or extensions of credit, and specify in what manner the proceeds are to be used to loan to, extend credit to, purchase assets of or make investments in any affiliate. Describe the amount and source of funds, securities, property or other consideration for the loan or extension of credit and, if the transaction is one involving consideration other than cash, a description of its cost and its fair market value together with an explanation of the basis for evaluation. Furnish a brief statement as to the effect of the transaction upon the insurer’s surplus.

No notice need be given if the loan or extension of credit is one which equals less than, in the case of non-life insurers, the lesser of 3% of the insurer’s admitted assets or 25% of surplus as regards policyholders or, with respect to life insurers, 3% of the insurer’s admitted assets, each as of the 31st day of December next preceding.

ITEM 5. REINSURANCE

If the transaction is a reinsurance agreement or modification thereto, as described by Section 5A(2)(c)(ii) of the Act, or a reinsurance pooling agreement or modification thereto as described by Section 5A(2)(c)(i) of the Act, furnish a description of the known and/or estimated amount of liability to be ceded and/or assumed in each calendar year, the period of time during which the agreement will be in effect, and a statement whether an agreement or understanding exists between the insurer and non-affiliate to the effect that any portion of the assets constituting the consideration for the agreement will be transferred to one or more of the insurer's affiliates. Furnish a brief description of the consideration involved in the transaction, and a brief statement as to the effect of the transaction upon the insurer's surplus.

No notice need be given for reinsurance agreements or modifications thereto if the reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities, or the projected reinsurance premium or change in the insurer's liabilities in any of the next three years, in connection with the reinsurance agreement or modification thereto is less than 5% of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, as of the 31st day of December next preceding. Notice shall be given for all reinsurance pooling agreements including modifications thereto.

ITEM 6. MANAGEMENT AGREEMENTS, SERVICE AGREEMENTS AND COST-SHARING ARRANGEMENTS.

For management and service agreements, furnish:

(a) A brief description of the managerial responsibilities, or services to be performed;

(b) A brief description of the agreement, including a statement of its duration, together with brief descriptions of the basis for compensation and the terms under which payment or compensation is to be made.

For cost-sharing arrangements, furnish:

(a) A brief description of the purpose of the agreement;

(b) A description of the period of time during which the agreement is to be in effect;

(c) A brief description of each party's expenses or costs covered by the agreement;

(d) A brief description of the accounting basis to be used in calculating each party's costs under the agreement;

(e) A brief statement as to the effect of the transaction upon the insurer's policyholder surplus;

(f) A statement regarding the cost allocation methods that specifies whether proposed charges are based on "cost or market." If market based, rationale for using market instead of cost, including justification for the company's determination that amounts are fair and reasonable; and

(g) A statement regarding compliance with the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedure Manual regarding expense allocation.

ITEM 7. SIGNATURE AND CERTIFICATION

Signature and certification required as follows:

ITEM 1. NAME AND ADDRESS

State the names and addresses of the persons who hereby provide notice of their involvement in a pending acquisition or change in corporate control.

ITEM 2. NAME AND ADDRESSES OF AFFILIATED COMPANIES

State the names and addresses of the persons affiliated with those listed in Item 1. Describe their affiliations.

ITEM 3. NATURE AND PURPOSE OF THE PROPOSED MERGER OR ACQUISITION

State the nature and purpose of the proposed merger or acquisition.

ITEM 4. NATURE OF BUSINESS

State the nature of the business performed by each of the persons identified in response to Item 1 and Item 2.

ITEM 5. MARKET AND MARKET SHARE

State specifically what market and market share in each relevant insurance market the persons identified in Item 1 and Item 2 currently enjoy in this state. Provide historical market and market share data for each person identified in Item 1 and Item 2 for the past five years and identify the source of such data. Provide a determination as to whether the proposed acquisition or merger, if consummated, would violate the competitive standards of the state as stated in Section 3.1D of the Act. If the proposed acquisition or merger would violate competitive standards, provide justification of why the acquisition or merger would not substantially lessen competition or create a monopoly in the state.

For purposes of this question, market means direct written insurance premium in this state for a line of business as contained in the annual statement required to be filed by insurers licensed to do business in this state.

Drafting Note: State Insurance Departments may additionally choose to make these calculations using their own data or data provided by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

ITEM 1. ENTERPRISE RISK

The Registrant/Applicant, to the best of its knowledge and belief, shall provide information regarding the following areas that could produce enterprise risk as defined in [insert cross reference to definition of Enterprise Risk in Section 1F of the Act], provided such information is not disclosed in the Insurance Holding Company System Annual Registration Statement filed on behalf of itself or another insurer for which it is the ultimate controlling person:

- Any material developments regarding strategy, internal audit findings, compliance or risk management affecting the insurance holding company system;
- Acquisition or disposal of insurance entities and reallocating of existing financial or insurance entities within the insurance holding company system;
- Any changes of shareholders of the insurance holding company system exceeding ten percent (10%) or more of voting securities;
- Developments in various investigations, regulatory activities or litigation that may have a significant bearing or impact on the insurance holding company system;
- Business plan of the insurance holding company system and summarized strategies for the next 12 months;
- Identification of material concerns of the insurance holding company system raised by supervisory college, if any, in the last year;

- Identification of insurance holding company system capital resources and material distribution patterns;

- Identification of any negative movement, or discussions with rating agencies which may have caused, or may cause, potential negative movement in the credit ratings and individual insurer financial strength ratings assessment of the insurance holding company system (including both the rating score and outlook);

- Information on corporate or parental guarantees throughout the holding company and the expected source of liquidity should such guarantees be called upon; and

- Identification of any material activity or development of the insurance holding company system that, in the opinion of senior management, could adversely affect the insurance holding company system.

The Registrant/Applicant may attach the appropriate form most recently filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, provided the Registrant/Applicant includes specific references to those areas listed in Item 1 for which the form provides responsive information. If the Registrant/Applicant is not domiciled in the U.S., it may attach its most recent public audited financial statement filed in its country of domicile, provided the Registrant/Applicant includes specific references to those areas listed in Item 1 for which the financial statement provides responsive information.

ITEM 2: OBLIGATION TO REPORT.

If the Registrant/Applicant has not disclosed any information pursuant to Item 1, the Registrant/Applicant shall include a statement affirming that, to the best of its knowledge and belief, it has not identified enterprise risk subject to disclosure pursuant to Item 1.

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS & INSTRUCTIONS

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS & INSTRUCTIONS

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY-2021

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS (#450)
(Receivership)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In 2020, the NAIC Plenary adopted a new charge for the Receivership Law (E) Working Group. The charge is still active and reads as follows:

> "Review and provide recommendations for remedies to ensure the continuity of essential services and functions to an insurer in receivership by affiliated entities, including nonregulated entities. Among other solutions, this will encompass a review of the Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act (#440) and the Insurance Holding Company System Model Regulation with Reporting Forms and Instructions (#450) to provide proposed revisions to address the continuation of essential services through affiliated intercompany agreements in a receivership."

Prior to, and prompting the need for, the adoption of this charge, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force performed a macroprudential analysis of the U.S. system of insurance regulation with respect to receivership laws compared to international standards under the Financial Stability Board (FSB) and under the Common Framework for the Supervision of Internationally Active Insurance Groups (ComFrame). At the 2019 Summer National Meeting, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force adopted a report including recommendations to address receivership powers that are implicit in state laws, rather than explicit. One such area is the power to ensure the continuity of essential services and functions within a holding company group once an insurer is placed into receivership.

The Task Force identified the following authority and remedies available within the U.S. regime related to these international standards:

- Model #440 requires approval of affiliated transactions, allowing a state insurance regulator to identify agreements that could create obstacles in a receivership. Model #450, Section 19, provides that cost sharing and management agreements specify if the insurer is placed in receivership that an affiliate has no automatic right to terminate the agreement.
- The receiver can take action against a provider that refuses to continue services under a contract or seek an order requiring it to turn over records. If an affiliate providing services is inextricably intertwined with the insurer, the receiver could also seek to place the affiliate into receivership.

However, it was noted that some of these authorities and remedies may not address the immediate need to continue services in some receiverships. Despite these available remedies, receivers continue to be challenged by this issue in receivership, often resulting in significant additional legal and administrative expenses to the receivership estate.

In 2020, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group was given the charge to provide recommendations for remedies to ensure the continuity of essential services and functions to an insurer in receivership by affiliated entities, including nonregulated entities and specifically for agreements with affiliated entities whose sole business purpose is to provide services to the insurance company.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating.

The Receivership Law (E) Working Group of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force drafted the initial revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The 2020 and 2021 members of the Subgroup were: Illinois (Co-Chair); Pennsylvania (Co-Chair); Arkansas; California; Colorado; Connecticut; Florida; Iowa; Louisiana (2021); Maine; Massachusetts; Michigan; Missouri; Nebraska; Texas; and Washington.

A drafting group was formed to draft the revisions. Members included: Florida; Illinois; Maine; Michigan; Oklahoma; Pennsylvania; and Texas.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group.

As described in paragraph 1 above, the initial charge prompting a review of Model #440 and Model #450 was given to the Receivership Law (E) Working Group for 2020. The Request for NAIC Model Law Development to open Model #440 and Model #450 for revision was adopted by the Executive (EX) Committee at the 2020 Summer National Meeting.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc.). Include any parties outside the members that participated.

In August 2020, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group began its work to address its charge by conducting a survey of state insurance regulators and interested parties to gather feedback on possible provisions to be addressed and goals of those revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. Survey responses were received from state insurance regulators and interested parties identifying specific sections of the models and topics to be considered.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited).

On Dec. 17, 2020, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to expose proposed amendments to Section 5A and Section 11 of Model #440 and Section 19 of #450 for a 42-day public comment period ending Jan. 29, 2021. Comments were received from Florida; the American Council of Life Insurers (ACLI); America's Health Insurance Plans (AHIP) and the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (BCBSA); Arbor Strategies LLC; Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP and the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA); and the National Conference of Insurance Guaranty Funds (NCIGF).

On Feb. 4, 2021, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to discuss comments received. Subsequent edits were drafted by the drafting group as discussed during the meeting. The Working Group exposed proposed revised amendments to Section 5A and Section 11 of Model #440 and Section 19 of #450 for a 14-day public comment period ending Feb. 4, 2021. Comments were received from AHIP and the BCBSA; the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA); Arbor Strategies LLC; and NOLHGA and the NCIGF.

On March 4, 2021, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to discuss comments received. Subsequent edits were drafted as discussed during the meeting by the drafting group in coordination with the interested parties that had provided comments. The Working Group co-chairs released proposed revised amendments to Section 5A(1)(g) of Model #440 for a 30-day public comment period ending April 9, 2021. One comment letter was received from the ACLI. The ACLI's proposed edit was accepted.

All exposures were distributed by email to members, interested state insurance regulators and interested parties of both the Receivership Law (E) Working Group and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force and posted to the NAIC website.

All issues raised by members, interested state insurance regulators and interested parties were explained or addressed in the revisions to the original amendments.

The amendments were adopted by the Receivership Law (E) Working Group on May 4, 2021.

The amendments were adopted by the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force on May 20, 2021.

The amendments were adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee on July 8, 2021.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response).

There were no unresolved issues of real significance raised during the exposure periods. However, the following issue was considered and addressed by the Receivership Law (E) Working Group. Interested parties requested and provided draft revisions to the amendments in Section 5.A.(1)(g) regarding the requirement for a bond or deposit that limits the provision to insurers found to be in a condition of hazardous financial condition or a condition that would be grounds for supervision, conservation or a delinquency proceeding. Interested parties also provided revisions to the subsection and the accompanying drafting note that would further define and clarify the circumstances and the agreements to which the subsection could be applied. The Working Group was agreeable to these changes and accepted interested parties' revisions.

7. List the key provisions of the model (sections considered most essential to state adoption).

The amendments to Model #440 are within Section 5, Standards and Management of an Insurer Within an Insurance Holding Company System, and within Model #450 Section 19, Transactions Subject to Prior Notice.

- Section 5A(1) of Model #440
  - Books and records of the insurer are updated to specifically include data of the insurer, being the property of the insurer. The data and records should be identifiable and capable of segregation. Essentially the data and records should be available to the receiver in the event of insolvency, including the systems necessary to access them.
  - If the commissioner deems the insurer to be in a statutorily defined hazardous financial condition, the commissioner may require a bond or deposit, limited in amount, after consideration of whether there are concerns about the affiliated party's ability to fulfill the contract in the event of a liquidation.
  - Premiums are the property of the insurer, with any right of offset subject to receivership law.

- Section 5A(6) of Model #440
  - The affiliated entity is subject to jurisdiction of receivership court, and in certain circumstances the commissioner may require the affiliate to agree to this in writing.

- Section 19 of Model #450
  - Books and records of the insurer are updated to specifically include data of the insurer, being the property of the insurer. The data and records should be identifiable and capable of segregation. Essentially the data and records should be available to the receiver in the event of insolvency, including the systems necessary to access them. The data is specifically defined in Model #450.
  - Model #450 includes a provision relating to indemnification of the insurer in the event of gross negligence or willful misconduct by the affiliate.
  - In the event of receivership (now including supervision and conservatorship):
    - The rights of the insurer extend to the receiver or guaranty fund.
    - The affiliate will make available essential personnel.
    - The affiliate will continue the services for a minimum period of time as specified in the agreement with timely payment for post-receivership work.
    - The affiliate will maintain necessary systems, programs or infrastructure and make them available to the receiver or commissioner for as long as the affiliate receives timely post-receivership payment unless released by the receiver, commissioner or receivership court.

8. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force has not had formal discussions with respect to whether the current Insurance Holding Company Systems accreditation standard under the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program should be amended to include the current revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The Task Force will consider this and make appropriate referrals prior to the 2022 Spring National Meeting.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2020

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS (#450)
(Group Capital Calculation (GCC))

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In 2015, the NAIC Plenary adopted a charge to the Financial Condition (E) with respect to the construction of a group capital calculation (GCC). The Financial Condition (E) Committee subsequently formed the Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group to carry out the following charge:

> "Construct a U.S. group capital calculation using an RBC aggregation methodology; liaise as necessary with the ComFrame Development and Analysis (G) Working Group on international capital developments and consider group capital developments by the Federal Reserve Board, both of which may help inform the construction of a U.S. group capital calculation."

The charge was developed primarily as a result of discussions that revealed that developing a GCC was a natural extension of work that state insurance regulators had already begun on group supervision as a result of the lessons learned from the 2008 financial crisis. While state insurance regulators currently have the authority to obtain information regarding the capital positions of non-insurance affiliates, they do not have a consistent analytical framework for evaluating such information. The GCC is designed to address this shortcoming and will serve as an additional financial metric that will assist state insurance regulators in identifying risks that may emanate from a holding company system. More specifically, the GCC and related reporting provides more transparency to state insurance regulators regarding insurance groups and make risks more identifiable and more easily quantified.

It is important to understand that the GCC utilizes an aggregation approach to group capital where existing legal entity capital requirements [e.g., risk-based capital (RBC)] and existing valuation for capital (e.g., statutory accounting) are utilized. In selecting this approach, it was recognized as satisfying state regulatory needs while at the same time having the advantages of being less burdensome and costly to regulators and the industry, in addition to respecting other jurisdictions' existing capital regimes. To capture the risks associated with the entire insurance group, including the insurance holding company, calculations were developed in those instances where no RBC calculations currently exist (i.e., non-regulated entities) and are part of the GCC. The methods selected were tested in 2019 by more than 30 insurance groups representing 15 lead states. These methods have since been modified to consider the lessons learned from the testing and subsequent comments from the industry and state insurance regulators. The more significant items are discussed in paragraph 6 below.

Also important in finalizing the GCC was the scope of groups that would be required to complete it. Specifically, Model #440 exempts single-state companies, insurers located in reciprocal jurisdictions that have already recognized the U.S. approach to group supervision and group capital, as well as other jurisdictions that agree to recognize the U.S. approach to group capital. Model #450 also provides commissioners with additional discretion to exempt groups that have less than $1 billion in premium, provided the group has no non-U.S. insurers, has no banks or similar financial institutions, and has non-risky non-regulated entities within the group.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating.

The Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group of the Financial Condition (E) Committee drafted the revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The 2020 members of the Working Group were: Florida (Chair); Connecticut (Vice Chair); California; District of Columbia; Illinois; Indiana; Iowa; Massachusetts; Michigan; Minnesota; Missouri; Nebraska; New Jersey; New York; North Carolina; Ohio; Oregon; Pennsylvania; Tennessee; Texas; Virginia; and Wisconsin.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group.

At the 2015 Fall National Meeting, the Financial Condition (E) Committee received the following charge:

> "Construct a U.S. group capital calculation using an RBC aggregation methodology; liaise as necessary with the ComFrame Development and Analysis (G) Working Group on international capital developments and consider group

capital developments by the Federal Reserve Board, both of which may help inform the construction of a U.S. group capital calculation."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc.). Include any parties outside the members that participated.

The Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group began its work on the GCC in 2016 and spent the next two-and-one-half years constructing the calculation. Over the course of that time, the Working Group conducted numerous public conference calls to discuss the proposed construction on a topic-by-topic basis. In 2019, the Working Group set up a voluntary process under which the GCC was tested by more than 30 insurance groups represented by 15 lead states. This testing was completed in early 2020, at which time the Working Group began to make changes to the GCC to reflect the learnings from the testing. Simultaneously with this testing, at the 2019 Fall National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved the Working Group's request to open Model #440 and Model #450 to develop the legal authority under which the GCC would be implemented. In addition to requiring the filing of the GCC with the lead state commissioner, the models would also provide information on the types of insurance groups that would be exempt from filing the GCC, as well as provide the necessary language to protect the confidentiality of the tool.

In January 2020, the Working Group exposed for public comment a draft memorandum that set forth possible exemptions, as well as the basic construct for the confidentiality protections, based on previous public comments made by Working Group members. The first draft of amendments to Model #440 and Model #450 were drafted based on decisions made by Working Group members, with previous input from the industry considered by the Working Group members. This continued to be the case with respect to future versions of the model(s), although the Sept. 18 version was drafted with specific input from a small drafting group consisting of California, Nebraska, Missouri, Texas and Wisconsin.

NAIC staff met via conference call with representatives of the U.S. Department of the Treasury (Treasury Department) and the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) on Sept. 10 and Oct. 14 to discuss their concerns regarding the consistency of the draft revisions to a covered agreement with the European Union (EU). (Please refer to discussion in paragraph 8.)

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited).

At the 2019 Fall National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved the Working Group's request to open Model #440 and Model #450 to develop the legal authority under which the GCC would be implemented. In January 2020, the Working Group exposed for public comment a draft memorandum that set forth possible exemptions, as well as the basic construct for the confidentiality protections. Comments were received Feb. 17, 2020, but due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the first discussion of proposed changes to Model #440 and Model #450 did not occur until June 2, 2020.

During its June 2, 2020, call, the Working Group made several key decisions related to the comments on exemptions and subsequently released its first version of proposed changes to Model #440. Comments were received July 15, 2020, with numerous edits proposed by interested parties that were incorporated into a modified version for discussion by the Working Group on its July 21, 2020, call, including comments on subgroup reporting. Discussion on the subgroup reporting issue was deferred by the Working Group until decisions were made on all other comments, and the Working Group exposed for public comment proposed changes to Model #440, along with proposed changes to Model #450, on July 23, 2020. Comments on this exposure, which were largely focused on subgroup reporting, were discussed by the Working Group on its Sept. 18, 2020, call. The next version of Model #440 and Model #450 were exposed for a public comment period ending Oct. 5, 2020, with most of the changes from the July 23, 2020, version representing proposed revised wording from various interested parties intended to streamline both models. New versions of the models were produced and exposed following the Working Group's Oct. 20, 2020, call based on comments received Oct. 5, 2020, and discussed by the Working Group on its Oct. 20, 2020, call. The final versions of Model #440 and Model #450 were exposed Oct. 21, 2020, for a public comment period, and subsequently adopted by the Working Group on its Nov. 17, 2020, call.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response).

Significant issues which were ultimately addressed include:

1. Ability to exclude immaterial risky affiliates from the calculation.
2. Excluding recasting of XXX/AXXX transactions in the GCC.[1]
3. Allowing a proxy level of senior debt to be added to capital that represents the subordinated capital controlled by the commissioner's authority over approving extraordinary dividends.
4. Inclusion of the concept of scalars to recognize U.S. reserve requirements are often much higher than other jurisdictions.
5. The level at which the GCC is calibrated with RBC (200%).
6. A subgroup capital calculation under which a lead state commissioner shall require the group capital calculation for U.S. operations of any non-U.S. based insurance holding company system if it is deemed appropriate by the lead state commissioner for prudential oversight and solvency monitoring purposes or for ensuring the competitiveness of the insurance marketplace. This particular aspect of Model #440 was the most controversial topic and was debated extensively, while other potential options failed to receive a majority vote.

7. List the key provisions of the model (sections considered most essential to state adoption).

The changes to Section 4L(2) of Model #440 are the most important provisions in the proposed changes, as they require the ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration to concurrently file an annual GCC as directed by the lead state commissioner with the registration statement. Immediately following this provision in Section 4L(2)(a) through Section 4L(2)(d) are four types of holding company systems that are exempt from filing, which are also important to many parties. As previously discussed, Section 4L(2)(e) would permit, under certain circumstances, a subgroup capital calculation. Section 4L(2)(f) is also important, as it provides the commissioner the discretion to exempt other groups from filing that meet the criteria in Model #450. Finally, Section 8(A)(1) of Model #440 provides key statutory authority to hold the GCC confidential and actually prevents the group itself from sharing the GCC publicly. Model #450 provides more detailed aspects of the exemptions, including additional discretionary authority for exempting certain groups, as well as additional details of the NAIC process for maintaining a list of jurisdictions whose groups recognize and accept the GCC and are, therefore, exempt from filing the GCC.

8. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

a. Covered Agreement

Under Title V of the federal Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act), the Treasury Department and the USTR are authorized to jointly negotiate covered agreements, defined under the Dodd-Frank Act as written bilateral or multilateral agreements between the U.S. and one or more foreign governments, authorities or regulators regarding prudential measures with respect to insurance or reinsurance, on the condition that the prudential measures subject to a covered agreement achieve a level of protection for insurance or reinsurance consumers that is "substantially equivalent" to the level of protection achieved under U.S. state insurance laws. On Sept. 22, 2017, the Treasury Department and the USTR signed the "Bilateral Agreement Between the United States of America and the European Union on Prudential Measures Regarding Insurance and Reinsurance" (Covered Agreement). On Dec. 18, 2018, a separate covered agreement was signed between the U.S. and the United Kingdom, which mirrors the language from the agreement with the EU and has the same timing requirements for implementation.

The Covered Agreement includes requirements on reinsurance collateral, group supervision and group capital. Specifically, Article 4(h) provides that the host supervisor (i.e., a supervisory authority from the territory in which an insurance group has operations but which is not the territory where the worldwide parent is domiciled or headquartered) may not impose a group capital assessment or requirement at the level of the worldwide parent, but only if the insurance group is subject to a group capital assessment imposed by the home supervisor. The group capital assessment of the home supervisor must include a worldwide group capital calculation capturing risk at the level of the entire group, and the home supervisor must have the authority to impose preventive, corrective or otherwise responsive measures on the basis of the assessment, including the authority to impose capital measures where appropriate.

[1] "XXX/AXXX transactions" are those transactions required to be valued under Section 6 or Section 7 of the Valuation of Life Insurance Policies Model Regulation (#830).

Under Article 10(e) of the Covered Agreement, supervisory authorities in the EU shall not impose a group capital requirement at the level of the worldwide parent undertaking of the insurance or reinsurance group, with regard to a U.S. insurance or reinsurance group with operations in the EU, for 60 months after the date of provisional application of the Covered Agreement; i.e., Nov. 7, 2022. The GCC is intended to serve as an analytical tool for evaluating an insurer's capital position at the group level but is not intended to be applied as a group-level capital requirement or standard. The Statement of the United States on the Covered Agreement with the European Union provides further clarification with respect to this group capital assessment.

The Covered Agreement limits the worldwide application of EU prudential group insurance measures on U.S. insurers operating in the EU. The Covered Agreement also provides that U.S. insurers and reinsurers can operate in the EU without the U.S. parent being subject to the group-level governance, solvency and capital, and reporting requirements of Solvency II, and reinforces that the EU system of prudential insurance supervision is not the system in the U.S. The Covered Agreement does not require development of a group capital standard or group capital requirement in the U.S. Article 4(h) contemplates that the states will develop a group-wide capital assessment. Through the NAIC, the states are in the process of developing a group capital calculation which is intended to serve as an analytical tool for evaluating a firm's capital position at the group level. The U.S. expects that the NAIC's GCC will satisfy the "group capital assessment" condition of Article 4(h), provided that the work is completed and implemented within five years of the date on which the Agreement is signed. [Emphasis added].

Any state with U.S. groups operating in either the European Union or the United Kingdome will need to adopt these legislative changes by Nov. 7, 2022, to effectuate compliance with the Covered Agreement.

b. Liquidity Stress Testing

In coordination with the work on the GCC, the Liquidity Assessment (EX) Subgroup of the Financial Stability (EX) Task Force drafted revisions to Model #440 to incorporate a liquidity stress test (LST) and to provide confidentiality requirements with respect to the LST. These revisions to Model #440, while not directly related to the GCC, are also intended to be considered for adoption by the NAIC membership simultaneously with the GCC-related revisions to Model #440. A separate Project History has been prepared with respect to the LST.

c. Accreditation

The Group Capital Calculation (E) Working Group has not had formal discussions with respect to whether the current Insurance Holding Company Systems accreditation standard under the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program should be amended to include the current revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. However, it is expected that these revisions will be incorporated into the accreditation standard in order to encourage the states to effectuate compliance with the Covered Agreement.

PROJECT HISTORY – 2011

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL ACT (#440)

INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEM MODEL REGULATION WITH REPORTING FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS (#450)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

In the wake of the recent financial crisis as well as discussions regarding group supervision that have been taking place in the international regulatory community, U.S. state insurance regulators have become aware of the necessity to enhance the insurance Holding Company System Model Act (Model #440) and the Insurance Holding Company System Model Regulation with Reporting Forms and Instructions (Model #450) to address group supervision. At the heart of the lessons learned from the recent financial crisis is the ability of regulators to be able to assess the enterprise risk within a holding company system and its impact on an insurer within the group.

As recommended by the Group Solvency Issues (EX) Working Group, the U.S. insurer solvency regime should consider incorporating certain prudential benefits of group supervision, providing a clearer window into group operations, while building upon, the existing walls which provide solvency protection. Ultimately, this enhanced "windows and walls" approach should provide greater and much needed breadth and scope to solvency regulation while retaining the highest level of policyholder protection that exists currently. The concepts addressed in the enhanced "windows and walls" approach include such items, such as: communication between regulators; supervisory colleges; access to and collection of information; and enforcement measures.

The first step to accomplish building better windows is by addressing some of these topics as well as lessons learned during the recent financial crisis through enhancements to the insurance holding company laws and regulations.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Group Solvency Issues Working Group of the Executive (EX) Committee was charged by the Financial Condition (E) Committee with drafting revisions to Model #440 and Model #450. The 2010 members of the Working Group that drafted and adopted the revised models on June 14, 2010, were: Nebraska and Texas (co-Chairs), California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

During the February 11, 2009, conference call, the Financial Condition (E) Committee agreed to revise the holding company models, but suggested the technical work be delegated to a Working Group under the Solvency Modernization Initiative (EX) Task Force that was working on other group related initiatives. Based on this recommendation and referral, the Task Force drafted charges for a new working group that would focus on groups issues, including the NAIC Holding Company Models. The Working Group's charges related to the models were as follows:

- Study the need to modify the Holding Company Model Act by gathering input from all states regarding the use of the existing model and its effectiveness in addressing the issues that exist within insurer groups, particularly considering issues identified during this most recent economic downturn. At the conclusion of such study, provide a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.
- Study the international solvency issues related to groups and the need to modify the Holding Company Model Act for any proposed changes in this area. This study should include consideration of the interaction between federal and state financial regulators and any changes that would be necessary to improve regulatory oversight provided by the Holding Company Model Act. At the conclusion of such study, provide a recommendation to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

On August 18, 2009, the Financial Condition (E) Committee via electronic vote adopted the model law development form related to models #440 and #450. It was adopted by Executive and Plenary during the 2009 Fall National Meeting.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

An initial survey of state insurance regulators and industry was conducted in June 2009 to gather ideas for areas of focus in drafting revisions to the Models focusing on area where the Models need improvement based on states' experience and the need for more focus on group issues. Twelve states submitted initial proposed language to address the eleven key topics identified in the initial survey.

Many open meetings were conducted to discuss this project. During these meetings, comment letters were discussed, and language was drafted (with some sections specifically assigned to interested parties or interested regulators to draft). Between May 2009 and June 2010, the Working Group conducted 15 public conference calls, five public meetings at NAIC National Meetings and one public interim hearing in June 2010. Financial Condition (E) Committee conducted three public conference calls.

Exposure drafts were released for public comment at multiple times. Public comment periods included December 2009, January 2010, March 2010, May 2010, June 2010 and July 2010.

All comment letters were considered and discussed by the Working Group in public sessions. In total, 27 comment letters were received from regulators and 36 comment letters were received from interested parties. Additionally, Financial Condition (E) Committee received and considered ten comment letters (one regulator and nine interested parties).

On June 18, 2010 the Working Group unanimously adopted revisions to Model #440 and #450 to be sent to Financial Condition (E) Committee for the Committee's consideration with the caveat that centralization data collection and confidentiality of enterprise risk supplemental filing should be addressed by Executive. E Committee met three times on August 5th adopted the revisions to the Models to be sent to Exec/Plenary.

Subsequent Discussions (Post Adoption by Financial Condition (E) Committee) – Director Ann Frohman and Danny Saenz, Chairs of GSIWG, and NAIC Legal and Executive Staff have engaged in numerous discussions with certain large industry trade organizations regarding the centralized filing of information at the NAIC. During these discussions these industry organizations were given significant time and opportunity to provide a compromise and to discuss these issues.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

The following topics for revisions within the Models were discussed extensively with regulators and interested parties:

a. Model #440 Section 1—definitions of "enterprise risk".
   - Purpose of this change is to define a new term used in other revisions within the model.
   - This topic was addressed on GSIWG conference calls and the June 4th hearing. Interested party comments generally suggested replacing the definition of "contagion" with "enterprise risk', and voiced concerns with the phrase "has the potential" and with the term "contagion" being speculative. Comments were heard and discussed. Definitions of contagion was eliminated enterprise risk was incorporated in the model.

b. Model #440 Section 3A4—Notification of divestiture of controlling interests.
   - Purpose of this change is to allow for notification to the state of any divestiture of controlling interests. Regulators' have experienced divestitures that were not in the best interest of the policyholders and where regulators were not given prior notice.
   - This topic was introduced on the May 14th call with a separate exposure document released for comment. It was further discussed on the subsequent calls and the June 4th hearing. The GSIWG heard and discussed comments and made certain edits as a result.

c. Model #440 Sections 3B12, 3B13, 4B8, 11F and Model #450 Form A Item #13 & Form B Item #9—The filing of a report of the ultimate controlling person which identifies material risks within the insurance holding company system that could pose financial and/or reputational contagion to the insurer and potential sanctions.
   - This change is in response to recent economic downturns and worldwide discussions on contagion risk within the financial sector. It is also in response to regulators' experience regarding the financial impact that non-insurance entities within the group can have on an insurance company's financial solvency. The change is intended to provide regulators with more information about potential risks to the insurer.
   - This topic was discussed on multiple calls, revised and new draft language was re-released for public comment. Subsequent edits were also made. Interested party comments primarily focusing on this section being too broad, inconsistent, and creation of the presumption that insurers need to over-comply with the provision in order to cover all foreseeable circumstances in their reporting were heard and discussed on subsequent calls and the June 4th hearing.

d. Model #440 Section 4B5—Providing insurance holding company system financial statements.
   - This change is intended to provide regulators with access to more insurance holding company system information through the filing of holding company financial statements.
   - This topic was discussed on multiple GSIWG calls. Interested parties were heard and given the opportunity to submit optional draft language regarding SEC filings. Edits to the original draft language were made regarding the acceptance of SEC filings.

e. Revisions as they relate to corporate governance including 1) Model #440 section 4B7 —Statements of the Board of Directors; and 2) Model #440 Section 5C—Independence of Board of directors and committees no longer being optional language and the section edited so as not to conflict with the Model Audit Rule.
   - Section 4B7 requires the insurer's board of directors to make statements regarding the corporate governance and internal control responsibilities within the registration statement. Section 5C was changed to no longer be an "optional" section of the model by the Working Group but was revered by the E Committee. The section addresses board of director composition and committee responsibilities (which were edited to be in line with the Model Audit Rule). Additionally, a new paragraph with criteria for waiving the insurer from the requirements of the section was added.
   - These topics were discussed on multiple GSIWG calls and were referred to the Corporate Governance (EX) Working Group (CGWG). It was discussed by CGWG on two public conference calls where interested party comments were considered. Interested party concerns primarily related to suggestions to remove corporate governance language as it was felt is was not appropriate in these models or if not removed to modify the language to reflect that management was "responsible for" and that boards "oversee" rather than stating boards were "responsible for". CGWG made some edits, however retaining the "board is responsible for…" language and the no longer optional section 5C, and sent recommendations to GSIWG. GSIWG heard additional discussion at the June 4th hearing and made edits to section 5C waiver language.

f. Model #440 Section 4K—Disclaimer of affiliation.
   - The change includes language regarding disallowance of a disclaimer of affiliation and request for an administrative hearing.
   - GSIWG discussed this recommended change on the Feb. 26th call and the June 4th hearing. Comments regarding wording changes were heard and edits were made.

g. Model #440 Section 5A1b and Model #450 Section 19. Requirements of agreements for cost sharing services and management.
   - The intent of these changes is to provide minimum requirements for the agreements for cost sharing and management services in order to eliminate the potential for capital to flow out of the insurer through these types of agreements.
   - This topic was discussed on several GSIWG calls. Interested party comments were heard and considered. Numerous edits were made to the original draft language.

h. Model #440 Section 5A2—Amendments or modifications of affiliated agreements.
   - The change requires notification of amendments and modifications to affiliated transactions including requirements for the notification. Included in the change is the addition of notification of all reinsurance pooling agreements and agreements that are projected to be material to surplus.
   - This topic was discussed on several GSIWG calls and the June 4th hearing. Numerous edits were made to the original draft language.

i. Model #440 Section 6—Examination of affiliates, access to books and records and compelling production of information as it relates to examinations.
   - The changes to Section 6 are intended to give regulators power to examine the insurer and its affiliates, to provide better access to books and records of affiliated entities within the insurance holding company system and to compel the insurer to provide that access to those books and records in an effort to better ascertain the financial condition of the insurer and any contagion risk within the insurance holding company system.
   - The GSIWG addressed the topic on multiple conference calls including allowing interested parties to provide optional language. Interested parties expressed concerns about the potential for penalties and that the ability to examine an affiliate was overly broad and exceeded state jurisdictions. Proposed optional language was not accepted by GSIWG.

j. Model #440 Section 7—Supervisory Colleges.
   - As there is a world-wide push for more group-wide supervision of insurance holding company systems with international operations, this new section provides the regulators the authority to recoup expenses incurred for attending or conducting supervisory colleges from domestic insurers whose group is engaging in international activities.
   - The Supervisory Colleges and Methods of Cross-Border Communication (EX) Subgroup met in open session and drafted the language for this new section of Model #440.

- This topic was discussed on by the GSIWG and interested party comments were heard and considered. A few edits were made to the section by GSIWG.

Table of Contents

Introduction

Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of [insert state]:

Section 1. Applicability

Every person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than ten percent (10%) of any class of any equity security of a domestic stock insurance company, or who is a director or an officer of such company, shall file in the office of the Commissioner [Superintendent, Director] on or before [January 31, 1965], or within ten (10) days after he becomes such beneficial owner, director or officer, a statement, in such form as the Commissioner may prescribe, of the amount of all equity securities of such company of which he is the beneficial owner, and within ten (10) days after the close of each calendar month thereafter, if there has been a change in such ownership during such month, shall file in the office of the Commissioner a statement, in such form as the Commissioner may prescribe, indicating his ownership at the close of the calendar month and such changes in his ownership as have occurred during such calendar month.

Note: It is recommended that the term "officer" be defined by regulation of the insurance commissioner which in effect adopts the definition set out in Schedule SIS as promulgated by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, to wit:

The term "officer" means a president, vice president, treasurer, actuary, secretary, controller, and any other person who performs for the company functions corresponding to those performed by the foregoing officers.

Section 2. Unfair Use of Information

For the purpose of preventing the unfair use of information which may have been obtained by such beneficial owner, director or officer by reason of his relationship to such company, any profit realized by him from any purchase and sale, or any sale and purchase, of any equity security of such company within any period of less than six (6) months, unless such security was acquired in good faith in connection with a debt previously contracted, shall inure to and be recoverable by the company, irrespective of any intention on the part of such beneficial owner, director or officer in entering into such transaction of holding the security purchased or of not repurchasing the security sold for a period exceeding six (6) months. Suit to recover such profit may be instituted at law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction by the company, or by the owner of any security of the company in the name and in behalf of the company if the company shall fail or refuse to bring such suit within sixty (60) days after request or shall fail to diligently prosecute the same thereafter; but no such suit shall be brought more than two (2) years after the date such profit was realized. This section shall not be construed to cover any transaction where such beneficial owner was not such, both at the time of the purchase and sale, or the sale and purchase, of the security involved, or any transaction or transactions which the Commissioner by rules and regulations may exempt as not comprehended within the purpose of this section.

Section 3. Sale of Equity Security

It shall be unlawful for any such beneficial owner, director or officer, directly or indirectly, to sell any equity security of such company if the person selling the security or his principal (i) does not own the security sold or (ii) if owning the security, does not deliver it against such sale within twenty (20) days thereafter or does not within five (5) days after such sale deposit it in the mails or other usual channels of transportation; but no person shall be deemed to have violated this section if he proves that notwithstanding the exercise of good faith he was unable to make such delivery or deposit within such time, or that to do so would cause undue inconvenience or expense.

Section 4. Exceptions to Section 2 and 3

The provisions of Section 2 of this Act shall not apply to any purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, and the provisions of Section 3 of this Act shall not apply to any sale, of an equity security of a domestic stock insurance company not then or theretofore held by him in an investment account, by a dealer in the ordinary course of his business and incident to the establishment or maintenance by him of a primary or secondary market (otherwise than on an exchange as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) for such security. The Commissioner may, by such rules and regulations as he deems necessary or appropriate in the public interest, define and prescribe terms and conditions with respect to securities held in an investment account and transactions made in the ordinary course of business and incident to the establishment or maintenance of a primary or secondary market.

Section 5. Exception - Foreign or Domestic Arbitrage Transaction

The provisions of Sections 1, 2, and 3 of this Act shall not apply to foreign or domestic arbitrage transactions unless made in contravention of such rules and regulations as the Commissioner may adopt in order to carry out the purposes of this Act.

Section 6. Equity Security Defined

The term "equity security" when used in this Act means any stock or similar security; or any security convertible, with or without consideration, into such a security, or carrying any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase such a security; or any such warrant or right; or any other security which the Commissioner shall deem to be of similar nature and consider necessary or appropriate, by such rules and regulations as he may prescribe in the public interest or for the protection of investors, to treat as an equity security.

Section 7. Exceptions - Domestic Stock Insurers

The provisions of Sections 1, 2, and 3 of this Act shall not apply to equity securities of a domestic stock insurance company if:

A. Such securities shall be registered, or shall be required to be registered, pursuant to Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; or if

B. Such domestic stock insurance company shall not have any class of its equity securities held of record by one hundred or more persons on the last business day of the year next preceding the year in which equity securities of the company would be subject to the provisions of Sections 1, 2, and 3 of this Act except for the provisions of this Subsection B.

Section 8. Power of Commissioner

The Commissioner shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the functions vested in him by Sections 1 through 7 of this Act, and may for such purpose classify domestic stock insurance companies, securities, and other persons or matters within his jurisdiction. No provision of Sections 1, 2 and 3 of this Act imposing any liability shall apply to any done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any rule or regulation of the Commissioner, notwithstanding that such rule or regulation may, after such act or omission, be amended or rescinded or determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

Section 9. Forfeiture Provision

Any person that fails to file information, documents or reports required to be filed under this Act or any rule or regulation thereunder shall forfeit to the State of [insert state] the sum of $100 for each and every day such failure to file shall continue. Such forfeiture, which shall be in lieu of any criminal penalty for such failure to file which might be deemed to arise under this Act, shall be payable into the treasury of the State of [insert state] and shall be recoverable in a civil suit in the name of the State of [insert state].

Section 10. Effective Date

This act shall take effect [insert date].

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

Section 1. Definition of Certain Terms

A. "Insurer" means any domestic stock insurance company with an equity security subject to the provisions of Act [insert applicable cite] of the [insert year] General Assembly and not exempt thereunder.

B. "Act" means Public Act [insert applicable citing] of the [insert year] General Assembly.

C. "Officer" means a president, vice president, treasurer, actuary, secretary, controller and any other person who performs for the insurer functions corresponding to those performed by the foregoing officers.

D. "Equity security" means any stock or similar security; or any voting trust certificate or certificate of deposit for such a security; or any security convertible, with or without consideration, into such a security, or carrying any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase such a security; or any such warrant or right.

E. Securities "held of record"

(1) For the purpose of determining whether the equity securities of an insurer are held of record by 100 or more persons, securities shall be deemed to be "held of record" by each person who is identified as the owner of the securities on records of security holders maintained by or on behalf of the insurer, subject to the following:

(a) In any case where the records of security holders have not been maintained in accordance with accepted practice, any additional person who would be identified as an owner on the records if they had been maintained in accordance with accepted practice shall be included as a holder of record.

(b) Securities identified as held of record by a corporation, a partnership, a trust whether or not the trustees are named, or other organization shall be included as so held by one person.

(c) Securities identified as held of record by one or more persons as trustees, executors, guardians, custodians or in other fiduciary capacities with respect to a single trust, estate or account shall be included as held of record by one person.

(d) Securities held by two or more persons as co-owners shall be included as held by one person.

(e) Each outstanding unregistered or bearer certificate shall be included as held of record by a separate person, except to the extent that the insurer can establish that, if the securities were registered, they would be held of record, under the provisions of this rule, by a lesser number of persons.

(f) Securities registered in substantially similar names where the insurer has reason to believe because of the address or other indications that the names represent the same person, may be included as held of record by one person.

(2) Notwithstanding Paragraph (1):

(a) Securities held, to the knowledge of the insurer, subject to a voting trust, deposit agreement or similar arrangement shall be included as held of record by the record holders of the voting trust certificates, certificates of deposit, receipts or similar evidences of interest in the securities; provided however, that the insurer may rely in good faith on such information as is received in response to its request from a nonaffiliated insurer of the certificates or evidences of interest.

(b) If the insurer knows or has reason to know that the form of holding securities of record is used primarily to circumvent the provisions of the Act, the beneficial owners of the securities shall be deemed to be the record owners.

F. "Class" means all securities of an insurer which are of substantially similar character and the holders of which enjoy substantially similar rights and privileges.

Section 2. Transactions Exempted From the Operation of Section 2 of the Act

Any acquisition or disposition of any equity security by a director or officer of an insurer within six (6) months prior to the date on which the Act shall first become applicable with respect to the equity securities of the insurer shall not be subject to the operation of Section 2 of the Act.

Section 3. Filing of Statements

A. Initial statements of beneficial ownership of equity securities required by Section 1 of the Act shall be filed on Form 3. Statements of changes in such beneficial ownership required by Section 1 shall be filed on Form 4. All such statements shall be prepared and filed in accordance with the requirements of the applicable form.

B. Any director or officer who is required to file a statement on Form 4 with respect to any change in his beneficial ownership of equity securities which occurs within six (6) months after he became a director or officer of the insurer or within six (6) months after equity securities of the insurer first became registered pursuant to Section 1 of the Act, shall include in the first such statement the information called for by Form 4 with respect to all changes in the beneficial ownership of equity securities of the insurer which occurred within six (6) months prior to the date of the changes which requires the filing of the statement.

C. Any person who has ceased to be a director or officer of an insurer which has equity securities registered pursuant to Section 1 of the Act, or who is a director or officer of an insurer at the time it ceased to have any equity securities so registered, shall file a statement on Form 4 with respect to any change in his or her beneficial ownership of equity securities of the insurer which shall occur on or after the date on which the person ceased to be a director or officer or the date on which the insurer ceased to have any equity securities so registered, as the case may be, if the change shall occur within six (6) months after any change in the beneficial ownership of the securities prior to that date. The statement on Form 4 shall be filed within ten (10) days after the end of the month in which the reported change in beneficial ownership occurs.

Section 4. Ownership of More Than Ten Percent of an Equity Security

A. In determining, for the purpose of Section 1 of the Act whether a person is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than ten percent (10%) of any class of any equity security, the class shall be deemed to consist of the total amount of the class outstanding, exclusive of any securities of the class held by or for the account of the insurer or a subsidiary of the insurer; except that for the purpose of determining percentage ownership of voting trust certificates or certificates of deposit for equity securities, the class of voting trust certificates or certificates of deposit shall be deemed to consist of the amount of voting trust certificates or certificates of deposit issuable with respect to the total amount of outstanding equity securities of the class which may be deposited under the voting trust agreement or deposit agreement in question, whether or not all of the outstanding securities have been so deposited. For the purpose of this section a person acting in good faith may rely on the information contained in the latest Annual Statement filed with the Commissioner with respect to the amount of securities of a class outstanding or in the case of voting trust certificates or certificates of deposit the amount issuable.

Editor's Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

B. In determining for the purpose of Section 1 of the Act whether a person is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than ten percent (10%) of any class of equity securities, the person shall be deemed to be the beneficial owner of securities of any class which the person has the right to acquire through the exercise of presently exercisable options, warrants or rights or through the conversion of presently convertible securities. The securities subject to such options, warrants, rights or conversion privileges held by a person shall be deemed to be outstanding for the purpose of computing, in accordance with Subsection A, the percentage of outstanding securities of the class owned by that person, but shall not be deemed outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of the class owned by any other person. This subsection shall not be construed to relieve any person of any duty to comply with Section 1 of the Act with respect to any equity securities consisting of options, warrants, rights or convertible securities which are otherwise subject as a class to that section of the Act.

Section 5. Disclaimer of Beneficial Ownership

Any person filing a statement may expressly declare therein that the filing of such statement shall not be construed as an admission that the person is, for the purpose of the Act, the beneficial owner of any equity securities covered by the statement.

Section 6. Exemptions From Sections 1 and 2 of the Act

A. During the period of twelve (12) months following their appointment and qualification, securities held by the following persons shall be exempt from Sections 1 and 2 of the Act:

(1) Executors or administrators of the estate of a decedent;

(2) Guardians or committees for an incompetent; and

(3) Receivers, trustees in bankruptcy, assignors for the benefit of creditors, conservators, liquidating agents, and other similar persons duly authorized by law to administer the estate or assets of other persons.

B. After the 12-month period following their appointment or qualification the foregoing persons shall be required to file reports with respect to the securities held by the estates which they administer under Section 1 of the Act and shall be liable for profits realized from trading in such securities pursuant to Section 2 of the Act only when the estate being administered is a beneficial owner of more than ten percent (10%) of any class of equity security of an insurer subject to the Act.

C. Securities reacquired by or for the account of an insurer and held by it for its account shall be exempt from Sections 1 and 2 during the time they are held by the insurer.

Section 7. Exemption From the Act of Securities Purchased or Sold by Odd-Lot Dealers

Securities purchased or sold by an odd-lot dealer in odd lots so far as reasonably necessary to carry on odd-lot transactions or in round lots to offset odd-lot transactions previously or simultaneously executed or reasonably anticipated in the usual course of business, shall be exempt from the provisions of the Act with respect to participation by the odd-lot dealer in such transactions.

Section 8. Certain Transactions Subject to Section 1 of the Act

The acquisition or disposition of any transferable option, put, call, spread or straddle shall be deemed a change in the beneficial ownership of the security to which the privilege relates so as to require the filing of a statement reflecting the acquisition or disposition of the privilege. Nothing in this section, however, shall exempt any person from filing the statements required upon the exercise of such an option, put, call, spread or straddle.

Section 9. Ownership of Securities Held in Trust

A. Beneficial ownership of a security for the purpose of Section 1 shall include:

(1) The ownership of securities as a trustee where either the trustee or members of his immediate family have a vested interest in the income or corpus of the trust;

(2) The ownership of a vested beneficial interest in a trust; and

(3) The ownership of securities as a settlor of a trust in which the settlor has the power to revoke the trust without obtaining the consent of all the beneficiaries.

B. Except as provided in Subsection C, beneficial ownership of securities solely as a settlor or beneficiary of a trust shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 1 where less than twenty percent (20%) in market value of the securities having a readily ascertainable market value held by the trust, determined as of the end of the preceding fiscal year of the trust, consists of equity securities with respect to which reports would otherwise be required. Exemption is likewise accorded from Section 1 with respect to any obligation which would otherwise be imposed solely by reason of ownership as settlor or beneficiary of securities held in trust, where the ownership, acquisition or disposition of the securities by the trust is made without prior approval by the settlor or beneficiary. No exemption pursuant to this subsection shall,however, be acquired or lost solely as a result of changes in the value of the trust assets during any fiscal year or during any time when there is no transaction by the trust in the securities otherwise subject to the reporting requirements of Section 1.

C. In the event that ten percent (10%) of any class of any equity security of an insurer is held in a trust, that trust and its trustees shall be deemed a person required to file the reports specified in Section 1 of the Act.

D. No more than one report need be filed to report any holdings or with respect to any transaction in securities held by a trust, regardless of the number of officers, directors or ten percent (10%) stockholders who are either trustees, settlors or beneficiaries of a trust, provided that the report filed shall disclose the names of all trustees, settlors and beneficiaries who are officers, directors or ten percent stockholders. A person having an interest only as a beneficiary of a trust shall not be required to file any report so long as he relies in good faith upon an understanding that the trustee of the trust will file whatever reports might otherwise be required of the beneficiary.

E. As used in this section the "immediate family" of a trustee means:

(1) A son or daughter of the trustee, or a descendant of either;

(2) A stepson or stepdaughter of the trustee;

(3) The father or mother of the trustee, or an ancestor of either;

(4) A stepfather or stepmother of the trustee;

(5) A spouse of the trustee.

For the purpose of determining whether any of the foregoing relations exists, a legally adopted child of a person shall be considered a child of the person by blood.

F. In determining, for the purposes of Section 1 of the Act, whether a person is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, or more than ten percent (10%) of any class of any equity security, the interest of that person in the remainder of a trust shall be excluded from the computation.

G. No report shall be required by any person, whether or not otherwise subject to the requirement of filing reports under Section 1, with respect to his indirect interest in portfolio securities held by:

(1) A pension or retirement plan holding securities of an insurer whose employees generally are the beneficiaries of the plan,

(2) A business trust with over twenty-five (25) beneficiaries.

H. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to impose any duties or liabilities with respect to reporting any transaction or holding prior to its effective date.

Section 10. Exemption for Small Transactions

A. Any acquisition of securities shall be exempt from Section 1 where:

(1) The person effecting the acquisition does not within six (6) months thereafter effect any disposition, other than by way of gift, of securities of the same class; and

(2) The person effecting the acquisition does not participate in acquisitions or in dispositions of securities of the same class having a total market value in excess of $3,000 for any six-month period during which the acquisition occurs.

B. Any acquisition or disposition of securities by way of gift, where the total amount of such gifts does not exceed $3,000 in market value for any six-month period, shall be exempt from Section 1 and may be excluded from the computations prescribed in Subsection A(2).

C. Any person exempted by Subsection A or B of this section shall include in the first report filed after a transaction within the exemption a statement showing his acquisitions and dispositions for each six-month period or portion thereof which has elapsed since the last filing.

Section 11. Exemption From Section 2 of the Act of Transactions Which Need Not be Reported Under Section 1

Any transaction which has been or shall be exempted from the requirements of Section 1 of the Act shall, insofar as it is otherwise subject to the provisions of Section 2, be likewise exempted from Section 2.

Section 12. Exemption from Section 2 of Certain Transactions Effected in Connection With a Distribution

A. Any transaction of purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, of a security which is effected in connection with the distribution of a substantial block of securities shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 2 of the Act, to the extent specified in this section as not comprehended within the purpose of that section of the Act, upon the following conditions:

(1) The person effecting the transaction is engaged in the business of distributing securities and is participating in good faith, in the ordinary course of business, in the distribution of the block of securities;

(2) The security involved in the transaction is;

(a) A part of a block of securities and is acquired by the person effecting the transaction, with a view to the distribution thereof, from the insurer or other person on whose behalf such securities are being distributed or from a person who is participating in good faith in the distribution of the block of securities; or

(b) A security purchased in good faith by or for the account of the person effecting the transaction for the purpose of stabilizing the market price of securities of the class being distributed or to cover an over-allotment or other short position created in connection with the distribution; and

(3) Other persons not within the purview of Section 2 of the Act are participating in the distribution of the block of securities on terms at least as favorable as those on which the person is participating and to an extent at least equal to the aggregate participation of all persons exempted from the provisions of Section 2 of the Act by this section. However, the performance of the functions of manager of a distributing group and the receipt of a bona fide payment for performing such functions shall not preclude an exemption which would otherwise be available under this section.

B. The exemption of a transaction pursuant to this section with respect to the participation therein of one party shall not render the transaction exempt with respect to participation of any other party unless the other party also meets the conditions of this section.

Section 13. Exemption From Section 2 of Acquisitions of Shares of Stock and Stock Options Under Certain Stock Bonus, Stock Option or Similar Plans

Any acquisition of shares of stock (other than stock acquired upon the exercise of an option, warrant or right) pursuant to a stock bonus, profit sharing, retirement, incentive, thrift, savings or similar plan, or any acquisition of a qualified or a restricted stock option pursuant to an employee stock purchase plan, by a director or officer of an insurer issuing such stock or stock option shall be exempt from the operation of Section 2 of the Act if the plan meets the following conditions:

A. The plan has been approved, directly or indirectly, by the affirmative votes of the holders of a majority of the securities of the insurer present, or represented, and entitled to vote at a meeting duly held in accordance with the applicable laws of the State of [insert state] or by the written consent of the holders of a majority of the securities of the insurer entitled to vote; provided however, that if the vote or written consent was not solicited substantially in accordance with the proxy rules and regulations prescribed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, if any, in effect at the time of the vote or written consent, the insurer shall furnish in writing to the holders of record of the securities entitled to vote for the plan substantially the same information concerning the plan which would be required by any such rules and regulations so prescribed and in effect at the time such information is furnished, if proxies to be voted with respect to the approval or disapproval of the plan were then being solicited, on or prior to the date of the first annual meeting of security holders held subsequent to the later of the date the Act first applies to the insurer, or the acquisition of an equity security for which exemption is claimed. Such written information may be furnished by mail to the last known address of the security holders of record within thirty (30) days prior to the date of mailing. Four (4) copies of the written information shall be filed with, or mailed for filing to the Commissioner not later than the date on which it is first sent or given to security holders of the insurer. For the purposes of this subsection, the term "insurer" includes a predecessor corporation if the plan or obligations to participate thereunder were assumed by the insurer in connection with the succession.

B. If the selection of any director or officer of the insurer to whom stock may be allocated or to whom qualified, restricted or employee stock purchase plan stock options may be granted pursuant to the plan, or the determination of the number or maximum number of shares of stock which may be allocated to any such director or officer or which may be covered by qualified, restricted or employee stock purchase plan stock options granted to any such director or officer, is subject to the discretion of any person, then such discretion shall be exercised only as follows:

(1) With respect to the participation of directors:

(a) By the board of directors of the insurer, a majority of which board and a majority of the directors acting in the matter are disinterested persons;

(b) By, or only in accordance with the recommendations of, a committee of three (3) or more persons having full authority to act in the matter, all of the members of which committee are disinterested persons; or

(c) Otherwise in accordance with the plan, if the plan (i) specifies the number or maximum number of shares of stock which directors may acquire or which may be subject to qualified, restricted or employee stock purchase plan stock options granted to directors and the terms upon which, and the times at which, or the periods within which, such stock may be acquired or such options may be acquired and exercised; or (ii) sets forth, by formula or otherwise, effective and determinable limitations with respect to the foregoing based upon earnings of the insurer, dividends paid, compensation received by participants, option prices, market value of shares, outstanding shares or percentages thereof outstanding from time to time, or similar factors.

(2) With respect to the participation of officers who are not directors:

(a) By the board of directors of the insurer or a committee of three (3) or more directors; or

(b) By, or only in accordance with the recommendations of, a committee of three (3) or more persons having full authority to act in the matter, all of the members of which committee are disinterested persons.

For the purpose of this subsection, a director or committee member shall be deemed to be a disinterested person only if that person is not at the time discretion is exercised eligible and has not at any time within one year prior thereto been eligible for selection as a person to whom stock may be allocated or to whom qualified, restricted or employee stock purchase plan stock options may be granted pursuant to the plan or any other plan of the insurer or any of its affiliates entitling the participants to acquire stock or qualified, restricted or employee stock purchase plan stock options of the insurer or any of its affiliates.

(3) The provisions of this subsection shall not apply with respect to any option granted, or other equity security acquired, prior to the date that Sections 1, 2 and 3 of the Act first become applicable with respect to any class of equity securities of any insurer.

C. As to each participant or as to all participants, the plan effectively limits the aggregate dollar amount or the aggregate number of shares of stock which may be allocated, or which may be subject to qualified, restricted or employee stock purchase plan stock options granted pursuant to the plan. The limitations may be established on an annual basis, or for the duration of the plan, whether or not the plan has a fixed termination date; and may be determined either by fixed or maximum dollar amounts or fixed or maximum numbers of shares or by formulas based upon earnings of the insurer, dividends paid, compensation received by participants, option prices, market value of shares, outstanding shares or percentages thereof outstanding from time to time, or similar factors which will result in an effective and determinable limitation. The limitations may be subject to any provisions for adjustment of the plan or of stock allocable or options outstanding thereunder to prevent dilution or enlargement of rights.

D. Unless the context otherwise requires, all terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as in the Act and in Section 1 of these regulations. In addition, the following definitions apply:

(1) The term "plan" includes any plan, whether or not set forth in any formal written document or documents and whether or not approved in its entirety at one time.

(2) The definition of the terms "qualified stock option" and "employee stock purchase plan" that are set forth in Sections 422 and 423 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, are to be applied to those terms where used in this section. The term "restricted stock option" as defined in Section 424(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, shall be applied to that term as used in this section; provided however, that for the purposes of this section an option which meets all of the conditions of that section, other than the date of issuance shall be deemed to be a "restricted stock option."

(3) The term "exercise of an option, warrant or right" contained in the parenthetical clause of the first paragraph of this section shall not include (a) the making of any election to receive under any plan an award of compensation in the form of stock or credits therefore; provided, that the election is made prior to the making of the award; and provided further that the election is irrevocable until at least six (6) months after termination of employment; (b) the subsequent crediting of such stock; (c) the making of any election as to a time for delivery of the stock after termination of employment, provided that the election is made at least six (6) months prior to delivery; (d) the fulfillment of any condition to the absolute right to receive stock; or (e) the acceptance of certificates for shares of stock.

Section 14. Exemption From Section 2 of Certain Transactions in Which Securities are Received by Redeeming Other Securities

Any acquisition of an equity security (other than a convertible security or right to purchase a security) by a director or officer of the insurer issuing such security shall be exempt from the operation of Section 2 of the Act upon condition that:

A. The equity security is acquired by way of redemption of another security of an insurer substantially all of whose assets other than cash (or government bonds) consist of securities of the insurer issuing the equity security so acquired, and which

(1) Represented substantially and in practical effect a stated or readily ascertainable amount of equity security;

(2) Had a value which was substantially determined by the value of the equity security; and

(3) Conferred upon the holder the right to receive the equity security without the payment of any consideration other than the security redeemed;

B. No security of the same class as the security redeemed was acquired by the director or officer within six (6) months prior to the redemption or is acquired within six (6) months after the redemption;

C. The insurer issuing the equity security acquired has recognized the applicability of Subsection A of this section by appropriate corporate action.

Section 15. Exemption of Long Term Profits Incident to Sales Within Six Months of the Exercise of an Option

A. To the extent specified in Subsection B of this section, the Commissioner hereby exempts as not comprehended within the purposes of Section 2 of the Act any transaction or transactions involving the purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, of any equity security where the purchase is pursuant to the exercise of an option or similar right either (1) acquired more than six (6) months before its exercise, or (2) acquired pursuant to the terms of an employment contract entered into more than six (6) months before its exercise.

B. In respect of transactions specified in Subsection A the profits inuring to the insurer shall not exceed the difference between the proceeds of sale and the lowest market price of any security of the same class within six (6) months before or after the date of sale. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to enlarge the amount of profit which would inure to the insurer in the absence of this section.

C. The Commissioner also hereby exempts, as not comprehended within the purposes of Section 2 of the Act, the disposition of a security, purchased in a transaction specified in Subsection A of this section, pursuant to a plan or agreement for merger or consolidation, or reclassification of the insurer's securities, or for the exchange of its securities for the securities of another person which has acquired its assets, or which is in control, as defined in Section 368(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, of a person which has acquired its assets, where the terms of such plan or agreement are binding upon all stockholders of the insurer except to the extent that dissenting stockholders may be entitled, under statutory provisions or provisions contained in the certificate of incorporation, to receive the appraised or fair value of their holdings.

D. The exemptions provided by this section shall not apply to any transaction made unlawful by Section 3 of the Act or by any rules and regulations thereunder.

E. The burden of establishing market price of a security for the purpose of this section shall rest upon the person claiming the exemption.

Section 16. Exemption From Section 2 of Certain Acquisitions and Dispositions of Securities Pursuant to Merger or Consolidations

A. The following transactions shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 2 of the Act as not comprehended within the purpose of the section:

(1) The acquisition of a security of an insurer, pursuant to a merger or consolidation, in exchange for a security of a company which, prior to the merger or consolidation, owned eighty-five percent (85%) or more of the equity securities of all other companies involved in the merger or consolidation except, in the case of consolidation, the resulting company;

(2) The disposition of a security, pursuant to a merger or consolidation of an insurer which, prior to the merger or consolidation, owned eighty-five percent (85%) or more of the equity securities of all other companies involved in the merger or consolidation except, in the case of consolidation, the resulting company;

(3) The acquisition of a security of an insurer, pursuant to a merger or consolidation, in exchange for a security of a company which, prior to the merger or consolidation, held over eighty-five percent (85%) of the combined assets of all the companies undergoing merger or consolidation, computed according to their book values prior to the merger or consolidation as determined by reference to their most recent available financial statements for a twelve-month period prior to the merger or consolidation.

(4) The disposition of a security, pursuant to a merger or consolidation, of an insurer which, prior to the merger or consolidation, held over eighty-five percent (85%) of the combined assets of all the companies undergoing merger or consolidation, computed according to their book values prior to merger or consolidation, as determined by reference to their most recent available financial statements for a twelve-month period prior to the merger or consolidation.

B. A merger within the meaning of this section shall include the sale or purchase of substantially all the assets of one insurer by another in exchange for stock which is then distributed to the security holders of the insurer which sold its assets.

C. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if an officer, director or stockholder shall make any purchase (other than a purchase exempted by this section) of a security in any company involved in the merger or consolidation and any sale (other than a sale exempted by this section) of a security in any other company involved in the merger or consolidation within any period of less than six (6) months during which the merger or consolidation took place, the exemption provided by this section shall be unavailable to the officer, director or stockholder to the extent of the purchase and sale.

Section 17. Exemption From Section 2 of Transactions Involving the Deposit or Withdrawal of Equity Securities Under a Voting Trust or Deposit Agreement

Any acquisition or disposition of an equity security involved in the deposit of the security under, or the withdrawal of the security from, a voting trust or deposit agreement, and the acquisition or disposition in connection therewith of the certificate representing the security, shall be exempt from the operation of Section 2 of the Act if substantially all of the assets held under the voting trust or deposit agreement immediately after the deposit or immediately prior to the withdrawal, as the case may be, consisted of equity securities of the same class as the security deposited or withdrawn: provided, however, that this section shall not apply to the extent that there shall have been either (A) a purchase of an equity security of the class deposited and a sale of any certificate representing an equity security of such class, or (B) a sale of an equity security of the class deposited and a purchase of any certificate representing an equity security of such class (otherwise than in a transaction involved in such deposit or withdrawal or in a transaction exempted by any other provision of the regulations under Section 2 of the Act) within a period of less than six (6) months which includes the date of the deposit or withdrawal.

Section 18. Exemption From Section 2 of Certain Transactions Involving the Conversion of Equity Securities

A. Any acquisition or disposition of an equity security involved in the conversion of an equity security which, by its terms or pursuant to the terms of the insurer's charter or other governing instruments, is convertible immediately or after a stated period of time into another equity security of the same insurer, shall be exempt from the operation of Section 2 of the Act; provided however, that this section shall not apply to the extent that there shall have been either (1) a purchase of any equity security of the class convertible (including any acquisition of or change in a conversion privilege) and a sale of any equity security of the class issuable upon conversion, or (2) a sale of any equity security of the class convertible and any purchase of any equity security issuable upon conversion (otherwise than in a transaction involved in the conversion or in a transaction exempted by any other provision of the regulations under Section 2 of the Act) within a period of less than six (6) months which includes the date of conversion.

B. For the purpose of this section, an equity security shall not be deemed to be acquired or disposed of upon conversion of an equity security if the terms of the equity security converted require the payment or entail the receipt, in connection with the conversion, of cash or other property in connection with the conversion, of cash or other property (other than equity securities involved in the conversion) equal in value at the time of conversion to more than fifteen percent (15%) of the value of the equity security issued upon conversion.

C. For the purpose of this section, an equity security shall be deemed convertible if it is convertible at the option of the holder or of some other person or by operation of the terms of the security or the governing instruments.

Section 19. Exemption From Section 2 of Certain Transactions Involving the Sale of Subscription Rights

A. Any sale of a subscription right to acquire any subject security of the same insurer shall be exempt from the provision of Section 2 of the Act, to the extent prescribed in this section, as not comprehended within the purpose of that section of the Act, if:

(1) The subscription right is acquired, directly or indirectly, from the insurer without the payment of consideration;

(2) The subscription right by its terms expires within forty-five (45) days after the issuance thereof;

(3) The subscription right by its terms is issued on a pro rata basis to all holders of the beneficiary security of the insurer; and

(4) A registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 is in effect as to each subject security, or the applicable terms of any exemption from registration have been met with respect to each subject security.

B. When used within this section the following terms shall have the meaning indicated:

(1) The term "subscription right" means any warrant or certificate evidencing a right to subscribe to or otherwise acquire an equity security;

(2) The term "beneficiary security" means a security registered pursuant to Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act, to the holders of which a subscription right is granted;

(3) The term "subject security" means a security which is the subject of a subscription right.

C. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, if a person purchases subscription rights for cash or other consideration, then a sale by such person of subscription rights otherwise exempted by this section will not be so exempted to the extent of such purchases within the six-month period preceding or following the sale.

Section 20. Exemption of Certain Securities From Section 3 of the Act

Any security shall be exempt from the operation of Section 3 of the Act to the extent necessary to render lawful under that section the execution by a broker of an order for an account in which he has no direct or indirect interest.

Section 21. Exemption From Section 3 of the Act of Certain Transactions Effected in Connection With a Distribution

Any security shall be exempt from the operation of Section 3 of the Act to the extent necessary to render lawful under the section any sale made by or on behalf of a dealer in connection with a distribution of a substantial block of securities, upon the following conditions:

A. The sale is represented by an over-allotment in which the dealer is participating as a member of an underwriting group, or the dealer or a person acting on his behalf intends in good faith to offset such sale with a security to be acquired by or on behalf of the dealer as a participant in an underwriting, selling or soliciting dealer group of which the dealer is a member at the time of the sale, whether or not the security to be so acquired is subject to a prior offering to existing security holders or some other class of persons; and

B. Other persons not within the purview of Section 3 of the Act are participating in the distribution of the block of securities on terms at least as favorable as those under which the dealer is participating and to an extent at least equal to the aggregate participation of persons exempted from the provisions of Section 3 of the Act by this section. However, the performance of the functions of manager of a distributing group and the receipt of a bona fide payment for performing the functions shall not preclude an exemption which would otherwise be available under this section.

Section 22. Exemption From Section 3 of the Act of Sales of Securities to be Acquired

A. Whenever any person is entitled, as an incident to his ownership of an issued security and without the payment of consideration, to receive another security "when issued" or "when distributed," the security to be acquired shall be exempt from the operation of Section 3, provided that:

(1) The sale is made subject to the same conditions as those attaching to the right of acquisition; and

(2) The person exercises reasonable diligence to deliver the security to the purchaser promptly after his right of acquisition matures; and

(3) The person reports the sale on the appropriate form for reporting transactions by persons subject to Section 1 of the Act.

B. This section shall not be construed as exempting transactions involving both a sale of a security "when issued" or "when distributed" and a sale of the security by virtue of which the seller expects to receive the "when-issued" or "when-distributed" security, if the two transactions combined result in a sale of more units than the aggregate of those owned by the seller plus those to be received by him or her pursuant to the right of acquisition.

Section 23. Arbitrage Transactions Under Section 5 of the Act

It shall be unlawful for any director or officer of an insurer to effect any foreign or domestic arbitrage transaction in any equity security of the insurer, unless he shall include the transaction in the statements required by Section 1 of the Act and shall account to the insurer for the profits arising from the transaction, as provided in Section 2. The provisions of Section 3 shall not apply to such arbitrage transactions. The provisions of the Act shall not apply to any bona fide foreign or domestic arbitrage transaction insofar as it is effected by any person other than the director or officer of the insurer.

FORM 3 - INSTRUCTIONS

1. PERSONS REQUIRED TO FILE STATEMENTS

A statement on this form is required to be filed by every person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of any class of any equity security of a domestic stock insurance company, or who is a director or an officer of such a company.

2. WHEN STATEMENTS ARE TO BE FILED

A. Persons who hold any of the relationships specified in Instruction 1 are required to file a statement by _____, 1965, or within 10 days after assuming such relationship, whichever date is later.

B. Statements are not deemed to have been filed with the Commissioner until they have actually been received by the Commissioner.

3. WHERE STATEMENTS ARE TO BE FILED

One signed copy of each statement shall be filed with the Commissioner of Insurance, [address].

4. SEPARATE STATEMENT FOR EACH COMPANY

A separate statement shall be filed with respect to the securities of each company.

5. RELATIONSHIP OF REPORTING PERSON TO COMPANY

Indicate clearly the relationship of the reporting person to the company; for example, "Director," "Director and Vice President," "Beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of the company's common stock," etc.

6. DATE AS OF WHICH BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP IS TO BE GIVEN

The information as to beneficial ownership of securities shall be given as of [insert month, day], 1965, or, in the case of persons who subsequently assume any of the relationships specified in Instruction 1, as of the date that relationship was assumed.

7. TITLE OF SECURITY

The statement of the title of a security shall be such as clearly to identify the security even though there may be only one class; for example, "Class A Common Stock," "$6 Convertible Preferred Stock," "5% Debentures Due 1965," etc.

8. NATURE OF OWNERSHIP

Under "nature of ownership," state whether ownership of the securities is "direct" or "indirect." If the ownership is indirect, i.e., through a partnership, corporation, trust or other entity, indicate in a footnote or other appropriate manner the name or identity of the medium through which the securities are indirectly owned. The fact that securities are held in the name of a broker or other nominee does not, of itself, constitute indirect ownership. Securities owned indirectly shall be reported on separate lines from those owned directly and also from those owned through a different type of indirect ownership.

9. STATEMENT OF AMOUNT OWNED

In stating the amount of securities beneficially owned, give the face amount of debt securities or the number of shares or other units of other securities. In the case of securities owned indirectly, the entire amount of securities owned by the partnership, corporation, trust or other entity shall be stated. The person whose ownership is reported may, if he or she so desires, also indicate in a footnote or other appropriate manner the extent of his or her interest in the partnership, corporation, trust or other entity.

10. INCLUSION OF ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

A statement may include any additional information or explanation deemed relevant by the person filing the statement.

11. SIGNATURE

If the statement is filed for a corporation, partnership, trust, etc., the name of the organization shall appear over the signature of the officer or other person authorized to sign the statement. If the statement is filed for an individual, it shall be signed by him or specifically on his behalf by a person authorized to sign for him.

FORM 4 - INSTRUCTIONS

1. PERSONS REQUIRED TO FILE STATEMENTS

Statements on this form are required to be filed by every person who at any time during any calendar month was directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of any class of equity security of a domestic stock insurance company, or a director or officer of the company which is the issuer of such securities, and who during such month had any change in his beneficial ownership of any class of equity security of such company.

2. WHEN STATEMENTS ARE TO BE FILED

Statements are required to be filed on or before the 10th day after the end of each month in which any change in beneficial ownership has occurred. Statements are not deemed to have been filed with the Commissioner until they have actually been received by him.

3. WHERE STATEMENTS ARE TO BE FILED

One signed copy of each statement shall be filed with the Commissioner of Insurance, [address].

4. SEPARATE STATEMENT FOR EACH COMPANY

A separate statement shall be filed with respect to the securities of each company.

5. RELATIONSHIP OF REPORTING PERSON TO COMPANY

Indicate clearly the relationship of the reporting person to the company; for example, "Director," "Director and Vice President," "Beneficial owner of more than 10 percent of the company's common stock," etc.

6. TRANSACTIONS AND HOLDINGS TO BE REPORTED

Every transaction shall be reported even though purchases and sales during the month are equal or the change involves only the nature of ownership; for example, from direct to indirect ownership. Beneficial ownership at the end of the month of all classes of securities required to be reported shall be shown even though there has been no change during the month in the ownership of securities of one or more classes.

7. TITLE OF SECURITY

The statement of the title of the security shall be such as clearly to identify the security even though there may be only one class; for example, "Class A Common Stock," "$6 Convertible Preferred Stock," "5% Debentures Due 1965," etc.

8. DATE OF TRANSACTION

The exact date (month, day and year) of each transaction shall be stated opposite the amount involved in the transaction.

9. STATEMENT OF AMOUNTS OF SECURITIES

In stating the amount of the securities acquired, disposed of, or beneficially owned, give the face amount of debt securities or the number of shares or other units of other securities. In the case of securities owned indirectly, i.e., through a partnership, corporation, trust or other entity, the entire amount of securities involved in the transaction or owned by the partnership, corporation, trust or other entity shall be stated. The person whose ownership is reported may, if he so desires, also indicate in a footnote or other appropriate manner the extent of his interest in the transaction or holdings of the partnership, corporation, trust or other entity.

10. NATURE OF OWNERSHIP

Under "Nature of ownership," state whether ownership of the securities is "direct" or "indirect." If the ownership is indirect, i.e., through a partnership, corporation, trust or other entity, indicate in a footnote, or other appropriate manner, the name or identity of the medium through which the securities are indirectly owned. The fact that securities are held in the name of a broker or other nominee does not, of itself, constitute indirect ownership. Securities owned indirectly shall be reported on separate lines from those owned directly and from those owned through a different type of indirect ownership.

11. CHARACTER OF TRANSACTION

If the transaction was with the issuer of the securities, so state. If it involved the purchase of securities through the exercise of options, so state and give the exercise price per share. If any other purchase or sale was effected otherwise than in the open market, that fact shall be indicated. If the transaction was not a purchase or sale, indicate its character; for example, gift, 5% stock dividend, etc., as the case may be. The foregoing information may be appropriately set forth in the table or under "Remarks" at the end of the table.

12. INCLUSION OF ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

A statement may include any additional information or explanation deemed relevant by the person filing the statement.

13. SIGNATURE

If the statement is filed for a corporation, partnership, trust, etc., the name of the organization shall appear over the signature of the officer or other person authorized to sign the statement. If the statement is filed for an individual, it shall be signed by him or specifically on his behalf by a person authorized to sign for him.

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

REGULATION REGARDING PROXIES, CONSENTS AND AUTHORIZATIONS OF DOMESTIC STOCK INSURERS

Table of Contents

Section 1. Application of Regulation

A. No domestic stock insurer that has any class of equity securities held of record by 300 or more persons, or any director, officer or employee of that insurer, or any other person, shall solicit, or permit the use of the person's name to solicit, by mail or otherwise, any proxy, consent or authorization in respect to any class of equity securities in contravention of this regulation and Schedules A and B, hereby made a part of this regulation. However, this regulation shall not apply to any insurer if ninety-five percent (95%) or more of its equity securities is owned or controlled by a parent or an affiliated insurer and the remaining securities are held of record by less than 500 persons. A domestic stock insurer which files with the Securities and Exchange Commission with respect to any class of securities forms of proxies, consents and authorizations complying with the requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and its applicable regulations, shall be exempt from the provisions of this regulation with respect to that class of securities.

B. Unless proxies, consents or authorizations in respect of any class of equity securities of a domestic insurer subject to Section 1A are solicited by or on behalf of the management of the insurer from the holders of record of the securities in accordance with this regulation and its schedules prior to any annual or other meeting of the security holders, the insurer shall file with the commissioner and transmit to every security holder who is entitled to vote in regard to any matter to be acted upon at the meeting and from whom a proxy is not solicited a written information statement containing the information specified in Schedule C.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

Section 2. Definitions

The following definitions apply unless the context otherwise requires:

A. Affiliate. An "affiliate" of, or a person affiliated with a specified person is a person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, the person specified.

B. Associate. The term "associate" used to indicate a relationship with any person means:

(1) A corporation or organization (other than the issuer or a majority owned subsidiary of the issuer) of which the person is an officer or partner or is, directly or indirectly, the beneficial owner of ten percent (10%) or more of any class of equity securities;

(2) A trust or other estate in which the person has a substantial beneficial interest or as to which the person serves as trustee or in a similar fiduciary capacity; and

(3) A relative or spouse of that person, or any relative of the spouse, who has the same home as the person or who is a director or officer of the issuer or any of its parents or subsidiaries.

C. Beneficial owner. The term "beneficial owner" includes a person who, directly or indirectly, through a contract, arrangement, understanding, relationship, or otherwise, has or shares:

(1) Voting power including the power to vote, or the power to direct voting of, a security; or

(2) Investment power which includes the power to dispose of, or to direct the disposition of, the security.

D. Control. The term "control" (including the terms "controlling", "controlled by" and "under common control with") means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract, or otherwise.

E. Issuer. The term "issuer" means the issuer of the securities in respect of which a proxy is solicited.

F. Last fiscal year. The "last fiscal year" of the issuer means the last fiscal year of the issuer ending prior to the date of the meeting for which proxies are to be solicited.

G. Officer. The term "officer" means the president, secretary, treasurer, any vice president in charge of a principal business function (such as sales, administration or finance) and any other person who performs similar policy-making functions for the insurer.

H. Parent. A "parent" of a specified person is an affiliate controlling the person directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

I. Person. The term "person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, or a government or political subdivision thereof. As used in this subsection, the term "trust" shall include only a trust where the interest or interests of the beneficiary or beneficiaries are evidenced by a security.

J. Proxy statement. The term "proxy statement" means the statement required by Section 4, whether or not contained in a single document.

K. Solicitation.

(1) The terms "solicit" and "solicitation" include:

(a) A request for a proxy whether or not accompanied by or included in a form of proxy;

(b) A request to execute or not to execute, or to revoke, a proxy; or

(c) The furnishing of a form of proxy or other communication to security holders under circumstances reasonably calculated to result in the procurement, withholding or revocation of a proxy.

(2) The terms do not apply, however, to the furnishing of a form of proxy to a security holder upon the unsolicited request of the security holder, the performance by the issuer of acts required by Section 8, or the performance by any person of ministerial acts on behalf of a person soliciting a proxy.

Section 3. Solicitations to Which Regulation Applies

Section 10 of this regulation shall apply to every solicitation that is subject to Section 1. Sections 2 through 9 and Section 11 of this regulation shall apply to every solicitation that is subject to Section 1 except the following:

A. A solicitation made otherwise than on behalf of the issuer where the total number of persons solicited is not more than ten (10).

B. A solicitation by a person in respect of securities carried in his name or in the name of his nominee (otherwise than as voting trustee) or held in his custody, if the person:

(1) Receives no commission or remuneration for the solicitation, directly or indirectly, other than reimbursement of reasonable expenses;

(2) Furnishes promptly to the solicited person a copy of all soliciting material with respect to the same subject matter or meeting received from all persons who shall furnish copies thereof for that purpose and who shall, if requested, defray the reasonable expenses to be incurred in forwarding the material; and

(3) In addition, does no more than impartially instruct the person solicited to forward a proxy to the person, if any, to whom the person solicited desires to give a proxy, or impartially request from the person solicited instructions as to the authority to be conferred by the proxy and state that a proxy will be given if no instructions are received by a certain date.

C. A solicitation by a person in respect of securities of which it is the beneficial owner.

D. A solicitation through the medium of a newspaper advertisement which informs security holders of a source from which they may obtain copies of a proxy statement, form of proxy and any other soliciting material and does no more than:

(1) Name the issuer;

(2) State the reason for the advertisement; and

(3) Identify the proposal or proposals to be acted upon by security holders.

E. Any solicitation which the commissioner finds for good cause should be exempted from this regulation or any part thereof.

Section 4. Information to be Furnished Security Holders

A. No solicitation subject to this regulation shall be made unless each person solicited is concurrently furnished or has previously been furnished with a written proxy statement containing the information specified in Schedule A.

B. If the solicitation is made on behalf of the issuer and relates to an annual meeting of security holders at which directors are to be elected, each proxy statement furnished pursuant to Subsection A shall be accompanied or preceded by an annual report to security holders as follows:

(1) The report shall contain, in comparative columnar form, such financial statements for the last two (2) fiscal years, prepared on a consistent basis, as will in the opinion of the management adequately reflect the financial position of the issuer at the end of each year and the results of its operations for each year. Consolidated financial statements of the issuer and its subsidiaries shall be included in the report if they are necessary to reflect the financial position and results of operations of the issuer and its subsidiaries, but in that case the individual statements of the issuer may be omitted. The commissioner may, upon the request of the issuer, permit the omission of financial statements for the earlier of the two (2) fiscal years upon a showing of good cause.

(2) The financial statements for the last two (2) fiscal years required by Subsection A(1) shall be prepared in a manner acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) The report shall include, in comparative columnar form, a summary of issuer's operations, or the operations of the issuer and its subsidiaries consolidated, or both as appropriate, for each of the last five (5) fiscal years of the issuer (or the life of the issuer and its predecessors, if less).

Note: Paragraph 7 permits the information required by this subsection to be set forth in any form deemed suitable by management.

(4) The report shall contain a brief description of the business or businesses done by the issuer and its subsidiaries during the most recent fiscal year which will, in the opinion of management, indicate the general nature and scope of the business of the issuer and its subsidiaries.

(5) The report shall identify each of the issuer's directors and officers and shall indicate the principal occupation or employment of each person and the name and principal business of any organization by which the person is so employed.

(6) The report shall identify the principal market in which securities of any class entitled to vote at the meeting are traded, stating the range of bid and asked quotations for each quarterly period during the issuer's two most recent fiscal years, and shall set forth each dividend paid during the two (2) year period.

(7) Subject to the foregoing requirements, the report may be in any form deemed suitable by management and the information required by Subsections B(3) through B(6) may be presented in an appendix or other separate section of the report, provided that the attention of security holders is called to the presentation.

(8) This Subsection B shall not apply, however, to solicitations made on behalf of the management before the financial statements are available if solicitation is being made at the time in opposition to the management and if the management's proxy statement includes an undertaking in bold face type to furnish the annual report to all persons being solicited, at least twenty (20) days before the date of the meeting.

C. Two (2) copies of the report sent to security holders pursuant to this section shall be mailed to the commissioner, solely for the commissioner's information, not later than the date on which the report was first sent or given to security holders or the date on which preliminary copies of solicitation material are filed pursuant to Section 7, whichever date is later.

D. If the issuer knows that securities of any class entitled to vote at a meeting with respect to which the issuer intends to solicit proxies, consents or authorizations are held of record by a broker, dealer, bank or voting trustee, or their nominees, the issuer shall inquire of the record holder at least ten (10) days prior to the record date for the meeting of security holders whether other persons are the beneficial owners of the securities and, if so, the number of copies of the proxy and other soliciting material and, in the case of an annual meeting at which directors are to be elected, the number of copies of the annual report to security holders, necessary to supply these materials to beneficial owners. The issuer shall supply the record holder in a timely manner with additional copies assembled in a form and at a place the record holder may reasonably request, in order to address and send one copy to each beneficial owner of securities so held and shall, upon the request of the record holder, pay its reasonable expenses for mailing the materials to security holders to whom the material is sent.

Section 5. Requirements as to Proxy

A. The form of proxy shall:

(1) Indicate in bold face type whether or not the proxy is solicited on behalf of the insurer's board of directors, and, if not, by whom it is solicited;

(2) Provide a specifically designated blank space for dating the proxy; and

(3) Identify clearly and impartially each matter or group of related matters intended to be acted upon, whether proposed by the issuer or by security holders.

No reference need be made to proposals as to which discretionary authority is conferred pursuant to Subsection C.

B. (1) Means shall be provided in the form of proxy whereby the person solicited is afforded an opportunity to specify by ballot a choice between approval or disapproval of, or abstention with respect to, each matter or group of related matters referred to therein as intended to be acted upon, other than elections to office. A proxy may confer discretionary authority with respect to matters as to which a choice is not specified provided the form of proxy states in bold face type how it is intended to vote the shares represented by the proxy in each case.

(2) A form of proxy which provides both for the election of directors and for action on other specified matters shall be prepared clearly to provide, by a box or otherwise, a means by which the security holder may withhold authority to vote for any nominee for election as a director. The form of proxy which is executed by the security holder in a manner as not to withhold authority to vote for the election of all nominees shall be deemed to grant authority for all nominees for which a vote is not withheld, provided the form of proxy so states in bold face type.

C. A proxy may confer discretionary authority to vote with respect to any of the following matters:

(1) Matters which the persons making the solicitation do not know, a reasonable time before the solicitation, are to be presented at the meeting, if a specific statement to that effect is made in the proxy statement or form of proxy;

(2) Approval of the minutes of the prior meeting if the approval does not amount to ratification of the action taken at that meeting;

(3) The election of any person to any office for which a bona fide nominee is named in the proxy statement and the nominee is unable to serve or for good cause will not serve;

(4) Any proposal omitted from the proxy statement and form of proxy pursuant to Sections 9 or 10;

(5) Matters incident to the conduct of the meeting.

D. No proxy shall confer authority to vote for the election of any person to any office for which a bona fide nominee is not named in the proxy statement, or to vote at any annual meeting, other than the next annual meeting (or any adjournment thereof), to be held after the date on which the proxy statement and form of proxy are first sent or given to security holders. A person shall not be deemed to be a bona fide nominee and shall not be named as such unless the person has consented to being named in the proxy statement and to serve if elected.

E. The proxy statement or form of proxy shall provide, subject to reasonable specified conditions, that the securities represented by the proxy will be voted and that where the person solicited specifies by means of a ballot provided pursuant to Subsection B a choice with respect to any matter to be acted upon, the securities will be voted in accordance with specifications so made.

Section 6. Presentation of Information in Proxy Statement

A. The information included in the proxy statement shall be clearly presented and the statements made shall be divided into groups according to subject matter and the various groups of statements shall be preceded by appropriate headings.

B. All proxy statements shall disclose, under an appropriate caption, the date by which proposals of security holders intended to be presented at the next annual meeting must be received by the issuer for inclusion in the issuer's proxy statement and form of proxy relating to that meeting, such date to be calculated in accordance with the provisions of Section 9A. If the date of the next annual meeting is subsequently advanced by more than thirty (30) calendar days or delayed by more than ninety (90) calendar days from the date of the annual meeting to which the proxy statement relates, the issuer shall, in a timely manner, inform security holders of the change, and the date by which proposals of security holders must be received, by any means reasonably calculated to so inform them.

Section 7. Material Required to be Filed

A. Two (2) preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy and any other soliciting material to be furnished to security holders with the proxy (or the information statement pursuant to Schedule C) shall be filed with the commissioner at least ten (10) days prior to the date final copies of the material are first sent or given to security holders, or a shorter period prior to that date as the commissioner may authorize upon a showing of good cause.

B. Two (2) preliminary copies of any additional soliciting material relating to the same meeting or subject matter to be furnished to security holders after the proxy statement shall be filed with the commissioner at least two (2) days (exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and holidays) prior to the date copies of the material are first sent or given to security holders, or a shorter period prior to the date as the commissioner may authorize upon a showing of good cause.

C. Two (2) definitive copies of the proxy statement, form of proxy and all other soliciting material (or the information statement) in the form in which the material is furnished to security holders, shall be filed with, or mailed for filing to, the commissioner no later than the date the material is first sent or given to any security holder.

D. Copies of replies to inquiries from security holders requesting further information and copies of communications that do no more than request that forms of proxy previously solicited be signed and returned do not need to be filed pursuant to this section.

E. Despite the provisions of Subsections A and B of this section and of Section 12E, copies of soliciting material in the form of speeches, press releases and radio or television scripts may, but need not, be filed with the commissioner prior to use or publication. Definitive copies, however, shall be filed with or mailed for filing to the commissioner as required by Subsection C no later than the date the material is used or published. The provisions of Subsections A and B of this section and of Section 12E shall apply, however, to any reprints or reproductions of all or any part of such material.

F. Where any proxy statement, form of proxy or other material filed pursuant to this regulation is amended or revised, one of the copies of the amended or revised material filed pursuant to this regulation shall be marked to indicate clearly and precisely the changes.

Section 8. Mailing Communications for Security Holders

If the management of the issuer has made or intends to make any solicitation subject to this regulation, the issuer shall perform any of the following acts requested in writing with respect to the same subject matter or meeting by any security holder who is, or security holders who are, entitled to vote at least one percent of the votes entitled to be voted on the matter and who shall defray the reasonable expenses to be incurred by the issuer in the performance of the act or acts requested.

A. The issuer shall mail or otherwise furnish to a security holder, as promptly as practicable after the receipt of the request:

(1) A statement of the approximate number of record owners and, to the extent known to the issuer, the approximate number of beneficial owners of any class of securities, any of whom have been or are to be solicited on behalf of the management, or any group of whom the security holder shall designate:

(2) An estimate of the cost of mailing a specified proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication to the owners.

B. (1) Copies of any proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication furnished by the security holder shall be mailed by the issuer to any of the security owners specified in Subsection A(1) as the security holder shall designate.

(2) The material furnished by the security holder shall be mailed with reasonable promptness after receipt of the material to be mailed, envelopes or other containers therefor, and postage or payment for postage. The issuer need not, however, mail any material before the first day that solicitation is made on behalf of the issuer.

(3) The issuer shall not be responsible for the proxy statement, form of proxy or other communication.

C. In lieu of performing the acts specified above, the issuer may, at its option, furnish promptly to a security holder a reasonably current list of the names and addresses of the record owners and, to the extent known to the issuer, the beneficial owners the security holder shall designate and a schedule of the handling and mailing costs if the schedule has been supplied to the issuer.

Section 9. Proposals of Security Holders

A. If any holder or holders of an issuer's securities (hereafter referred to as the "proponent") notifies the issuer in writing not less than ninety (90) days before the issuer's annual meeting of his intention to present a lawful proposal for action at an upcoming meeting of the issuer's security holders and at the time of the notice the proponent is entitled to vote at least one percent of the votes entitled to be voted on the proposal, the issuer shall set forth the proposal in its proxy statement and identify it in its form of proxy and provide for the specification of approval or disapproval of the proposal. The proxy statement shall also include the name and address of the proponent.

B. If the issuer opposes any proposal received from a proponent, it shall also, at the request of the proponent, include in its proxy statement a statement of the proponent of not more than 200 words in support of the proposal.

C. The issuer may omit a proposal and any statement in support thereof from its proxy statement and form of proxy under any of the following circumstances:

(1) The proponent has submitted more than one proposal in connection with a particular meeting.

(2) The proposal is more than 300 words in length.

(3) The proposal or the supporting statement is contrary to any section of this regulation or the schedules attached, including Section 10 which prohibits false or misleading statements in proxy soliciting materials.

(4) The proposal relates to the enforcement of a personal claim or the redress of a personal grievance against the issuer, its management or any other person.

(5) The proposal deals with a matter not significantly related to the issuer's business, a matter beyond the issuer's power to effectuate, a matter relating to the conduct of the ordinary business operations of the issuer or an election to office.

(6) The proposal is counter to a proposal to be submitted by the issuer at the meeting, the proposal has been rendered moot or the proposal relates to specific amounts of cash or stock dividends.

(7) The proposal is substantially duplicative of a proposal previously submitted to the issuer by another proponent, which proposal will be included in the management's proxy material for the meeting.

(8) Substantially the same proposal has previously been submitted to security holders in the issuer's proxy statement and form of proxy relating to any annual or special meeting of security holders held within the preceding five (5) calendar years and received less than five percent (5%) of the total number of votes cast at the time of its most recent submission.

D. If the issuer intends to omit any proposal from its proxy statement or forms of proxy or both, it shall notify the proponent in writing of its intention at least ten (10) days before the issuer's preliminary proxy material is filed pursuant to Section 7A.

Section 10. False or Misleading Statements

No proxy statement, form of proxy, notice of meeting, information statement or other communication, written or oral, subject to this regulation shall contain any statement which, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, is false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or which omits to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein not false or misleading or necessary to correct any statement in any earlier communication with respect to the same meeting or subject matter which has become false or misleading.

Section 11. Prohibition of Certain Solicitations

No person making a solicitation that is subject to this regulation shall solicit any undated or postdated proxy or any proxy or any proxy that provides that it shall be deemed to be dated as of any date subsequent to the date on which it is signed by the security holder subject to this regulation.

Section 12. Special Provisions Applicable to Election Contests

A. Solicitations to which this section applies. This section applies to any solicitation by any person or group for the purpose of opposing a solicitation subject to this regulation by any other person or group with respect to the election or removal of directors at any annual or special meeting of security holders.

B. Participant or participant in a solicitation.

(1) For purposes of this section the terms "participant" and "participant in a solicitation" include:

(a) The issuer;

(b) Any director of the issuer and any nominee for whose election as a director proxies are solicited;

(c) Any other person, acting alone or with one or more other persons, committees or groups, in organizing, directing or financing the solicitation.

(2) For the purpose of this section the terms "participant" and "participant in a solicitation" do not include:

(a) A bank, broker or dealer who, in the ordinary course of business, lends money or executes orders for the purchase or sale of securities and who is not otherwise a participant;

(b) Any person or organization retained or employed by a participant to solicit security holders or any person who merely transmits proxy soliciting material or performs ministerial or clerical duties;

(c) Any person employed in the capacity of attorney, accountant or advertising, public relations or financial adviser, whose activities are limited to the performance of his duties in the course of such employment;

(d) Any person regularly employed as an officer or employee of the issuer or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates who is not otherwise a participant; or

(e) Any officer or director of, or any person regularly employed by any other participant, if the officer, director or employee is not otherwise a participant.

C. Filing of information required by Schedule B.

(1) No solicitation subject to this section shall be made by any person other than the issuer unless at least five (5) business days prior, or a shorter period as the commissioner may authorize upon a showing of good cause, there has been filed with the commissioner, by or on behalf of each participant in the solicitation, a statement in duplicate containing the information specified by Schedule B and a copy of any material proposed to be distributed to security holders in furtherance of the solicitation.

(2) Within five (5) business days after a solicitation subject to this section is made by the issuer, or a longer period the commissioner may authorize upon showing of good cause, there shall be filed with the commissioner, by or on behalf of each participant in the solicitation other than the issuer, a statement in duplicate containing the information specified by Schedule B.

(3) If any solicitation on behalf of the issuer or any other person has been made, or if proxy material is ready for distribution, prior to a solicitation subject to this section in opposition, a statement in duplicate containing the information specified in Schedule B shall be filed with the commissioner, by or on behalf of each participant in the prior solicitation, other than the issuer, as soon as reasonably practicable after the commencement of the solicitation in opposition.

(4) If after the filing of the statements required by Subsections A, B and C of this section additional persons become participants in a solicitation subject to this section, there shall be filed with the commissioner, by or on behalf of each such person, a statement in duplicate containing the information specified by Schedule B, within three (3) business days after the person becomes a participant, or a longer period the commissioner may authorize upon a showing of good cause.

(5) If any material change occurs in the facts reported in any statement filed by or on behalf of any participant, an appropriate amendment to the statement shall be filed promptly with the commissioner.

(6) Each statement and amendment filed pursuant to this paragraph shall be part of the public files of the commissioner.

D. Solicitations prior to furnishing required written proxy statement.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 4A, a solicitation subject to this section may be made prior to furnishing security holders a written proxy statement containing the information specified in Schedule A with respect to the solicitation, provided that:

(1) The statements required by Subsection C are filed by or on behalf of each participant in the solicitation.

(2) No form of proxy is furnished to security holders prior to the time the written proxy statement required by Section 4A is furnished to these persons. However, this Paragraph (2) shall not apply where a proxy statement meeting the requirements of Schedule A has been furnished to security holders.

(3) At least the information specified in Paragraphs (2) and (3) of the statements required by Subsection C to be filed by each participant, or an appropriate summary, are included in each communication sent or given to security holders in connection with the solicitation.

(4) A written proxy statement containing the information specified in Schedule A with respect to a solicitation is sent or given security holders at the earliest practicable date.

E. Solicitations prior to furnishing required written proxy statement—filing requirements.

Two (2) copies of any soliciting materials proposed to be sent or given to security holders prior to the furnishing of the written proxy statement required by Section 4A shall be filed with the commissioner in preliminary form at least five (5) business days prior to the date definitive copies of the material are first sent or given to the persons, or a shorter period the commissioner may authorize upon a showing of good cause.

F. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 4B, two (2) copies of any portion of the annual report referred to in Section 4B which comments upon or refers to any solicitation subject to this section, or to any participant in any solicitation, other than the solicitation by the management, shall be filed with the commissioner as proxy material subject to this regulation. This portion of the report shall be filed with the commissioner, in preliminary form, at least five (5) business days prior to the date copies of the report are first sent or given to security holders.

Section 13. Solicitations and Materials Complying With NAIC Model Regulation and Schedules

Notwithstanding the foregoing sections, the commissioner may permit the solicitation of proxies, consents or authorizations, provided that the manner of solicitation and the form of proxy, proxy statement and other documents used in the solicitation comply with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) model regulation and schedules.

SCHEDULE A

Item 1. Revocability of Proxy

State whether or not the person giving the proxy has the power to revoke it. If the right of revocation before the proxy is exercised is limited, or is subject to compliance with any formal procedure, briefly describe the limitation or procedure.

Item 2. Dissenters' Rights of Appraisal

Outline briefly any rights of appraisal or similar rights of dissenters with respect to any matter to be acted upon and indicate any statutory procedure required to be followed by dissenting security holders in order to perfect their rights. Where these rights may be exercised only within a limited time after the proposal's date of adoption, the filing of a charter amendment or other similar act, indicate whether the person solicited will be notified of the date.

Item 3. Persons Making the Solicitation

A. Solicitations not subject to Section 12

(1) State if the solicitation is made by the issuer. Give the name of any director of the issue who has informed the issuer in writing that the director intends to oppose an action intended to be taken by the issuer and indicate the action which the director intends to oppose.

(2) If the solicitation is made by someone other than by the issuer, state the names of the persons by whom and on whose behalf it is made.

(3) If the solicitation is to be made by other than the use of the mails, describe the methods to be employed. If the solicitation is to be made by specially engaged employees or paid solicitors, state:

(a) The material features of any contract or agreement for the solicitation and identify the parties; and

(b) The cost or anticipated cost.

(4) State the names of the persons who will bear the cost of solicitation, directly or indirectly.

B. Solicitations subject to Section 12

(1) State who will make the solicitation and describe the methods employed a to solicit security holders.

(2) If regular employees of the issuer or any other participant in a solicitation have been or are to be employed to solicit security holders, describe the class or classes of employees to be so employed, and the manner and nature of their employment for this purpose.

(3) If specially engaged employees, representatives or other persons have been or are to be employed to solicit security holders, state:

(a) The material features of any contract or arrangement for the solicitation and identify the parties;

(b) The cost or anticipated cost; and

(c) The approximate number of employees or employees of another person (naming the other person) who will solicit security holders.

(4) State the total amount estimated to be spent and the total expenditures to date for or in connection with the solicitation of security holders.

(5) State who will bear the cost of the solicitation. If reimbursement will be sought from the issuer, state whether the question of reimbursement will be submitted to a vote of security holders.

(6) If a solicitation is terminated pursuant to a settlement between the issuer and an other participant in the solicitation, describe the terms of the settlement, including the cost or anticipated cost to the issuer.

Item 4. Interest of Certain Persons in Matters to be Acted Upon

A. Solicitations not subject to Section 12. Describe briefly any substantial interest, direct or indirect, of each of the following persons in a matter to be acted upon, other than elections to office:

(1) If the solicitation is made on behalf of the issuer, each current director or officer of the issuer;

(2) If the solicitation is made for other than on the issuer's behalf, any person who would be a participant in a solicitation (except the issuer or an officer, director or nominee of the issuer);

(3) Each nominee for election as a director of the issuer; and

(4) Each associate of the foregoing persons.

B. Solicitations subject to Section 12. Describe briefly any substantial interest, direct or indirect, of each participant (except the issuer) in any matter to be acted upon at the meeting. Include, with respect to each participant, the information required by Items 2A, 2D, 3, 4B, and 4C of Schedule B.

Item 5. Voting Securities and Principal Holders Thereof

A. State for each class of voting securities of the issuer entitled to be voted at the meeting, the number of shares outstanding and the number of votes to which each class is entitled.

B. Give the date that the record of security holders entitled to vote at the meeting will be determined. If the right to vote is not limited to security holders of record on that date, indicate the conditions under which other security holders may be entitled to vote.

C. If action is to be taken with respect to the election of directors and if the persons solicited have cumulative voting rights:

(1) Make a statement that they have these rights;

(2) Describe the rights;

(3) State the conditions precedent to the exercise of these rights; and

(4) Indicate if discretionary authority to cumulate votes is solicited.

D. Furnish the following information as of the most practicable date, in substantially the tabular form indicated, with respect to:

(1) A person or group of persons who is known to be the beneficial owner of more than five percent (5%) of any class of securities; and

(2) All directors and nominees, naming them, and directors and officers of the issuer as a group, without naming them.

(1) Title of Class	(2) Name of Beneficial Owner	(3) Amount and Nature of Beneficial Ownership	(4) Percent of Class

E. If, to the knowledge of the person on whose behalf the solicitation is made, a change in control of the issuer has occurred since the beginning of its last fiscal year, state: (1) The name of the person or persons who acquired control; (2) The amount and the source of the consideration used by the person or persons, (3) The basis of the control; (4) The date and a description of the transactions that resulted in the change of control; (5) The percentage of voting securities of the issuer now beneficially owned directly or indirectly by the person or persons who acquired control; and (6) The identity of the person or persons from whom control was assumed. Describe any arrangements which may at a later date result in a change of control of the issuer.

Item 6. Directors and Executive Officers

If action is to be taken with respect to election of directors, furnish the following information, in tabular form to the extent practicable, about each person nominated for election as a director and each person whose term of office will continue after the meeting. However, if the solicitation is made on behalf of persons other than the issuer, the information required should only be furnished as to nominees of the persons making the solicitation.

A. Identification of directors and officers. List the names and ages of all directors and officers of the issuer and all persons nominated or chosen to become directors or officers. Indicate all positions and offices with the issuer held by each person; state the term of office as director or officer or both and any period during which the person served. Briefly describe any arrangement or understanding between the person and any other person or persons (naming the persons) pursuant to which the person was or is to be selected as a director, officer or nominee. The information regarding officers does not need to be furnished in proxy or information statements provided that the information is furnished in a separate item in the issuer's annual report to stockholders.

B. Family relationships. State the nature of a family relationship not more remote than first cousin between a director, officer or person nominated or chosen by the issuer to become a director or officer. State the nature of any family relationship between any such person and an officer or director of any of the issuer's parent companies, subsidiaries or other affiliates.

C. Business experience. State the principal occupations and employment during the past five (5) years of each director and each person nominated or chosen to become a director or officer and the name and principal business of any corporation or other organization in which the occupations and employment were carried on.

D. Directorships. Indicate other directorships held by each director or person nominated or chosen to become a director.

E. Involvement in certain legal proceedings. Describe any legal proceedings that have occurred during the past five (5) years or which are pending that are material to an evaluation of the ability or integrity of any director or nominee for director or officer of the issuer.

F. Describe any of the following relationships that exist:

(1) If the nominee or director is, or has within the last two (2) full fiscal years been an officer, director or employee of, or owns, or has within the last two (2) fiscal years owned, directly or indirectly, an equity interest in any firm, corporation or other business in excess of a one percent:

(a) That has made payments to the issuer or its subsidiaries during the issuer's last full fiscal year or that proposes to make payments to the issuer or its subsidiaries during the current fiscal year in excess of one percent of the issuer's consolidated gross revenues for its last full fiscal year;

(b) To which the issuer or its subsidiaries were indebted at any time during the issuer's last fiscal year in an aggregate amount in excess of one percent of the issuer's total consolidated assets at the end of the fiscal year;

(c) To which the issuer or its subsidiaries have made payments during the entity's last fiscal year or to which the issuer or its subsidiaries propose to make payments during the entity's current fiscal year in excess of one percent of the entity's consolidated gross revenues for its last full fiscal year;

(d) In order to determine whether payments made or proposed to be made exceed one percent of the consolidated gross revenues of any entity other than the issuer for the entity's last full fiscal year, it is appropriate to rely on information provided by the nominee or director;

(e) In calculating payments for property and services the following may be excluded:

(i) Payments where the rates or charges involved in the transaction are determined by competitive bids, or the transaction involves the rendering of services as a public utility at rates or charges fixed in conformity with law or governmental authority;

(ii) Payments that arise solely from the ownership of securities of the issuer and no extra or special benefit not shared on a pro rata basis by all holders of the class of securities is received;

(f) In calculating indebtedness for purposes of Subparagraph (b) above, debt securities that have been publicly offered, admitted to trading on a national securities exchange or quoted on the automated quotation system of a registered securities association may be excluded.

(2) The nominee or director is a member or employee of, or is associated with, a law firm which the issuer has retained in the last two (2) full fiscal years or proposes to retain in the current fiscal year where fees paid or anticipated to be paid by the issuer are material to either the law firm, the issuer or both.

(3) The nominee or director is a director, partner, officer or employee of any investment banking firm that has performed services for the issuer other than as a participating underwriter in a syndicate in the last two (2) full fiscal years or which the issuer proposes to have perform services in the current year; or

(4) The nominee or director is a control person of the issuer (other than solely as a director of the issuer).

G. (1) State whether or not the issuer has standing audit, nominating and compensation committees of the board of directors, or committees performing similar functions. If the issuer has these committees, however designated, identify each committee member, state the number of committee meetings held by each committee during the last fiscal year and describe briefly the functions performed by the committees.

(2) If the issuer has a nominating or similar committee, state whether the committee will consider nominees recommended by shareholders. If so, describe the procedures to be followed by shareholders in submitting the recommendations.

H. State the total number of meetings of the board of directors (including regularly scheduled and special meetings) that were held during the last full fiscal year. Name each incumbent director who, during the last full fiscal year, attended fewer than seventy-five percent (75%) of the aggregate of:

(1) The total number of meetings of the board of directors (held during the period for which he has been a director); and

(2) The total number of meetings held by all committees of the board on which he served (during the periods that he served).

I. If a director has resigned or declined to stand for re-election to the board of directors since the date of the last annual meeting of shareholders because of a disagreement with the issuer on any matter relating to the issuer's operations, policies or practices, and if the director has furnished the issuer with a letter describing that disagreement and requesting that the matter be disclosed, the issuer shall state the date of resignation or declination to stand for re-election and summarize the director's description of the disagreement. If the issuer believes that the description provided by the director is incorrect or incomplete, it may include a brief statement presenting its views of the disagreement.

J. (1) With respect to those classes of voting stock that participated in the election of directors at the most recent meeting where directors were elected:

(a) State the percentage of shares present at the meeting and voting or withholding authority to vote in the election of directors; and

(b) Disclose in tabular format, the percentage of total shares cast for and withheld from the vote for or, where applicable, cast against, each nominee, which, respectively, were voted for and withheld from the vote for, or voted against, the nominee.

(2) When groups of classes or series of classes vote together in the election of a director or directors, they shall be treated as a single class for the purpose of Paragraph (1)(b).

Instructions:

1. Calculate the percentage of shares present at the meeting and voting or withholding authority to vote in the election of directors, referred to in Subsection J(1)(a), by dividing the total shares cast for and withheld from the vote for or, where applicable, voted against, the director for whom the highest aggregate number of shares was cast by the total number of shares outstanding that were eligible to vote as of the record date for the meeting.

2. No information need be given in response to Item 6J unless, with respect to any class of voting stock (or group of classes which voted together), five percent (5%) or more of the total shares cast for and withheld from the votes for or, where applicable, cast against any nominee were withheld from the vote for or cast against the nominee.

3. If an issuer elects less than the entire board of directors annually, disclosure is required for all directors if five percent (5%) or more of the total shares cast for and withheld from, the vote for or, where applicable, cast against an incumbent director were withheld from, or cast against, the vote for the director at the meeting where the person was most recently elected.

4. No information must be given in response to Item 6J if the issuer has previously furnished to its security holders a report of the results of the most recent meeting of security holders where directors were elected which includes:

(a) A description of each matter voted upon at the meeting and a statement of the percentage of the shares voting that were voted for and against each matter; and

(b) The information that would be called for by this Item 6J.

If an issuer has previously furnished the results to its security holders, this fact should be stated in a letter accompanying the filing of preliminary proxy materials with the commissioner.

Item 7. Remuneration of Directors and Officers

Furnish the following information if action is to be taken concerning (i) the election of directors; (ii) any bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration plan, contract or arrangement that a director, nominee for election as a director or officer of the issuer will participate; (iii) a pension or retirement plan where a person will participate; or (iv) the granting or extension to a person of any options, warrants or rights to purchase securities, other than warrants or rights issued to security holders on a pro rata bases. If the solicitation is made on behalf of persons other than the issuer, the information required need be furnished only as to nominees of the person making the solicitation and associates of the nominees.

A. Current remuneration. Furnish the information required in the table below, in substantially the tabular form specified, concerning all remuneration of the following persons and groups for services in all capacities to the issuer and its subsidiaries during the issuer's last fiscal year or, in specified instances, certain prior fiscal years:

(1) Five (5) officers or directors. Name each of the five (5) most highly compensated officers or directors of the issuer who have a total remuneration required to be disclosed in Columns C1 and C2 below that would exceed $50,000; and

(2) All officers or directors. All officers and directors of the issuer as a group, stating the number of persons in the group without naming them.

(3) Specified Tabular Format

(A) Name of individual or number of persons in groups	(B) Capacities in which served	(C) Cash and cash equivalent forms of remuneration		(D) Aggregate of contingent forms of remuneration
		(C1) Salaries, fees, directors' fees, commissions, and bonuses	(C2) Securities of property, insurance benefits or reimbursements, personal benefits

(4) Information to be Included. Columns C-1, C-2, and D of the table should contain with respect to each person or group of persons specified in Subparagraphs A(1) and A(2) of this Item 7 a dollar amount that reflects the total of all items of remuneration described in the heading to that column including, but not necessarily limited to, those items set forth in the subparagraphs of that column.

COLUMN C

Include all cash and cash equivalent forms of remuneration received during the fiscal year and all amounts accrued during the fiscal year which, with reasonable certainty, will be distributed or vested in the future.

COLUMN C-1

Salaries, Bonuses, Fees and Commissions

1. All cash remuneration distributed or accrued in the form of salaries, commissions, bonuses and fees for services rendered.
2. Compensation earned for services performed in the latest fiscal year even if it is deferred for future payment.
3. Payments received in the latest fiscal year but earned in prior years that were deferred until the latest year, if the amounts were not shown in an earlier proxy statement or annual report to stockholders.

COLUMN C-2

Securities, Property Insurance Benefits or Reimbursements, Personal Benefits

1. Spread between the acquisition price, if any, and fair market price of securities or property acquired under any contract, plan or arrangement.
2. Cost of any life insurance premiums, health insurance premiums and medical reimbursement plans. Premiums for non-discriminatory plans generally available to all salaried employees are excluded.
3. Personal benefits (perquisites) not directly related to job performance, ex-cluding benefits provided on a non-discriminatory basis, valued on the basis of cost to the issuer of providing the benefits.
    a. If unreasonable effort or expense is required to determine the amounts of personal benefits, they may be omitted if their aggregate value does not exceed $10,000 for each officer.

COLUMN D

Include all contingent forms of remuneration, vesting and measurement of which is subject to future events. Report only amounts relating to the latest fiscal year, not amounts accrued in previous periods.

1. Amount expensed for financial reporting pur-poses representing non-vested contributions, pay-ments or accruals under any pension or retirement plans, annuities, employ-ment contracts deferred compensation plans in-cluding IRS qualified plans, unless the amount for the individual cannot be separated, in which case a footnote is re-quired indicating the percentage that contri-butions to the plan bear to participants' total remuneration.
2. The amount expensed for financial reporting pur-poses under any incentive plans (long-term income plans), such as stock appreciation rights, stock options, performance share plans, where payout is based on objective standards or stock values. In subsequent years, if the corporation credits

	b. If the amount of personal benefits exceed ten percent (10%) of the total remuneration or $25,000, whichever is less, the amount and a brief description of the benefits must be disclosed in a footnote.	compensation expense for financial reporting purposes as a result of a decline in the value of contingent compensation, Column D may be reduced by a corresponding amount. A footnote explaining the action should be included
4.	Vested company contributions to thrift, profit, sharing, pension stock purchase and similar plans.	3. The amount expensed for financial reporting purposes for any non-vested contribution payment or accrual to stock purchase plans, profit sharing, and thrift plans whether or not they are qualified under the Internal Revenue Code.

(5) Transactions with third parties. Item 7A, among other things, includes transactions between the issuer and a third party when the primary purpose of the transaction is to furnish remuneration to the persons specified in Item 7A. Other transactions between the issuer and third parties in which persons specified in Item 7A have an interest, or may realize a benefit, generally are addressed by other disclosure requirements concerning the interest of management and others in certain transactions. Item 7A does not require disclosure of remuneration paid to a partnership in which any officer or director was a partner; these transactions should be disclosed pursuant to these other disclosure requirements, and not as a note to the remuneration table presented pursuant to Item 7A.

(6) Other permitted disclosure. The issuer may provide additional disclosure through a footnote to the table, through additional columns or otherwise, describing the components of aggregate remuneration in greater detail as is appropriate.

B. Proposed remuneration.

(1) Briefly describe all remuneration payments proposed to be made in the future, pursuant to any existing plan or arrangement to the persons and groups specified in Item 7A. As to defined benefit or actuarial plans with respect to amounts not included in the table, include a separate table showing the estimated annual benefits payable upon retirement to persons in specified remuneration and years-of-service classifications.

(2) Information does not need to be furnished with respect to any group life, health, hospitalization or medical reimbursement plans that do not discriminate in favor of officers or directors of the issuer and that are available generally to all salaried employees.

C. Remuneration of directors. Describe any standard or special arrangements, stating amounts, by which directors of the issuer are compensated for services as a director.

D. Options, warrants or rights.

(1) Furnish the information required by the following table for all options to purchase securities from the issuer or its subsidiaries that were granted to or exercised by the persons and groups specified in Item 7A since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year and as to all options held by these persons as of the latest practicable date:

The following tabulation shows as to certain directors and officers and as to all directors and officers as a group:

(a) The amount of options granted since the beginning of the issuer's last full fiscal year;

(b) The amount of shares acquired since that date through the exercise of options;

(c) The amount of shares of the same class sold during the period; and

(d) The amount of shares subject to all unexercised options held as of the most recent practicable date.

Title of Securities	Name	Name	Name	All directors and officers as a group
Granted-19[ ] to date:
Number of shares
Average per share option price	$	$	$	$
Exercised-19[ ] to date:

Aggregate option price of options exercised	$	$	$	$
Aggregate market value of shares on date options exercised	$	$	$	$
Sales-19[ ] to date:
Number of shares
Unexercised at 19[ ]:
Number of shares				**
Average per share option price	$	$	$	$

In addition, during the period employees were granted options for ____ shares at an average price per share of $____.

Sales by directors and officers who exercised options during the period 19[ ] to date.

Instructions:

1. All figures should be adjusted, where applicable, in accordance with the terms of the options to reflect stock splits and to give effect to share dividends.

2. Other tabular presentations are acceptable if they include the necessary data. Tabular presentation may not be needed if only a very few options have been granted

3. (a) Where the total market value on the granting dates of the securities called for by all options granted during the period specified does not exceed $10,000 for any officer or director named in answer to Item 7A, or $40,000 for all officers and directors as a group, this Item need not be answered with respect to options granted to a person or group.

   (b) Where the total market value on the dates of purchase of all securities purchased through the exercise of options during the period specified does not exceed $10,000 for a person or $40,000 for a group, this item does not need to be answered with respect to options exercised by a person or group.

   (c) Where the total market value as of the latest practicable date of the securities called for by all options held at the time does not exceed $10,000 for a person or $40,000 for a group, this item does not need to be answered with respect to options held as of the specified date by a person or group.

      (i) The term "options" as used in Subsection D includes all options, warrants or rights, other than those issued to security holders as such on a pro rata basis. Where the average option price per share is called for, the weighted average price per share shall be given.

      (ii) The extension, regranting or material amendment of options shall be deemed the granting of options within the meaning of this paragraph.

      (iii) If the options relate to more than one class of securities, the information shall be given separately for each class.

   E. Indebtedness of management.

      (1) State for each director or officer of the issuer, each nominee for election as a director, and each associate of a director, officer or nominee who was indebted to the issuer or its subsidiaries at any time since the beginning of the last fiscal year of the registrant:

         (a) The largest aggregate amount of indebtedness outstanding at any time during the period,

         (b) The nature of the indebtedness outstanding and the transaction in which it was incurred,

         (c) The amount outstanding as of the latest practicable date; and

         (d) The rate of interest paid or charged.

      (2) Subsection E does not apply to:

         (a) Any person whose aggregate indebtedness did not exceed $10,000 or one percent of the issuer's total assets, whichever is less, at any time during the period specified; or

         (b) Indebtedness under an insurance policy.

F. Transactions with management.

(1) Describe briefly any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year or any presently proposed transactions, to which the issuer or any of its subsidiaries was or is to be a party, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest, naming the person and stating the relationship to the issuer, the nature of the interest in the transaction and, where practicable, the amount of the interest.

(a) A director of officer of the issuer;

(b) A nominee for election as a director;

(c) A security holder who is known to the issuer to own of record or beneficially more than ten percent (10%) of any class of the issuer's voting securities; and

(d) A relative or spouse of any of the foregoing persons, or any relative of the spouse, who has the same home as the person or who is a director or officer of a parent or subsidiary of the issuer.

(2) Also, describe briefly any material legal proceedings in which a person is an adverse party to the issuer or any of its subsidiaries or has an adverse material interest to the issuer or any of its subsidiaries.

(3) Information does not need to be given in response to this Item 7F as to any remuneration or other transaction reported in response to Item 7A, B, C, D or E, or as to any transaction with respect to which information may be omitted pursuant to these items.

(4) Information does not need to be given in answer to this Item 7F for any transaction where:

(a) The rates or charges involved in the transaction are determined by competitive bids, or at rates or charges fixed in conformity with law or governmental authority;

(b) The transaction involves services as a bank depository of funds, transfer agent, registrar, trustee under a trust indenture, or similar services;

(c) The amount involved in the transaction or series of similar transactions, including all periodic installments in the case of any lease or other agreement providing for periodic payments or installments, does not exceed $40,000; or

(d) The interest of the specified person arises solely from the ownership of securities of the issuer and the specified person receives no extra or special benefit not shared on a pro rata basis by all holders of securities of the class.

(5) It should be noted that this item calls for disclosure of indirect, as well as direct, material interests in transactions. A person who has a position or relationship with a firm, corporation or other entity, that engages in a transaction with the issuer or its subsidiaries may have an indirect interest in the transaction by reason of the position or relationship. However, a person shall be deemed not to have a material indirect interest in a transaction within the meaning of this Item 7F where:

(a) The interest arises only (i) from the person's position as a director of another corporation or organization (other than a partnership) which is a party to the transaction, or (ii) from the direct or indirect ownership by the person and all other persons specified in Item 7F of less than a ten percent (10%) equity interest in another person (other than a partnership) which is a party to the transaction, or (iii) from both the position and ownership;

(b) The interest arises only from the person's position as a limited partner in a partnership in which he and all other persons specified in Item 7F had an interest of less than ten percent (10%); or

(c) The interest of the person arises solely from the holding of an equity interest (including a limited partnership interest but excluding a general partnership interest) or a creditor interest in another person which is a party to the transaction with the issuer or any of its subsidiaries and the transaction is not material to the other person.

Instructions:

1. In describing any transaction involving the purchase or sale of assets by or to the issuer or any of its subsidiaries, other than in the ordinary course of business, state the cost of the assets to the purchaser and, if acquired by the seller within two (2) years prior to the transaction, the cost to the seller. Indicate the principle followed in determining the issuer's purchase or sale price and the name of the person making the determination.

2. Information shall be furnished in answer to this Item with respect to transactions not excluded above which involve remuneration from the issuer or its subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, to any of the specified persons for services in any capacity unless the interest of these persons arises solely from the ownership individually and in the aggregate of less than ten percent (10%) of any class of equity securities of another corporation furnishing the services to the issuer or its subsidiaries.

G. Transactions with pension or similar plans.

(1) Describe briefly any transactions since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any presently proposed transactions, to which any pension, retirement, savings or similar plan provided by the issuer, or any of its parents or subsidiaries was or is to be a part, in which any of the persons specified in Item 7F or the issuer or any of its subsidiaries had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest naming the person and stating his relationship to the issuer, the nature of his interest in the transaction and, where practicable, the amount of the interest.

(2) Information does not need to be given in answer to Subsection G with respect to:

(a) Payments to the plan, or payments to beneficiaries, pursuant to the terms of the plan;

(b) Payment of remuneration for services not in excess of five percent (5%) of the aggregate remuneration received by the specified person during the issuer's last fiscal year from the issuer and its subsidiaries; or

(c) Any interest of the issuer or any of its subsidiaries that arises solely from its general interest in the success of the plan.

Instructions:

1. Subparagraph 3 to Item 7F shall apply to this Item 7G.

2. Without limiting the general meaning of the term "transaction" there shall be included in the answer to this item any remuneration received or any loans received or outstanding during the period, or proposed to be received.

Item 8. Matters Related to Accounting

If the solicitation is made on behalf of the issuer and relates to an annual meeting of security holders at which directors are to be elected, or financial statements are included, furnish the following information:

A. State if the issuer's financial statements are not certified by independent public or certified accountants.

B. State if the board of directors has no audit or similar committee.

C. If the issuer's financial statements are certified by independent public or certified accountants, state that fact and provide the following information:

(1) The name of the principal accountant selected or being recommended to shareholders for election, approval or ratification for the current year. If no accountant has been elected or recommended, so state and briefly describe the reasons.

(2) The name of the principal accountant for the fiscal year most recently completed if different from the accountant selected or recommended for the current year or if no accountant has been elected or recommended for the current year.

(3) State if a change or changes in accountants have taken place since the date of the proxy statement for the most recent annual meeting of shareholders. If, in connection with the change, a material disagreement in connection with financial disclosure between the accountant and issuer has occurred, the disagreement shall be described. Prior to filing the preliminary proxy materials with the commissioner that contain or amend the description, the issuer shall furnish the description of the disagreement to an accountant with whom the disagreement has occurred. If that accountant believes that the description of the disagreement is incorrect or incomplete, the accountant may include a brief statement, not to exceed 200 words, in the proxy statement presenting his or her view of the disagreement. This statement shall be submitted to the issuer within ten (10) business days of the date the accountant receives the issuer's descriptions.

(4) The proxy statement shall indicate whether or not representative of the principal accountants for the current year and for the most recently completed fiscal year are expected to be present at the stockholders' meeting with the opportunity to make a statement if they desire to do so and whether or not the representatives are expected to be available to respond to appropriate questions.

(5) If a change in accountants has taken place since the date of the proxy statement for the most recent annual meeting of shareholders, state whether the change was recommended or approved by:

(a) An audit or similar committee of the board of directors, if the issuer has this committee; or

(b) The board of directors, if the issuer has no committee.

D. For the fiscal year most recently completed, describe each professional service provided by the principal accountant and state the percentage relationship that the aggregate of the fees for all nonaudit services bear to the audit fees and, except as provided below, state the percentage relationship that the fee for each nonaudit service bears to the audit fees. Indicate whether, before each professional service provided by the principal accountant was rendered, it was approved by, and the possible effect on the independence of the accountant was considered by:

(1) An audit or similar committee of the board of directors; and

(2) The board of directors for a service not approved by an audit or similar committee.

Instructions:

1. For purposes of this subsection, all fees for services provided in connection with the audit function (e.g. reviews of quarterly reports) may be computed as part of the audit fees. Indicate which services are reflected in the audit fees computation.

2. If the fee for any non-audit service is less than three percent (3%) of the audit fees, the percentage relationship does not need to be disclosed.

3. Each service should be specifically described. Broad general categories such as "tax matters" or "management advisory services" are not sufficiently specific.

4. Describe the circumstances and give details of any services provided by the issuer's independent accountant during the latest fiscal year that were furnished at rates or terms that were not customary.

5. Describe any existing direct or indirect understanding or agreement that places a limit on current or future years' audit fees, including fee arrangements that provide fixed limits on fees that are not subject to reconsideration if unexpected issues involving accounting or auditing are encountered. Disclosure of fee estimates is not required.

Item 9. Bonus, Profit Sharing and Other Remuneration Plans: Pension and Retirement Plans

If action is to be taken with respect to any bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration plan or any pension or retirement plan, furnish the following information:

A. Describe briefly the material features of the plan, identify each class of persons who will participate, indicate the approximate number of persons in each class and state the basis of the participation.

B. Furnish the information, in addition to that required by this item and Item 7, as may be necessary to describe adequately the provisions already made pursuant to all bonus, profit sharing, pension, retirement, stock option, stock purchase, deferred compensation or other remuneration or incentive plans, now in effect or in effect within the past five (5) years, for:

(1) Each director or officer named in answer to Item 7A who may participate in the plan to be acted upon;

(2) All present directors and officers of the issuer as a group, if any director or officer may participate in the plan; and

(3) All employees, if employees may participate in the plan.

C. If the plan to be acted upon can be amended otherwise than by a vote of stockholders, to increase the cost thereof to the issuer or to alter the allocation of the benefits as between the directors and officers on the one hand and employees on the other, state the nature of the amendments which can be made.

D. With regard to any bonus, profit sharing or other remuneration plan, on which action is to be taken, furnish the following information:

(1) State separately the amounts which would have been distributable under the plan during the last fiscal year of the issuer:

(a) To directors and officer, and

(b) To employees if the plan had been in effect.

(2) State the name and position with the issuer of each person specified in Item 7A who will participate in the plan and the amount each person would have received under the plan for the last fiscal year of the issuer if the plan had been in effect.

E. With regard to any pension or retirement plan on which action is to be taken, furnish the following information:

(1) State:

(a) The approximate total amount necessary to fund the plan with respect to past services, the period over which the amount is to be paid and the estimated annual payments necessary to pay the total amount over the period;

(b) The estimated annual payment to be made with respect to current services; and

(c) The amount of the annual payments to be made for the benefit of

(i) directors and officers, and

(ii) employees.

(2) State:

(a) The name and position with the issuer of each person specified in Item 7A who will be entitled to participate in the plan;

(b) The amount which would have been paid or set aside by the issuer and its subsidiaries for the benefit of the person for the last fiscal year of the issuer if the plan had been in effect; and

(c) The amount of the annual benefits estimated to be payable to the person in the event of retirement at normal retirement date.

Instructions:

1. If action is to be taken with respect to the amendment or modification of an existing plan, the item shall be answered with respect to the plan as proposed to be amended or modified ad shall indicate any material differences from the existing plan.

2. The following instruction shall apply to Subsection B:

(a) Information need only be given with respect to benefits received or set aside within the past five (5) years.

(b) Information does not need to be included as to payments made for, or benefits to be received from, group life or accident insurance, group hospitalization or similar group payments or benefits.

(c) If action is to be taken with respect to any plan in which directors or officers may participate, the information called for by Item 7D shall be furnished for the last five (5) fiscal years of the issuer and any period after the end of the latest fiscal year, in aggregate amounts for the entire period for each person and group. If any named person, or any other director or officer, purchased securities through the exercise of options during period, state the aggregate amount of securities of that class sold during the period by the named person and by the named person and other directors and officers as a group. The information called for by this instruction is in lieu of the information since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year called for by Item 7D. If employees may participate in the plan to be acted upon, state the aggregate amount of securities called for by all options granted to employees during the five (5) year period and, if the options were other than "restricted" or "qualified" stock options or options granted pursuant to an "employee stock purchase plan," as the quoted terms are defined in Sections 422 through 424 of the Internal Revenue Code, state that fact and the weighted average option price per share. The information called for by this instruction may be furnished in the form of the table set forth in Item 7D.

3. If the plan to be acted upon is set forth in a written document, three (3) copies shall be filed with the commissioner at the time preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy are filed.

4. The information called for by Subsection E(1)(c) or E(2)(b) of this Item 9 does not need to be given as to payments made on an actuarial basis pursuant to any group pension plan that provides for fixed benefits in the event of retirement at a specified age or after a specified number of years of service.

Item 10. Options, Warrants or Rights

If action is to be taken with respect to the granting or extension of any options to purchase securities of the issuer or any subsidiary, furnish the following information:

A. State:

(1) The title and amount of securities called for or to be called for by the options;

(2) The prices, expiration dates and other material conditions upon which the options may be exercised;

(3) The consideration received or to be received by the issuer or subsidiary for the granting or extension of the options;

(4) The market value of the securities called for or to be called for by the options as of the latest practicable date; and

(5) In the case of options, the federal income tax consequences of the issuance and exercise of the option to the recipient and to the issuer.

B. (1) State separately the amount of options received or to be received by the following persons, naming each person:

(a) Each director or officer named in answer to Item 7A;

(b) Each nominee for election as a director of the issuer;

(c) Each associate of the directors, officers, or nominees; and

(d) Each other person who received or is to receive ten percent (10%) or more of the options.

(2) State the total amount of the options received or to be received by all directors and officers of the issuer as a group, without naming them.

C. Furnish the information, in addition to that required by this item and Item 7, necessary to describe adequately the provisions already made pursuant to all bonus, profit sharing, pension, retirement, stock option, stock purchase, deferred compensation, or other remuneration or incentive plans, now in effect or in effect within the past five (5) years, for:

(1) Each director or officer named in answer to Item 7A who may participate in the plan to be acted upon;

(2) All present directors and officers of the issuer as a group, if any director or officer may participate in the plan; and

(3) All employees, if employees may participate in the plan.

Instructions:

1. For the purpose of this Item 10 the term option includes any option, warrant or right.

2. Paragraphs B and C do not apply to warrants or rights to be issued to security holders on a pro rata basis.

3. Instruction 2 to Item 9 shall also apply to Paragraph C of this item.

4. If the options described in answer to this item are issued pursuant to a plan which is set forth in a written document, three (3) copies shall be filed with the commissioner at the time preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy are filed.

Item 11. Authorization or Issuance of Securities Otherwise than for Exchange

If action is to be taken with respect to the authorization or issuance of any securities otherwise than for exchange for outstanding securities of the issuer, furnish the following information:

A. State the title and amount of securities to be authorized or issued.

B. If the securities are other than additional shares of common stock of a class outstanding, furnish a brief summary of the following, if applicable: dividend, voting, liquidation, preemptive and conversion rights, redemption and sinking fund provisions, interest rate and date of maturity.

C. Describe briefly the transaction in which the securities are to be issued, including a statement as to:

(1) The nature and approximate amount of consideration received or to be received by the issuer, and

(2) The approximate amount devoted to each purpose, as far as is determinable, for which the net proceeds have been or are to be used.

If it is impracticable to describe the transaction in which the securities are to be issued, state the reason, indicate the purpose of the authorization of the securities, and state whether further authorization for the issuance of the securities by a vote of security holders will be solicited prior to issuance.

D. If the securities are to be issued otherwise than in a general public offering for cash, state the reasons for the proposed authorization or issuance and the general effect upon the rights of existing security holders.

Item 12. Modification or Exchange of Securities

If action is to be taken with respect to the modification of any class of securities of the issuer, or the issuance or authorization for issuance of securities of the issuer in exchange for outstanding securities of the issuer, furnish the following information:

A. If outstanding securities are to be modified, state the title and amount thereof. If securities are to be issued in exchange for outstanding securities, state the title and amount of securities to be so issued, the title and amount of outstanding securities to be exchanged therefor and the basis of the exchange.

B. Describe any material differences between the outstanding securities and the modified or new securities.

C. State the reasons for the proposed modification or exchange and the general effect upon the rights of existing security holders.

D. Furnish a brief statement as to arrears in dividends or as to defaults in principal or interest in respect to the outstanding securities which are to be modified or exchanged and other information appropriate in the particular case to disclose adequately the nature and effect of the proposed action.

E. Outline briefly any other material features of the proposed modification or exchange. If the plan of proposed action is set forth in a written document, file copies thereof with the commissioner at the time the preliminary proxy material is filed.

Item 13. Mergers, Consolidations, Acquisitions and Similar Matters

Furnish the following information if action is to be taken with respect to any plan for (i) the merger or consolidation of the issuer into or with an other person or of an other person into or with the issuer; (ii) the acquisition by the issuer or any of its security holders of securities of another issuer; (iii) the acquisition by the issuer of an other going business or of the assets thereof; (iv) the sale or other transfer of all or any substantial part of the assets of the issuer; or (v) the liquidation or dissolution of the issuer:

A. Outline briefly the material features of the plan. State the reasons therefor and the general effect thereof upon the rights of existing security holders. If the plan is set forth in a written document, file three (3) copies thereof with the commissioner at the time preliminary copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy are filed.

B. Furnish the following information as to the issuer and each person which is to be merged into the issuer or into or with which the issuer is to be merged or consolidated or the business or assets that are to be acquired or which is the issuer of securities to be acquired by the issuer in exchange for all or a substantial part of its assets or to be acquired by security holders of the issuer. What is required is information essential to an investor's appraisal of the action proposed to be taken.

(1) Describe briefly the business of the person.

(2) State the location and describe the general character of the plants and other important physical properties of the person. The description is to be given from an economic and business standpoint, as distinguished from a legal standpoint. Portfolio or investment assets of an insurer do not need to be disclosed.

(3) Furnish a brief statement as to dividends in arrears or defaults in principal or interest in respect of any securities of the issuer or of the person, and as to the effect of the plan thereon and other information as may be appropriate in the particular case to disclose adequately the nature and effect of the proposed action.

(4) Furnish a tabulation in columnar form showing the existing and the pro forma capitalization.

(5) Furnish in columnar form for each of the last five (5) fiscal years a historical summary of earnings and show per share amounts of net earnings, dividends declared for each year and book value per share at the end of the latest period.

(6) Furnish in columnar form for each of the last five (5) fiscal years a combined pro forma summary of earnings, as appropriate in the circumstances, indicating the aggregate and pre-share earnings for each year and the pro forma book value per share at the end of the latest period. If the transaction establishes a new basis of accounting for assets of any of the persons included, the pro forma summary of earnings shall be furnished only for the most recent fiscal year and interim period and shall reflect appropriate pro forma adjustments resulting from the new basis of accounting.

(7) To the extent material for the exercise of prudent judgment in regard to the matter to be acted upon, furnish the historical and pro forma earnings data specified in (5) and (6) above for interim periods of the current and prior fiscal years, if available.

Instructions: Subparagraph B of this Item 13 shall not apply if the plan described in answer to Paragraph A involves only the issuer and one or more of its totally-held subsidiaries.

C. As to each class of securities of the issuer, or of any person specified in Paragraph B, which is admitted to dealing on a national securities exchange or with respect to which a market otherwise exists, and that will be materially affected by the plan, state the high and low sale prices (or, in the absence of trading in a particular period, the range of the bid and asked prices) for each quarterly period within two (2) years. This information may be omitted if the plan involves merely the liquidation or dissolution of the issuer.

Item 14. Financial Statements

A. If action is to be taken with respect to any matter specified in Items 11, 12, or 13, furnish financial statements of the issuer and its subsidiaries complying with the requirements of Section 4B(1), (2) and (3) of the regulation including schedules of supplementary profit and loss information. The statements may be omitted with respect to a plan described in answer to Item 13 if the plan involves only the issuer and one or more of its totally-held subsidiaries.

B. If action is to be taken with respect to any matter specified in Item 13B, furnish for each person specified, other than the issuer, financial statements complying with the requirements of Section 4B(1), (2) and (3) of the regulation.

C. The commissioner may, upon the request of the issuer, permit the omission of any of the statements herein required where the statements are not necessary for the exercise of prudent judgment in regard to any matter to be acted upon, or may permit the filing in substitution of appropriate statements of comparable character. The commissioner may also require the filing of other statements in addition to, or in substitution for, the statements required in any case where the statements are necessary or appropriate for an adequate presentation of the financial condition of any person whose financial statements are required, or whose statements are otherwise material for the exercise of prudent judgment in regard to any matter to be acted upon. In the usual case, financial statements are deemed material to the exercise of prudent judgment where the matter to be acted upon is authorization or issuance of a material amount of senior securities, but are not deemed material where the matter to be acted upon is the authorization or issuance of common stock, otherwise than in an exchange, merger or consolidation, acquisition or similar transaction.

D. The proxy statement may incorporate by reference any financial statements contained in an annual report sent to security holders with respect to the same meeting as that to which the proxy statement relates, provided the financial statements substantially meet the requirements of this item.

Item 15. Acquisition or Disposition of Property

If action is to be taken with respect to the acquisition or disposition of any property, furnish the following information:

A. Describe briefly the general character and location of the property.

B. State the nature and amount of consideration to be paid or received by the issuer or any subsidiary. To the extent practicable outline briefly the facts bearing upon the question of the fairness of the consideration.

C. State the name and address of the transferor or transferee, as the case may be, and the nature of any material relationship of the person to the issuer or an affiliate of the issuer.

D. Outline briefly any other material features of the contract or transaction.

Item 16. Restatement of Accounts

If action is to be taken with respect to the restatement of any asset, capital or surplus account of the issuer, furnish the following information:

A. State the nature of the restatement and the date as of which it is to be effective.

B. Outline briefly the reasons for the restatement and for the selection of the particular effective date.

C. State the name and amount of each account (including any reserve accounts) affected by the restatement and the effect of the restatement thereon. Tabular presentation of the amounts shall be made when appropriate, particularly in the case of recapitalizations.

D. To the extent practicable, state whether and the extent, if any, to which the restatement will, as of the date thereof, alter the amount available for distribution to the holders of equity securities.

Item 17. Action with Respect to Reports

If action is to be taken with respect to any report of the issuer or of its directors, officers or committees or any minutes of meetings of its stockholders, furnish the following information:

A. State whether or not the action is to constitute approval or disapproval of any of the matters referred to in the reports or minutes.

B. Identify each of the matters which it is intended will be approved or disapproved and furnish the information required by the appropriate item or items of this schedule with respect to each matter.

Item 18. Matters Not Required to be Submitted

If action is to be taken with respect to any matter which is not required to be submitted to a vote of security holders, state the nature of the matter, the reasons for submitting it to a vote of security holders and what action is intended to be taken by the management in the event of a negative vote on the matter by the security holders.

Item 19. Amendment of Charter, Bylaws or Other Documents

If action is to be taken with respect to any amendment of the issuer's charter, bylaws or other documents as to which information is not required above, state briefly the reasons for and general effect of the amendment.

Drafting Note: Where the matter to be acted upon is the classification of directors, state whether vacancies which occur during the year may be filled by the board of directors to serve only until the next annual meeting or may be so filled for the remainder of the full term.

Item 20. Other Proposed Action

If action is to be taken with respect to any matter not specifically referred to above describe briefly the substance of each matter in substantially the same degree of detail as is required by Items 5 to 19.

Item 21. Vote Required for Approval

As to each matter that is to be submitted to a vote of security holders, other than elections to office or the selection or approval of auditors, state the vote required for its approval.

SCHEDULE B

INFORMATION TO BE INCLUDED IN STATEMENTS FILED BY OR ON BEHALF OF A PARTICIPANT (OTHER THAN THE ISSUER) IN A PROXY SOLICITATION IN AN ELECTION CONTEST

Item 1. Issuer

State the name and address of the Issuer.

Item 2. Identity and Background

A. State the following:

(1) Your name and business address,

(2) Your present principal occupation or employment and the name, principal business and address of any corporation or other organization in which the employment is carried on.

B. State the following:

(1) Your residence address,

(2) Information as to all material occupations, positions, offices or employments during the last ten (10) years, giving starting and ending dates of each and the name, principal business and address of any business corporation or other business organization in which each occupation, position, office or employment was carried on.

C. State whether or not you are or have been a participant in any other proxy contest involving this company or other companies within the past ten (10) years. If so, identify the principals, the subject matter and your relationship to the parties and the outcome.

D. State whether or not, during the past ten (10) years, you have been convicted in a criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations or similar misdemeanors) and, if so, give dates, nature of conviction, name and location of court, and penalty imposed or other disposition of the case. A negative answer to this sub-item does not need to be included in the proxy statement or other proxy soliciting material.

Item 3. Interest in Securities of the Issuer

A. State the amount of each class of securities of the issuer that you own beneficially, directly or indirectly.

B. State the amount of each class of securities of the issuer that you own of record but not beneficially.

C. State with respect to all securities of the issuer purchased or sold within the past two (2) years, the dates when they were purchased or sold and the amount purchased or sold on each date.

D. State if any part of the purchase price or market value of any of the securities specified in Subsection C is represented by funds borrowed or otherwise obtained for the purpose of acquiring or holding securities. Indicate the amount of the indebtedness as of the latest practicable date. If funds were borrowed or obtained otherwise than pursuant to a margin account or bank loan in the regular course of business of a bank, broker or dealer, briefly describe the transaction and state the names of the parties.

E. State whether or not you are a party to any contracts, arrangements or understandings with any person with respect to any securities of the issuer including but not limited to joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls guarantees against losses or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. If so, name the persons with whom some contracts, arrangements or understandings exist and give the details thereof.

F. State the amount of securities of the issuer owned beneficially, directly or indirectly, by each of your associates and the name and address of each associate.

G. State the amount of each class of securities of any parent, subsidiary or affiliate of the issuer that you own beneficially, directly or indirectly.

Item 4. Further Matters

A. Describe the time and circumstances under which you became a participant in the solicitation and state the nature and extent of your activities or proposed activities as a participant.

B. Describe briefly, and where practicable state the approximate amount of any material interest, direct or indirect, of yourself and of each of your associates in any material transactions since the beginning of the company's last fiscal year, or in any material proposed transactions, to which the company or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates was or is to be a party.

C. State whether or not you or any of your associates have any arrangement or understanding with any person:

(1) With respect to any future employment by the issuer or its subsidiaries or affiliates; or

(2) With respect to any future transactions to which the issuer or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates will or may be a party.

If so, describe the arrangement or understanding and state the names of the parties.

Item 5. Signature

The statement shall be dated and signed in the following manner:

I certify that the statements made in this statement are true, complete and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

_____ _____

(Date) (Signature of participant or authorized representative)

SCHEDULE C

INFORMATION REQUIRED IN INFORMATION STATEMENT

Note: Where any item, other than Item 5, calls for information with respect to any matter to be acted upon at the meeting, the item need be answered only with respect to proposals to be made by the issuer.

Item 1. Information Required by Items of Schedule 14A

Furnish the information called for by all of the items of Schedule A of the Regulation Regarding Proxies, Consents and Authorizations (other than Items 1, 3 and 4) that would be applicable to any matter to be acted upon at the meeting if proxies were to be solicited in connection with the meeting.

Item 2. Statement That Proxies Are Not Solicited

The following statement shall be set forth on the first page of the information statement in bold face type:

WE ARE NOT ASKING YOU FOR A PROXY AND YOU ARE REQUESTED NOT TO SEND US A PROXY.

Item 3. Date, Time and Place of Meeting

State the date, time and place of the meeting of security holders, unless the information is otherwise disclosed in material furnished to security holders with the information statement.

Item 4. Interest of Certain Persons in or Opposition to Matters to Be Acted Upon

A. Describe briefly any substantial interest, direct or indirect, by security holdings or otherwise, of each of the following persons in any matter to be acted upon, other than elections to office:

(1) Each person who has been a director or officer of the issuer at any time since the beginning of the last fiscal year;

(2) Each nominee for election as a director of the issuer;

(3) Each associate of the foregoing persons.

B. Give the name of any director of the issuer who has informed the management in writing that he intends to oppose any action to be taken by the management at the meeting and indicate the action that he intends to oppose.

Item 5. Proposals by Security Holders

If any security holder entitled to vote at the meeting has submitted to the issuer, not less than 90 days before the issuer's annual meeting, a proposal that is accompanied by notice of the security holder's intention to present the proposal "for action at the meeting, make a statement to that effect, identify the proposal" and indicate the disposition proposed to be made of the proposal by the management at the meeting.

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STOCKHOLDERS INFORMATION SUPPLEMENT
SCHEDULE SIS

Table of Contents

Section 1. General Instructions

The Stockholder Information Supplement shall be completed by all stock companies incorporated in the United States that have 100 or more stockholders. The supplement shall be filed with the insurance commissioner of the company's domiciliary state as a part of its annual statement. The information required to be contained in this supplement is to be furnished to the best of the knowledge of the company. Where appropriate, the company should obtain the required information, in writing, from its directors or officers and from any person known to the company to be the beneficial owner of more than ten percent (10%) of any class of its equity securities.

The term "officer" means a president, vice-president, treasurer, actuary, secretary, controller and any other person who performs for the company functions corresponding to those performed by the foregoing officers.

Section 2. Financial Reporting to Stockholder

A. Did the company distribute to its stockholders prior to the [insert current year] annual meeting an annual report for the year [insert preceding year]?

Answer _____.

If answer is "Yes" attach copy. If answer is "No" explain in detail below. Attach separate sheet if necessary.

B. Will the company distribute to its stockholders prior to the [insert following year] annual meeting an annual report for the year [insert current year]?

Answer _____.

If answer is "Yes" a copy of the report shall be forwarded to the insurance commissioner of the company's domiciliary state at the same time as it is distributed to stockholders. If answer is "No" explain in detail below. Attach separate sheet if necessary.

C. If an annual report to stockholders was distributed for the year [insert preceding year];

(1) Was the distribution prior to or contemporaneous with the solicitation of proxies in respect of the annual meeting?

Answer _____.

If the answer is "No" explain in detail below. Attach separate sheet if necessary.

(2) Did it contain the following financial statements (indicate answer in Column A) and were the financial statements prepared substantially on the basis (individual or consolidated) as required to be presented in the company's annual statement (indicate answer in Column B)?

	Column A		Column B
	Yes	No	Yes	No

XXXX	XXXX

D. Did the stockholders have an opportunity to vote for or against the election of directors and also other matters to be presented at any stockholders' meeting?

Answer _____. If answer is "no" explain on separate sheet.

E. Will the company solicit proxies from its stockholders during [insert following year] and will such solicitation(s) precede any shareholders' meeting or meetings by at least 10 days?

Answer _____. If answer is "yes" and proxies are to be solicited, copies of the proxy statement and form of proxy and other soliciting material to be furnished stockholders shall be submitted to the Insurance Commissioner of the company's domiciliary state at least 10 days prior to the date such material is first sent or given to stockholders. If answer is "no" and proxies are not to be solicited from stockholders, explain in detail below. Attach separate sheet if necessary.

Section 4. Instructions for Information Regarding Management and Directors

A. This information applies to any person who was a director or officer of the company at any time during the year. However, information need not be given for any portion of the year during which such person was not a director or officer of the company.

B. Include under "Other Employee Benefits" information for such items as savings plans, deferred compensation plans, thrift plans, profit sharing plans, etc., or other contracts, authorizations or arrangements, whether or not set forth in any formal document. Briefly describe such "plans" and the basis upon which directors or officers participate therein, if not previously described in a prior "Stockholder Information Supplement" indicating date thereof. Company cost of benefits accrued or set aside need not be stated with respect to payments computed on an actuarial basis under any plan which provides for fixed benefits on retirement at a specified age or after a specified number of years of service.

C. Information need not be included as to payments made for, or benefits received from, group life or accident insurance, group hospitalization or similar group payments or benefits.

D. If it is impractical to state the amount of the estimated annual benefits proposed to be made upon retirement, the aggregate amount set aside or accrued to date in respect of such payment should be stated, together with an explanation of the basis for future payments.

E. Attach separate sheets if necessary to fully answer any questions.

Section 5. Instructions for Statement of Beneficial Ownership of Securities

			Number of Shares
					Disposed of During (insert current year)
Name and Title of Each Director, Officer or Owner of More than 10%	Title of Security	Nature of Ownership	Owned at 12-31- [insert preceding yr]	Acquired During [insert cur yr]	Held less than 6 mos.	Held 6 mos. or more	Owned at 12-31- [insert cur yr]
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)	(7)	(8)

Answer "yes" or "no" as to whether the information concerning the number of shares owned at end of year (as shown in Column 8) by each director and the three highest paid officers whose aggregate direct remuneration exceeded $20,000 during the year, has been or will be furnished to stockholders in a proxy statement or otherwise.

Answer _____. If answer is "no" explain in detail on separate sheet.

State the number of stockholders of record of the company at the end of [insert current year].

Answer _____.

Column 1
Indicate relationship of the person to the company, for example: "director," "director and vice-president," "beneficial owner of more than 10% of the company's common stock," etc.

Column 2

The statement of the title of a security should be such as to clearly identify the security, even though there may be only one class, for example: "common stock," "4% convertible preferred stock," etc.

Column 3

Under "Nature of Ownership" state whether ownership of securities is "direct" or "indirect." If the ownership is indirect, i.e., through a partnership, corporation, trust or other entity, indicate in a footnote or other appropriate manner the name or identity of the medium through which the securities are indirectly owned. The fact that securities are held in the name of a broker or other nominee does not, of itself, constitute indirect ownership. Securities owned indirectly shall be reported on separate lines from those owned directly and from those owned through a different type of indirect ownership.

Columns 4 to 8

In the case of securities owned indirectly, the entire amount of securities owned by the partnership, corporation, trust or other entity shall be stated. There may also be indicated in a footnote or other appropriate manner the extent of the security holder's interest in the partnership, corporation, trust or other entity.

If a transaction in securities of the company was with the company or one of its subsidiaries, so state. If it involved the purchase of securities through the exercise of options, so state. If any other purchase or sale was effected otherwise than in the open market, that fact shall be indicated. If the transaction was not a purchase or sale, indicate its character; for example, gift, stock dividend, etc., as the case may be. The foregoing information may be indicated in a footnote or other appropriate manner.

Any additional information or explanation deemed relevant by the company should be included as a footnote or in other appropriate manner.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND OWN RISK AND SOLVENCY ASSESSMENT MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Purpose and Scope.

The purpose of this Act is to provide the requirements for maintaining a risk management framework and completing an Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA) and provide guidance and instructions for filing an ORSA Summary Report with the insurance commissioner of this state.

The requirements of this Act shall apply to all insurers domiciled in this state unless exempt pursuant to Section 6.

The Legislature finds and declares that the ORSA Summary Report will contain confidential and sensitive information related to an insurer or insurance group's identification of risks material and relevant to the insurer or insurance group filing the report. This information will include proprietary and trade secret information that has the potential for harm and competitive disadvantage to the insurer or insurance group if the information is made public. It is the intent of this Legislature that the ORSA Summary Report shall be a confidential document filed with the commissioner, that the ORSA Summary Report will be shared only as stated herein and to assist the commissioner in the performance of his or her duties, and that in no event shall the ORSA Summary Report be subject to public disclosure.

Section 2. Definitions.

A. "Insurance group." For the purpose of conducting an ORSA, the term "insurance group" shall mean those insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system as defined in [insert state law equivalent of the model Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act].

B. "Insurer." The term "insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in Section [insert applicable section] of this Chapter, except that it shall not include agencies, authorities or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

C. "Own Risk and Solvency Assessment" or "ORSA." An "Own Risk and Solvency Assessment" or "ORSA" shall mean a confidential internal assessment, appropriate to the nature, scale and complexity of an insurer or insurance group, conducted by that insurer or insurance group of the material and relevant risks associated with the insurer or insurance group's current business plan, and the sufficiency of capital resources to support those risks.

D. "ORSA Guidance Manual." The term "ORSA Guidance Manual" shall mean the current version of the Own Risk and Solvency Assessment Guidance Manual developed and adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) and as amended from time to time. A change in the ORSA Guidance Manual shall be effective on the January 1 following the calendar year in which the changes have been adopted by the NAIC.

E. "ORSA Summary Report." An "ORSA Summary Report" shall mean a confidential high-level summary of an insurer or insurance group's ORSA.

Section 3. Risk Management Framework.

An insurer shall maintain a risk management framework to assist the insurer with identifying, assessing, monitoring, managing and reporting on its material and relevant risks. This requirement may be satisfied if the insurance group of which the insurer is a member maintains a risk management framework applicable to the operations of the insurer.

Section 4. ORSA Requirement.

Subject to Section 6, an insurer, or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, shall regularly conduct an ORSA consistent with a process comparable to the ORSA Guidance Manual. The ORSA shall be conducted no less than annually but also at any time when there are significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

Section 5. ORSA Summary Report.

A. Upon the commissioner's request, and no more than once each year, an insurer shall submit to the commissioner an ORSA Summary Report or any combination of reports that together contain the information described in the ORSA Guidance Manual, applicable to the insurer and/or the insurance group of which it is a member. Notwithstanding any request from the commissioner, if the insurer is a member of an insurance group, the insurer shall submit the report(s) required by this subsection if the commissioner is the lead state commissioner of the insurance group as determined by the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Drafting Note: In order to ensure that the commissioner is receiving the most current information from an insurer, Section 5.A. recognizes that the time for filing the ORSA Summary Report during the calendar year may vary from insurer to insurer depending on when an insurer or insurance group conducts its internal strategic planning process. In any event, the report shall be filed once each year, with the insurer apprising the commissioner as to the anticipated time of filing.

B. The report(s) shall include a signature of the insurer or insurance group's chief risk officer or other executive having responsibility for the oversight of the insurer's enterprise risk management process attesting to the best of his/her belief and knowledge that the insurer applies the enterprise risk management process described in the ORSA Summary Report and that a copy of the report has been provided to the insurer's board of directors or the appropriate committee thereof.

C. An insurer may comply with subsection A by providing the most recent and substantially similar report(s) provided by the insurer or another member of an insurance group of which the insurer is a member to the commissioner of another state or to a supervisor or regulator of a foreign jurisdiction, if that report provides information that is comparable to the information described in the ORSA Guidance Manual. Any such report in a language other than English must be accompanied by a translation of that report into the English language.

Section 6. Exemption.

A. An insurer shall be exempt from the requirements of this Act, if

(1) The insurer has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program, less than $500,000,000; and,

(2) The insurance group of which the insurer is a member has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium including international direct and assumed premium, but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program, less than $1,000,000,000.

B. If an insurer qualifies for exemption pursuant to paragraph (1) of subsection A, but the insurance group of which the insurer is a member does not qualify for exemption pursuant to paragraph (2) of subsection A, then the ORSA Summary Report that may be required pursuant to Section 5 shall include every insurer within the insurance group. This requirement may be satisfied by the submission of more than one ORSA Summary Report for any combination of insurers provided any combination of reports includes every insurer within the insurance group.

C. If an insurer does not qualify for exemption pursuant to paragraph (1) of subsection A, but the insurance group of which it is a member qualifies for exemption pursuant to paragraph (2) of subsection A, then the only ORSA Summary Report that may be required pursuant Section 5 shall be the report applicable to that insurer.

D. An insurer that does not qualify for exemption pursuant to subsection A may apply to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of this Act based upon unique circumstances. In deciding whether to grant the insurer's request for waiver, the commissioner may consider the type and volume of business written, ownership and organizational structure, and any other factor the commissioner considers relevant to the insurer or insurance group of which the insurer is a member. If the insurer is part of an insurance group with insurers domiciled in more than one state, the commissioner shall coordinate with the lead state commissioner and with the other domiciliary commissioners in considering whether to grant the insurer's request for a waiver.

E. Notwithstanding the exemptions stated in this section,

(1) The commissioner may require that an insurer maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA and file an ORSA Summary Report based on unique circumstances including, but not limited to, the type and volume of business written, ownership and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests.

(2) The commissioner may require that an insurer maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA and file an ORSA Summary Report if the insurer has Risk-Based Capital for company action level event as set forth in [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Risk-Based Capital (RBC) Model Act], meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Model Regulation to define standards and commissioner's authority over companies deemed to be in hazardous financial condition], or otherwise exhibits qualities of a troubled insurer as determined by the commissioner.

F. If an insurer that qualifies for an exemption pursuant to subsection A subsequently no longer qualifies for that exemption due to changes in premium as reflected in the insurer's most recent annual statement or in the most recent annual statements of the insurers within the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, the insurer shall have one (1) year following the year the threshold is exceeded to comply with the requirements of this Act.

Section 7. Contents of ORSA Summary Report.

A. The ORSA Summary Report shall be prepared consistent with the ORSA Guidance Manual, subject to the requirements of subsection B of this section. Documentation and supporting information shall be maintained and made available upon examination or upon request of the commissioner.

B. The review of the ORSA Summary Report, and any additional requests for information, shall be made using similar procedures currently used in the analysis and examination of multi-state or global insurers and insurance groups.

Section 8. Confidentiality.

A. Documents, materials or other information, including the ORSA Summary Report, in the possession of or control of the Department of Insurance that are obtained by, created by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person under this Act, is recognized by this state as being proprietary and to contain trade secrets. All such documents, materials or other information shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties. The commissioner shall not otherwise make the documents, materials or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other ORSA-related information, through examination or otherwise, while acting under the authority of the commissioner or with whom such documents, materials or other information are shared pursuant to this Act shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to subsection A.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's regulatory duties, the commissioner:

(1) May, upon request, share documents, materials or other ORSA-related information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials or information subject to subsection A, including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials with other state, federal and international financial regulatory agencies, including members of any supervisory college as defined in the [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act, as amended], with the NAIC and with any third-party consultants designated by the commissioner, provided that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the ORSA-related documents, materials or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality; and

(2) May receive documents, materials or other ORSA-related information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials or information, including proprietary and trade-secret information or documents, from regulatory officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, including members of any supervisory college as defined in the [insert cross-reference to appropriate section of Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act, as amended], and from the NAIC, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any documents, materials or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material or information.

(3) Shall enter into a written agreement with the NAIC or a third-party consultant governing sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this Act, consistent with this subsection that shall:

(i) Specify procedures and protocols regarding the confidentiality and security of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Act, including procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC with other state regulators from states in which the insurance group has domiciled insurers. The agreement shall provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the ORSA-related documents, materials or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality;

(ii) Specify that ownership of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Act remains with the commissioner and the NAIC's or a third-party consultant's use of the information is subject to the direction of the commissioner;

(iii) Prohibit the NAIC or third-party consultant from storing the information shared pursuant to this Act in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is completed;

(iv) Require prompt notice to be given to an insurer whose confidential information in the possession of the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Act is subject to a request or subpoena to the NAIC or a third-party consultant for disclosure or production;

(v) Require the NAIC or a third-party consultant to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Act; and

(vi) In the case of an agreement involving a third-party consultant, provide for the insurer's written consent.

D. The sharing of information and documents by the commissioner pursuant to this Act shall not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution and enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

E. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, proprietary and trade-secret materials or other ORSA-related information shall occur as a result of disclosure of such ORSA-related information or documents to the commissioner under this section or as a result of sharing as authorized in this Act.

F. Documents, materials or other information in the possession or control of the NAIC or third-party consultants pursuant to this Act shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action.

Section 9. Sanctions.

Any insurer failing, without just cause, to timely file the ORSA Summary Report as required in this Act shall be required, after notice and hearing, to pay a penalty of $[insert amount] for each day's delay, to be recovered by the commissioner and the penalty so recovered shall be paid into the General Revenue Fund of this state. The maximum penalty under this section is $[insert amount]. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

Section 10. Severability Clause.

If any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such determination shall not affect the provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to that end the provisions of this Act are severable.

Section 11. Effective Date.

The requirements of this Act shall become effective on January 1, 2015. The first filing of the ORSA Summary Report shall be in 2015 pursuant to section 5 of this Act.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND OWN RISK AND SOLVENCY ASSESSMENT MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Title

This Act shall be known and may be cited as the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Act.

Section 2. Purpose

A. The purpose of this Act is to protect, subject to certain limitations, the persons specified in Section 3A against failure in the performance of contractual obligations, under life, health, and annuity policies, plans, or contracts specified in Section 3B, because of the impairment or insolvency of the member insurer that issued the policies, plans, or contracts.

B. To provide this protection, an association of member insurers is created to pay benefits and to continue coverages as limited by this Act, and members of the Association are subject to assessment to provide funds to carry out the purpose of this Act.

Drafting Note: The primary purpose of this model act is to protect policy or contract owners, insureds, beneficiaries, health care providers, annuitants, payees and assignees against losses (both in terms of paying claims and continuing coverage) which might otherwise occur due to an impairment or insolvency of an insurer. Unlike the property and liability lines of business, life and annuity contracts in particular are long-term arrangements for security. An insured may have impaired health or be at an advanced age so as to be unable to obtain new and similar coverage from other insurers. The payment of cash values alone does not adequately meet such needs. Thus it is essential that coverage be continued. It is also essential that the guaranty association assesses insurers in a fair and reasonable manner and that the guaranty association has sufficient assessment capacity for all insolvencies.

Section 3. Coverage and Limitations

A. This Act shall provide coverage for the policies and contracts specified in Subsection B:

(1) To persons who, regardless of where they reside (except for nonresident certificate holders under group policies or contracts), are the beneficiaries, assignees or payees, including health care providers rendering services covered under health insurance policies or certificates, of the persons covered under Paragraph (2);

(2) To persons who are owners of or certificate holders or enrollees under the policies or contracts (other than unallocated annuity contracts, and structured settlement annuities) and in each case who:

(a) Are residents; or

(b) Are not residents, but only under all of the following conditions:

(i) The member insurer that issued the policies or contracts is domiciled in this State;

(ii) The States in which the persons reside have associations similar to the association created by this Act;

(iii) The persons are not eligible for coverage by an association in any other State due to the fact that the insurer or the health maintenance organization was not licensed in the State at the time specified in the State's guaranty association law.

(3) For unallocated annuity contracts specified in Subsection B; Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection shall not apply, and this Act shall (except as provided in Paragraphs (5) and (6) of this subsection) provide coverage to:

(a) Persons who are the owners of the unallocated annuity contracts if the contracts are issued to or in connection with a specific benefit plan whose plan sponsor has its principal place of business in this State; and

(b) Persons who are owners of unallocated annuity contracts issued to or in connection with government lotteries if the owners are residents.

Drafting Note: It is believed that coverage of unallocated annuities is a policy decision that should be made by each individual State. Attached as an Appendix are alternative Sections 3, 5 and 6, which specifically exclude all unallocated annuities from coverage.

(4) For structured settlement annuities specified in Subsection B; Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection shall not apply, and this Act shall (except as provided in Paragraphs (5) and (6) of this subsection) provide coverage to a person who is a payee under a structured settlement annuity (or beneficiary of a payee if the payee is deceased), if the payee:

(a) Is a resident, regardless of where the contract owner resides; or

(b) Is not a resident, but only under both of the following conditions:

(i) (I) The contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is a resident; or

(II) The contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is not a resident; but

a. The insurer that issued the structured settlement annuity is domiciled in this State; and

b. The State in which the contract owner resides has an association similar to the association created by this Act; and

(ii) Neither the payee (or beneficiary) nor the contract owner is eligible for coverage by the association of the State in which the payee or contract owner resides.

(5) This Act shall not provide coverage to:

(a) A person who is a payee (or beneficiary) of a contract owner resident of this State, if the payee (or beneficiary) is afforded any coverage by the association of another State; or

(b) A person covered under Paragraph (3) of this subsection, if any coverage is provided by the association of another State to the person; or

(c) A person who acquires rights to receive payments through a structured settlement factoring transaction as defined in 26 U.S.C. 5891(c)(3)(A), regardless of whether the transaction occurred before or after such section became effective.

(6) This Act is intended to provide coverage to a person who is a resident of this State and, in special circumstances, to a nonresident. In order to avoid duplicate coverage, if a person who would otherwise receive coverage under this Act is provided coverage under the laws of any other State, the person shall not be provided coverage under this Act. In determining the application of the provisions of this paragraph in situations where a person could be covered by the association of more than one State, whether as an owner, payee, enrollee, beneficiary or assignee, this Act shall be construed in conjunction with other State laws to result in coverage by only one association.

Drafting Note: The exclusion from coverage in Section 3A(5)(c) of any person who has purchased from an original structured settlement annuity payee his or her rights to receive structured settlement annuity benefits and the exclusion of such benefits from covered benefits under Section 3B(2)(n) recognize that the protections afforded by guaranty associations are intended for insurance consumers, such as the original payees of structured settlement annuities. Guaranty association protection does not extend to sophisticated investors who acquire rights to receive structured settlement annuity benefits in the secondary market. These exclusions, however, do not apply to structured settlement annuity benefits that are transferred to children, present or former spouses or other dependents as part of domestic relations settlements or orders, or to other transferees (including donees) who acquire rights to receive structured settlement annuity benefits without providing any monetary consideration. Thus, Section 3A(5)(c) and Section 3B(2)(n) clarify that guaranty association coverage protects structured settlement annuity benefits to which the original payee and his or her family members retain the rights.

B. (1) This Act shall provide coverage to the persons specified in Subsection A for policies or contracts of direct, non-group life insurance, health insurance (which for the purposes of this Act includes health maintenance organization subscriber contracts and certificates), or annuities, and supplemental contracts to any of these, for certificates under direct group policies and contracts, and for unallocated annuity contracts issued by member insurers, except as limited by this Act. Annuity contracts and certificates under group annuity contracts include but are not limited to guaranteed investment contracts, deposit administration contracts, unallocated funding agreements, allocated funding agreements, structured settlement annuities, annuities issued to or in connection with government lotteries and any immediate or deferred annuity contracts.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in Paragraph (3) of this subsection, this Act shall not provide coverage for:

(a) A portion of a policy or contract not guaranteed by the member insurer, or under which the risk is borne by the policy or contract owner;

(b) A policy or contract of reinsurance, unless assumption certificates have been issued pursuant to the reinsurance policy or contract;

(c) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the rate of interest on which it is based, or the interest rate, crediting rate or similar factor determined by use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract employed in calculating returns or changes in value;

(i) Averaged over the period of four (4) years prior to the date on which the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this Act, whichever is earlier, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting two (2) percentage points from Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average averaged for that same four-year period or for such lesser period if the policy or contract was issued less than four (4) years before the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this Act, whichever is earlier; and

(ii) On and after the date on which the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this Act, whichever is earlier, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting three (3) percentage points from Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average as most recently available;

(d) A portion of a policy or contract issued to a plan or program of an employer, association or other person to provide life, health or annuity benefits to its employees, members or others, to the extent that the plan or program is self-funded or uninsured, including but not limited to benefits payable by an employer, association or other person under;

(i) A multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in 29 U.S.C. § 1144;

(ii) A minimum premium group insurance plan;

(iii) A stop-loss group insurance plan; or

(iv) An administrative services only contract;

(e) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it provides for

(i) Dividends or experience rating credits;

(ii) Voting rights; or

(iii) Payment of any fees or allowances to any person, including the policy or contract owner, in connection with the service to or administration of the policy or contract;

(f) A policy or contract issued in this State by a member insurer at a time when it was not licensed or did not have a certificate of authority to issue the policy or contract in this State;

(g) An unallocated annuity contract issued to or in connection with a benefit plan protected under the federal Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, regardless of whether the federal Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation has yet become liable to make any payments with respect to the benefit plan;

(h) A portion of an unallocated annuity contract that is not issued to or in connection with a specific employee, union or association of natural persons benefit plan or a government lottery;

(i) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the assessments required by Section 9 with respect to the policy or contract are preempted by federal or State law;

(j) An obligation that does not arise under the express written terms of the policy or contract issued by the member insurer to the enrollee, certificate holder, contract owner or policy owner, including without limitation:

(i) Claims based on marketing materials;

(ii) Claims based on side letters, riders or other documents that were issued by the member insurer without meeting applicable policy or contract form filing or approval requirements;

(iii) Misrepresentations of or regarding policy or contract benefits;

(iv) Extra-contractual claims; or

(v) A claim for penalties or consequential or incidental damages;

(k) A contractual agreement that establishes the member insurer's obligations to provide a book value accounting guaranty for defined contribution benefit plan participants by reference to a portfolio of assets that is owned by the benefit plan or its trustee, which in each case is not an affiliate of the member insurer;

(l) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent it provides for interest or other changes in value to be determined by the use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract, but which have not been credited to the policy or contract, or as to which the policy or contract owner's rights are subject to forfeiture, as of the date the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this Act, whichever is earlier. If a policy's or contract's interest or changes in value are credited less frequently than annually, then for purposes of determining the values that have been credited and are not subject to forfeiture under Section 3B(2)(l), the interest or change in value determined by using the procedures defined in the policy or contract will be credited as if the contractual date of crediting interest or changing values was the date of impairment or insolvency, whichever is earlier, and will not be subject to forfeiture;

(m) A policy or contract providing any hospital, medical, prescription drug or other health care benefits pursuant to Part C or Part D of Subchapter XVIII, Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code (commonly known as Medicare Part C& D), or Subchapter XIX, Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code (commonly known as Medicaid), or any regulations issued pursuant thereto; or

(n) Structured settlement annuity benefits to which a payee (or beneficiary) has transferred his or her rights in a structured settlement factoring transaction as defined in 26 U.S.C. 5891(c)(3)(A), regardless of whether the transaction occurred before or after such section became effective.

(3) The exclusion from coverage referenced in Paragraph (2)(c) of this subsection shall not apply to any portion of a policy or contract, including a rider, that provides long-term care or any other health insurance benefits.

Drafting Note: Some life insurance policies and annuity contracts covered by this Act provide for interest or other changes in value to be determined by the use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract. Sections 3B(2)(c) and 3B(2)(l) clarify the treatment of such policies or contracts in order to limit increases in interest in a manner that parallels the treatment provided other policies and contracts under this Act. Section 3B(2)(c) explicitly states that the application of the limit on "rate of interest" includes returns and changes in value determined by equity index or other reference. Section 3B(2)(l) excludes from coverage any interest or change in value that, as of the date the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this Act, whichever is earlier, has not been credited to the policy or contract. It excludes from coverage any interest or change in value as to which the right of the policy or contract owner is subject to forfeiture on the date the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this Act, whichever is earlier. However, for policies or contracts that credit interest or changes in value less than annually, Section 3B(2)(1) clarifies that crediting will be done according to the procedures set forth in the policy or contract except that the date of impairment or insolvency under this Act, whichever is earlier, will be deemed the final date for crediting interest of changes in value. Section 3B(3) is added to clarify that the interest limitation in Section 3B(2)(c) does not apply to long-term care or any other health insurance benefits.

C. The benefits that the Association may become obligated to cover shall in no event exceed the lesser of:

(1) The contractual obligations for which the member insurer is liable or would have been liable if it were not an impaired or insolvent insurer; or

(2) (a) With respect to one life, regardless of the number of policies or contracts:

(i) $300,000 in life insurance death benefits, but not more than $100,000 in net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values for life insurance;

(ii) For health insurance benefits:

(I) $100,000 for coverages not defined as disability income insurance or health benefit plans or long-term care insurance as defined in [section of State law dealing with health insurance/disability income insurance/long-term care insurance] including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(II) $300,000 for disability income insurance as defined in [section of State law dealing with health insurance/ disability income insurance], and $300,000 for long-term care insurance as defined in [section of State law dealing with health insurance/ long-term care insurance];

(III) $500,000 for health benefit plans;

(iii) $250,000 in the present value of annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values; or

(b) With respect to each individual participating in a governmental retirement benefit plan established under Section 401, 403(b) or 457 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code covered by an unallocated annuity contract or the beneficiaries of each such individual if deceased, in the aggregate, $250,000 in present value annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(c) With respect to each payee of a structured settlement annuity (or beneficiary or beneficiaries of the payee if deceased), $250,000 in present value annuity benefits, in the aggregate, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values, if any;

(d) However, in no event shall the Association be obligated to cover more than (i) an aggregate of $300,000 in benefits with respect to any one life under Paragraphs 2(a), 2(b) and 2(c) of this subsection except with respect to benefits for health benefit plans under Paragraph 2(a)(ii) of this subsection, in which case the aggregate liability of the Association shall not exceed $500,000 with respect to any one individual, or (ii) with respect to one owner of multiple non-group policies of life insurance, whether the policy or contract owner is an individual, firm, corporation or other person, and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees or other persons, more than $5,000,000 in benefits, regardless of the number of policies and contracts held by the owner;

(e) With respect to either (i) one contract owner provided coverage under Subsection A(3)(b) of this section; or (ii) one plan sponsor whose plans own directly or in trust one or more unallocated annuity contracts not included in Paragraph (2)(b) of this subsection, $5,000,000 in benefits, irrespective of the number of contracts with respect to the contract owner or plan sponsor. However, in the case where one or more unallocated annuity contracts are covered contracts under this Act and are owned by a trust or other entity for the benefit of two (2) or more plan sponsors, coverage shall be afforded by the Association if the largest interest in the trust or entity owning the contract or contracts is held by a plan sponsor whose principal place of business is in this State and in no event shall the Association be obligated to cover more than $5,000,000 in benefits with respect to all these unallocated contracts.

(f) The limitations set forth in this subsection are limitations on the benefits for which the Association is obligated before taking into account either its subrogation and assignment rights or the extent to which those benefits could be provided out of the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies. The costs of the Association's obligations under this Act may be met by the use of assets attributable to covered policies or reimbursed to the Association pursuant to its subrogation and assignment rights.

(g) For purposes of this Act, benefits provided by a long-term care rider to a life insurance policy or annuity contract shall be considered the same type of benefits as the base life insurance policy or annuity contract to which it relates.

D. In performing its obligations to provide coverage under Section 8 of this Act, the Association shall not be required to guarantee, assume, reinsure, reissue or perform, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reinsured, or reissued or performed, the contractual obligations of the insolvent or impaired insurer under a covered policy or contract that do not materially affect the economic values or economic benefits of the covered policy or contract.

Drafting Note: This section and Section 8 are key sections of the Act. Section 3 identifies who and what are covered and not covered by the Act. Section 8 specifies the responsibilities of the Association toward covered persons with covered policies.

Protection of this Act is primarily extended to resident persons but certain nonresidents under specific circumstances will be protected by this Act if the insolvent insurer was domiciled in this State.

This model does not apply to reinsurance unless assumption certificates were issued to the direct insureds or enrollees. Furthermore, it applies only to direct individual or group certificate insurance issued or written by member insurers licensed to transact business in this State at any time.

Persons to whom coverage is typically provided are resident enrollees, policy or contract owners, or their beneficiaries, assignees or payees. For group contracts or policies, coverage is provided to resident enrollees, and certificate holders and not to the owners of the group contracts or policies; this avoids the possibility of double coverage and indirect coverage of nonresident enrollees, and certificate holders through resident group policy or contract owners. However, for unallocated annuities, coverage is provided under Subsection A(3) to plan sponsors whose principal place of business is in this State, rather than to contract owners. No coverage is provided to individuals who have or might have an interest in the plan or unallocated annuity contract because there is no contractual guaranty by the insurer to individuals under those contracts. Subsection A(4) provides coverage for structured settlement annuities to resident payees rather than to the contract owners.

Subsection A(3) providing unallocated annuity contract coverage to plan sponsors whose principal place of business is in the State and Subsection A(4) providing structured settlement annuity coverage to resident payees are significant changes from previous versions of this Model Act intended to place the coverage in the State of the resident persons to be protected rather than in the State where the nominal owner of the contract resides. Subsections A(5) and (6) avoid the possibility of double coverage due to differing approaches for determining the covered persons in different State statutes and provide mechanisms for resolving which State's statutes will be used to determine the existence and limits of coverage.

Policies and contracts covered by the model act are life insurance, health insurance and annuity policies and contracts, and policies or contracts supplemental thereto. The use of the term health insurance is intended to include "accident and health" insurance, "sickness and accident" insurance, "disability income" insurance, health maintenance organization contracts, etc. The use of the term disability income insurance is intended to include insurance policies and contracts that cover the loss of income due to a disability. The individual State may want to adjust this language to fit its particular terminology.

Subsection B(2) identifies certain types of contracts or policies or portions of contracts or policies that are specifically not covered by this Act. If a portion of a contract or policy is not covered, the remainder of the contract or policy is covered unless excluded otherwise. Subsection B(2) also provides a ready means by which an individual State can exempt from the Act those policies and contracts issued by member insurers or similar organizations deemed appropriate for exemption by the State.

Subsection B(2)(h) excludes coverage for any unallocated annuity contract not used to fund a benefit plan for natural persons or governmental lottery. Subsection B(2)(k) is intended to exclude from coverage those products commonly referred to as "financial guaranty" products.

Subsection C provides the maximum limitations of the Association's liability by type of contract or policy or line of business and overall per one life, plan sponsor or owner. The limits may be reached through cash surrender payments, benefit payments, or continuing coverage or a combination thereof. The maximum limits for each type of coverage should be set at an appropriate level after review by each State.

Section 4. Construction

This Act shall be construed to effect the purpose under Section 2.

Section 5. Definitions

As used in this Act:

A. "Account" means either of the two accounts created under Section 6.

B. "Association" means the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association created under Section 6.

C. "Authorized assessment" or the term "authorized" when used in the context of assessments means a resolution by the Board of Directors has been passed whereby an assessment will be called immediately or in the future from member insurers for a specified amount. An assessment is authorized when the resolution is passed.

D. "Benefit plan" means a specific employee, union or association of natural persons benefit plan.

E. "Called assessment" or the term "called" when used in the context of assessments means that a notice has been issued by the Association to member insurers requiring that an authorized assessment be paid within the time frame set forth within the notice. An authorized assessment becomes a called assessment when notice is mailed by the Association to member insurers.

F. "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Insurance of this State.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official whenever the term "commissioner" appears.

G. "Contractual obligation" means an obligation under a policy or contract or certificate under a group policy or contract, or portion thereof for which coverage is provided under Section 3.

H. "Covered contract" or "covered policy" means a policy or contract or portion of a policy or contract for which coverage is provided under Section 3.

I. "Extra-contractual claims" shall include, for example, claims relating to bad faith in the payment of claims, punitive or exemplary damages or attorneys' fees and costs.

J. "Health benefit plan" means any hospital or medical expense policy or certificate, or health maintenance organization subscriber contract or any other similar health contract. "Health benefit plan" does not include:

(1) Accident only insurance:

(2) Credit insurance;

(3) Dental only insurance;

(4) Vision only insurance;

(5) Medicare Supplement insurance;

(6) Benefits for long-term care, home health care, community-based care, or any combination thereof;

(7) Disability income insurance;

(8) Coverage for on-site medical clinics; or

(9) Specified disease, hospital confinement indemnity, or limited benefit health insurance if the types of coverage do not provide coordination of benefits and are provided under separate policies or certificates.

K. "Impaired insurer" means a member insurer which, after the effective date of this Act, is not an insolvent insurer, and is placed under an order of rehabilitation or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction.

L. "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer which after the effective date of this Act, is placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction with a finding of insolvency.

M. "Member insurer" means an insurer or health maintenance organization licensed or that holds a certificate of authority to transact in this State any kind of insurance or health maintenance organization business for which coverage is provided under Section 3, and includes an insurer or health maintenance organization whose license or certificate of authority in this State may have been suspended, revoked, not renewed or voluntarily withdrawn, but does not include:

(1) A hospital or medical service organization, whether profit or non-profit;

(2) A fraternal benefit society;

(3) A mandatory State pooling plan;

(4) A mutual assessment company or other person that operates on an assessment basis;

(5) An insurance exchange;

(6) An organization that has a certificate or license limited to the issuance of charitable gift annuities under [insert the appropriate section of the State code]; or

(7) An entity similar to any of the above.

Drafting Note: States that license Health Care Service Corporations or similar organizations that undertake to provide basic health care services may want to address these entities in this Act.

N. "Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average" means the Monthly Average Corporates as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or any successor thereto.

O. "Owner" of a policy or contract and "policyholder," "policy owner" and "contract owner" mean the person who is identified as the legal owner under the terms of the policy or contract or who is otherwise vested with legal title to the policy or contract through a valid assignment completed in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract and properly recorded as the owner on the books of the member insurer. The terms owner, contract owner, policyholder and policy owner do not include persons with a mere beneficial interest in a policy or contract.

P. "Person" means an individual, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, association, governmental body or entity or voluntary organization.

Q. "Plan sponsor" means:

(1) The employer in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by a single employer;

(2) The employee organization in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by an employee organization; or

(3) In a case of a benefit plan established or maintained by two (2) or more employers or jointly by one or more employers and one or more employee organizations, the association, committee, joint board of trustees, or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan.

R. "Premiums" means amounts or considerations (by whatever name called) received on covered policies or contracts less returned premiums, considerations and deposits and less dividends and experience credits. "Premiums" does not include amounts or considerations received for policies or contracts or for the portions of policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided under Section 3B except that assessable premium shall not be reduced on account of Sections 3B(2)(c) relating to interest limitations and 3C(2) relating to limitations with respect to one individual, one participant and one policy or contract owner. "Premiums" shall not include:

(1) Premiums in excess of $5,000,000 on an unallocated annuity contract not issued under a governmental retirement benefit plan (or its trustee) established under Section 401, 403(b) or 457 of the United States Internal Revenue Code, or

(2) With respect to multiple non-group policies of life insurance owned by one owner, whether the policy or contract owner is an individual, firm, corporation or other person, and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees or other persons, premiums in excess of $5,000,000 with respect to these policies or contracts, regardless of the number of policies or contracts held by the owner.

S. (1) "Principal place of business" of a plan sponsor or a person other than a natural person means the single State in which the natural persons who establish policy for the direction, control and coordination of the operations of the entity as a whole primarily exercise that function, determined by the Association in its reasonable judgment by considering the following factors:

(a) The State in which the primary executive and administrative headquarters of the entity is located;

(b) The State in which the principal office of the chief executive officer of the entity is located;

(c) The State in which the board of directors (or similar governing person or persons) of the entity conducts the majority of its meetings;

(d) The State in which the executive or management committee of the board of directors (or similar governing person or persons) of the entity conducts the majority of its meetings;

(e) The State from which the management of the overall operations of the entity is directed; and

(f) In the case of a benefit plan sponsored by affiliated companies comprising a consolidated corporation, the State in which the holding company or controlling affiliate has its principal place of business as determined using the above factors.

However, in the case of a plan sponsor, if more than fifty percent (50%) of the participants in the benefit plan are employed in a single State, that State shall be deemed to be the principal place of business of the plan sponsor.

(2) The principal place of business of a plan sponsor of a benefit plan described in Subsection Q(3) of this section shall be deemed to be the principal place of business of the association, committee, joint board of trustees or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan that, in lieu of a specific or clear designation of a principal place of business, shall be deemed to be the principal place of business of the employer or employee organization that has the largest investment in the benefit plan in question.

T. "Receivership court" means the court in the insolvent or impaired insurer's State having jurisdiction over the conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation of the member insurer.

U. "Resident" means a person to whom a contractual obligation is owed and who resides in this State on the date of entry of a court order that determines a member insurer to be an impaired insurer or a court order that determines a member insurer to be an insolvent insurer, whichever occurs first. A person may be a resident of only one State, which in the case of a person other than a natural person shall be its principal place of business. Citizens of the United States that are either (i) residents of foreign countries, or (ii) residents of United States possessions, territories or protectorates that do not have an association similar to the Association created by this Act, shall be deemed residents of the State of domicile of the member insurer that issued the policies or contracts.

V. "Structured settlement annuity" means an annuity purchased in order to fund periodic payments for a plaintiff or other claimant in payment for or with respect to personal injury suffered by the plaintiff or other claimant.

W "State" means a State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and a United States possession, territory or protectorate.

X. "Supplemental contract" means a written agreement entered into for the distribution of proceeds under a life, health or annuity policy or contract.

Y. "Unallocated annuity contract" means an annuity contract or group annuity certificate which is not issued to and owned by an individual, except to the extent of any annuity benefits guaranteed to an individual by an insurer under the contract or certificate.

Drafting Note: Each State will wish to examine its own statutes to determine whether these definitions are applicable and to determine whether some should be deleted and others added.

Section 6. Creation of the Association

A. There is created a nonprofit legal entity to be known as the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association. All member insurers shall be and remain members of the Association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance or a health maintenance organization business in this State. The Association shall perform its functions under the plan of operation established and approved under Section 10 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under Section 7. For purposes of administration and assessment, the Association shall maintain two (2) accounts:

(1) The life insurance and annuity account which includes the following subaccounts:

(a) Life insurance account;

(b) Annuity account which shall include annuity contracts owned by a governmental retirement plan (or its trustee) established under Section 401, 403(b) or 457 of the United States Internal Revenue Code, but shall otherwise exclude unallocated annuities; and

(c) Unallocated annuity account, which shall exclude contracts owned by a governmental retirement benefit plan (or its trustee) established under Section 401, 403(b) or 457 of the United States Internal Revenue Code.

(2) The health account.

B. The Association shall come under the immediate supervision of the commissioner and shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the insurance laws of this State. Meetings or records of the Association may be opened to the public upon majority vote of the board of directors of the Association.

Section 7. Board of Directors

A. The board of directors of the Association shall consist of not less than seven (7) nor more than eleven (11) member insurers serving terms as established in the plan of operation. The insurer members of the board shall be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. In addition, two (2) persons who must be public representatives shall be appointed by the commissioner to the board of directors. A "public representative" may not be an officer, director or employee of an insurance company or a health maintenance organization or any person engaged in the business of insurance.

Vacancies on the board shall be filled for the remaining period of the term by a majority vote of the remaining board members, for member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner, and by the commissioner for public representatives. To select the initial board of directors, and initially organize the Association, the commissioner shall give notice to all member insurers of the time and place of the organizational meeting. In determining voting rights at the organizational meeting each member insurer shall be entitled to one vote in person or by proxy. If the board of directors is not selected within sixty (60) days after notice of the organizational meeting, the commissioner may appoint the initial insurer members in addition to the public representatives.

B. In approving selections or in appointing members to the board, the commissioner shall consider, among other things, whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

C. Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the Association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors but members of the board shall not otherwise be compensated by the Association for their services.

Drafting Note: Subsection A provides that the number and term of the members of the board of directors shall be determined in the plan of operation. To avoid problems in initially selecting the board, this section includes a provision for a start-up meeting which will be called by the commissioner. To determine voting rights at the organizational meeting each member would have one vote. Thereafter the plan of operation will establish the voting procedures, by-laws, etc. governing the conduct of the Association. States that are amending an existing statute should provide for a continuation of the board.

States may consider including language in Subsection B to effectuate the fair representation of guaranty association members.

Section 8. Powers and Duties of the Association

A. If a member insurer is an impaired insurer, the Association may, in its discretion, and subject to any conditions imposed by the Association that do not impair the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer and that are approved by the commissioner:

(1) Guarantee, assume, reissue, or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reissued, or reinsured, any or all of the policies or contracts of the impaired insurer; or

(2) Provide such monies, pledges, loans, notes, guarantees or other means as are proper to effectuate Paragraph (1) and assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action under Paragraph (1).

B. If a member insurer is an insolvent insurer, the Association shall, in its discretion, either:

(1) (a) (i) Guaranty, assume, reissue, or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reissued, or reinsured, the policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer; or

(ii) Assure payment of the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer; and

(b) Provide monies, pledges, loans, notes, guarantees, or other means reasonably necessary to discharge the Association's duties; or

(2) Provide benefits and coverages in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) With respect to policies and contracts, assure payment of benefits that would have been payable under the policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer, for claims incurred:

(i) With respect to group policies and contracts, not later than the earlier of the next renewal date under those policies or contracts or forty-five (45) days, but in no event less than thirty (30) days, after the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to the policies and contracts;

(ii) With respect to non-group policies, contracts, and annuities not later than the earlier of the next renewal date (if any) under the policies or contracts or one year, but in no event less than thirty (30) days, from the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to the policies or contracts;

(b) Make diligent efforts to provide all known insureds, enrollees or annuitants (for non-group policies and contracts), or group policy or contract owners with respect to group policies and contracts, thirty (30) days notice of the termination (pursuant to Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph) of the benefits provided;

(c) With respect to non-group policies and contracts covered by the Association, make available to each known insured, enrollee, or annuitant, or owner if other than the insured or annuitant, and with respect to an individual formerly an insured, enrollee or annuitant under a group policy or contract who is not eligible for replacement group coverage, make available substitute coverage on an individual basis in accordance with the provisions of Subparagraph (d), if the insureds, enrollees or annuitants had a right under law or the terminated policy, contract, or annuity to convert coverage to individual coverage or to continue an individual policy, contract, or annuity in force until a specified age or for a specified time, during which the insurer or health maintenance organization had no right unilaterally to make changes in any provision of the policy, contract, or annuity or had a right only to make changes in premium by class:

(d) (i) In providing the substitute coverage required under Subparagraph (c), the Association may offer either to reissue the terminated coverage or to issue an alternative policy or contract at actuarially justified rates[, subject to the prior approval of the commissioner];

(ii) Alternative or reissued policies or contracts shall be offered without requiring evidence of insurability, and shall not provide for any waiting period or exclusion that would not have applied under the terminated policy or contract;

(iii) The Association may reinsure any alternative or reissued policy or contract.

(e) (i) Alternative policies or contracts adopted by the Association shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner. The Association may adopt alternative policies or contracts of various types for future issuance without regard to any particular impairment or insolvency.

(ii) Alternative policies or contracts shall contain at least the minimum statutory provisions required in this State and provide benefits that shall not be unreasonable in relation to the premium charged. The Association shall set the premium in accordance with a table of rates that it shall adopt. The premium shall reflect the amount of insurance to be provided and the age and class of risk of each insured, but shall not reflect any changes in the health of the insured after the original policy or contract was last underwritten.

(iii) Any alternative policy or contract issued by the Association shall provide coverage of a type similar to that of the policy or contract issued by the impaired or insolvent insurer, as determined by the Association.

(f) If the Association elects to reissue terminated coverage at a premium rate different from that charged under the terminated policy or contract, the premium shall be actuarially justified and set by the Association in accordance with the amount of insurance or coverage provided and the age and class of risk[, subject to prior approval of the commissioner];

(g) The Association's obligations with respect to coverage under any policy or contract of the impaired or insolvent insurer or under any reissued or alternative policy or contract shall cease on the date the coverage or policy or contract is replaced by another similar policy or contract by the policy or contract owner, the insured, the enrollee, or the Association;

(h) When proceeding under this Subsection B(2) with respect to a policy or contract carrying guaranteed minimum interest rates, the Association shall assure the payment or crediting of a rate of interest consistent with Section 3B(2)(c).

C. Nonpayment of premiums within thirty-one (31) days after the date required under the terms of any guaranteed, assumed, alternative or reissued policy or contract or substitute coverage shall terminate the Association's obligations under the policy, contract, or coverage under this Act with respect to the policy, contract, or coverage, except with respect to any claims incurred or any net cash surrender value which may be due in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

D. Premiums due for coverage after entry of an order of liquidation of an insolvent insurer shall belong to and be payable at the direction of the Association. If the liquidator of an insolvent insurer requests, the Association shall provide a report to the liquidator regarding such premium collected by the Association. The Association shall be liable for unearned premiums due to policy or contract owners arising after the entry of the order.

E. The protection provided by this Act shall not apply where any guaranty protection is provided to residents of this State by the laws of the domiciliary State or jurisdiction of the impaired or insolvent insurer other than this State.

F. In carrying out its duties under Subsection B, the Association may:

(1) Subject to approval by a court in this State, impose permanent policy or contract liens in connection with a guarantee, assumption or reinsurance agreement, if the Association finds that the amounts which can be assessed under this Act are less than the amounts needed to assure full and prompt performance of the Association's duties under this Act, or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the imposition of such permanent policy or contract liens, to be in the public interest;

(2) Subject to approval by a court in this State, impose temporary moratoriums or liens on payments of cash values and policy loans, or any other right to withdraw funds held in conjunction with policies or contracts, in addition to any contractual provisions for deferral of cash or policy loan value. In addition, in the event of a temporary moratorium or moratorium charge imposed by the receivership court on payment of cash values or policy loans, or on any other right to withdraw funds held in conjunction with policies or contracts, out of the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer, the Association may defer the payment of cash values, policy loans or other rights by the Association for the period of the moratorium or moratorium charge imposed by the receivership court, except for claims covered by the Association to be paid in accordance with a hardship procedure established by the liquidator or rehabilitator and approved by the receivership court.

G. A deposit in this State, held pursuant to law or required by the commissioner for the benefit of creditors, including policy or contract owners, not turned over to the domiciliary liquidator upon the entry of a final order of liquidation or order approving a rehabilitation plan of a member insurer domiciled in this State or in a reciprocal State, pursuant to [insert citation to this State's law dealing with the handling of special deposits] shall be promptly paid to the Association. The Association shall be entitled to retain a portion of any amount so paid to it equal to the percentage determined by dividing the aggregate amount of policy or contract owners' claims related to that insolvency for which the Association has provided statutory benefits by the aggregate amount of all policy or contract owners' claims in this State related to that insolvency and shall remit to the domiciliary receiver the amount so paid to the Association less the amount retained pursuant to this subsection. Any amount so paid to the Association and retained by it shall be treated as a distribution of estate assets pursuant to applicable State receivership law dealing with early access disbursements.

H. If the Association fails to act within a reasonable period of time with respect to an insolvent insurer, as provided in Subsection B of this section, the commissioner shall have the powers and duties of the Association under this Act with respect to the insolvent insurer.

I. The Association may render assistance and advice to the commissioner, upon the commissioner's request, concerning rehabilitation, payment of claims, continuance of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of an impaired or insolvent insurer.

J. The Association shall have standing to appear or intervene before a court or agency in this State with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer concerning which the Association is or may become obligated under this Act or with jurisdiction over any person or property against which the Association may have rights through subrogation or otherwise. Standing shall extend to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the Association, including, but not limited to, proposals for reinsuring, reissuing, modifying or guaranteeing the policies or contracts of the impaired or insolvent insurer and the determination of the policies or contracts and contractual obligations. The Association shall also have the right to appear or intervene before a court or agency in another State with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer for which the Association is or may become obligated or with jurisdiction over any person or property against whom the Association may have rights through subrogation or otherwise.

K. (1) A person receiving benefits under this Act shall be deemed to have assigned the rights under, and any causes of action against any person for losses arising under, resulting from or otherwise relating to, the covered policy or contract to the Association to the extent of the benefits received because of this Act, whether the benefits are payments of or on account of contractual obligations, continuation of coverage or provision of substitute or alternative policies, contracts, or coverages. The Association may require an assignment to it of such rights and cause of action by any enrollee, payee, policy or contract owner, beneficiary, insured or annuitant as a condition precedent to the receipt of any right or benefits conferred by this Act upon the person.

(2) The subrogation rights of the Association under this subsection shall have the same priority against the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer as that possessed by the person entitled to receive benefits under this Act.

(3) In addition to Paragraphs (1) and (2) above, the Association shall have all common law rights of subrogation and any other equitable or legal remedy that would have been available to the impaired or insolvent insurer or owner, beneficiary, enrollee, or payee of a policy or contract with respect to the policy or contracts (including without limitation, in the case of a structured settlement annuity, any rights of the owner, beneficiary or payee of the annuity, to the extent of benefits received pursuant to this Act, against a person originally or by succession responsible for the losses arising from the personal injury relating to the annuity or payment therefore), excepting any such person responsible solely by reason of serving as an assignee in respect of a qualified assignment under Internal Revenue Code Section 130).

(4) If the preceding provisions of this subsection are invalid or ineffective with respect to any person or claim for any reason, the amount payable by the Association with respect to the related covered obligations shall be reduced by the amount realized by any other person with respect to the person or claim that is attributable to the policies or contracts (or portion thereof) covered by the Association.

(5) If the Association has provided benefits with respect to a covered obligation and a person recovers amounts as to which the Association has rights as described in the preceding paragraphs of this subsection, the person shall pay to the Association the portion of the recovery attributable to the policies or contracts (or portion thereof) covered by the Association.

L. In addition to the rights and powers elsewhere in this Act, the Association may:

(1) Enter into such contracts as are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this Act;

(2) Sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper to recover any unpaid assessments under Section 9 and to settle claims or potential claims against it;

(3) Borrow money to effect the purposes of this Act; any notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the Association not in default shall be legal investments for domestic member insurers and may be carried as admitted assets;

(4) Employ or retain such persons as are necessary or appropriate to handle the financial transactions of the Association, and to perform such other functions as become necessary or proper under this Act;

(5) Take such legal action as may be necessary or appropriate to avoid or recover payment of improper claims;

(6) Exercise, for the purposes of this Act and to the extent approved by the commissioner, the powers of a domestic life insurer, health insurer, or health maintenance organization, but in no case may the Association issue policies or contracts other than those issued to perform its obligations under this Act;

(7) Organize itself as a corporation or in other legal form permitted by the laws of the State;

(8) Request information from a person seeking coverage from the Association in order to aid the Association in determining its obligations under this Act with respect to the person, and the person shall promptly comply with the request;

(9) Unless prohibited by law, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the policy or contract, file for actuarially justified rate or premium increases for any policy or contract for which it provides coverage under this Act; and

(10) Take other necessary or appropriate action to discharge its duties and obligations under this Act or to exercise its powers under this Act.

M. The Association may join an organization of one or more other State associations of similar purposes, to further the purposes and administer the powers and duties of the Association.

N. (1) (a) At any time within one hundred eighty (180) days of the date of the order of liquidation, the Association may elect to succeed to the rights and obligations of the ceding member insurer that relate to policies, contracts, or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, in each case under any one or more reinsurance contracts entered into by the insolvent insurer and its reinsurers and selected by the Association. Any such assumption shall be effective as of the date of the order of liquidation. The election shall be effected by the Association or the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA) on its behalf sending written notice, return receipt requested, to the affected reinsurers.

(b) To facilitate the earliest practicable decision about whether to assume any of the contracts of reinsurance, and in order to protect the financial position of the estate, the receiver and each reinsurer of the ceding member insurer shall make available upon request to the Association or to NOLHGA on its behalf as soon as possible after commencement of formal delinquency proceedings (i) copies of in-force contracts of reinsurance and all related files and records relevant to the determination of whether such contracts should be assumed, and (ii) notices of any defaults under the reinsurance contacts or any known event or condition which with the passage of time could become a default under the reinsurance contracts.

(c) The following Subparagraphs (i) through (iv) shall apply to reinsurance contracts so assumed by the Association:

(i) The Association shall be responsible for all unpaid premiums due under the reinsurance contracts for periods both before and after the date of the order of liquidation, and shall be responsible for the performance of all other obligations to be performed after the date of the order of liquidation, in each case which relate to policies, contracts, or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association. The Association may charge policies, contracts, or annuities covered in part by the Association, through reasonable allocation methods, the costs for reinsurance in excess of the obligations of the Association and shall provide notice and an accounting of these charges to the liquidator;

(ii) The Association shall be entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer under the reinsurance contracts with respect to losses or events that occur in periods after the date of the order of liquidation and that relate to policies, contracts, or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, provided that, upon receipt of any such amounts, the Association shall be obliged to pay to the beneficiary under the policy, contracts, or annuity on account of which the amounts were paid a portion of the amount equal to the lesser of:

(I) The amount received by the Association; and

(II) The excess of the amount received by the Association over the amount equal to the benefits paid by the Association on account of the policy, contracts, or annuity less the retention of the insurer applicable to the loss or event.

(iii) Within thirty (30) days following the Association's election (the "election date"), the Association and each reinsurer under contracts assumed by the Association shall calculate the net balance due to or from the Association under each reinsurance contract as of the election date with respect to policies, contracts, or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, which calculation shall give full credit to all items paid by either the member insurer or its receiver or the reinsurer prior to the election date. The reinsurer shall pay the receiver any amounts due for losses or events prior to the date of the order of liquidation, subject to any set-off for premiums unpaid for periods prior to the date, and the Association or reinsurer shall pay any remaining balance due the other, in each case within five (5) days of the completion of the aforementioned calculation. Any disputes over the amounts due to either the Association or the reinsurer shall be resolved by arbitration pursuant to the terms of the affected reinsurance contracts or, if the contract contains no arbitration clause, as otherwise provided by law. If the receiver has received any amounts due the Association pursuant to Subparagraph (c)(ii) of this Paragraph (1), the receiver shall remit the same to the Association as promptly as practicable.

(iv) If the Association or receiver, on the Association's behalf, within sixty (60) days of the election date, pays the unpaid premiums due for periods both before and after the election date that relate to policies, contracts, or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, the reinsurer shall not be entitled to terminate the reinsurance contracts for failure to pay premium insofar as the reinsurance contracts relate to policies, contracts, or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, and shall not be entitled to set off any unpaid amounts due under other contracts, or unpaid amounts due from parties other than the Association, against amounts due the Association.

(2) During the period from the date of the order of liquidation until the election date (or, if the election date does not occur, until one hundred eighty (180) days after the date of the order of liquidation),

(a) (i) Neither the Association nor the reinsurer shall have any rights or obligations under reinsurance contracts that the Association has the right to assume under Subsection (1), whether for periods prior to or after the date of the order of liquidation; and

(ii) The reinsurer, the receiver and the Association shall, to the extent practicable, provide each other data and records reasonably requested;

(b) Provided that once the Association has elected to assume a reinsurance contract, the parties' rights and obligations shall be governed by Subsection (1).

(3) If the Association does not elect to assume a reinsurance contract by the election date pursuant to Subsection (1), the Association shall have no rights or obligations, in each case for periods both before and after the date of the order of liquidation, with respect to the reinsurance contract.

(4) When policies, contracts, or annuities, or covered obligations with respect thereto, are transferred to an assuming insurer, reinsurance on the policies, contracts, or annuities may also be transferred by the Association, in the case of contracts assumed under Subsection (1), subject to the following:

(a) Unless the reinsurer and the assuming insurer agree otherwise, the reinsurance contract transferred shall not cover any new policies of insurance, contracts, or annuities in addition to those transferred;

(b) The obligations described in Subsection (1) of this Section shall no longer apply with respect to matters arising after the effective date of the transfer; and

(c) Notice shall be given in writing, return receipt requested, by the transferring party to the affected reinsurer not less than thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of the transfer.

(5) The provisions of this Section N shall supersede the provisions of any State law or of any affected reinsurance contract that provides for or requires any payment of reinsurance proceeds, on account of losses or events that occur in periods after the date of the order of liquidation, to the receiver of the insolvent insurer or any other person. The receiver shall remain entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer under the reinsurance contracts with respect to losses or events that occur in periods prior to the date of the order of liquidation, subject to applicable setoff provisions.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in this section, nothing in this Section N shall alter or modify the terms and conditions of any reinsurance contract. Nothing in this section shall abrogate or limit any rights of any reinsurer to claim that it is entitled to rescind a reinsurance contract. Nothing in this section shall give a policyholder, contract owner, enrollee, certificate holder, or beneficiary an independent cause of action against a reinsurer that is not otherwise set forth in the reinsurance contract. Nothing in this section shall limit or affect the Association's rights as a creditor of the estate against the assets of the estate. Nothing in this section shall apply to reinsurance agreements covering property or casualty risks.

O. The Board of Directors of the Association shall have discretion and may exercise reasonable business judgment to determine the means by which the Association is to provide the benefits of this Act in an economical and efficient manner.

P. Where the Association has arranged or offered to provide the benefits of this Act to a covered person under a plan or arrangement that fulfills the Association's obligations under this Act, the person shall not be entitled to benefits from the Association in addition to or other than those provided under the plan or arrangement.

Q. Venue in a suit against the Association arising under the Act shall be in [insert name of county] County. The Association shall not be required to give an appeal bond in an appeal that relates to a cause of action arising under this Act.

Drafting Note: Along with Section 3, this section is a key to the specific responsibilities of the Association toward covered persons. That responsibility varies by type of policy or contract involved.

The Association is primarily intended to act after the entry of an order of liquidation with the finding of insolvency against a member insurer. However, the Association may act (Section 8A) in the case of an impaired insurer to guarantee, assume, reissue, or reinsure any or all policies or contracts or otherwise provide money to the member insurer.

Subsection B details the main role of the Association in the instance of an order of liquidation against an insolvent insurer. The responsibilities of the Association vary depending on the kind of coverage and type of policy or contract—group or individual. The Association may offer alternative policies or contracts or change the premiums or benefits of existing policies or contracts. "New contracts or policies" shall be offered without new underwriting and with coverage for existing conditions. This subsection also details that any rate changes, including rates for new or replacement contracts or policies, must be actuarially justified and, if specified by the State, the commissioner must approve the rates prior to the rates becoming effective. In order to facilitate the sale of blocks of business for which the Association is responsible, the cooperation of the domestic receiver may be necessary.

Subsection F relates to the imposition of policy and contract liens, moratoriums, etc. These are devices which have been used in the past in connection with continuation of the insolvent insurer's coverage. Since, by definition, the assets of the insolvent insurer were not adequate to support its contractual obligations, liens were used to reduce those obligations to a level where the assets would be adequate. However, in the past there was no means to infuse additional funds where needed to make whole policy or contract owners, insureds, enrollees, and beneficiaries. The purpose of the model act is to provide timely payment and protect against losses due to an insolvency, by providing prompt fulfillment of insurance or health maintenance organization benefits to the extent of the Association's obligations under this Act. To the extent that liens and moratoriums are sanctioned, the model act retreats from this principle.

On the one hand, it can be argued that if liens and moratoriums cannot be used, there will be a run on the assets of the impaired or insolvent company. In the past this seems to have been true. However, unlike the past, the performance of the member insurer's contractual obligations would be guaranteed.

Also, the standard nonforfeiture laws provide that an insurer in its policies shall reserve the right to defer the payment of cash values for a period of six months after demand therefor with surrender of the policy. Similarly, it is common to require an insurer to reserve for a period of six months the right to defer the granting of any policy loan (other than to pay premiums). For those various reasons, the model act does not encourage the use of liens and moratoriums in ordinary situations.

On the other hand, in periods of severe liquidity problems and economic stress, perhaps of even catastrophic proportions, such devices may become essential. While the model act concentrates on the protection of those to whom the impaired or insolvent insurer has a contractual obligation, the impact of assessments on the policyholders, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees of assessed companies is also an important consideration (e.g., significant sales of depressed value assets in a tight money market). Consequently Subsection F(1) authorizes the Association to cause to be imposed liens and moratoriums (or other similar means):

1. If the Court finds that the amounts assessable are less than what is needed, or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the use of such tools in the public interest; and

2. The Court approves the use of the specific lien, moratorium, etc.

This provides a highly flexible mechanism while at the same time it avoids impairing the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer as a routine matter under ordinary economic and financial conditions. The provision also recognizes that while contractual rights of policy owners, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees may not constitutionally be impaired, when the impaired or insolvent insurer's obligation under the contract is assumed by another insurer the policy owner, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees has two options. The policy owner, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees may accept the new contract with such liens or moratoriums as permitted by the court, or accept such pro rata payment as is available from the estate of the insolvent insurer.

Furthermore, to provide added flexibility in a temporary situation (e.g., run on assets), Subsection F(2) provides for temporary moratoriums or liens on payment of cash values and policy loans, but not on the payment of other benefits, with the Court's approval.

Subsection J, to enable the Association to protect its interest and the best interests of the policyholders, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees in the handling of an impairment or insolvency, provides that the Association shall have standing to appear in courts with jurisdiction over an insolvent insurer and such standing will extend to any matters concerning the duties of the Association.

Subsection L(9) was added to clarify that the Association has the authority to request rate increases under Section 8 in accordance with the terms of the policies or contracts, unless prohibited by law. States should determine whether it would be consistent with other provisions of State law to make this power of the Association subject to prior approval of the commissioner. States that have adopted long-term care insurance laws and regulations similar to the NAIC's Long-Term Care Insurance Model Act and Long-Term Care Insurance Model Regulation should consider whether this language should be changed to conform to any applicable notice and approval requirements for premium rate schedule increases for long-term care insurance policies.

Subsection M explicitly recognizes that prompt and efficient discharge of the Association's obligations will be greatly facilitated, especially in multistate insolvencies by acting in concert through the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA) to develop and, where appropriate, carry out coordinated plans.

Subsection N has been revised to conform to the provisions of Section 612 of the Insurer Receivership Model Act. Section 612 represents a compromise among receivers, reinsurers and guaranty associations regarding reinsurance of life and health insurance contracts. The revisions of Section 8N are intended to preserve that compromise in this Act insofar as the Association is concerned.

R. In carrying out its duties in connection with guaranteeing, assuming, reissuing, or reinsuring policies or contracts under Subsections A or B, the Association may issue substitute coverage for a policy or contract that provides an interest rate, crediting rate or similar factor determined by use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract employed in calculating returns or changes in value by issuing an alternative policy or contract in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) In lieu of the index or other external reference provided for in the original policy or contract, the alternative policy or contract provides for (i) a fixed interest rate or (ii) payment of dividends with minimum guarantees or (iii) a different method for calculating interest or changes in value;

(2) There is no requirement for evidence of insurability, waiting period or other exclusion that would not have applied under the replaced policy or contract, and;

(3) The alternative policy or contract is substantially similar to the replaced policy or contract in all other material terms

Section 9. Assessments

A. For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the Association, the board of directors shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at such time and for such amounts as the board finds necessary. Assessments shall be due not less than thirty (30) days after prior written notice to the member insurers and shall accrue interest at [insert amount] percent per annum on and after the due date.

B. There shall be two (2) classes of assessments, as follows:

(1) Class A assessments shall be authorized and called for the purpose of meeting administrative and legal costs and other expenses. Class A assessments may be authorized and called whether or not related to a particular impaired or insolvent insurer.

(2) Class B assessments shall be authorized and called to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the Association under Section 8 with regard to an impaired or an insolvent insurer.

C. (1) The amount of a Class A assessment shall be determined by the board and may be authorized and called on a pro rata or non-pro rata basis. If pro rata, the board may provide that it be credited against future Class B assessments.

(2) The amount of a Class B assessment, except for assessments related to long-term care insurance, shall be allocated for assessment purposes between the accounts and among the subaccounts of the life insurance and annuity account, pursuant to an allocation formula which may be based on the premiums or reserves of the impaired or insolvent insurer or any other standard deemed by the board in its sole discretion as being fair and reasonable under the circumstances.

(3) The amount of the Class B assessment for long-term care insurance written by the impaired or insolvent insurer shall be allocated according to a methodology included in the Plan of Operation and approved by the Commissioner. The methodology shall provide for 50% of the assessment to be allocated to accident and health member insurers and 50% to be allocated to life and annuity member insurers.

Drafting Note: The purpose of Subsection C(3) is to allocate the responsibility for an insolvency of a long-term care member insurer evenly between member insurers in the health industry and member insurers in the life and annuity industries. As it is likely that life and annuity member insurers will be subject to assessments from the health account, and accident and health member insurers will be subject to assessments from the life account, the formula below should be utilized by guaranty associations so that member insurers in the health industry pay 50% of the assessment and member insurers in the life and annuity industries pay 50% of the assessment.

In determining the shares that shall be allocated to the life and annuity account pursuant to Subsection C(3), guaranty associations should use the following formula:

(.50 - Life and annuity member insurers' share of HA) / (Life and annuity member insurers' share of LIAA - Life and annuity member insurers' share of HA)

For the purposes of the formula above and Subsection C(3) only, a "life and annuity member insurer" means a member insurer for which (i) the sum of its assessable life insurance premiums and annuity premiums is greater than or equal to (ii) its assessable health insurance premiums, which shall include its assessable health maintenance organization premiums but shall exclude its assessable premiums written for disability income and long-term care insurance. For purposes of this definition, assessable premiums shall be measured within the state. An "accident and health member insurer" means any member insurer not defined as a "life and annuity member insurer." HA represents the guaranty association Health Account and LIAA represents the guaranty association Life Insurance and Annuity Account.

(4) Class B assessments against member insurers for each account and subaccount shall be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this State by each assessed member insurer on policies or contracts covered by each account for the three (3) most recent calendar years for which information is available preceding the year in which the member insurer became insolvent (or, in the case of an assessment with respect to an impaired insurer, the three (3) most recent calendar years for which information is available preceding the year in which the member insurer became impaired) bears to premiums received on business in this State for those calendar years by all assessed member insurers.

(5) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the Association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer shall not be authorized or called until necessary to implement the purposes of this Act. Classification of assessments under Subsection B and computation of assessments under this subsection shall be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible. The Association shall notify each member insurer of its anticipated pro rata share of an authorized assessment not yet called within one hundred eighty (180) days after the assessment is authorized.

D. The Association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated, or deferred in whole or in part, the amount by which the assessment is abated or deferred may be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this section. Once the conditions that caused a deferral have been removed or rectified, the member insurer shall pay all assessments that were deferred pursuant to a repayment plan approved by the Association.

E. (1) (a) Subject to the provisions of Subparagraph (b) of this paragraph, the total of all assessments authorized by the Association with respect to a member insurer for each subaccount of the life insurance and annuity account and for the health account shall not in one calendar year exceed two percent (2%) of that member insurer's average annual premiums received in this State on the policies and contracts covered by the subaccount or account during the three (3) calendar years preceding the year in which the member insurer became an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(b) If two (2) or more assessments are authorized in one calendar year with respect to member insurers that become impaired or insolvent in different calendar years, the average annual premiums for purposes of the aggregate assessment percentage limitation referenced in Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph shall be equal and limited to the higher of the three-year average annual premiums for the applicable subaccount or account as calculated pursuant to this section.

(c) If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the Association in an account, does not provide in one year in either account an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the Association, the necessary additional funds shall be assessed as soon thereafter as permitted by this Act.

(2) The board may provide in the plan of operation a method of allocating funds among claims, whether relating to one or more impaired or insolvent insurers, when the maximum assessment will be insufficient to cover anticipated claims.

(3) If the maximum assessment for a subaccount of the life and annuity account in one year does not provide an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the Association, then pursuant to Subsection C(2), the board shall access the other subaccounts of the life and annuity account for the necessary additional amount, subject to the maximum stated in Paragraph (1) above.

F. The board may, by an equitable method as established in the plan of operation, refund to member insurers, in proportion to the contribution of each member insurer to that account, the amount by which the assets of the account exceed the amount the board finds is necessary to carry out during the coming year the obligations of the Association with regard to that account, including assets accruing from assignment, subrogation, net realized gains and income from investments. A reasonable amount may be retained in any account to provide funds for the continuing expenses of the Association and for future losses claims.

G. It shall be proper for any member insurer, in determining its premium rates and policy owner dividends as to any kind of insurance or health maintenance organization business within the scope of this Act, to consider the amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations under this Act.

H. The Association shall issue to each member insurer paying an assessment under this Act, other than a Class A assessment, a certificate of contribution, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, for the amount of the assessment so paid. All outstanding certificates shall be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or dates of issue. A certificate of contribution may be shown by the member insurer in its financial statement as an asset in such form and for such amount, if any, and period of time as the commissioner may approve.

I. (1) A member insurer that wishes to protest all or part of an assessment shall pay when due the full amount of the assessment as set forth in the notice provided by the Association. The payment shall be available to meet Association obligations during the pendency of the protest or any subsequent appeal. Payment shall be accompanied by a statement in writing that the payment is made under protest and setting forth a brief statement of the grounds for the protest.

(2) Within sixty (60) days following the payment of an assessment under protest by a member insurer, the Association shall notify the member insurer in writing of its determination with respect to the protest unless the Association notifies the member insurer that additional time is required to resolve the issues raised by the protest.

(3) Within thirty (30) days after a final decision has been made, the Association shall notify the protesting member insurer in writing of that final decision. Within sixty (60) days of receipt of notice of the final decision, the protesting member insurer may appeal that final action to the commissioner.

(4) In the alternative to rendering a final decision with respect to a protest based on a question regarding the assessment base, the Association may refer protests to the commissioner for a final decision, with or without a recommendation from the Association.

(5) If the protest or appeal on the assessment is upheld, the amount paid in error or excess shall be returned to the member insurer. Interest on a refund due a protesting member insurer shall be paid at the rate actually earned by the Association.

J. The Association may request information of member insurers in order to aid in the exercise of its power under this section and member insurers shall promptly comply with a request.

Drafting Note: The Association is authorized to raise funds to fulfill its obligations under this Model Act with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer by assessing the member insurers on the basis of the premiums they write in the State. This corresponds to the Association's liability which, in most cases, is limited to covered policies of residents. This assessment system provides a base broad enough to meet fairly large demands on the Association. Equally important, since it reflects the market share of each member insurer in the State including health maintenance organizations, it is an equitable method of apportioning the burden of the assessments.

Subsection E provides some limitations on the amounts that can be assessed in a given year. The maximum assessment per year may be varied from State to State depending on the size of the base and the concentration of the business. The two percent (2%) maximum assessment per year should produce an adequate amount while at the same time not impose an undue strain in any given year on the assessed member insurers and their policy owners, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees. The maximum is applied to the amount of assessments authorized in a given year, and not the amount called; this allows the Association the flexibility to utilize current capacity for future obligations without collecting assessments from the member insurers until required. The Model Act provides additional discretion and flexibility for the Association in fulfilling its responsibilities by authorizing it to borrow funds that later can be paid out of future assessments.

Subsection G provides that a member insurer may consider in its premium rates and dividend scale an amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations. This makes it clear that the cost can be ultimately passed on to the policy owners, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees—i.e., to persons who enjoy the protection provided by the Act. Subsection H provides that the Association shall issue to assessed member insurers certificates of contribution in the amount levied. The certificates may be carried by a member insurer in its annual statement as an asset in such form, amount and period as may be approved by the commissioner. By permitting the member insurers to carry these certificates as an asset, to the extent of their estimated value, the impact on member insurers will be lessened.

States may consider establishing a pre-funding arrangement for both insurance companies and health maintenance organizations that write health benefit plans to meet their assessment obligations to the Association. To pre-fund, member insurers writing health benefit plans would collect a set amount per member or per certificate per month and remit that amount directly to the Association. The pre-funded amounts would be utilized by the member insurers to satisfy Class B assessment obligations for future insolvencies. When the fund reaches a statutory cap, the pre-funding would stop. In the event of a depletion of the fund below the statutory cap, the pre-funding assessment would be reinstated.

Establishing a pre-funding arrangement allows for the use of interest and investment income to lessen the impact of insolvencies on State taxpayers. Pre-funding also spreads the assessment obligations amongst policyholders prior to an insolvency and does not require the member health insurers or health maintenance organizations to look to the State taxpayers for recoupment. In addition, member insurers in the health industry that do not pay income or premium taxes would be offered a recoupment methodology that is the same as other member insurers in their markets. If a pre-funding arrangement is established, the funds should be legally insulated to avoid diversion for any other purposes, and ensure that they are held exclusively for the Association's obligations.

Section 10. Plan of Operation

A. (1) The Association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable and equitable administration of the Association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon the commissioner's written approval or unless it has not been disapproved within thirty (30) days.

(2) If the Association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within 120 days following the effective date of this Act or if at any time thereafter the Association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this Act. The rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the Association and approved by the commissioner.

B. All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

C. The plan of operation shall, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this Act:

(1) Establish procedures for handling the assets of the Association;

(2) Establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under Section 7;

(3) Establish regular places and times for meetings including telephone conference calls of the board of directors;

(4) Establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the Association, its agents, and the board of directors;

(5) Establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be made and submitted to the commissioner;

(6) Establish any additional procedures for assessments under Section 9;

(7) Contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the Association;

(8) Establish procedures whereby a director may be removed for cause, including in the case where a member insurer director becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer;

(9) Require the Board of Directors to establish a policy and procedures for addressing conflicts of interests.

D. The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the Association, except those under Section 8L(3) and Section 9, are delegated to a corporation, association or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this Association, or its equivalent, in two (2) or more States. Such a corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed for any payments made on behalf of the Association and shall be paid for its performance of any function of the Association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this Act.

Section 11. Duties and Powers of the Commissioner

In addition to the duties and powers enumerated elsewhere in this Act,

A. The commissioner shall:

(1) Upon request of the board of directors, provide the Association with a statement of the premiums in this and any other appropriate States for each member insurer;

(2) When an impairment is declared and the amount of the impairment is determined, serve a demand upon the impaired insurer to make good the impairment within a reasonable time; notice to the impaired insurer shall constitute notice to its shareholders, if any; the failure of the impaired insurer to promptly comply with such demand shall not excuse the Association from the performance of its powers and duties under this Act.

B. The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact business in this State of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative the commissioner may levy a forfeiture on any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due. The forfeiture shall not exceed five percent (5%) of the unpaid assessment per month, but no forfeiture shall be less than $100 per month.

C. A final action of the board of directors or the Association may be appealed to the commissioner by a member insurer if the appeal is taken within sixty (60) days of its receipt of notice of the final action being appealed. A final action or order of the commissioner shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with the laws of this State that apply to the actions or orders of the commissioner.

D. The liquidator, rehabilitator or conservator of an impaired or insolvent insurer may notify all interested persons of the effect of this Act.

Drafting Note: Subsection A(2) requires that the commissioner give notice of an impairment to the impaired insurer, and hence to its stockholders, and serve a demand that the impairment be made good. If the company and stockholders fail to raise the necessary funds, this will be a factor bearing upon the stockholder's ownership rights under Section 14E.

State Proceedings for the liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation of member insurers present several difficulties that both acts seek to solve. Briefly, the difficulties have two sources. First, in some States the liquidator, rehabilitator or ancillary receiver may be a person unfamiliar with insurance or health benefit plan regulation. Inefficient administration of the proceedings may result.

Second, the laws of more than one State may be applied to the proceedings, particularly regarding ownership of assets and preferences for payment. The result is confusion and inequity in the collection and distribution of the assets. The Insurers Rehabilitation and Liquidation Model Act and the Uniform Insurers Liquidation Act meet the first source of problems by designating the insurance commissioner as the receiver of a domestic insurer or the ancillary receiver of a foreign insurer. To solve the problem of multiple laws and marshaling of assets, both acts give the receiver title to the assets. The ancillary receiver is then required to forward all assets to the receiver. Both acts also detail the laws under which preferences in the distribution of assets will be determined.

In drafting this model guaranty act, particular effort was made to avoid (to the extent possible) disrupting existing State liquidation and rehabilitation laws. However, each individual State may want to consider adopting the Insurers Rehabilitation and Liquidation Model Act or the Uniform Insurers Liquidation Act, if it has not already done so.

Section 12. Prevention of Insolvencies

To aid in the detection and prevention of member insurer insolvencies or impairments,

A. It shall be the duty of the commissioner:

(1) To notify the commissioners of all the other States, territories of the United States and the District of Columbia within thirty (30) days following the action taken or the date the action occurs, when the commissioner takes any of the following actions against a member insurer:

(a) Revocation of license;

(b) Suspension of license; or

(c) Makes a formal order that the member insurer restrict its premium writing, obtain additional contributions to surplus, withdraw from the State, reinsure all or any part of its business, or increase capital, surplus, or any other account for the security of policy owners, contract owners, certificate holders, or creditors.

(2) To report to the board of directors when the commissioner has taken any of the actions set forth in Paragraph (1) or has received a report from any other commissioner indicating that any such action has been taken in another State. The report to the board of directors shall contain all significant details of the action taken or the report received from another commissioner.

(3) To report to the board of directors when the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe from an examination, whether completed or in process, of any member insurer that the insurer may be an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(4) To furnish to the board of directors the NAIC Insurance Regulatory Information System (IRIS) ratios and listings of companies not included in the ratios developed by the National Association of Insurance commissioners, and the board may use the information contained therein in carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this section. The report and the information contained therein shall be kept confidential by the board of directors until such time as made public by the commissioner or other lawful authority.

B. The commissioner may seek the advice and recommendations of the board of directors concerning any matter affecting the duties and responsibilities of the commissioner regarding the financial condition of member insurers and insurers or health maintenance organizations seeking admission to transact business in this State.

C. The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation of any member insurer or germane to the solvency of any insurer or health maintenance organization seeking to do business in this State. The reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents.

D. The board of directors may, upon majority vote, notify the commissioner of any information indicating a member insurer may be an impaired or insolvent insurer.

E. The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of member insurer insolvencies.

[Section 13. Credits for Assessments Paid (Tax Offsets)—OPTIONAL

A. A member insurer may offset against its [premium, franchise or income] tax liability to this State an assessment described in Section 9H to the extent of twenty percent (20%) of the amount of the assessment for each of the five (5) calendar years following the year in which the assessment was paid. In the event a member insurer should cease doing business, all uncredited assessments may be credited against its [premium, franchise, or income] tax liability for the year it ceases doing business.

B. A member insurer that is exempt from taxes referenced in Subsection A above may recoup its assessments by a surcharge on its premiums in a sum reasonably calculated to recoup the assessments over a reasonable period of time, as approved by the commissioner. Amounts recouped shall not be considered premiums for any other purpose, including the computation of gross premium tax, the medical loss ratio, or agent commission. If a member insurer collects excess surcharges, the insurer shall remit the excess amount to the association, and the excess amount shall be applied to reduce future assessments in the appropriate account.

C. Any sums that are acquired by refund, pursuant to Section 9F, from the Association by member insurers, and that have been offset against [premium, franchise or income] taxes as provided in Subsection A above, shall be paid by the member insurers to this State in such manner as the tax authorities may require. The Association shall notify the commissioner that refunds have been made.]

Drafting Note: Subsection A provides an offset against future premium, franchise or income taxes of assessments, over a five-year period. The timing of the credit is dependent on the year the assessment is paid. It also allows the member insurer to select the applicable tax (premium, franchise or income) against which the credit may be applied and it permits member insurers going out of business to make use of the credit in their final year of operations.

Life insurance premiums, and premiums for certain forms of health insurance, cannot be changed on existing policyholders. Thus, a suitable and practical method of recoupment available to companies writing life and health insurance lies in offsets against premium or other taxes on such companies. The method suggested in this section is not only equitable to the companies involved but also reduces the impact on State revenue by the partial offset over a period of years. To the extent the recovery from the insolvent company exceeds the tax credit received, the State would be the ultimate beneficiary. The equitable treatment of assessments for tax purposes would have additional positive effects: (1) the State legislature would have an additional incentive for providing adequate funds for insurance department personnel and administration, and (2) participation in the economic loss would be shared, to some degree, by the general public rather than solely by insureds, thus minimizing what might otherwise be a penalty on thrift and savings. It may be advisable in some jurisdictions to provide a cross-reference to the premium or other tax statutes to avoid questions of conflicting statutory provisions.

Subsection B provides an alternative mechanism for tax-exempt member insurers to recoup funds paid for assessments, and is intended to avoid disadvantaging tax-exempt or non-profit member insurers that are not subject to a [premium, franchise or income] tax liability, and thus would not benefit from a premium tax offset. The amount and duration of a surcharge is subject to approval by the commissioner, and any such surcharge cannot be considered premium for any purpose. Building assessments into surcharges for future policyholders or contract owners has proven to be an effective way for insurers to recoup funds, and a surcharge mechanism is necessary to provide tax-exempt and non-profit member insurers with a meaningful opportunity to recoup funds paid for assessments.

This section is optional, and the NAIC neither endorses nor rejects the tax credit or the surcharge concept. Each State will wish to consider this provision in the light of its own regulatory experience.

Section 14. Miscellaneous Provisions

A. This Act shall not be construed to reduce the liability for unpaid assessments of the insureds of an impaired or insolvent insurer operating under a plan with assessment liability.

B. Records shall be kept of all meetings of the board of directors to discuss the activities of the Association in carrying out its powers and duties under Section 8. The records of the Association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer shall not be disclosed prior to the termination of a liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation proceeding involving the impaired or insolvent insurer, except (i) upon the termination of the impairment or insolvency of the member insurer, or (ii) upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Nothing in this subsection shall limit the duty of the Association to render a report of its activities under Section 15.

C. For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this Act, the Association shall be deemed to be a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies reduced by any amounts to which the Association is entitled as subrogee pursuant to Section 8K. Assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies shall be used to continue all covered policies and pay all contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer as required by this Act. Assets attributable to covered policies or contracts, as used in this subsection, are that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies or contracts bear to the reserves that should have been established for all policies of insurance or health benefit plans written by the impaired or insolvent insurer.

D. As a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer as established in Subsection C of this section and consistent with [insert cite of applicable State receivership law provision dealing with early access disbursements], the Association and other similar associations shall be entitled to receive a disbursement of assets out of the marshaled assets, from time to time as the assets become available to reimburse it, as a credit against contractual obligations under this Act. If the liquidator has not, within 120 days of a final determination of insolvency of a member insurer by the receivership court, made an application to the court for the approval of a proposal to disburse assets out of marshaled assets to guaranty associations having obligations because of the insolvency, then the Association shall be entitled to make application to the receivership court for approval of its own proposal to disburse these assets.

E. (1) Prior to the termination of any liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation proceeding, the court may take into consideration the contributions of the respective parties, including the Association, the shareholders, contract owners, certificate holders, enrollees and policy owners of the insolvent insurer, and any other party with a bona fide interest, in making an equitable distribution of the ownership rights of the insolvent insurer. In such a determination, consideration shall be given to the welfare of the policy owners, contract owners, certificate holders, and enrollees of the continuing or successor member insurer.

(2) No distribution to stockholders, if any, of an impaired or insolvent insurer shall be made until and unless the total amount of valid claims of the Association with interest thereon for funds expended in carrying out its powers and duties under Section 8 with respect to the member insurer have been fully recovered by the Association.

[F. (1) If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of a member insurer domiciled in this State has been entered, the receiver appointed under the order shall have a right to recover on behalf of the member insurer, from any affiliate that controlled it, the amount of distributions, other than stock dividends paid by the member insurer on its capital stock, made at any time during the five (5) years preceding the petition for liquidation or rehabilitation subject to the limitations of Paragraphs (2) to (4).

(2) No such distribution shall be recoverable if the member insurer shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable, and that the member insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(3) Any person who was an affiliate that controlled the member insurer at the time the distributions were paid shall be liable up to the amount of distributions received. Any person, who was an affiliate that controlled the member insurer at the time the distributions were declared, shall be liable up to the amount of distributions which would have been received if they had been paid immediately. If two (2) or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they shall be jointly and severally liable.

(4) The maximum amount recoverable under this subsection shall be the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer.

(5) If any person liable under Paragraph (3) is insolvent, all its affiliates that controlled it at the time the distribution was paid, shall be jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the insolvent affiliate.]

Drafting Note: Subsection A is intended to preserve the assessment liability of the insureds of assessment mutuals.

Subsection B addresses record-keeping by the Association. The Association should be held publicly accountable for its actions. On the other hand, effective handling of the rehabilitation or liquidation effort requires minimum publicity. Thus, such records will be made public only after the liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation proceeding is terminated, the impairment or insolvency is terminated or there is a prior order by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Since this Act imposes the obligation upon the Association to continue coverage for policyholders, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees of insolvent insurers, the assets of the insolvent insurer ought to be used, to the extent available, for the purpose of continuing such coverage. Subsections C and D are designed to accomplish this purpose.

Subsection E, in conjunction with Section 11A(2), is intended to prevent the shareholders of an impaired or insolvent insurer from sitting back and doing nothing and then reaping the benefits of funds put up by the Association. These stockholders should not obtain a more advantageous position than they would have occupied in the absence of this Act. The court is empowered to modify and distribute the ownership rights of an impaired or insolvent insurer in order to do equity as between the interested parties.

Subsection F, which should be deleted if the State has adopted Section 602 of the NAIC Insurers Receivership Model Act dealing with affiliated transactions, is designed to recapture excessive dividend payments to affiliates that exercised control over the impaired or insolvent insurer. The NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Model Act in large measure prevents improper distribution of dividends by an insurer to its holding company since extraordinary dividends are subject to the prior approval of the commissioner, and ordinary dividends are required to be reported to the commissioner. If, however, dividends are paid under circumstances that the member insurer should have reasonably known that such payment could reasonably be expected to affect its ability to perform its contractual obligation to its policyholders, contract owners, certificate holders, or enrollees the holding company and affiliates should be required to repay such dividends subject to certain reasonable limitations.

If a State has the NAIC Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Model Act, the definitions therein could be referred to by this subsection. States without the Model Act could incorporate the relevant definitions in this subsection.

Section 15. Examination of the Association; Annual Report

The Association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the commissioner. The board of directors shall submit to the commissioner each year, not later than 120 days after the Association's fiscal year, a financial report in a form approved by the commissioner and a report of its activities during the preceding fiscal year. Upon the request of a member insurer, the Association shall provide the member insurer with a copy of the report.

Section 16. Tax Exemptions

The Association shall be exempt from payment of all fees and all taxes levied by this State or any of its subdivisions, except taxes levied on real property.

Section 17. Immunity

There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any member insurer or its agents or employees, the Association or its agents or employees, members of the board of directors, or the commissioner or the commissioner's representatives, for any action or omission by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this Act. This immunity shall extend to the participation in any organization of one or more other State associations of similar purposes and to any such organization and its agents or employees.

Drafting Note: This drafting note is for the purpose of clarifying the intent of the drafters of Section 17. As the courts have indicated, this provision was never intended to protect the Association from actions seeking to enforce its statutory obligations to pay covered claims. See, e.g., Mendes v. Hawaii Insurance Guaranty Association, 950 P.2d 1214, 1218 (Haw. Sup. Ct. 1998), ("HIGA is amenable to suit for the limited purpose of compelling it to perform its statutory duty to deal with the covered claims of insolvent insurers"); PIE Mutual Insurance Company v. Ohio Insurance Guaranty Association, 611 N.E. 2d. 313, 317 (Ohio Sup. Ct. 1993) (" … insured or third-party claimant is entitled to judicial relief to force OIGA to perform its statutory duties").

Nor was the provision ever intended to protect the Association from contract actions to enforce express obligations of the Association under contracts entered into by the Association.

Each State may wish to review its own statutes to determine whether its Tort Claims Act, if it has one, could be used as an alternative to this section insofar as it applies to the commissioner or his representative.

Section 18. Stay of Proceedings; Reopening Default Judgments

All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party in any court in this State shall be stayed one hundred eighty (180) days from the date an order of liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation is final to permit proper legal action by the Association on any matters germane to its powers or duties. As to judgment under any decision, order, verdict or finding based on default the Association may apply to have such judgment set aside by the same court that made such judgment and shall be permitted to defend against such suit on the merits.

Section 19. Prohibited Advertisement of Insurance Guaranty Association Act in Insurance Sales; Notice to Policy Owners

A. No person, including a member insurer, agent or affiliate of a member insurer shall make, publish, disseminate, circulate or place before the public, or cause directly or indirectly, to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public, in any newspaper, magazine or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter or poster, or over any radio station or television station, or in any other way, any advertisement, announcement or statement, written or oral, which uses the existence of the Insurance Guaranty Association of this State for the purpose of sales, solicitation or inducement to purchase any form of insurance or other coverage covered by the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Act. However, this section shall not apply to the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association or any other entity which does not sell or solicit insurance or coverage by a health maintenance organization.

B. Within one hundred eighty (180) days of the effective date of this Act, the Association shall prepare a summary document describing the general purposes and current limitations of the Act and complying with Subsection C of this section. This document shall be submitted to the commissioner for approval. At the expiration of the sixtieth day after the date on which the commissioner approves the document, a member insurer may not deliver a policy or contract to a policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, or enrollee unless the summary document is delivered to the policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, or enrollee at the time of delivery of the policy or contract. The document shall also be available upon request by a policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, or enrollee. The distribution, delivery or contents or interpretation of this document does not guarantee that either the policy or the contract or the policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, or enrollee is covered in the event of the impairment or insolvency of a member insurer. The description document shall be revised by the Association as amendments to the Act may require. Failure to receive this document does not give the policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, enrollee, or insured any greater rights than those stated in this Act.

C. The document prepared under Subsection B shall contain a clear and conspicuous disclaimer on its face. The commissioner shall establish the form and content of the disclaimer. The disclaimer shall:

(1) State the name and address of the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association and insurance department;

(2) Prominently warn the policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, or enrollee that the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association may not cover the policy or contract or, if coverage is available, it will be subject to substantial limitations and exclusions and conditioned on continued residence in this State;

(3) State the types of policies or contracts for which guaranty funds will provide coverage;

(4) State that the member insurer and its agents are prohibited by law from using the existence of the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association for the purpose of sales, solicitation or inducement to purchase any form of insurance or health maintenance organization coverage;

(5) State that the policy owner, contract owner, certificate holder, or enrollee should not rely on coverage under the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association when selecting an insurer or health maintenance organization;

(6) Explain rights available and procedures for filing a complaint to allege a violation of any provisions of this Act; and

(7) Provide other information as directed by the commissioner including but not limited to, sources for information about the financial condition of insurers provided that the information is not proprietary and is subject to disclosure under that State's public records law.

D. A member insurer shall retain evidence of compliance with Subsection B for so long as the policy or contract for which the notice is given remains in effect.

Drafting Note: Subsection A continues the prohibition of using the existence of the Association in the inducement of sale of insurance or health maintenance organization coverage. However, Subsection B requires notification to new policyholders concerning the general parameters of the association law and responsibility thereunder.

The following form for the disclaimer notice is suggested:

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION DISCLAIMER

The [insert name of the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association] provides coverage of claims under some types of policies or contracts if the insurer or health maintenance organization becomes impaired or insolvent. COVERAGE MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE FOR YOUR POLICY. Even if coverage is provided, there are significant limits and exclusions. Coverage is always conditioned on residence in this State. Other conditions may also preclude coverage.

The Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association will respond to any questions you may have which are not answered by this document. Your insurer or health maintenance organization and agent are prohibited by law from using the existence of the association or its coverage to sell you an insurance policy or health maintenance organization coverage.

You should not rely on availability of coverage under the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association when selecting an insurer or a health maintenance organization.

[Insert addresses of the Association and department.]

Insurers, health maintenance organizations and agents should be required to deliver the document and disclaimer described under Subsections B and C when a customer is solicited if a "free look" period is not required by State law.

Computer programs or other evidence of established procedures for including the notice required under Subsection 19B in the policy or contract in the printing, assembly or issue process would be considered evidence of the compliance required under Subsection 19D.

Section 20. Prospective Application

This Act shall not apply to any member insurer that is insolvent or unable to fulfill its contractual obligations on the effective date of this Act.

APPENDIX
ALTERNATIVE PROVISIONS

Drafting Note: The underlining and overstrikes in the following provisions show the necessary changes from the model if a State decides to eliminate coverage for unallocated annuities.

Alternative Section 3. Coverage and Limitations

A. This Act shall provide coverage for the policies and contracts specified in Subsection B:

(1) To persons who, regardless of where they reside (except for nonresident certificate holders under group policies or contracts), are the beneficiaries, assignees or payees including health care providers rendering services covered under health insurance policies or certificates, of the persons covered under Paragraph (2);

(2) To persons who are owners of or certificate holders or enrollees under the policies or contracts (other than structured settlement annuities) and in each case who

(a) Are residents; or

(b) Are not residents, but only under all of the following conditions:

(i) The member insurer that issued the policies or contracts is domiciled in this State;

(ii) The States in which the persons reside have associations similar to the association created by this Act;

(iii) The persons are not eligible for coverage by an association in any other State due to the fact that the insurer or the health maintenance organization was not licensed in the State at the time specified in the State's guaranty association law.

(3) For structured settlement annuities specified in Subsection B; Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection shall not apply, and this Act shall (except as provided in Paragraphs (5) and (6) of this subsection) provide coverage to a person who is a payee under a structured settlement annuity (or beneficiary of a payee if the payee is deceased), if the payee:

(a) Is a resident, regardless of where the contract owner resides; or

(b) Is not a resident, but only under both of the following conditions;

(i) (I) The contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is a resident; or

(II) The contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is not a resident; but

a. The insurer that issued the structured settlement annuity is domiciled in this State; and

b. The State in which the contract owner resides has an association similar to the association created by this Act; and

(ii) Neither the payee (or beneficiary) nor the contract owner is eligible for coverage by the association of the State in which the payee or contract owner resides.

(4) This Act shall not provide coverage to a person who is a payee (or beneficiary) of a contract owner resident of this State, if the payee (or beneficiary) is afforded any coverage by the association of another State.

(5) This Act is intended to provide coverage to a person who is a resident of this State and, in special circumstances, to a nonresident. In order to avoid duplicate coverage, if a person who would otherwise receive coverage under this Act is provided coverage under the laws of any other State, the person shall not be provided coverage under this Act. In determining the application of the provisions of this paragraph in situations where a person could be covered by the association of more than one State, whether as an owner, payee, enrollee, beneficiary or assignee, this Act shall be construed in conjunction with other State laws to result in coverage by only one association.

B. (1) This Act shall provide coverage to the persons specified in Subsection A for policies or contracts of direct, non-group life insurance, health insurance (which for the purposes of this Act includes health maintenance organization subscriber contracts and certificates), or annuities and supplemental contracts to any of these and for certificates under direct group policies and contracts, except as limited by this Act. Annuity contracts and certificates under group annuity contracts include allocated funding agreements, structured settlement annuities and any immediate or deferred annuity contracts.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in Paragraph (3) of this subsection, this Act shall not provide coverage for:

(a) A portion of a policy or contract not guaranteed by the member insurer, or under which the risk is borne by the policy or contract owner;

(b) A policy or contract of reinsurance, unless assumption certificates have been issued pursuant to the reinsurance policy or contract;

(c) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the rate of interest on which it is based

(i) Averaged over the period of four (4) years prior to the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to the policy or contract, exceeds a rate of interest determined by subtracting two (2) percentage points from Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average averaged for that same four-year period or for such lesser period if the policy or contract was issued less than four (4) years before the Association became obligated; and

(ii) On and after the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to the policy or contract, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting three (3) percentage points from Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average as most recently available;

(d) A portion of a policy or contract issued to a plan or program of an employer, association or other person to provide life, health or annuity benefits to its employees, members or others, to the extent that the plan or program is self-funded or uninsured, including but not limited to benefits payable by an employer, association or other person under:

(i) A multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in 29 U.S.C. § 1144;

(ii) A minimum premium group insurance plan;

(iii) A stop-loss group insurance plan; or

(iv) An administrative services only contract;

(e) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it provides for

(i) Dividends or experience rating credits;

(ii) Voting rights; or

(iii) Payment of any fees or allowances to any person, including the policy or contract owner, in connection with the service to or administration of the policy or contract;

(f) A policy or contract issued in this State by a member insurer at a time when it was not licensed or did not have a certificate of authority to issue the policy or contract in this State;

(g) A portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the assessments required by Section 9 with respect to the policy or contract are preempted by federal or State law;

(h) An obligation that does not arise under the express written terms of the policy or contract issued by the member insurer to the enrollee, contract holder, contract owner or policy owner, including without limitation:

(i) Claims based on marketing materials;

(ii) Claims based on side letters, riders or other documents that were issued by the member insurer without meeting applicable policy or contract form filing or approval requirements;

(iii) Misrepresentations of or regarding policy or contract benefits;

(iv) Extra-contractual claims; or

(v) A claim for penalties or consequential or incidental damages;

(i) A contractual agreement that establishes the member insurer's obligations to provide a book value accounting guaranty for defined contribution benefit plan participants by reference to a portfolio of assets that is owned by the benefit plan or its trustee, which in each case is not an affiliate of the member insurer;

(j) An unallocated annuity contract; and

(k) A policy or contract providing any hospital, medical, prescription drug or other health care benefits pursuant to Part C or Part D of Subchapter XVIII, Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code (commonly known as Medicare Part C & D), or Subchapter XIX, Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code (commonly known as Medicaid), or any regulations issued pursuant thereto.

(3) The exclusion from coverage referenced in Paragraph (2)(c) of this subsection shall not apply to any portion of a policy or contract, including a rider, that provides long-term care or any other health insurance benefits.

C. The benefits that the Association may become obligated to cover shall in no event exceed the lesser of:

(1) The contractual obligations for which the member insurer is liable or would have been liable if it were not an impaired or insolvent insurer, or

(2) (a) With respect to one life, regardless of the number of policies or contracts:

(i) $300,000 in life insurance death benefits, but not more than $100,000 in net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values for life insurance;

(ii) For health insurance benefits:

(I) $100,000 for coverages not defined as disability income insurance or health benefit plans or long-term care insurance as defined in [section of State law dealing with health insurance/disability income insurance/long-term care insurance] including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(II) $300,000 for disability income insurance as defined in [section of State law dealing with health insurance/disability income insurance] and $300,000 for long-term care insurance as defined in [section of State law dealing with health insurance/long-term care insurance];

(III) $500,000 for health benefit plans;

(iii) $250,000 in the present value of annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values; or

(b) With respect to each payee of a structured settlement annuity (or beneficiary or beneficiaries of the payee if deceased), $250,000 in present value annuity benefits, in the aggregate, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(c) However, in no event shall the Association be obligated to cover more than (i) an aggregate of $300,000 in benefits with respect to any one life under Paragraphs 2(a), 2(b) and 2(c) of this subsection except with respect to benefits for health benefit plans under Paragraph 2(a)(ii) of this subsection, in which case the aggregate liability of the Association shall not exceed $500,000 with respect to any one individual, or (ii) with respect to one owner of multiple non-group policies of life insurance, whether the policy owner is an individual, firm, corporation or other person, and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees or other persons, more than $5,000,000 in benefits, regardless of the number of policies and contracts held by the owner;

(d) The limitations set forth in this subsection are limitations on the benefits for which the Association is obligated before taking into account either its subrogation and assignment rights or the extent to which those benefits could be provided out of the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies. The costs of the Association's obligations under this Act may be met by the use of assets attributable to covered policies or reimbursed to the Association pursuant to its subrogation and assignment rights.

(e) For purposes of this Act, benefits provided by a long-term care rider to a life insurance policy or annuity contract shall be considered the same type of benefits as the base life insurance policy or annuity contract to which it relates.

D. In performing its obligations to provide coverage under Section 8 of this Act, the Association shall not be required to guarantee, assume, reinsure, reissue or perform, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reinsured reissued or performed, the contractual obligations of the insolvent or impaired insurer under a covered policy or contract that do not materially affect the economic values or economic benefits of the covered policy or contract.

Drafting Note: This section and Section 8 are key sections of the Act. Section 3 identifies who and what are covered and not covered by the Act. Section 8 specifies the responsibilities of the Association toward covered persons with covered policies.

Protection of this Act is primarily extended to resident persons but certain nonresidents under specific circumstances will be protected by this Act if the insolvent insurer was domiciled in this State.

This model does not apply to reinsurance unless assumption certificates were issued to the direct insureds or enrollees. Furthermore, it applies only to direct individual or group certificate insurance issued or written by member insurers licensed to transact business in this State at any time.

Persons to whom coverage is typically provided are resident enrollees, policy or contract owners, or their beneficiaries, assignees or payees. For group contracts or policies, coverage is provided to resident enrollees, and certificate holders and not to the owners of the group contracts or policies; this avoids the possibility of double coverage and indirect coverage of nonresident enrollees, and certificate holders through resident group policy or contract owners. Subsection A(3) provides coverage for structured settlement annuities to resident payees rather than to the contract owners.

Subsection A(3) providing structured settlement annuity coverage to resident payees is a significant change from previous versions of this Model Act intended to place the coverage in the State of the resident persons to be protected rather than in the State where the nominal owner of the contract resides. Subsections A(4) and (5) avoid the possibility of double coverage due to differing approaches for determining the covered persons in different State statutes and provide mechanisms for resolving which State's statutes will be used to determine the existence and limits of coverage.

Policies and contracts covered by the model act are life insurance, health insurance and annuity policies and contracts and policies or contracts supplemental thereto. The use of the term health insurance is intended to include "accident and health" insurance, "sickness and accident" insurance, "disability income" insurance, health maintenance organization contracts, etc. The use of the term disability income insurance is intended to include insurance policies and contracts that cover the loss of income due to a disability. The individual State may want to adjust this language to fit its particular terminology.

Subsection B(2) identifies certain types of contracts or policies or portions of contracts or policies that are specifically not covered by this Act. If a portion of a contract or policy is not covered, the remainder of the contract or policy is covered unless excluded otherwise. Subsection B(2) also provides a ready means by which an individual State can exempt from the Act those policies and contracts issued by member insurers or similar organizations deemed appropriate for exemption by the State.

Subsection B(2)(i) is intended to exclude from coverage those products commonly referred to as "financial guaranty" products.

Subsection C provides the maximum limitations of the Association's liability by type of contract or policy or line of business and overall per one life, plan sponsor or owner. The limits may be reached through cash surrender payments, benefit payments, or continuing coverage or a combination thereof. The maximum limits for each type of coverage should be set at an appropriate level after review by each State.

Alternative Section 5. Definitions

As used in this Act:

A. "Account" means either of the two accounts created under Section 6.

B. "Association" means the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association created under Section 6.

C. "Authorized assessment" or the term "authorized" when used in the context of assessments means a resolution by the Board of Directors has been passed whereby an assessment will be called immediately or in the future from member insurers for a specified amount. An assessment is authorized when the resolution is passed.

D. "Benefit plan" means a specific employee, union or association of natural persons benefit plan.

E. "Called assessment" or the term "called" when used in the context of assessments means that a notice has been issued by the Association to member insurers requiring that an authorized assessment be paid within the time frame set forth within the notice. An authorized assessment becomes a called assessment when notice is mailed by the Association to member insurers.

F. "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Insurance of this State.

Drafting Note: Insert the title of the chief insurance regulatory official whenever the term "commissioner" appears.

G. "Contractual obligation" means an obligation under a policy or contract or certificate under a group policy or contract, or portion thereof for which coverage is provided under Section 3.

H. "Covered contract" or "covered policy" means a policy or contract or portion of a policy or contract for which coverage is provided under Section 3.

I. "Extra-contractual claims" shall include, for example, claims relating to bad faith in the payment of claims, punitive or exemplary damages or attorneys' fees and costs.

J. "Health benefit plan" means any hospital or medical expense policy or certificate, or health maintenance organization subscriber contract or any other similar health contract. "Health benefit plan" does not include:

(1) Accident only insurance:

(2) Credit insurance;

(3) Dental only insurance;

(4) Vision only insurance;

(5) Medicare Supplement insurance;

(6) Benefits for long-term care, home health care, community-based care, or any combination thereof;

(7) Disability income insurance;

(8) Coverage for on-site medical clinics; or

(9) Specified disease, hospital confinement indemnity, or limited benefit health insurance if the types of coverage do not provide coordination of benefits and are provided under separate policies or certificates.

K. "Impaired insurer" means a member insurer which, after the effective date of this Act, is not an insolvent insurer, and is placed under an order of rehabilitation or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction.

L. "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer which after the effective date of this Act, is placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction with a finding of insolvency.

M. "Member insurer" means an insurer or health maintenance organization licensed or that holds a certificate of authority to transact in this State any kind of insurance or health maintenance organization business for which coverage is provided under Section 3, and includes an insurer or health maintenance organization whose license or certificate of authority in this State may have been suspended, revoked, not renewed or voluntarily withdrawn, but does not include:

(1) A hospital or medical service organization, whether profit or non-profit;

(2) A fraternal benefit society;

(3) A mandatory State pooling plan;

(4) A mutual assessment company or other person that operates on an assessment basis;

(5) An insurance exchange;

(6) An organization that has a certificate or license limited to the issuance of charitable gift annuities under [insert the appropriate section of the State code]; or

(7) An entity similar to any of the above.

Drafting Note: States that license Health Care Service Corporations or similar organizations that undertake to provide basic health care services may want to address these entities in this Act.

N. "Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average" means the Monthly Average Corporates as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or any successor thereto.

O. "Owner" of a policy or contract and "policyholder, "policy owner" and "contract owner" mean the person who is identified as the legal owner under the terms of the policy or contract or who is otherwise vested with legal title to the policy or contract through a valid assignment completed in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract and properly recorded as the owner on the books of the member insurer. The terms owner, contract owner, policyholders and policy owner do not include persons with a mere beneficial interest in a policy or contract.

P. "Person" means an individual, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, association, governmental body or entity or voluntary organization.

Q. "Premiums" means amounts or considerations (by whatever name called) received on covered policies or contracts less returned premiums, considerations and deposits and less dividends and experience credits. "Premiums" does not include amounts or considerations received for policies or contracts or for the portions of policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided under Section 3B except that assessable premium shall not be reduced on account of Sections 3B(2)(c) relating to interest limitations and 3C(2) relating to limitations with respect to one individual, one participant and one policy or contract owner. "Premiums" shall not include:

(1) Premiums on an unallocated annuity contract State; or

(2) With respect to multiple non-group policies of life insurance owned by one owner, whether the policy or contract owner is an individual, firm, corporation or other person, and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees or other persons, premiums in excess of $5,000,000 with respect to these policies or contracts, regardless of the number of policies or contracts held by the owner.

R. (1) "Principal place of business" of a plan sponsor or a person other than a natural person means the single State in which the natural persons who establish policy or contract for the direction, control and coordination of the operations of the entity as a whole primarily exercise that function, determined by the Association in its reasonable judgment by considering the following factors:

(a) The State in which the primary executive and administrative headquarters of the entity is located;

(b) The State in which the principal office of the chief executive officer of the entity is located;

(c) The State in which the board of directors (or similar governing person or persons) of the entity conducts the majority of its meetings;

(d) The State in which the executive or management committee of the board of directors (or similar governing person or persons) of the entity conducts the majority of its meetings;

(e) The State from which the management of the overall operations of the entity is directed; and

(f) In the case of a benefit plan sponsored by affiliated companies comprising a consolidated corporation, the State in which the holding company or controlling affiliate has its principal place of business as determined using the above factors.

However, in the case of a plan sponsor, if more than fifty percent (50%) of the participants in the benefit plan are employed in a single State, that State shall be deemed to be the principal place of business of the plan sponsor.

(2) The principal place of business of a plan sponsor of a benefit plan shall be deemed to be the principal place of business of the association, committee, joint board of trustees or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan that, in lieu of a specific or clear designation of a principal place of business, shall be deemed to be the principal place of business of the employer or employee organization that has the largest investment in the benefit plan in question.

S. "Receivership court" means the court in the insolvent or impaired insurer's State having jurisdiction over the conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation of the member insurer.

T. "Resident" means a person to whom a contractual obligation is owed and who resides in this State on the date of entry of a court order that determines a member insurer to be an impaired insurer or a court order that determines a member insurer to be an insolvent insurer, whichever occurs first. A person may be a resident of only one State, which in the case of a person other than a natural person shall be its principal place of business. Citizens of the United States that are either (i) residents of foreign countries, or (ii) residents of United States possessions, territories or protectorates that do not have an association similar to the Association created by this Act, shall be deemed residents of the State of domicile of the member insurer that issued the policies or contracts.

U. "Structured settlement annuity" means an annuity purchased in order to fund periodic payments for a plaintiff or other claimant in payment for or with respect to personal injury suffered by the plaintiff or other claimant.

V. "State" means a State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and a United States possession, territory or protectorate.

W. "Supplemental contract" means a written agreement entered into for the distribution of proceeds under a life, health or annuity policy or contract.

X. "Unallocated annuity contract" means an annuity contract or group annuity certificate which is not issued to and owned by an individual, except to the extent of any annuity benefits guaranteed to an individual by an insurer under the contract or certificate.

Drafting Note: Each State will wish to examine its own statutes to determine whether these definitions are applicable and to determine whether some should be deleted and others added.

Alternative Section 6. Creation of the Association

A. There is created a nonprofit legal entity to be known as the [State] Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association. All member insurers shall be and remain members of the Association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance or a health maintenance organization business in this State. The Association shall perform its functions under the plan of operation established and approved under Section 10 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under Section 7. For purposes of administration and assessment, the Association shall maintain two (2) accounts:

(1) The life insurance and annuity account which includes the following subaccounts:

(a) Life insurance account; and

(b) Annuity account which shall include annuity contracts owned by a governmental retirement plan (or its trustee) established under Section 401, 403(b) or 457 of the United States Internal Revenue Code.

(2) The health account.

B. The Association shall come under the immediate supervision of the commissioner and shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the insurance laws of this State. Meetings or records of the Association may be opened to the public upon majority vote of the board of directors of the Association.

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2017

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT (#520)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

On December 13, 2016, Executive (EX) Committee and Plenary adopted two new charges for the Receivership Model Law (E) Working Group of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force:

- Evaluate and consider the changing marketplace of long-term care (LTC) products and the potential guaranty fund impact.
- Evaluate the need for amendments to the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act (#520) to address issues arising in connection with the insolvency of LTC insurers.

The charges were adopted in response to issues arising out of the Penn Treaty Network of America Insurance Company insolvency and other potential insolvencies involving LTC insurance.

On December 15, 2016, the Working Group requested comments regarding the new charges. Eleven comments were received by the February 7, 2017, deadline. The primary concerns raised by the comments involved guaranty association assessments on LTC insurance insolvencies and guaranty association coverage of LTC insurance. Specific issues that were identified included:

- The need to expand the assessment base.
- Whether to include health maintenance organizations (HMOs) as guaranty association members.
- Guaranty associations' ability to modify LTC insurance benefits and provide alternative policies.
- Clarifying the application of the "Moody's Limitation" to LTC insurance.
- Premium rate increases by guaranty associations.
- The allocation of premiums between the guaranty association and liquidator.

In addition, the National Organization of Life and Health Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA) gave a presentation of background information on LTC insurance on March 30, 2017.

The Working Group discussed the comments at the April 2017 NAIC Spring National Meeting in Denver, and on four conference calls held in May 2017 and June, 2017. The Working Group determined that changes were needed to Model #520 and submitted a Request for NAIC Model Law Development on June 21, 2017. The request proposed amendments to Model #520 to address guaranty association assessments, coverage issues, and the potential inclusion of HMOs as guaranty association members.

On its July 10, 2017, conference call, the Working Group supported the concepts of aggregating the life/annuity and health insurance accounts and including HMOs as members of the guaranty association, subject to the NAIC's approval of the Request for NAIC Model Law Development. At the 2017 Summer National Meeting, the Executive (EX) Committee approved the request to revise Model #520. The Working Group formed a drafting group, which included regulators, receivers and the industry representatives.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force is responsible for Model #520. The 2017 members of the Task Force include: New Jersey (Chair); Texas (Vice Chair), Alaska, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin.

The Receivership Model Law (E) Working Group evaluated the issues and completed the amendments to Model #520. The 2017 members of the Working Group include: Texas (Chair), Washington (Vice Chair); Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Utah, and Wyoming.

The amendments to Model #520 were drafted by an informal drafting group of the Receivership Model Law (E) Working Group. The conference calls and interim meeting participation included attendees representing 12 state insurance departments and 35 interested parties including life and health industry trade groups, life insurers, health insurers, HMOs, guaranty associations, receivers, consumer representatives, health care provider trade groups and academics. The attendees were as follows:

- State Insurance Regulators: Arkansas; Colorado; Connecticut; Florida; Maine; Michigan; Missouri; New Jersey; Pennsylvania; Texas; Utah; and Washington.
- Interested Parties: Aetna Inc.; American Council of Life Insurers (ACLI); American Hospital Association (AHA); American Medical Association (AMA); America's Health Insurance Plans (AHIP); Anthem Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Connecticut; Arbor Strategies LLC; Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (BSBCA); California Health Advocates; Cantilo & Bennett LLP; Center for Insurance Research; Cigna; Delaware Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association; Delta Dental Plans Association; Faegre Baker Daniels LLP; GHR Consulting, LLC; Health Care Services Corporation (HCSC); Kaiser Permanente; Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP; Lewis Roca Rothgerber Christie LLP; Life Insurance Guaranty Corp of New York; Mark Pratt Consulting LLC; Maryland Life and Health Guaranty Association; Michigan Life and Health Guaranty Association; Morgan Lewis & Brockius LLP; Mutual of Omaha; National Organization of Life and Health Guaranty Association (NOLHGA); New York Life Insurance Company; Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company; Priority Health; Protective Life Corp.; Risk Regulatory Consulting LLC (RRC); RPGLTC Services, LLC; Sonya Larkin-Thorne (Consumer Advocate); United American Insurance Company; United Health Group; and the University of Connecticut School of Law.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force is charged with addressing any issues that affect receivership law.

In 2017, the Receivership Model Law (E) Working Group of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force was charged to:

- Evaluate and consider the changing marketplace of LTC products and the potential guaranty fund impact.
- Evaluate the need for amendments to Model #520, to address issues arising in connection with the insolvency of LTC insurers.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

a. The Working Group held eight conference calls between February 2017 and August 2017 and meetings at the NAIC Spring National Meeting and Summer National Meeting, during which the issues were evaluated, and the plan was decided for drafting amendments to Model #520. On July 10, 2017, the Receivership Model Law (E) Working Group formed a drafting group to draft the amendments to Model #520, contingent upon the approval of the Request for NAIC Model Law Development. The Executive (EX) Committee approved the request at the 2017 Summer National Meeting.

b. The drafting group held 12 conference calls and an interim meeting between September 2017 and October 2017 to draft the amendments to Model #520. Written comments were received during the drafting process from ACLI, AHIP, AMA, Arbor Strategies, LLC, Cantilo and Bennett, LLP, Kaiser Permanente, Morgan Lewis Brockius LLP, NOLHGA, Colorado Division of Insurance, Maine Bureau of Insurance, and the Washington Office of the Insurance Commissioner.

c. The Working Group held a conference call on Oct. 27, 2017, at which time it received a report of the drafting group and exposed the draft amendments for a 30-day public comment period ending Nov. 27, 2017. Written comments on the exposure draft were received from Alliance for Community Health Plans (ACHP), AHA, joint comment letter from ACLI and Arbor Strategies LLC, BCBSA, Cantilo & Bennett LLP, Health Partners, and Kaiser Permanente. Technical edits were received from NAIC legal staff, BCBSA and NOLHGA.

d. The Working Group and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force held a joint conference call on Nov. 29, 2017. During the call, discussion on the amendments was heard from interested parties and interested regulators. The Working Group agreed to make certain non-substantive technical edits. No substantive changes were made to the amendments. The Working Group and the Task Force adopted the amendments to Model #520 on Nov. 29, 2017.

e. The Financial Condition (E) Committee received one comment letter from Kaiser Permanente. No changes were made to the amendments. The Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the amendments to Model #520 on December 4, 2017.

f. The Executive (EX) Committee and Plenary adopted the amendments to Model #520 in December 2017.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

a. Timeline: Members of the Receivership Model Law (E) Working Group and numerous interested parties urged that amendments to Model #520 be developed and adopted by the NAIC as expeditiously as possible. It was noted that legislation to amend life and health insurance guaranty acts was anticipated in some states as early as January 2018, regardless of whether the NAIC revised Model #520. Some interested parties suggested that the Working Group take more time to draft the amendments to fully consider all of the potential ramifications of the proposed changes.

The Working Group concluded that it was imperative that it complete its amendments before the end of 2017, so the revised Model could be considered in the 2018 legislative sessions.

b. Adding HMOs as Member Insurers: The Working Group considered comments favoring and opposing the inclusion of HMOs as members of the guaranty association. See NAIC Proceedings – Summer 2017, Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force, Attachment Three. The following summarizes some of the key arguments.

Arguments in support of HMO membership in guaranty associations included, but were not limited to the following:

- Some states already include HMOs in their life and health guaranty association.
- The marketplace for HMOs and major medical carriers is similar, both types of carriers now largely write network-based managed care policies, and the distinctions between them have diminished or in many markets are non-existent. As HMOs compete with major medical carriers, there is no compelling public policy to exclude HMOs. There are concerns that large health insurance groups could move business to their HMOs to avoid assessments.
- As illustrated by health cooperative insolvencies, consumers and providers are at risk without guaranty association coverage. When HMOs become insolvent, claims of medical providers and are often unpaid, and consumers have been improperly billed for unpaid medical services, despite hold-harmless provisions. Some states have even enacted emergency legislation – similar to traditional guaranty association coverage and often partially funded by health insurers - upon the insolvency of state HMOs to ensure continued care of members and payment of providers.
- If only LTC insurance writers are assessed, there might not be enough capacity to absorb future LTC insurance insolvencies. Broadening the assessment base would simplify the guaranty association system by providing more uniformity and enhance the overall stability of the system.

Arguments opposing HMO membership in guaranty associations included, but were not limited to the following:

- There is no nexus between HMOs and LTC insurance; HMOs do not write LTC insurance policies and should not be assessed for a line of business they do not write.
- HMOs have a significant non-profit sector, and it is not good public policy for non-profits to subsidize for-profit enterprises;
- HMO enrollees are already protected through hold harmless provisions with contracted providers or other regulatory provisions.
- Other NAIC models treat HMOs differently than insurance. There are complexities surrounding tax treatment and insolvency protections in state laws.

After considering the comments, the Working Group concluded that HMOs should be included as members largely for the reasons discussed above and because it was believed that distinctions regarding HMOs tax and non-profit status could be addressed through alternate provisions depending upon each state's market and existing laws.

c. Assessment Split: The Working Group considered alternative methodologies for Class B (claims payment) assessments for LTC insurance insolvencies. The options included different approaches for aggregating the life/annuity and health insurance accounts for LTC insurance insolvencies and including HMOs as members of the guaranty association.

- The ACLI and certain large health insurers/groups proposed a compromise assessment methodology for LTC insurance insolvency assessments that would: increase the assessment base across the board by adding life and annuity premiums to the assessment base; and create a statutory 50% / 50% split of any needed assessment between life and health insurer members with the inclusion of HMOs as member health insurers.

- Kaiser Permanente proposed an assessment methodology based on the proportion of LTC insurance premium written in the state, similar to the calculation in Model #520 for other lines.

As the 50%/50% proposal with the inclusion of life and annuity premiums and HMOs would provide a broader and more predictable assessment base on a nationwide basis, would more equitably align assessments by reducing the current burden that is disproportionately on health insurers, and was widely supported by life and large health insurers, the Working Group adopted this methodology.

6. Any Other Important Information

The material changes to Model #520 are described below.

a. Guaranty Association Membership:

- HMOs are added to the definition of "member insurer" in Section 5M, and the exclusion of HMOs from the Act is removed. A reference to HMO business is added to Section 6A, Creation of the Association.
- A new definition for "health benefit plan" is added to Section 5J, which includes HMO subscriber contracts. This definition is consistent with other similar NAIC model definitions.
- Board membership is increased in Section 7A to account for HMO members. The drafting note gives states flexibility to address fair representation of membership on the board.

b. Assessments

- In the current Model, only the health account is assessed for LTC insurance insolvencies. In the revised Section 9C(2), Class B assessments for LTC insurance insolvencies are shared with the life account. The assessment methodology results in a 50% / 50% split between insurers of the life/annuity and health accounts. This formula factors in the assessments of life and annuity member insurers from the health account, and the assessments of health and HMO member insurers from the life account.
- The assessment methodology is to be included in the Plan of Operation, which is approved by the commissioner under the existing approval process of the state.
- The $300 limitation on Class A assessments in Section 9C(1) is eliminated, to give boards flexibility to address Class A assessments as appropriate in each state. It was noted that some states have deleted this limitation.
- A pre-funding concept for health benefit plans is mentioned in the drafting note to Section 9. A provision based on this concept was not included in Model #520, however, as there was no consensus for pre-funding, and it may be appropriate only in certain states.
- There is an optional provision for the recoupment of assessments in Section 13B. Surcharges may be considered where a member insurer is exempt from tax liability, and unable to take a tax offset. The drafting note addresses considerations for tax-exempt member insurers, such as some HMOs.

c. Coverage and Limitations

- Section 3A(1) specifies that coverage under the Act applies to health care providers rendering services covered by a health insurance policy or certificate to which the Act applies (which includes HMO certificates). Section 3A(2) extends coverage to HMO enrollees.
- Section 3B(2)(m) excludes Medicaid from guaranty association coverage, similar to the current exclusion of Medicare.

- Section 3B(3) and the Drafting Note clarify that the "Moody's Limitation" in Section 3B(2)(c) is not intended to apply to any portion of a policy or contract (including a rider) that provides LTC insurance or any other health insurance benefits.
- Section 3C(2)(a)(ii) and 3C(2)(d) clarify that "disability insurance" is intended to mean disability income insurance, which is consistent with the historical interpretation. The term "basic hospital, medical and surgical insurance or major medical insurance" is replaced with new definition of "health benefit plan" to encompass benefits provided by HMOs.
- Section 3C(2)(g) clarifies that LTC insurance riders to life and annuity contracts are considered the same as the base policy or contract.

d. Rates

- Section 8L(9)(c) clarifies that guaranty associations have the authority to file for rate or premium increases.
- Section 8B(2)(d) and (f) require that rates for substitute or reissued coverage must be "actuarially justified".
- A requirement for approval of rates by the receivership court in Section 8B(2)(e) is deleted.

e. General Changes

- The Drafting Note in Section 2 is clarified to state that the purposes of the act include: (1) having sufficient assessment capacity for all insolvencies, and (2) assessing insurers in a fair and reasonable manner.
- Throughout Model #520, amendments were made to insert terminology for "contract," "enrollee," "certificate," "health maintenance organization", "health benefit plan", "reissue", "health care providers", etc., as applicable to address the addition of HMOs as member insurers.
- Outdated language with regard to "identical …premium" is removed from Section 8B(2)(a).

PROJECT HISTORY – 2016

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT (#520)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

At the 2013 Summer National Meeting, the Rhode Island Insurance Division requested that the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force study the topic of guaranty fund coverage of life settlements and factored structured settlements.

At the 2013 Fall National Meeting, the Task Force heard presentations about life settlements and factored structured settlements from industry trade groups, including the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA), the National Structured Settlements Trade Association (NSSTA), the Life Insurance Settlement Association (LISA) and the American Council of Life Insurers (ACLI). Life settlements and factored structured settlements were identified as being different types of products. The Task Force limited its focus to factored structured settlements.

The Task Force postponed further discussion on the topic until 2015, when the ACLI had completed its own policy discussion. The ACLI presented clarifications for Model #520 to the Task Force at the 2015 Spring National Meeting for discussion purposes. The Task Force requested comments on the topic and received no objection to proceeding with revisions to Model #520. The Task Force submitted a Request for Model Law Development, which was adopted by the Executive (EX) Committee on Nov. 20, 2015.

The Task Force proposed to amend applicable sections of Model #520, including Section 3(A)5 and Section 3(B)2, as well as any other sections deemed relevant to this topic, to provide clarity with regard to the inapplicability of guaranty association coverage to factored structured settlement annuity benefits, which are structured settlement annuity benefits that have been sold to a third-party by the original annuitant.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force is responsible for Model #520. The 2016 members of the Task Force include: California, Chair; Texas, Vice Chair; Alaska; Arkansas; Connecticut; Delaware; District of Columbia; Florida; Hawaii; Illinois; Indiana; Iowa; Kansas; Louisiana; Massachusetts; Michigan; Missouri; Nebraska; Nevada; New Jersey; North Carolina; Oklahoma; Pennsylvania; Puerto Rico; Utah; Washington; and Wyoming.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force is charged with addressing any issues that affect receivership law. The issue was first identified by the Rhode Island Insurance Division on Aug. 25, 2013.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

The ACLI and the NSSTA submitted potential clarifications and proposed revisions relating to the applicable sections of Model #520. The Task Force exposed the concept at the 2015 Spring National Meeting for a 60-day public comment period ending May 29, 2015. The Task Force did not receive any comments in opposition.

The revisions to Model #520 were drafted and exposed April 5, 2016, for a 60-day public comment period ending June 3, 2016. The draft revisions reflected the recommendations submitted by the ACLI and the NSSTA. Comment letters were received from the ACLI and the International Association of Insurance Receivers (IAIR). Both comment letters were in support of the revisions.

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force adopted the revisions to Model #520 on Aug. 27, 2016.

The Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the revisions to Model #520 on Aug. 28, 2016.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

None.

6. Any Other Important Information

None.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2009

LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT (#520)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

Following the adoption of the revised Insurer Receivership Model Act in 2005, the Receivership and Insolvency Task Force realized revisions were necessary to update the guaranty association model acts for changes in the industry since 1996. The purpose of the Model is to provide a mechanism for the payment of covered claims under certain insurance policies, to avoid excessive delay in payment, and to the extent provided in the Model, minimize financial loss to claimants or policyholders because of the insolvency of an insurer, and to provide an association to assess the cost of such protection among insurers.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force was charged with updating the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act during 1996. The 2008 members of the Task Force that adopted the revisions to the Model on November 4, 2008, were: Iowa (Chair at the time of adoption), Texas (Vice-Chair), Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Utah, and Washington.

The Task Force delegated the charge to its Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group. The 2008 members of the Working Group that adopted the proposed revisions to the Model during a October 21, 2008 conference call were: Pennsylvania (Chair), Arkansas, Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, and Utah.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

Following the adoption of the revised Insurer Receivership Model Act in 2005, the Receivership and Insolvency Task Force drafted a charge to develop revisions to the NAIC's two guaranty association model acts, which was approved by the Financial Condition (E) Committee. The Task Force then delegated the charge to its Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group, who first took up the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act during 2006.

During 2007, the NAIC created a new framework for considering and approving model law developments. The two factors necessary to receive authorization to continue drafting were: (1) whether the issue that is the subject of the model law necessitates a national standard and requires uniformity amongst all states; and (2) where NAIC members are committed to devoting significant regulator and association resources to educate, communicate and support a model that has been adopted by the membership. Further drafting was suspended until the complete review and approval process was completed at the Task Force and parent committee levels.

On September 30, 2007, it was determined by the Executive (EX) Committee that the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act met the criteria for development as a Model Act by NAIC.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

The Receivership Model Act Revision Working Group began working on the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act during 2006 and continued reviewing it through 2007, with the active participation of interested parties, including guaranty funds, their associations, insurers, other industry groups and a number of experienced receivership contractors. The draft Model had also been widely distributed via e-mail to various interested parties for an opportunity to submit written comments throughout 2006, early 2007 as well as posted for comment on the NAIC's Working Group Web page. However, during a May 30, 2007 conference call of the Task Force, the Chair advised the Working Group that it would not be able to work on the proposed revisions to the Model until the NAIC adopted a new model law process. The Task Force completed the appropriate review and paperwork according to the new process, which was subsequently exposed and adopted by E Committee. On September 30, 2007, the Executive (EX) Committee determined that the Model met the criteria for development as a Model Act and the Working Group continued discussions. Again, the Model was widely distributed via e-mail to various interested parties for comments throughout late 2007 and during 2008. Interested parties that provided written comment included: ACLI, AHIP, Arizona Life & Disability Insurance Guaranty Fund, Cantilo & Bennett LLP, Hogan & Hartson, Iowa Life & Health Insurance Guaranty Association, and NOLHGA. During an October 21, 2008, call, the Working Group adopted the proposed revisions to go before the Task Force.

During 2008, the Task Force had already provided the Working Group revisions to two sensitive and controversial topics before receiving the Working Group's adopted revisions. Interested parties that provided written comments included: ACLI, AHIP, Hogan & Hartson, and NOLHGA.

During a November 4, 2008, conference call, the Task Force exposed the revised Model for comment to interested parties and regulators and three comment letters were received. Interested parties that provided written comments were ACLI, Cantilo & Bennett LLP, and NOLHGA. The Task Force made no amendments and adopted the revised Model to be submitted to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

On December 8, 2008, the Financial Condition (E) Committee adopted the Task Force's revised Model.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

The following significant issues were discussed by the Receivership Model Act Revision Working Group and Receivership and Insolvency Task Force:

Coverage limits
Health insurance benefits-long-term care insurance coverage limits was increased from $100,000 to $300,000. Annuity benefits, Government Retirement Benefit Plan, Structured Settlement were all increased from $100,000 to $250,000. A policy or contract providing any hospital, medical, prescription drug or other health care benefits pursuant to Part C and Part D of Subchapter XVIII, Chapter 7 of Title 42 of the United States Code (Commonly known as Medicare Part C and D) was specifically excluded from coverage.

6. Any Other Important Information

As the Part A. Laws and Regulations of the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program only requires a regulatory framework such as contained in the NAIC's model acts on guaranty funds, the newly revised Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act should not require a request to the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee to amend an accreditation standard.

PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Title

This Act shall be known as the [State] Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association Act.

Section 2. Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to provide a mechanism for the payment of covered claims under certain insurance policies, to avoid excessive delay in payment and to the extent provided in this Act minimize financial loss to claimants or policyholders because of the insolvency of an insurer, and to provide an association to assess the cost of such protection among insurers.

Section 3. Scope

This Act shall apply to all kinds of direct insurance, but shall not be applicable to the following:

A. Life, annuity, health or disability insurance;

B. Mortgage guaranty, financial guaranty or other forms of insurance offering protection against investment risks;

C. Fidelity or surety bonds, or any other bonding obligations;

D. Credit insurance, vendors' single interest insurance, or collateral protection insurance or any similar insurance protecting the interests of a creditor arising out of a creditor-debtor transaction;

E. Other than coverages that may be set forth in a cybersecurity insurance policy, insurance of warranties or service contracts including insurance that provides for the repair, replacement or service of goods or property, indemnification for repair, replacement or service for the operational or structural failure of the goods or property due to a defect in materials, workmanship or normal wear and tear, or provides reimbursement for the liability incurred by the issuer of agreements or service contracts that provide such benefits;

F. Title insurance;

G. Ocean marine insurance;

H. Any transaction or combination of transactions between a person (including affiliates of such person) and an insurer (including affiliates of such insurer) which involves the transfer of investment or credit risk unaccompanied by transfer of insurance risk; or

I. Any insurance provided by or guaranteed by government.

Drafting Note: This Act focuses on property and liability kinds of insurance and therefore exempts those kinds of insurance deemed to present problems quite distinct from those of property and liability insurance. The Act further precludes from its scope certain types of insurance that provide protection for investment and financial risks. Financial guaranty is one of these. The NAIC Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act provides for coverage of some, of the lines excluded by this provision.

For purposes of this section, "Financial guaranty insurance" includes any insurance under which loss is payable upon proof of occurrence of any of the following events to the damage of an insured claimant or obligee:

1. Failure of any obligor or obligors on any debt instrument or other monetary obligation, including common or preferred stock, to pay when due the principal, interest, dividend or purchase price of such instrument or obligation, whether failure is the result of a financial default or insolvency and whether or not the obligation is incurred directly or as guarantor by, or on behalf of, another obligor which has also defaulted;

2. Changes in the level of interest rates whether short term or long term, or in the difference between interest rates existing in various markets;

3. Changes in the rate of exchange of currency, or from the inconvertibility of one currency into another for any reason;

4. Changes in the value of specific assets or commodities, or price levels in general.

For purposes of this section, "credit insurance" means insurance on accounts receivable.

The terms "disability insurance" and "accident and health insurance," and "health insurance" are intended to be synonymous. Each State will wish to examine its own statutes to determine which is the appropriate phrase.

A State where the insurance code does not adequately define ocean marine insurance may wish to add the following to Section 5, Definitions: "Ocean marine insurance" means any form of insurance, regardless of the name, label or marketing designation of the insurance policy, which insures against maritime perils or risks and other related perils or risks, which are usually insured against by traditional marine insurance, such as hull and machinery, marine builders risk, and marine protection and indemnity. Perils and risk insured against include without limitation loss, damage, expense or legal liability of the insured for loss, damage or expense arising out of or incident to ownership, operation, chartering, maintenance, use, repair or construction of any vessel, craft or instrumentality in use in ocean or inland waterways for commercial purposes, including liability of the insured for personal injury, illness or death or for loss or damage to the property of the insured or another person.

Section 4. Construction

This Act shall be construed to effect the purpose under Section 2 which will constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

Section 5. Definitions

As used in this Act:

[Optional:

A. "Account" means any one of the three accounts created by Section 6.]

Drafting Note: This definition should be used by those States wishing to create separate accounts for assessment purposes. For a note on the use of separate accounts for assessments see the Drafting Note after Section 6. If this definition is used, all subsequent subsections should be renumbered.

A. "Affiliate" means a person who directly, or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with another person on December 31 of the year immediately preceding the date the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer.

B. "Association" means the [State] Insurance Guaranty Association created under Section 6.

C. "Association similar to the association" means any guaranty association, security fund or other insolvency mechanism that affords protection similar to that of the association. The term shall also include any property and casualty insolvency mechanism that obtains assessments or other contributions from insurers on a pre-insolvency basis.

D. "Claimant" means any person instituting a covered claim, provided that no person who is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer may be a claimant.

E. "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Insurance of this State.

Drafting Note: Use the appropriate title for the chief insurance regulatory official wherever the term "commissioner" appears.

F. "Control" means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if a person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing, ten percent (10%) or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing that control does not exist in fact.

G. "Covered claim" means the following:

(1) An unpaid claim, including one for unearned premiums, submitted by a claimant, which arises out of and is within the coverage and is subject to the applicable limits of an insurance policy to which this Act applies, if the policy was issued by an insurer that becomes an insolvent insurer after the effective date of this Act and:

(a) The claimant or insured is a resident of this State at the time of the insured event, provided that for entities other than an individual, the residence of a claimant, insured or policyholder is the State in which its principal place of business is located at the time of the insured event; or

(b) The claim is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location in this State.

(2) Covered claim includes claim obligations that arose through the issuance of an insurance policy by a member insurer, which are later allocated, transferred, merged into, novated, assumed by, or otherwise made the sole responsibility of a member or non-member insurer if:

(a) The original member insurer has no remaining obligations on the policy after the transfer;

(b) A final order of liquidation with a finding of insolvency has been entered against the insurer that assumed the member's coverage obligations by a court of competent jurisdiction in the insurer's State of domicile;

(c) The claim would have been a covered claim, as defined in Section 5G(1), if the claim had remained the responsibility of the original member insurer and the order of liquidation had been entered against the original member insurer, with the same claim submission date and liquidation date; and

(d) In cases where the member's coverage obligations were assumed by a non-member insurer, the transaction received prior regulatory or judicial approval.

[Optional:

(3) Covered claim includes claim obligations that were originally covered by a non-member insurer, including but not limited to a self-insurer, non-admitted insurer or risk retention group, but subsequently became the sole direct obligation of a member insurer before the entry of a final order of liquidation with a finding of insolvency against the member insurer by a court of competent jurisdiction in its State of domicile, if the claim obligations were assumed by the member insurer in a transaction of one of the following types:

(a) A merger in which the surviving company was a member insurer immediately after the merger;

(b) An assumption reinsurance transaction that received any required approvals from the appropriate regulatory authorities; or

(c) A transaction entered into pursuant to a plan approved by the member insurer's omiciliary regulator.]

Drafting Note: Optional Section 5G(3) provides coverage for certain claims that are not within the scope of Sections 5G(1) or (2) because the original coverage was not provided by a member insurer. Sections 5G(3)(a) and (3)(b) are based on Alternative 1 of the former definition of "assumed claims transaction" (below), and Section 5G(3)(c) is based on the additional scenario included in Alternative 2 of the former definition of assumed claims transaction (below). The reference to "assumption consideration" in that clause of the former definition is now addressed by Optional Section 8A(4).

[Assumed Claims Transaction Definition Alternative 1] "Assumed claims transaction" means the following:

(1) Policy obligations that have been assumed by the insolvent insurer, prior to the entry of a final order of liquidation, through a merger between the insolvent insurer and another entity obligated under the policies; or

(2) An assumption reinsurance transaction in which all of the following has occurred:

(a) The insolvent insurer assumed, prior to the entry of a final order of liquidation, the claim or policy obligations of another insurer or entity obligated under the claims or policies: and

(b) The assumption of the claim or policy obligations has been approved, if such approval is required, by the appropriate regulatory authorities; and

(c) As a result of the assumption, the claim or policy obligations became the direct obligations of the insolvent insurer through a novation of the claims or policies

[Assumed Claims Transaction Definition Alternative 2] "Assumed claims transaction" means the following:

(1) Policy obligations that have been assumed by the insolvent insurer, prior to the entry of a final order of liquidation, through a merger between the insolvent insurer and another entity obligated under the policies, and for which Assumption Consideration has been paid to the applicable guaranty associations, if the merged entity is a non-member insurer; or

(2) Policy obligations that have been assumed by the insolvent insurer, prior to the entry of a final order of liquidation, pursuant to a plan, approved by the domestic commissioner of the assuming insurer, which:

(a) Transfers the direct policy obligations and future policy renewals from one insurer to another insurer; and

(b) For which Assumption Consideration has been paid to the applicable guaranty associations, if the assumption is from a non-member insurer.

(c) For purposes of this section the term non-member insurer also includes a self-insurer, non-admitted insurer and risk retention group; or

(3) An assumption reinsurance transaction in which all of the following has occurred:

(a) The insolvent insurer assumed, prior to the entry of a final order of liquidation, the claim or policy obligations of another insurer or entity obligated under the claims or policies;

(b) The assumption of the claim or policy obligations has been approved, if such approval is required, by the appropriate regulatory authorities; and

(c) As a result of the assumption, the claim or policy obligations became the direct obligations of the insolvent insurer through a novation of the claims or policies.

(3) Except as provided elsewhere in this section, "covered claim" shall not include:

(a) Any amount awarded as punitive or exemplary damages;

(b) Any amount sought as a return of premium under any retrospective rating plan;

(c) Any amount due any reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool or underwriting association, health maintenance organization, hospital plan corporation, professional health service corporation or self-insurer as subrogation recoveries, reinsurance recoveries, contribution, indemnification or otherwise. No claim for any amount due any reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, underwriting association, health maintenance organization, hospital plan corporation, professional health service corporation or self-insurer may be asserted against a person insured under a policy issued by an insolvent insurer other than to the extent the claim exceeds the association obligation limitations set forth in Section 8 of this Act;

(d) Any claims excluded pursuant to Section 13 due to the high net worth of an insured;

(e) Any first party claims by an insured that is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer;

(f) Any fee or other amount relating to goods or services sought by or on behalf of any attorney or other provider of goods or services retained by the insolvent insurer or an insured prior to the date it was determined to be insolvent;

(g) Any fee or other amount sought by or on behalf of any attorney or other provider of goods or services retained by any insured or claimant in connection with the assertion or prosecution of any claim, covered or otherwise, against the association;

(h) Any claims for interest; or

(i) Any claim filed with the association or a liquidator for protection afforded under the insured's policy for incurred-but-not-reported losses.

Drafting Note: The language in this provision referring to claims for incurred-but-not-reported losses has been inserted to expressly include the existing intent of this provision and make it clear that "policyholder protection" proofs of claim, while valid to preserve rights against the estate of the insolvent insurer under the Insurer Receivership Model Act, are not valid to preserve rights against the association.

[Optional:

H. "Cybersecurity insurance", for purposes of this Act, includes first and third-party coverage, in a policy or endorsement, written on a direct, admitted basis for losses and loss mitigation arising out of or relating to data privacy breaches, unauthorized information network security intrusions, computer viruses, ransomware, cyber extortion, identity theft, and similar exposures.]

H. "Insolvent insurer" means an insurer that is licensed to transact insurance in this State, either at the time the policy was issued, or when the insured event occurred, and against whom a final order of liquidation has been entered after the effective date of this Act with a finding of insolvency by a court of competent jurisdiction in the insurer's State of domicile.

Drafting Note: "Final order" as used in this section means an order which has not been stayed. States in which the "final order" language does not accurately reflect whether or not the order is subject to a stay should substitute appropriate language consistent with the statutes or rules of the State to convey the intended meaning.

I. "Insured" means any named insured, any additional insured, any vendor, lessor or any other party identified as an insured under the policy.

J. (1) "Member insurer" means any person who:

(a) Writes any kind of insurance to which this Act applies under Section 3, including the exchange of reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts; and

(b) Is licensed to transact insurance in this State (except at the option of the State).

(2) An insurer shall cease to be a member insurer effective on the day following the termination or expiration of its license to transact the kinds of insurance to which this Act applies, however, the insurer shall remain liable as a member insurer for any and all obligations, including obligations for assessments levied prior to the termination or expiration of the insurer's license and assessments levied after the termination or expiration, which relate to any insurer that became an insolvent insurer prior to the termination or expiration of the insurer's license.

K. "Net direct written premiums" means direct gross premiums written in this State on insurance policies to which this Act applies, including policy and membership fees, less the following amounts: (1) return premiums, (2) premiums on policies not taken, and (3) dividends paid or credited to policyholders on that direct business. "Net direct written premiums" does not include premiums on contracts between insurers or reinsurers.

[Optional:

K. "Net direct written premiums" means direct gross premiums written in this State on insurance policies to which this Act applies, including policy and membership fees and including all premiums and other compensation collected by a member insurer for obligations assumed under a transaction described inSection 5G(3), less the following amounts: (1) return premiums, (2) premiums on policies not taken, and (3) dividends paid or credited to policyholders on that direct business. "Net direct written premiums" does not include premiums on contracts between insurers or reinsurers, other than compensation received for entering into a transaction described in Section 5G(3).]

Drafting Note: Optional Section 5K is for states that have adopted Optional Section 5G(3).

L. "Person" means any individual, aggregation of individuals, corporation, partnership or other entity.

M. "Receiver" means liquidator, rehabilitator, conservator or ancillary receiver, as the context requires.

Drafting Note: Each State should conform the definition of "receiver" to the definition used in the State's insurer receivership act.

N. "Self-insurer" means a person that covers its liability through a qualified individual or group self-insurance program or any other formal program created for the specific purpose of covering liabilities typically covered by insurance.

Section 6. Creation of the Association

There is created a nonprofit unincorporated legal entity to be known as the [State] Insurance Guaranty Association. All insurers defined as member insurers in Section 5J shall be and remain members of the association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in this State. The association shall perform its functions under a plan of operation established and approved under Section 9 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under Section 7.

[Alternate Section 6. Creation of the Association

There is created a nonprofit unincorporated legal entity to be known as the [State] Insurance Guaranty Association. All insurers defined as member insurers in Section 5J shall be and remain members of the association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in this State. The association shall perform its functions under a plan of operation established and approved under Section 9 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under Section 7. For purposes of administration and assessment, the association shall be divided into three separate accounts:

A. The workers' compensation insurance account;
B. The automobile insurance account; and

C. The account for all other insurance to which this Act applies.]

Drafting Note: The alternate Section 6 should be used if a State, after examining its insurance market, determines that separate accounts for various kinds of insurance are necessary and feasible. The major consideration is whether each account will have a base sufficiently large to cover possible insolvencies. Separate accounts will permit assessments to be generally limited to insurers writing the same kind of insurance as the insolvent company. If this approach is adopted the provision of alternate Sections 8A(3) and 8B(6) and optional Section 5A should also be used.

Section 7. Board of Directors

A. The board of directors of the association shall consist of not less than five (5) nor more than [insert number] persons serving terms as established in the plan of operation. The insurer members of the board shall be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board shall be filled for the remaining period of the term by a majority vote of the remaining insurer members subject to the approval of the commissioner. If no members are selected within sixty (60) days after the effective date of this Act, the commissioner may appoint the initial members of the board of directors. Two (2) persons, who must be public representatives, shall be appointed by the commissioner to the board of directors. Vacancies of positions held by public representatives shall be filled by the commissioner. A public representative may not be an officer, director or employee of an insurance company or any person engaged in the business of insurance. For the purposes of this section, the term "director" shall mean an individual serving on behalf of an insurer member of the board of directors or a public representative on the board of directors.

Drafting Note: A State adopting this language should make certain that its insurance code includes a definition of "the business of insurance" similar to that found in the NAIC Insurer Receivership Model Act.

B. In approving selections to the board, the commissioner shall consider among other things whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

C. Members of the board of directors may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for reasonable expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors.

D. Any board member who is an insurer in receivership shall be terminated as a boar*d member*, effective as of the date of the entry of the order of receivership. Any resulting vacancies on the board shall be filled for the remaining period of the term in accordance with the provisions of Subsection A.

E. In the event that a director shall, because of illness, nonattendance at meetings or any other reason, be deemed unable to satisfactorily perform the designated functions as a director by missing three consecutive board meetings, the board of directors may declare the office vacant and the member or director shall be replaced in accordance with the provisions of Subsection A.

F. If the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that a director failed to disclose a known conflict of interest with his or her duties on the board, failed to take appropriate action based on a known conflict of interest with his or her duties on the board, or has been indicted or charged with a felony, or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, the commissioner may suspend that director pending the outcome of an investigation or hearing by the commissioner or the conclusion of any criminal proceedings. A company elected to the board may replace a suspended director prior to the completion of an investigation, hearing or criminal proceeding. In the event that the allegations are substantiated at the conclusion of an investigation, hearing or criminal proceeding, the office shall be declared vacant and the member or director shall be replaced in accordance with the provisions of Subsection A.

Section 8. Powers and Duties of the Association

A. The association shall:

(1) (a) Be obligated to pay covered claims existing prior to the order of liquidation, arising within thirty (30) days after the order of liquidation, or before the policy expiration date if less than thirty (30) days after the order of liquidation, or before the insured replaces the policy or causes its cancellation, if the insured does so within thirty (30) days of the order of liquidation. The obligation shall be satisfied by paying to the claimant an amount as follows:

(i) The full amount of a covered claim for benefits under a workers' compensation insurance coverage;

(ii) An amount not exceeding $10,000 per policy for a covered claim for the return of unearned premium;

(iii) An amount not exceeding $500,000 per claimant for all other covered claims.

(iv) In no event shall the Association be obligated to pay an amount in excess of $500,000 for all first and third-party claims under a policy or endorsement providing, or that is found to provide, cybersecurity insurance coverage and arising out of or related to a single insured event, regardless of the number of claims made or the number of claimants.

(b) In no event shall the association be obligated to pay a claimant an amount in excess of the obligation of the insolvent insurer under the policy or coverage from which the claim arises. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, a covered claim shall not include a claim filed with the guaranty fund after the final date set by the court for the filing of claims against the liquidator or receiver of an insolvent insurer.

For the purpose of filing a claim under this subsection, notice of claims to the liquidator of the insolvent insurer shall be deemed notice to the association or its agent and a list of claims shall be periodically submitted to the association or association similar to the association in another State by the liquidator.

Drafting Note: On the general subject of the relationship of the association to the liquidator, the working group/task force takes the position that since this is a model State bill, it will be able to bind only two parties, the association and the in-State liquidator. Nevertheless, the provisions should be clear enough to outline the requests being made to out-of-State liquidators and the requirements placed on in-State liquidators in relation to out-of-State associations.

Drafting Note: Because of its potential impact on guaranty association coverage, it is recommended that the legislation include an appropriate provision stating that the bar date only applies to claims in liquidation commencing after its effective date. Drafters should insure that the State's insurance liquidation act would permit, upon closure, payments to the guaranty association and any association similar to the association for amounts that are estimated to be incurred after closure for workers compensation claims obligations. The amounts should be payable on these obligations related to losses both known and not known at the point of closure.

(c) Any obligation of the association to defend an insured shall cease upon the association's payment or tender of an amount equal to the lesser of the association's covered claim obligation limit or the applicable policy limit.

Drafting Note: The obligation of the association is limited to covered claims unpaid prior to insolvency, and to claims arising within thirty days after the insolvency, or until the policy is canceled or replaced by the insured, or it expires, whichever is earlier. The basic principle is to permit policyholders to make an orderly transition to other companies. There appears to be no reason why the association should become in effect an insurer in competition with member insurers by continuing existing policies, possibly for several years. It is also felt that the control of the policies is properly in the hands of the liquidator. Finally, one of the major objections of the public to rapid termination, loss of unearned premiums with no corresponding coverage, is ameliorated by this bill since unearned premiums are permissible claims, up to $10,000, against the association. The maximums ($10,000 for the return of unearned premium; $500,000 for all other covered claims) represent the working group's concept of practical limitations, but each State will wish to evaluate these figures.

(2) Be deemed the insurer to the extent of its obligation on the covered claims and to that extent, subject to the limitations provided in this Act, shall have all rights, duties and obligations of the insolvent insurer as if the insurer had not become insolvent, including but not limited to, the right to pursue and retain salvage and subrogation recoverable on covered claim obligations to the extent paid by the association. The association shall not be deemed the insolvent insurer for the purpose of conferring jurisdiction.

(3) [Alternative 1] Assess insurers amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under Section 8A(1) subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency, and other expenses authorized by this Act. The assessments of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the calendar year preceding the assessment bears to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the calendar year preceding the assessment. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than thirty (30) days before it is due. A member insurer may not be assessed in any year an amount greater than two percent (2%) of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the calendar year preceding the assessment. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association, does not provide in any one year an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments, the funds available shall be prorated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon as funds become available. The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer, if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by a jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance. However, during the period of deferment no dividends shall be paid to shareholders or policyholders. Deferred assessments shall be paid when the payment will not reduce capital or surplus below required minimums. Payments shall be refunded to those companies receiving larger assessments by virtue of the deferment, or at the election of the company, credited against future assessments.

(3) [Alternative 2] Allocate claims paid and expenses incurred among the three (3) accounts separately, and assess member insurers separately for each account, amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under Section 8A(1) subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency and other expenses authorized by this Act. The assessments of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the calendar year preceding the assessment on the kinds of insurance in the account bears to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the calendar year preceding the assessment on the kinds of insurance in the account. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than thirty (30) days before it is due. A member insurer may not be assessed in any one year on any account an amount greater than two percent (2%) of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the calendar year preceding the assessment on the kinds of insurance in the account. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in any account, does not provide in any one year in any account an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments from that account, the funds available shall be pro-rated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon thereafter as funds become available. The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer, if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by a jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance. However, during the period of deferment no dividends shall be paid to shareholders or policyholders. Deferred assessments shall be paid when the payment will not reduce capital or surplus below required minimums. Payments shall be refunded to those companies receiving larger assessments by virtue of such deferment, or at the election of the company, credited against future assessments. A member insurer may set off against any assessment, authorized payments made on covered claims and expenses incurred in the payment of claims by the member insurer if they are chargeable to the account for which the assessment is made.]

[Optional:

(4) Assess member insurers that have entered into transactions described in Section 5G(3), in addition to the assessment levied under Section 8A(3), an amount reflecting liabilities that may have arisen before the date of the transaction. The assessment under this Section 8A(4) is not subject to the annual percentage limitation under Section 8A(3) and shall be the amount that would have been paid by the assuming insurer under Section 8A(3) during the three calendar years preceding the effective date of the transaction if the business had been written directly by the assuming insurer. If the amount of the applicable premiums for the three year period cannot be determined, the assessment shall be 130% of the sum of the unpaid losses, loss adjustment expenses, and incurred but not reported losses, as of the effective date of the assumed claims transaction, multiplied by the applicable guaranty association assessment percentage for the calendar year of the transaction.]

Drafting Note: Optional Section 8A(4) is for states that have adopted Optional Section 5G(3) and choose to require an additional "assumption consideration" assessment when claim obligations are assumed from an entity other than a member insurer.

(4) Investigate claims brought against the association and adjust, compromise, settle and pay covered claims to the extent of the association's obligation and deny all other claims. The association shall pay claims in any order that it may deem reasonable, including the payment of claims as they are received from the claimants or in groups or categories of claims. The association shall have the right to appoint and to direct legal counsel retained under liability insurance policies for the defense of covered claims and to appoint and direct other service providers for covered services.

(5) Notify claimants in this State as deemed necessary by the commissioner and upon the commissioner's request, to the extent records are available to the association.

Drafting Note: The intent of this paragraph is to allow, in exceptional circumstances, supplementary notice to that given by the domiciliary receiver.

(6) (a) Have the right to review and contest as set forth in this subsection settlements, releases, compromises, waivers and judgments to which the insolvent insurer or its insureds were parties prior to the entry of the order of liquidation. In an action to enforce settlements, releases and judgments to which the insolvent insurer or its insureds were parties prior to the entry of the order of liquidation, the Association shall have the right to assert the following defenses, in addition to the defenses available to the insurer:

(i) The association is not bound by a settlement, release, compromise or waiver executed by an insured or the insurer, or any judgment entered against an insured or the insurer by consent or through a failure to exhaust all appeals, if the settlement, release, compromise, waiver or judgment was:

(I) Executed or entered within 120 days prior to the entry of an order of liquidation, and the insured or the insurer did not use reasonable care in entering into the settlement, release, compromise, waiver or judgment, or did not pursue all reasonable appeals of an adverse judgment; or

(II) Executed by or taken against an insured or the insurer based on default, fraud, collusion or the insurer's failure to defend.

(ii) If a court of competent jurisdiction finds that the association is not bound by a settlement, release, compromise, waiver or judgment for the reasons described in Subparagraph (a)(i), the settlement, release, compromise, waiver or judgment shall be set aside, and the association shall be permitted to defend any covered claim on the merits. The settlement, release, compromise, waiver or judgment may not be considered as evidence of liability or damages in connection with any claim brought against the association or any other party under this Act.

(iii) The association shall have the right to assert any statutory defenses or rights of offset against any settlement, release, compromise or waiver executed by an insured or the insurer, or any judgment taken against the insured or the insurer.

(b) As to any covered claims arising from a judgment under any decision, verdict or finding based on the default of the insolvent insurer or its failure to defend, the association, either on its own behalf or on behalf of an insured may apply to have the judgment, order, decision, verdict or finding set aside by the same court or administrator that entered the judgment, order, decision, verdict or finding and shall be permitted to defend the claim on the merits.

(7) Handle claims through its own employees, one or more insurers, or other persons designated as servicing facilities, which may include the receiver for the insolvent insurer. Designation of a servicing facility is subject to the approval of the commissioner, but the designation may be declined by a member insurer.

(8) Reimburse each servicing facility for obligations of the association paid by the facility and for expenses incurred by the facility while handling claims on behalf of the association and shall pay the other expenses of the association authorized by this Act.

(9) Submit, not later than 90 days after the end of the association's fiscal year, a financial report for the preceding fiscal year in a form approved by the commissioner.

B. The association may:

(1) Employ or retain persons as are necessary to handle claims, provide covered policy benefits and services, and perform other duties of the association;

(2) Borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this Act in accordance with the plan of operation;

(3) Sue or be sued;

(4) Negotiate and become a party to contracts necessary to carry out the purpose of this Act;

(5) Perform other acts necessary or proper to effectuate the purpose of this Act;

(6) Refund to the member insurers in proportion to the contribution of each member insurer to the association that amount by which the assets of the association exceed the liabilities, if at the end of any calendar year, the board of directors finds that the assets of the association exceed the liabilities of the association as estimated by the board of directors for the coming year.

[Alternate Section 8B(6)

(6) Refund to the member insurers in proportion to the contribution of each member insurer to that account that amount by which the assets of the account exceed the liabilities, if at the end of any calendar year, the board of directors finds that the assets of the association in any account exceed the liabilities of that account as estimated by the board of directors for the coming year.]

Drafting Note: The working group/task force feels that the board of directors should determine the amount of the refunds to members when the assets of the association exceed its liabilities. However, since this excess may be quite small, the board is given the option of retaining all or part of it to pay expenses and possibly remove the need for a relatively small assessment at a later time.

C. Suits involving the association:

(1) Except for actions by the receiver, all actions relating to or arising out of this Act against the association shall be brought in the courts in this State. The courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction over all actions relating to or arising out of this Act against the association.

(2) The exclusive venue in any action by or against the association is in [designate appropriate court]. The association may, at its option, waive this venue as to specific actions.

[Optional:

D. (1) The legislature finds:

(a) The potential for widespread and massive damage to persons and property caused by natural disasters such as earthquakes, windstorms, or fire in this State can generate insurance claims of such a number as to render numerous insurers operating within this State insolvent and therefore unable to satisfy covered claims;

(b) The inability of insureds within this State to receive payments of covered claims or to timely receive the payments creates financial and other hardships for insureds and places undue burdens on the State, the affected units of local government, and the community at large;

(c) The insolvency of a single insurer in a material amount or a catastrophic event may result in the same hardships as those produced by a natural disaster;

(d) The State has previously taken action to address these problems by adopting the [insert name of guaranty association act], which among other things, provides a mechanism for the payment of covered claims under certain insurance policies to avoid excessive delay in payment and to avoid financial loss to claimants or policyholders because of the insolvency of an insurer; and

(e) In order for the association to timely pay claims of insolvent insurers in this State and otherwise carry out its duties, the association may require additional financing options. The intent of the Legislature is to make those options available to the association in the event that a natural disaster such as an earthquake, windstorm, fire or material insolvency of any member insurer results in covered claim obligations currently payable by the association in excess of its capacity to pay from current funds and current assessments under Subsection A(3). In cases where the association determines that it is cost effective, the association may issue bonds as provided in this subsection. In determining whether to issue bonds, the association shall consider the transaction costs of issuing the bonds.

(2) In the event a natural disaster such as an earthquake, windstorm, fire or material insolvency of any member insurer results in covered claim obligations currently payable by the association in excess of its capacity to pay from current funds and current assessments under Subsection 8A(3), the association, in its sole discretion, may by resolution request the [insert name of agency] Agency to issue bonds pursuant to [insert statutory authority], in such amounts as the association may determine to provide funds for the payment of covered claims and expenses related thereto. In the event bonds are issued, the association shall have the authority to annually assess member insurers for amounts necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on those bonds. Assessments collected pursuant to this authority shall be collected under the same procedures as provided in Subsection 8A(3) and, notwithstanding the two percent (2%) limit in Subsection 8A(3), shall be limited to an additional [insert percentage] percent of the annual net direct written premium in this State of each member insurer for the calendar year preceding the assessment. The commissioner's approval shall be required for any assessment greater than five percent (5%). Assessments collected pursuant to this authority may only be used for servicing the bond obligations provided for in this subsection and shall be pledged for that purpose.

(3) In addition to the assessments provided for in this subsection, the association in its discretion, and after considering other obligations of the association, may utilize current funds of the association, assessments made under Subsection 8A(3) and advances or dividends received from the liquidators of insolvent insurers to pay the principal and interest on any bonds issued at the board's request.

(4) Assessments under this subsection shall be payable in twelve (12) monthly installments with the first installment being due and payable at the end of the month after an assessment is levied, and subsequent installments being due not later than the end of each succeeding month.

(5) In order to assure that insurers paying assessments levied under this subsection continue to charge rates that are neither inadequate nor excessive, within ninety (90) days after being notified of the assessments, each insurer that is to be assessed pursuant to this subsection shall make a rate filing for lines of business additionally assessed under this subsection. If the filing reflects a rate change that, as a percentage, is equal to the difference between the rate of the assessment and the rate of the previous year's assessment under this subsection, the filing shall consist of a certification so stating and shall be deemed approved when made. Any rate change of a different percentage shall be subject to the standards and procedures of [cite appropriate statutory authority for provisions on filing and approval of rates].

Drafting Note: This provision should only be considered by those States that haveserious concerns that circumstances could result in a substantial capacity problem resulting in unpaid or pro rata payment of claims. An association intending to consider this provision should first consult with experienced bond counsel in its State to identify an appropriate State agency or bonding authority to act as vehicle for issuing the bonds. That agency or authority's statute may also have to be amended to specifically authorize these types of bonds and to cross-reference this provision in the guaranty association law. It is possible that in some situations a new bonding authority may have to be created for this purpose.

Regardless of the vehicle used, it is important that the decision-making authority on whether bonds are needed and in what amounts be retained by the association's board.

The extent of additional assessment authority under this subsection has not been specified. When considering the amount of additional authority that will be needed, a determination should be made as to the amount of funds needed to service the bonds. More specifically, consideration should be given to the amount of the bonds to be issued, interest rate and the maturity date of the bonds. The association should be able to raise sufficient funds through assessments to pay the interest and retire the bonds after some reasonable period (e.g. ten (10) years). Subsection D(2) requires the Commissioner's approval before the association can impose an additional assessment in excess of 5%. This is to assure that the additional assessment will not result in financial hardship to the member insurers and additional insolvencies.

The intent of Subsection D(4) is to permit recoupment by member insurers of the additional cost of assessments under this subsection without any related regulatory approval. A State enacting this subsection may need to revise Subsection D(4) so that it conforms to the particular State's recoupment provisions, as well as the provisions on filing and approval of rates.]

Section 9. Plan of Operation

A. (1) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments to the plan of operation necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and amendments shall become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

(2) If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within ninety (90) days following the effective date of this Act, or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt reasonable rules necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this Act. The rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

B. All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

C. The plan of operation shall:

(1) Establish the procedures under which the powers and duties of the association under Section 8 will be performed;

(2) Establish procedures for handling assets of the association;

(3) Require that written procedures be established for the disposition of liquidating dividends or other monies received from the estate of the insolvent insurer;

(4) Require that written procedures be established to designate the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under Section 7;

(5) Establish procedures by which claims may be filed with the association and establish acceptable forms of proof of covered claims;

(6) Establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors;

(7) Require that written procedures be established for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its agents and the board of directors;

(8) Provide that any member insurer aggrieved by any final action or decision of the association may appeal to the commissioner within thirty (30) days after the action or decision;

(9) Establish the procedures under which selections for the board of directors will be submitted to the commissioner;

(10) Contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

D. The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under Sections 8A(3) and 8B(2), are delegated to a corporation, association similar to the association or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association or its equivalent in two (2) or more States. The corporation, association similar to the association or organization shall be reimbursed as a servicing facility would be reimbursed and shall be paid for its performance of any other functions of the association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a corporation, association or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this Act.

Section 10. Duties and Powers of the Commissioner

A. The commissioner shall:

(1) Notify the association of the existence of an insolvent insurer not later than three (3) days after the commissioner receives notice of the determination of the insolvency. The association shall be entitled to a copy of a complaint seeking an order of liquidation with a finding of insolvency against a member company at the same time that the complaint is filed with a court of competent jurisdiction;

(2) Provide the association with a statement of the net direct written premiums of each member insurer upon request of the board of directors.

B. The commissioner may:

(1) Suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this State of a member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on a member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due. The fine shall not exceed five percent (5%) of the unpaid assessment per month, except that a fine shall not be less than $100 per month;

(2) Revoke the designation of a servicing facility if the commissioner finds claims are being handled unsatisfactorily.

(3) Examine, audit, or otherwise regulate the association.

Drafting Note: This section does not require periodic examinations of the guaranty associations but allows the commissioner to conduct examinations as the commissioner deems necessary.

C. A final action or order of the commissioner under this Act shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 11. Coordination Among Guaranty Associations

A. The association may join one or more organizations of other State associations of similar purposes, to further the purposes and administer the powers and duties of the association. The association may designate one or more of these organizations to act as a liaison for the association and, to the extent the association authorizes, to bind the association in agreements or settlements with receivers of insolvent insurance companies or their designated representatives.

B. The association, in cooperation with other obligated or potentially obligated guaranty associations, or their designated representatives, shall make all reasonable efforts to coordinate and cooperate with receivers, or their designated representatives, in the most efficient and uniform manner, including the use of Uniform Data Standards as promulgated or approved by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Section 12. Effect of Paid Claims

A. Any person recovering under this Act shall be deemed to have assigned any rights under the policy to the association to the extent of his or her recovery from the association. Every insured or claimant seeking the protection of this Act shall cooperate with the association to the same extent as the person would have been required to cooperate with the insolvent insurer. The association shall have no cause of action against the insured of the insolvent insurer for sums it has paid out except any causes of action as the insolvent insurer would have had if the sums had been paid by the insolvent insurer and except as provided in Subsection B and in Section 13. In the case of an insolvent insurer operating on a plan with assessment liability, payments of claims of the association shall not operate to reduce the liability of the insureds to the receiver, liquidator or statutory successor for unpaid assessments.

B. The association shall have the right to recover from any person who is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer all amounts paid by the association on behalf of that person pursuant to the Act, whether for indemnity, defense or otherwise.

C. The association and any association similar to the association in another State shall be entitled to file a claim in the liquidation of an insolvent insurer for any amounts paid by them on covered claim obligations as determined under this Act or similar laws in other States and shall receive dividends and other distributions at the priority set forth in [insert reference to Statepriority of distribution in liquidation act].

D. The association shall periodically file with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer statements of the covered claims paid by the association and estimates of anticipated claims on the association which shall preserve the rights of the association against the assets of the insolvent insurer.

Section 13 [Optional] Net Worth Exclusion

Drafting Note: Various alternatives are provided for a net worth limitation in the guaranty association act. States may choose any of the Subsection B alternatives below or may elect to not have any net worth limitation. Subsection A, which defines "high net worth insured," has two alternates allowing States to choose different net worth limitations for first and third party claims if that State chooses alternatives 1 or 2 to Subsection B. Subsections C, D and E are recommended to accompany any of the Subsection B alternatives. In cases where States elect not to include net worth, States may either omit this section in its entirety or include only Subsection C, which excludes from coverage claims denied by other States' net worth restrictions pursuant to those States' guaranty association laws.

A. For purposes of this section "high net worth insured" shall mean any insured whose net worth exceeds $50 million on December 31 of the year prior to the year in which the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer; provided that an insured's net worth on that date shall be deemed to include the aggregate net worth of the insured and all of its subsidiaries and affiliates as calculated on a consolidated basis.

[Alternate Section 13A

A. (1) For the purposes of Subsection B(1), "high net worth insured" shall mean any insured whose net worth exceeds $25 million on December 31 of the year prior to the year in which the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer; provided that an insured's net worth on that date shall be deemed to include the aggregate net worth of the insured and all of its subsidiaries and affiliates as calculated on a consolidated basis.]

(2) For the purpose of Subsection B(2) [and B(4) if Alternative 2 for Subsection B is selected] "high net worth insured" shall mean any insured whose net worth exceeds $50 million on December 31 of the year prior to the year in which the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer; provided that an insured's net worth on that date shall be deemed to include the aggregate net worth of the insured and all of its subsidiaries and affiliates as calculated on a consolidated basis.

Drafting Note: Alternate Subsection A language should only be considered in cases where a State is considering Alternative 1 or 2 of Subsection B and would like to set different dollar thresholds for the first party claim exclusion provision and the third party recovery provision.

Drafting Note: States may wish to consider the impact on governmental entities and charitable organizations of the application of the net worth exclusion contained in the definition of "covered claim." The Michigan Supreme Court, in interpreting a "net worth" provision in the Michigan guaranty association statute, held that governmental entities possess a "net worth" for purposes of the provision in the Michigan guaranty association statute that prohibits claims against the guaranty association by a person who has a specified net worth. Oakland County Road Commission vs. Michigan Property & Casualty Guaranty Association, 575 N.W. 2d 751 (Mich. 1998).

[Alternative 1 for Section 13B

B. (1) The association shall not be obligated to pay any first party claims by a high net worth insured.

(2) The association shall have the right to recover from a high net worth insured all amounts paid by the association to or on behalf of such insured, whether for indemnity, defense or otherwise.

(3) The Association may also, at its sole discretion and without assumption of any ongoing duty to do so, pay any cybersecurity insurance obligations covered by a policy or endorsement of an insolvent company on behalf of a high net worth insured as defined in Section 13A(1). In that case, the Association shall recover from the high net worth insured under this section all amounts paid on its behalf, all allocated claim adjusted expenses related to such claims, the Association's attorney's fees, and all court costs in any action necessary to collect the full amount to the Association's reimbursement under this section.]

Drafting Note: Alternative 1 for Section 13B(3), would only be a consideration in states with a net worth exclusion.

[Alternative 2 for Section 13B

B. (1) The association shall not be obligated to pay any first party claims by a high net worth insured.

(2) Subject to Paragraph (3), the association shall not be obligated to pay any third party claim relating to a policy of a high net worth insured. This exclusion shall not apply to third party claims against the high net worth insured where:

(a) The insured has applied for or consented to the appointment of a receiver, trustee or liquidator for all or a substantial part of its assets;

(b) The insured has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, filed a petition or an answer seeking a reorganization or arrangement with creditors or to take advantage of any insolvency law; or

(c) An order, judgment, or decree is entered by a court of competent jurisdiction, on the application of a creditor, adjudicating the insured bankrupt or insolvent or approving a petition seeking reorganization of the insured or of all or substantial part of its assets.

(3) Paragraph (2) shall not apply to workers' compensation claims, personal injury protection claims, no-fault claims and any other claims for ongoing medical payments to third parties.

(4) The association shall have the right to recover from a high net worth insured all amounts paid by the association to or on behalf of such insured, whether for indemnity, covered policy benefits and services, defense or otherwise.

(5) The Association may also, at its sole discretion and without assumption of any ongoing duty to do so, pay any third-party claims or cybersecurity insurance obligations covered by a policy or endorsement of an insolvent company on behalf of a high net worth insured as defined in Section 13A(2). In that case, the Association shall recover from the high net worth insured under this section all amounts paid on its behalf, all allocated claim adjusted expenses related to such claims, the Association's attorney's fees, and all court costs in any action necessary to collect the full amount to the Association's reimbursement under this section.]

Drafting Note: Alternative 2 to Section 13B(5) would only be a consideration in states with a net worth exclusion.

[Alternative 3 for Section 13B

B. The association shall not be obligated to pay any first party claims by a high net worth insured.]

C. The association shall not be obligated to pay any claim that would otherwise be a covered claim that is an obligation to or on behalf of a person who has a net worth greater than that allowed by the insurance guaranty association law of the State of residence of the claimant at the time specified by that State's applicable law, and which association has denied coverage to that claimant on that basis.

D. The association shall establish reasonable procedures subject to the approval of the commissioner for requesting financial information from insureds on a confidential basis for purposes of applying this section, provided that the financial information may be shared with any other association similar to the association and the liquidator for the insolvent insurer on the same confidential basis. Any request to an insured seeking financial information must advise the insured of the consequences of failing to provide the financial information. If an insured refuses to provide the requested financial information where it is requested and available, the association may, until such time as the information is provided, provisionally deem the insured to be a high net worth insured for the purpose of denying a claim under Subsection B.

E. In any lawsuit contesting the applicability of this section where the insured has refused to provide financial information under the procedure established pursuant to Subsection D, the insured shall bear the burden of proof concerning its net worth at the relevant time. If the insured fails to prove that its net worth at the relevant time was less than the applicable amount, the court shall award the association its full costs, expenses and reasonable attorneys' fees in contesting the claim.

Section 14. Exhaustion of Other Coverage

A. (1) Any person having a claim against an insurer,, shall be required first to exhaust all coverage provided by any other policy, including the right to a defense under the other policy, if the claim under the other policy arises from the same facts, injury or loss that gave rise to the covered claim against the association. The requirement to exhaust shall apply without regard to whether the other insurance policy is a policy written by a member insurer. However, no person shall be required to exhaust any right under the policy of an insolvent insurer or any right under a life insurance policy.

(2) Any amount payable on a covered claim under this Act shall be reduced by the full applicable limits stated in the other insurance policy, or by the amount of the recovery under the other insurance policy as provided herein. The association shall receive a full credit for the stated limits, unless the claimant demonstrates that the claimant used reasonable efforts to exhaust all coverage and limits applicable under the other insurance policy. If the claimant demonstrates that the claimant used reasonable efforts to exhaust all coverage and limits applicable under the other insurance policy, or if there are no applicable stated limits under the policy, the association shall receive a full credit for the total recovery.

[Alternative 1 for Section 14A(2)(a)

(a) The credit shall be deducted from the lesser of:

(i) The association's covered claim limit;

(ii) The amount of the judgment or settlement of the claim; or

(iii) The policy limits of the policy of the insolvent insurer.]

[Alternative 2 for Section 14A(2)(a)

The credit shall be deducted from the lesser of:

(i) The amount of the judgment or settlement of the claim; or

(ii) The policy limits of the policy of the insolvent insurer.]

(b) In no case, however, shall the obligation of the association exceed the covered claim limit embodied in Section 8 of this Act.

(3) Except to the extent that the claimant has a contractual right to claim defense under an insurance policy issued by another insurer, nothing in this section shall relieve the association of the duty to defend under the policy issued by the insolvent insurer. This duty shall, however, be limited by any other limitation on the duty to defend embodied in this Act.

(4) A claim under a policy providing liability coverage to a person who may be jointly and severally liable as a joint tortfeasor with the person covered under the policy of the insolvent insurer that gives rise to the covered claim shall be considered to be a claim arising from the same facts, injury or loss that gave rise to the covered claim against the association.

(5) For purposes of this section, a claim under an insurance policy other than a life insurance policy shall include, but is not limited to:

(a) A claim against a health maintenance organization, a hospital plan corporation, a professional health service corporation or disability insurance policy; and

(b) Any amount payable by or on behalf of a self-insurer.

(6) The person insured by the insolvent insurer's policy may not be pursued by a third-party claimant for any amount paid to the third party by which the association's obligation is reduced by the application of this section.

B. Any person having a claim which may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured, except that if it is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location, the person shall seek recovery first from the association of the location of the property. If it is a workers' compensation claim, the person shall seek recovery first from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any recovery under this Act shall be reduced by the amount of recovery from another insurance guaranty association or its equivalent.

Drafting Note: This subsection does not prohibit recovery from more than one association, but it does describe the association to be approached first and then requires that any previous recoveries from like associations must be set off against recoveries from this association.

Section 15. Prevention of Insolvencies

To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies:

A. The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner on matters generally related to improving or enhancing regulation for solvency.

B. At the conclusion of any domestic insurer insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, the board of directors may, upon majority vote, prepare a report on the history and causes of the insolvency, based on the information available to the association and submit the report to the commissioner.

C. Reports and recommendations provided under this section shall not be considered public documents.

Section 16. Tax Exemption

The association shall be exempt from payment of all fees and all taxes levied by this State or any of its subdivisions except taxes levied on real or personal property.

Section 17. Recoupment of Assessments

Drafting Note: States may choose how they wish to allow member insurers to recoup assessments paid by selecting one of three alternatives for Section 17.

[Alternative 1 for Section 17

A. Except as provided in Subsection D, each member insurer shall annually recoup assessments it remitted in preceding years under Section 8. The recoupment shall be by means of a policyholder surcharge on premiums charged for all kinds of insurance in the accounts assessed. The surcharge shall be at a uniform percentage rate determined annually by the commissioner that is reasonably calculated to recoup the assessment remitted by the insurer, less any amounts returned to the member insurer by the association. Changes in this rate shall be effective no sooner than 180 days after insurers have received notice of the changed rate.

B. If a member insurer fails to recoup the entire amount of the assessment in the first year under this section, it shall repeat the surcharge procedure provided for herein in succeeding years until the assessment is fully recouped or a de minimis amount remains uncollected. Any such de minimis amount shall be collected as provided in Subsection D of this section. If a member insurer collects excess surcharges, the insurer shall remit the excess amount to the association, and the excess amount shall be applied to reduce future assessments in the appropriate account.

C. The amount and nature of any surcharge shall be separately stated on either a billing or policy declaration sent to an insured. The surcharge shall not be considered premium for any purpose, including the [insert all appropriate taxes] or agents' commission.

D. A member may elect not to collect the surcharge from its insureds only when the expense of collecting the surcharge would exceed the amount of the surcharge. In that case, the member shall recoup the assessment through its rates, provided that:

(1) The insurer shall be obligated to remit the amount of surcharge not collected by election under this subsection; and

(2) The last sentence in Subsection C above shall not apply.

E. In determining the rate under Subsection A for the first year of recoupment under this section, under rules prescribed by the commissioner, the commissioner shall provide for the recoupment in that year, or in such reasonable period as the commissioner may determine, of any assessments that have not been recouped as of that year. Insurers shall not be required to recoup assessments through surcharges under this section until 180 days after this section takes effect.]

[Alternative 2 for Section 17

A. Notwithstanding any provision of [insert citation to relevant tax and insurance codes] to the contrary, a member insurer may offset against its [insert all appropriate taxes] liability the entire amount of the assessment imposed under this Act at a rate of [insert number] percent per year for [insert number of years] successive years following the date of assessment. If the assessment is not fully recovered over the [insert number of years] period, the remaining unrecovered assessment may be claimed for subsequent calendar years until fully recovered.

Drafting Note: States may choose the number of years to allow an insurer to offset an assessment against the insurer's premium tax liability.

B. Any tax credit under this section shall, for the purposes of Section [insert citation to retaliatory tax statute] be treated as a tax paid both under the tax laws of this State and under the laws of any other State or country.

C. If a member insurer ceases doing business in this State, any uncredited assessment may be credited against its [insert all appropriate taxes] during the year it ceases doing business in this State.

D. Any sums that are acquired by refund from the association by member insurers and that have been credited against [insert all appropriate taxes], as provided in this section, shall be paid by member insurers to this State as required by the department. The association shall notify the department that the refunds have been made.]

[Alternative 3 for Section 17

The rates and premiums charged for insurance policies to which this section applies shall include amounts sufficient to recoup a sum equal to the amounts paid to the association by the member insurer less any amounts returned to the member insurer by the association. Rates shall not be deemed excessive because they contain an additional amount reasonably calculated to recoup all assessments paid by the member insurer.]

Section 18. Immunity

There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against a member insurer, the association or its agents or employees, the board of directors, or any person serving as an alternate or substitute representative of any director, or the commissioner or the commissioner's representatives for any action taken or any failure to act by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this Act

Section 19. Stay of Proceedings

All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party or is obligated to defend a party in any court in this State shall, subject to waiver by the association in specific cases involving covered claims, be stayed for six (6) months and such additional time as may be determined by the court from the date the insolvency is determined or an ancillary proceeding is instituted in the State, whichever is later, to permit proper defense by the association of all pending causes of action.

The liquidator, receiver or statutory successor of an insolvent insurer covered by this Act shall permit access by the board or its authorized representative to such of the insolvent insurer's records which are necessary for the board in carrying out its functions under this Act with regard to covered claims. In addition, the liquidator, receiver or statutory successor shall provide the board or its representative with copies of those records upon the request by the board and at the expense of the board.

PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY-2023

PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT (#540)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

Restructuring

In 2019, the Financial Condition (E) Committee formed the Restructuring Mechanisms (E) Working Group, which was charged with documenting the various issues related to insurance business transfers (IBT) and corporate division (CD) transactions in the form of a white paper. Included in the charge was to "[consider] the impact that a restructuring might have on guaranty associations and policyholders that had guaranty fund protection prior to the restructuring."

The proposed amendments to the Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act (#540) were precipitated by discussions within the Restructuring Mechanisms (E) Working Group's charge. The number of states adopting laws that permit either of these transactions is still relatively low. However, one of the most significant issues that had been discussed during the Working Group's meetings was the need for policyholders subject to such transactions to retain guaranty fund coverage. The National Conference of Insurance Guaranty Funds (NCIGF) representatives suggested that an amendment to a state's guaranty fund act, or other related law, is necessary to address this issue. They specifically suggested that the NAIC update Model #540, and they developed specific language to address this issue. An amendment to Model #540 will better enable states that have incorporated Model #540 into their laws to update their laws for this important issue, ensuring policyholders in all states retain their coverage. Because guaranty association coverage follows the state of licensure rather than the state of domicile, adequately addressing these concerns is necessary regardless of the type of transfer and how few states adopt changes to their laws to allow IBT and CD transactions.

It should be noted that with respect to guaranty fund coverage for life and health insurance, the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA) is suggesting a different approach to address the same issue in the life and health context. NOLHGA's proposal centers around the need for such transactions to require the assuming or resulting insurer to be licensed in all states where the issuing insurer was licensed or ever was licensed to retain the needed coverage for policyholders.

On March 28, 2022, the Restructuring Mechanisms (E) Working Group sent a referral to the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force to request amendments to Model #540.

The Executive (EX) Committee approved a Request for NAIC Model Law Development for amendments to Model #540 during the 2022 Summer National Meeting. The amendments are intended to preserve guaranty fund coverage for policyholders subject to insurance business transfers (IBT) and corporate divisions (CD) where the policyholder had guaranty fund coverage before the transaction.

Cybersecurity Insurance

In December 2022, NCIGF requested the Task Force amend Model #540 to ensure cybersecurity insurance policyholders in all states are provided with guaranty fund coverage for this trending line of business. According to NCIGF, cybersecurity insurance coverage is trending into the admitted market. Consequently, NCIGF anticipates the insurance insolvency resolution system will be presented with claims and other issues related to this coverage. These policy obligations may flow both from standalone cyber policies, endorsements, or from coverages that may be found to exist in commercial general liability and other lines of business typically written for business entities. For this reason, policymakers need to determine how such coverages will be handled should an insurer writing this business become insolvent.

The Executive (EX) Committee approved a separate Request for NAIC Model Law Development for additional amendments to Model #540 during the 2023 Spring National Meeting. The amendments will address clarifying guaranty association coverage of cybersecurity insurance.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Receivership Law (E) Working Group of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force was given the task of drafting the initial revisions to Model #540. The 2022 and 2023 members of the Working Group were Illinois (Co-Chair), Pennsylvania

(Co-Chair), Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, Puerto Rico, Texas, and Washington.

A drafting group was formed in November 2022 to review comments received on the first exposure draft of the restructuring amendments and to draft additional revisions. Members included Illinois, Maine, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Barbara F. Cox (Barbara F. Cox LLC), Roger Schmelzer (NCIGF), Rowe Snider (Locke Lord LLP), Stephen W. Schwab (DLA Piper LLP), and Patrick H. Cantilo (Cantilo and Bennett LLP).

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

As described, the initial charge prompting a review of Model #540 was given to the Receivership Law (E) Working Group at the 2022 Summer National Meeting. The two separate Requests for NAIC Model Law Development to open Model #540 for revision were adopted by the Executive (EX) Committee at the 2022 Summer National Meeting (restructuring) and the 2023 Summer National Meeting (cybersecurity insurance).

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., Drafted by a Subgroup, Interested Parties, the Full Group, etc.)—Include Any Parties Outside the Members That Participated

For both the restructuring and the cybersecurity insurance amendments, NCIGF proposed an initial draft of amendments to Model #540. As noted above, a drafting group was formed in November 2022 to review comments received on the first exposure draft of restructuring amendments and consider further edits to Model #540. Upon completion of the drafting group's efforts, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group exposed and addressed comments on both sets of amendments—restructuring and cybersecurity insurance.

After the adoption of the amendments by the Receivership Law (E) Working Group on July 24, 2023, on Aug. 14, 2023, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force exposed and considered subsequent edits to the amendments before adopting the amendments on Oct. 2, 2023.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., Exposure Periods, Public Hearings, or Any Other Means by Which Widespread Input From Industry, Consumers and Legislators Was Solicited)

On Sept. 14, 2022, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to expose proposed amendments to the definition of covered claims in Section 5 of Model #540 a 30-day public comment period ending Oct. 14, 2022. The initial draft of amendments was proposed by NCIGF. Comments were received from Robert Wake (ME).

On Nov. 7, 2022, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to discuss comments received. A drafting group was formed to review the comments on the restructuring amendments and to consider further edits to the Model #540 amendments.

Between January and May 2023, the drafting group met four times and had many email exchanges as they worked through different drafts. The drafting group determined it had reached a point where they needed the broader Receivership Law (E) Working Group's input before moving forward with a single version of the amendments. The drafting group delivered two versions of the amendments for restructuring, albeit each with multiple alternatives, as proposed by different members of the drafting group, to the Receivership Law (E) Working Group for consideration.

On May 23, 2023, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to consider the two versions of the amendments. After hearing presentations from the drafting group members and receiving summary explanations of each version, the Working group agreed to move forward with one version of the amendments. The amendments to Model #540 for restructuring were exposed for a 30-day comment period that ended June 23, 2023.

On May 23, 2023, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group exposed the draft amendments regarding guaranty fund coverage of cybersecurity insurance for a 30-day comment period that ended June 23, 2023.

Three comment letters were received on the exposure of restructuring amendments from Barbara F. Cox (Barbara F. Cox LLC) representing NCIGF, Patrick H. Cantilo (Cantilo and Bennett LLP), and Joseph Torti (Fairfax (US) Inc.). No comments were received on the cybersecurity insurance amendments.

On July 24, 2023, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group met in open session to consider comments received on the restructuring amendments. NAIC staff proposed non-substantive grammatical and formatting edits. The amendments were adopted by the Receivership Law (E) Working Group on July 24, 2023, by unanimous vote.

On Aug. 14, 2023, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task force met in option session at the Summer National Meeting. The Task Force heard comments from Barbara F. Cox (Barbara F. Cox LLC) representing NCIGF, Patrick H. Cantilo (Cantilo and Bennett LLP), and Joseph Torti (Fairfax (US) Inc.). The Task Force exposed the Model #540 amendments, including certain subsequent editorial clean-up revisions, for a 30-day public comment period ending Sept. 14.

On Oct. 2, 2023, the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task force met in option session on a virtual meeting to discuss comments on the exposure that were received from Dan Bumpus (VA), Robert Wake (ME), Roger Schmelzer (NCIGF), and Patrick H. Cantilo (Cantilo and Bennett LLP). No further changes were made. The amendments were adopted by the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force on Oct. 2, 2023, by unanimous vote.

All exposures were distributed by email to members, interested state insurance regulators, and interested parties of both the Receivership Law (E) Working Group and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force and were posted to the NAIC website.

All issues raised by members, interested state insurance regulators, and interested parties were discussed, explained, or addressed through revisions to the original proposed amendments.

The amendments were adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee on Oct. 25, 2023.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (Items of Some Controversy Raised During the Due Process and the Group's Response)

Amendments to the Assumed Claims Transaction Provisions in Model #540:

The Restructuring Mechanisms (E) Working Group referral on IBT and CD transactions that kicked off this project included initial draft language suggested by NCIGF specific to the definition of covered claims. During the initial exposure of that draft definition, concerns were raised that the proposed definition for expanding the definition of guaranty association covered claims did not fully address the issue of continuing coverage when a policy is transferred by assumption, rather IBT or CD; and that any amendments to preserve guaranty fund coverage for policyholders subject to IBT and CDs, should not be at the exclusion of preserving coverage for policyholders subject to other transfers, such as assumption transactions where business is transferred by non-guaranty association members, like a reciprocal, fraternal or trust, to GA member insurers. The amendment adopted by the Working Group and the Task Force is intended to preserve both through the new Section 5G(2) and the new optional Section 5G(3). Therefore, the Working Group and the Task Force believe it met the charge.

Two commenters disagreed with amending the provisions in Model #540 related to deleting the 2009 assumed claims transactions provision and one interested party proposed alternative language. Specifically, provisions in Section 5D, Section 5Q, and the alternatives in Section 8A(3) related to assumed claims transactions were deleted. A new Section 5G(2) was added to ensure that coverage is preserved if coverage existed before an IBT or CD transaction. Because this amendment is broad, it automatically includes common law novation and assumption reinsurance without stating those specifically. In drafting the new Sections 5G(2) and 5G(3), the Working Group understood that there may be some states that feel there is a need for coverage in certain situations where a non-member transfers claims to a member insurer when it is not clear whether the member insurer issued a replacement policy. A new Section 5G(3) was added as optional for those states that want to include assumed claims transaction language.

With regard to the optional Section 5G(3), while the 2009 amendments were proposed to be deleted, the optional language was added, in essence, to preserve the assumed claims transaction language for those states that still may want to consider proposing that coverage to their legislatures. It was noted that only three states have adopted the 2009 assumed claims transaction language. It was the belief of members of the Working Group that the new language in Section 5G(2) and the optional language in Sections 5G(3), 5K and 8A4 are more streamlined and consequently result in greater clarity between the two options, rather than simply adding 5G(2) while retaining the former definition of assumed claim transaction. They also felt that the new proposed language would fit better into the existing statutes of the 47 states that have not adopted the 2009 assumed claims transaction language. By making the replacement language in Section 5G(3) optional, it gives states two avenues to pursue. States can try to pass both Sections 5G(2) and 5G(3) through their legislatures or if they have significant legislative objection to 5G(3), they can propose 5G(2) to address specifically the IBT and CD coverage issue. Members did not agree that the interested party's proposal would sufficiently address the transfer of policyholders being discussed.

The issue was discussed by the drafting group, the Receivership Law (E) Working Group, and the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force.

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., Amending an Accreditation Standard).

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force has not had formal discussions with respect to whether the current Guaranty Association accreditation standard under the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program should be amended to include the current revision to Model #540. However, it should be noted that the accreditation standard for Model #540 is not a substantially similar standard. The Task Force will consider this and make appropriate referrals prior to the 2024 Spring National Meeting.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2009

PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION MODEL ACT (#540)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

Following the adoption of the revised Insurer Receivership Model Act in 2005, the Receivership and Insolvency Task Force realized revisions were necessary to update the guaranty association model acts for changes in the industry since 1996. The purpose of the Model is to provide a mechanism for the payment of covered claims under certain insurance policies, to avoid excessive delay in payment, and to the extent provided in the Model, minimize financial loss to claimants or policyholders because of the insolvency of an insurer, and to provide an association to assess the cost of such protection among insurers.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force was charged with updating the Post-Assessment Property and Liability Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act. The 2008 members of the Task Force that adopted the revisions to the Model in March 2008 were: Delaware (Chair at the time of adoption), Texas (Vice-Chair), Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Utah, and Washington.

The Task Force delegated the charge to its Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group. The 2006 members of the Working Group that adopted the proposed revisions to the Model during a October 27, 2006 conference call were: Pennsylvania (Chair), Arkansas, Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, and Utah.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

Following the adoption of the revised Insurer Receivership Model Act in 2005, the Receivership and Insolvency Task Force drafted a charge to develop revisions to the NAIC's two guaranty association model acts, which was approved by the Financial Condition (E) Committee. The Task Force then delegated the charge to its Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group, who first took up the Post Assessment Property and Liability Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act in late 2005.

During 2007, the NAIC created a new framework for considering and approving model law developments. The two factors necessary to receive authorization to continue drafting are: (1) whether the issue that is the subject of the model law necessitates a national standard and requires uniformity amongst all states; and (2) whether NAIC members are committed to devoting significant regulator and association resources to educate, communicate and support a model that has been adopted by the membership. Further drafting was suspended until the complete review and approval process was completed at the Task Force and parent committee levels.

On September 30, 2007, it was determined by the Executive (EX) Committee that the Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act met the criteria for development as a Model Act by NAIC.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process and Due Process

The Receivership Model Act Revision Working Group began working on the Post Assessment Property and Liability Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act in late 2005 and continued reviewing it through October 2006, with the active participation of interested parties, including guaranty funds, their associations, insurers, other industry groups and a number of experienced receivership contractors. The draft Model had also been widely distributed via e-mail to various interested parties for an opportunity to submit written comments in late 2005 and throughout 2006, as well as posted for comment on the NAIC's Working Group Web page. Interested parties that provided written comment include: Allstate, Cantilo & Bennett LLP, Frost Brown Todd LLC, NCIGF, NOLHGA, Puerto Rico Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association. Before the Working Group forwarded the proposed revisions to the Task Force, the Working Group decided during a September 11, 2006, meeting to provide additional guidance to the Task Force in the form of the Highlighted Issues memorandum. The memo was developed to make all participants aware of the Working Group's actions on the more controversial issues contained in the Model. During an October 27, 2006, call, the Working Group adopted the proposed revisions to go before the Task Force.

The Task Force provided an additional opportunity to address the issues in the Highlighted Issues memorandum, as well as other issues not discussed in the memo at the March 12, 2007, meeting. Interested parties that provided written comments include: AIA, Cantilo & Bennett LLP, Frost Brown Todd LLC, NCIGF, NOLHGA, and PCI. However, during a May 30, 2007, conference call, the Chair advised the Task Force that it would not be able to take a vote on the proposed revisions to the Model as in the interim the NAIC adopted a new model law process. The Task Force completed the appropriate review and paperwork according to the new process, which was subsequently exposed and adopted by E Committee. On September 30, 2007, the Executive (EX) Committee determined that the Model met the criteria for development as a Model Act.

During a November 28, 2007, conference call, the Task Force re-exposed the revised Model for comment to interested parties and regulators on issues that had not been previously submitted to the Task Force or Working Group. However, no new comments were received. During a March 30, 2008, meeting, the Task Force made amendments to some revisions initially proposed by the Working Group and then adopted a newly revised Model to be submitted to the Financial Condition (E) Committee.

On March 31, 2008, the Financial Condition (E) Committee received the Task Force's report and adopted a motion to expose the Model for comment. On May 23, 2008, an interim conference call took place to discuss interested party and regulator comments. A few proposed amendments to the proposed model regulation were submitted by regulators and adopted by the Financial Condition (E) Committee. In addition, the newly revised Model was adopted by the Committee.

5. A Discussion of the Significant Issues

The following significant issues were discussed by the Receivership Model Act Revision Working Group and Receivership and Insolvency Task Force:

Purpose and Construction
Section 2 and 4 of the current model was deleted from the proposed model by the Working Group based on concerns that the clauses have, in some cases, expanded the coverages provided by the guaranty associations. Two roll call votes were taken on this section by the Working Group. On December 3, 2005, the vote was 5-7 in favor of retaining the section. On May 25, 2006, the vote was 6-4 in favor of deleting it. On March 30, 2008, the Task Force voted 13-7 in favor of retaining Section 2 and 4 with comments from regulators suggesting that the aforementioned problems arose from specific issues with judges.

Assumption of business from unlicensed carriers
Under the current model, policies assumed from an unlicensed carrier are not included within the definition of covered claims for the guaranty association. On May 9, 2006, by a vote of 7-4, these policies were included as covered claims by the Working Group. On March 30, 2008, the Task Force voted 11-9 in favor of excluding assumption of business from unlicensed carriers from the definition of covered claims.

Policy protection claims by insureds
On August 31, 2006, a motion to remove the exclusion of claims based on IBNR from the definition of "Covered Claims" (§ 3H(2)(j)), was defeated by a vote of 8-6. Due to lack of a motion, the Task Force did not consider this issue.

Coverage limits
On January 17, 2006, a straw vote was taken to determine if there was a consensus on changing the process for determining the coverage limit. Three members favored a fixed $500,000 cap, three favored an adjustable cap starting at $500,000, two favored an adjustable cap, and other members were opposed to any change. Because there was no consensus for a change, a fixed cap of $500,000 was presented and adopted by voice vote in § 6A(1)(a)(iii). Due to lack of a motion, the Task Force did not consider this issue.

Claims bar date
On February 7, 2006, a 25-month claims bar date was established in § 6A(1)(b) by a vote of 7-2 with one abstention by the Working Group. On August 31, 2006, the issue was reconsidered, and the 25-month bar date was deleted by a vote of 8-5 with one abstention by the Working Group. The language in the proposed Model requires the guaranty fund bar date to be the same as the estate bar date. The Working Group reached this conclusion in order to avoid confusion. Due to lack of a motion, the Task Force did not consider this issue.

Receiver bound by GA claims determination.
On March 4, 2006, a motion to delete § 10C entirely was defeated 9-7 by the Working Group. A subsequent motion to delete only the last sentence of the subsection passed by a vote of 10-5 by the Working Group, so the Act is silent with regard to whether the receiver would be bound by the guaranty association claim determination. On March 30, 2008, a motion to restore the language failed with a Task Force vote of 8 to 12.

Net worth exclusion.
During several meetings in June 2006, the Working Group discussed and approved each subsection of § 11. On July 11, 2006, this section was accepted by the Working Group as an optional section by a vote of 5-4 with one abstention. On July 18, 2006, a motion to reconsider the earlier vote was defeated by a vote of 8-4 by the Working Group; therefore, this section as drafted is included as optional. Though already enacted in some form in 35 states according to NCIGF, the existence and operation of the high net worth exclusion is still highly controversial. Due to lack of a motion, the Task Force did not consider this issue.

Immunity
On May 25, 2006, by a vote of 6-4, the Working Group adopted a revised version of § 16 on immunity of the guaranty association, its staff, members, directors, and the receiver and its staff. The immunity section in the prior model was substantially unlimited other than as it was interpreted by the courts. The new version of the provision removes immunity for the association for tort claims and for contract claims arising out of its statutory obligations. On March 30, 2008, the Task Force voted in favor of deleting the Working Group's revision given representations from NCIGF that the language is not necessary given the long-standing case law and adding the language could create some ambiguity and litigation.

6. Any Other Important Information

As the Part A. Laws and Regulations of the NAIC Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program only requires a regulatory framework such as contained in the NAIC's model acts on guaranty funds, the newly revised Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act should not require a request to the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee to amend an accreditation standard.

INSURER RECEIVERSHIP MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

ARTICLE I. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 101. Construction and Purpose

A. This Act shall be cited as the Insurer Receivership Act.

B. This Act shall not be interpreted to limit the powers granted the commissioner by other provisions of the law.

C. This Act shall be liberally construed to support the purposes stated in Subsection E.

D. All powers and authority of a receiver under this Act are cumulative and are in addition to all powers and authority that are available to a receiver under law other than this Act.

E. The purpose of this Act is the protection of the interests of insureds, claimants, creditors and the public generally through:

(1) Early detection of any potentially hazardous condition in an insurer and prompt application of appropriate corrective measures;

(2) Improved methods for conserving and rehabilitating insurers;

(3) Enhanced efficiency and economy of liquidation, through clarification of the law, to minimize legal uncertainty and litigation;

(4) Apportionment of any unavoidable loss in accordance with the statutory priorities set out in this Act;

(5) Lessening the problems of interstate receivership by facilitating cooperation among states in delinquency proceedings, and by extending the scope of personal jurisdiction over debtors of the insurer outside this state;

(6) Regulation of the business of insurance by the impact of the law relating to delinquency procedures and related substantive rules; and

(7) Providing for a comprehensive scheme for the receivership of insurance companies and those subject to this Act as part of the regulation of the business of insurance in this state. Proceedings in cases of insurer insolvency and delinquency are deemed an integral aspect of the business of insurance and are of vital public interest and concern.

Section 102. Conflicts of Law

This Act, Title [XXX], and the state insurance guaranty association acts constitute this state's insurer receivership laws, and these laws shall be construed together in a manner that is consistent. In the event of a conflict between the insurer receivership laws and the provisions of any other law, the insurer receivership laws shall prevail.

Section 103. Persons Covered

The provisions of this Act shall be applied to:

A. All insurers who are doing, or have done, an insurance business in this state, and against whom claims arising from that business may exist now or in the future, and to all persons subject to examination by the commissioner;

B. All insurers who purport to do an insurance business in this state;

C. All insurers who have insureds resident in this state;

D. All other persons organized or doing insurance business, or in the process of organizing with the intent to do insurance business in this state;

E. All nonprofit service plans and all fraternal benefit societies and beneficial societies subject to [insert statute identification if desired];

F. All title insurance companies subject to [insert statute identification if desired];

G. All prepaid health care delivery plans [insert statute identification if desired]; and

H. [Any other specialty type insurer not covered by the general law that should be subject to this Act].

Drafting Note: In considering other specialty type insurers, special attention should be given to surety companies. They are intended to be included under this Act; but, because of the enacting state's law, may not be included in the general provisions related to the business of insurance.

Section 104. Definitions

For the purposes of this Act:

A The terms "affiliate" of, or person "affiliated" with, a specific person, "control" and "subsidiary" shall have the meanings ascribed to them in [insert citation equivalent to Section 1 of the NAIC Model Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Act].

B. "Alien insurer" means an insurer incorporated or organized under the laws of a jurisdiction that is not a state.

C. "Commissioner" means the insurance commissioner [or the equivalent title, such as director or superintendent, utilized by the enacting state] of this state, or his or her designee, unless the context requires otherwise.

D. "Creditor" or "claimant" is a person having any claim against an insurer, whether the claim is matured or not, liquidated or unliquidated, secured or unsecured, absolute, fixed or contingent.

E. "Delinquency proceeding" means any proceeding instituted against an insurer for the purpose of liquidating, rehabilitating or conserving the insurer, and any summary proceeding under Section 201.

F. "Department" means the Insurance Department of this state unless the context requires otherwise.

G. "Doing business" (including "doing insurance business" and the "business of insurance") includes, but is not limited to, any of the following acts, whether effected by mail, electronic means, or otherwise:

(1) The issuance or delivery of contracts, certificates or binders of insurance, either to persons resident in or covering a risk located in this state;

(2) The solicitation of applications for the contracts, or other negotiations preliminary to the execution of the contracts;

(3) The collection of premiums, membership fees, assessments or other consideration for the contracts;

(4) The transaction of matters subsequent to execution of the contracts and arising out of them;

(5) Operating as an insurer under a license or certificate of authority issued by the Insurance Department; or

(6) The acts identified in [cite to state unauthorized insurance act].

H. "Domiciliary state" means the state in which an insurer is incorporated or organized; or, in the case of an alien insurer, its state of entry. In the case of a risk retention group, the domiciliary state shall be the state in which the risk retention group is chartered as contemplated in the Liability Risk Retention Act (15 U.S.C. § 3901, et seq).

I. "Foreign insurer" means any insurer domiciled in another state.

J. "Formal delinquency proceeding" means any conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation proceeding.

K. (1) "General assets" includes all property of the estate that is not:

(a) Subject to a properly perfected secured claim;

(b) Subject to a valid and existing express trust for the security or benefit of specified persons or classes of persons; or

(c) Required by the insurance laws of this state or any other state to be held for the benefit of specified persons or classes of persons.

(2) "General assets" includes all property of the estate or its proceeds in excess of the amount necessary to discharge claims described in Paragraph (1) of this subsection.

L. "Good faith" means honesty in fact and intention, and in regard to the provisions of Article VI of this Act also requires the absence of information that would lead a reasonable person in the same position to know that the insurer is financially impaired or insolvent, together with the absence of knowledge regarding the imminence or pendency of any delinquency proceeding against the insurer.

M. "Guaranty association" means any mechanism mandated by [insert citation to guaranty association enabling acts] or a similar mechanism in another state, which is created for the payment of claims or continuation of policy obligations of financially impaired or insolvent insurers.

N. "Impaired" means that the insurer does not have admitted assets at least equal to all its liabilities together with the minimum surplus required to be maintained by [cite states insurance statutes and regulations regarding minimum capital and surplus requirements] or has a total adjusted capital that is less than its Authorized Control Level Risk Based Capital (RBC) as defined in [cite to states enactments related to the RBC Model Act, Risk RBC For Health Organizations Model Act and any related regulations].

O. "Insolvency" or "insolvent" means the insurer is unable to pay its obligations when they are due or does not have admitted assets at least equal to all its liabilities or has a total adjusted capital that is less than its Mandatory Control Level RBC as defined in [cite to state's enactments related to the RBC Model Act, RBC For Health Organizations Model Act and any related regulations]. For purposes of this Act "admitted assets" and "liabilities" will have the meanings ascribed to them and be measured in accordance with the NAIC Statements of Statutory Accounting Principles as incorporated in this state by [cite state's insurance statute incorporating the NAIC Statements of Statutory Accounting Principles].

P. "Insurer" means any person who has done, purports to do, is doing or is licensed to do the business of insurance, or is or has been subject to the authority of, or to liquidation, rehabilitation, reorganization, supervision or conservation by, any insurance commissioner. For purposes of this Act, any other persons included under Section 103 shall be deemed to be insurers.

Q. "Netting agreement" means (1) a contract or agreement (including terms and conditions incorporated by reference therein), including a master agreement (which master agreement, together with all schedules, confirmations, definitions and addenda thereto and transactions under any thereof, shall be treated as one netting agreement), that documents one or more transactions between the parties to the agreement for or involving one or more qualified financial contracts and that provides for the netting, liquidation, setoff, termination, acceleration or close out under or in connection with one or more qualified financial contracts or present or future payment or delivery obligations or payment or delivery entitlements thereunder (including liquidation or close-out values relating to such obligations or entitlements) among the parties to the netting agreement; (2) any master agreement or bridge agreement for one or more master agreements described in Paragraph (1) of this subsection; or (3) any security agreement or arrangement or other credit enhancement or guarantee or reimbursement obligation related to any contract or agreement described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection; provided that any contract or agreement described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection relating to agreements or transactions that are not qualified financial contracts shall be deemed to be a netting agreement only with respect to those agreements or transactions that are qualified financial contracts.

R. "New value" means money or money's worth in goods, services or new credit, or release by a transferee of property previously transferred to the transferee in a transaction that is neither void nor voidable by the insurer or the receiver under any applicable law, including proceeds of the property, but does not include an obligation substituted for an existing obligation.

S. "Party in interest" means the commissioner, any non-domiciliary commissioner in whose state the insurer has outstanding claims liabilities, and any of the following parties that have filed a request with the receivership court for inclusion as a party in interest and to be on the service list: an insurer that ceded to or assumed business from the insurer, a policyholder, a third party claimant, a creditor, a ten percent (10%) or greater equity security holder in the insolvent insurer, any affected guaranty association and any person, including any indenture trustee, with a financial or regulatory interest in the delinquency proceeding.

T. "Person" means individual, aggregation of individuals, partnership, corporation or other entity.

U. "Policy" means a written contract of insurance or written agreement for or effecting insurance, or the certificate thereof, by whatever name called, and includes all clauses, riders, endorsements and papers that are a part of the policy. For purposes of this Act, the term "policy" shall not include a contract of reinsurance.

V. "Property of the insurer" or "property of the estate" includes:

(1) All right, title and interest of the insurer in property, whether legal or equitable, tangible or intangible, choate or inchoate, and includes choses in action, contract rights, and any other interest recognized under the laws of this state;

(2) Entitlements that existed prior to the entry of an order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation, and entitlements that may arise by operation of the provisions of this part or other provisions of law allowing the receiver to avoid prior transfers or assert other rights; and

(3) All records and data that are otherwise the property of the insurer, in whatever form maintained, including, but not limited to, claims and claim files, policyholder lists, application files, litigation files, premium records, rate books, underwriting manuals, personnel records, financial records or similar records within the possession, custody or control of a managing general agent, third-party administrator, management company, data processing company, accountant, attorney, affiliate or other person.

W. "Qualified financial contract" means any commodity contract, forward contract, repurchase agreement, securities contract, swap agreement and any similar agreement that the commissioner determines by regulation, resolution or order to be a qualified financial contract for the purposes of this Act.

(1) "Commodity contract" means:

(a) A contract for the purchase or sale of a commodity for future delivery on, or subject to the rules of, a board of trade or contract market under the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. § 1, et seq.) or a board of trade outside the United States;

(b) An agreement that is subject to regulation under Section 19 of the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. § 1, et seq.) and that is commonly known to the commodities trade as a margin account, margin contract, leverage account or leverage contract;

(c) An agreement or transaction that is subject to regulation under Section 4c(b) of the Commodity Exchange Act (7 U.S.C. § 1, et seq.) and that is commonly known to the commodities trade as a commodity option;

(d) Any combination of the agreements or transactions referred to in this paragraph; or

(e) Any option to enter into an agreement or transaction referred to in this paragraph.

(2) "Forward contract," "repurchase agreement," "securities contract" and "swap agreement" shall have the meanings set forth in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. § 1821(e)(8)(D), as amended from time to time.

Drafting Note: This definition of "qualified financial contract" is intended to be consistent with definitions applicable under federal law in instances of insolvency of other types of financial institutions. It is not the intention of this provision, or of Section 711, to affect the scope of permissible investments of insurers or the valuation thereof, or to modify any other regulatory framework applicable to investments or investment practices of insurers.

X. "Receiver" means liquidator, rehabilitator, conservator or ancillary receiver, as the context requires.

Y. "Receivership" means any liquidation, rehabilitation, conservation or ancillary receivership, as the context requires.

Z. "Receivership court" refers to the court [may insert specific court] in which a delinquency proceeding is pending, unless the context requires otherwise.

AA. "Reinsurance" means transactions or contracts whereby an assuming insurer agrees to indemnify a ceding insurer against all, or a part, of any loss that the ceding insurer may sustain under the policy or policies that it has issued or will issue.

BB. "Secured claim" means a claim secured by an asset that is not a general asset, but not including special deposit claims or a claim based on mere possession. The right to set off as provided in Section 609 shall be a secured claim. A secured claim shall not include any claim arising from a constructive or resulting trust.

CC. "Special deposit" means a deposit established pursuant to statute for the security or benefit of a limited class or classes of persons.

DD. "Special deposit claim" means any claim secured by a special deposit, but does not include any claim secured by the general assets of the insurer.

EE. "State" means any state, district or territory of the United States.

FF. "Transfer" shall include the sale and every other and different mode, direct or indirect, of disposing of or of parting with property or with an interest therein, including a setoff, or with the possession thereof or of fixing a lien upon property or upon an interest therein, absolutely or conditionally, voluntarily or involuntarily, by or without judicial proceedings. The retention of a security title in property delivered to an insurer and foreclosure of the insurer's equity of redemption shall be deemed a transfer suffered by the insurer.

GG. "Unauthorized insurer" means an insurer transacting the business of insurance in this state that has not received a Certificate of Authority from this state, or some other type of authority that allows for the transaction of the business of insurance in this state.

Section 105. Jurisdiction and Venue

A. No delinquency proceeding under this Act shall be commenced by a person other than the commissioner of this state and no court shall have jurisdiction to entertain, hear or determine any delinquency proceeding commenced by any other person.

B. No court of this state shall have jurisdiction to entertain, hear or determine any complaint praying for the liquidation, rehabilitation, seizure, sequestration, conservation or receivership of any insurer, or praying for a stay or injunction or restraining order or other relief preliminary to, incidental to or relating to the proceedings other than in accordance with this Act.

C. The receivership court shall, as of the commencement of a delinquency proceeding under this Act, have exclusive jurisdiction of all property of the insurer, wherever located, including property located outside the territorial limits of the state. The receivership court shall have original but not exclusive jurisdiction of all civil proceedings arising under this Act or arising in or related to delinquency proceedings under this Act.

D. In addition to other grounds for jurisdiction provided by the law of this state, a court of this state having jurisdiction of the subject matter has jurisdiction over a person served pursuant to the [insert citation to state rules of civil procedure] or other applicable provisions of law in an action brought by the receiver:

(1) If the person served is or has been an agent, broker or other person who has at any time written policies of insurance for or has acted in any manner whatsoever on behalf of an insurer against which a delinquency proceeding has been instituted, in any action resulting from or incident to such a relationship with the insurer;

(2) If the person served is or has been an insurer or reinsurer who has at any time entered into a contract of reinsurance with an insurer against which a delinquency proceeding has been instituted, or is an intermediary, agent or broker of or for the reinsurer, or with respect to the contract, in any action on or incident to the reinsurance contract;

(3) If the person served is or has been an officer, director, manager, trustee, organizer, promoter or other person in a position of comparable authority or influence over an insurer against which a delinquency proceeding has been instituted, in any action resulting from or incident to such a relationship with the insurer;

(4) If the person served is or was at the time of the institution of the delinquency proceeding against the insurer holding assets in which the receiver claims an interest on behalf of the insurer, in any action concerning the assets; or

(5) If the person served is obligated to the insurer in any way whatsoever, in any action on or incident to the obligation.

E. If the receivership court on motion of any party finds that any action should as a matter of substantial justice be tried in a forum outside this state, the receivership court may enter an appropriate order to stay further proceedings on the action in this state. Except as to claims against the estate and in regard to any contracts rejected by the receiver under Section 114, nothing in this Act shall deprive a reinsurer of any contractual right to pursue arbitration. A party in arbitration may bring a claim or counterclaim against the estate, but the claim or counterclaim shall be subject to this Act.

F. Service shall be made upon the person named in the petition in accordance with the [insert state] Rules of Civil Procedure. In lieu of such service, upon application to the receivership court, service may be made in such a manner as the receivership court directs whenever it is satisfactorily shown by affidavit:

(1) In the case of a corporation, that the officers of the corporation cannot be served because they have departed from the state or have otherwise concealed themselves with intent to avoid service;

(2) In the case of an insurer whose business is conducted, at least in part, by an attorney in fact, managing general agent, or other such entity (including but not limited to, a reciprocal, Lloyd's association or inter-insurance exchange), that the individual attorney-in-fact, managing general agent, or other such entity, or its officers of the corporate attorney-in-fact cannot be served because of their departure or concealment; or

(3) In the case of a natural person, that the person cannot be served because of the person's departure or concealment.

G. All actions herein authorized shall be brought in the [identify proper court].

Drafting Note: Each state will need to consider the appropriate court and county for delinquency proceedings under this Act. In general, the venue is more appropriate if it is in the county where the office of the insurance commissioner is located. This assures expeditious and expert handling by concentrating these cases in the court with the most experience with regulatory affairs of all kinds, including insurance. An option could also be provided in the county where the principal office of the insurer is located.

H. At any time after an order is entered pursuant to Section 201, 301, 401 or 501, the commissioner or receiver may transfer the case to the county of the principal office of the person proceeded against. In the event of transfer, the court in which the proceeding was commenced shall, upon application of the commissioner or receiver, direct its clerk to transmit the court's file to the clerk of the court to which the case is to be transferred. The proceeding shall thereafter be conducted in the same manner as if it had been commenced in the court to which the matter is transferred.

I. [Alternative 1] No person shall be allowed to intervene in any liquidation proceeding in this state for the purpose of seeking or obtaining payment of any judgment, lien or other claim of any kind. The claims procedure set forth in this Act constitutes the exclusive means for obtaining payment of claims from the liquidation estate. Upon application to and approval by the receivership court, any guaranty association or its designated representative may intervene as a party and appear and participate in any court proceeding concerning a liquidation proceeding against an insurer if the association is or may become liable to act as a result of the liquidation proceeding. Intervention by any guaranty association or its designated representative conferred under this subsection shall not constitute grounds to establish general personal jurisdiction by the courts of this state. The intervening guaranty association or its designated representative shall be subject to the receivership court's jurisdiction for the limited purpose for which it intervenes.

[Alternative 2] No person shall be allowed to intervene in any liquidation proceeding in this state for the purpose of seeking or obtaining payment of any judgment, lien or other claim of any kind. The claims procedure set forth in this Act constitutes the exclusive means for obtaining payment of claims from the liquidation estate. Any guaranty association or its designated representative may intervene as a party as a matter of right and otherwise appear and participate in any court proceeding concerning a liquidation proceeding against an insurer if the association is or may become liable to act as a result of the liquidation proceeding. Intervention by any guaranty association or its designated representative conferred under this subsection shall not constitute grounds to establish general personal jurisdiction by the courts of this state. The intervening guaranty association or its designated representative shall be subject to the receivership court's jurisdiction for the limited purpose for which it intervenes.

[Alternative 3] No person shall be allowed to intervene in any liquidation proceeding in this state for the purpose of seeking or obtaining payment of any judgment, lien or other claim of any kind. The claims procedure set forth in this Act constitutes the exclusive means for obtaining payment of claims from the liquidation estate.

Drafting Note: States may choose Alternative 1, 2 or 3 for Subsection I depending on the ability of guaranty associations to intervene in liquidation proceedings. Alternative 1 permits guaranty associations to intervene for a limited purpose upon application to and approval by the receivership court. Alternative 2 permits intervention by guaranty associations as a matter of right, upon application to and approval by the receivership court. Alternative 3 is silent as to guaranty associations and contains the same general prohibition on intervention in liquidation proceedings as Alternatives 1 and 2.

J. The foregoing provisions of this section notwithstanding, the provisions of this Act do not confer jurisdiction on the receivership court to resolve coverage disputes between guaranty associations and those asserting claims against them resulting from the initiation of a receivership proceeding under this Act except to the extent that the guaranty association has otherwise expressly consented to the jurisdiction of the receivership court pursuant to a plan of rehabilitation or liquidation that resolves its obligations to covered policyholders. The determination of any dispute with respect to the statutory coverage obligations of any guaranty association by a court or administrative agency or body with jurisdiction in the guaranty association's state of domicile shall be binding and conclusive as to the guaranty association's claim in the liquidation proceeding.

K. Upon the request of the receiver the receivership court [or a chief administrative judge] may order that one judge hear all cases and controversies arising out of or related to the delinquency proceeding.

L. Delinquency proceedings shall be exempt from any dormancy or similar program maintained for the early closure of civil actions.

Section 106. Exemption from Fees

The receiver shall not be required to pay any filing, recording, transcript or authentication fee to any public officer in this state.

Section 107. Notice and Hearing on Matters Submitted by the Receiver for Receivership Court Approval

A. Upon written request to the receiver, a person shall be placed on the service list to receive notice of matters filed by the receiver. It shall be the responsibility of the person requesting notice to inform the receiver in writing of any changes in his or her address, or to request that his or her name be deleted from the service list. The receiver may require that the persons on the service list provide confirmation that they wish to remain on the service list. Any person who fails to confirm his or her intent to remain on the service list may be purged from the service list. Inclusion on the service list does not confer standing in the delinquency proceeding to raise, appear or be heard on any issue.

B. Except as otherwise provided by this Act, notice and hearing of any matter submitted by the receiver to the receivership court for approval under this Act shall be conducted as follows:

(1) The receiver shall file an application explaining the proposed action, and the basis therefore. The receiver may include any evidence in support of the application. If the receiver determines that any documents supporting the application are confidential, the receiver may submit them to the receivership court under seal for in camera inspection.

(2) The receiver shall provide notice of the application to all persons on the service list and any other parties as determined by the receiver. Notice may be provided by first class mail postage paid, electronic mail, or facsimile transmission, at the receiver's discretion. For purposes of this section, notice is deemed to be given on the date that it is deposited with the U.S. Postmaster or transmitted, as applicable, to the last known address as shown on the service list.

(3) Any party in interest objecting to the application shall file an objection specifying the grounds therefore within [insert number] days or such longer time as the court may specify of the notice of the filing of the application or such other time as the receivership court may set and shall serve copies on the receiver and any other persons served with the application within the same time period. An objecting party shall have the burden of showing why the receivership court should not authorize the proposed action.

Drafting Note: Number of days for filing objections should be consistent with the state civil procedure or receivership practice.

(4) If no objection to the application is timely filed, the receivership court may enter an order approving the application without a hearing, or hold a hearing to determine if the receiver's application should be approved. The receiver may request that the receivership court enter an order or hold a hearing on an expedited basis.

(5) If an objection is timely filed, the receivership court may hold a hearing. If the receivership court approves the application and, upon a motion by the receiver, determines that the objection was frivolous or filed merely for delay or for other improper purpose, the receivership court shall order the objecting party to pay the receiver's reasonable costs and fees of defending the action.

Drafting Note: States may utilize the term application, petition, motion or such other term that is considered appropriate in their state. The state may also incorporate its procedures under its civil rules for the briefing and hearing of applications. "Petition" should be reserved for the initiation of delinquency proceedings.

Section 108. Injunctions and Orders

A. The receivership court may issue any order, process or judgment, including stays or injunctions or other orders necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this Act or an approved rehabilitation plan.

B. No provision of this Act shall be construed to limit the ability of the receiver to apply to a court other than the receivership court in any jurisdiction to carry out any provision of this Act or for the purpose of pursuing claims against any person.

C. Except as provided in Subsections E and F or as otherwise provided in this Act the commencement of a delinquency proceeding under this Act operates as a stay, applicable to all persons, of:

(1) The commencement or continuation, including the issuance or employment of process, of a judicial, administrative or other action or proceeding against the insurer, including an arbitration proceeding, that was or could have been commenced before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act, or to recover a claim against the insurer that arose before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act;

(2) The enforcement against the insurer or against property of the insurer of a judgment obtained before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act;

(3) Any act to obtain or retain possession of property of the insurer or of property from the insurer or to exercise control over property or records of the insurer;

(4) Any act to create, perfect or enforce any lien against property of the insurer;

(5) Any act to collect, assess or recover a claim against the insurer that arose before the commencement of a delinquency proceeding under this Act;

(6) The commencement or continuation of an action or proceeding against a reinsurer of the insurer, by the holder of a claim against the insurer, seeking reinsurance recoveries that are contractually due to the insurer;

(7) The commencement or continuation of an action or proceeding by a governmental unit to terminate or revoke an insurance license; and

(8) Termination, failure to renew, suspension of performance, declaration of default, demand for additional, substitute, or replacement security or performance, or other adverse action, with respect to any contract, agreement, or lease (including but not limited to policies, insurance and reinsurance contracts, surety bonds, or surety undertakings), whether or not the insurer is a party to the contract, agreement, lease, policy, bond, or undertaking, if the sole basis for the termination, failure to renew, suspension of performance, declaration of default, demand for additional, substitute, or replacement security or performance, or other adverse action is (i) the fact that the insurer is the subject of delinquency proceedings, and/or (ii) the fact that one or more of the insurer's licenses have been suspended or revoked because the insurer is the subject of delinquency proceedings.

D. Except as provided in Subsections E and F or as otherwise provided in this Act, the commencement of a delinquency proceeding under this Act operates as a stay, applicable to all persons, of the commencement or continuation, including the issuance or employment of process, of a judicial, administrative or other action or proceeding, including without limitation the enforcement of any judgment, against any insured that was or could have been commenced before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act, or to recover a claim against the insured that arose before or after the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act and for which the insurer is or may be liable under a policy of insurance or is obligated to defend a party. The stay provided by this subsection shall terminate ninety (90) days after appointment of the receiver unless extended by order of the receivership court, for good cause shown, after notice to any affected parties and such hearing as the receivership court determines is appropriate; provided, however, that any applicable statute of limitation with respect to any claim against an insured shall be tolled during the period of the stay provided by this subsection and any extensions.

E. Notwithstanding Subsection C, the commencement of a delinquency proceeding under this Act does not operate as a stay or prohibition of:

(1) Except as provided in Subsection C(7), regulatory actions by the commissioners of non-domiciliary states, including, but not limited to the suspension of licenses;

(2) Criminal actions;

(3) Any act to perfect, or to maintain or continue the perfection of, an interest in property to the extent the act is accomplished within any relation back period under applicable law;

(4) Setoff as permitted by Section 609;

(5) Pursuit and enforcement of non-monetary governmental claims, judgments and proceedings;

(6) Presentment of a negotiable instrument and the giving of notice of and protesting dishonor of the instrument;

(7) Enforcement of rights against single beneficiary trusts established pursuant to and in compliance with [cite to the credit for reinsurance law];

(8) Any right to cause the netting, liquidation, setoff, termination, acceleration or close out of obligations, or enforcement of any security agreement or arrangement or other credit enhancement or guarantee or reimbursement obligation, under or in connection with any netting agreement or qualified financial contract as provided for in Section 711;

(9) Discharge by the guaranty association of statutory responsibilities under any applicable guaranty association act; or

(10) Any of the following actions:

(a) An audit by a governmental unit to determine tax liability;

(b) The issuance to the insurer by a governmental unit of a notice of tax deficiency;

(c) A demand for tax returns; or

(d) The making of an assessment for any tax and issuance of a notice and demand for payment of the assessment.

F. Except as provided in Subsection H:

(1) The stay of an act against property of the insurer under Subsection C continues until the property is no longer property of the receivership estate;

(2) The stay of any other act under Subsection C continues until the earlier of:

(a) The time the delinquency proceeding is closed; or

(b) The time the delinquency proceeding is dismissed.

G. Notwithstanding the provision of Subsection C, but only to the extent not inconsistent with Section 609, claims against the insurer that arose before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act may be asserted as a counterclaim in any judicial, administrative or other action or proceeding initiated by or on behalf of the receiver against the holder of the claims.

H. On request of a party in interest and after notice and such hearing as the receivership court determines appropriate, the receivership court may grant relief from the stay of Subsections C or D, such as by terminating, annulling, modifying or conditioning the stay:

(1) For cause; or

(2) With respect to a stay of an act against property under Subsection C if:

(a) The insurer does not have any equity in the property; and

(b) The property is not necessary to an effective plan.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "cause" includes, but is not limited to, if (a) the receiver cancels a policy, a surety bond, or a surety undertaking, and (b) the creditor is entitled, by contract or law, to require the insured or the principal to have a policy, a surety bond, or a surety undertaking, and (c) the insured or the principal fails to obtain a replacement policy, surety bond, or surety undertaking within the later of thirty (30) days from the date of cancellation or the time permitted by contract or law.

I. In any hearing under Subsection H, the party seeking relief from the stay shall have the burden of proof on each issue, which shall be established by clear and convincing evidence.

J. The estate of an insurer that is injured by any willful violation of a stay provided by this section shall be entitled to actual damages, including costs and attorneys' fees, and, in appropriate circumstances, the receivership court may impose additional sanctions.

K. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no bond shall be required of the commissioner or receiver in relation to any stay or injunction under this section.

Section 109. Statutes of Limitation

A. If applicable law, an order, or an agreement fixes a period within which the insurer may commence an action, and this period has not expired before the date of the filing of the initial petition in a delinquency proceeding, the receiver shall not by reason thereof be barred from commencing such an action if the receiver does so on or before the later of:

(1) The end of the period, including any suspension of the period occurring on or after the filing of the initial petition in a delinquency proceeding; or

(2) Four (4) years after the entry of the most recent receivership order.

B. Except as provided in Subsection A, if applicable law, an order or an agreement fixes a period within which the insurer may file any pleading, demand, notice, or proof of claim or loss, or cure a default in a case or proceeding, or perform any other similar act, and the period has not expired before the date of the filing of the petition initiating formal delinquency proceedings, the receiver shall not by reason thereof be barred from filing, curing or performing, as the case may be, if the receiver does so on or before the later of:

(1) The end of the period, including any suspension of the period occurring on or after the filing of the initial petition in a delinquency proceeding; or

(2) Sixty (60) days after the entry of the most recent receivership order.

C. If applicable law, an order or an agreement fixes a period for commencing or continuing a civil action in a court other than the receivership court on a claim against the insurer, and the period has not expired before the date of the filing of the initial petition in a delinquency proceeding, then the period does not expire until the later of:

(1) The end of the period, including any suspension of the period occurring on or after the filing of the initial petition in a delinquency proceeding; or

(2) Thirty (30) days after termination or expiration of the stay pursuant to this section with respect to the claim.

Section 110. Cooperation of Officers, Owners and Employees

A. Any present or former officer, manager, director, trustee, owner, employee or agent of an insurer, or any other person with authority over or in charge of any segment of the insurer's affairs, shall cooperate with the commissioner or receiver in any proceeding under this Act or any investigation preliminary to the proceeding. The term "person" as used in this section, shall include any person who exercises control directly or indirectly over activities of the insurer through any holding company or other affiliate of the insurer. "To cooperate" shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) To reply promptly in writing to any inquiry from the commissioner or receiver requesting a reply; and

(2) To promptly make available to the commissioner or receiver any books, accounts, documents, or other records or information or property of or pertaining to the insurer and in his or her possession, custody or control.

B. No person shall obstruct or interfere with the commissioner or receiver in the conduct of any delinquency proceeding or any preliminary or incidental investigation.

C. This section shall not be construed to abridge otherwise existing legal rights, including the right to resist a petition for liquidation or other delinquency proceedings, or other orders.

D. Any person included within Subsection A who fails to cooperate with the commissioner or receiver, or any person who obstructs or interferes with the commissioner or receiver in the conduct of any delinquency proceeding or any preliminary or incidental investigation, or who violates any order validly issued under this Act, may:

(1) Be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $10,000 or to undergo imprisonment for a term of not more than one year, or both; or

(2) After a hearing, be subject to the imposition by the commissioner of a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 and shall be subject further to the revocation or suspension of any insurance licenses issued by the commissioner.

Section 111. Delinquency Proceedings Commenced Prior to Enactment

Drafting Note: States may draft any provision with regard to application as to existing estates as long as this Act is applicable in its entirety to new delinquency proceedings. States may provide that this Act will apply to pending delinquency proceedings retrospectively with regard to procedural matters and prospectively with regard to the substantive rights of persons.

[Alternative 1] The provisions of this Act shall be applicable to proceedings instituted prior to the effective date of this Act. The provisions of this section shall not affect any final judgment or order entered by a court of competent jurisdiction prior to the effective date of this Act.

[Alternative 2] The provisions of this Act shall be applicable to proceedings instituted prior to the effective date of this Act. The provisions of this section shall not affect any final judgment or order entered by a court of competent jurisdiction prior to the effective date of this Act. Provided that claims against insurers under formal delinquency proceedings prior to the effective date of this Act shall be adjudicated under the law in effect prior to the effective date of this Act.

[Alternative 3] The provisions of this Act shall not apply to proceedings initiated prior to its effective date, unless the court, on motion of the commissioner, and after notice and hearing and for good cause shown, directs that all or any part of this Act shall be applicable to such proceedings.

Drafting Note: States that do not have Fabe cure legislation (proposed as a result of United States Dept. of Treasury v. Fabe, 608 U.S. 491 (1993)) enacted prior to the proposed effective date of this Act should adopt the Fabe cure legislation prior to the proposed effective date of this Act or should otherwise take steps to ensure that the Fabe cure is applied in open estates.

[Provision that may be added to Alternative 1, 2 or 3] Litigation filed in any court of competent jurisdiction under [cite to sections of prior law applicable to asset recovery in formal delinquency proceedings] shall be concluded as though [cite to sections of prior law applicable to asset recovery in formal delinquency proceedings] had not been repealed. Prior sections regarding insurer receiverships will sunset and be fully repealed after all asset recovery actions under proceedings filed in any court of competent jurisdiction prior to the effective date of this Act have been concluded.

Section 112. Actions By and Against the Receiver

A. An allegation by the receiver of improper or fraudulent conduct against any person shall not be the basis of a defense to the enforcement of a contractual obligation owed to the insurer by a third party, but the third party is not barred by this section from seeking to establish independently as a defense that the conduct was materially and substantially related to the contractual obligation for which enforcement is sought.

B. No prior wrongful or negligent actions of any present or former officer, manager, director, trustee, owner, employee or agent of the insurer may be asserted as a defense to a claim by the receiver under a theory of estoppel, comparative fault, intervening cause, proximate cause, reliance, mitigation of damages or otherwise; except that the affirmative defense of fraud in the inducement may be asserted against the receiver in a claim based on a contract and a principal under a surety bond or a surety undertaking shall be entitled to credit against any reimbursement obligation to the receiver for the value of any property pledged to secure the reimbursement obligation to the extent that the receiver has possession or control of the property or the insurer or its agents misappropriated (including, but not limited to, commingling) such property. Evidence of fraud in the inducement will be admissible only if it is contained in the records of the insurer.

C. No action or inaction by the insurance regulatory authorities may be asserted as a defense to a claim by the receiver.

D. A judgment or order entered against an insured or the insurer in contravention of any stay or injunction under this Act, or at any time by default or collusion, shall not be considered as evidence of liability or of the quantum of damages in adjudicating claims filed in the estate arising out of the subject matter of the judgment or order.

E. The provisions of Subsection D do not apply to guaranty associations' claims for amounts paid on settlements and judgments in pursuit of their statutory obligations.

F. The receiver shall not be deemed a governmental entity for the purposes of any state law awarding fees to a litigant who prevails against a governmental entity.

Section 113. Unrecorded Obligations and Defenses Of Affiliates

A. In any proceeding or claim by the receiver, no affiliate, controlled or controlling person, or present or former officer, manager, director, trustee or shareholder of the insurer may assert any defense, unless evidence of the defense was recorded in the books and records of the insurer at or about the time the events giving rise to the defense occurred and, if required by statutory accounting practices and procedures, was timely reported on the insurer's official financial statements filed with the [insert state regulatory official].

B. No affiliate, controlled or controlling person, or present or former officer, manager, director, trustee or shareholder of the insurer may assert any claim, unless the obligations were recorded in the books and records of the insurer at or about the time the obligations were incurred and, if required by statutory accounting practices and procedures, were timely reported on the insurer's official financial statements filed with the [insert state regulatory official].

C. Claims by the receiver against any affiliate, controlled or controlling person, or present or former officer, manager, director, trustee or shareholder of the insurer based on unrecorded or unreported transactions shall not be barred by this section.

Section 114. Executory Contracts

A. The receiver may assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease of the insurer.

B. If there has been a default in an executory contract or unexpired lease of the insurer, the receiver may not assume the contract or lease unless, at the time of the assumption of the contract or lease, the receiver:

(1) Cures or provides adequate assurance that the receiver will promptly cure the default; and

(2) Provides adequate assurance of future performance under the contract or lease.

C. Subsection B does not apply to a default that is a breach of a provision relating to:

(1) The insolvency or financial condition of the insurer at any time before the closing of the delinquency proceeding;

(2) The appointment of or taking possession by a receiver in a case under this Act or a custodian before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding; or

(3) The satisfaction of any penalty rate or provision relating to a default arising from any failure of the insurer to perform non-monetary obligations under the executory contract or unexpired lease.

D. A claim arising from the rejection, under this section or under a plan of rehabilitation or liquidation, of an executory contract or unexpired lease of the insurer that has not been assumed shall be determined, and shall be treated and classified as though the claim had arisen before the date of the filing of a successful petition commencing the delinquency proceeding.

Section 115. Immunity and Indemnification of the Receiver and Assistants

[Alternative 1]

A. For the purposes of this section, the persons entitled to immunity and indemnification, and those entitled to only immunity, as applicable, are:

(1) All present and former receivers responsible for the conduct of a delinquency proceeding under this Act;

(2) All of the receiver's present and former assistants. For purposes of this section, "receiver's assistants" shall be defined to include the following:

(a) All present and former special deputies and assistant special deputies engaged by contract or otherwise;

(b) All persons whom the receiver, special deputies, or assistant special deputies have employed to assist in a delinquency proceeding under this Act; and

(c) Any state employees acting with respect to a delinquency proceeding under this Act; and

(3) All of the receiver's present and former contractors. For purposes of this section, "receiver's contractors" shall be defined to include all persons with whom the receiver, special deputies or assistant special deputies have contracted to assist in a delinquency proceeding under this Act, e.g. attorneys, accountants, auditors, actuaries, investment bankers, financial advisors, and any other professionals or firms who are retained or contracted with by the receiver as independent contractors and all employees of the contractors.

B. The receiver, the receiver's assistants, and the receiver's contractors shall have immunity under this Act, as follows:

(1) The receiver, the receiver's assistants, and the receiver's contractors shall have official immunity and shall be immune from suit and liability, both personally and in their official capacities, for any claim for damage to or loss of property or personal injury or other civil liability caused by or resulting from any alleged act, error or omission of the receiver or any assistant or contractor arising out of or by reason of their duties or employment.

(2) In addition, the receiver, the receiver's assistants, and the receiver's contractors shall have absolute judicial immunity and shall be immune from suit and liability, both personally and in their official capacities, for any claim for damage to or loss of property or personal injury or other civil liability caused by or resulting from any alleged act, error or omission of the receiver, assistant or contractor arising out of or by reason of any matters that have been subject to review by the receivership court after notice and opportunity to be heard, provided that the alleged act, error or omission was not disapproved or disallowed by the receivership court.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to provide official immunity or judicial immunity or to otherwise hold the receiver or any assistant or contractor immune from suit and liability for any damage, loss, injury or liability caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the receiver, any assistant or contractor.

C. The receiver and the receiver's assistants shall be entitled to indemnification under this Act, as follows:

(1) If any legal action is commenced against the receiver or any assistant, whether against the receiver or assistant personally or in their official capacity, alleging property damage, property loss, personal injury or other civil liability caused by or resulting from any alleged act, error or omission of the receiver or any assistant arising out of or by reason of their duties or employment, the receiver and any assistant shall be indemnified from the assets of the insurer for all expenses, attorneys' fees, judgments, settlements, decrees or amounts due and owing or paid in satisfaction of or incurred in the defense of the legal action unless it is determined upon a final adjudication on the merits that the alleged act, error or omission of the receiver or assistant giving rise to the claim did not arise out of or by reason of their duties or employment, or was caused by intentional or willful and wanton misconduct.

(2) Attorneys' fees and any and all related expenses incurred in defending a legal action for which immunity or indemnity is available under this section shall be paid from the assets of the insurer, as they are incurred, in advance of the final disposition of the action upon receipt of an agreement by or on behalf of the receiver or assistant to repay the attorneys' fees and expenses if it shall ultimately be determined upon a final adjudication on the merits that the receiver or assistant is not entitled to immunity or indemnity under this section.

(3) Any indemnification for expense payments, judgments, settlements, decrees, attorneys' fees, surety bond premiums or other amounts paid or to be paid from the insurer's assets pursuant to this section shall be an administrative expense of the insurer.

(4) In the event of any actual or threatened litigation against a receiver or any assistant for which immunity or indemnity may be available under this section, a reasonable amount of funds which in the judgment of the receiver may be needed to provide immunity or indemnity shall be segregated and reserved from the assets of the insurer as security for the payment of indemnity until all applicable statutes of limitation shall have run and all actual or threatened actions against the receiver or any assistant have been completely and finally resolved, and all obligations under this section shall have been satisfied.

(5) In lieu of segregation and reserving of funds, the receiver may, in the receiver's discretion, obtain a surety bond or make other arrangements that will enable the receiver to fully secure the payment of all obligations under this section.

(6) If any legal action against an assistant for which indemnity may be available under this section is settled prior to final adjudication on the merits, the receiver shall pay the settlement amount on behalf of the assistant, or indemnify the assistant for the settlement amount, unless the receiver determines:

(a) That the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the assistant's duties or employment; or

(b) That the claim was caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the assistant.

(7) In any legal action in which a claim is asserted against the receiver, that portion of any settlement relating to the alleged act, error or omission of the receiver shall be subject to the approval of the receivership court. The receivership court shall not approve that portion of the settlement if it determines:

(a) That the claim did not arise out of or by reason of the receiver's duties or employment; or

(b) That the claim was caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of the receiver.

D. Nothing contained or implied in this section shall operate, or be construed or applied to deprive the receiver, the receiver's assistants or receiver's contractors of any immunity, indemnity, benefits of law, rights or any defense otherwise available.

E. The immunity and indemnification provided to the receiver's assistants and the immunity provided to the receiver's contractors under this section shall not apply to any action by the receiver against such person.

F. Subsection B shall apply to any suit based in whole or in part on any alleged act, error or omission that takes place on or after the effective date of this Act.

G. No legal action shall lie against the receiver or any assistant based in whole or in part on any alleged act, error or omission that took place prior to the effective date of this Act, unless suit is filed and valid service of process is obtained within twelve (12) months after the effective date of this Act.

H. Subsection C shall apply to any suit that is pending on or filed after the effective date of this Act without regard to when the alleged act, error or omission took place.

Drafting Note: If state law provides for a self-insurance program that affords protection that is substantially similar to the provisions of Section 115, the state may utilize the program for indemnification purposes and corresponding immunity provisions in lieu of Section 115.

[Alternative 2] There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against, the department or its employees, the commissioner, in his or her capacity as receiver or otherwise, a special deputy, the receiver's assistants or the receiver's contractors for any action taken by them in performance of their powers and duties under this Act.

Section 116. Approval and Payment of Expenses

A. The receiver may pay any expenses under contracts, leases, employment agreements or other arrangements entered into by the insurer prior to receivership, as he or she deems necessary for the purposes of this Act. The receiver is not required to pay any such expenses that he or she determines are not necessary and may reject any contract pursuant to Section 114.

B. Receivership expenses other than those described in Subsection A shall be paid as follows:

(1) The receiver shall submit an application pursuant to Section 107 to the receivership court to approve:

(a) The terms of compensation of each special deputy or contractor where the total amount of the compensation is reasonably expected by the receiver for the duration of the delinquency proceeding to exceed an amount established by the receivership court; and

(b) Any other anticipated expense in excess of an amount established by the receivership court.

(2) The receiver may, as the receiver deems appropriate, submit an application to approve any compensation, anticipated expenses or incurred expenses not described in Paragraph (1).

(3) The receiver may pay as incurred any expenses not requiring receivership court approval and any expenses approved in the rehabilitation or liquidation order.

(4) The approval of expenses by the receivership court shall not prejudice the right of the receiver to seek any recovery, recoupment, disgorgement or reimbursement of fees based on contract or causes of action recognized in law or in equity.

C. On an annual or more frequent basis, the receiver shall submit to the receivership court a report summarizing the expenses incurred in the prior period.

D. Receivership court approval shall not be required to pay expenses incurred by the receiver in connection with the appeal of an order of the receivership court.

E. [Alternative 1] All expenses of receivership shall be paid from the assets of the insurer, except as provided in this subsection. In the event that the insurer does not have sufficient cash or liquid assets to defray the expenses incurred, the commissioner may advance funds out of any appropriation for the maintenance of the insurance department. Any amounts advanced shall be repaid to the commissioner out of the first available moneys of the insurer.

[Alternative 2] All expenses of receivership shall be paid from the assets of the insurer, except as provided in this subsection. In the event that the property of the insurer does not contain sufficient cash or liquid assets to defray the expenses incurred, the commissioner may advance funds from the account established under Subsection 804C. Any amounts advanced shall be repaid to the account out of the first available moneys of the insurer.

Drafting Note: States may utilize the term "application", "motion" or such other term that is considered appropriate in their state.

Drafting Note: Alternative 2 is only appropriate if Alternative 1 to Section 804 is enacted.

Section 117. Financial Reporting

A. Within 180 days after the entry of an order of receivership by the receivership court, and at least quarterly thereafter, the receiver shall comply with all requirements for receivership financial reporting as specified by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. The financial reports shall include, at a minimum, a statement of the assets and liabilities of the insurer, the changes in those assets and liabilities and all funds received or disbursed by the receiver during that reporting period. These reports will also be filed with the receivership court. The receiver may qualify any financial report or provide notes to the financial statement for further explanation. The receivership court may order the receiver to provide such additional information as it deems appropriate.

B. Within 180 days after the entry of an order of liquidation by the receivership court, and at least quarterly thereafter, or at such other intervals as may be agreed to between the liquidator and the guaranty associations, but in no event less than annually, each affected guaranty association shall file reports with the liquidator. The reports shall be in a format compatible to that specified by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. These reports also shall be filed with the receivership court.

C. For good cause shown, the receivership court may grant relief for an extension or modification of time to comply with Subsection A or B above or such other relief as may be appropriate.

Section 118. Records

A. Upon entry of an order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation, the receiver shall be vested with title to all of the books, documents, papers, policy information, claim files and all other records of the insurer of whatever nature, in whatever medium and wherever located, regardless of whether the records are in the custody and control of third-party administrators, managing general agents, attorneys or other representatives of the insurer. The receiver may immediately take possession and control of all of the records of the insurer, and of the premises where the records are located. Third-party administrators, managing general agents, attorneys and other representatives of the insurer shall release all such records to the receiver, or to the receiver's designee, at the request of the receiver. The guaranty associations that have or may have obligations under policies issued by the insurer have the right, with the receiver's approval, to take necessary actions to obtain directly from any third-party administrator, managing general agent, attorney or other representative of the insurer all records pertaining to the insurer's business that are appropriate or necessary for the guaranty associations to fulfill their statutory obligations.

B. The receiver shall have the authority to certify the records of a delinquent insurer described in Subsection A and the records of the receiver's office created and maintained in connection with a delinquent insurer, as follows:

(1) Records of a delinquent insurer may be certified by the receiver in an affidavit stating that the records are true and correct copies of records of the insurer that were received from the custody of the insurer, or found among its effects.

(2) Records created by or filed with the receiver's office in connection with a delinquent insurer may be certified by the receiver's affidavit stating that the records are true and correct copies of records maintained by the receiver's office.

C. Original books, documents, papers, and other records, or copies thereof certified under Subsection B, when admitted in evidence shall be prima facie evidence of the facts disclosed and shall be admissible in evidence in the same manner as documents certified pursuant to [insert citation to state equivalent of F.R.E. 902(1)]. Certification of records by the receiver pursuant to this section shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of [insert citation to state equivalent of F.R.E. 803(6)] and such records shall not be subject to objection under the hearsay rule.

D. The records of a delinquent insurer held by the receiver shall not be considered as records of the Department of Insurance for any purposes, and the [insert citation to public records act] shall not apply to these records.

ARTICLE II. PROCEEDINGS

Section 201. Receivership Court's Seizure Order

A. The commissioner may file in the [insert proper court] court of this state a petition with respect to an insurer domiciled in this state, an unauthorized insurer or, pursuant to Section 1001, a foreign insurer:

(1) Alleging that there exist grounds that would justify a court order for a formal delinquency proceeding against the insurer under this Act;

(2) Alleging that the interests of policyholders, creditors or the public will be endangered by delay; and

(3) Setting forth the contents of a seizure order deemed necessary by the commissioner.

B. Upon a filing under Subsection A, the receivership court may issue forthwith, ex parte and without notice or hearing, the requested seizure order, which shall direct the commissioner to take possession and control of all or a part of the property, books, accounts, documents and other records of an insurer, and of the premises occupied by it for transaction of its business, and until further order of the receivership court enjoin the insurer and its officers, managers, agents and employees from disposition of its property and from the transaction of its business except with the written consent of the commissioner. Any person having possession or control of and refusing to deliver any of the books, records or assets of a person against whom a seizure order has been issued shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both fine and imprisonment.

C. Any petition that prays for injunctive relief shall be verified by the commissioner or the commissioner's designee, but need not plead or prove irreparable harm or inadequate remedy at law. The commissioner shall provide only such notice as the receivership court may require.

D. The receivership court shall specify in the seizure order what its duration shall be, which shall be the time the receivership court deems necessary for the commissioner to ascertain the condition of the insurer. On motion of the commissioner or the insurer or on its own motion, the receivership court may from time to time hold such hearings as it deems desirable after the notice as it deems appropriate, and may extend, shorten or modify the terms of the seizure order. The receivership court shall vacate the seizure order if the commissioner fails to commence a formal proceeding under this Act after having had a reasonable opportunity to do so. An order of the receivership court pursuant to a formal proceeding under this Act shall vacate the seizure order.

E. Entry of a seizure order under this section shall not constitute a breach or an anticipatory breach of any contract of the insurer.

F. An insurer subject to an ex parte seizure order under this section may petition the receivership court at any time after the issuance of a seizure order for a hearing and review of the seizure order. The receivership court shall hold the hearing and review not more than fifteen (15) days after the request. A hearing under this subsection may be held privately in chambers and it shall be so held if the insurer proceeded against so requests.

G. If, at any time after the issuance of a seizure order, it appears to the receivership court that any person whose interest is or will be substantially affected by the seizure order did not appear at the hearing and has not been served, the receivership court may order that notice be given to the person. An order that notice be given shall not stay the effect of any seizure order previously issued by the receivership court.

H. Whenever the commissioner makes any seizure as provided in Subsection B, on the demand of the commissioner, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county of this state, and of the police department of any municipal corporation therein to furnish the commissioner with necessary deputies, patrolmen or officers to assist the commissioner in making and enforcing the seizure order.

Section 202. Commencement of Formal Delinquency Proceeding

A. Any formal delinquency proceeding against a person shall be commenced by filing a petition in the name of the commissioner or department.

B. The petition shall state the grounds upon which the proceeding is based and the relief requested, and may include a prayer for restraining orders and injunctive relief as described in Section 108. Upon the filing of the petition, a notice thereof shall be forwarded by first class mail or electronic communication as permitted by the receivership court to the commissioners and guaranty associations in states in which the insurer did business.

C. Any petition that prays for injunctive relief shall be verified by the commissioner or the commissioner's designee, but need not plead or prove irreparable harm or inadequate remedy at law. The commissioner shall provide only such notice as the receivership court may require.

D. If any temporary restraining order is prayed for:

(1) The receivership court may issue an initial order containing the relief requested;

(2) The order shall state the time and date of its issuance;

(3) The receivership court shall set a time and date for the return of summons, not more than ten (10) days from the time and date of the issuance of the initial order, at which time the person proceeded against may appear before the receivership court for a summary hearing; and

(4) The order shall not continue in effect beyond the time and date set for the return of summons, unless the receivership court shall expressly enter one or more orders extending the restraining order.

E. If no temporary restraining order is requested, the receivership court shall cause summons to be issued. The summons shall specify a return date not more than thirty (30) days after issuance and that an answer must be filed at or before the return date.

Section 203. Return of Summons and Summary Hearing

A. The receivership court shall hold a summary hearing at the time and date for the return of summons on a petition to commence a formal delinquency proceeding.

B. If a person is not served with summons on a petition to commence a formal delinquency proceeding and fails to appear for the summary hearing, the receivership court shall:

(1) Continue the summary hearing not more than ten (10) days;

(2) Provide for alternative service of summons upon the person; and

(3) Extend any restraining order.

C. Upon a showing of good faith efforts to effect personal service upon a person who has failed to appear for a continued summary hearing, the receivership court shall order notice of the petition to commence a formal delinquency proceeding to be published. The order and notice shall specify a return date not less than ten (10) nor more than twenty (20) days after the publication and that the restraining order has been extended to the continued hearing date.

D. If a person fails to appear for a summary hearing on a petition to commence a formal delinquency proceeding after service of summons, the receivership court shall enter judgment in favor of the commissioner against that person.

E. (1) A person who appears for the summary hearing on a petition to commence a formal delinquency proceeding shall file its answer at the hearing and the receivership court shall:

(a) Determine whether to extend any temporary restraining orders pending final judgment; and

(b) Set the case for trial on a date not more than ten (10) days from the summary hearing.

(2) The receivership court shall grant no continuance for filing an answer.

Section 204. Proceedings for Expedited Trial: Continuances, Discovery, Evidence

A. The receivership court shall proceed to hear the case on the petition to commence a formal delinquency proceeding at the time and date set forth for trial without a jury and without unnecessary delays. To the extent practicable, the receivership court shall give precedence to the matter over all other matters. To the extent authorized by law, the receivership court may assign the matter to other judges if necessary to comply with the need for expedited proceedings under this Act.

B. Continuances for trial shall be granted only in extreme circumstances.

C. The receivership court shall admit as self-authenticated any of the following when offered by the commissioner:

(1) Certified copies of the financial statements made by the insurer or an affiliate;

(2) Certified copies of examination reports of the insurer or an affiliate made by or on behalf of the commissioner;

(3) Certified copies of any other document filed with any insurance department by the insurer or an affiliate.

D. The facts contained in any examination report of the insurer or an affiliate made by or on behalf of the commissioner shall be presumed to be true as of the date of the hearing if the examination was made as of a date not more than 270 days before the petition was filed. The presumption shall be rebuttable and shall shift the burden of production and persuasion to the insurer.

E. Discovery shall be limited to grounds alleged in the petition, and shall be concluded on an expedited basis.

Section 205. Decision and Appeals

A. The receivership court shall enter judgment on the petition to commence formal delinquency proceeding within fifteen (15) days after the conclusion of the evidence.

B. Any order entered pursuant to Subsection A shall be final when entered. Any appeal shall be handled on an expedited basis and shall be taken within five (5) days of entry of the judgment.

C. Absent entry of an order staying the order pursuant to Subsection D, the order shall be of full force and effect and the receiver shall carry out its terms and the provisions of this Act. No request for reconsideration, review or appeal, and no posting of a bond, shall dissolve or stay the judgment.

D. A motion for a stay of the judgment, for approval of a supersede as bond or for other relief pending appeal must be presented to the receivership court in the first instance. Subject to the power of the appropriate appellate courts, the receivership court may suspend or otherwise modify an order entered under Subsection A or make any other appropriate order governing the enforceability of such order during the pendency of an appeal on such terms as will protect the rights of all parties in interest.

E. The receivership court or any appellate court to which the matter is presented may condition any relief it grants under Subsection D on the filing of a bond or other appropriate security with the receivership court.

F. The provisions of Section 115 shall apply to all acts taken during the pendency of an appeal regardless of its ultimate disposition.

G. The reversal or modification on appeal of an order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation does not affect the validity of the acts of the receiver pursuant to the order unless the order is stayed pending appeal.

Section 206. Confidentiality

A. In all proceedings and judicial reviews under Section 201, all records of the insurer, department files, court records and papers, and other documents, so far as they pertain to or are a part of the record of the proceedings, shall be and remain confidential, and all papers filed with the clerk of the [insert proper court] court shall be held by the clerk in a confidential file as permitted by law, except to the extent necessary to obtain compliance with any order entered in connection with the proceedings, unless and until:

(1) The [insert proper court] court, after hearing argument in chambers, shall order otherwise;

(2) The insurer requests that the matter be made public; or

(3) The commissioner applies for an order under Section 207.

B. The commissioner, conservator or rehabilitator may share documents, materials or other information in the possession, custody or control of the department, pertaining to an insurer that is the subject of a delinquency proceeding under this Act, with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal and international law enforcement authorities, with an auditor appointed by the receivership court in accordance with Section 905, with representatives of guaranty associations that may have statutory obligations as a result of the insolvency of the insurer provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the documents, material or other information. In the event that the domiciliary receiver believes that certain information is sensitive, the receiver may share that information subject to a continuation of the confidentiality obligations beyond the period allowed in Subsection D. Nothing in this section shall limit the power of the commissioner to disclose information under other applicable law.

C. A domiciliary receiver shall permit a commissioner of another state or a guaranty association to obtain a listing of policyholders and certificate holders residing in the requestor's state, including current addresses and summary policy information, provided that the commissioner of another state or the guaranty association agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the records, and agrees that the records will be used only for regulatory or guaranty association purposes. Access to records may be limited to normal business hours. In the event that the domiciliary receiver believes that certain information is sensitive and disclosure might cause a diminution in recovery, the receiver may apply for a protective order imposing additional restrictions on access.

D. The confidentiality obligations imposed by this section shall end upon the entry of an order of liquidation against the insurer, unless otherwise agreed to by the parties or pursuant to an order of the receivership court. Any continuation of confidentiality as provided in Subsection B shall not apply to any insurer records necessary for the guaranty associations to discharge their statutory responsibilities.

E. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality shall occur as a result of any disclosure, or any sharing of documents, materials or other information, made pursuant to this section.

Section 207. Grounds for Conservation, Rehabilitation or Liquidation

The commissioner may file in the [insert proper court] court of this state a petition with respect to an insurer domiciled in this state or an unauthorized insurer for an order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation on any one or more of the following grounds:

A. The insurer is impaired;

B. The insurer is insolvent;

C. The insurer is about to become insolvent. An insurer is about to become insolvent for purposes of this section if it is reasonably anticipated that the insurer will not have liquid assets to meet its next ninety (90) days' current obligations;

D. The insurer has neglected or refused to comply with an order of the commissioner to make good within the time prescribed by law any deficiency, whenever its capital and minimum required surplus, if a stock company, or its surplus, if a company other than stock, has become impaired;

E. The insurer, its parent company, its subsidiaries or its affiliates have converted, wasted or concealed property of the insurer, or otherwise improperly disposed of, dissipated, used, released, transferred, sold, assigned, hypothecated or removed the property of the insurer;

F. The insurer is in such condition that it could not meet the requirements for organization and authorization as required by law, except as to the amount of the original surplus required of a stock company under Section [insert proper section], and except as to the amount of the surplus required of a company other than a stock company in excess of the minimum surplus required to be maintained;

G. The insurer, its parent company, its subsidiaries or its affiliates have concealed, removed, altered, destroyed or failed to establish and maintain books, records, documents, accounts, vouchers and other pertinent material adequate for the determination of the financial condition of the insurer by examination under Section [insert citation to examination authority statute in state's general insurance laws], or has failed to properly administer claims or maintain claims records that are adequate for the determination of its outstanding claims liability;

H. At any time after the issuance of an order under Section [insert citation to corrective orders statute in state's general insurance laws], or at the time of instituting any proceeding under this Act, it appears to the commissioner that upon good cause shown, it would not be in the best interest of the policyholders, creditors or the public to proceed with the conduct of the business of the insurer;

I. The insurer is in such condition that the further transaction of business would be hazardous financially, according to [insert citation to state's enactment of the NAIC Model Regulation to Define Standards and Commissioner's Authority for Companies Deemed to be in Hazardous Financial Condition] or otherwise, to its policyholders, creditors or the public;

J. There is reasonable cause to believe that there has been embezzlement from the insurer, wrongful sequestration or diversion of the insurer's property, forgery or fraud affecting the insurer, or other illegal conduct in, by, or with respect to the insurer that if established would endanger assets in an amount threatening the solvency of the insurer;

K. Control of the insurer is in a person who is dishonest, untrustworthy or so lacking in insurance company managerial experience or capability as to be hazardous to policyholders, creditors or the public;

L. Any person who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, whether an officer, manager, general agent, director or trustee, employee, shareholder, or other person, has refused to be examined under oath by the commissioner concerning its affairs, whether in this state or elsewhere; or if examined under oath refuses to divulge pertinent information reasonably known to the person; and after reasonable notice of the fact, the insurer has failed promptly and effectively to terminate the employment and status of the person and all his or her influence on management;

M. After demand by the commissioner under Section [cite examination law] or under this Act, the insurer has failed to promptly make available for examination any of its own property, books, accounts, documents, or other records, or those of any subsidiary or related company within the control of the insurer, or those of any person having executive authority in the insurer so far as they pertain to the insurer;

N. Without first obtaining the written consent of the commissioner, the insurer has transferred, or attempted to transfer, in a manner contrary to Sections [cite holding company law] or [cite bulk reinsurance law], substantially its entire property or business, or has entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge, consolidate or reinsure substantially its entire property or business in or with the property or business of any other person;

O. The insurer or its property has been or is the subject of an application for the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian, conservator, sequestrator or similar fiduciary of the insurer or its property otherwise than as authorized under the insurance laws of this state;

P. Within the previous five (5) years the insurer has willfully and continuously violated its charter or articles of incorporation, its bylaws, any insurance law of this state, or any valid order of the commissioner;

Q. The insurer has failed to pay within sixty (60) days after the due date any obligation to any state or any subdivision thereof or any judgment entered in any state, if the court in which the judgment was entered had jurisdiction over the subject matter except that nonpayment shall not be a ground until sixty (60) days after any good faith effort by the insurer to contest the obligation has been terminated, whether it is before the commissioner or in the courts;

R. The insurer has systematically engaged in the practice of reaching settlements with and obtaining releases from claimants, and then unreasonably delaying payment, or failing to pay the agreed-upon settlements, or systematically attempted to compromise with claimants or other creditors on the ground that it is financially unable to pay its claims or obligations in full;

S. The insurer has failed to file its annual report or other financial report required by statute within the time allowed by law;

T. The board of directors or the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote, or a majority of those individuals entitled to the control of those entities specified in Section 103, request or consent to conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation under this Act;

U. The insurer does not comply with its domiciliary state's requirements for issuance to it of a certificate of authority, or its certificate of authority has been revoked by its state of domicile; or

V. When authorized by [cite risk-based capital law].

Section 208. Entry of Order

If the commissioner establishes any of the grounds provided in Section 207, then the receivership court shall grant the petition and issue the order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation requested in the petition. Upon the issuance of the order, a copy shall be forwarded by first class mail or electronic communication as permitted by the receivership court to the commissioners and guaranty associations in states in which the insurer did business.

Section 209. Effect of Order of Conservation, Rehabilitation or Liquidation

A. The filing or recording of an order of receivership with the clerk of the [insert proper court] court or recorder of deeds of the county in which the principal business of the company is conducted, or, in the case of real estate, with the recorder of deeds of the county where the property is located, shall impart the same notice as a deed, bill of sale, or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded with that recorder of deeds would have imparted.

Drafting Note: Filing requirements should conform to existing state law.

B. Neither the filing of a petition commencing delinquency proceedings under this Act nor the entry of any order of seizure, conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation shall constitute a breach or an anticipatory breach of any contract or lease of the insurer.

C. The receiver may appoint one or more special deputies. A special deputy shall have all the powers and responsibilities of the receiver granted under this section, unless specifically limited by the receiver and shall serve at the pleasure of the receiver. The receiver may employ or contract with legal counsel, actuaries, accountants, appraisers, consultants, clerks, assistants and such other personnel as may be deemed necessary. Any special deputy or other person with whom the receiver contracts under this subsection shall be considered to be an agent of the commissioner only in the commissioner's capacity as receiver, and shall not be considered an agent of the state. The provisions of any law governing the procurement of goods and services by the state shall not apply to any contract entered into by the commissioner as receiver. The compensation of any special deputies, employees and contractors and all expenses of taking possession of the insurer and of conducting the receivership shall be determined by the receiver, with the approval of the receivership court in accordance with Section 116, and shall be paid out of the property of the insurer. If the receiver, in his or her sole discretion, deems it necessary to the proper performance of the receiver's duties under this Act, the receiver may appoint an advisory committee of policyholders, claimants or other creditors including guaranty associations. The committee shall serve at the pleasure of the receiver and shall serve without compensation and without reimbursement for expenses. The receiver or the receivership court in proceedings conducted under this Act may not appoint any other committee of any nature.

ARTICLE III. CONSERVATION

Section 301. Conservation Orders

A. An order to conserve the business of an insurer shall appoint the commissioner and his or her successors in office as the conservator and shall direct the conservator to take possession [and title] of the assets of the insurer, and to administer them under the general supervision of the court.

Drafting Note: Adding "and title" is optional.

B. Any order issued under this section shall require accountings to the receivership court by the conservator. Accountings shall be at such intervals as the receivership court specifies in its order, but no less frequently than semi-annually.

C. Unless otherwise directed by the receivership court, the conservator shall, within five (5) days of entry of an order of conservation, give or cause to be given notice of the order of conservation by first class mail or electronic communication to the guaranty associations of this state and any other guaranty association that has or may have obligations as a result of the delinquency proceeding.

Section 302. Powers and Duties of the Conservator

A. The conservator shall conduct an analysis of the business and financial condition of the insurer to determine if, in the best judgment of the conservator, it will be possible to correct the problems that led to the order of conservation and restore the insurer to private management and normal operations. Within 180 days of an order of conservation, the conservator shall file a [motion or application] in the receivership court asking that:

(1) The insurer be released from conservation, subject to Section 901;

(2) The insurer be placed into rehabilitation; or

(3) The insurer be placed into liquidation.

B. The period for filing the [motion or application] may be extended by the receivership court upon the motion of the conservator for one additional period of 180 days.

C. With receivership court approval pursuant to Section 107, the conservator may take such action as the conservator deems necessary or appropriate to reform and revitalize the insurer, including but not limited to, canceling policies, insurance and reinsurance contracts (other than life or health insurance or annuities), surety bonds or surety undertakings, or transferring policies, insurance and reinsurance contracts, surety bonds or surety undertakings to a solvent assuming insurer. The conservator shall have all the powers of the directors, officers and managers of the insurer, whose authority shall be suspended, except as redelegated by the conservator. The conservator shall have full power to direct and manage, to hire and discharge employees, and to deal with the property and business of the insurer. The conservator shall not be liable under [cite to state version of statute imposing liability for issuing policies while insolvent] as the result of good faith issuance or renewal of policies while in conservation.

D. If it appears to the conservator that there has been criminal or tortious conduct, or breach of any contractual or fiduciary obligation detrimental to the insurer by any officer, manager, agent, broker, employee, affiliate or other person, the conservator may pursue all appropriate legal remedies on behalf of the insurer.

E. The conservator may assert all defenses available to the insurer as against third persons, including statutes of limitation, statutes of frauds, and the defense of usury. A waiver of any defense by the insurer after a petition pursuant to Sections 201 or 207 has been filed shall not bind the conservator.

F. The enumeration, in this section, of the powers and authority of the conservator shall not be construed as a limitation upon the conservator, nor shall it exclude in any manner the right to do other acts not specifically enumerated or otherwise provided for, as may be necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of or in aid of the purpose of conservation.

Section 303. Coordination With Guaranty Associations and Orderly Transition to Rehabilitation or Liquidation

A. Upon the entry of an order of conservation or as soon thereafter as is practical, the conservator or his or her designated representative shall consult with the potentially obligated guaranty associations or their designated representatives to determine the extent to which the guaranty associations will be impacted by or may assist in the efforts to conserve the insurer, and shall also provide appropriate information to the guaranty associations to allow them to evaluate and discharge their statutory responsibilities. The conservator shall begin appropriate contingency planning and organizing so that an orderly transition to liquidation occurs, if liquidation is necessary. An orderly transition to liquidation requires, among other things, that: (i) the conservator to the fullest extent possible reserve sufficient assets to continue to meet obligations under insurance policies of the insolvent insurer until the guaranty associations are triggered, and (ii) the conservator shall conduct affairs in such a way and cooperate as necessary with the guaranty associations that may become liable as a result of the insolvency of the insurer to ensure that the guaranty associations are provided with appropriate information, along with necessary updates at reasonable intervals, and a reasonable period of time to plan and organize so that the guaranty associations are able to properly discharge statutory responsibilities upon being triggered.

B. Upon a determination by the commissioner or conservator that the insurer should be rehabilitated, the commissioner or conservator or his or her designated representative shall consult with the potentially obligated guaranty associations to advise them of the decision to seek an order of rehabilitation.

C. Upon a determination by the commissioner or a receiver that the insurer should be liquidated, the commissioner or receiver or his or her designated representative shall participate in cooperative efforts with the potentially obligated guaranty associations to ensure that an orderly transition to liquidation occurs. The conservator shall make available to the guaranty associations the information necessary to discharge their responsibilities upon becoming statutorily obligated. To the extent that information is available, or as it becomes available, the conservator shall provide appropriate information to guaranty associations in the states where the insurer transacted business.

D. Appropriate information as referred to in this section at a minimum includes the following for lines of business written by the insurer (whether covered or not covered by guaranty associations): a general description of the different types of business written or assumed by the insurer; claim counts and policy counts by state and by line of business; claim and policy reserves; account values; cash surrender values; policy loans; interest crediting history; premiums and mode of payment; unpaid claims and amounts; sample policies and endorsements; listing of different locations of claim files; if third party administrators were used, copies of executed contracts and a description of the contractual arrangements; and information concerning claims in litigation or dispute, including a listing of claims with assigned defense counsel for those claims going to trial in the near future after a possible liquidation date. Appropriate information also includes information concerning states in which the insurer is or was licensed and time periods for which the insurer is or was licensed; and other information reasonably requested by a guaranty association necessary for it to fulfill its statutory duties. In the case of a property and casualty insurer, the conservator, in cooperation with the guaranty associations, shall make all reasonable efforts to prepare the insurer's electronic policy and claims data so that, upon the entry of an order of liquidation the data will be ready for transmission using the Uniform Data Standards as promulgated by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

E. The listing of information in Subsection D is not necessarily an exclusive list and other information in order to ensure that an orderly transition to liquidation occurs may be needed and may be appropriately provided by the receiver.

ARTICLE IV. REHABILITATION

Section 401. Rehabilitation Orders

A. An order to rehabilitate the business of an insurer shall appoint the commissioner and his or her successors in office as the rehabilitator and shall direct the rehabilitator to take possession [and title] of the assets of the insurer, and to administer them under the general supervision of the court.

Drafting Note: Adding "and title" is optional.

B. Any order issued under this section shall require accountings to the receivership court by the rehabilitator. Accountings shall be at such intervals as the receivership court specifies in its order, but no less frequently than semi-annually. Each accounting shall include a report concerning the rehabilitator's opinion as to the likelihood that a plan under Section 403 will be prepared by the rehabilitator and the timetable for doing so.

C. In recognition of the need for a prompt and final resolution for all persons affected by a plan of rehabilitation, any appeal from an order of rehabilitation or an order approving a plan of rehabilitation shall be heard on an expedited basis. A stay of an order of rehabilitation or an order approving a plan of rehabilitation shall not be granted unless the appellant demonstrates that extraordinary circumstances warrant delaying the recovery under the plan of rehabilitation of all other persons, including policyholders. If the plan provides an appropriate mechanism for adjustment in the event of any adverse ruling from an appeal, no stay shall be granted.

Section 402. Powers and Duties of the Rehabilitator

A. The rehabilitator may take such action as the rehabilitator deems necessary or appropriate to reform and revitalize the insurer, including but not limited to, canceling policies, insurance and reinsurance contracts (other than life or health insurance or annuities), surety bonds or surety undertakings, or transferring policies, insurance and reinsurance contracts, surety bonds or surety undertakings to a solvent assuming insurer, with court approval. The rehabilitator shall have all the powers of the directors, officers and managers of the insurer, whose authority shall be suspended, except as redelegated by the rehabilitator. The rehabilitator shall have full power to direct and manage, to hire and discharge employees, and to deal with the property and business of the insurer. The rehabilitator shall not be liable under [insert citation to state version of statute imposing liability for issuing policies while insolvent] as the result of good faith issuance or renewal of policies while in rehabilitation.

B. If it appears to the rehabilitator that there has been criminal or tortious conduct, or breach of any contractual or fiduciary obligation detrimental to the insurer by any officer, manager, agent, broker, employee, affiliate, or other person, the rehabilitator may pursue all appropriate legal remedies on behalf of the insurer.

C. The rehabilitator may assert all defenses available to the insurer as against third persons, including statutes of limitation, statutes of frauds, and the defense of usury. A waiver of any defense by the insurer after a petition pursuant to Sections 201 or 207 has been filed shall not bind the rehabilitator.

D. The enumeration, in this section, of the powers and authority of the rehabilitator shall not be construed as a limitation upon the rehabilitator, nor shall it exclude in any manner the right to do other acts not specifically enumerated or otherwise provided for, as may be necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of or in aid of the purpose of rehabilitation.

Section 403. Filing of Rehabilitation Plans

A. The rehabilitator shall prepare and file a plan to effect rehabilitation with the receivership court within one year after the entry of the rehabilitation order or such further time as the receivership court may allow. Upon application of the rehabilitator for approval of the plan, and after such notice and hearings as the receivership court may prescribe, the receivership court may either approve or disapprove the plan proposed, or may modify it and approve it as modified. Any plan approved under this section shall be in compliance with applicable law and fair and equitable to all parties concerned. If the plan is approved, the rehabilitator shall carry out the plan. In the case of a life insurer, the plan proposed may include the imposition of liens upon the policies of the company, if all rights of shareholders are relinquished. A plan for a life insurer may also propose imposition of a moratorium upon loan and cash surrender rights under policies, for a period not to exceed one year from the entry of the order approving the rehabilitation plan, unless the receivership court, for good cause shown, shall extend the moratorium.

B. Once a plan has been filed, any party in interest may object to the plan.

C. A plan shall:

(1) Except as provided at Subsection E, provide no less favorable treatment of a claim or class of claims than would occur in liquidation, unless the holder of a particular claim or interest agrees to a less favorable treatment of that particular claim or interest;

(2) Provide adequate means for the plan's implementation;

(3) Contain information concerning the financial condition of the insurer and the operation and effect of the plan, as far as is reasonably practicable in light of the nature and history of the insurer, the condition of the insurer's books and records and the nature of the plan; and

(4) Provide for the disposition of the books, records, documents and other information relevant to the duties and obligations covered by the plan.

D. A plan may include any other provisions not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, including, but not limited to:

(1) Payment of distributions;

(2) Assumption or reinsurance of all or a portion of the insurer's remaining liabilities by, and transfer of assets and related books and records to, a licensed insurer or other entity;

(3) To the extent appropriate, application of insurance company regulatory market conduct standards to any entity administering claims on behalf of the receiver or assuming direct liabilities of the insurer;

(4) Contracting with a state guaranty association or any other qualified entity to perform the administration of claims;

(5) Annual independent financial and performance audits of any entity administering claims on behalf of the receiver that is not otherwise subject to examination pursuant to state insurance law; and

(6) Termination of the insurer's liabilities other than those under policies of insurance as of a date certain.

E. A plan may designate and separately treat one or more separate sub-classes consisting only of those claims within these classes that are for or reduced to de minimis amounts. A de minimis amount shall be any amount equal to or less than a maximum de minimis amount approved by the receivership court as being reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience.

Section 404. Termination of Rehabilitation

A. Whenever the rehabilitator believes further attempts to rehabilitate an insurer would substantially increase the risk of loss to creditors, policyholders or the public, or would be futile, the rehabilitator may move for an order of liquidation. In accordance with Section 405, the rehabilitator or the rehabilitator's designated representative shall coordinate with the guaranty associations that may become liable as a result of the liquidation and any national association of guaranty associations to plan for transition to liquidation.

B. The protection of the interests of insureds, claimants and the public requires the timely performance of all insurance policy obligations; therefore, if the payment of policy obligations is suspended in substantial part for a period of six (6) months at any time after the appointment of the rehabilitator and the rehabilitator has not filed an application for approval of a plan under Section 403, the rehabilitator shall petition the receivership court for an order of liquidation or seek an order, on good cause shown, for a longer suspension period.

C. The rehabilitator or the directors of the insurer may at any time petition the receivership court for, or the receivership court on its own motion may enter, an order terminating rehabilitation of an insurer. Subject to the provisions of Section 901, if the receivership court finds that rehabilitation has been accomplished and that grounds for rehabilitation under Section 207 no longer exist, it shall order that the insurer be restored to title and possession of its property and the control of the business.

Section 405. Coordination with Guaranty Associations and Orderly Transition to Liquidation

A. Upon the entry of an order of rehabilitation or as soon thereafter as is practical, the rehabilitator or his or her designated representative shall consult with the potentially obligated guaranty associations or their designated representatives to determine the extent to which the guaranty associations will be impacted by or may assist in the efforts to rehabilitate the insurer, and shall also provide appropriate information to the guaranty associations to allow them to evaluate and discharge their statutory responsibilities. The rehabilitator shall begin appropriate contingency planning and organizing so that an orderly transition to liquidation occurs, if liquidation is necessary. An orderly transition to liquidation requires, among other things, that: (i) the rehabilitator to the fullest extent possible reserve sufficient assets to continue to meet obligations under insurance policies of the insolvent insurer until the guaranty associations are triggered, and (ii) the rehabilitator shall conduct affairs in such a way and cooperate as necessary with the guaranty associations that may become liable as a result of the insolvency of the insurer to ensure that the guaranty associations are provided with appropriate information, along with necessary updates at reasonable intervals, and a reasonable period of time to plan and organize so that the guaranty associations are able to properly discharge statutory responsibilities upon being triggered.

B. Appropriate information as referred to in this section at a minimum includes the following for lines of business written by the insurer (whether covered or not covered by guaranty associations): a general description of the different types of business written or assumed by the insurer; claim counts and policy counts by state and by line of business; claim and policy reserves; account values; cash surrender values; policy loans; interest crediting history; premiums and mode of payment; unpaid claims and amounts; sample policies and endorsements; listing of different locations of claim files; if third party administrators were used, copies of executed contracts and a description of the contractual arrangements; and information concerning claims in litigation or dispute, including a listing of claims with assigned defense counsel for those claims going to trial in the near future after a possible liquidation date. Appropriate information also includes information concerning states in which the insurer is or was licensed and time periods for which the insurer is or was licensed; and other information reasonably requested by a guaranty association necessary for it to fulfill its statutory duties. In the case of a property and casualty insurer, the conservator or rehabilitator, in cooperation with the guaranty associations, shall make all reasonable efforts to prepare the insurer's electronic policy and claims data so that, upon the entry of an order of liquidation the data will be ready for transmission using the Uniform Data Standards as promulgated by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

C. The listing of information in Subsection B is not necessarily an exclusive list and other information in order to ensure that an orderly transition to liquidation occurs may be needed and may be appropriately provided by the receiver.

ARTICLE V. LIQUIDATION

Section 501. Liquidation Orders

A. An order to liquidate the business of an insurer shall appoint the commissioner and any successor in office as the liquidator and shall direct the liquidator to take possession of the property of the insurer and to administer it subject to this Act. The liquidator shall be vested by operation of law with the title to all of the property, contracts and rights of action, and all of the books and records of the insurer ordered liquidated, wherever located, as of the entry of the final order of liquidation.

B. Upon issuance of the order of liquidation, the rights and liabilities of the insurer and of its creditors, policyholders, shareholders, members and all other persons interested in its estate shall become fixed as of the date of entry of the order of liquidation, except as provided in Sections 502 and 705, unless otherwise fixed by the [insert applicable court] court.

C. An order to liquidate the business of an alien insurer in this state shall be in the same terms and have the same legal effect as an order to liquidate a domestic insurer.

D. Whenever applicable, a petition for liquidation should include a request for a judicial declaration [or finding] of insolvency. After providing proper notice and hearing, the receivership court may at any time make the declaration of insolvency.

E. In the event an order of liquidation is set aside upon appeal, the company shall not be released from delinquency proceedings except in accordance with Section 901.

Section 502. Continuance of Coverage

A. Notwithstanding any policy or contract language or any other statute, and unless ordered otherwise by the receivership court upon application by the receiver, all reinsurance contracts by which the insurer has assumed the insurance obligations of another insurer are cancelled upon entry of an order of liquidation.

B. Notwithstanding any policy or contract language or any other statute, all policies, insurance contracts (other than reinsurance by which the insurer has ceded insurance obligations to another person), surety bonds or surety undertakings, other than life, disability income, long term care or health insurance or annuities, in effect at the time of issuance of an order of liquidation shall continue in force as provided in this section, unless further extended by the receiver with the approval of the receivership court, until the earlier of:

(1) Thirty (30) days from the date of entry of the liquidation order;

(2) The date of expiration of the policy coverage;

(3) The date the insured has replaced the insurance coverage with equivalent insurance with another insurer or otherwise terminated the policy;

(4) The date the liquidator has effected a transfer of the policy obligation pursuant to Section 504A(5); or

(5) The date proposed by the liquidator and approved by the receivership court to cancel coverage.

Drafting Note: The provision in Paragraph (5) is designed to allow for possible immediate cancellation of policies in the event there is no guaranty fund coverage.

C. An order of liquidation under Section 501 shall terminate coverages at the time specified in Subsections A and B for purposes of any other statute.

D. Policies of life, disability income, long term care or health insurance or annuities covered by a guaranty association or portions of such policies covered by one or more guaranty associations, under applicable law, shall continue in force, subject to the terms of the policy (including any terms restructured pursuant to a court-approved rehabilitation plan) to the extent necessary to permit the guaranty associations to discharge their statutory obligations. Policies of life, disability income, long term care or health insurance or annuities, or portions of such policies, not covered by one or more guaranty associations shall terminate as provided under Subsection B, except to the extent the liquidator proposes and the receivership court approves the use of property of the estate, consistent with Section 801, for the purpose of continuing the contracts or coverage by transferring them to an assuming reinsurer.

E. The cancellation of any bond or surety undertaking shall not release any co-surety or guarantor.

F. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the obligations of the insolvent insurer's reinsurers shall not be released or discharged by a termination under this section of the policies ceded to reinsurers.

G. Contracts by which the insurer has reinsured obligations arising under policies of life, disability income, long-term care insurance or annuities shall continue or terminate as provided in Section 612 of this Act.

Section 503. Sale or Dissolution of the Insurer's Corporate Entity

A. Notwithstanding the entry of a liquidation order, the liquidator may apply for an order to sell or dissolve the corporate entity or charter of a domestic insurer or the United States branch of an alien insurer domiciled in this state, at any time after an order of liquidation of the insurer has been granted, consistent with the provisions of this section.

B. Upon an application to sell the corporate entity or charter, with notice as prescribed in this Act, the receivership court may enter an order;

(1) Separating the corporate entity or charter, together with any of its licenses to do business and such assets as the liquidator deems appropriate to the transaction, from the remaining estate in liquidation and all of its assets and the claims or interests of all claimants, creditors, policyholders and stockholders;

(2) Canceling all outstanding stock and other securities of, and other equity interests in, the corporate entity or charter, provided that the cancellation shall not affect any claim against the estate by holders of the equity interests;

(3) Authorizing the issuance and sale of new stock or other securities for the purpose of transferring to one or more buyers control and ownership of the corporate entity or charter; and

(4) Authorizing the sale of the corporate entity or charter, together with any of its licenses to do business and such general assets as the liquidator deems appropriate to the transaction, free and clear from the claims or interest of all claimants, creditors, policyholders and stockholders.

C. The sale of the corporate entity or charter may be made in the manner and on the terms and conditions applied for by the liquidator and ordered by the receivership court. Any sale shall be subject to the domiciliary state's laws regarding acquisition of an insurer [refer to state's Insurance Holding Company law or other law regarding the transfer of control of insurers]. The proceeds from the sale of the corporate entity or charter shall become a part of the property of the estate in liquidation, and the then separate corporate entity or charter, together with any of its licenses to do business and such assets as the liquidator deems appropriate to the transaction, shall thereafter be free and clear from the claims or interest of all claimants, creditors, policyholders and stockholders of the insurer in liquidation. The court shall be deemed to have broad powers to effect the disposition of corporate entities and their charters including, without limiting the foregoing, reorganizations and conversions thereof.

D. This section shall be liberally construed to accomplish its purposes to provide an expeditious and effective procedure to realize the maximum proceeds possible from the sale of a corporate entity or charter separated from an estate in liquidation and to ensure that the purchasers receive clear and marketable titles.

E. If permission to sell the corporate entity or charter is not granted prior to discharge of the liquidator, in accordance with this section or otherwise with receivership court approval, the receivership court may order dissolution of the corporate entity or charter, or dissolution shall be deemed complete by operation of law upon the discharge of the liquidator if the insurer is insolvent, or dissolution may be ordered by the receivership court upon the discharge of the liquidator if the insurer is under a liquidation order for some other reason.

Section 504. Powers of the Liquidator

A. The liquidator shall have the power:

(1) To hold hearings, to subpoena witnesses to compel their attendance, to administer oaths, to examine any person under oath, and to compel any persons to subscribe to their testimony after it has been correctly reduced to writing; and in connection therewith to require the production of any books, papers, records or other documents that the liquidator deems relevant to the inquiry;

(2) To audit the books and records of all agents of the insurer insofar as those records relate to the business activities of the insurer;

(3) To collect all debts and moneys due and claims belonging to the insurer, wherever located, and for this purpose:

(a) To institute action in other jurisdictions, in order to forestall garnishment and attachment proceedings against those debts;

(b) To pay Class 1 administrative costs of the estate, at the liquidator's sole discretion and upon approval of the receivership court, where the payments assist or result in the collection or recovery of property of the insurer that provides a net benefit to creditors of the estate;

(c) To do such other acts as are necessary or expedient to collect, conserve or protect its property, including the power to sell, compound, compromise or assign debts for purposes of collection upon such terms and conditions as the liquidator deems consistent with this Act; and

(d) To pursue any creditor's remedies available to enforce the insurer's claims;

(4) To conduct public and private sales of the property of the insurer;

(5) (a) To use property of the estate of an insurer under a liquidation order to transfer policy obligations to a solvent assuming insurer, if the transfer can be arranged without prejudice to applicable priorities under Section 801;

(b) To use property of the estate of an insurer under a liquidation order to transfer the insurer's obligations under surety bonds and surety undertakings, and collateral held by the insurer with respect to the reimbursement obligations of the principals under those surety bonds and surety undertakings, to a solvent assuming insurer, if the transfer can be arranged without prejudice to applicable priorities under Section 801; and if all insureds, principals, third party claimants, and obliges under the policies, surety bonds, and surety undertakings consent, or if the receivership court so orders, the estate shall have no further liability under the transferred policies, surety bonds, or surety undertakings after the transfer is made;

(6) Subject to Subsection D, to acquire, hypothecate, encumber, lease, improve, sell, transfer, abandon or otherwise dispose of or deal with, any property of the estate at its market value or upon such terms and conditions as are fair and reasonable. The liquidator shall also have the power to execute, acknowledge and deliver any deeds, assignments, releases and other instruments necessary or proper to effectuate any sale of property or other transaction in connection with the liquidation;

(7) To borrow money on the security of the property of the estate or without security and to execute and deliver all documents necessary to that transaction for the purpose of facilitating the liquidation. Any such funds borrowed may be repaid as an administrative expense and have priority over any other claims in Class 1 under the priority of distribution;

(8) To enter into such contracts as are necessary to carry out the order to liquidate, and, subject to the provisions of Section 114, to assume or reject any executory contract or unexpired lease to which the insurer is a party;

(9) To continue to prosecute and to institute in the name of the insurer or in the liquidator's own name suits and other legal proceedings, in this state or elsewhere, and to abandon the prosecution of claims the liquidator deems unprofitable to pursue further. If the insurer is dissolved under Section 503, the liquidator shall have the power to apply to any court in this state or elsewhere for leave to substitute the liquidator for the insurer as a party;

(10) To prosecute or assert with exclusive standing any action that may exist on behalf of the creditors, members, policyholders or shareholders of the insurer or the public against any person, except to the extent that a claim is personal to a specific creditor, member, policyholder or shareholder and recovery on the claim would not inure to the benefit of the estate. This subsection does not infringe or impair any of the rights provided to a guaranty association pursuant to its enabling statute or otherwise;

(11) To take possession of such records and property of the insurer as may be convenient for the purposes of efficient and orderly execution of the liquidation. Guaranty associations shall have reasonable access to the records of the insurer necessary for them to carry out their statutory obligations;

(12) To deposit in one or more banks in this state sums required for meeting current administration expenses and dividend distributions;

(13) To invest all sums not currently needed, unless the receivership court orders otherwise;

(14) To file any necessary documents for record in the office of any recorder of deeds or record office in this state or elsewhere where property of the insurer is located;

(15) To assert all defenses available to the insurer as against third persons, including statutes of limitation, statutes of frauds and the defense of usury. A waiver of any defense by the insurer after a petition pursuant to Sections 201 or 207 has been filed shall not bind the liquidator. Whenever a guaranty association has an obligation to defend any suit, the liquidator shall defer to that obligation and may defend only in cooperation with the guaranty association or in the absence of the guaranty association's defense;

(16) To exercise and enforce all the rights, remedies and powers of any creditor, shareholder, policyholder or member, including any power to avoid any transfer or lien that may be voidable under this Act or otherwise;

(17) To intervene in any proceeding wherever instituted that might lead to the appointment of a receiver or trustee for the insurer or any of its property, and to act as the receiver or trustee whenever the appointment is offered;

(18) To enter into agreements with any receivers or commissioners of any other states; and

(19) To exercise all powers now held or hereafter conferred upon receivers by the laws of this state not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

B. The liquidator is vested with all the rights of the entity or entities in receivership.

C. The enumeration, in this section, of the powers and authority of the liquidator shall not be construed as a limitation upon the liquidator, nor shall it exclude in any manner the right to do other acts not specifically enumerated or otherwise provided for, to the extent necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of or in aid of the purpose of liquidation.

D. The liquidator may hypothecate, encumber, lease, sell, transfer, abandon or otherwise dispose of or deal with any property of the insurer, or settle or resolve any claim brought by the liquidator on behalf of the insurer, or commute or settle any claim of reinsurance under any contract of reinsurance, as follows:

(1) If the property or claim has a market or settlement value that does not exceed the lesser of $1,000,000 or ten percent (10%) of the general assets of the estate, as shown on the receivership's financial statements, the liquidator may take the action at his or her discretion. The receivership court may, upon petition of the liquidator, increase the threshold upon a showing that compliance with this requirement is burdensome to the liquidator in administering the estate and is unnecessary to protect the material interests of creditors.

(2) In all instances other than those described in Paragraph (1), the liquidator may take the action only after obtaining approval of the receivership court as provided in Section 107.

(3) The liquidator may, at the liquidator's discretion, request the receivership court to approve a proposed action as provided in Section 107 if the value of the property or claim appears to be less than the threshold provided in Paragraph (1) but cannot be ascertained with certainty, or for any other reason as determined by the liquidator.

(4) After obtaining approval of the receivership court as provided in Section 107 of this Act, the liquidator may transfer rights to payment under ceding reinsurance agreements covering policies to a third party transferee. The transferee shall have the rights to collect and enforce collection of the reinsurance for the amount payable to the ceding insurer or to its receiver, without diminution because of the insolvency or because the receiver has failed to pay all or a portion of the claim, based on the amounts paid or allowed pursuant to Subsection 611. The transfer of these rights shall not give rise to any defense regarding the reinsurer's obligations under the reinsurance agreement regardless of whether the agreement or other applicable law prohibits the transfer of rights under the reinsurance agreement. Except as provided in this subsection, any transfer of rights pursuant to this provision shall not impair any rights or defenses of the reinsurer that existed prior to the transfer or would have existed in the absence of the transfer. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, any transfer of rights pursuant to this provision shall not relieve the transferee or the liquidator from obligations owed to the reinsurer pursuant to the reinsurance or other agreement.

E. The liquidator shall not be obligated to defend any action against the insurer or insured. Any insureds not defended by a guaranty association may provide their own defense, and include the cost of the defense as part of their claims, if the defense was an obligation of the insurer. The right of the liquidator to contest coverage on a particular claim shall be deemed preserved without the necessity for an express reservation of rights.

Section 505. Notice to Creditors and Others

A. Unless the receivership court otherwise directs, the liquidator shall give or cause to be given notice of the liquidation order as soon as possible:

(1) By first class mail or electronic communication as permitted by the receivership court to all the insurer's agents, brokers, or producers of record, with current appointments or current licenses to represent the insurer, and to all other agents, brokers or producers as the liquidator deems appropriate at their last known address;

(2) By first class mail or electronic communication as permitted by the receivership court to all current policyholders, pending claimants and, as determined by the receivership court, former policyholders and other creditors; and

Drafting Note: Notice under this paragraph should include notices to various state and federal agencies with an interest in the delinquency proceeding, e.g. Interstate Commerce Commission and state public utility commissions.

(3) By publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business and in other locations that the liquidator deems appropriate.

B. The notice of the entry of an order of liquidation shall contain or provide directions for obtaining the following information:

(1) A statement that the insurer has been placed in liquidation;

(2) A statement that states that certain acts are stayed under Section 108 and describes any additional injunctive relief ordered by the receivership court;

(3) A statement whether, and to what extent, the insurer's policies continue in effect;

(4) To the extent applicable, a statement that coverage by state guaranty associations may be available for all or part of policy benefits in accordance with applicable state guaranty laws;

(5) A statement of the deadline for filing claims, if established, and the requirements for filing a proof of claim pursuant to Section 701 on or before that date;

(6) A statement of the date, time and location of any initial status hearing scheduled at the time the notice is sent;

(7) A description of the process for obtaining notice of matters before the receivership court; and

(8) Such other information as the liquidator or the receivership court deems appropriate.

C. If notice is given in accordance with this section, the distribution of property of the insurer under this Act shall be conclusive with respect to all claimants, whether or not they received notice.

D. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the liquidator shall have no duty to locate any persons or entities if no address is found in the records of the insurer, or if mailings are returned to the liquidator because of inability to deliver at the address shown in the company's books and records. In these circumstances the notice by publication as required by this Act or actual notice received is sufficient notice. Written certification by the liquidator or other knowledgeable person acting for the liquidator, that the notices were deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid, or that the notices have been electronically transmitted shall be prima facie evidence of mailing and receipt. All claimants shall have a duty to keep the liquidator informed of any changes of address.

E. Notwithstanding Subsection A, upon application of the liquidator the receivership court may find that notice by publication as required in this section is sufficient notice to those persons holding an occurrence policy that expired more than four (4) years prior to the entry of the order of liquidation, and under which there are no pending claims; or the receivership court may order other notice to those persons that it deems appropriate.

Section 506. Duties of Agents

A. At the request of the liquidator, an agent receiving notice of the entry of the liquidation order shall, within fifteen (15) days of receipt, or such longer time as the liquidator may require, provide notice of that order on a form prescribed by the liquidator to each policyholder and other person named in any policy issued through the agent. Within thirty (30) days of the mailing, the agent shall provide a certification of mailing and list of insureds noticed as prescribed by the liquidator.

B. Every person who represented the insurer as an agent and receives notice in the form prescribed in Section 505, shall within thirty (30) days of the notice provide to the liquidator (in addition to the information the agent may be required to provide pursuant to Section 110) the information in the agent's records related to any policy issued by the insurer through the agent, and, if the agent is a general agent, the information in the general agent's records related to any policy issued by the insurer through an agent under contract to the general agent, including the name and address of the sub-agent. A policy shall be deemed issued through an agent if the agent has a property interest in the expiration of the policy, or if the agent has had in his or her possession a copy of the declarations of the policy at any time during the life of the policy, except where the ownership of the expiration of the policy has been transferred to another.

C. Any agent failing to provide information to the liquidator as required in Subsection B may be subject to payment of a penalty of not more than $1,000, in addition, the agent's license may be suspended after a hearing held by the commissioner.

D. Notwithstanding an agent's property interest, if any, in the expiration of the policy, the liquidator shall have the exclusive power to determine whether, and under what terms, to cancel or transfer the policy.

ARTICLE VI. ASSET RECOVERY

Section 601. Turnover of Assets

A. If the receiver determines that funds or property in the possession of another person are rightfully the property of the estate, the receiver shall deliver to the person a written demand for immediate delivery of the funds or property, referencing this section by number, referencing the court and docket number of the receivership action, and notifying the person that any claim of right to the funds or property by the person shall be presented to the receivership court within twenty (20) days after the date of the written demand. Any person who holds funds or other property belonging to an entity subject to an order of receivership under this Act shall deliver the funds or other property to the receiver on demand. Should the person allege any right to retain the funds or other property, the person shall file a pleading with the receivership court setting out that right within twenty (20) days of the receipt of the demand that the funds or property be delivered to the receiver. The person shall serve a copy of the pleading on the receiver. The pleading shall inform the receivership court as to the nature of the claim to the property, the alleged value of the property or amount of funds held, and what action has been taken by the person to preserve and protect the property or to preserve any funds pending determination of the dispute. The relinquishment of possession of funds or property by any person who has received a demand pursuant to this section does not constitute a waiver of a right to make a claim in the receivership.

B. If requested by the receiver, the receivership court shall hold a hearing to determine where and under what conditions the property or funds shall be held by the person pending determination of the dispute. The receivership court may impose such conditions as it may deem necessary or appropriate for the preservation of the property until the receivership court can determine the validity of the person's claim to the property or funds. If any property or funds are allowed to remain in the possession of the person after demand made by the receiver, that person shall be strictly liable to the estate for any waste, loss or damage to or diminution of value of the property or funds retained.

C. If a person has filed a pleading alleging any right to retain funds or property as provided in Subsection A, the receivership court shall hold a subsequent hearing to determine the entitlement of the person to the funds or property claimed by the receiver.

D. If a person fails to deliver the property or to file the pleading described by Subsection A within the twenty-day period, the receivership court may, upon petition of the receiver and upon a copy of the petition being served by the petitioner to that person, issue its summary order directing the immediate delivery of the funds or property to the receiver and finding that the person has waived all claims of right to the funds or property.

Section 602. Recovery from Affiliates

The receiver shall have a right to recover from any affiliate of the insurer any property of the insurer transferred to or for the benefit of the affiliate, or its value, subject to the following limitations:

A. The transfer was made within the five (5) years preceding the initial petition for receivership,

B. No transfer is recoverable under this section if the affiliate shows that, when the transfer was made:

(1) The insurer was solvent,

(2) The transfer was lawful, and

(3) Neither the insurer nor the affiliate knew or reasonably should have known that the transfer, under then-applicable statutory accounting standards, would:

(a) Place the insurer in violation of applicable capital or surplus requirements;

(b) Place the insurer below the risk-based capital level as defined by Section [insert citation to applicable risk-based capital statute];

(c) Place the insurer in violation of statutory writing ratios [reference to state statutes defining, if applicable, or eliminate this provision];

(d) Cause the insurer's filed financial statements not to present fairly the capital and surplus of the insurer; or

(e) Otherwise cause the insurer to be in a hazardous financial condition.

Section 603. Unauthorized Post-Petition Transfers

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the receiver may avoid any transfer of an interest of the insurer in property, or any obligation incurred by the insurer, that was made or incurred after the petition for receivership was filed, and that is not authorized by the receiver and approved by the receivership court.

B. Except to the extent that a transfer or obligation voidable under this section is otherwise voidable under this Act, a transferee or obligee of such a transfer or obligation that takes for value and in good faith has a lien on or may retain, at the option of the receivership court, any interest transferred or may enforce any obligation incurred, as the case may be, to the extent that the transferee or obligee gave value to the insurer in exchange for the transfer or obligation.

Section 604. Voidable Preferences and Liens

A. A preference is a transfer of any interest in property of an insurer:

(1) To or for the benefit of a creditor;

(2) For or on account of an antecedent debt;

(3) Made or suffered by the insurer within two (2) years preceding the filing of a successful petition commencing delinquency proceedings; and

(4) That enables the creditor to receive more than the creditor would receive if:

(a) The insurer was liquidated under this Act;

(b) The transfer had not been made; and

(c) The creditor was entitled to receive payment of the debt to the extent provided by this Act.

Drafting Note: Paragraph (4) substitutes a review of the benefit to the creditor rather than the effect on "this debt" as provided in the prior model act provisions. The objective is to eliminate the ambiguity in situations where a creditor may hold multiple "debts."

B. Any preference may be avoided by the receiver if:

(1) The insurer was insolvent at the time of the transfer;

(2) The transfer was made within 120 days before the filing of the petition commencing delinquency proceedings;

(3) The creditor receiving it or being benefited thereby or its agent in reference to the transfer had, at the time when the transfer was made, reasonable cause to believe that the insurer was insolvent or was about to become insolvent; or

(4) The creditor receiving it was:

(a) An officer or director of the insurer;

(b) An employee, attorney or other person who was in fact in a position to effect a level of control or influence over the actions of the insurer comparable to that of an officer or director, whether or not the person held that position; or

(c) An affiliate.

C. The receiver may not avoid a transfer under this section:

(1) To the extent that the transfer was:

(a) Intended by the insurer and the creditor to or for whose benefit the transfer was made to be a contemporaneous exchange for new value given to the insurer; and

(b) In fact a substantially contemporaneous exchange;

(2) To the extent that the transfer was in payment of a debt incurred by the insurer in the ordinary course of business or financial affairs between the insurer and the transferee and the transfer was:

(a) Made in the ordinary course of business or financial affairs between the insurer and the transferee; or

(b) Made according to ordinary business terms;

(3) To or for the benefit of a creditor, to the extent that, after the transfer, the creditor gave new value to or for the benefit of the insurer:

(a) Not secured by an otherwise unavoidable security interest; and

(b) On account of which new value the insurer did not make an otherwise unavoidable transfer to or for the benefit of the creditor; or

(4) To the extent the transfer was made in respect of a bond posted in connection with an administrative or judicial proceeding in order to appeal, set aside, or stay execution of a judgment.

D. For purposes of this section:

(1) A transfer of property other than real property shall be deemed to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings on a simple contract could become superior to the rights of the transferee.

(2) A transfer of real property shall be deemed to be made or suffered when it becomes so far perfected that no subsequent bona fide purchaser from the insurer could obtain rights superior to the rights of the transferee.

(3) A transfer that creates an equitable lien shall not be deemed to be perfected if there are available means by which a legal lien could be created.

(4) A transfer not perfected prior to the filing of a petition for receivership shall be deemed to be made immediately before the filing commencing delinquency proceedings.

(5) The provisions of this subsection apply whether or not there are or were creditors who might have obtained liens or persons who might have become bona fide purchasers.

E. A lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings upon a simple contract is one arising in the ordinary course of such proceedings upon the entry or docketing of a judgment or decree, or upon attachment, garnishment, execution, or like process, whether before, upon, or after judgment or decree and whether before or upon levy. It does not include liens that under applicable law are given a special priority over other liens that are prior in time.

F. A lien obtainable by legal or equitable proceedings could become superior to the rights of a transferee, or a purchaser could obtain rights superior to the rights of a transferee within the meaning of Subsection D, if these consequences would follow only from the lien or purchase itself, or from the lien or purchase followed by any step wholly within the control of the respective lienholder or purchaser, with or without the aid of ministerial action by public officials. Such a lien could not, however, become superior and such a purchase could not create superior rights for the purpose of Subsection D through any acts subsequent to the obtaining of the lien or subsequent to such a purchase that requires the agreement or concurrence of any third party or that require any further judicial action or ruling.

G. A transfer of property for or on account of a new and contemporaneous consideration that is deemed under Subsection D to be made or suffered after the transfer because of delay in perfecting it does not thereby become a transfer for or on account of an antecedent debt if any acts required by the applicable law to be performed in order to perfect the transfer as against liens or bona fide purchasers' rights are performed within twenty-one (21) days or any period expressly allowed by the law, whichever is less. A transfer to secure a future loan, if such a loan is actually made, or a transfer that becomes security for a future loan, shall have the same effect as a transfer for or on account of a new and contemporaneous consideration.

H. (1) If any lien deemed voidable under Subsection B has been dissolved by the furnishing of a bond or other obligation, the surety on which has been indemnified directly or indirectly by the transfer of or the creation of a lien upon any property of an insurer before the filing of a petition commencing delinquency proceedings, the indemnifying transfer or lien shall also be deemed voidable.

(2) The property affected by any lien deemed voidable under Subsections B and H(1) shall be discharged from the lien, and that property and any of the indemnifying property transferred to or for the benefit of a surety shall pass to the receiver, except that the receivership court may upon due notice order the lien to be preserved for the benefit of the estate and the receivership court may direct that the conveyance be executed as may be proper or adequate to evidence the title of the receiver.

(3) Reasonable notice of any hearing in the proceeding shall be given to all parties as required by law including the obligee of a releasing bond or other like obligation. Where an order is entered for the recovery of indemnifying property in kind or for the avoidance of an indemnifying lien, the receivership court may in the same proceeding ascertain the value of the property or lien, and if the value is less than the amount for which the property is indemnity or than the amount of the lien, the transferee or lienholder may elect to retain the property or lien upon payment of its value, as ascertained by the receivership court, to the receiver, within such reasonable times as the receivership court shall fix.

(4) The liability of the surety under a releasing bond or other like obligation shall be discharged to the extent of the value of the indemnifying property recovered or the indemnifying lien nullified and avoided by the receiver, or where the property is retained under Subsection H(3), to the extent of the amount paid to the receiver.

I. Nothing in this section shall prejudice any other claim by the receiver against any person.

Section 605. Fraudulent Transfers and Obligations

A. The receiver may avoid any transfer of an interest of the insurer in property, any reinsurance transaction or any obligation incurred by an insurer that was made or incurred on or within two (2) years before the date of the initial filing of a petition commencing delinquency proceedings under this Act, if the insurer voluntarily or involuntarily:

(1) Made the transfer or incurred the obligation with actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud any person to which it was or became indebted on or after the date that the transfer was made or the obligation was incurred; or

(2) Received less than a reasonably equivalent value in exchange for the transfer or obligation.

B. Except to the extent that a transfer or obligation voidable under this section is voidable under other provisions of this Act, a transferee or obligee of such a transfer or obligation that takes for value and in good faith has a lien on or may retain any interest transferred or may enforce any obligation incurred, as the case may be, to the extent that the transferee or obligee gave value to the insurer in exchange for the transfer or obligation. For purposes of this section, a transfer is made when the transfer is so perfected that a bona fide purchaser from the insurer against whom applicable law permits the transfer to be perfected cannot acquire an interest in the property transferred that is superior to the interest in the property of the transferee, but if the transfer is not so perfected before the commencement of the delinquency proceeding, the transfer is deemed to have been made immediately before the date of the initial filing of the petition commencing delinquency proceedings.

C. For purposes of this section, "value" means property or satisfaction or securing of a present or antecedent debt of the insurer.

D. In the event a reinsurance transaction is avoided under this section:

(1) The receiver shall tender to the reinsurer the value of any consideration transferred to the insurer in connection with the transaction less the amount of matured and liquidated liabilities owing by the reinsurer to the estate; and

(2) The parties shall be returned to their relative positions prior to the implementation of the transaction avoided.

Section 606. Receiver As Lien Creditor

A. The receiver may avoid any transfer of or lien upon the property of, or obligation incurred by, an insurer that the insurer or a policyholder, creditor, member or stockholder of the insurer may have avoided without regard to any knowledge of the receiver, the commissioner, the insurer or any policyholder, creditor, member or stockholder of the insurer and whether or not such a policyholder, creditor, member or stockholder exists.

B. The receiver shall be deemed a creditor without knowledge for purposes of pursuing claims under the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act, the Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act or similar provisions of state or federal law.

Section 607. Liability of Transferee

A. Except as otherwise provided in this section, to the extent that the receiver obtains an order pursuant to Section 601, or avoids a transfer under Sections 602, 603, 604, 605 or 606, the receiver may recover the property transferred, or the value of the property, from:

(1) The initial transferee of the transfer or the entity for whose benefit the transfer was made; or

(2) Any immediate or mediate transferee of the initial transferee.

B. The receiver may not recover under Subsection A(2) of this section from:

(1) A transferee that takes for value, including satisfaction or securing of a present or antecedent debt, in good faith, and without knowledge of the voidability of the transfer avoided; or

(2) Any immediate or mediate good faith transferee of the transferee.

C. Any transfer avoided in accordance with this Act is preserved for the benefit of the receivership estate, but only with respect to property of the insurer.

D. In addition to the remedies specifically provided in Sections 601, 602, 603, 604, 605 and 606 and Subsection A, should the receiver be successful in establishing a claim to the property or any part thereof, the receiver shall be entitled to recover judgment for the following:

(1) Rental for the use of tangible property from the later of the entry of the receivership order or the date of the transfer;

(2) In the case of funds or intangible property, the greater of (a) the actual interest or (b) income earned by the property or (c) interest at the statutory rate for judgments, from the later of the entry of the receivership order or the date of the transfer; and

(3) Except as to recoveries from guaranty associations, all costs and investigative and other expenses necessary to the recovery of the property or funds, and reasonable attorney fees.

E. In any action pursuant to this section, the receivership court may allow the receiver to seek recovery of the property involved or its value.

F. In any action pursuant to Sections 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606 and 609, the receiver has the burden of proving the avoidability of a transfer, and the person against whom recovery or avoidance is sought has the burden of proving the nature and extent of any affirmative defense.

Section 608. Claims of Holders of Void or Voidable Rights

A. The receiver may disallow all claims of a creditor who has received or acquired a preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment or encumbrance voidable under this Act, unless the creditor surrenders the preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment or encumbrance. If the avoidance is effected by a proceeding in which a final judgment has been entered, the claim shall not be allowed unless the money is paid or the property is delivered to the receiver within thirty (30) days from the date of the entering of the final judgment, except that the receivership court may allow further time if there is an appeal or other continuation of the proceeding.

B. A claim allowable under Subsection A by reason of the avoidance, whether voluntary or involuntary, or a preference, lien, conveyance, transfer, assignment or encumbrance, may be filed as an excused late filing under Subsection 701B if filed within thirty (30) days from the date of the avoidance, or within the further time allowed by the receivership court under Subsection A.

Section 609. Setoffs

A. Mutual debts or mutual credits, whether arising out of one or more contracts between the insurer and another person in connection with any action or proceeding under this Act, shall be set off and the balance only shall be allowed or paid, except as provided in Subsection B, Section 612 and Section 613. Obligations arising out of the termination of life, disability income or long term care reinsurance contracts pursuant to Section 612 may be set off against other debts and credits arising out of contracts between the insurer and the reinsurer.

B. No setoff shall be allowed after the commencement of a delinquency proceeding under this Act in favor of any person if:

(1) The claim against the insurer is disallowed;

(2) The claim against the insurer was purchased by or transferred to the person on or after the filing of the receivership petition or within 120 days preceding the filing of the receivership petition;

(3) The obligation of the insurer is owed to an affiliate or entity other than the person, absent written assignment of the obligation made more than 120 days before the filing of the petition for receivership;

(4) The obligation of the person is owed to an affiliate or entity other than the insurer, absent written assignment of the obligation made more than 120 days before the filing of the petition for receivership;

(5) The obligation of the person is to pay an assessment levied against the members or subscribers of the insurer, or is to pay a balance upon a subscription to the capital stock of the insurer, or is in any other way in the nature of a capital contribution;

(6) The obligations between the person and the insurer arise out of transactions by which either the person or the insurer has assumed risks and obligations from the other party and then has ceded back to that party substantially the same risks and obligations. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, the receiver may permit setoffs if in his or her discretion a setoff is appropriate because of specific circumstances relating to a transaction;

(7) The obligation of the person arises out of any avoidance action taken by the receiver; or

(8) The obligation of the insured is for the payment of earned premiums or retrospectively rated earned premiums in accordance with Section 613.

C. The receiver may avoid pursuant to Sections 604, 605 and 606, and subject to defenses under those sections any setoff that occurred prior to the commencement of the delinquency proceeding under this Act when the setoff would otherwise be disallowed pursuant to subsection B of this section.

Drafting Note: It is the intent of the drafters, with respect to Subsections B(3) and B(4), to deny setoffs between companies who are affiliated so as to not allow one company to use setoffs of another affiliate. Contractual provisions contrary to this intent would not be effective.

Section 610. Assessments

A. As soon as practicable but not more than four (4) years from the date of an order of receivership of an insurer issuing assessable policies, the receiver shall make a report to the receivership court setting forth:

(1) The reasonable value of the assets of the insurer;

(2) The insurer's probable total liabilities;

(3) The probable aggregate amount of the assessment necessary to pay all claims of creditors and expenses in full, including expenses of administration and costs of collecting the assessment; and

(4) A recommendation as to whether or not an assessment should be made and in what amount.

B. Upon the basis of the report provided in Subsection A, including any supplements and amendments thereto, the receivership court may approve, solely on application by the receiver, one or more assessments against all members of the insurer who are subject to assessment. The order approving the assessment shall provide instructions regarding notice of the assessment, deadlines for payment and other instructions to the receiver regarding collection of the assessment.

C. Subject to any applicable legal limits on ability to assess, the aggregate assessment shall be for the amount by which the sum of the probable liabilities, the expenses of administration, and the estimated cost of collection of the assessment, exceeds the value of existing assets, with due regard being given to assessments that cannot be collected economically.

D. After levy of assessment under Subsection B, the receiver shall petition the receivership court for an order directing each member who has not paid the assessment pursuant to the levy to show cause why a judgment therefore should not be entered.

E. At least twenty (20) days before the return day of the order, the receiver shall give notice of the order to show cause by publication or by first class mail to each member liable on the assessment mailed to the member's last known address as it appears on the insurer's records or such other method of notification as the receivership court may direct. Failure of the member or subscriber to receive the notice of the assessment or of the order, within the time specified therein or at all, shall be no defense in any proceeding to collect the assessment.

F. If a member does not appear and serve duly verified objections upon the receiver on or before the return day of the order to show cause under Subsection D, the receivership court shall make an order adjudging the member liable for the amount of the assessment against the member pursuant to Subsection D together with costs, and the receiver shall have a judgment against the member therefore.

G. If on or before the return day, the member appears and serves duly verified objections upon the receiver, the receivership court may hear and determine the matter or may appoint a referee to hear it and make such order as the facts warrant.

H. The receiver may enforce any order or collect any judgment under Subsection F by any lawful means.

I. Any assessment of a subscriber or member of an insurer made by the receiver pursuant to the order of receivership court fixing the aggregate amount of the assessment against all members or subscribers and approving the classification and formula made by the receiver under this section shall be prima facie correct.

J. Any claim filed by an assessee who fails to pay an assessment, after the conclusion of any legal action by the assessee objecting to the assessment, shall be deemed a late filed claim under Section 801.

Drafting Note: This section may be eliminated if the state has no insurers issuing assessable policies.

Section 611. Reinsurer's Liability

A. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the amount recoverable by the receiver from reinsurers shall not be reduced as a result of a delinquency proceeding with a finding of insolvency, regardless of any provision in the reinsurance contract or other agreement. No agreement, written, oral or otherwise shall be enforceable to the extent it is in conflict, or not in strict compliance, with this section. Except as expressly provided herein, no other person whether as a creditor, third party beneficiary or otherwise shall have a direct right to reinsurance proceeds from any reinsurer of the insolvent insurer on the basis of any written or oral agreement, or pursuant to any action or cause of action seeking any equitable or legal remedy. This section shall apply to all the insurer's reinsurance contracts including but not limited to treaty reinsurance, quota share reinsurance, facultative reinsurance, or fronting or captive reinsurance arrangements.

B. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection I of this section, the amount recoverable by the liquidator from reinsurers shall be payable under a contract or contracts reinsured by the reinsurer on the basis of:

(1) Proof of payment of the insured claim by a guaranty association, the insurer or the receiver to the extent of the payment; or

(2) The allowance of the claim pursuant to Section 708, an order of the receivership court or a plan of rehabilitation.

C. If an insurer takes credit for a reinsurance contract in any filing or submission made to the commissioner, and the reinsurance contract does not contain the provisions required with respect to the obligations of reinsurers in the event of insolvency of the reinsured, that reinsurance contract shall be deemed to contain the provisions required with respect to the obligations of reinsurers in the event of insolvency of the reinsured in order to obtain credit for reinsurance or other applicable statutes.

D. All reinsurance contracts that are presumed or construed to contain provisions pursuant to Subsection C, shall be deemed to contain the following provision:

> In the event of insolvency and the appointment of a receiver, the reinsurance obligation shall be payable to the ceding insurer or to its receiver without diminution because of the insolvency or because the receiver has failed to pay all or a portion of the claim. Payment shall be made upon either:
> (1) Proof of payment of the insured claim by a guaranty association, the insurer or the receiver to the extent of the payment; or

(2) The allowance of the claim pursuant to Section 708 of the Insurer Receivership Act, or the allowance of claims pursuant to an order of the receivership court or plan of rehabilitation.

E. The receiver shall give written notice, in accordance with the terms of the contract, to each reinsurer obligated in relation to the claim of the pendency of a claim against the reinsured company. Failure of the receiver to give notice of a pending claim pursuant to a provision in the reinsurance contract shall not excuse the obligation of the reinsurer unless it is prejudiced thereby, and if it is prejudiced, its obligations shall be reduced only to the extent of the prejudice. The reinsurer may interpose, at its own expense, in the proceeding in which the claim is to be adjudicated, any defense or defenses that it may deem available to the reinsured company or its receiver.

F. The entry of an order of conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation shall not be deemed a breach or an anticipatory breach of any reinsurance contract, nor shall it be grounds for retroactive revocation or retroactive cancellation of any reinsurance contracts by the reinsurer.

G. In the event that reinsurance payments to a receiver of a ceding insurer are later determined to be payments in excess of the amounts actually due to the receiver, the excess shall be credited against future payments due to the receiver or shall be repaid to the reinsurer as an administrative expense of the estate pursuant to Section 801A. Any repayment may be limited based on the property remaining in the estate.

H. (1) Subject to Subsection A, payments made by the reinsurer directly to an insured or other creditor shall not diminish the reinsurer's obligation to the insurer's estate and payments made by the reinsurer shall be made directly to the ceding insurer or its receiver, except when:

(a) The reinsurance contract, or other written agreement to which the insured, ceding insurer and reinsurer are all parties specifically provides another payee, other than an affiliate of the ceding insurer or reinsurer, of the reinsurance in the event of the insolvency or receivership of the ceding insurer; provided that the provision is contained in the reinsurance contract as it was written on the date of its initial execution; or the provision is contained in the other written agreement as it was written on the date of the initial policy issuance;

(b) The reinsurance contract, as it was written on the date of its initial execution contains a provision where the assuming insurer with the consent of the direct insured and the ceding insurer has assumed all policy obligations of the ceding insurer as direct obligations of the assuming insurer to the payees under the policies and in substitution for the entire obligations of the ceding insurer to the payees; or

(c) A life and health insurance guaranty association has made the election to succeed to the rights and obligations of the insolvent insurer under a contract of reinsurance in accordance with Section 612, the life and health guaranty association laws of its domiciliary state, or pursuant to other applicable law, rule, order or assignment contract, in which case payments shall be made directly to or at the direction of the guaranty association.

(2) Both the receiver and the reinsurer shall be entitled to recover from any person (other than the receiver or a guaranty association), who unsuccessfully makes a claim directly against the reinsurer, their attorneys' fees and expenses incurred in preventing any collection by that person.

I. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize the liquidator or any other entity to compel payment from a non-life reinsurer on the basis of estimated incurred but not reported losses or loss expenses or case reserves for unpaid losses and loss expenses, except under Sections 614 and 615 and with respect to claims allowed in accordance with Section 705.

Section 612. Life and Health Reinsurance

A. Contracts reinsuring life, disability income or long term care insurance policies or annuities issued by a ceding insurer that has been placed in conservation or rehabilitation proceedings pursuant to this Act shall be continued or terminated pursuant to the terms or conditions of each contract and the provisions of this section.

B. Contracts reinsuring life, disability income or long term care insurance policies or annuities issued by a ceding insurer that has been placed into liquidation pursuant to this Act shall be continued, subject to the provisions of this section, unless either (i) the contracts were terminated pursuant to their terms prior to the date of the order of liquidation (the "coverage date"); or (ii) the contracts were terminated pursuant to the order of liquidation, in which case the provisions of Subsection I shall apply.

C. (1) At any time within 180 days of the coverage date, a guaranty association covering life, disability income or long term care insurance policies or annuities, in whole or in part, may elect to assume the rights and obligations of the ceding insurer that relate to the policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the guaranty association, in each case under any one or more reinsurance contracts between the insolvent insurer and its reinsurers selected by the guaranty association. Any such assumption shall be effective as of the coverage date. The election shall be effected by the guaranty association or the National Organization of Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Associations (NOLHGA) on its behalf sending written notice, return receipt requested, to the affected reinsurers.

(2) To facilitate the earliest practicable decision about whether to assume any of the contracts of reinsurance, and in order to protect the financial position of the estate, the receiver and each reinsurer of the ceding insurer shall make available upon request to affected guaranty associations or to NOLHGA on their behalf as soon as possible after commencement of formal delinquency proceedings (i) copies of in-force contracts of reinsurance and all related files and records relevant to the determination of whether such contracts should be assumed, and (ii) notices of any defaults under the reinsurance contracts or any known event or condition which with the passage of time could become a default under the reinsurance contracts.

(3) The following Subparagraphs (a) through (d) shall apply to reinsurance contracts so assumed by a guaranty association:

(a) The guaranty association shall be responsible for all unpaid premiums due under the reinsurance contracts, for periods both before and after the coverage date, and shall be responsible for the performance of all other obligations to be performed after the coverage date, in each case that relates to policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the guaranty associations. The guaranty association may charge policies of insurance or annuities covered in part by the guaranty association, through reasonable allocation methods, the costs for reinsurance in excess of the obligations of the guaranty association and shall provide notice and an accounting of these charges to the liquidator.

(b) The guaranty association shall be entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer under the reinsurance contracts with respect to losses or events that occur in periods on or after the coverage date and that relate to policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the association, provided that, upon receipt of the amounts, the guaranty association shall be obliged to pay to the beneficiary under the insurance policy or annuity on account of which the amounts were paid a portion of the amount equal to the lesser of:

(i) The amount received by the guaranty association; and

(ii) The excess of the amount received by the guaranty association over the amount equal to the benefits paid by the guaranty association on account of the policy or annuity less the retention of the insurer applicable to the loss or event.

(c) Within thirty (30) days following the guaranty association's election (the "election date"), the guaranty association and each reinsurer under contracts assumed by the guaranty association shall calculate the net balance due to or from the guaranty association under each reinsurance contract as of the election date with respect to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the guaranty association, which calculation shall give full credit to all items paid by either the insurer or its receiver or the reinsurer prior to the election date. The reinsurer shall pay the receiver any amounts due for losses or events prior to the coverage date, subject to any set-off for premiums unpaid for periods prior to the date, and the guaranty association or reinsurer shall pay any remaining balance due the other, in each case within five (5) days of the completion of the aforementioned calculation. Any disputes over the amounts due to either the guaranty association or the reinsurer shall be resolved by arbitration pursuant to the terms of the affected reinsurance contracts or, if the contract contains no arbitration clause, pursuant to the provisions of Subsection I(4). If the receiver has received any amounts due the guaranty association pursuant to Subparagraph (b) of this paragraph, the receiver shall remit the same to the guaranty association as promptly as practicable.

(d) If the guaranty association or receiver, on the guaranty association's behalf, within sixty (60) days of the election date, pays the unpaid premiums due for periods both before and after the election date that relate to policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the guaranty association, the reinsurer shall not be entitled to terminate the reinsurance contracts for failure to pay premiums, insofar as the reinsurance contracts relate to policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the guaranty association, and shall not be entitled to set off any unpaid amounts due under other contracts, or unpaid amounts due from parties other than the guaranty association, against amounts due the guaranty association.

D. When, pursuant to court approval under Section 502 of this Act, a receiver continues policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities in force following an order of liquidation, and the policies of insurance are not covered in whole or in part by one or more guaranty associations, the receiver may, within 180 days of the coverage date, elect to assume the rights and obligations of the ceding insurer under any one or more of the reinsurance contracts that relate to the policies or annuities, provided the contracts have not been terminated as set forth in Subsection B. The election shall be effected by sending written notice, return receipt requested, to the affected reinsurers. In that event, payment of premiums on the reinsurance contracts for the policies and annuities, for periods both before and after the coverage date, shall be chargeable against the estate as a Class 1 administrative expense. Amounts paid by the reinsurer on account of losses on the policies and annuities shall be to the estate of the insolvent insurer.

E. During the period from the coverage date until the election date,

(1) (a) Neither the guaranty association nor the reinsurer shall have any rights or obligations under reinsurance contracts that the guaranty association has the right to assume under Subsection C, whether for periods prior to or after the coverage date;

(b) Neither the receiver nor the reinsurer shall have any rights or obligations under reinsurance contracts that the receiver has the right to assume under Subsection D with respect to the period after the coverage date, but their respective rights and obligations for the period prior to the coverage date shall remain unchanged; and

(c) The reinsurer, the receiver and the guaranty associations shall, to the extent practicable, provide each other data and records reasonably requested;

(2) Provided that once the guaranty association or the receiver, as the case may be, has elected, or declined to elect, to assume a reinsurance contract, the parties' rights and obligations shall be governed by Subsection C, D or I, as applicable.

F. (1) If a guaranty association does not elect to assume a reinsurance contract by the election date pursuant to Subsection C, the guaranty association shall have no rights or obligations, in each case for periods both before and after the coverage date, with respect to the reinsurance contract.

(2) If a receiver does not elect to assume a reinsurance contract by the election date pursuant to Subsection D, the receiver and the reinsurer shall retain their respective rights and obligations with respect to the reinsurance contract for the period before the coverage date, but shall have no rights or obligations to each other for the period after the coverage date, except as provided in Subsection I.

(3) Where a guaranty association or the receiver, as the case may be, does not elect to assume a reinsurance contract by the election date, the reinsurance contract shall be terminated retroactively effective on the coverage date. Reinsurance contracts covering policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities that are terminated pursuant to Section 502 shall terminate effective on the coverage date. In either case, Subsection I shall apply.

G. When policies of life, disability income or long term care insurance or annuities, or guaranty association obligations with respect thereto, are transferred to an assuming insurer, reinsurance on the policies or annuities may also be transferred by the guaranty association, in the case of contracts assumed under Subsection C, or the receiver, in the case of contracts assumed under Subsection D, as the case may be, subject to the following:

(1) Unless the reinsurer and the assuming insurer agree otherwise, the reinsurance contract transferred shall not cover any new policies of insurance or annuities in addition to those transferred;

(2) The obligations described in Subsections C and D of this section shall no longer apply with respect to matters arising after the effective date of the transfer; and

(3) Notice shall be given in writing, return receipt requested, by the transferring party to the affected reinsurer not less than thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of the transfer.

H. The provisions of this section shall, to the extent provided in this Act, supersede the provisions of any law or of any affected reinsurance contract that provides for or requires any payment of reinsurance proceeds, on account of losses or events that occur in periods after the coverage date, to the receiver of the insolvent insurer or any other person. The receiver shall remain entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer under the reinsurance contracts with respect to losses or events that occur in periods prior to the coverage date, subject to provisions of this Act including applicable setoff provisions.

I. When a contract reinsuring life, disability income or long term care insurance policies or annuities is terminated pursuant to this Act, the procedures set forth in this subsection shall apply.

(1) The reinsurer and the receiver shall, upon written notice to the other party to the reinsurance contract no later than thirty (30) days after the receipt by the reinsurer of notice of termination, commence a mandatory negotiation and arbitration procedure in accordance with this subsection.

(2) Each party shall appoint an actuary to determine an estimated sum due as a result of the termination of the reinsurance contract calculated in a way expected to make the parties economically indifferent as to whether the reinsurance contract continues or terminates, giving due regard to the economic effects of the insolvency. The sum shall take into account the present value of future cash flows expected under the reinsurance contract and be based on a gross premium valuation of net liability using current assumptions that reflect post-insolvency experience expectations, with no additional margins, net of any amounts payable and receivable, with a market value adjustment to reflect premature sale of assets to fund the settlement.

(3) Within ninety (90) days of the written request pursuant to Paragraph (1), each party shall provide the other party with its estimate of the sum due as a result of the termination of the reinsurance contract, together with all relevant documents and other information supporting the estimate. The parties shall make a good faith effort to reach agreement on the sum due.

(4) If the parties are unable to reach agreement within ninety (90) days following the submission of materials required in Paragraph (3), either party may initiate arbitration proceedings as provided in the reinsurance contract. In the event that the reinsurance contract does not contain an arbitration clause, either party may initiate arbitration pursuant to this paragraph by providing the other party with a written demand for arbitration. The arbitration shall be conducted pursuant to the following procedures:

(a) Venue for the arbitration shall be within the county of the court's jurisdiction or another location agreed to by the parties.

(b) Within thirty (30) days of the responding party's receipt of the arbitration demand, each party shall appoint an arbitrator who is a disinterested active or retired officer or executive of a life insurance or reinsurance company, or other professional with no less than ten (10) years' experience in or relating to the field of life insurance or life reinsurance. The two arbitrators shall appoint an independent, impartial, disinterested umpire who is an active or retired officer or executive of a life insurance or reinsurance company, or other professional with no less than ten (10) years' experience in the field of life insurance or life reinsurance. If the arbitrators are unable to agree on an umpire, each arbitrator shall provide the other with the names of three (3) qualified individuals, each arbitrator shall strike two (2) names from the other's list and the umpire shall be chosen by drawing lots from the remaining individuals.

(c) Within sixty (60) days following the appointment of the umpire, the parties shall, unless otherwise ordered by the panel, submit to the arbitration panel their estimates of the sum due as a result of the termination of the reinsurance contract, together with all relevant documents and other information supporting the estimate.

(d) The time periods set forth in these subparagraphs may be extended upon mutual agreement of the parties.

(e) The panel shall have all powers necessary to conduct the arbitration proceedings in a fair and appropriate manner, including the power to request additional information from the parties, authorize discovery, hold hearings and hear testimony. The panel also may, if it deems necessary, appoint independent actuarial experts, the expense of which shall be shared equally between the parties.

(5) An arbitration panel considering the matters set forth in this subsection shall apply the standards set forth in Subsection I(2) and shall issue a written award specifying a net settlement amount due from one party or the other as a result of the termination of the reinsurance contract. The supervising court shall confirm that award absent proof of statutory grounds for vacating or modifying arbitration awards under the Federal Arbitration Act.

(6) If the net settlement amount agreed or awarded pursuant to this subsection is payable by the reinsurer, the reinsurer shall pay the amount due to the estate subject to any applicable set-off under Section 609. If the net settlement amount agreed or awarded pursuant to this subsection is payable by the insurer, the reinsurer shall be deemed to have a timely filed claim against the estate for that amount, which claim shall be paid pursuant to the priority established in Section 801G. The guaranty associations shall not be entitled to receive the net settlement amount, except to the extent they are entitled to share in the estate assets as creditors of the estate, and shall have no responsibility for the net settlement amount.

J. Except as otherwise provided in this section, nothing in this section shall alter or modify the terms and conditions of any reinsurance contract. Nothing in this section shall abrogate or limit any rights of any reinsurer to claim that it is entitled to rescind a reinsurance contract. Nothing in this section shall give a policyholder or beneficiary an independent cause of action against a reinsurer that is not otherwise set forth in the reinsurance contract. Nothing in this section shall limit or affect any guaranty association's rights as a creditor of the estate against the assets of the estate. Nothing in this section shall apply to reinsurance agreements covering property or casualty risks.

Drafting Note: For those states that have adopted Section 8N of the NAIC Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Model Act, this section should be read in conjunction with that section.

Section 613. Recovery of Premiums Owed

A. An insured shall pay, either directly to the receiver or to an agent that has paid or is obligated to pay the receiver on behalf of the insured, any unpaid earned premium or retrospectively rated premium due the insurer. Premium on surety business is deemed earned at inception if no policy term can be determined. All other premium will be deemed earned and will be prorated equally over the determined policy term, regardless of any provision in the bond, guaranty, contract or other agreement.

B. A person, other than the insured, responsible for the remittance of a premium, shall turn over to the receiver any unpaid premium due and owing as shown on the records of the insurer, including any amount representing commissions, for the full policy term due the insurer at the time of the entry of the receivership order, whether earned or unearned based on the termination of coverage under Section 502. The unpaid premium due the receiver from any person other than the insured excludes any premium not collected from the insured and not earned based on the termination of coverage under Section 502.

C. A person, other than the insured, responsible for the remittance of a premium, shall turn over to the receiver any unearned commission of that person based on the termination of coverage under Section 502. Credits or setoffs or both shall not be allowed to an agent, broker, premium finance company or any other person for any amounts advanced to the insurer by the person on behalf of, but in the absence of a payment by, the insured, or for any other amount paid by the person to any other person after the entry of the order of receivership.

D. Persons that collect premium, or finance premium under a premium finance contract, that is due the insurer in receivership are deemed to hold that premium in trust as a fiduciary for the benefit of the insurer and to have availed themselves of the laws of this state, regardless of any provision to the contrary in any agency contract or other agreement.

E. A premium finance company is obligated to pay any amounts due the insurer from premium finance contracts, whether the premium is earned or unearned. The receiver has the right to collect any unpaid financed premium directly from the premium finance company by taking an assignment of the underlying premium finance contracts, or directly from the insured that is a party to the premium finance contract.

F. Upon satisfactory evidence of a violation of this section, by a person other than an insured, the commissioner may pursue one or more of the following courses of action:

(1) Suspend or revoke or refuse to renew the licenses of the offending party or parties;

(2) Impose a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each act in violation of this section by the party or parties; and

(3) Impose any other sanction or penalty allowed for by law.

G. Before the commissioner shall take any action as set forth in Subsection F of this section, written notice shall be given to the person, company, association or exchange accused of violating the law, stating specifically the nature of the alleged violation and fixing a time and place, at least ten (10) days thereafter, when a hearing on the matter shall be held. After a hearing, or upon failure of the accused to appear at a hearing, the commissioner, if a violation is found, shall impose the penalties under Subsection F of this section that he or she deems advisable. If the commissioner takes action under this subsection, the party aggrieved may appeal from that action as provided in Section [insert citation to state administrative procedure act].

Section 614. Commutation and Release Agreements

A. Notwithstanding Section 611, the liquidator and any reinsurer may negotiate a voluntary commutation and release of all obligations arising from reinsurance agreements in which the insurer was the ceding party. Any commutation and release agreement voluntarily entered into by the parties shall be commercially reasonable, actuarially sound, and in the best interests of the creditors of the insurer. Any agreement subject to this subsection that has a gross consideration in excess of $250,000 shall be submitted pursuant to Section 107 to the receivership court for approval. The agreement shall be approved if it meets the standards described in this subsection.

B. Without derogating from the provisions of Section 611, in the event that the liquidator is unable to negotiate a voluntary commutation with a reinsurer with respect to the reinsurance agreements between the insurer and that reinsurer, the liquidator may, in addition to any other remedy available under applicable law, apply to the receivership court, with notice to the reinsurer, for an order requiring that the parties submit commutation proposals with respect to the reinsurance agreements to a panel of three (3) arbitrators:

(1) At any time after seventy-five percent (75%) of the actuarially estimated ultimate incurred liability for all of the casualty claims against the liquidation estate, calculated as of the date of the entry of the order of liquidation by or at the instance of the liquidator, is reached by allowance of claims in the liquidation estate pursuant to Sections 703 and 705; provided that for purposes of this subsection, the calculation shall not be performed during the five-year period subsequent to the entry of the order of liquidation; or

(2) At any time in regard to a reinsurer if that reinsurer has a total adjusted capital that is less than 250 percent of its Authorized Control Level Risk Based Capital (RBC) as defined in [cite to states enactments related to the RBC Model Act and any related regulations].

C. For purposes of this section "casualty claims" means the insurer's aggregate claims arising out of insurance contracts in the following lines: farm owners multiperil, homeowners multiperil, commercial multiperil, medical malpractice, workers' compensation, other liability, products liability, auto liability, aircraft (all peril) and international (of the foregoing lines).

D. Venue for the arbitration shall be within the district of the receivership court's jurisdiction, or another location agreed to by the parties.

E. If the liquidator determines that commutation would be in the best interests of the creditors of the liquidation estate, the liquidator may petition the receivership court to order arbitration, in which case the receivership court shall require that the liquidator and the reinsurer each appoint an arbitrator within thirty (30) days after the date of entry of the order for arbitration. If either party fails to appoint an arbitrator within the thirty-day period, the other party shall be entitled to appoint both arbitrators, which appointments shall be binding on the parties. The two (2) arbitrators shall be active or retired executive officers of insurance or reinsurance companies, not under the control of or affiliated with the insurer or the reinsurer. Within thirty (30) days after appointment of the two (2) arbitrators, the two (2) arbitrators shall attempt to agree on the appointment of a third independent, impartial, disinterested arbitrator and if agreement is not reached within the thirty-day period, the third arbitrator shall be appointed by the receivership court. The disinterested arbitrator shall be or, if retired, have been, an executive officer of a U.S. domiciled insurance or reinsurance company, not under the control of or affiliated with either of the parties, who has had at least fifteen (15) years' experience in the reinsurance industry.

F. The arbitration panel may choose to retain as an expert to assist the panel in its determinations, a retired, disinterested executive officer of a U.S. domiciled insurance or reinsurance company having at least fifteen (15) years loss reserving actuarial experience. In the event that the panel is unable to unanimously agree on the identity of the expert within fourteen (14) days, the expert shall be appointed by the president of the Casualty Actuarial Society should the matter involve underlying property and casualty insurance or the president of the Society of Actuaries should the matter involve underlying life insurance. The expert shall not be entitled to vote in the proceeding, but shall issue a written report and recommendation to the panel within sixty (60) days after receipt of the commutation proposals submitted by the parties pursuant to Subsection G, which shall be included as part of the arbitration record and accompany the award issued by the panel pursuant to Subsection H. The cost of the expert should be paid equally by the parties.

G. Within ninety (90) days following the appointment of the third arbitrator under Subsection E, the parties shall submit to the arbitration panel their commutation proposals and other documents and information relevant to the determination of the parties rights and obligations under the reinsurance agreement to be commuted, including a written review of any disputed paid claim balances, any open claim files and related case reserves at net present value, and any actuarial estimates with the basis of computation of any other reserves and any incurred-but-not-reported losses at net present value.

H. Within ninety (90) days following the parties' submissions under Subsection G, the arbitration panel shall:

(1) Issue an award, determined by a majority of the panel, specifying the terms of a commercially reasonable and actuarially sound commutation agreement between the parties; or

(2) If a majority of the panel determines that it is unable to derive a commercially reasonable and actuarially sound commutation based upon the submissions of the parties and, if applicable, the report and recommendation of the expert retained in accordance with Subsection F, the panel shall be entitled to issue an award declining commutation between the parties for a period not to exceed two (2) years. Following expiration of the two-year period allowable under this paragraph, the liquidator shall be entitled to again invoke arbitration in accordance with Subsection B, in which event the provisions of Subsections B through I will be applied to the renewed proceeding, except that the panel shall be obliged to issue an award under Paragraph (1).

I. Once an award is issued, the liquidator shall promptly submit the award to the receivership court for confirmation.

J. Within thirty (30) days of confirmation of the award by the receivership court, the reinsurer shall give notice to the receiver that it:

(1) Will commute its liabilities to the insurer for the amount of the award in return for a full and complete release of all liabilities between the parties, whether past, present or future; or

(2) Will not commute its liabilities to the insurer, in which case the reinsurer shall establish and maintain in accordance with Section 615 a Reinsurance Recoverable Trust in the amount of 102 percent of the award. The reinsurer shall pay the costs and fees associated with establishing and maintaining the trust established under this subsection.

K. If the reinsurer notifies the liquidator that it will commute its liabilities pursuant to Subsection J(1), the liquidator shall have thirty (30) days to:

(1) Tender to the reinsurer a proposed commutation and release agreement providing for a full and complete release of all liabilities between the parties, whether past, present or future, which agreement shall require that the reinsurer effect payment of the commutation amount within fourteen (14) days from the date of consummation of the agreement; or

(2) Reject the commutation in writing, subject to receivership court approval, in which event the reinsurer shall be obliged to establish and maintain a Reinsurance Recoverable Trust in accordance with Section 615. The liquidator and the reinsurer shall share equally in the costs and fees associated with establishing and maintaining the trust established under this subsection.

L. Except for the period provided in Paragraph H(2), the time periods established in Subsections F, G, H, J and K may be extended upon the consent of the parties or by order of the receivership court, for good cause shown.

M. Subject to Subsection N, nothing in this section shall be construed to supersede or impair any provision in a reinsurance agreement that establishes a commercially reasonable and actuarially sound method for valuing and commuting the obligations of the parties to the reinsurance agreement by providing in the contract the specific methodology to be used for valuing and commuting the obligations between the parties.

N. A commutation provision in a reinsurance agreement is not effective if it is demonstrated to the receivership court that the provision was entered into in contemplation of the insolvency of one or more of the parties. A contractual commutation provision entered into within one year of the liquidation order of the insurer shall be rebuttably presumed to have been entered into in contemplation of insolvency.

Section 615. Reinsurance Recoverable Trust Provisions

A. As used in this section:

(1) "Beneficiary" means the domiciliary insurance commissioner, as liquidator of the insurer for whose sole benefit a Reinsurance Recoverable Trust is established.

(2) "Grantor" means the reinsurer who has established a Reinsurance Recoverable Trust for the sole benefit of the beneficiary.

(3) A "qualified U.S. financial institution" means an institution that:

(a) Is organized, or in the case of a U.S. branch or agency office of a foreign banking organization, licensed under the laws of the United States or any state thereof and has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers; and

(b) Is regulated, supervised and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

(4) "Reinsurance Recoverable Trust" means a trust established pursuant to Section 614.

B. The trust agreement governing a Reinsurance Recoverable Trust shall:

(1) Be entered into between the beneficiary, the grantor and a trustee, which shall be a qualified U.S. financial institution;

(2) Create a trust account into which assets shall be deposited in accordance with Section 614;

(3) Provide that the beneficiary shall have the right to withdraw assets from the trust only:

(a) Based on filed claims allowed pursuant to Sections 703 or 705;

(b) Where the grantor has been notified, in writing, of the allowance of the claim;

(c) To the extent that the amount to be withdrawn exceeds any setoff permitted by Section 609 due to the grantor; and

(d) Where sixty (60) days has expired during which the grantor has failed to either pay the claim or, subject to and without derogation from Section 611, the provisions of which shall at all times be and remain binding on the reinsurer, file notice of a written dispute with respect to the claim under and in terms of the reinsurance agreement; or

(e) If the beneficiary has complied with any different or other terms and conditions mutually agreed to by the beneficiary and the grantor in the trust agreement;

(4) Require the trustee to:

(a) Receive assets and hold all assets at the trustee's office in the United States in a safe place;

(b) Determine that all assets are in such form that the beneficiary, or the trustee upon direction by the beneficiary, may whenever necessary negotiate the assets, without consent or signature from the grantor or any other person or entity;

(c) Furnish to the grantor and the beneficiary a statement of all assets in the trust account upon its inception and at intervals no less frequent than the end of each calendar quarter; and

(d) Notify the grantor and the beneficiary within ten (10) days of any deposits to or withdrawals from the trust account;

(5) Be made subject to and governed by the laws of this state;

(6) Prohibit the invasion of the trust corpus for the purpose of paying compensation to, or reimbursing the expenses of, the trustee;

(7) Provide that the trustee shall be liable for its negligence, willful misconduct or lack of good faith;

(8) Provide that the trustee may resign upon delivery of a written notice of resignation, effective not less than ninety (90) days after the beneficiary and grantor receive the notice and that the trustee may be removed by the grantor by delivery to the trustee and the beneficiary of a written notice of removal, effective not less than ninety (90) days after the trustee and the beneficiary receive the notice, provided that a resignation or removal shall not be effective until a successor trustee has been duly appointed and approved by the beneficiary and the grantor and all assets in the trust have been duly transferred to the new trustee;

(9) Provide that the grantor shall have the full and unqualified right to vote any shares of stock in the trust account. Subject to other provisions of this section, any interest or dividends paid on shares of stock or other obligations in the trust account shall remain in the trust;

(10) Specify categories of investments reasonably acceptable to the beneficiary and authorize the trustee to invest funds and to accept substitutions, by the grantor, that the trustee determines are at least equal in market value to the assets withdrawn provided that no investment or substitution shall be made without prior approval from the beneficiary, which shall not be unreasonably or arbitrarily withheld;

(11) Provide that the beneficiary may at any time designate a party to which all or part of the trust assets are to be transferred. Transfer may be conditioned upon the trustee receiving, prior to or simultaneously, other specified assets;

(12) Specify the types of assets that may be included in the trust account, which shall consist only of cash in U.S. dollars, certificates of deposit issued by a U.S. bank and payable in U.S. dollars, and investments permitted by this state's insurance law or any combination of the above, provided investments in or issued by any entity controlling, controlled by or under common control with either the grantor or the beneficiary of the trust shall not exceed five percent (5%) of total investments. Assets deposited in the trust account shall be valued according to their current fair market value;

(13) Give the grantor the right to seek approval from the beneficiary, which shall not be unreasonably or arbitrarily withheld, to withdraw from the trust account all or any part of the trust assets and transfer those assets to the grantor, provided that:

(a) The grantor shall, at the time of withdrawal, replace the withdrawn assets with other qualified assets so as to maintain at all times the deposit in the required amount; or

(b) After withdrawal and transfer, the market value of the trust account is no less than 102 percent of the award made pursuant to Section 614G (1);

(14) Provide for the return of any amount withdrawn in excess of the actual amounts required for payment of reported allowed claims under Paragraph (3) of this subsection, and for interest payments at a rate not in excess of the prime rate of interest on the excess amounts withdrawn; and

(15) Provide for termination of the Reinsurance Recoverable Trust in accordance with Subsection F.

C. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to alter the rights or obligations of the parties pursuant to contractual and statutory provisions providing for notice and the determination of claims.

D. The grantor shall, prior to depositing assets with the trustee, execute assignments or endorsements in blank, or transfer legal title to the trustee of all shares, obligations or any other assets requiring assignments, in order that the beneficiary, or the trustee upon the direction of the beneficiary, may whenever necessary negotiate these assets without consent or signature from the grantor or any other entity.

E. Without derogating the provisions of Section 611, in the event that the Reinsurance Recoverable Trust is exhausted or is insufficient to respond to claims allowed pursuant to Sections 703 or 705, should the grantor or the beneficiary believe that the amount held in the Reinsurance Recoverable Trust is either deficient or overstated, as the case may be, the grantor or the beneficiary may, should they fail to reach agreement on the extent, if any, to which supplementation or reduction of the Reinsurance Recoverable Trust should be occasioned, request that the receivership court order review of the amount held. This review shall be conducted applying procedures and terms as the receivership court shall, in its sole discretion, direct.

F. A Reinsurance Recoverable Trust shall terminate upon the earlier of

(1) The receivership court approval of a voluntary commutation between the grantor and the beneficiary pursuant to Section 614A;

(2) The mutual agreement of the grantor and the beneficiary; or

(3) A finding by the receivership court that the grantor has discharged its liabilities to the beneficiary.

G. Upon termination of the Reinsurance Recoverable Trust, all assets not previously withdrawn by the beneficiary, pursuant to Subsection B(3) of this section, shall, with written approval of the beneficiary, be delivered to the grantor.

ARTICLE VII. CLAIMS

Section 701. Filing of Claims

A. Proof of all claims shall be filed with the liquidator in the form required by Section 702 on or before the last day for filing specified in the notice required under Section 505, which date shall not be later than eighteen (18) months after entry of the order of liquidation unless the receivership court, for good cause shown, extends the time, except that proofs of claim for cash surrender values or other investment values in life insurance and annuities and for any other policies insuring the lives of persons need not be filed unless the liquidator expressly so requires. Only upon application of the liquidator, the receivership court may allow alternative procedures and requirements for the filing of proofs of claim or for allowing or proving claims. Upon application, if the receivership court dispenses with the requirements of filing a proof of claim by a person, class or group of persons, a proof of claim for such a person, class or group shall be deemed as having been filed for all purposes, except that the receivership court's waiver of proof of claim requirements shall not impact guaranty association proof of claim filing requirements or coverage determinations to the extent that the guaranty fund statute or filing requirements are inconsistent with the receivership court's waiver of proof.

B. The liquidator shall permit a claimant that makes a late filing to share ratably in distributions, whether past or future, as if the claim were not filed late, to the extent that the payment will not prejudice the orderly administration of the liquidation, under the following circumstances:

(1) The eligibility to file a proof of claim was not known to the claimant, and the claimant filed a proof of claim within ninety (90) days after first learning of the eligibility;

(2) A transfer to a creditor was avoided under Sections 603, 604 or 606, or was voluntarily surrendered under Section 608, and the filing satisfies the conditions of Section 608; or

(3) The valuation of security held by a secured creditor under Section 710 shows a deficiency and the claim for the deficiency is filed within thirty (30) days after the valuation.

C. Claims filed by reinsurers whose reinsurance contracts are terminated pursuant to Section 612, which arise from the termination, shall not be deemed late if they are filed within ninety (90) days of the termination and shall receive a ratable share of distributions, whether past or future, as if the claims were not late.

D. The liquidator may petition the receivership court, subject to Section 107, to set a date certain after which no further claims may be filed, notwithstanding any other provision of this Act.

Section 702. Proof of Claim

A. Proof of claim shall consist of a statement signed by the claimant or on behalf of the claimant that includes all of the following that are applicable:

(1) The particulars of the claim including the consideration given for it;

(2) The identity and amount of the security on the claim;

(3) The payments made on the debt, if any;

(4) That the sum claimed is justly owing and that there is no setoff, counterclaim or defense to the claim;

(5) Any right of priority of payment or other specific right asserted by the claimant;

(6) The name and address of the claimant and the attorney, if any, who represents the claimant; and

(7) The claimant's social security or federal employer identification number.

B. The liquidator may require that a prescribed form be used, and may require that other information and documents be included.

C. At any time the liquidator may require the claimant to present information or evidence supplementary to that required under Subsection A and may take testimony under oath, require production of affidavits or depositions, or otherwise obtain additional information or evidence.

D. A guaranty association shall be permitted to file a single omnibus proof of claim for all claims of the association in connection with payment of claims of the insurer. The omnibus proof of claim may be periodically updated by the association without regard to the deadline specified in Section 701A, and the association may be required to submit a reasonable amount of documentation in support of the claim.

Section 703. Allowance of Claims

A. Except as provided in Subsections K and L, the liquidator shall review all claims duly filed in the liquidation proceeding and shall further investigate, as the liquidator considers necessary. Consistent with the provisions of this Act, the liquidator may allow, disallow or compromise claims that will be recommended to the receivership court unless the liquidator is required by law to accept claims as settled by a person or organization, including a guaranty association, subject to any statutory or contractual rights of the affected reinsurers to participate in the claims allowance process. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, no claim under a policy of insurance shall be allowed for an amount in excess of the applicable policy limits or otherwise beyond or contrary to the coverage provided under the terms of the insurer's policies or contracts.

B. Pursuant to the review, the liquidator shall provide notice of the claim determination by any means authorized under Subsection 107 of this Act to the claimant or the claimant's attorney. The notice shall set forth the amount of the claim allowed by the liquidator, if any, and the priority class of the claim as established in Section 801. In regard to claims to be allowed pursuant to Section 705, preliminary notice of the amount of the claim determination shall be provided to any reinsurer that is or may be liable in respect to the claim at least forty-five (45) days before notice is provided to the claimant pursuant to this subsection. In regard to claims being allowed other than pursuant to Section 705, the same notice may be provided to any reinsurer that is or may be liable in respect of the claim. If no timely objection is submitted, the determination is binding on the reinsurer upon allowance.

C. Within forty-five (45) days after the date the notice set forth in Subsection B was mailed, the claimant noticed may submit written objections to the liquidator. Any such objections shall clearly set out all facts and the legal basis, if any, for the objections and the reasons why the claim should be allowed at a different amount or in a different priority class. If no timely objection is submitted, the determination is final. The liquidator may accelerate the allowance of claims by obtaining waivers of objections.

D. A claim that is not mature as of the coverage termination date established under Section 502 may be allowed as if it were mature, except it shall be discounted to present value. A claim is not mature if payment on the claim is not yet due.

E. A judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered after the date of the initial filing of a successful petition for receivership, or within 120 days before the initial filing of the petition, and a judgment or order against an insured or the insurer entered at any time by default or by collusion need not be considered as evidence of liability or of the amount of damages.

F. Claims under employment contracts by directors, officers or persons in fact performing similar functions or having similar powers are limited to payment for services rendered prior to any order of receivership, unless explicitly approved in writing by the commissioner prior to an order of receivership or by the conservator or rehabilitator before the entry of an order of liquidation or by the liquidator after the entry of an order of liquidation.

G. The total liability of the liquidator to all claimants arising out of the same act or policy shall be no greater than the insurer's total liability would have been were the insurer not in liquidation.

H. The liquidator shall disallow claims that are for or determined to be for de minimis amounts. A de minimis amount shall be any amount equal to or less than a maximum de minimis amount approved by the receivership court as being reasonable and necessary for administrative convenience.

I. Claims that do not contain all the applicable information required by Section 702, need not be further reviewed or adjudicated and may be denied or disallowed by the liquidator subject to the notice and objection procedures in this section

J. The liquidator may reconsider a claim on the basis of additional information and amend the recommendation to the receivership court. The claimant shall be afforded the same notice and opportunity to be heard on all changes in the recommendation as in its initial determination. The receivership court may amend its allowance or disallowance as appropriate.

K. The liquidator is not required to process claims for any class until it appears reasonably likely that property will be available for a distribution to that class. If there are insufficient assets to justify processing all claims for any class listed in Section 801, the liquidator shall report the facts to the receivership court and make appropriate recommendations for handling the remainder of the claims.

L. Any claim of a lessor for damages resulting from the termination of a lease of real property shall be disallowed to the extent the claim exceeds:

(1) The rent reserved by the lease, without acceleration, for the greater of one year, or fifteen percent (15%), not to exceed three (3) years, of the remaining term of the lease, following the earlier of:

(a) The date of the filing of the petition; and

(b) The date on which the lessor repossessed, or the lessee surrendered, the leased property; plus

(2) Any unpaid rent due under the lease, without acceleration, on the earlier of these dates.

Section 704. Claims under Occurrence Policies, Surety Bonds and Surety Undertakings

A. Subject to the provisions of Section 703, any insured shall have the right to file a claim for the protection afforded under the insured's policy, irrespective of whether a claim is then known, if the policy is an occurrence policy.

B. Subject to the provisions of Section 703, any obligee shall have the right to file a claim for the protection afforded under a surety bond or a surety undertaking issued by the insurer as to which the obligee is the beneficiary, irrespective of whether a claim is then known.

C. After a claim is filed under Subsection A or B, when a specific claim is made by or against the insured or by the obligee, the insured or the obligee shall supplement the claim, and the receiver shall treat the claim as a contingent or unliquidated claim under Section 705.

Section 705. Allowance of Contingent and Unliquidated Claims

A. A claim of an insured or third party may be allowed under Section 703, regardless of the fact that it was contingent or unliquidated if any contingency is removed in accordance with Subsection B and the value of the claim is determined in accordance with Subsection C.

(1) A claim is contingent if the accident, casualty, disaster, loss, event or occurrence insured, reinsured or bonded against occurred on or before the date fixed under Section 501, but the act or event triggering the company's obligation to pay has not occurred as of that date.

(2) A claim is unliquidated if the insurer's obligation to pay has been established, but the amount of the claim has not been determined.

B. Unless the receivership court directs otherwise, a contingent claim may be allowed if:

(1) The claimant has presented proof of the insurer's obligation to pay reasonably satisfactory to the liquidator; or

(2) The claim was based on a cause of action against an insured of the insurer; and

(a) It may be reasonably inferred from proof presented upon the claim that the claimant would be able to obtain a judgment; and

(b) The person has furnished suitable proof, unless the receivership court for good cause shown shall otherwise direct, that no further valid claims can be made against the insurer arising out of the cause of action other than those already presented.

C. (1) An unliquidated claim may be allowed if its amount has been determined.

(2) If the amount of an unliquidated claim filed pursuant to Section 701 remains undetermined, the valuation of the unliquidated claim may be made by estimate whenever the liquidator determines that either liquidation of the claim would unduly delay the administration of the liquidation proceeding or that the administrative expense of processing and adjudicating the claim or group of claims of a similar type would be unduly excessive when compared with the property that is estimated to be available for distribution with respect to the claim. Any estimate shall be based on an accepted method of valuing claims with reasonable certainty at their net present value, such as actuarial evaluation.

D. As used in this section, "claim" means a demand for payment pursuant to Section 701 under the terms and conditions of a contract issued by the insurer as a result of a known accident, casualty, disaster, loss, event or occurrence.

E. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, claims for the value or breach of any life, disability income, or long term care insurance policy or annuity shall not result in or serve as the basis of any liability of any reinsurer of the insurer. The reinsurers' liability to the insurer shall be determined exclusively on the basis of their contracts of reinsurance and the provisions of Section 612.

F. The liquidator may petition the receivership court to set a date certain prior to which all claims under this section shall be final. In addition to the notice requirements of Section 107, the liquidator shall give notice of the filing of the petition to all claimants with claims that remain contingent or unliquidated under this section.

Section 706. Special Provisions for Third Party Claims

A. Whenever a third party asserts a cause of action against an insured of an insurer in liquidation, the third party may file a claim with the liquidator on or before the last day for filing claims.

B. Whether or not the third party files a claim, the insured may file a claim on the insured's own behalf in the liquidation.

C. The liquidator may make recommendations to the receivership court for the allowance of an insured's claim after consideration of the probable outcome of any pending action against the insured on which the claim is based, the probable damages recoverable in the action and the probable costs and expenses of defense. After allowance by the receivership court, the liquidator shall withhold any distribution payable on the claim, pending the outcome of litigation and negotiation between the insured and the third party. The liquidator may reconsider the claim as provided in Subsection 703J. As claims against the insured are settled or barred, the insured or third party, as appropriate, shall be paid, from the amount withheld, the same percentage distribution as was paid on other claims of like priority, based on the lesser of the amount actually due from the insured by action or paid by agreement plus the reasonable costs and expense of defense, or the amount allowed on the claims by the receivership court. After all claims are settled or barred, any sum remaining from the amount withheld shall revert to the undistributed property of the insurer.

Drafting Note: The fact that a third party claim often remains unsettled for a long time should not prevent the insured from getting protection from his or her policy as others have received from theirs, so long as it does not unreasonably delay the liquidation. Each claim should be evaluated at the latest possible time and a distribution apportioned to it. In this case, however, the distribution should not be paid to the insured but withheld for future payment to the insured, after completion of the litigation and payment of the judgment. If the insured wins the litigation, the amount withheld would revert to the unallocated funds of the liquidator except for allowable defense costs. If the amount reverts at a time or in a sum that would make it uneconomic to distribute it, it would be distributed in accordance with Section 804.

D. (1) If several claims founded upon one policy are timely filed, whether by third parties or as claims by the insured under this section, and the aggregate amount of the timely filed allowed claims exceeds the aggregate policy limits, the liquidator may:

(a) Apportion the policy limits ratably among the timely filed allowed claims; or

(b) Give notice to the insured, known third parties and affected guaranty associations that the aggregate policy limits have been exceeded. Thirty (30) days after the date of the liquidator's notice, no further amounts shall be allowed, the policy limits shall be apportioned ratably among the timely filed allowed claims, and any additional claims shall be rejected.

(2) Claims by the insured shall be evaluated as in Subsection C. If any insured's claim is subsequently reduced under Subsection C, the amount thus freed shall be apportioned ratably among the claims that have been reduced under this subsection.

E. No claim may be allowed under this section to the extent it is covered by any guaranty association.

F. A claimant may withdraw a proof of claim with the liquidator's approval. The liquidator may approve the withdrawal after giving notice of the withdrawal to the insured and only upon a showing of good cause.

G. The filing of a proof of claim in connection with a claim against an insured shall have the following effect on the rights of the claimant and the insured:

(1) By filing a proof of claim, a claimant waives any right to pursue the personal assets of the insured with respect to the claim, to the extent of the coverage or policy limits provided by the insurer, and agrees that, to the extent of the coverage or policy limits provided by the insurer, the claimant shall seek satisfaction of the claim against the insured solely from distributions paid by the liquidator on the claim and from any payments that a guaranty association may pay on account of the claim, except as provided in this section.

(2) The waiver provided under this section is conditioned upon the cooperation of the insured with the liquidator in the defense of the claim and any applicable guaranty association in defense of the claim. The waiver provided under this section does not operate to discharge the guaranty association from any of its responsibilities and duties, or release the insured with respect to any claim in excess of the coverage or policy limits provided by the insurer, or any other responsible party or release the insured to the extent of the guaranty association's claim for reimbursement from the insured under a guaranty association act provision instituting a right to recover from high net worth insureds.

(3) The waiver provided under this section shall be void if:

(a) A claimant withdraws his or her proof of claim under Subsection F; or

(b) The liquidator avoids insurance coverage in connection with a proof of the claim.

(4) The liquidator shall provide, where applicable, notice of the election of remedies provision in this section on any proof of claim form it distributes. The notice shall be inserted above the claimant's signature line in typeface no smaller than the typeface of the rest of the notice and, in any event, no smaller than font size 14 and shall include a statement substantially similar to the following: "I understand by filing this claim in the estate of the insurer I am waiving any right to pursue the personal assets of the insured to the extent that there are policy limits or coverage provided by the now insolvent insurer."

Section 707. Disputed Claims

A. The liquidator may adopt, with the approval of the receivership court, procedures for the review, determination and appeal of claims that will be preliminary to review by the receivership court.

B. Whenever objections to the liquidator's proposed treatment of a claim are filed and the liquidator does not alter the determination of the claim as a result of the objections, the liquidator shall ask the receivership court for a hearing pursuant to Section 107.

C. The provisions of this section are not applicable to disputes with respect to coverage determinations by guaranty associations as part of their statutory obligations.

D. The final disposition by the receivership court of a disputed claim shall be deemed a final judgment for purposes of appeal.

Section 708. Liquidator's Recommendations to the Receivership Court

The liquidator shall present to the receivership court, for approval, reports of claims settled or determined by the liquidator under Section 703. The reports will be presented from time to time as determined by the liquidator. The reports shall include information identifying the claim and the amount and priority class of the claim.

Section 709. Claims of Co-debtors

If a creditor does not timely file a proof of the creditor's claim, an entity that is liable to the creditor together with the insurer, or that has secured the creditor, may file a proof of the claim.

Section 710. Secured Creditors' Claims

A. The value of a security held by a secured creditor shall be determined in one of the following ways:

(1) By converting the same into money according to the terms of the agreement pursuant to which the security was delivered to the creditor; or

(2) By agreement or litigation between the creditor and the liquidator.

B. (1) If a surety has paid any losses and loss adjustment expenses under its own surety instrument prior to any petition for a delinquency proceeding and the principal has posted collateral that remains available to reimburse the losses and/or loss adjustment expenses and at the time of the petition that collateral had not been credited against the payments made, then the receiver has the first priority to utilize the collateral to reimburse the pre-petition losses and expenses.

(2) If the principal under a surety bond or a surety undertaking has pledged any collateral (including, but not limited to, a guaranty or a letter of credit) to secure its reimbursement obligation to the insurer, the claims of any obligee [or, subject to the discretion of the receiver, completion contractor] under the surety bond or surety undertaking shall be satisfied first out of the collateral or its proceeds.

(3) In making any distribution to an obligee [or completion contractor], the receiver shall retain a sufficient reserve for any other potential claims against the collateral under Subsection B(2).

(4) If the collateral is insufficient to satisfy in full all potential claims against it under Subsection B(2) and B(6), the claims shall be paid on a pro rata basis and the obligees [or completion contractor] shall have claims, subject to allowance pursuant to Section 703, for any deficiency.

(5) If the time to assert claims against a surety bond or a surety undertaking has expired, and all the claims have been satisfied in full, any remaining collateral for the surety bond or surety undertaking shall be returned to the principal.

(6) To the extent that a guaranty association has made a payment relating to a claim against a surety bond, the guaranty association shall first be reimbursed for the payment and related expenses out of the available collateral or proceeds related to the surety bond. To the extent the collateral is sufficient; the guaranty association will be reimbursed for 100 per cent of its payment. If the collateral is insufficient to satisfy in full all potential claims against it under Subsection B(2) and under this paragraph, the guaranty associations that have paid claims on surety bonds shall be entitled to a pro rata share of the available collateral in accordance with Subsection B(4) and the guaranty association or associations shall have claims against the general assets of the estate in accordance with Section 703 for any deficiency. Any payments made to guaranty funds from the collateral shall not be deemed early access or otherwise considered distributions out of the general assets or property of the estate and the guaranty associations shall subtract any payment from the collateral from their final claims against the estate.

C. The amount determined pursuant to Subsection A shall be credited upon the secured claim, and the claimant may file a proof of claim, subject to all other provisions of this Act, for any deficiency, which shall be treated as an unsecured claim. If the claimant shall surrender the claimant's security to the liquidator, the entire claim shall be treated as if unsecured.

D. The liquidator may recover from property securing an allowed secured claim the reasonable, necessary costs and expenses of preserving, or disposing of, such property to the extent of any benefit to the holder of such claim.

Section 711. Qualified Financial Contracts

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, including any other provision of this Act permitting the modification of contracts, or other law of a state, no person shall be stayed or prohibited from exercising:

(1) A contractual right to cause the termination, liquidation, acceleration or close out of obligations under or in connection with any netting agreement or qualified financial contract with an insurer because of:

(a) The insolvency, financial condition or default of the insurer at any time, provided that the right is enforceable under applicable law other than this Act; or

(b) The commencement of a formal delinquency proceeding under this Act;

(2) Any right under a pledge, security, collateral, reimbursement or guarantee agreement or arrangement or any other similar security arrangement or arrangement or other credit enhancement relating to one or more netting agreements or qualified financial contracts;

(3) Subject to any provision of Subsection 609B, any right to set off or net out any termination value, payment amount, or other transfer obligation arising under or in connection with one or more qualified financial contracts where the counterparty or its guarantor is organized under the laws of the United States or a state or a foreign jurisdiction approved by the Securities Valuation Office (SVO) of the NAIC as eligible for netting; or

(4) If a counterparty to a master netting agreement or a qualified financial contract with an insurer subject to a proceeding under this Act terminates, liquidates, closes out or accelerates the agreement or contract, damages shall be measured as of the date or dates of termination, liquidation, close out or acceleration. The amount of a claim for damages shall be actual direct compensatory damages calculated in accordance with Subsection F below.

B. Upon termination of a netting agreement or qualified financial contract, the net or settlement amount, if any, owed by a non-defaulting party to an insurer against which an application or petition has been filed under this Act shall be transferred to or on the order of the receiver for the insurer, even if the insurer is the defaulting party, notwithstanding any walkaway clause in the netting agreement or qualified financial contract. For purposes of this subsection, the term "walkaway clause" means a provision in a netting agreement or a qualified financial contract that, after calculation of a value of a party's position or an amount due to or from one of the parties in accordance with its terms upon termination, liquidation or acceleration of the netting agreement or qualified financial contract, either does not create a payment obligation of a party or extinguishes a payment obligation of a party in whole or in part solely because of the party's status as a non-defaulting party. Any limited two-way payment or first method provision in a netting agreement or qualified financial contract with an insurer that has defaulted shall be deemed to be a full two-way payment or second method provision as against the defaulting insurer. Any such property or amount shall, except to the extent it is subject to one or more secondary liens or encumbrances or rights of netting or setoff, be a general asset of the insurer.

Drafting Note: This provision requires that, upon termination of a netting agreement, the non-defaulting party will be required to pay to the defaulting party (the insurer) any net or settlement amounts owed to the insurer, notwithstanding any provision in the netting agreement that provides that the non-defaulting party is not required to make payments to the defaulting party. In short, this provision renders "limited two-way payment" provisions in master swap agreements unenforceable against a defaulting insurer.

C. In making any transfer of a netting agreement or qualified financial contract of an insurer subject to a proceeding under this Act, the receiver shall either:

(1) Transfer to one party (other than an insurer subject to a proceeding under this Act) all netting agreements and qualified financial contracts between a counterparty or any affiliate of the counterparty and the insurer that is the subject of the proceeding, including:

(a) All rights and obligations of each party under each netting agreement and qualified financial contract; and

(b) All property, including any guarantees or other credit enhancement, securing any claims of each party under each netting agreement and qualified financial contract; or

(2) Transfer none of the netting agreements, qualified financial contracts, rights, obligations or property referred to in Paragraph (1) of this subsection (with respect to the counterparty and any affiliate of the counterparty).

D. If a receiver for an insurer makes a transfer of one or more netting agreements or qualified financial contracts, then the receiver shall use its best efforts to notify any person who is party to the netting agreements or qualified financial contracts of the transfer by 12:00 noon (the receiver's local time) on the business day following the transfer. For purposes of this subsection, "business day" means a day other than a Saturday, Sunday or any day on which either the New York Stock Exchange or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York is closed.

E. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, a receiver may not avoid a transfer of money or other property arising under or in connection with a netting agreement or qualified financial contract (or any pledge, security, collateral or guarantee agreement or any other similar security arrangement or credit support document relating to a netting agreement or qualified financial contract) that is made before the commencement of a formal delinquency proceeding under this Act. However, a transfer may be avoided under Section 606A if the transfer was made with actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud the insurer, a receiver appointed for the insurer, or existing or future creditors.

F. (1) In exercising the rights of disaffirmance or repudiation of a receiver with respect to any netting agreement or qualified financial contract to which an insurer is a party, the receiver for the insurer shall either:

(a) Disaffirm or repudiate all netting agreements and qualified financial contracts between a counterparty or any affiliate of the counterparty and the insurer that is the subject of the proceeding; or

(b) Disaffirm or repudiate none of the netting agreements and qualified financial contracts referred to in Subparagraph (a) (with respect to the person or any affiliate of the person).

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, any claim of a counterparty against the estate arising from the receiver's disaffirmance or repudiation of a netting agreement or qualified financial contract that has not been previously affirmed in the liquidation or immediately preceding conservation or rehabilitation case shall be determined and shall be allowed or disallowed as if the claim had arisen before the date of the filing of the petition for liquidation or, if a conservation or rehabilitation proceeding is converted to a liquidation proceeding, as if the claim had arisen before the date of the filing of the petition for conservation or rehabilitation. The amount of the claim shall be the actual direct compensatory damages determined as of the date of the disaffirmance or repudiation of the netting agreement or qualified financial contract. The term "actual direct compensatory damages" does not include punitive or exemplary damages, damages for lost profit or lost opportunity or damages for pain and suffering, but does include normal and reasonable costs of cover or other reasonable measures of damages utilized in the derivatives, securities or other market for the contract and agreement claims.

Drafting Note: The intended effect of this provision is that, except where the receiver has expressly affirmed a netting agreement or qualified financial contract, the claim of a counterparty against the estate of an insolvent insurer (after completion of the netting and setoff processes) will have no greater priority than the claim of a general creditor.

G. The term "contractual right" as used in this section includes any right set forth in a rule or bylaw of a derivatives clearing organization (as defined in the Commodity Exchange Act), a multilateral clearing organization (as defined in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act of 1991), a national securities exchange, a national securities association, a securities clearing agency, a contract market designated under the Commodity Exchange Act, a derivatives transaction execution facility registered under the Commodity Exchange Act, or a board of trade (as defined in the Commodity Exchange Act) or in a resolution of the governing board thereof and any right, whether or not evidenced in writing, arising under statutory or common law, or under law merchant, or by reason of normal business practice.

H. The provisions of this section shall not apply to persons who are affiliates of the insurer that is the subject of the proceeding.

I. All rights of counterparties under this Act shall apply to netting agreements and qualified financial contracts entered into on behalf of the general account or separate accounts if the assets of each separate account are available only to counterparties to netting agreements and qualified financial contracts entered into on behalf of that separate account.

Section 712. Administration of Loss Reimbursement Policies

A. For purposes of this section:

(1) "Loss reimbursement policy" means any combination of one or more policies, endorsements, contracts or security agreements in which:

(a) The insured has agreed with the insurer to:

(i) Pay directly any portion of a loss or loss adjustment expense owed by the insurer under the policy up to a specified dollar amount; or

(ii) Reimburse the insurer for its payment of loss and loss adjustment expense under the policy up to a specified dollar amount; and

(b) Under which the insurer remains liable for payment of loss and loss adjustment expense under the policy regardless of whether the insured has met its obligations.

A loss reimbursement policy may provide for a specific dollar amount of loss reimbursement applicable to each claim, an aggregate dollar amount applicable to all claims under the policy, or both.

(2) "Loss reimbursement" means any payment made by the insured to or on behalf of the insurer for loss or loss adjustment expense pursuant to the terms of a loss reimbursement policy, to the extent that the insurer is responsible for payment regardless of whether the insured has met its obligations. Loss reimbursement includes any voluntary or involuntary application of loss reimbursement collateral to the loss reimbursement obligations of the insured. Loss reimbursement does not include:

(a) Payments made by the insured pursuant to a deductible arrangement under which the insurer has no obligation to pay or advance the amount of the deductible on behalf of the insured or a self-insurance arrangement under which the insurer has no payment obligation for the obligation of the self-insured;

(b) Retrospectively rated premium payments; or

(c) Reinsurance claim payments made by a captive reinsurer or other reinsurer affiliated with or funded by the insured or affiliated with the insurer.

(3) "Loss reimbursement claim" means any claim on a loss reimbursement policy that has been made against the estate, or that was previously paid by the insurer, to the extent that it is subject to an insured's loss reimbursement obligation. A loss reimbursement claim includes any loss adjustment expenses that are subject to reimbursement by the terms of the policy.

(4) "Loss reimbursement collateral" means any cash, letters of credit, surety bond or any other form of security provided by the insured to secure its loss reimbursement obligations, regardless of whether the collateral is held by, for the benefit of, or assigned to the insurer, and regardless of whether the collateral also secures other obligations of the insured.

(5) "Uncovered loss reimbursement claim" means a loss reimbursement claim that is not defined as a covered claim under the relevant guaranty association statute.

(6) "Other secured obligations" means any obligations, such as reinsurance or retrospective premium obligations, that are payable by the insured to the insurer and which are secured by collateral that also secures a loss reimbursement obligation.

B. (1) Unless otherwise prohibited by law, the receiver may enter into agreements allowing the insured to fund or pay loss reimbursement claims directly or through a third party administrator.

(2) Unless otherwise prohibited by law, if the insurer allowed the insured to fund or pay loss reimbursement claims directly or through a third party administrator, the insured shall continue to fulfill its obligations, and the receiver may enforce the funding or payment agreements.

(3) The insured's payment of a loss reimbursement claim in whole or part, including any payment made by a third-party administrator on behalf of the insured, shall extinguish the obligation, if any, of the receiver or any guaranty association to pay that claim or that portion of the claim. Acceptance of the insured's payment by a claimant in full or final settlement of a claim shall bar the assertion of that claim in the delinquency proceeding.

(4) An agreement entered into or reaffirmed under this subsection may be terminated in the manner specified in the agreement.

C. Any loss reimbursements owed by an insured shall be administered as follows:

(1) The receiver shall bill an insured for reimbursement of a loss reimbursement claim when i) the insurer paid the claim prior to the commencement of delinquency proceedings; ii) the receiver is notified that a guaranty association has paid a loss reimbursement claim; iii) the receiver has paid a loss reimbursement claim; or iv) a loss reimbursement claim is allowed in liquidation proceedings. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, a guaranty association which pays a loss reimbursement subject to recovery from the insured under statutory net worth provisions shall bill the insured directly and shall provide notice of said billing to the receiver as well as notice to the receiver of any reimbursements collected. Such recoveries pursuant to statutory net worth provisions shall not be general assets of the estate.

(2) All loss reimbursements paid to the receiver are general assets of the estate.

(3) Any loss reimbursement paid to the receiver that is allocable to a claim paid by a guaranty association shall be immediately distributed to that guaranty association as an early access payment in accordance with Section 803; provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions of Section 803, receivership court approval shall not be required for early access distributions made pursuant to this section.

(4) If the insured does not make payment within the time specified in the loss reimbursement policy, or within sixty (60) days after receipt of the billing if no time is specified, the receiver is authorized to take all commercially reasonable actions necessary to collect any reimbursements owed.

(5) The insolvency of the insurer, the receiver's inability to perform any of the insurer's obligations under the loss reimbursement policy, or any allegation of improper handling or payment of a loss reimbursement claim by the receiver and/or any guaranty association shall not be a defense to the insured's reimbursement obligation under the loss reimbursement policy.

D. Any collateral held under a loss reimbursement policy issued by an insurer subject to a delinquency proceeding under this Act shall be maintained and administered in accordance with the loss reimbursement policy except where the loss reimbursement policy conflicts with this section.

E. If the loss reimbursement collateral, when combined with loss reimbursement payments that have been made by the insured, is insufficient to reimburse loss reimbursement claims already paid by the insurer, the receiver and guaranty associations, and to discharge all currently and past due loss reimbursement claims and other secured obligations, then the collateral shall be applied first to fully meet all early access obligations to the guaranty associations under paragraph (C)(3).

F. If the receiver declines to seek or is unsuccessful in obtaining reimbursement from the insured for a loss reimbursement claim and there is no available collateral, a guaranty association may, after notice to the receiver, seek to collect reimbursement due from the insured on the same basis as the receiver, and with the same rights and remedies including without limitation the right to recover reasonable costs of collection from the insured. The guaranty association shall report any amounts so collected from each insured to the receiver. The receiver shall provide the guaranty association with available information needed to collect a reimbursement due from the insured. Whenever a guaranty association undertakes to collect reimbursements from an insured, it shall notify all other guaranty associations that have paid loss reimbursement claims on behalf of the same insured. Amounts collected by a guaranty association pursuant to this paragraph shall be treated as in accordance with subparagraph C(3) of this section. The expenses incurred by a guaranty association in pursuing reimbursement shall not be permitted as a claim in the delinquency proceeding at any priority; however, a guaranty association may net the expenses incurred in collecting any reimbursement against that reimbursement.

G. The receiver is entitled to recover through billings to the insured or from loss reimbursement collateral all reasonable expenses that the receiver or guaranty associations incur in fulfilling their responsibilities under this Section. All such deductions or charges shall be in addition to the insured's obligation to reimburse claims and related expenses and shall not diminish the rights of claimants.

H. [OPTIONAL] The provisions of this section shall be applied in all receiverships pending at the time of enactment.

Drafting Note: Attention should be drawn to whether Section 712 is adopted with IRMA or as a stand-alone. If it is adopted with IRMA, then the provisions in Section 111 of IRMA may apply. States may wish for this particular section to not apply retroactively even if electing to have the rest of IRMA so applied, or may wish to apply 712 retroactively while having the rest of IRMA applying prospectively.

ARTICLE VIII. DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 801. Priority of Distribution

Drafting Note: A state may choose Alternative 1 or Alternative 2 depending how it wishes to classify certain expenses of the guaranty associations. Alternative 1 places expenses of the guaranty associations, including defense and cost containment expenses of property and casualty guaranty associations, in Class 2. Alternative 2 places the defense and cost containment expenses of property and casualty guaranty association expenses in Class 3 with other general policyholder claims, while the remaining expenses of the guaranty associations are in Class 2.

Alternative 1]

The priority of payment of distributions on unsecured claims shall be in accordance with the order in which each class of claims is set forth in this section. Every claim in each class shall be paid in full or adequate funds retained for their payment before the members of the next class receive payment. All claims within a class shall be paid substantially the same percentage. Except as provided in Subsections A(1)(e), K and M, subclasses shall not be established within a class. No claim by a shareholder, policyholder or other creditor shall be permitted to circumvent the priority classes through the use of equitable remedies. The order of distribution of claims shall be:

A. Class 1.

(1) The costs and expenses of administration expressly approved or ratified by the liquidator, including but not limited to the following:

(a) The actual and necessary costs of preserving or recovering the property of the insurer;

(b) Reasonable compensation for all services rendered on behalf of the administrative supervisor or receiver;

(c) Any necessary filing fees;

(d) The fees and mileage payable to witnesses;

(e) Unsecured loans obtained by the receiver. Any such obligation, unless by its terms otherwise provided, shall have priority over all other costs of administration. Absent agreement to the contrary, all claims in this sub-class shall share pro-rata; and

(f) Expenses approved by the conservator or rehabilitator of the insurer, if any, incurred in the course of the conservation or rehabilitation that are unpaid at the time of the entry of the order of liquidation.

(2) Except as expressly approved by the receiver, any expenses arising from a duty to indemnify the directors, officers or employees of the insurer are excluded from this class and, if allowed, are Class 7 claims.

Drafting Note: Implicit in the powers conferred on the liquidator under this Act, and explicitly in Section 504A(3), is the right, subject to approval by the receivership court, to pay Class 1 administrative costs to persons in any priority class where those Class 1 administrative cost payments assist or result in the collection or recovery of property of the insurer for the benefit of creditors of the estate. Payments of administrative costs in these circumstances do not constitute distributions so as to circumvent priority classes or establish subclasses within a class.

B. Class 2. The reasonable expenses of a guaranty association, including overhead, salaries and other general administrative expenses allocable to the receivership to include administrative and claims handling expenses and expenses in connection with arrangements for ongoing coverage, other than expenses incurred in the performance of duties under Section [insert citation to guaranty fund law detection and prevention powers] or similar duties under the statute governing a similar organization in another state. In the case of property and casualty guaranty associations, the expenses shall include, but not be limited to, loss adjustment expenses, which shall include adjusting and other expenses and defense and cost containment expenses.

Drafting Note: If appropriate, states may add to Class 2: "This class shall also include the reasonable expenses of any entity responsible for the payment of claims or continuation of coverage of an insolvent health maintenance organization."

C. Class 3. All claims under policies of insurance including third party claims, claims under annuity contracts and funding agreements, claims under non-assessable policies for unearned premium, claims of obligees (and, subject to the discretion of the receiver, completion contractors) under surety bonds and surety undertakings (not to include bail bonds, mortgage or financial guaranty or other forms of insurance offering protection against investment risk, or warranties), claims by principals under surety bonds and surety undertakings for wrongful dissipation of collateral by the insurer or its agents, and claims incurred during the extension of coverage provided for in Section 502. All other claims incurred in fulfilling the statutory obligations of a guaranty association not included in Class 2, including but not limited to indemnity payments on covered claims and, in the case of a life, health and annuity guaranty association, all claims as a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer for all payments of and liabilities incurred on behalf of covered claims or covered obligations of the insurer and for the funds needed to reinsure those obligations with a solvent insurer.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the following claims shall be excluded from Class 3 priority and paid as claims in Class 7, except as otherwise provided in this section:

Drafting Note: If appropriate, states may add to Class 3: "This class shall also include indemnity payments on covered claims, unearned premiums, and payments for the continuation of coverage made by any entity responsible for the payment of claims or continuation of coverage of an insolvent health maintenance organization."

(1) Obligations of the insolvent insurer arising out of reinsurance contracts;

(2) Obligations incurred pursuant to an occurrence policy, or reported pursuant to a claims made policy, after the expiration date of the insurance policy or after the policy has been replaced by the insured or canceled at the insured's request or after the policy has been canceled as provided in this Act. Notwithstanding this subsection, unearned premium claims on policies, other than reinsurance agreements, shall not be excluded;

(3) Obligations to insurers, insurance pools or underwriting associations and their claims for contribution, indemnity or subrogation, equitable or otherwise, except for direct claims under policies where the insurer is the named insured;

(4) Any amount accrued as punitive or exemplary damages unless expressly covered under the terms of the policy, which shall be paid as claims in Class 9;

Drafting Note: In some jurisdictions the courts have held that coverage for punitive or exemplary damages may not be excluded from liability policies.

(5) Tort claims of any kind against the insurer, and claims against the insurer for bad faith or wrongful settlement practices; and

(6) Claims of the guaranty associations for assessments not paid by the insurer.

D. Class 4. All claims under policies of insurance for mortgage guaranty, financial guaranty or other forms of insurance offering protection against investment risk, or warranties.

Drafting Note: If warranties are regulated as insurance, claims under those instruments should be afforded Class 4 priority. Otherwise, claims under warranties should not be included as Class 4 claims and should also be excluded from Class 3.

E. Class 5. Claims of the federal government not included in Classes 3 or 4.

F. Class 6. Debts due employees for services or benefits to the extent that they do not exceed $5,000 or two (2) months' salary, whichever is the lesser, and represent payment for services performed within one year before the entry of the initial order of receivership. This priority is in lieu of any other similar priority that may be authorized by law as to wages or compensation of employees.

G. Class 7. Claims of other unsecured creditors not included in Classes 1 through 6, including claims under reinsurance contracts, claims of guaranty associations for assessments not paid by the insurer, and other claims excluded from Classes 3 or 4 above, unless otherwise assigned to Classes 8 through 13.

Drafting Note: If appropriate, states may add to Class 7: "all other claims of any entity responsible for the payment of claims of an insolvent health maintenance organization."

H. Class 8. Claims of any state or local governments, except those specifically classified elsewhere in this section. Claims for services rendered and expenses incurred in opposing a formal delinquency proceeding. In order to prove the claim, the claimant must show that the insurer that is the subject of the delinquency proceeding incurred the fees and expenses based on its best knowledge, information and belief, formed after reasonable inquiry indicating opposition was in the best interests of the insurer, was well grounded in fact and was warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law, and that opposition was not pursued for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of the litigation.

I. Class 0. Claims for penalties, punitive damages or forfeitures, unless expressly covered under the terms of a policy of insurance.

J. Class 10. Except as provided in Subsections 701B and C, late filed claims that would otherwise be classified in Classes 3 through 9.

K. Class 11. Surplus notes, capital notes or contribution notes or similar obligations, and premium refunds on assessable policies, and any other claims specifically assigned to this class. Claims in this class shall be subject to any subordination agreements, related to other claims in this class, which existed prior to the entry of a liquidation order.

L. Class 12. Interest on allowed claims of Classes 1 through 11, according to the terms of a plan to pay interest on allowed claims proposed by the liquidator and approved by the receivership court.

M. Class 13. Claims of shareholders or other owners arising out of their capacity as shareholders or other owners, or any other capacity except as they may be qualified in Class 3, 4, 7 or 12 above. Claims in this class shall be subject to any subordination agreements, related to other claims in this class, that existed prior to the entry of a liquidation order.

[Alternative 2]

The priority of payment of distributions on unsecured claims shall be in accordance with the order in which each class of claims is set forth in this section. Every claim in each class shall be paid in full or adequate funds retained for their payment before the members of the next class receive payment. All claims within a class shall be paid substantially the same percentage. Except as provided in Subsections A(1)(e), K and M, subclasses shall not be established within a class. No claim by a shareholder, policyholder or other creditor shall be permitted to circumvent the priority classes through the use of equitable remedies. The order of distribution of claims shall be:

A. Class 1.

(1) The costs and expenses of administration expressly approved or ratified by the liquidator, including but not limited to the following:

(a) The actual and necessary costs of preserving or recovering the property of the insurer;

(b) Reasonable compensation for all services rendered on behalf of the administrative supervisor or receiver;

(c) Any necessary filing fees;

(d) The fees and mileage payable to witnesses;

(e) Unsecured loans obtained by the receiver. Any such obligation, unless by its terms otherwise provided, shall have priority over all other costs of administration. Absent agreement to the contrary, all claims in this sub-class shall share pro-rata; and

(f) Expenses approved by the conservator or rehabilitator of the insurer, if any, incurred in the course of the conservation or rehabilitation that are unpaid at the time of the entry of the order of liquidation.

(2) Except as expressly approved by the receiver, any expenses arising from a duty to indemnify the directors, officers or employees of the insurer are excluded from this class and, if allowed, are Class 7 claims.

Drafting Note: Implicit in the powers conferred on the liquidator under this Act, and explicitly in Section 504A(3), is the right, subject to approval by the receivership court, to pay as Class 1 administrative costs to persons in lower priority classes where those Class 1 administrative cost payments assist or result in the collection or recovery of property of the insurer for the benefit of creditors of the estate. Payments of administrative costs in these circumstances do not constitute distributions so as to circumvent priority classes or establish subclasses within a class.

B. Class 2. The reasonable expenses of the guaranty association, including overhead, salaries and other general administrative expenses and claims handling expenses and expenses in connection with arrangements for ongoing coverage that are of the type and nature that, but for the activities of the guaranty association, otherwise would have been incurred or allocable to the receiver. The expenses allowed under this subsection shall not include: (i) expenses incurred in the performance of duties under Section [insert citation to state guaranty fund law detection and prevention powers], (ii) expenses related to defense and cost containment, in accordance with the NAIC Statements of Statutory Accounting Principles as incorporated in this state by [cite state's insurance statute incorporating the NAIC Statements of Statutory Accounting Principles]; (iii) any other expenses required to be paid or incurred as direct policy benefits by the terms of a policy; (iv) expenses related to coverage issues between the guaranty association and the liquidator.

Drafting Note: If appropriate, states may add to Class 2: "This class shall also include the reasonable expenses of any entity responsible for the payment of claims or continuation of coverage of an insolvent health maintenance organization."

C. Class 3. All claims under policies of insurance including third party claims, claims under annuity contracts and funding agreements, claims under non-assessable policies for unearned premium, claims of obligees (and, subject to the discretion of the receiver, completion contractors) under surety bonds and surety undertakings (not to include bail bonds, mortgage or financial guaranty or other forms of insurance offering protection against investment risk, or warranties), claims by principals under surety bonds and surety undertakings for wrongful dissipation of collateral by the insurer or its agents, and claims incurred during the extension of coverage provided for in Section 502. All other claims incurred in fulfilling the statutory obligations of a guaranty association not included in Class 2, including but not limited to expenses related to defense and cost containment, in accordance with the NAIC Statements of Statutory Accounting Principles as incorporated in this state by [cite state's insurance statute incorporating the NAIC Statements of Statutory Accounting Principles]; expenses related to coverage issues between the guaranty association and the liquidator; indemnity payments on covered claims and, in the case of a life, health and annuity guaranty association, all claims as a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer for all payments of and liabilities incurred on behalf of covered claims or covered obligations of the insurer and for the funds needed to reinsure those obligations with a solvent insurer.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the following claims shall be excluded from Class 3 priority and paid as claims in Class 7, except as otherwise provided in this section:

Drafting Note: If appropriate, states may add to Class 3: "This class shall also include indemnity payments on covered claims, unearned premiums, and payments for the continuation of coverage made by any entity responsible for the payment of claims or continuation of coverage of an insolvent health maintenance organization."

(1) Obligations of the insolvent insurer arising out of reinsurance contracts;

(2) Obligations incurred pursuant to an occurrence policy, or reported pursuant to a claims made policy, after the expiration date of the insurance policy or after the policy has been replaced by the insured or canceled at the insured's request or after the policy has been canceled as provided in this Act.

Notwithstanding this subsection, unearned premium claims on policies, other than reinsurance agreements, shall not be excluded;

(3) Obligations to insurers, insurance pools or underwriting associations and their claims for contribution, indemnity or subrogation, equitable or otherwise, except for direct claims under policies where the insurer is the named insured;

(4) Any amount accrued as punitive or exemplary damages unless expressly covered under the terms of the policy, which shall be paid as claims in Class 9;

Drafting Note: In some jurisdictions the courts have held that coverage for punitive or exemplary damages may not be excluded from liability policies.

(5) Tort claims of any kind against the insurer, and claims against the insurer for bad faith or wrongful settlement practices; and

(6) Claims of the guaranty associations for assessments not paid by the insurer.

D. Class 4. All claims policies of insurance for mortgage guaranty, financial guaranty insurance or other forms of insurance offering protection against investment risk, or warranties.

Drafting Note: If warranties are regulated as insurance, claims under those instruments should be afforded Class 4 priority. Otherwise, claims under warranties should not be included as Class 4 claims and should also be excluded from Class 3.

E. Class 5. Claims of the federal government not included in Classes 3 or 4.

F. Class 6. Debts due employees for services or benefits to the extent that they do not exceed $5,000 or two (2) months' salary, whichever is the lesser, and represent payment for services performed within one year before the entry of the initial order of receivership. This priority is in lieu of any other similar priority that may be authorized by law as to wages or compensation of employees.

G. Class 7. Claims of other unsecured creditors not included in Classes 1 through 6, including claims under reinsurance contracts, claims of guaranty associations for assessments not paid by the insurer, and other claims excluded from Classes 3 or 4 above, unless otherwise assigned to Classes 8 through 13.

Drafting Note: If appropriate, states may add to Class 7: "all other claims of any entity responsible for the payment of claims of an insolvent health maintenance organization."

H. Class 8. Claims of any state or local governments, except those specifically classified elsewhere in this section. Claims for services rendered and expenses incurred in opposing a formal delinquency proceeding. In order to prove the claim, the claimant must show that the insurer that is the subject of the delinquency proceeding incurred the fees and expenses based on its best knowledge, information and belief, formed after reasonable inquiry indicating opposition was in the best interests of the insurer, was well grounded in fact and was warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for the extension, modification or reversal of existing law, and that opposition was not pursued for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of the litigation.

I. Class 9. Claims for penalties, punitive damages or forfeitures, unless expressly covered under the terms of a policy of insurance.

J. Class 10. Except as provided in Subsections 701B and C, late filed claims that would otherwise be classified in Classes 3 through 9.

K. Class 11. Surplus notes, capital notes or contribution notes or similar obligations, and premium refunds on assessable policies, and any other claims specifically assigned to this class. Claims in this class shall be subject to any subordination agreements, related to other claims in this class, which existed prior to the entry of a liquidation order.

L. Class 12. Interest on allowed claims of Classes 1 through 11, according to the terms of a plan to pay interest on allowed claims proposed by the liquidator and approved by the receivership court.

M. Class 13. Claims of shareholders or other owners arising out of their capacity as shareholders or other owners, or any other capacity except as they may be qualified in Class 3, 4, 7 or 12 above. Claims in this class shall be subject to any subordination agreements, related to other claims in this class, that existed prior to the entry of a liquidation order.

Section 802. Partial and Final Distributions of Assets

A. With the approval of the receivership court, a liquidator may declare and pay one or more partial distributions on claims as those claims are allowed and a final distribution. All claims allowed within a priority class shall be paid at substantially the same percentage. Distributions under this section to guaranty associations are not advances under Section 803.

B. In determining the percentage of distributions to be paid on these claims, the liquidator may consider the estimated value of the insurer's property (including estimated reinsurance recoverables in connection with the insurer's estimated liabilities for unpaid losses and loss expenses and for incurred but not reported losses and loss expenses) and the estimated value of the insurer's liabilities (including estimated liabilities for unpaid losses and loss expenses and for incurred but not reported losses and loss expenses).

C. Distribution of property in kind may be made at valuations set by agreement between the liquidator and the creditor and as approved by the receivership court.

D. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection A and Article VII, the liquidator is authorized to pay benefits under workers compensation policies after the entry of the liquidation order if:

(a) There has been an acceptance of liability by the insurer, and no bona fide dispute exists;

(b) Payments were commenced prior to the entry of the liquidation order; and

(c) Future or past indemnity or medical payments are due.

(2) Claim payments under this subsection may continue until the applicable guaranty association assumes responsibility for claim payments or determines the claim is not a covered claim under its guaranty association law. Any claim payments and related expenses made under this section may be treated as early access distributions under Section 803 in accordance with an agreement with the guaranty association responsible for the payments.

Section 803. Early Access Disbursements

A. (1) Early access payments to guaranty associations shall be made as soon as possible after the entry of a liquidation order and as frequently as possible thereafter, but at least annually if assets are available to be distributed to the guaranty associations ("distributable assets"), and shall be in amounts consistent with the provisions of this section. Amounts advanced to an affected guaranty association pursuant to this section shall be accounted for as advances against distributions to be made under Section 802.

(2) Distributable assets means all general assets of the liquidation estate less:

(a) Amounts reserved, to the extent necessary and appropriate, for the entire Section 801A expenses of the liquidation through and after its closure; and

(b) To the extent necessary and appropriate, reserves for distributions on claims other than those of the guaranty associations falling within the priority classes of claims established in Subsection 801C.

(3) Where sufficient distributable assets are available, amounts advanced need not be limited to the claims and expenses paid to date by the guaranty associations. However, the liquidator shall not distribute distributable assets to the guaranty associations in excess of the anticipated entire claims of the guaranty associations falling within the priority classes of claims established in Subsections 801B and C.

B. Within 120 days after the entry of an order of liquidation by the receivership court, and at least annually thereafter, the liquidator shall apply to the receivership court for approval to make early access payments out of the general assets of the insurer to any guaranty associations having obligations arising in connection with the liquidation or report that the liquidator has determined that there are no distributable assets at that time based on financial reporting as required in Section 117. The liquidator may apply to the receivership court for approval to make early access payments more frequently than annually based on additional information or the recovery of material assets.

C. Within sixty (60) days after approval by the receivership court of the applications in Subsection B, the liquidator shall make any early access payments to the affected guaranty associations as indicated in the approved application.

D. Notice of each application for early access payments, or of any report required pursuant to this section, shall be given in accordance with Section 107 to the guaranty associations that may have obligations arising from the liquidation. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 107, the liquidator shall provide these guaranty associations with at least thirty (30) days actual notice of the filing of the application with a complete copy of the application prior to any action by the receivership court. Any guaranty association that may have obligations arising in connection with the liquidation shall have:

(1) The right to request additional information from the liquidator, who shall not unreasonably deny such request; and

(2) The right to object as provided in Section 107 to any part of each application or to any report filed by the liquidator pursuant to this section.

E. In each application regarding early access payments, the liquidator shall, based on the best information available to the liquidator at the time, provide at a minimum the following:

(1) To the extent necessary and appropriate, the amount reserved for the entire expenses of the liquidation through and after its closure and for distributions on claims falling within the priority classes of claims established in Section 801B and C;

(2) The calculation of distributable assets and the amount and method of equitable allocation of early access payments to each of the guaranty associations; and

(3) The most recent financial information filed with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners by the liquidator.

F. Each guaranty association that receives any payments pursuant to this section agrees, upon depositing the payment in any account to its benefit, to return to the liquidator any amount of these payments that may be required to pay claims of secured creditors and claims falling within the priority classes of claims established in Section 801A, B or C. No bond shall be required of any guaranty association.

G. Without the consent of the affected guaranty associations or an order of the receivership court, the liquidator may not offset the amount to be disbursed to any guaranty association by the amount of any special deposit or any other statutory deposit or asset of the insolvent insurer held in that state unless the association has actually received such deposit or asset.

Section 804. Unclaimed and Withheld Funds

[Alternative 1]

A. If any funds of the receivership estate remain unclaimed after the final distribution under Section 802, the funds shall be placed in a segregated unclaimed funds account held by the commissioner. If the owner of any of these funds presents proof of ownership satisfactory to the commissioner within two (2) years after the termination of the delinquency proceeding, the commissioner shall remit the funds to the owner. The interest earned on funds held in the unclaimed funds account may be used to pay any administrative costs related to the handling or return of unclaimed funds.

B. If any amounts held in the unclaimed funds account remain unclaimed for two (2) years after the termination of the delinquency proceeding, the commissioner may file a motion for an order directing the disposition of the funds in the court in which the delinquency proceeding was pending. Any costs incurred in connection with the motion may be paid from the unclaimed funds account. The motion shall identify the name of the insurer, the names and last known addresses of the persons entitled to the unclaimed funds, if known, and the amount of the funds. Notice of the motion shall be given as directed by the court. Upon a finding by the court that the funds have not been claimed within two (2) years after the termination of the delinquency proceeding, the court shall order that any claims for unclaimed funds, a interest earned thereon that has not been expended under Subsection A, are abandoned and the funds shall be disbursed under one of the following methods:

(1) The amounts may be deposited in the general receivership expense account under Subsection C;

(2) The amounts may be transferred to the State Treasurer, and deposited into the state general fund; or

(3) The amounts may be used to reopen the receivership in accordance with Section 903, and be distributed to the known claimants with approved claims.

C. The commissioner may establish an account for the following purposes:

(1) To pay general expenses related to the administration of receiverships; or

(2) To advance funds to any receivership that does not have sufficient cash to pay its operating expenses.

D. Any advance to a receivership estate under Subsection C(2) may be treated as a claim under Section 801 as may be agreed at the time the advance is made or, in the absence of such agreement, in a priority determined to be appropriate by the receivership court.

E. If the commissioner determines at any time that the funds in the account exceed the amount required, the commissioner may transfer the funds or any part thereof to the State Treasurer, and the transferred funds shall be deposited into the state general fund.

[Alternative 2]

If any funds of the receivership estate remain unclaimed after the final distribution under Section 802, the funds shall be handled in accordance with [cite to state's unclaimed property laws].

ARTICLE IX. DISCHARGE

Section 901. Condition on Release from Delinquency Proceedings

Until all payments of or on account of the insurer's contractual obligations by all guaranty associations, along with all expenses thereof and interest on all the payments and expenses, shall have been repaid to the guaranty associations unless otherwise provided in a plan approved by the guaranty association, an insurer that is subject to any formal delinquency proceedings shall not:

A. Be permitted to solicit or accept new business or request or accept the restoration of any suspended or revoked license or certificate of authority;

B. Be returned to the control of its shareholders or private management; or

C. Have any of its assets returned to the control of its shareholders or private management.

Section 902. Termination of Liquidation Proceedings

When all property justifying the expense of collection and distribution have been collected and distributed under this Act, the liquidator shall apply to the receivership court for an order discharging the liquidator and terminating the proceeding. The receivership court may grant the application and make any other orders, including orders to transfer any remaining funds that are uneconomic to distribute or, pursuant to Subsection 802C, assign any assets that remain unliquidated, including claims and causes of action, as may be deemed appropriate.

Section 903. Reopening Liquidation

After the liquidation proceeding has been terminated and the liquidator discharged, the commissioner or other interested party may at any time petition the court that was the receivership court to reopen the proceedings for good cause, including the discovery of additional property. If the court is satisfied that there is justification for reopening, it shall so order.

Section 904. Disposition of Records During and After Termination of Liquidation

A. Whenever it shall appear to the receiver that the records of the insurer in receivership are no longer useful, he or she may recommend to the receivership court, and the receivership court shall direct, what records shall be destroyed.

B. If the receiver determines that any records should be maintained after the closing of the delinquency proceeding, the receiver may reserve property from the receivership estate for the maintenance of the records. Any amounts so retained shall be administrative expenses of the estate under Section 801A. Any records retained pursuant to this subsection shall be transferred to the custody of the commissioner, and the commissioner may retain or dispose of the records as appropriate, at the commissioner's discretion. Any records of a delinquent insurer that are transferred to the commissioner shall not be considered as records of the Department of Insurance for any purposes, and the [reference applicable public records act] shall not apply to those records.

Drafting Note: The recommendation should conform to whatever general record destruction laws exist in the particular state.

Section 905. External Audit of the Receiver's Books

The receivership court may, as it deems desirable, order audits to be made of the books of the receiver relating to any receivership established under this Act, and a report of each audit shall be filed with the commissioner and with the receivership court. The books, records and other documents of the receivership shall be made available to the auditor at any time without notice. The expense of each audit shall be considered a cost of administration of the receivership.

ARTICLE X. INTERSTATE RELATIONS

Section 1001. Ancillary Conservation of Foreign Insurers

A. The commissioner may initiate an action against a foreign insurer pursuant to Section 201 on any of the grounds stated in that section or on the basis that:

(1) Any of its property has been sequestered, garnished or seized by official action in its domiciliary state, or in any other state;

(2) Its certificate of authority to do business in this state has been revoked or that none was ever issued and there are residents of this state with unpaid claims or in-force policies; or

(3) It is necessary to enforce a stay under [cite applicable guaranty fund acts].

B. If a domiciliary receiver has been appointed, the commissioner may initiate an action against a foreign insurer under this section only with the consent of the domiciliary receiver.

C. An order entered pursuant to this section shall appoint the commissioner as conservator. The conservator's title to assets shall be limited to the insurer's property and records located in this state.

D. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 201D, the conservator shall hold and conserve the assets located in this state until the commissioner in the insurer's domiciliary state is appointed its receiver or until an order terminating conservation is entered under Subsection G. Once a domiciliary receiver is appointed, the conservator shall turn over to the domiciliary receiver all property subject to an order under this section.

E. The conservator may liquidate such property of the insurer as may be necessary to cover the costs incurred in the initiation or administration of a proceeding under this section.

F. The court in which an action under this section is pending may issue a finding of insolvency or an ancillary liquidation order. Any ancillary liquidation order shall be entered for the limited purposes of:

(1) Liquidating assets in this state to pay costs under Subsection E; or

(2) Activating applicable guaranty associations in this state to pay valid claims that are not being paid by the insurer.

G. The conservator may at any time petition the receivership court for an order terminating an order entered under this section.

Section 1002. Domiciliary Receivers Appointed in Other States

A. A domiciliary receiver appointed in another state shall be vested by operation of law with title to, and may summarily take possession of, all property and records of the insurer in this state. Notwithstanding any other provision of law regarding special deposits, special deposits held in this state for this state's guaranty association as the only beneficiary shall be, upon the entry of an order of liquidation with a finding of insolvency, distributed to the guaranty associations in this state as early access, subject to Section 803, in relation to the lines of business for which the special deposits were made. The holder of any special deposit shall account to the domiciliary receiver for all distributions from the special deposit at the time of the distribution. The statutory provisions of another state and all orders entered by courts of competent jurisdiction in relation to the appointment of a domiciliary receiver of an insurer and any related proceedings in another state shall be given full faith and credit in this state. For purposes of this Act, another state means any state other than this state. This state will treat all foreign states as reciprocal states.

B. Upon appointment of a domiciliary receiver in another state, the commissioner shall, unless otherwise agreed by the receiver, immediately transfer title to and possession of all property of the insurer under his or her control, including all statutory general or special deposits other than special deposits where that state's guaranty association is the only beneficiary, to the receiver.

C. Except as provided in Subsection A, the domiciliary receiver shall handle special deposits and special deposit claims in accordance with the statutes pursuant to which the special deposits were required and applicable federal law. All amounts in excess of the estimated amount necessary to administer the special deposit and pay the unpaid special deposit claims shall be deemed general assets of the estate. If there is a deficiency in any special deposit so that the claims secured thereby are not fully discharged from the deposit, the claimants may share in the general assets of the insurer to the extent of the deficiency at the same priority as other claimants in their class of priority under Section 801, but the sharing shall be deferred until the other claimants of their class have been paid percentages of their claims equal to the percentage paid from the special deposit. The intent of this provision is to equalize to this extent the advantage gained by the security provided by the special deposits.

ARTICLE XI. SEPARABILITY AND EFFECTIVE DATE

Section 1101. Separability

If any provision of this Act or its application to any person or circumstance is for any reason held to be invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected.

Section 1102. Effective Date

This Act shall take effect immediately and shall be applicable to ongoing delinquency proceedings in accordance with Section 111 of this Act.

INSURER RECEIVERSHIP MODEL ACT

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

INSURER RECEIVERSHIP MODEL ACT

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2007

INSURER RECEIVERSHIP MODEL ACT (#555)
(Section 801)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

The proposed amendments to Section 801 of the Insurer Receivership Model Act ("IRMA") focus on the priority status of claims made during receivership proceedings under warranties and policies of mortgage guaranty and financial guaranty insurance. As originally adopted, Section 801 excluded claims under policies of mortgage and financial guaranty insurance from the general policyholder class, Class 3. As a result of this exclusion, these claims were included in Class 6, the same priority as claims of unsecured creditors.

The amendments maintain the exclusion of claims under mortgage and financial guaranty insurance from Class 3 but elevate such claims from Class 6 to a new Class 4. The new Class 4 includes "claims under financial guaranty insurance or other forms of insurance offering protection against financial risk, mortgage guaranty insurance and warranties." The claims previously designated as Class 4 are renumbered to become Class 5, and the remaining classes are likewise renumbered. The amendments also include a drafting note highlighting that the priority treatment of claims under warranties depends on whether warranties are regulated as insurance.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group

States Participating:

Pennsylvania, Chair	Massachusetts
Arkansas, Vice Chair	Missouri
New Mexico	Nebraska
California	New York
Connecticut	Ohio
Delaware	Oklahoma
Florida	Tennessee
Illinois	Texas
Iowa	Utah

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The 2006 charges of the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force include responsibility to monitor the progress of IRMA through the adoption process and perform additional work as directed by the parent committee. The Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force delegated any additional work needed to amend or revise IRMA to the Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group ("Working Group"). The need for this amendment was proposed directly to the Working Group by members and representatives of the affected industries.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

During the first quarter of 2006, representatives from the mortgage and financial guaranty insurance industry approached the Receivership Model Act Revision (E) Working Group seeking an amendment to improve the priority status of claims under the affected policies. This was prompted by a statement from FitchRatings that the financial strength ratings of mortgage insurers could be unfavorably affected by the priority treatment of claims under mortgage insurance policies. The priority status afforded by IRMA, as adopted, was considered to indicate a moderate possibility of policyholder recovery in the event of receivership proceedings.

Based on this information and further information from the financial guaranty insurance sector, the Working Group considered several options for rectifying what was an unintentional effect of extensive revisions to the receivership model. Working Group members responsible for the drafting of Section 801 stated that the original intent of excluding claims under policies of mortgage and financial guaranty insurance was not to create an unfavorable perception about the legitimacy of these types of insurance as compared to other insurance of Class 3 priority. It was also observed placing these claims in Class 6, as originally adopted, could create a conflict with federal priority as outlined by the Supreme Court in United States Dep't of Treasury v. Fabe, 508 U.S. 491 (1993).

The decision to place these claims in a separate class from the general policyholder class was intended to provide greater protection to policyholders of insurers that write only financial guaranty or mortgage guaranty insurance. If such a monoline writer were subject to receivership proceedings, no Class 3 claims would exist, thus the claimants would have de facto Class 3 status. The Working Group agreed to amend Section 801 to better protect individual policyholders of monoline writers of mortgage and financial guaranty insurance, while recognizing that these lines may not be regulated in a manner consistent with other lines.

Interested parties who participated in the drafting process were the Genworth Mortgage Insurance Corporation, the Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corporation and the Association of Financial Guaranty Insurers. The interested parties reported that the amendments should provide a cure for the concerns expressed by FitchRatings.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

The Working Group received comments these issues at the Spring 2006 and Summer 2006 National Meetings. Interim meetings allowed for further refinement of the proposed amendments. Written comments were accepted at the Working Group level in two intervals of at least 30 days. The amendments were unanimously adopted by the Working Group on July 11, 2006, and received by the Receivership and Insolvency (E) Task Force at the Fall 2006 National Meeting. No written comments were received at the Task Force level, and the Task Force adopted the amendment unanimously on October 23, 2006. The Financial Condition (E) Committee unanimously adopted the amendment at the Winter 2006 National Meeting.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response)

The only issue garnering controversy at the Working Group level was the proposal by the financial guaranty insurance industry to remove the exclusion for claims under such policies from Class 3 and instead afford Class 3 status to claims by monoline financial guaranty insurers under reinsurance agreements with an insolvent monoline financial guaranty reinsurer. Working Group members expressed concern that this proposal would treat reinsurers in one line of business differently from reinsurers in all other lines. The proposal was offered because market consolidation in the financial guaranty sector has significantly reduced the separation between primary writers and reinsurers. Citing Fabe concerns about treating claims under reinsurance the same as claims of direct policyholders, the Working Group rejected the proposal. The proposed amendment does not recognize claims of reinsurers in these lines differently from reinsurers in any other line.

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

The amendment, if adopted, would become part of IRMA, which is currently being processed under the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation (F) Committee framework for consideration as an amendment to the existing receivership accreditation standard.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2007

INSURER RECEIVERSHIP MODEL ACT (#555)
(Section 712 - Administration of Loss Reimbursement Policies)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

The Insurer Receivership Model Act (IRMA) was originally adopted by the NAIC on December 4, 2005, but did not contain a provision on large deductible insurance policies. Large deductible policies are insurance policies, most common in the workers' compensation area, where the insurer has "first dollar" responsibility for payment of claims, regardless of whether a particular loss is within the deductible amount. In return, the policyholder promises to reimburse the insurer for all payments within the deductible amount. Large deductible policies are typically in excess of $100,000, and are often accompanied by collateral arrangements to secure the insured's deductible obligations. Section 712 – Administration of Loss Reimbursement Policies was added to IRMA to treat loss reimbursements in the receivership context as general assets of the insolvent estate. Section 712 also provides that any funds that come into the insolvency estate (either through repayments or through the draw down of collateral) that are allocable to claims that a guaranty association has paid shall be immediately remitted to the guaranty association. Such payments remitted to a guaranty fund are considered early access payments under Section 803 of IRMA. The term "large deductible policy" was changed to "loss reimbursement policy", and references to worker's compensation policies were removed, to reflect that Section 712 applies to all insurance policies regardless of the size of the deductible or the type of coverage provided.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The following charge was given to the RITF in 2006:

> Monitor progress of IRMA through adoption process, provide assistance as requested and perform additional work as directed by parent committee. Essential

The Financial Condition (E) Committee in its interim meeting dated November 7-8, 2005, gave the following charge:

> A charge to consider a large deductible provision in 2006.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

In the Fall of 2005, the Financial Condition (E) Committee asked the Model Act Revision Working Group (MARG) of the RITF to study the issue of large deductibles and, if advisable, draft model language. MARG met on January 12, 2006, to discuss the working group's charge to consider the development of a large deductible provision in IRMA by the Spring 2006 National Meeting. On February 14, 2006, MARG adopted a model provision to amend IRMA by adding a new section in Article VII, which was presented to the RITF on March 6, 2006. At this meeting the RITF indicated that written comments should be submitted by April 10, 2006, after which the RITF would hold an interim conference call to discuss the issue further. A subgroup was formed in April of 2006 to consider comments from receivers of the Reliance Insurance Company in Liquidation, who had significant practical experience with administering large deductible polices. This subgroup prepared a draft of IRMA Section 712 (the Arkansas Proposal) on May 10, 2006, which was presented to the RITF at its Summer National Meeting on June 12, 2006. Revisions to IRMA Section 712 were then submitted to the RITF, which were discussed on a conference call dated July 25, 2006. This version of Section 712 was again discussed on a conference call of the RITF dated August 23, 2006, at which time another subgroup was appointed to review an alternative proposal to Section 712 (the Delaware Proposal), which consisted of representatives from Delaware (Chair), Arkansas, Massachusetts and Ohio. On September 11, 2006, the RITF instructed the subgroup to prepare two alternative and conceptually different drafts of Section 712 addressing large deductibles. In a conference call dated October 23, 2006, the subgroup submitted a draft of Section 712 (the Delaware Proposal) to the RITF, which directed that comments be posted on the Delaware Proposal by November 23, 2006. The RITF and the Financial Conditions (E) Committee adopted the Delaware version of Section 712 at the NAIC's Winter National Meeting on December 11, 2006.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

Both the Delaware and Arkansas Proposals for IRMA Section 712 were the subject of extensive exposure periods, public hearings and other means (e.g., conference calls) by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators were solicited, as discussed in paragraph 4 above. Beginning with the NAIC 2005 Winter National Meeting, drafts of the proposed revisions were reviewed and discussed at each National Meeting and during RITF and subgroup conference calls. Comments were requested and were received and considered throughout the drafting process. In addition, all of the drafts of the proposed revisions were posted on the NAIC web site and distributed by email to interested parties. Comments were received by numerous groups, including industry groups such as the National Conference of Insurance Guaranty Funds (NCIGF), Property Casualty Insurers Association of America (PCI), American Insurance Association (AIA), Western Guaranty Fund Services, Minnesota Property & Casualty Guaranty Association, Mississippi Insurance Guaranty Association, Oregon Insurance Guaranty Association, and Bingham McCutchen LLP.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response)

The most significant issue and item of controversy during the due process were the alternative proposals to IRMA Section 712; i.e., the Delaware Proposal and the Arkansas Proposal. The Delaware Proposal, as eventually adopted by the RITF and previously discussed, would treat loss reimbursements as general assets of the insolvent estate, but would give guaranty funds the right to early access to these loss reimbursements. Alternatively, under the Arkansas Proposal the guaranty association, and not the receivership, directly receives reimbursements on the payment of large deductible claims. Many of the interested parties actively involved with the guaranty associations favored the Arkansas Proposal. In the Spring National Meeting of the RITF dated March 6, 2006, it was noted that the NAIC membership recently adopted a large deductible white paper (Workers' Compensation Large Deductible Study prepared by the NAIC/IAIABC Joint Working Group in March 2006), which took the position that the reimbursement on large deductible policies should be paid to the guaranty funds to the extent the guaranty funds advanced the funds to pay the claims. The Arkansas Proposal was drafted to reflect this position. However, it soon became evident that a majority of the RITF favored the Delaware approach, which was eventually approved by roll call vote of the RITF over the Arkansas Proposal, with 14 states in favor (Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Rhode Island, Texas, Utah and Washington), five opposed (Arkansas, Indiana, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania) and two abstentions (New Jersey and New York).

7. Any Other Important Information (e.g., amending an accreditation standard).

None.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2005

INSURER RECEIVERSHIP MODEL ACT (#555)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

The Insurer Receivership Model Act (IRMA) is intended to comprehensively address the administration of an impaired or insolvent insurer from conservation and rehabilitation to liquidation and winding up of an estate. This model serves as the foundation of modernization efforts in the receivership area called for in both the Insurance Regulatory Modernization Action Plan and the Framework for a National System of State-Based Regulation. IRMA was a collective effort of people dedicated to enhancing the efficiency and economy of receiverships.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating

The Receivership Model Act (E) Revision Working Group of the Financial Condition (E) Committee's Receivership And Insolvency Task Force drafted the Insurer Receivership Model Act. The drafting process started in 2001 and the following persons chaired the working group: Doug Hartz (MO) (2001), Diane Garber (MO) (2001 – 2003), Wayne Johnson (FL) (2003) and Frank Martin (PA) (2004 – 2005). The following states were members of the working group: Arkansas, Arizona, California, Connecticut; Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas and Utah.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The charge that was given to the working group was to "produce a revised Insurers Rehabilitation and Liquidation (Insurer Receivership) Model Act, using the current model act as a starting point and incorporating the Uniform Receivership Law, as adopted by the Interstate Insurance Receivership Commission, where appropriate, with a final revised Insurer Receivership Model Act to be delivered by the 2004 Winter National Meeting. Continue to update the Insurer Receivership Model Act annually to reflect current best practices for issues as identified by the NAIC in its other charges related to insurer receiverships." Excerpted from the 2004 Charges of the Receivership & Insolvency Task Force.

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

IRMA was developed in an open and deliberative process at the working group level as well as the task force and committee levels. The devotion and expertise contributed to the development of this model law was tremendous as it involved input from regulators and others that have handled or been involved in multiple, complex, and at times, controversial receiverships. The major players in the area of receiverships had significant input into this model, including the guaranty associations for life & health and property & casualty and the reinsurers. Specifically, the following interested parties, among others, provided substantive input into the IRMA drafting process National Organization of Life & Health Insurance Guaranty Associations, National Conference of Insurance Guaranty Funds, Reinsurance Association of America, American Counsel of Life Insurers, American Insurance Association, Property Casualty Insurers Association of America, State Farm Insurance Company and representatives of the Home Receivership Estate. In addition, several attorneys in private practice with expertise in insurance receivership or bankruptcy contributed to the process without compensation.

5. A General Description of the Due Process (e.g., exposure periods, public hearings, or any other means by which widespread input from industry, consumers and legislators was solicited)

The working group spent a great deal of time over the last four years in more than 70 two- to three-hour conference calls, in four- to eight-hour sessions at each NAIC quarterly meeting during that period, and at multiple two-day interim meetings in accelerated discussions on a new model law governing receiverships. Interested parties participated in every meeting or conference call. Since March 2004, more than 60 drafts of the model showing adopted sections and proposed revisions were provided to members of the working group, subgroups and drafting groups, interested regulators and interested parties for comment and review.

The Financial Condition (E) Committee received IRMA for consideration in May 2005. The committee had a special ninety-minute public hearing at the Summer 2005 National Meeting and received written comments prior to that meeting. The committee had a thirty-day exposure period and received comment letters from interested parties in mid-July. The committee conducted an interim meeting in Chicago, Illinois on August 2 - 3, 2005 and spent one full day receiving oral comments from interested parties including asking questions regarding areas of concern. The committee held two-hour conference calls on August 17, 2005, and October 28, 2005, that were open to interested parties but limited to regulator-only discussion. On November 7 - 8, 2005, the committee held an interim meeting and spent eight hours receiving comments from and dialoguing with interested parties as well as voting on proposed changes to the model.

6. A Discussion of the Significant Issues (items of some controversy raised during the due process and the group's response)

The two most controversial issues at the working group level and the committee level related to provisions affecting the guaranty associations and reinsurance collections.

Guaranty associations wanted the automatic right of intervention (Section 105I) and automatic party in interest status (Section 104S) in liquidation proceedings, both rights which are not included in the current model receivership law. Regulators were concerned that some states do not afford special treatment to guaranty associations by giving them an automatic right of intervention or party status. The Financial Condition Committee included three options for states to choose regarding intervention of guaranty associations: 1) silent on this issue; 2) intervention only upon application to and approval by receivership court; or 3) intervention as a matter of right. A guaranty association is not an automatic party in interest but rather must petition the court.

The notice and hearing provision (Section 107) modernizes the receiver's interaction with the court and is intended to increase the efficiency and economy of the receivership proceeding while protecting other parties' abilities to participate. This provision also provides that if the court determines that an objection to an action proposed by the receiver was frivolous, filed for delay or other improper purpose the court can award fees and costs to the receiver. Some interested parties objected to this provision citing fairness concerns but this "loser pays" provision only applies to actions the court determines to be frivolous or filed merely for delay, not to all unsuccessful objections and is consistent with state law in many instances.

The immunity and indemnification provision (section 115) is an enhancement to the existing model because conservators and rehabilitators, who are arguably subject to greater liability, are covered. The receiver's contractors such as attorneys and accountants are immune from liability to the same extent as the receiver. Immunity and indemnification do not extend to liability caused by intentional, willful or wanton misconduct. Gross negligence is not expressly excluded. Since any claim of misconduct by a contractor would accrue to the receiver, not to claimants or stakeholders of the receivership estate, the receiver maintains the ability to proceed against a contractor, and indemnification does not apply.

There are new provisions for addressing conservation (Article III). The purpose of this Article is to provide for a type of delinquency proceeding where it is not clear if the insurer can be rehabilitated. The intent is to avoid rehabilitation proceedings conducted merely for the purpose of preparing the estate for the entry of a liquidation order. Some interested parties complained that the powers of the conservator are too broad. The committee believed that the purpose of conservation was best served by the enumerated powers.

In Section 504A(3)(b), the model explicitly adds a power that many regulators believe has been implicit in the powers of the receiver. (Also see Drafting Note to Section 801A). This provision expressly allows the liquidator, upon approval of the receivership court, to pay administrative costs of the estate where the payment will assist or result in the collection or recovery of property of the insurer. An example is where a claimant of the estate is not going to prosecute a claim, but if the claim were pursued, the estate would realize a recovery of property. This provision recognizes the liquidator's power to incentivize the prosecution of the claim, provided there is a net benefit to all creditors of the estate by a resultant increase in the distributable assets. The payment does not constitute a violation of the priority of distribution because it has no effect on the amount or timing of any subsequent distribution on the underlying claim.

This model incorporates a procedure to enable liquidators to address estates with long-tail claim liabilities in order to minimize continuing administrative expenses (Sections 611 and 614/615). Under existing models, receivers have attempted to actuarially estimate the remaining liabilities and bill reinsurers based on those estimates – which may be higher or lower than actual liability. Reinsurance Association of America strongly opposed any language that would require reinsurers to commute and settle claims or that would include a component of incurred but not reported losses in the calculation of reinsurance balances. The committee voted to have one option in the model, that is, allowing the receiver to petition for arbitration of reinsurance receivables only when 75% of the estates' liabilities have been settled or if the reinsurer is in financial difficulty. The provision allows the liquidator or the reinsurer to reject the arbitration panel's decision, in which case the commutation payment would be placed into a trust for the benefit of the estate and funds would be withdrawn from the trust as claims are paid. The RAA told the committee that they were supportive of the provision that ended up in the model. They had objected to an additional option, which the committee removed.

The priority of distribution provision (Section 801A) adopted by the task force created a new Class 2 for administrative expenses including defense costs of the guaranty associations. At the working group and task force levels, this provision was a compromise between the receivers and the guaranty associations as guaranty associations wanted all of their expenses in Class 1 and receivers wanted defense costs and costs related to policyholder benefits included in Class 3, the general policyholder class. The committee included two options that a state may choose from: (1) create Class 2 and guaranty association administrative expenses are in this class; (2) create Class 2 and certain guaranty association administrative expenses are in this class, but P/C defense costs and other costs related to policyholder benefits are in the general policyholder class. This second option was added to address the concern that defense costs and cost containment costs of guaranty associations are more appropriately considered policyholder benefits and therefore deserve the same treatment as the policyholder benefits of policyholders not eligible for coverage by a guaranty association.

This model provides that early access payments (Section 803) shall be made to guaranty associations as soon and as frequently as possible, at least yearly if distributable assets exist and are treated as advances against distributions. It requires the liquidator to petition the court within 120 days of the liquidation order and annually thereafter for approval to make early access distributions or report that there are no distributable assets at that time. The model requires early access payments to be made within 60 days of receivership court approval. Guaranty associations have suggested requiring more frequent distributions, inclusion of a formula for determining early access distributions and a requirement that early access be reapplied for by the liquidator whenever significant new assets are recovered. At least one state contends that early access payments be based on actual claim payments by guaranty funds. This provision provides a simple rule that all assets not needed for administrative expenses be forwarded to guaranty associations and would simplify calculations and recovery of excess distributions if needed.

Two issues were referred to the Model Act Revision Working Group for further consideration: (1) provision to petition court for receiver to administer all claims, and (2) large deductible provision. A provision was proposed at the committee level to address concerns about a lack of coordination and cost efficiency when multiple guaranty associations are triggered in an insolvency or when complex claims are handled by the liquidator and also by the guaranty association. Some interested parties strongly opposed this provision and claimed it would conflict with guaranty fund laws and no evidence existed to support its inclusion in the model act. The committee agreed to defer the issue for consideration by the Receivership Model Act Revision Working Group during its ongoing review of the P/C insurance guaranty fund model. The resulting charge is to address the need for improvements in coordination among guaranty associations and the receiver's ability to control claims handling expenses in liquidation proceeding.

The large deductible provision was proposed very late in the working group's consideration and revived at the task force and committee levels. It addresses a type of policy, most common in the workers' compensation area, where the insurer has "first dollar" responsibility for payment of claims regardless of whether a particular loss is within the deductible amount. In return the policyholder promises to reimburse the insurer for all payments within the deductible amount. With the support of industry trade groups, guaranty funds propose that, in the event of insolvency, the reimbursement should be funneled to the guaranty fund responsible for paying claims under large deductible policies. This provision has been adopted in a few states but the provision has been universally difficult to apply. The committee deferred the issue for consideration at the working group level.

It is intended that selected portions of this model will be the basis for a revised accreditation standard.

Table of Contents

Section 1. Definitions

As used in this Act:

A. "Insurer" means and includes every person engaged as indemnitor, surety or contractor in the business of entering into contracts of insurance or of annuities as limited to:

(1) Any insurer who is doing an insurer business, or has transacted insurance in this state, and against whom claims arising from that transaction may exist now or in the future;

(2) Any fraternal benefit society which is subject to the provisions of [insert applicable statute];

(3) [List any other specialty type insurer not covered by the general law which should be covered by this Act].

B. "Exceeded its powers" means the following conditions:

(1) The insurer has refused to permit examination of its books, papers, accounts, records or affairs by the commissioner, his or her deputies, employees or duly commissioned examiners;

(2) A domestic insurer has unlawfully removed from this state books, papers, accounts or records necessary for an examination of the insurer;

(3) The insurer has failed to promptly comply with the applicable financial reporting statutes or rules and departmental requests relating thereto;

(4) The insurer has neglected or refused to observe an order of the commissioner to make good, within the time prescribed by law, any prohibited deficiency in its capital, capital stock or surplus;

(5) The insurer is continuing to transact insurance or write business after its license has been revoked or suspended by the commissioner;

(6) The insurer, by contract or otherwise, has unlawfully or has in violation of an order of the commissioner or has without first having obtained written approval of the commissioner if approval is required by law:

(a) Totally reinsured its entire outstanding business, or

(b) Merged or consolidated substantially its entire property or business with another insurer.

(7) The insurer engaged in any transaction in which it is not authorized to engage under the laws of this state;

(8) The insurer refused to comply with a lawful order of the commissioner.

C. "Consent" means agreement to administrative supervision by the insurer.

D. [The terms "commissioner" and "department" may need definitions].

Drafting Note: States may wish to compare these definitions with other definitions in their statutes and resolve any conflict.

Section 2. Applicability

The provisions of this Act shall apply to:

A. All domestic insurers, and

B. Any other insurer doing business in this state whose state of domicile has asked the commissioner to apply the provisions of this Act as regards such insurer.

Section 3. Notice to Comply with Written Requirements of Commissioner; Noncompliance; Administrative Supervision

A. An insurer may be subject to administrative supervision by the commissioner if upon examination or at any other time it appears in the commissioner's discretion that:

(1) The insurer's condition renders the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or to its insureds;

(2) The insurer ["has" or "appears to have"] exceeded its powers granted under its certificate of authority and applicable law;

(3) The insurer has failed to comply with the applicable provisions of the insurance code;

(4) The business of the insurer is being conducted fraudulently; or

(5) The insurer gives its consent.

B. If the commissioner determines that the conditions set forth in Subsection A of this section exist, the commissioner shall:

(1) Notify the insurer of his or her determination;

(2) Furnish to the insurer a written list of the requirements to abate this determination; and

(3) Notify the insurer that it is under the supervision of the commissioner and that the commissioner is applying and effectuating the provisions of the Act. Action by the commissioner shall be subject to review pursuant to applicable state administrative procedures under [insert state's appropriate administrative appeals procedure statute].

C. If placed under administrative supervision, the insurer shall have sixty (60) days, or another period of time as designated by the commissioner, to comply with the requirements of the commissioner subject to the provisions of this Act.

D. If it is determined after notice and hearing that the conditions giving rise to the supervision still exist at the end of the supervision period specified above, the commissioner may extend the period.

E. If it is determined that none of the conditions giving rise to the supervision exist, the commissioner shall release the insurer from supervision.

Section 4. Confidentiality of Certain Proceedings and Records

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of law and except as set forth in this section; proceedings, hearings, notices, correspondence, reports, records and other information in the possession of the commissioner or the Department relating to the supervision of any insurer are confidential and shall not be subject to [insert open records, freedom of information, sunshine or other appropriate phrase], shall not be subject to subpoena and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action, except as provided by this section. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as part of the commissioner's official duties.

B. The personnel of the Department shall have access to these proceedings, hearings, notices, correspondence, reports, records or information as permitted by the commissioner. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials or information subject to Subsection A.

C. The commissioner may share the notices, correspondence, reports, records or information with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies, with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal and international law enforcement authorities, if the commissioner determines that the disclosure is necessary or proper for the enforcement of the laws of this or another state of the United States, and provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the documents, material or other information. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality shall occur as a result of the sharing of documents, materials or other information pursuant to this subsection.

D. The commissioner may open the proceedings or hearings or make public the notices, correspondence, reports, records or other information if the commissioner deems that it is in the best interest of the public or in the best interest of the insurer, its insureds, creditors or the general public.

E. This section does not apply to hearings, notices, correspondence, reports, records or other information obtained upon the appointment of a receiver for the insurer by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Drafting Note: States may want to consider changing this section to require proceedings and records to be public record unless the commissioner deems otherwise. Confidentiality of orders is not included in this section. Some states may want to protect orders from disclosure by including them in this section.

Section 5. Prohibited Acts During Period of Supervision

During the period of supervision, the commissioner or the commissioner's designated appointee shall serve as the administrative supervisor. The commissioner may provide that the insurer may not do any of the following things during the period of supervision, without the prior approval of the commissioner or the appointed supervisor:

A. Dispose of, convey or encumber any of its assets or its business in force;

B. Withdraw any of its bank accounts;

C. Lend any of its funds;

D. Invest any of its funds;

E. Transfer any of its property;

F. Incur any debt, obligation or liability;

G. Merge or consolidate with another company;

H. Approve new premiums or renew any policies;

I. Enter into any new reinsurance contract or treaty;

J. Terminate, surrender, forfeit, convert or lapse any insurance policy, certificate or contract, except for nonpayment of premiums due:

K. Release, pay or refund premium deposits, accrued cash or loan values, unearned premiums, or other reserves on any insurance policy, certificate or contract;

L. Make any material change in management; or

M. Increase salaries and benefits of officers or directors or the preferential payment of bonuses, dividends or other payments deemed preferential.

Section 6. Review and Stay of Action

During the period of supervision the insurer may contest an action taken or proposed to be taken by the supervisor specifying the manner wherein the action being complained of would not result in improving the condition of the insurer. Denial of the insurer's request upon reconsideration entitles the insurer to request a proceeding under [insert state's appropriate administrative appeals procedure statute].

Section 7. Administrative Election of Proceedings

Nothing contained in this Act shall preclude the commissioner from initiating judicial proceedings to place an insurer in conservation, rehabilitation or liquidation proceedings or other delinquency proceedings, however designated under the laws of this state, regardless of whether the commissioner has previously initiated administrative supervision proceedings under this Act against the insurer.

Section 8. Rules

The commissioner is empowered to adopt reasonable rules necessary for the implementation of this Act.

Section 9. Other Laws; Conflicts; Meetings Between the Commissioner and the Supervisor

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the commissioner may meet with a supervisor appointed under this Act and with the attorney or other representative of the supervisor, without the presence of any other person, at the time of any proceeding or during the pendency of any proceeding held under authority of this Act to carry out the commissioner's duties under this Act or for the supervisor to carry out his or her duties under this Act.

Section 10. Immunity

There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against, the Insurance Commissioner or the Department of Insurance or its employees or agents for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this Act.

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

GROUP LIFE INSURANCE DEFINITION AND GROUP LIFE INSURANCE STANDARD PROVISIONS MODEL ACT

Table of Contents

Section 1. Group Life Insurance Definitions

Except as provided in Section 2, no policy of group life insurance shall be delivered in this state unless it conforms to one of the following descriptions:

A. A policy issued to an employer, or to the trustees of a fund established by an employer, which employer or trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employer for the benefit of persons other than the employer, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The employees eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer, or all of any class or classes thereof. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the employees of one or more subsidiary corporations, and the employees, individual proprietors, and partners of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietorships or partnerships if the business of the employer and of the affiliated corporations, proprietorships or partnerships is under common control. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietorship or partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" may include retired employees, former employees and directors of a corporate employer. A policy issued to insure the employees of a public body may provide that the term "employees" shall include elected or appointed officials.

Drafting Note: Last sentence of Paragraph (1) may be deleted if its content is covered by other statutes.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid either from the employer's funds or from funds contributed by the insured employees, or from both. Except as provided in Paragraph (3), a policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees shall insure all eligible employees, except those who reject the coverage in writing.

(3) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

B. A policy issued to a creditor or its parent holding company or to a trustee or trustees or agent designated by two (2) or more creditors, which creditor, holding company, affiliate, trustee, trustees or agent shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure debtors of the creditor or creditors subject to the following requirements:

(1) The debtors eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the debtors of the creditor or creditors, or all of any class or classes thereof. The policy may provide that the term "debtors" shall include:

(a) Borrowers of money or purchasers or lessees of goods, services or property for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction;

(b) The debtors of one or more subsidiary corporations; and

(c) The debtors of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietorships or partnerships if the business of the policyholder and of the affiliated corporations, proprietorships or partnerships is under common control.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid either from the creditor's funds, or from charges collected from the insured debtors, or from both. Except as provided in Paragraph (3), a policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from the funds contributed by insured debtors specifically for their insurance shall insure all eligible debtors.

(3) An insurer may exclude any debtors as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(4) The amount of the insurance on the life of any debtor shall at no time exceed the greater of the scheduled or actual amount of unpaid indebtedness to the creditor, except that insurance written in connection with open-end credit having a credit limit exceeding $10,000 may be in an amount not exceeding the credit limit.

(5) The insurance may be payable to the creditor or any successor to the right, title, and interest of the creditor. The payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of the payment and any excess of the insurance shall be payable to the estate of the insured.

(6) Notwithstanding the provisions of the above subsections, insurance on agricultural credit transaction commitments may be written up to the amount of the loan commitment on a non-decreasing or level term plan. Insurance on educational credit transaction commitments may be written up to the amount of the loan commitment less the amount of any repayments made on the loan.

C. A policy issued to a labor union, or similar employee organization, which shall be deemed to be the policyholder, to insure members of the union or organization for the benefit of persons other than the union or organization or any of its officials, representatives or agents, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the members of the union or organization, or all of any class or classes thereof.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid either from funds of the union or organization, or from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance, or from both. Except as provided in Paragraph (3), a policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance shall insure all eligible members, except those who reject the coverage in writing.

(3) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

D. A policy issued to a trust or to the trustees of a fund established or adopted by two (2) or more employers, or by one or more labor unions or similar employee organizations, or by one or more employers and one or more labor unions or similar employee organizations, which trust or trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions or organizations for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions or organizations, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The persons eligible for insurance shall be all of the employees of the employers or all of the members of the unions or organizations, or all of any class or classes thereof. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the employees of one or more subsidiary corporations, and the employees, individual proprietors, and partners of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietorships or partnerships if the business of the employer and of the affiliated corporations, proprietorships or partnerships is under common control. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietorship or partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees, former employees and directors of a corporate employer. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with the trusteeship.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid from funds contributed by the employer or employers of the insured persons, or by the union or unions or similar employee organizations, or by both, or from funds contributed by the insured persons or from both the insured persons and the employers or unions or similar employee organizations. Except as provided in Paragraph (3), a policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance shall insure all eligible persons, except those who reject the coverage in writing.

(3) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

E. A policy issued to an association or to a trust or to the trustees of a fund established, created, or maintained for the benefit of members of one or more associations. The association or associations shall have at the outset a minimum of 100 persons; shall have been organized and maintained in good faith for purposes other than that of btaining insurance; shall have been in active existence for at least two (2) years; and shall have a constitution and by-laws which provides that: (i) the association or associations hold regular meetings not less than annually to further purposes of the members, (ii) except for credit unions, the association or associations, collect dues or solicit contributions from members, and (iii) the members have voting privileges and representation on the governing board and committees. The policy shall be subject to the following requirements:

(1) The policy may insure members of the association or associations, employees thereof or employees of members, or one or more of the preceding or all of any class or classes thereof for the benefit of persons other than the employee's employer.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid from funds contributed by the association or associations, or by employer members, or by both, or from funds contributed by the covered persons or from both the covered persons and the association, associations, or employer members.

(3) Except as provided in Paragraph (4), a policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the covered persons specifically for the insurance shall insure all eligible persons, except those who reject the coverage in writing.

(4) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

F. A policy issued to a credit union or to a trustee or trustees or agent designated by two (2) or more credit unions, which credit union, trustee, trustees or agent shall be deemed policyholder, to insure members of the credit union or credit unions for the benefit of persons other than the credit union or credit unions, trustee or trustees, or agent or any of their officials, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The members eligible for insurance shall be all of the members of the credit union or credit unions, or all of any class or classes thereof.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder from the credit union's funds and, except as provided in Paragraph (3), shall insure all eligible members.

(3) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any member as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

Section 2. Limits of Group Life Insurance

Group life insurance offered to a resident of this state under a group life insurance policy issued to a group other than one described in Section 1 shall be subject to the following requirements:

A. A group life insurance policy shall not be delivered in this state unless the commissioner finds that:

(1) The issuance of the group policy is not contrary to the best interest of the public;

(2) The issuance of the group policy would result in economies of acquisition or administration; and

(3) The benefits are reasonable in relation to the premiums charged.

B. A group life insurance coverage may not be offered in this state by an insurer under a policy issued in another state unless this state or another state having requirements substantially similar to those contained in Subsection A(1), (2) and (3) has made a determination that the requirements have been met.

C. The premium for the policy shall be paid either from the policyholder's funds or from funds contributed by the covered persons, or from both.

D. An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

Section 3. Notice of Compensation

A. With respect to a program of insurance which, if issued on a group basis, would not qualify under Section 1 of this Act, the insurer shall cause to be distributed to prospective insureds a written notice that compensation will or may be paid, if compensation of any kind will or may be paid to;

(1) A policyholder or sponsoring or endorsing entity in the case of a group policy; or

(2) A sponsoring or endorsing entity in the case of individual, blanket or franchise policies marketed by means of direct response solicitation.

B. The notice shall be distributed:

(1) Whether compensation is direct or indirect; and

(2) Whether the compensation is paid to or retained by the policyholder or sponsoring or endorsing entity, or paid to or retained by a third party at the direction of the policyholder or sponsoring or endorsing entity, or an entity affiliated therewith by way of ownership, contract or employment.

C. The notice required by this section shall be placed on or accompany an application or enrollment form provided to prospective insureds.

D. The following terms shall have the meanings indicated:

(1) "Direct response solicitation" means a solicitation through a sponsoring or endorsing entity through the mails, telephone or other mass communications media;

(2) "Sponsoring or endorsing entity" means an organization that has arranged for the offering of a program of insurance in a manner that communicates that eligibility for participation in the program is dependent upon affiliation with the organization or that it encourages participation in the program.

Section 4. Dependent Group Life Insurance

Except for a policy issued under Section 1B, a group life insurance policy may be extended to insure the employees or members against loss due to the death of their spouses and dependent children, or any class or classes thereof, subject to the following:

A. The premium for the insurance shall be paid either from funds contributed by the employer, union, association or other person to whom the policy has been issued, or from funds contributed by the covered persons, or from both. Except as provided in Subsection B, a policy on which no part of the premium for the spouse's and dependent child's coverage is to be derived from funds contributed by the covered persons shall insure all eligible employees or members with respect to their spouses and dependent children, or any class or classes thereof.

B. An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any spouse or dependent child as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

C. The amounts of insurance for any covered spouse or dependent child under the policy may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the amount of insurance for which the employee or member is insured.

Section 5. Group Life Insurance Standard Provision

No policy of group life insurance shall be delivered in this state unless it contains in substance the following provisions, or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner are more favorable to the persons insured, or at least as favorable to the persons insured and more favorable to the policyholder. However, (i) Subsections F to K inclusive shall not apply to policies insuring the lives of debtors; (ii) the standard provisions required for individual life insurance policies shall not apply to group life insurance policies; and (iii) if the group life insurance policy is on a plan of insurance other than the term plan, it shall contain a nonforfeiture provision or provisions which, in the opinion of the commissioner, is or are equitable to the insured persons and to the policyholder. Nothing herein shall be construed to require that group life insurance policies contain the same nonforfeiture provisions as are required for individual life insurance policies.

A. The policy shall contain a provision that the policyholder is entitled to a grace period of thirty-one (31) days for the payment of any premium due except the first, during which grace period the death benefit coverage shall continue in force, unless the policyholder gives the insurer written notice of discontinuance in advance of the date of discontinuance and in accordance with the terms of the policy. The policy may provide that the policyholder shall be liable to the insurer for the payment of a pro rata premium for the time the policy was in force during the grace period.

B. The policy shall contain a provision that the validity of the policy shall not be contested except for nonpayment of premiums after it has been in force for two (2) years from its date of issue; and that no statement made by any person insured under the policy relating to his or her insurability shall be used in contesting the validity of the insurance with respect to which the statement was made after the insurance has been in force prior to the contest for a period of two (2) years during the person's lifetime nor unless it is contained in a written instrument signed by him or her. This provision shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy that relate to eligibility for coverage.

C. The policy shall contain a provision that a copy of the application, if any, of the policy holder shall be attached to the policy when issued, that all statements made by the policyholder or by the persons insured shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and that no statement made by any person insured shall be used in any contest unless a copy of the instrument containing the statement is or has been furnished to the person or, in the event of death or incapacity of the insured person, to his or her beneficiary or personal representative.

D. The policy shall contain a provision setting forth the conditions, if any, under which the insurer reserves the right to require a person eligible for insurance to furnish evidence of individual insurability satisfactory to the insurer as a condition to part or all of his coverage.

E. The policy shall contain a provision specifying an equitable adjustment of premiums or benefits, or both, to be made in the event the age of a person insured has been misstated. The provision to contain a clear statement of the method of adjustment to be made.

F. The policy shall contain a provision that any sum becoming due by reason of the death of the person insured shall be payable to the beneficiary designated by the person insured, except that, where the policy contains conditions pertaining to family status, the beneficiary may be the family member specified by the policy terms, subject to the provisions of the policy in the event there is no designated beneficiary, as to all or any part of the sum, living at the death of the person insured, and subject to any right reserved by the insurer in the policy and set forth in the certificate to pay at its option a part of the sum not exceeding $2,000 to any person appearing to the insurer to be equitably entitled to it by reason of having incurred funeral or other expenses incident to the last illness or death of the person insured.

G. The policy shall contain a provision that the insurer will issue to the policyholder for delivery to each person insured a certificate setting forth a statement as to the insurance protection to which he or she is entitled, to whom the insurance benefits are payable, a statement as to any dependent's coverage included in the certificate, and the rights and conditions set forth in Subsections H, I, J and K following.

H. The policy shall contain a provision that, if the insurance, or any portion of it, on a person covered under the policy or on the dependent of a person covered, ceases because of termination of employment or of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy, the person shall be entitled to have issued to him or her by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of life insurance without disability or other supplementary benefits, provided application for the individual policy shall be made, and the first premium paid to the insurer, within thirty-one (31) days after termination and provided further that:

(1) The individual policy shall, at the option of the person, be on any one of the forms then customarily issued by the insurer at the age and for the amount applied for, except that the group policy may exclude the option to elect term insurance;

(2) The individual policy shall be in an amount not in excess of the amount of life insurance that ceases because of termination, less the amount of any life insurance for which the person becomes eligible under the same or any other group policy within thirty-one (31) days after termination, provided that any amount of insurance that shall have matured on or before the date of termination as an endowment payable to the person insured, whether in one sum or in installments or in the form of an annuity, shall not, for the purposes of this provision, be included in the amount that is considered to cease because of termination; and

(3) The premium on the individual policy shall be at the insurer's then customary rate applicable to the form and amount of the individual policy, to the class of risk to which the person then belongs, and to the individual age attained on the effective date of the individual policy. Subject to the same conditions set forth above, the conversion privilege shall be available:

(a) To a surviving dependent, if any, at the death of the employee or member, with respect to the coverage under the group policy that terminates by reason of the death; and

(b) To the dependent of the employee or member upon termination of coverage of the dependent, while the employee or member remains insured under the group policy, by reason of the dependent ceasing to be a qualified family member under the group policy.

I. The policy shall contain a provision that if the group policy terminates or is amended so as to terminate the insurance of any class of insured persons, every person insured thereunder at the date of termination whose insurance terminates, including the insured dependent of a covered person, and who has been so insured for at least five (5) years prior to the termination date shall be entitled to have issued by the insurer an individual policy of life insurance, subject to the same conditions and limitations as are provided by Subsection H above, except that the group policy may provide that the amount of the individual policy shall not exceed the smaller of:

(1) The amount of the person's life insurance protection ceasing because of the termination or amendment of the group policy, less the amount of any life insurance for which the person is or becomes eligible under a group policy issued or reinstated by the same or another insurer within thirty-one (31) days after termination; or

(2) $10,000.

J. The policy shall contain a provision that, if a person insured under the group policy, or the insured dependent of a covered person, dies during the period within which the individual would have been entitled to have an individual policy issued in accordance with Subsection H or I above and before the individual policy shall have become effective, the amount of life insurance which he or she would have been entitled to have issued under the individual policy shall be payable as a claim under the group policy, whether or not application for the individual policy or the payment of the first premium therefor has been made.

K. Where active employment is a condition of insurance, the policy shall contain a provision that an insured may continue coverage during the insured's total disability by timely payment to the policyholder of that portion, if any, of the premium that would have been required from the insured had total disability not occurred. The continuation shall be on a premium paying basis for a period of six (6) months from the date on which the total disability started, but not beyond the earlier of:

(1) Approval by the insurer of continuation of the coverage under any disability provision which the group insurance policy may contain; or

(2) The discontinuance of the group insurance policy.

L. In the case of a policy insuring the lives of debtors, the policy shall contain a provision that the insurer will furnish to the policyholder for delivery to each debtor insured under the policy a certificate of insurance describing the coverage and specifying that the death benefit shall first be applied to reduce or extinguish the indebtedness.

Section 6. Supplementary Bill Relating to Conversion Privileges

If an individual insured under a group life insurance policy hereafter delivered in this state becomes entitled under the terms of the policy to have an individual policy of life insurance issued without evidence of insurability, subject to making of application and payment of the first premium within the period specified in the policy, and if the individual is not given notice of the existence of the right at least fifteen (15) days prior to the expiration date of the period, then in that event the individual shall have an additional period within which to exercise the right, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to continue any insurance beyond the period provided in the policy. This additional period shall expire fifteen (15) days next after the individual is given notice but in no event shall the additional period extend beyond sixty (60) days after the expiration date of the period provided in the policy. Written notice presented to the individual or mailed by the policyholder to the last known address of the individual or mailed by the insurer to the last known address of the individual as furnished by the policyholder shall constitute notice for the purpose of this paragraph.

GROUP LIFE INSURANCE DEFINITION AND GROUP LIFE INSURANCE STANDARD PROVISIONS MODEL BILL

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

MILITARY SALES PRACTICES MODEL REGULATION

Table of Contents

Section 1. Purpose

A. The purpose of this regulation is to set forth standards to protect active duty service members of the United States Armed Forces from dishonest and predatory insurance sales practices by declaring certain identified practices to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair.

B. Nothing herein shall be construed to create or imply a private cause of action for a violation of this regulation.

Drafting Note: The language of Subsection B comes from the NAIC Unfair Trade Practices Act. If a state has adopted different language, it should be substituted for Subsection B.

Section 2. Scope

This regulation shall apply only to the solicitation or sale of any life insurance or annuity product by an insurer or insurance producer to an active duty service member of the United States Armed Forces.

Section 3. Authority

This regulation is issued under the authority of [insert reference to enabling legislation].

Drafting Note: States may wish to use the Unfair Trade Practices Act as enabling legislation or may pass a law with specific authority to adopt this regulation.

Section 4. Exemptions

A. This regulation shall not apply to solicitations or sales involving:

1. Credit insurance;

2. Group life insurance or group annuities where there is no in-person, face-to-face solicitation of individuals by an insurance producer or where the contract or certificate does not include a side fund;

3. An application to the existing insurer that issued the existing policy or contract when a contractual change or a conversion privilege is being exercised; or, when the existing policy or contract is being replaced by the same insurer pursuant to a program filed with and approved by the commissioner; or, when a term conversion privilege is exercised among corporate affiliates;

4. Individual stand-alone health policies, including disability income policies;

5. Contracts offered by Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (SGLI) or Veterans' Group Life Insurance (VGLI), as authorized by 38 U.S.C. Section 1965 et seq.;

6. Life insurance contracts offered through or by a non-profit military association, qualifying under Section 501 (c) (23) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), and which are not underwritten by an insurer; or

7. Contracts used to fund:

(a) An employee pension or welfare benefit plan that is covered by the Employee Retirement and Income Security Act (ERISA);

(b) A plan described by Sections 401(a), 401(k), 403(b), 408(k) or 408(p) of the IRC, as amended, if established or maintained by an employer;

(c) A government or church plan defined in Section 414 of the IRC, a government or church welfare benefit plan, or a deferred compensation plan of a state or local government or tax exempt organization under Section 457 of the IRC;

(d) A nonqualified deferred compensation arrangement established or maintained by an employer or plan sponsor;

(e) Settlements of or assumptions of liabilities associated with personal injury litigation or any dispute or claim resolution process; or

(f) Prearranged funeral contracts.

B. Nothing herein shall be construed to abrogate the ability of nonprofit organizations (and/or other organizations) to educate members of the United States Armed Forces in accordance with Department of Defense DoD Instruction 1344.07 – PERSONAL COMMERCIAL SOLICITATION ON DOD INSTALLATIONS or successor directive.

C. For purposes of this regulation, general advertisements, direct mail and internet marketing shall not constitute "solicitation." Telephone marketing shall not constitute "solicitation" provided the caller explicitly and conspicuously discloses that the product concerned is life insurance and makes no statements that avoid a clear and unequivocal statement that life insurance is the subject matter of the solicitation. Provided however, nothing in this subsection shall be construed to exempt an insurer or insurance producer from this regulation in any in-person, face-to-face meeting established as a result of the "solicitation" exemptions identified in this subsection.

Section 5. Definitions

A. "Active Duty" means full-time duty in the active military service of the United States and includes members of the reserve component (National Guard and Reserve) while serving under published orders for active duty or full-time training. The term does not include members of the reserve component who are performing active duty or active duty for training under military calls or orders specifying periods of less than 31 calendar days.

B. "Department of Defense (DoD) Personnel" means all active duty service members and all civilian employees, including nonappropriated fund employees and special government employees, of the Department of Defense.

C. "Door to Door" means a solicitation or sales method whereby an insurance producer proceeds randomly or selectively from household to household without prior specific appointment.

D. "General Advertisement" means an advertisement having as its sole purpose the promotion of the reader's or viewer's interest in the concept of insurance, or the promotion of the insurer or the insurance producer.

E. "Insurer" means an insurance company required to be licensed under the laws of this state to provide life insurance products, including annuities.

F. "Insurance producer" means a person required to be licensed under the laws of this state to sell, solicit or negotiate life insurance, including annuities.

G. "Known" or "Knowingly" means, depending on its use herein, the insurance producer or insurer had actual awareness, or in the exercise of ordinary care should have known, at the time of the act or practice complained of, that the person solicited:

(1) Is a service member; or

(2) Is a service member with a pay grade of E-4 or below.

H. "Life Insurance" means insurance coverage on human lives including benefits of endowment and annuities, and may include benefits in the event of death or dismemberment by accident and benefits for disability income and unless otherwise specifically excluded, includes individually issued annuities.

I. "Military Installation" means any federally owned, leased, or operated base, reservation, post, camp, building, or other facility to which service members are assigned for duty, including barracks, transient housing, and family quarters.

J. "MyPay" is a Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) web-based system that enables service members to process certain discretionary pay transactions or provide updates to personal information data elements without using paper forms.

K. "Service Member" means any active duty officer (commissioned and warrant) or enlisted member of the United States Armed Forces.

L. "Side Fund" means a fund or reserve that is part of or otherwise attached to a life insurance policy (excluding individually issued annuities) by rider, endorsement or other mechanism which accumulates premium or deposits with interest or by other means. The term does not include:

(1) Accumulated value or cash value or secondary guarantees provided by a universal life policy;

(2) Cash values provided by a whole life policy which are subject to standard nonforfeiture law for life insurance; or

(3) A premium deposit fund which:

(a) Contains only premiums paid in advance which accumulate at interest;

(b) Imposes no penalty for withdrawal;

(c) Does not permit funding beyond future required premiums;

(d) Is not marketed or intended as an investment; and

(e) Does not carry a commission, either paid or calculated.

M. "Specific Appointment" means a prearranged appointment agreed upon by both parties and definite as to place and time.

N. "United States Armed Forces" means all components of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard.

Section 6. Practices Declared False, Misleading, Deceptive or Unfair on a Military Installation

A. The following acts or practices when committed on a military installation by an insurer or insurance producer with respect to the in-person, face-to-face solicitation of life insurance are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Knowingly soliciting the purchase of any life insurance product "door to door" or without first establishing a specific appointment for each meeting with the prospective purchaser.

(2) Soliciting service members in a group or "mass" audience or in a "captive" audience where attendance is not voluntary.

(3) Knowingly making appointments with or soliciting service members during their normally scheduled duty hours.

(4) Making appointments with or soliciting service members in barracks, day rooms, unit areas, or transient personnel housing or other areas where the installation commander has prohibited solicitation.

(5) Soliciting the sale of life insurance without first obtaining permission from the installation commander or the commander's designee.

(6) Posting unauthorized bulletins, notices or advertisements.

(7) Failing to present DD Form 2885, Personal Commercial Solicitation Evaluation, to service members solicited or encouraging service members solicited not to complete or submit a DD Form 2885.

(8) Knowingly accepting an application for life insurance or issuing a policy of life insurance on the life of an enlisted member of the United States Armed Forces without first obtaining for the insurer's files a completed copy of any required form which confirms that the applicant has received counseling or fulfilled any other similar requirement for the sale of life insurance established by regulations, directives or rules of the DoD or any branch of the Armed Forces.

Drafting Note: Currently, Army Regulation 210-7, which applies only to Army pay grades E-3 and below, requires that DA Form 2056, "Commercial Insurance Solicitation Record" be completed. At the time this Model Regulation was adopted, there were no similar requirements for other service branches, although it is anticipated that in the future there may be similar regulations adopted by other service branches.

B. The following acts or practices when committed on a military installation by an insurer or insurance producer constitute corrupt practices, improper influences or inducements and are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Using DoD personnel, directly or indirectly, as a representative or agent in any official or business capacity with or without compensation with respect to the solicitation or sale of life insurance to service members.

(2) Using an insurance producer to participate in any United States Armed Forces sponsored education or orientation program.

Section 7. Practices Declared False, Misleading, Deceptive or Unfair Regardless of Location

A. The following acts or practices by an insurer or insurance producer constitute corrupt practices, improper influences or inducements and are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Submitting, processing or assisting in the submission or processing of any allotment form or similar device used by the United States Armed Forces to direct a service member's pay to a third party for the purchase of life insurance. The foregoing includes, but is not limited to, using or assisting in using a service member's "MyPay" account or other similar internet or electronic medium for such purposes. This subsection does not prohibit assisting a service member by providing insurer or premium information necessary to complete any allotment form.

(2) Knowingly receiving funds from a service member for the payment of premium from a depository institution with which the service member has no formal banking relationship. For purposes of this section, a formal banking relationship is established when the depository institution:

(a) Provides the service member a deposit agreement and periodic statements and makes the disclosures required by the Truth in Savings Act, 12 U.S.C. § 4301 et seq. and the regulations promulgated thereunder; and

(b) Permits the service member to make deposits and withdrawals unrelated to the payment or processing of insurance premiums.

(3) Employing any device or method or entering into any agreement whereby funds received from a service member by allotment for the payment of insurance premiums are identified on the service member's Leave and Earnings Statement or equivalent or successor form as "Savings" or "Checking" and where the service member has no formal banking relationship as defined in subsection 7 (A)(2).

(4) Entering into any agreement with a depository institution for the purpose of receiving funds from a service member whereby the depository institution, with or without compensation, agrees to accept direct deposits from a service member with whom it has no formal banking relationship.

(5) Using DoD personnel, directly or indirectly, as a representative or agent in any official or unofficial capacity with or without compensation with respect to the solicitation or sale of life insurance to service members who are junior in rank or grade, or to the family members of such personnel.

(6) Offering or giving anything of value, directly or indirectly, to DoD personnel to procure their assistance in encouraging, assisting or facilitating the solicitation or sale of life insurance to another service member.

(7) Knowingly offering or giving anything of value to a service member with a pay grade of E-4 or below for his or her attendance to any event where an application for life insurance is solicited.

(8) Advising a service member with a pay grade of E-4 or below to change his or her income tax withholding or State of legal residence for the sole purpose of increasing disposable income to purchase life insurance.

B. The following acts or practices by an insurer or insurance producer lead to confusion regarding source, sponsorship, approval or affiliation and are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Making any representation, or using any device, title, descriptive name or identifier that has the tendency or capacity to confuse or mislead a service member into believing that the insurer, insurance producer or product offered is affiliated, connected or associated with, endorsed, sponsored, sanctioned or recommended by the U.S. Government, the United States Armed Forces, or any state or federal agency or government entity. Examples of prohibited insurance producer titles include, but are not limited to, "Battalion Insurance Counselor," "Unit Insurance Advisor," "Servicemen's Group Life Insurance Conversion Consultant" or "Veteran's Benefits Counselor." Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit a person from using a professional designation awarded after the successful completion of a course of instruction in the business of insurance by an accredited institution of higher learning. Such designations include, but are not limited to, Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU), Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC), Certified Financial Planner (CFP), Master of Science In Financial Services (MSFS), or Masters of Science Financial Planning (MS).

(2) Soliciting the purchase of any life insurance product through the use of or in conjunction with any third party organization that promotes the welfare of or assists members of the United States Armed Forces in a manner that has the tendency or capacity to confuse or mislead a service member into believing that either the insurer, insurance producer or insurance product is affiliated, connected or associated with, endorsed, sponsored, sanctioned or recommended by the U.S. Government, or the United States Armed Forces.

C. The following acts or practices by an insurer or insurance producer lead to confusion regarding premiums, costs, or investment returns and are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive, or unfair:

(1) Using or describing the credited interest rate on a life insurance policy in a manner that implies that the credited interest rate is a net return on premium paid.

(2) Excluding individually issued annuities, misrepresenting the mortality costs of a life insurance product, including stating or implying that the product "costs nothing" or is "free."

D. The following acts or practices by an insurer or insurance producer regarding SGLI or VGLI are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Making any representation regarding the availability, suitability, amount, cost, exclusions or limitations to coverage provided to a service member or dependents by SGLI or VGLI, which is false, misleading or deceptive.

(2) Making any representation regarding conversion requirements, including the costs of coverage, or exclusions or limitations to coverage of SGLI or VGLI to private insurers which is false, misleading or deceptive.

(3) Suggesting, recommending or encouraging a service member to cancel or terminate his or her SGLI policy or issuing a life insurance policy which replaces an existing SGLI policy unless the replacement shall take effect upon or after the service member's separation from the United States Armed Forces.

E. The following acts or practices by an insurer and or insurance producer regarding disclosure are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Deploying, using or contracting for any lead generating materials designed exclusively for use with service members that do not clearly and conspicuously disclose that the recipient will be contacted by an insurance producer, if that is the case, for the purpose of soliciting the purchase of life insurance.

(2) Failing to disclose that a solicitation for the sale of life insurance will be made when establishing a specific appointment for an in-person, face-to-face meeting with a prospective purchaser.

(3) Excluding individually issued annuities, failing to clearly and conspicuously disclose the fact that the product being sold is life insurance.

(4) Failing to make, at the time of sale or offer to an individual known to be a service member, the written disclosures required by Section 10 of the "Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act," Pub. L. No. 109-290, p.16.

(5) Excluding individually issued annuities, when the sale is conducted in-person face-to-face with an individual known to be a service member, failing to provide the applicant at the time the application is taken:

(a) An explanation of any free look period with instructions on how to cancel if a policy is issued; and

(b) Either a copy of the application or a written disclosure. The copy of the application or the written disclosure shall clearly and concisely set out the type of life insurance, the death benefit applied for and its expected first year cost. A basic illustration that meets the requirements of [insert reference to state's illustration or disclosure regulation] shall be deemed sufficient to meet this requirement for a written disclosure.

Drafting Note: In addition to the items enumerated above, states may wish to add other items required by their laws and regulations, for example, the NAIC Life Insurance Buyer's Guide.

F. The following acts or practices by an insurer or insurance producer with respect to the sale of certain life insurance products are declared to be false, misleading, deceptive or unfair:

(1) Excluding individually issued annuities, recommending the purchase of any life insurance product which includes a side fund to a service member in pay grades E-4 and below unless the insurer has reasonable grounds for believing that the life insurance death benefit, standing alone, is suitable.

(2) Offering for sale or selling a life insurance product which includes a side fund to a service member in pay grades E-4 and below who is currently enrolled in SGLI, is presumed unsuitable unless, after the completion of a needs assessment, the insurer demonstrates that the applicant's SGLI death benefit, together with any other military survivor benefits, savings and investments, survivor income, and other life insurance are insufficient to meet the applicant's insurable needs for life insurance.

(a) "Insurable needs" are the risks associated with premature death taking into consideration the financial obligations and immediate and future cash needs of the applicant's estate and/or survivors or dependents.

(b) "Other military survivor benefits" include, but are not limited to: the Death Gratuity, Funeral Reimbursement, Transition Assistance, Survivor and Dependents' Educational Assistance, Dependency and Indemnity Compensation, TRICARE Healthcare benefits, Survivor Housing Benefits and Allowances, Federal Income Tax Forgiveness, and Social Security Survivor Benefits.

(3) Excluding individually issued annuities, offering for sale or selling any life insurance contract which includes a side fund:

(a) Unless interest credited accrues from the date of deposit to the date of withdrawal and permits withdrawals without limit or penalty;

(b) Unless the applicant has been provided with a schedule of effective rates of return based upon cash flows of the combined product. For this disclosure, the effective rate of return will consider all premiums and cash contributions made by the policyholder and all cash accumulations and cash surrender values available to the policyholder in addition to life insurance coverage. This schedule will be provided for at least each policy year from one (1) to ten (10) and for every fifth policy year thereafter ending at age 100, policy maturity or final expiration; and

(c) Which by default diverts or transfers funds accumulated in the side fund to pay, reduce or offset any premiums due.

(4) Excluding individually issued annuities, offering for sale or selling any life insurance contract which after considering all policy benefits, including but not limited to endowment, return of premium or persistency, does not comply with standard nonforfeiture law for life insurance.

(5) Selling any life insurance product to an individual known to be a service member that excludes coverage if the insured's death is related to war, declared or undeclared, or any act related to military service except for an accidental death coverage, e.g., double indemnity, which may be excluded.

Drafting Note: While the drafters are of the opinion that making it an unfair or deceptive trade practice to market and sell life insurance policies containing a war or military exclusion to active duty service members during a time of war is not inconsistent with statutes which permit those exclusions, others may disagree. Those states may either delete the subsection or seek to amend their statutes in order to protect service members under this subsection.

Section 8. Severability

If any provision of these sections or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid for any reason, the invalidity shall not affect the other provisions or any other application of these sections which can be given effect without the invalid provisions or application. To this end all provisions of these sections are declared to be severable.

Section 9. Effective Date

This regulation shall become effective [January 1, 2008, or the effective date set in regulation] and shall apply to acts or practices committed on or after the effective date.

MILITARY SALES PRACTICES MODEL REGULATION

What are the state pages?

This chart is intended to provide readers with additional information to more easily access state statutes, regulations, bulletins or administrative rulings related to the NAIC model. Such guidance provides readers with a starting point from which they may review how each state has addressed the model and the topic being covered. The NAIC Legal Division has reviewed each state's activity in this area and has determined whether the citation most appropriately fits in the Model Adoption column, Previous Version column, or Related Activity column based on the definitions listed in the key below. The NAIC's interpretation may or may not be shared by the individual states or by interested readers.

How do you use them?

States and territories are listed alphabetically in the chart. Locate the state or territory you are interested in, and depending on which column the citation falls under, you will know whether the NAIC Legal Division has deemed a state's law to be adoption of a model or not. To perform further research, use the citations to locate state laws.

Who do I speak to if I have questions?

If you have questions or believe information related to a state should be updated, please contact Jennifer Neuerburg at jneuerburg@naic.org.

Disclaimer: This chart does not constitute a formal legal opinion by the NAIC staff on the provisions of state law and should not be relied upon as such. Nor does this state page reflect a determination as to whether a state meets any applicable accreditation standards. Every effort has been made to provide correct and accurate summaries to assist readers in locating useful information. Readers should consult state law for further details and for the most current information.

MILITARY SALES PRACTICES MODEL REGULATION

STATE PAGE KEY:

MODEL ADOPTION: States that have citations identified in this column adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner. This requires states to adopt the model in its entirety but does allow for variations in style and format. States that have adopted portions of the current NAIC model will be included in this column with an explanatory note.

PREVIOUS VERSION: States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have enacted an older version of the model but have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model.

RELATED ACTIVITY: Examples of Related Activity include but are not limited to statutes or regulations addressing the same subject matter, or other administrative guidance such as bulletins and notices. States that have citations identified in this column (and nothing listed in the Model Adoption column) have not adopted the most recent version of the NAIC model in a substantially similar manner.

NO CURRENT ACTIVITY: No state activity on the topic as of the date of the most recent update. This includes states that have repealed legislation as well as states that have never adopted legislation.

PROJECT HISTORY - 2007

MILITARY SALES PRACTICES MODEL REGULATION (#568)

1. Description of the Project, Issues Addressed, etc.

During the NAIC 2006 Winter National Meeting the, NAIC membership appointed a new Military Sales (EX) Working Group to assist state insurance regulators in achieving applicable directives set forth in the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act.

2. Name of Group Responsible for Drafting the Model and States Participating Military Sales (EX) Working Group. The states of Georgia and Texas co-chaired the working group. The following states participated on the working group: Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma and Virginia.

3. Project Authorized by What Charge and Date First Given to the Group

The working group was formed in December of 2006, through the NAIC's adoption of a resolution establishing the Military Sales (EX) Working Group. This resolution stated the following: "…the primary purpose of the new working group is to assist the organization in achieving those applicable directives set forth in the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act; and, furthermore, the new working group will coordinate with the Market Analysis Working Group regarding any further multi-state settlements against companies engaged in inappropriate sales practices specifically targeted to members of the Armed Forces."

4. A General Description of the Drafting Process (e.g., drafted by a subgroup, interested parties, the full group, etc). Include any parties outside the members that participated

The Military Sales (EX) Working Group drafted the model regulation and solicited input from all interested parties. In addition to the working group members, the following states submitted comments on the model regulation: New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

The working group worked very closely with the Department of Defense throughout the development of the model regulation. This coordination included a face-to-face meeting on March 5, 2007, between Commissioners John Oxendine (GA) and Roger Sevigny (NH) with Deputy Undersecretary of Defense Leslye Arsht and Colonel Michael Pachuta, Director of Moral, Welfare and Recreation Policy. The Department of Defense (DoD) submitted written comments on the model regulation on March 14, 2007.
